Snow Improved the Crops

Winnipeg, March 26.—Heavy, soft snows are reported from many parts of the prairie West. The mild weather prevailing takes this off gradually and expert agriculturists claim that no conditions could be better for preparing a good seed bed.

Reports from Southern Alberta state that the snowfall there a few days ago has done an immense amount of good to the winter wheat, and should no check follow, the prospects are splendid.

Immigration of a very high class and well distributed is already in full swing, there being a steady movement across the boundary from the south, while Ontario has sent up some valuable train loads.

Business conditions are better than at any time during the past two years.

Seeking a Reprieve of Blythe's Sentence

Toronto, March 26.—Word has been received by Mr. T. C. Robinette, K.C., from the minister of justice, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, that he is going carefully over the evidence given in the trial of Blythe for the murder of his wife near Agincourt. This may mean the reprieve of the sentence of hanging to life imprisonment.

Mr. Robinette in his application to the minister for a review of the case asked that the sentence be reduced to conform to a verdict of manslaughter instead of murder. He pointed out that there was nothing in the evidence to indicate that Blythe, in spite of the brutal beating that he gave his wife, showed any intent to kill. The possibility of insanity was also mentioned, but little stress was placed upon it.

Blythe's execution was set for May 12th at the Toronto jail. The sheriff yesterday visited the prisoner at the jail, and it is conjectured that this was occasioned by the receipt of some message from Ottawa.

Prof. Graham will Lecture on Poultry

Prof. Graham of the Agricultural College, Guelph, and one of the best authorities of poultry breeding, for both profit and show, has been secured by the Peterborough Poultry Association to give an illustrated lecture in the council chamber on the evening of Wednesday, April 7th. This will be the best lecture on poultry ever delivered in Peterborough and will no doubt be heard by a large number of breeders and fanciers.

CANADA'S NAVAL OFFER TO BE ANNOUNCED ON MONDAY

It will Take the Form of a Battleship—Canada will Agree to Join in Making Imperial Navy Supreme—Let the Whole World Take Notice

Ottawa, March 26.—A close canvass of the situation at the capital leads to the belief that the government and the opposition are not very far far apart on the question of assistance to the Imperial navy.

While a number of the more ardent imperialists would like to see Canada follow the example of New Zealand and offer one or more Dreadnoughts to the motherland, the majority of the members on both sides of the House seem inclined to take the view that what Canada should do is to take steps to provide for the adequate defence of her own territorial waters and coast line.

It was thought that Sir Wilfrid might make a statement in the house this afternoon, but it appears that the subject has not as yet received the consideration by the cabinet which its importance warrants. The matter will be fully discussed at Saturday's council meeting, and after Mr. Foster has spoken on Monday the premier will probably announce the general policy of the government.

It is likely that after the Saturday council meeting his excellency will draft a message for transmission to the Imperial Government, through the Colonial Office. The message will express the entire readiness of the Canadian Government and people to give any needed support to the navy. There is no diversity of opinion amongst the members of the cabinet as to the responsibility of Canada, and this will be made clear in any despatch which may be sent.

In all probability the suggestion will be thrown out that the Imperial Government might indicate what form of aid would be the most acceptable to the motherland. Until such an interchange of messages has taken place it is not likely that any definite decision will be arrived at as to the nature of the support Canada will extend to Britain.

MUST RETAIN CONTROL.

There is, as has been indicated above a strong disposition on the part of the members of both parties to think that the Dominion should have the control of any expenditure which it is decided to make.

That the gift will not take the form of a battleship is almost certain; that it may take the form of a cash gift, pending the inauguration of a definite line of policy for the defence of the territorial waters, is a possibility; that the project has as yet, taken no very definite shape is a certainty.

Port Arthur, March 26.—The Canadian Club has passed a resolution to be wired to the Dominion Government approving of the proposal that Canada provide a Dreadnought for the British navy.

Acid Forced Down Throat

Vincennes, Ind., March 25.—Mrs. Jessie Overton Culbertson is dying. It is said, as the result of having carbolic acid forced down her throat and her jaws afterwards securely bound. She was found yesterday in a shed back of her home. Revived for a few seconds she said;

"A man and a woman dragged me into the woodshed and poured something down my throat."

The police attribute the crime to jealousy. They have a letter purporting to be from a jealous woman, warning Mrs. Culbertson to give up her husband under penalty of death.

Mrs. Culbertson, who is 25 years old, came here a few years ago as a trained nurse. While caring for Joshua Brazelton, Republican county chairman, she fell in love with her patient's stepson, Culbertson. The two eloped to Lawrenceburg, Ill.

The Canadian Press Association to Spend Today in Peterboro'

Today the City of Peterborough welcomes the members of the Canadian Press Association, who come here on a fraternal visit on the closing day of the annual convention. Unlike many other conclaves the gentlemen of the association bring their wives and daughters. Peterborough is yours. If you don't see what you want—take it.

At the annual gathering these people get together and do some practical work in the interests of the business side of newspaper publishing. Not by any means a combination for offense, but in some respects for defence. While the Press is powerful it is vulnerable, as has been proven. For often, in serving the public, it serves both wisely and too well.

These annual gatherings serve a double purpose. There is the opportunity for exchange of ideas and to meet the other fellow, and find after all, that he is only human—that he does not wear horns, and, while a competitor, has his excellent points. The discussions cover theoretical technical and practical matters. Much good is accomplished, and each one carries away suggestions making for better work and better living.

The gentlemen of the press are observant. Their creed and practice make them so. They are invited to view the city, and note, so far as a late winter may afford, its characteristics. It is the regret of the local committee that the good old summer time is not here, when nature, supplemented by the taste and industry of citizens, dresses the city in summer garb. The visitors may take away with them the impressions that it is a place of much energy and advancement.

The youngest of our Ontario cities, it respectfully presents its compliments, and trusts that what is said may be in its favor, and such as written be to its credit.

His Worship Mayor Rush and the Reception Committee of the City Council will go upon the morning's eight o'clock train and will meet the visitors' special at Burketon, returning to the city with them. At Park and Perry streets, the train will stop and the association will be met by a Reception Committee and taken to the C.G.E. works where they will have an opportunity to go through the various buildings. The Cordage Works will be the next place of interest to be visited before luncheon, which will be served at the National, Oriental and Snowden hotels, the visitors being divided in three sections, one to each hotel.

At the Oriental, Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P., will preside, at the National, His Worship Mayor Rush and at the Snowden House, Ald. J. J. Turner, jr., and the guests will be formally welcomed by these gentlemen.

This afternoon the lift lock will be visited and the newspapermen will be taken through the Quaker Oats Co. factory. The special will return to Toronto at five o'clock.

Will Lecture in St. Paul's

Rev. Dr. Geggie of Parkdale Presbyterian church will give his lecture on the "Rose, Shamrock and Thistle," in St. Paul's church under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society. Rev. Dr. Geggie will be assisted by Mr. Hazeldine, tenor soloist and the evening's programme promises to be a most instructive one.

Parliament and the Pistol, Restrict Sale of Weapons

Ottawa, March 26.—Three bills which would tend to put an end to the promiscuous sale of revolvers and similar weapons are before the House of Commons. The result is a prompt counter campaign on the part of the hardware and allied trades. Members of the House are being bombarded with letters, and an anonymous circular has been sent out containing articles from seven journals, the plea, in each case, being directed against the restriction of the sale of firearms.

Members of the Canadian Parliament, however, are somewhat amused to find that the opinions thus voiced are from Chicago, Pittsburg, New York and other American centers which can hardly claim a clean sheet with regard to crime. There is a visible awakening on the subject of dangerous weapons.

DAYLIGHT MAN HAS TWO.

Mr. E. N. Lewis of Huron, is the proud parent of two of the restrictive bills which are now before the House, and Mr. T. J. Stewart, of West Hamilton, stands sponsor for the other, which he introduced just after the tragedy in his home city in February. Mr. Lewis is the man who has achieved considerable prominence through his introduction of a bill to save daylight.

On the part of the public there seems to be a general misapprehension of the scope of the Code as it at present stands. As a matter of fact, revolvers and air-guns are not supposed to be sold to minors under sixteen, a maximum penalty of $50 being provided.

Nor can Parliamentarians understand the reported proposal of West Toronto's member in the Legislature to have that body pass legislation regarding a criminal matter especially since the same regulation is now incorporated in the Criminal Code, sub-section 2 of section 119 of which reads as follows;

"Everyone is guilty of an offence and liable, on summary conviction, to a penalty not exceeding $25, who sells any pistol or air-gun without keeping a record of such sale, the date thereof, and the name of the purchaser and of the maker's name, or other mark by which such an arm may be identified."

This is already the law, but Mr. Lewis would make the sale of revolvers and pistols absolutely unlawful under ordinary conditions. "No revolver or pistol," his amendment reads, "shall be sold to any person unless he produces to and leaves with the vendor a permit in writing from the chief of police or a police magistrate or justice of the peace allowing him to purchase a revolver or pistol."

The Code already provides a fine of from $20 to $50 or three months' imprisonment for anyone arrested on a warrant for an offence, of found committing an offence with a pistol or air-gun in his possession.

To these weapons, Mr. Lewis would add the following; "Or any sheath knife, bowie knife, dagger, metal knuckles, skull-cracker, re-

A Large Real Estate Deal Put Through Yesterday

One of the most important real estate deals which have been put through in Peterborough this year was consummated yesterday by Messrs. A. Brown & Co., when they closed a deal whereby Mr. Thos. Hooper, one of Peterborough's most progressive business men became proprietor of the property and business owned and conducted by Mrs. Mann, of Mann's bakery. The Mann Bakery has been known to local citizens for many years. It was started by Mr Mann, Sr., on a very small scale, in fact he supplied his first customers by carrying the bread around in baskets. But the quality of the staff of life which he produced was such that his business rapidly increased and today Mann's bakery is one of the leading business in the city.

It is not long since that Mrs. Mann, who has been conducting the business for some time, erected the large and modern premises now occupied by the firm at the corner of Dublin and George streets. These premises are without doubt the most modern bakery between Toronto and Montreal. The building was constructed especially for a bakery and the latest type of machinery which guarantees quality and speed was installed.

It is understood that Mr. Hooper will conduct his new business in connection with his present stores which are already known to everyone in the city, and it is also understood that he will take possession early in April.

Messrs. A. Brown & Co., are one of the most reliable real estate dealers in the city, as will be recognized when it is mentioned that the Mann Bakery business was only placed in their hands for sale on Wednesday of this week and the sale was completed on Friday. The price is estimated at between $15,000 at $20,000.

Meeting to Organize Tennis Association

My proposal to form a Lawn Tennis Association in Peterborough, having been endorsed by the larger tennis clubs in Peterborough, and individual enthusiasm and support promised by members of other clubs which have not held their organization meetings for the ensuing year yet; and having been advised that other tennis clubs would be formed to enter the association such as possibly one from the 57th Regiment, Collegiate Institute, and Normal school; and after consulting certain players, it has been arranged to call a meeting of every man interested in tennis for the purpose of forming a "Peterborough Lawn Tennis Association."

The meeting will be held at the Y.M.C.A. on Saturday, April 3rd, at eight o'clock sharp.

The officers and committee will be elected at this meeting.

Lecture to The Historical Society

The last of the series of lectures before the Peterborough Historical Society, was given last night by Mr J. H. Burnham. These lectures have proven very instructive and interesting and have created a renewed interest in the society. President T. A. S. Hay occupied the chair and after a few remarks introduced the speaker.

Mr. Burnham's subject was "Carnegie's Problems of the day," which deals with the present and proper way of accumulating wealth with the conditions of labor that exist and that should exist today and compared it with the danger of substituting the solution of socialism for the old form of slavery when men owned men. The solution of all difficulties of the industrial life has been the identification of capital and labor, which can and has now been brought about to a very large extent by co-operation and profit-sharing. The one unsupportable objection to socialism, Mr. Carnegie contends, is the distruction of home life.

Messrs. J. Coyle Brown and H. O. Fiske moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Burnham, and the meeting was brought to a close.

The Rev. R. E. Knowles Gave Splendid Lecture

The Conservatory of Music Hall was well filled last night to hear Rev. R. E. Knowles, pastor of Knox Presbyterian church in Galt, give a lecture on "The Cottar's Saturday Night." Rev. Mr. Knowles is a well known author and lecturer as well as one of the most prominent preachers in the Presbyterian church. His books have been read by many Peterborough people, with unusual interest and this in a large measure accounted for the big audience last night. His lecture was most interesting and instructive, and was greatly appreciated by all present.

Rev. Dr. Longfeldt occupied the chair and performed his duties to the satisfaction of all. He said he would like to propose that Mr. Knowles give a lecture on his new book "The Web of Time," but he was afraid it might spoil the sale of it in Peterborough.

At the conclusion of the lecture a vote of thanks was moved by Dr. Scott and seconded by Dr. Morrison and was carried unanimously. The chairman also proposed three cheers for the speaker, which were heartily given. In response Rev. Mr. Knowles made a very feeling little speech and thanked the large audience for their appreciation of his efforts.

Others who took part in the program were;—

Piano Duet—Misses McKee and Foy.

Miss Reesor was unable to be present on account of a heavy cold, and her place was taken by, Mr. Kinneth Shook, who was very favorably received.

Rev. Mr. Knowles will occupy the pulpit in St. Paul's church on Sunday, both afternoon and evening.

Ratepayers Evince Great Interest in By-Laws to be Voted on Next Tuesday, March 30th

W. H. Moore Corrects Mr. Meldrum's Ideas

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—I observe that Mr. Meldrum has a letter over his proper name in your issue of yesterday, in which he says "ditto," and nothing else, to Mr. Harvie's opinions. With these opinions I have no cause of complaint save where it is suggested that electrical pumps should be used in the old station as an auxiliary plant, when the pumps now there are removed to the new. Had he thought the matter over a little more carefully I believe he would agree that steam power is the correct kind to provide against a case of anchor ice, which might stop any and every water power on the river, and therefore the power at the station which would be relied on for electrical power.

Save in this particular Mr. Harvie does not refer to the Water Commissioners' proposition, nor criticise it. He knows they have nothing to do whatever with the council's by-law for $15,000. Mr. Meldrum also well knows this, and knows that the commissioners have no authority to develop power for any purpose except simply pumping water for fire protection and domestic use; and he also knows that the commissioners have not the remotest connection with the other subject. Now I ask him to be candid and not confuse and misstate these separate matters as he is doing for the purpose of deceiving the ratepayers. It is not creditable, and I hope he will not only cease the deception, but put the facts honestly, and then he may argue away to his heart's content.

Yours truly,

W. H. MOORE.

Will Start Boring for Natural Gas

Drilling for gas will be started on the block of land in North Monaghan and Smith townships just west of the city upon which gas leases have been secured. Mr. R. H. Leary informed The Times last night that drilling machinery was being shipped here from the Niagara peninsula, and would arrive in the course of a few days. Boring for gas will then be started immediately, but at what point has not yet been decided.

Several tests will be made if gas is not struck when the first well is sunk.

A Manufacturer Writes on the Power By-Law

Dear Sir,—As a manufacturer and a user of power in this city I am naturally interested in every movement which bears upon the power question. As a citizen I have an added interest in such a question when the project is being handled by our representatives—the City Council.

Municipal ownership of water powers, water supply, gas and light supply has been proven a success very often, and today a number of Canadian towns are reaping a golden harvest as a result of these investments. Unfortunately there are other towns and cities about us which cannot boast of their success. They blundered, and now prefer to cover their mistakes.

The lure of added power to our city has caught our city fathers. It is a worthy motive. But as far as I can determine the present power scheme is a mistake. The power is not there. It is simply another instance of an engineer handing out book figures with a hungry financial smile. Those are the goods he sells and he must present them in their most favorable light. With very little trouble one can be shown by any man and every one of the power houses on the Otonabee today that the actual possibility does not by any means come near the engineer's statement of the probability, in the case of our largest power plant a loss of fully 1,000 horse power is recorded—a matter of over 20 per cent. When the city sells power there will be no allowance made for a similar failure in probable power. It must be remembered that it is not the power which can be developed for seven or eight months or the year that is available. It is the minimum only that counts—the twelve-months possible.

It is unfortunate that this power scheme has been associated with the Water Commissioners' proposition; for with the probable death of the one the other may die in sympathy. Good business, commendable zeal, has marked the reign of the commissioners thus far and their present plan should meet with general approbation.

Many claim the change is not needed today. Yet it is certainly wisdom to buy a new suit of clothes ere the old ones drop off.

Yours truly,

PETER B. POWER.

The Mississauga Put It To the Onondaga

Toronto, March 26.—That this new new Indian galloper, Red Hawk (Henry Jackson), is some runner was proven yesterday, when he hooked up with Tom Longboat for an eight-mile training stunt. They ran from the Grand Central Hotel to the Bomber and return. Red Hawk pulled right away after the first three miles, and at the Ocean House, coming back, had a two-minute lead on the Onondaga. Coming in Bill Davis put it to the big Indian in grand style, and he closed up, but Hawk beat him home over a minute. Of course it must be said that Red Hawk is in superb shape, while Longboat has just recommenced training, and is off color. The Onondaga is training faithfully now, and in a week or so will make them all step again to beat him.

LESS MEAT

Advice of Family Physician

Formerly people thought meat necessary for strength and muscular vigor.

The man who worked hard was supposed to require meat two or three times a day. Science has found out differently.

It is now a common thing for the family physician to order less meat, as in the following letter from a N.Y. man.

"I had suffered for years with dyspepsia and nervousness. My physician advised me to eat less meat and greasy foods generally. I tried several things to take the place of my usual breakfast of chops, fried potatoes, etc., but got no relief until I tried Grape-Nuts food.

"After using Grape-Nuts for the cereal part of my meals for two years, I am now a well man. Grape-Nuts benefited my health far more than the $500.00 worth of medicine I had taken before.

"My wife and children are healthier than they had been for years and we are a very happy family, largely due to Grape-Nuts.

"We have been so much benefited by Grape-Nuts that it would be ungrateful not to acknowledge it.

COLD IN THE HEAD

What's the Sense in Sneezing and Sniffling, Dosing with Purgatives, or Bothering with Atomizers?

CATARRHOZONE.

A Convenient Inhaler Treatment is the Proper Remedy to Cure Quickly and Pleasantly.

Some people long ago abandoned the idea of "working off" a cold by means of laxatives and purgatives for the simple reason that the cure is as bad as the disease itself.

To cure a cold in about ten minutes time use Catarrhozone. It is aromatic, delightful to inhale, clean and very simple to use.

Catarrhozone is a vegetable antiseptic and perfectly safe an dharmless. Even children and infants can use it. The vapor is inhaled at the mouth, and after passing through the respiratory organs is inhaled slowly through the nostrils.

Catarrhozone never disappoints, it stops sneezing, coughing an drunning at the eye, by a few inhalations. Inflammation congestion and all irritation disappear under the influence of Catarrhozone more quickly than can be told.

C. B. College, of Clarence Street, London, says:—"I had a continuous cold in the head for years, and never used anything with such quick results as I derived from five minutes' use of Catarrhozone. I am delighted to find a remedy that cures colds in a few minutes. Catarrhozone cures every time."

To carry a Catarrhozone Inhaler in the pocket means you won't have colds, catarrh or any lung or throat trouble. It keeps these diseases away and is warranted to protect you against all the ills of winter. Complete outfit, with Hard Rubber Pocket Inhaler costs $1.00. Small size, 50 cents. Druggists or N. C. A "TRAMP FARM"

Steps are being taken in New York State looking to the creation of a "tramp farm." To this farm all tramps falling into the hands of the State authorities are to be sent for an indefinite period, save that confinement is not to exceed two years. As soon as an inmate gives promise of becoming a self-supporting citizen release is to take place, and failure in the fulfillment o of the promise is doubtless to be followed by a return to the place of detention.

This New York plan is, as the Brantford Expositor remarks, a decided improvement on the utter lack of plan prevailing in this Province. Tramps who strike Ontario towns are ordered to move on, or are committed to jail for a short term. In any case, a procession is kept constantly on the move, and those forming that procession are not only of no service either to themselves or the community, but, on the contrary, constitute an ever-present menace to isolated property, and in some cases to life itself. Sent to a "tramp farm," they could at least be made to provide the cost of their own maintenance, and some of these wastrels might in time be transformed into reputable citizens. In any case by the adoption of the idea society would be relieved of the cost of maintaining an army now idle and a grave danger to property would be largely removed.

THE MEN WHO BUNGLE

Under some kind of provocation, a writer in an exchange says that the great trouble among Canadian boys is the lack of application and thoroughness in what they undertake.

This has been true, no doubt, of the great majority of boys in all countries and in all ages. The fact that most boys and most men are making in application and a thoroughness makes it possible for a few boys and men to get along in the world in a way that seems remarkable. They do things that to others would be impossible, and if the source of their success were traced to its center it would be found to consist in the efficiency of any service they render in any capacity in which they may be engaged.

It is not necessary to speak of Canadian boys as wanting in thoroughness when the fault exists in the great majority of mankind. If the roof of your house leaks—whether your house is in Ontario or England or Russia or China—and you get men to fix it, you will probably find after the next rainstorm that it still leaks a little, although not as badly as before. If your watch will not run, and you leave it for repairs at the first shop you come to, it will probably keep time for a few days after you get it back and then behave worse than before. If you order a dress or a suit of clothes to be delivered by a certain date, you will probably receive at the last minute an excuse instead of the parcel. If you engage a man to dig your garden he will probably misunderstand you and dig up your strawberry plants.

These and similar vexations are not local and peculiar at all. They are inseparable from this earthly existence. Ninety men out of every hundred would not have been, in all countries and in all ages, shoving around for little more than their board and clothes, if it were possible to make them efficient by telling them that they should "have more application and thoroughness."

WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH BRITAIN?

History does not record a case in which there was less real cause for war than exists between Great Britain and Germany. Neither power can possibly gain by the injury or destruction of the other; neither can take and hold from the other territory that is worth the taking.

Germany was able to wrest from Denmark first and France afterwards provinces adjoining her own territory and geographically belonging to her. It would be an impossible for her, even with Britain's navy and army destroyed, to permanently hold the British Isles, or any part of them, as it would be, under the opposite condition, for Great Britain maintain a permanent grip on a German port.

Going beyond the centers of the two powers, there is nothing worth fighting for that can be acquired by one from the other. Even if the United States did not stand in the way, Germany could not secure a foothold in Canada. She would be equally helpless against Australia. Distance from the base of supplies and a levy en masse of Canadian or Australian forces, would make conquest in either quarter impossible. Any attempt on Gibraltar, Malta, or Egypt would result in the creation of a hostile alliance of Mediterranean powers—powers which tolerate Great Britain because she has been long there, and is part of settled conditions, but would not tolerate an aggressive and ambitious interloper. On the other hand, Germany is absolutely without a single colony which Great Britain would be the better of possessing.

Why, then, all this clamor and panic? Is it another case of hysteria such as swept over London on Mafeking night? Has the stolid, self-confident Britisher disappeared, and a nervous, excitable weakling taken his place?

A failing tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the Heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The Stomach also has its hidden, or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness is the only sensible and successful way. Sold by all dealers.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have those same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—reestablish them as needed, with

Tender for Red River Bridge

SEALED tenders, addressed to the undersigned, and marked on the envelope "Tender for the Red River Bridge," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway until twelve o'clock noon of the 6th day of April, 1909, for the construction and erection of a steel and concrete bridge and approach spans over the Red River between Winnipeg and St. Boniface, near the foot of Lombard street, together with grading and approach spans over streets in Winnipeg.

Separate tenders must be submitted for the substructure with other works as per schedule, and for superstructure.

Plans, details and profiles may be seen and full information obtained, at the office of the chief engineer at Ottawa, and also at the office of the district engineer at St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the forms supplied by the commissioners, which may be had on application to Mr. Hugh D. Lumsden, chief engineer, Ottawa, Ont., and M. S. R. Poulin, district engineer, St. Boniface, Man.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered Bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway for the sum of $35,000 for substructure and other work as per schedule, and for the sum of $25,000 for steel superstructure and floor.

The cheques deposited by the party whose tender is accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

The right is reserved to reject any or all tenders.

Why Do People Deposit Their Money in Banks for only 3 Per Cent. Interest?

BECAUSE, THEY THINK IT IS QUITE SAFE.

Why Do Some Invest in Bonds to get a Little Higher Interest?

Because, the bonds represent a mortgage on the property on which their money is invested which gives a feeling of safety.

Why Do People Invest in Wildcat Gold and Silver Mining Schemes? Because they think the chances of profit are big and they are willing to take the risk.

WHY NOT INVEST IN A SAFE STOCK IN A GOING COAL MINE

making money now and which presents such possibilities for development that it is expected that the profits will run from 25 per cent. to 50 per. cent. higher.

The Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited, Stock at $10 per Share is a safe Stock.

It is all common stock. There are no bonds or no mortgages or no preferred stock, on which interest must be paid before the common stockholder gets anything

When you buy common stock of the Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited at $10 per share you become an actual owner of the mines and have an equal chance of the profits according to the number of shares held. A coal mine with a big deposit of coal ready for the miner's pick is as safe as a bank. To own and control shares of common stock in such a coal mine must be safer and better than holding bonds in a proposition in which you have no control and which may or may not be properly managed. The officers and management of the Winter Port Coal Mines of New Brunswick have the experience in mining and selling coal in both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

J. S. Gibbon, the President of the company, opened and developed the Winter Port Mines to the present stage.

W. F. Vroom, the Vice-President of the Company, was for some years actively associated in the management of the Springhill Collieries in Nova Scotia and the Albert Mines in New Brunswick.

Manufacturers in St. John speak highly of the Winter Port coal.

Winter Port coal is a good locomotive coal and has been used on the Intercolonial and other railways.

The Winter Port Coal Mines being practically on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific now opening up through New Brunswick will provide a most convenient coaling facility for that great transcontinental railway. Immense quantities of coal will be needed by the great railways and by the manufacturers, steamship lines, etc., in connection with the development of Canada's Winter Port at St. John, N.B., which is only 55 miles in a direct line from these coal mines.

Secure some Winter Port stock now at $10 per share (there is no personal liability) and get your share of the profits of a safe conservative money-making proposition.

VARICOCELE CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double varicocele. When I worried half the night I would become nervous and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilful. I wrote them and got The New Method Treatment. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $18 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $25 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

Who Said Huethers

We All Did.

A CAREFUL MAN.

When It Came to Money He Had to Put on the Brakes.

The passengers in an accommodation train which was winding its way through New Hampshire were interested and amused by an elderly couple who sat in the middle of the car.

They talked as if there were no one else in the car. Therefore, having heard most of their private plans, no one was surprised to have the old man take the assembled company fully into his confidence. At one station he rose and addressed the passengers in general.

"Can anybody change a five dollar bill for two twos and a one or five ones?" he inquired.

"I can," said a brisk woman, and the transfer was quickly made.

"Now, could anybody change this one dollar bill for four quarters or tens and fives?" asked the old man.

"I can give you two fifties," said a man from the rear seat, "unless somebody else can do better."

It appeared that nobody could or at least nobody offered, so as the train started the old man lurched down the car to the possessor of the two fifty cent pieces.

"Thank you," he said as he took the money. "I'm obliged, though I'd have liked the quarters best. You see, Martha has set her mind to stop off at Nashua whilst I go on up to my brother's with the eggs and truck. And, though she don't plan nor mean to be a spendthrifty woman, when she's let loose amongst a lot of stores she'll run through 50 cents in an hour easy, and I kind of have to put a curb on her."

THE TURTLE'S HEAD.

Chopped Off, It Retains Life For a Number of Hours.

On the counter, in a porcelain dish, stood the severed head of a large turtle.

"That is rather gruesome," said a man who was buying oysters.

The oyster opener glanced at the head carelessly.

"It is a bet," said he. "I bet Gus Schmidt that the head would keep alive twenty-four hours. It's nearly twenty-five now since I chopped it off. Gus is late. But I win anyhow," he added.

"Where's my money? Pay me my money!" a deep voice shouted at this moment, and a short man swaggered in.

"You've lost, Gus," said the oyster opener. "There is still life in her."

"There is—sit," said Gus Schmidt. "Nix on the life."

And he extended a stumpy finger fearfully toward the turtle's mouth.

"Gee!"

Startled, amazed, Gus Schmidt leaped back. For in the turtle's open eyes a fierce light had flashed, the ugly mouth had opened and shut with a sharp snap, and the head in some strange way had advanced an inch or two toward the tempting finger, much as a piece of steel advances toward a magnet.

"This may surprise you, Gus," said the oyster opener, wiping his wet hands in order to pocket his winnings. "But it don't surprise me none. I've seen turtle heads keep life in 'em longer'n this here."

Greeley Dodged Lincoln.

President Lincoln, having been often and severely arraigned in the New York Tribune for what Mr. Greeley considered his slowness in prosecuting the war, had said: "If he (Greeley) objects to my policy, I shall be glad to have him state to me his views frankly and fully. I shall adopt his if I can. If I cannot, I will at least tell him why. He and I should stand together."

"If I were to go," said Greeley when the words were repeated to him, "he would simply twist me around his fingers, as he always does."

"Lincoln's smile would wilt me in half a minute," he said on another occasion when again urged to see the president and have a talk with him. "He is a wonderful man—wonderful! I never can harbor a thought against him except when I keep away from him."

The Experienced Swine.

The crowd around the postoffice stove, after exhausting the possibilities of politics, local and national, had been discussing the alleged lack of the truth telling instinct in Old Man Simpkins. Uncle Ezra came in, and Jim Peters said:

"What do you think about it, Uncle Ezra—would you call Old Man Simpkins a liar?"

"Well," answered Uncle Ezra slowly as he thoughtfully studied the ceiling, "I wouldn't go so far as to call the old man a liar, but I do know it to be a fact that when feedin' time comes to get any response he has to have somebody else call his hogs for him."

Purely Professional.

"You say he's a professional man?"

"Yes," answered Miss Cayenne doubtfully. "One of the kind who hang out a sign 'Back In an Hour' and leave it there the year through."

Both Sharp.

"The girl who knows she is pretty makes a fool of herself."

"And the girl who doesn't know she is pretty makes a fool of some man."

On the Wrong Task.

Tommy — Grandpa, are kings and queens always good? Grandpa—Not always, my boy—sometimes there are some set against them.

BOY HERO REWARDED.

Lad Who Saved Pony's Life Is Given a Medal.

"Our Dumb Friends League" held a field day at Claridge's Hotel, London, a few days ago, and the room in which the meeting took place was so crowded that there was scarcely space for the photographers to work in. Three cameras were trained on the table at which Julia, Marchioness of Tweeddale, presided, and her ladyship prolonged the gesture with which she handed a medal to Henry Murten, favorably known as the pit-boy hero, while flashlight photographs were taken of the scene.

Murten, a youth of 17, is employed as a pony boy in the Woolley colliery, Barnsley. Some months ago he was taking his pony down an incline with some empty trucks, when he was warned that the roof was creaking. With great presence of mind, he unharnessed the pony, and dragged the animal out of danger.

Then the roof fell in, eight tons or more of it, completely filling the empty wagons, while fragments of it ripped the pony's harness off, and cut Murten about the hands. Incidentally, Murten saved the life of another boy who was following, and who, but for the warning, must have been crushed to death.

But the great achievement honored was that he saved the pony's life. For that he was awarded a silver medal by the league, as well as the Fitzwilliam medal, presented by the Countess Fitzwilliam, who is president of the Yorkshire Society for the Encouragement of Humane Treatment and Kindness to Pit Ponies.

To give verisimilitude to the ceremony, Murten appeared in his pit clothes, and with his face "made up" with coal dust, specially brought to London from the colliery where he works. He carried a lighted Davy lamp, and smiled appreciatively when the secretary announced that two members of the league had contributed a sovereign apiece, as a mark of their admiration for him, and that Arthur Collins had invited him to see the Drury Lane pantomime.

When Grayson Ran Away.

Mr. Victor Grayson, British M.P., who has been chaffed a good deal about the motor-car "kidnapping" joke, which kept him away from a Labor party conference, conspired, when at school, to run away from home with a schoolmate, Billy Lee by name. Young Victor looted some sandwiches from home, while Lee stole a revolver belonging to his father, and which the lads carried alternately, stuck in their braces. They were determined to see the world, and as they sat on a bank in a country lane to devour the sandwiches they imagined themselves being able to say, "Oh, yes, we have been to this and that place and have had some really thrilling experiences." But when night drew on and hunger began to assert itself, the temperament of the boys underwent a great change. They thought of the old melody, "Home, sweet home," and mutually agreed it was far better for them to remain under parental control a little longer. It was nearly midnight when the boys reached home. Their reception was one to be remembered. Some time afterwards, Victor decided to go to sea, and successfully prevailed on an old sailor to make him a stowaway on an outward-bound vessel to Australia. When three days out, three other stowaways were discovered, and Victor decided to appear before the captain with them. The latter told them it was only respect for the fish that restrained him from having all four thrown overboard. For $50, a passing steamer consented to return the stowaways to England. When they were landed they kept together for a time, but eventually one of them was locked up for begging, while another joined the navy.

A Shipbuilding Magnate.

Lord Pirrie, on whom His Majesty has conferred the Order of St. Patrick, is one of the heads of the great Belfast shipbuilding firm of Harland and Wolff, which he entered forty-seven years ago as an apprentice, and such was his ability that twelve years later he was taken into partnership. He possesses an amazing knowledge not only of shipbuilding, but of how to get orders for ships. There is a story told of him to the effect that on the afternoon of one of his periodical visits to Liverpool a large shipowner had a more serious face than usual when he met his colleagues on the Exchange. "Well, the fact is," he said, "Pirrie has been over and has persuaded me to order a ship, and I am puzzled to know what to do with it."

Two Famous Hymn Writers.

Mr. Alfred Midlane, the jubilee of whose famous hymn, "There a Friend for Little Children," was recently celebrated, learned the trade of an ironmonger in his youth, and it was after a day of hard work that he sat down and endeavored to put upon paper the ideas for the hymn by which he will always be known. By a curious coincidence, Mr. Midlane lives in a house in Newport, Isle of Wight, which is quite close to that occupied for so long by Mrs. Lake, another venerable hymn-writer. She wrote the well-known hymn, "I Think When I Read That Sweet Story of Old."

Poor With French and English Titles.

The Duke of Richmond, who is shortly going abroad, is a "triple" Duke in the United Kingdom, besides holding the French title of Duc d'Aubigny. The late duke succeeded his father as Duke of Richmond and Lennox, and in 1876 the title of Duke of Gordon was revived in his favor. The Duke of Abercorn is the only peer who holds peerages in each of the three kingdoms, as well as a French dukedom, that of Chatelherault.

"Comforters" and Smoking.

Miss Pearose Philp, of the State Children's Association, advanced a novel theory as to juvenile smoking when speaking at the Women's Institute recently. She said it was the common practice of putting "comforters" in the mouths of infants which had much to do with boys later on taking to cigarettes.

JUST A FEW TRINKETS

JEWELS WORN BY THE PRINCES OF INDIA.

Most Costly Article of Ornament the World Has Ever Known Is a Diamond Cape Worn by Bahadur of Baroda and Valued at $5,000,000—Rajah of Jaipur Has a Piece of Jewelry Worth $3,000,000.

In a palace older than western civilization, on a jewel encrusted throne, a relic of a vanished art, sits the maharajah of Gwalior. Over $3,000,000 worth of diamonds and precious stones glitter on the magnificent robes which mark his regal state. The wealth of a Rockefeller or a Carnegie pales into insignificance before the vast riches of this prince, whose clothes alone represent a king's ransom.

The barbaric magnificence of the most richly-dressed man in the world is almost inconceivable in a land where a paltry diamond tiara or a single necklace is regarded as wonderful. Around the neck of the prince are six rows of pearls, the last row pendent and of enormous size. Even in India cannot be found a collection of these stones to equal this necklace. Seven ropes of large pearls swing from the shoulder to the hip for the support of his sword in his gold enameled and diamond encrusted scabbard. The gorgeous weapon is estimated at being worth $250,000, and it is possible that that value falls far below the real worth of the gems with which it is adorned.

But the necklace and sword belt form but a small part of the mass of jewels which glitter from every part of the prince's costume. The only parts of his dress which are not ornamented are his headgear and his boots. In this respect he forms a contrast to the majority of his brother Indian rulers, who usually wear gorgeous jeweled turbans. The maharajah of Gwalior, however, affects a curious kind of hat which looks like an oriental slouch and is bare of jewels with the exception of a great ruby, valued at $70,000. His highness probably in a modest moment considered that ruby sufficient, and perhaps he is not alone in his opinion.

But all the wealth of the Maharajah Sindhia cannot compare with Maharajah Sir Sayaji Rao Gaekwar Sena Khas Khel Bahadur of Baroda, G. C., S.I., commonly known as the Gaekwar. This person is even more magnificent than his name. His jewels have been valued at $4,000,000, while his yearly income exceeds $15,000,000.

This superb monarch has one article of dress which is the most costly piece of jewelry that the world has ever known or is ever likely to know. It is celebrated under the name of the diamond cape and its value has been placed at $5,000,000, although it is impossible to properly estimate the value of the stones which comprise it. The only reason why his brother maharajah is able to claim the title of the richest dressed man in the world is because the lord of Baroda is a modest person, a graduate of Eton and Oxford, and keeps his cape for the edification of his visitors.

The diamond cape really is composed in the main of woven pearls, but it is edged with an arabesque design of diamonds, rubies, sapphires, and emeralds, and such is the size and glory of the diamonds that they far outshine the more numerous other stones. This marvelous creation was originally designed as a covering for Mohammed's tomb, but in the east things do not always reach their original destination and the cape by some means or other came into the possession of a former Gaekwar. Not unlike other famous jewels, it has been baptized in blood, and three ruthless wars have been fought for its possession.

However, the Gaekwar has a few trifles which he consents to don at Durbars and other state occasions. Among these is a turban which is worth a mere $100,000 and a pair of gloves which you might be able to buy for $80,000. He also strews a few knicknacks over his person in the shape of emerald studs and ruby buttons with a diamond star or two, so that altogether he would go at a bargain sale for about a million, without counting the value of his princely self.

The Maharajah of Patiala is a young person who would look with scorn at the pretensions of any mere American trust magnate to be termed a rich man. When he gets into gala attire he carries around with him a few jewels which are worth about a million and a half dollars. His scarlet velvet cloak of state is embroidered with pearls to the value of one million dollars and the ropes of diamonds and pearls which he strings about his royal neck are, maybe, worth as much more. As a matter of fact, no estimate has ever been made of the wealth in jewels which this young princeling possesses, but the one perfect sapphire which blazes in his turban has been declared by such connoisseurs as have seen it to be worth at least $100,000. It is one of the few perfect large gems of its kind in existence and has marvelous powers attributed to it.

More remarkable for their fabulous value than for their number are the jewels of the Rajah of Jaipur, who was present at the coronation of King Edward, and spent the trifling sum of $1,000,000 on his expedition. To use a slang expression, London was "knocked cold" by his almost unbelievable magnificence. Even the crown jewels of England paled before the splendor of this semi-barbaric monarch.

But vast as is the wealth of the Indian princes there is one monarch before whom they are individually but as candles to the sun. His imperial majesty, Mohammed, Shah of Persia, has in his treasury gems which would almost make it seem possible to construct the palace of Aladdin. When he ascended the throne he had an inventory made of his jewels, and the minimum value placed was the incredible sum of $100,000,000.

Have you a pain—of any kind, anywhere? Stop just a minute and think! It matters not whether it be womanly pains, head pains, or any kind of a pain, one of Dr. Shoop's little Pink Pain Tablets will surely stop it in 20 minutes. Formula plainly printed on the 25c. box. Sold by all dealers.

Weary, Worn Out, Tired

If You Feel Poorly this Spring this Article is worth Considering.

Nothing in life keeps people from advancement like poor health. If the nerves are weak, if the stomach, liver, bowels or kidneys, fail to work properly, healthy surely suffers. Spring is the hardest time on health—the season when the system calls for active cleansing medicine.

The best plan is to entrust your condition to a physician of reputation like Dr. Hamilton, who has had years of experience in compounding tonics. For the ills and tired feeling of spring Dr. Hamilton says nothing is better than Mandrake and Butternut Pills, and this is well proven in the case of James Burton of Lewistown. "I had grip and it left me very weak. The disease settled in my back and side, which ached day and night. I had a nagging cough. My appetite was all gone. My nerves unstrung. I could not sleep well I struggled against growing page, thin and weak—but it was no good. Spring brought depression, overpowering weakness and bad headaches. But my life was spared, simply because I learned off the wonderful merit in Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. The result was marvellous, I gained rapidly, became strong, ruddy, vigorous, perfectly well. I urge every man and woman to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly.

You'll brighten up, have cleaner blood, stronger nerves, better spirits after using Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c at all dealers. Guaranteed safe, sure helpful for old and young.

LEASE OF WATER POWERS.

Notice is hereby given that the lease of the two groups of water-powers below mentioned, will be offered at public auction in the sales' room of the department of Lands and Forests, in this city, on Tuesday, the 11th May next, at 10.30 o'clock in the forenoon.

The lease will be for seventy-five years on the terms below stipulated and on such other conditions as will be made known to the public on the day of the auction.

1. The "Kai-Kai-Ke" group (River des Quinze).

Description; —The water-powers created by the Kai-Kai-Ke rapid and the other rapids and falls situated above it as far as Lake des Quinze, in the county of Pontiac, at about 12 miles from the Indian Village of North Temiscamingue to which the steamboats connecting with the C.P.R. trains, at Temiscamingue ascend; also four hundred acres of land in the vicinity of the said rapid and of the Kai-Kai-Ke portage, from the head of the said rapid to a line drawn across the river des Quinze, at nine hundred feet above the entry of the channel called "Bryson Creek," together with all the lands that may be flooded in consequence of the construction of the dams intended to submerge the rapids above that of Kai-Kai-Ke and to Lake des Quinze exclusively, without such dams causing any portion whatever of the waters of River des Quinze to overflow into some other stream.

Total head, 98 feet; absolute power at low water, 32,960 horse-power, without warranty of exact measurement.

The lessee shall be obliged to expend a sum of $250,000 on the development of the said water-powers within the three years following the passing of the lease, in default whereof the lease shall be cancelled and the payments made confiscated.

2. "Island Rapids," group (River des Quinze).

Description; — The water-powers formed by the rapids known under the name of "Big Pipe Stone," "Little Pipe Stone" and "Islands Rapids," in the same county, at about eight miles from North Temiscamingue, to which the steamboats connecting with the C.P.R. trains of Temiscamingue ascend, including; 1. The bed and the water-powers of the River des Quinze, properly so called from a line drawn across that river at nine hundred feet above the entry of head of "Bryson Creek," to the prolongation across the said river of the division line of ranges 7 and 8 of the township of Guigues; 2. The bed and the water powers of "Bryson Creek," channel or arm of the said river; 3. The large island between the river des Quinze, properly so called and the said "Bryson Creek," as well as all the islands and fore shores and all the inlets and ranks in the said river and said "Bryson Creek," between the two lines above described; 4. A strip of land of 10 chains (660 feet) in width or depth (measured in a due north and south direction) along northern bank of the river des Quinze and of "Bryson Creek" and extending between the two lines above described; 5. Lastly, a strip of land also of 10 chains in width or depth, along the southern bank of the river des Quinze, between the two said lines drawn transversely to the river.

All these lands, bed of the river des Quinze, bed of Bryson Creek, islands, etc., covering a superficies of about 3000 acres.

The difference of level in the river des Quinze between the two lines above described is 95 feet in round numbers representing at low water, an absolute power of 32,000 horse-power, the whole without warranty of exact measurement.

The lessee shall be obliged to expend $300,000 on the development and working of these hydraulic powers within a delay of three years from the date of the passing of the lease under pain of resiliation of the lease and the confiscation of any payment made in the said delay.

The government binds itself to not sell for ten years from this any lands on the banks of the river des Quinze on a width or depth of at least fifteen chains (990 feet) beyond the lands above designated, from the foot of the rapids called "Island Rapids" to Lake des Quinze exclusively, so that the lessee may, at all points of the bank have free access to the river and that he may choose within that area the lands necessary for the full working of the said water-powers, which lands, whose superficies—including that of the lands mentioned in the above descriptions—shall not exceed 3560 acres for the "Island Rapids" group, and 2000 acres for the "Kai-Kai-Ke" group, shall also form part of the property leased.

The upset price shall be fixed on the day of the auction and each person desirous of becoming a bidder, must deposit at the Department of Lands and Forests before the sale, an accepted cheque for $10,000 which will be returned to him after the sale, unless he be the person to whom the property will be adjudged; to this person the said sum of $10,000 will be refunded when he shall have given proof of complete compliance with the conditions prescribed as to the development of the said water-powers, which compliance must be menced within the six months following the date of the lease.

OBITUARY

ROBERT DUNCAN.

A well known and highly respected citizen of this city passed away Friday morning in the person of Mr. Robert Duncan. The deceased who was 66 years of age was born and had lived all his life in Peterborough, and had conducted a cartage business. He was a member of the Independent Order of Foresters and was a Presbyterian in religion, attending St. Paul's church. Besides his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Robert Jones of town, and four sons, Messrs. Thomas, George, Albert at home, and Robert of Cleveland, are left to mourn his loss.

The funeral will take place from his late residence, 115 McDonnel St., on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock and proceed to the Little Lake cemetery where interment will take place.

volver, razor or other offensive weapon."

An interesting provision of his bill provides for the removal of prisoners sentenced to death to the nearest penitentiary, as the retention of such in the jail of the district where the crime was committed is apt to excite the nerves and arouse morbid thoughts in the minds of those in the vicinity, who have been brooding over the affair.

CLAUSES ARE SIMILAR.

Mr. Stewart's bill contains a clause which is closely paralleled by one in a measure promoted by Mr. Lewis. The Hamilton man's legislation is as follows;

"Every peace officer who, on reasonable and probable grounds, believes that any person has in his custody or possession, or carries, any offensive weapon for any purpose dangerous to the public peace, is justified in arresting such person, without warrant, and requiring him to submit to being searched for such weapon, either by the said peace officer, or at the nearest police station, or before the nearest justice of the peace, at the option of the person so arrested, whether such person is guilty or not."

The provision in the Lewis measure has special reference to the searching of immigrants for weapons. "If the accused," it says, "is by such justice or magistrate believed not to be a native of Canada, he shall make a report to the minister of the interior on the matter, together with the evidence; and, if the said minister is satisfied that such person was an immigrant to Canada within four years previously, and had in his possession any such weapon, or if such immigrant is found within four years of his arrival in Canada in possession of any such weapons, the said minister may order the deportation of such immigrant."

The bill provides for the indeterminate sentence on a second conviction for vagrancy, the guilty one to be detained in the central prison or penitentiary.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY

GIVES UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

Best Remedy in the Market For Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough—It Always Cures And Is Pleasant and Safe to Take.

"I never had a medicine in my store that gave such universal satisfaction as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Mr. P. M. Shore, of Rochester, Ind. "It is the best remedy to-day on the market for coughs, colds and whooping cough. One of my lady customers told me recently that she could not keep house without it, that since they have been using it they have had no need of a doctor." In case of a severe attack of croup a physician will usually call twice, and perhaps half a dozen times in a severe and long protracted case of whooping cough, while in pneumonia it is often necessary that he calls once or twice a day for a week or two. All of this trouble and expense may be saved by the judicious use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, for it is a certain cure for croup, and when given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. Pneumonia can also be prevented. This fact has been fully proven, as during the almost forty years in which this remedy has been in general use, no case of a cold or attack of the grip has ever resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used, so far as we have been able to learn. It will be seen that a little forethought and by doing the right thing at the right time, all danger and expense may be avoided. Bear in mind that every bottle of this remedy is warranted and if not as stated it will not cost you a cent.

Smallpox in Seymour Twp

Dr. R. W. Bell, Provincial Medical Health Officer was in the city last night on his way to Toronto after having visited Campbellford and vicinity. In the township of Seymour about ten miles from Campbellford there have developed quite a number of cases of smallpox, but fortunately most of them are of a mild form. However, very stringent measures have been taken to stamp the disease out and it is not expected that anything serious will develop in Seymour.

Must Protect White Labor

Washington, March 26.—When the tariff bill was laid before the House today Mr. Humphreys (Washington) took issue with some statements made by Mr. Payne in his opening speech regarding the number of Orientals engaged in the lumber mills of British Columbia. Mr. Payne, he said, left the impression that there were fewer Orientals working in such mills there than in the State of Washington. That statement was erroneous, he said. He declared that over fifty per cent. of the men engaged in the lumber and shingle mills of British Columbia were Orientals, who were paid lower wages than American mill laborers, and that therefore the cost of production was less. Out of the 13,950 men employed in the shingle mills of Washington, Mr. Humphrey said there were but 41 Orientals. He also said that of the 110,000 men employed in the lumber and shingle industry of that State there were but 1,500 Orientals.

"Now," he said, "we have an opportunity to see whether or not we are going back on what we have said about protecting the labor of this country from ruinous competition of the labor of foreign countries."

While the Payne bill, he said, protected the industry of New England, Penns, and New York, and they were in operation, out in Washington, he conditions were exactly the reverse. "Our mills are closing," he declared, "and men are being thrown out of employment."

On the authority of Mr. Fordney (Michigan), the Washington member asserted that the witnesses before the Commission on Ways and Means who wanted lumber put on the free list were men interested in Canadian lumber, while those who asked for the retention of the Dingley duty were men interested in timber in the United States.

"We ought not to hesitate long when that question is presented," he said, "as to whom we shall legislate for."

William O'Brien Quits Politics Owing to Redmond's Attack

Cork, March 27.—A sensation was created here last night by a letter from William O'Brien announcing his resignation as Nationalist member of parliament for Cork, and his retirement from politics. The letter says:

"Recent developments, notably the defection of five members for Cork, make it impossible for me to continue further to press my views upon a country which apparently is unable or unwilling to hear me.

It is stated that Mr. O'Brien, besides vacating his seat in parliament, will drop the new movement, the "All for Ireland" League and cease publishing his paper "Irish People." This decision it is alleged, was due to John E. Redmond's public warning against the movement.

A Lively Scrap

A lively scrap occurred on Hunter street in front of the post office Saturday night about eight o'clock when two young fellows got busy with tongues and fists and finally one of them drew a knife and threatened to stab his opponent. Quite a crowd had gathered and no serious harm was done.

Unrest in India--Pitched Battles Have Occurred

The strike and the boycott have long been operative in India, and whole districts of that unfortunate country are kept in constant turmoil by the struggle between native agitators and foreign residents. Pitched battles have occurred and assaults on individuals are frequently reported. The cry of the agitators, who have a strong native press to back them, is "India for the Indians," and, as far as America is concerned, there is probably little enough sympathy for the British side of the question. So pressing has the danger become, however, that Viscount Morley, Secretary of State for India, has advised radical measures of reform. His proposals involve an increase of the number of legislative councils, or local government bodies, in which there is to be a representation of all the different classes of the community, and which are to be empowered not only to deal with local affairs but to discuss matters of general importance and to pass resolutions. The lieutenany governors as well as the viceroy are to have councils, and these councils are to be empowered to discuss and vote on financial measures. The distinguishing feature of the whole scheme is the great enlargement of native representation which may do something to bridge the social as well as the political chasm between the English and the natives.

Nearly Two Hundred Newspaper Folks Came on a Special C.P.R. Train—Visited the Manufacturing Concerns

LUNCHEON AT THE HOTELS

The Canadian Press Association has been in Peterborough and gone again. The members came and they saw and were convinced. The Electric City is today prominent in the front ranks. Commercially and geographically and as a pleasant place in which to live it has no superior (population considered), and the visitors were not loath to express their opinions.

The visit of the Canadian Press Association was a success, and it meant much to the city. At the same time it was disappointing, although due to no fault of the city, the council, or the publishers who engineered the visit. The weather man is to blame for it all. He could not stand the pressure and at the last moment went on a tare and the elements out loose and made things decidedly disagreeable for several hours. The snow storm of Saturday morning was one of the worst of the winter and to make things still worse it was a wet snow.

In spite of the weather the special C.P.R. train pulled into the city well on time and brought nearly 200 newspaper folk. The party included a large number of ladies, who not only enjoyed the outing themselves but made things much more pleasant for the men. In the realms of journalism, as in any other walk of life, the ladies are an inspiration and a power. They are always welcomed by the press.

At 10.30 o'clock the press special pulled up at the Canadian General Electric Works and from that time on until the special left at four o'clock the visitors were the guests of Peterborough. The day was a big one and not a moment was wasted, and yet nothing was hurried. The program included a visit to three of the factories which are known in every district of the Dominion and in many foreign countries. Luncheon was served at the three largest hotels, viz., the Oriental, National and Snowden. The visit to the lift lock was unfortunately necessarily cancelled on account of the bad weather, and sloppy walking. Still the visitors had a big day and they went home tired but glad that they had come.

London, March 27.—Mrs. Sarah Wadsworth is entitled to rank herself among the small band of Londoners who are centenarians, as she recently celebrated her 100th birth day. Practically the whole of her long life has been spent in London, showing the the conditions and surroundings of a great city are not opposed to great longevity.

Her father's name was Harvey and he was a watchmaker and jeweler in a street of Aldersgate, a locality in those days much associated with coaching, as it was from the Bull and Mouth that various celebrated journeys were started. She has been a widow since 1872, and the latter years of her life have been spent in the kindly care of a relative who has a large apartment house in a quiet street in Bloomsbury.

Save for deafness, which has become marked in recent months, Mrs. Wadsworth has retained her faculties in the most remarkable degree.

READS AND DARN SOCKS.

She can still read ordinary newspaper type and darns stockings with a fineness and regularity attained to but rarely by the younger generation. In her business affairs she is perfectly capable, and only a short time ago wrote a letter to her legal adviser, expressing her wishes on a question of some complexity.

The wintry weather rendered it advisable that she should remain indoors during several weeks, but on the fine and sunny days she was able to take walking exercise of some duration. For several years past she has never omitted a summer change of air and scene to some favorite seaside resort.

Her memory is wonderfully clear and she recalls scenes and incidents of the distant past with a surprising vivacity and wealth of detail. Questioned as to some of the events that had most impressed her, the day of the funeral of Princess Charlotte stood out, she said, foremost among her earliest recollections.

The fair young princess, who as daughter of George IV., had stood before Queen Victoria in the succession, died at Claremont on November 6th, 1817, and her death evoked the deepest sorrow throughout the country. Services were held in the churches, and little Sarah Harvey went in the morning to that held in her own parish church. She heard in the conversation of her parents and friends that there was going to be fine music at St. Paul's in the afternoon, and, as music was irresistible to her, she stole away, determined to get in. There was a big crowd of course, but she relates how she succeeded in getting in and heard and saw much. Pickpockets had, unfortunately, assembled near the door and in the hustling that ensued she became frightened. Kindly people, however, helped her and had put her on her way homeward, when she met her father, who had come out to look for her.

LOST IN CROWD.

King George and William IV., she remembered clearly, but the political events of her youthful days do not stand out clearly in her mind. But, as a young girl, she met men who had fought in the Peninsular War and had heard at first hand of Wellington and the Spanish commanders.

AFTER WATERLOO.

There are few, indeed, who have a definite memory of Waterloo, and Mrs. Wadsworth says that hers, if not a very important one, is quite distinct. It is that of being taken out to see the illuminations in celebration of the great victory, and in particular she remembers the huge blazing star over the famous Albion theater.

In those days she often heard talk in her family circle of the celebrated and important people who came there to dine, including royal dukes, whom she was sometimes lifted up to see as they passed within. These were stirring times to live in, though news came slowly!

ALDERMEN BUSY

To his Worship Mayor Rush, Ald. Turner, chairman of the Reception Committee, and the majority of the members of the council is due, in a large measure, the enjoyment of the visit of the Canadian Press Association here on Saturday. The city fathers were with the visitors all day, and made friends with the newspaper men. When they do any entertaining the aldermen do it right. The thanks of the local press is due to them, and the visiting newspapermen appreciated the attention they received.

The Curling Club will Meet Tonight

An important meeting of the Curling Club is called for this evening at eight o'clock in the club parlors at the rink. The object is to present the prizes to the successful rinks in the club bonspiel, and also to formally close the curling season and the curling rink. The past season has been the most successful in the history of the club and there will no doubt be a big turnout at tonight's meeting.

Mayor Rush Replies to Ald. Hick's Criticisms

Sir,—I have read the letter of Ald. Hicks in regard to the power bylaw, and although he does not give any new information bearing on the question I wish to refer to it briefly. He says that I did not write the letter signed by myself and Ald McIntyre, which he of course knew was true, because he is a member of the Power Committee, and was present when instructions were given to have the explanation drafted and also when the letter was read to the committee and the chairman and I was asked to sign it on behalf of the committee. It was done to give the electors an explanation of the matter as it stands, and was an entirely proper proceeding. In the letter it is stated that it was published on behalf of the Power Committee and not merely as a personal statement.

I do not see how the statements in the Power Committee's letters can be said to be misleading. Just what work it was proposed to do with the sum asked for in the bylaw is plainly stated and the authority for every statement made is given.

Eleven of the aldermen were in favor of submitting the bylaw Ald Hicks only opposing it.

Ald Hicks' reference to the mayor and his cabinet I do not understand. I have, since the electors honored me by electing me mayor, never made any difference between one alderman and another, and I do not know any case in which I have shown any lack of courtesy to or consideration for Ald. Hicks. If he thinks I have he has only to make it known to me, and I will make any explanation or amends that may be called for, but I have no knowledge of any act of mine towards any member of the council that was in any way discourteous or of treating one member different from another.

I have no intention of continuing a discussion, as I do not see that any good would come from it and I do not wish to have any contention with any member of the council.

Yours truly,

B. RUSH.

Press Club Had Supper

As an aftermath of the visit of the Canadian Press Association on Saturday, the Peterborough Press Club, tendered a complimentary supper to the ex-members of the club who were in the city. About 10.30 that night the pencil pushers gathered at Jacobi's restaurant where an excellent spread had been got ready. There were just a dozen scribes and they enjoyed the menu to the full. After supper a pleasant half hour was spent in talk over old times. Among those present were Mr. G. B. VanBlarcom, Mr. M. J. Hutchinson and Mr. S. T. Huston, all connected with the McLean Publishing Co. of Toronto.

The ST. James Methodist Church was Formally Dedicated and Opened Yesterday

The Rev. R. McCullough, President of the Conference, Presided at Dedication—Rev. J.P. Wilson was Special Preacher

IMPRESSIVE AND JOYFUL SERVICES

St. James church is the newest addition to that power for good which is continuously being extended in this city. It was only a short time ago that the Methodists of Peterborough, realizing the need of greater accommodation for the flock decided to organize a congregation in the southern end of the city. A campaign was started to raise funds for a church and so successful did that movement result that the new church was formally opened and dedicated yesterday.

The ceremony was a most interesting one and a most important one as it marked another step forward in the history of the Methodist Church. It has long been the ambition of pastors and members of the other branches of the church to see the people of the south end have their own place of worship. It will not only benefit the present members but it is destined to be a power among those people who heretofore attended no church. The ambitions and dreams of the good people who foresaw the necessity have now been realized and there was general rejoicing among the Methodists yesterday, and especially those who were actively interested in the construction of the new congregation, and more especially joyful was Rev. H. M. Manning, pastor of St. James, for it was he who assumed the responsibility of many duties.

St. James church was formally thrown open to the public yesterday morning, and it was a large congregation which gathered under the roof to worship that first morning. Every seat in the pretty edifice was occupied which means that fully 550 persons took part in the service.

The church is of red brick and solidly constructed. It is a plain design but nevertheless attractive, and will answer the purpose of the congregation for several years to come. It is located towards the rear of the lot with the idea of using it wholly for Sunday school purposes at some future date when the congregation has grown to such an extent as to warrant the erection of a larger church with a seating capacity of a couple of thousand. The layout of the interior was planned with the same object in view and while it makes a pretty church it is particularly well arranged for Sunday school purposes and can readily be divided into separate class rooms.

One feature of St. James above all others is that it is an easy church to speak in. There is not the least echo, and every word of the speaker or singer can be distinctly heard. The building is also well lighted and ventilated.

One of the finest adornments is the large colored gable window inscribed "In Honor of Rev. H. M. Manning." It was presented by Mr. Samuel Jeffrey of Port Perry, a friend of Rev. Mr. Manning.

The seating capacity is 550 with 350 down stairs and 200 in the galleries. The seats are very comfortable and convenient and were supplied by the Valley City Seating Company of Dundas. The contractors were Messrs. James Finnie and R. Gordon, and to them credit is due for the good work done.

At the opening ceremony Rev. H. M. Manning, the pastor, Rev. R. McCullough of Omemee, president of the Bay of Quinte Conference, and Rev. J. P. Wilson of Lindsay, formerly of the George street church in this city, conducted the service. The congregation was attentively looked after by the officers of the church, while the choir added its share to the beauty of the occasion.

THE SERMON.

Rev. J. P. Wilson delivered a splendid sermon, taking his text from Exodus 25.23. As a preface to his remarks he expressed his pleasure at being present as the erection of St. James church had always been of more than a passing interest to him. He was delighted with the building and with the progress of Methodism in Peterborough. He congratulated St James congregation and those who had been instrumental in bringing about the completition of this "House of God."

Rev. Mr. Wilson in his sermon told of God's conference with Moses in reference to the erection of the first tabernacle. It was to be a house in which God could come and dwell with his people. The speaker told the story of the first church and how funds were gathered to pay for the building. Even at that early date the church treasury was established and its existence was endorsed by God. There is today the same necessity of a treasury, and it must be kept supplied, but all contributions must be free and from the heart to meet with recognition from God.

During the morning Mr. Manning of Toronto, rendered a beautiful tenor solo and during the offertory the choir sang an appropriate anthem.

CHURCH DEDICATED.

At the close of the morning sermon the Trustee Board gathered in front of the pulpit, and Mr. D. W. Dumble, on behalf of the board, presented the church to the congregation in which the work of God might be carried out.

Then, with the congregation standing Rev. Mr. McCullough read the dedicatory ceremony.

In the afternoon a public meeting was held at which addresses were delivered and special music was furnished by an orchestra, and the choir. In the evening there were also special services at which Rev. Mr. Wilson again preached. Tonight the Ladies' Aid Society give a tea and entertainment in the basement of the church.

Rev. H. M. Manning

Pastor of new St. James church.

ST. JAMES CHURCH

During the service Sunday morning, Mr. B. F. Ackerman, upon the request of the pastor, read a statement of the building fund, which was as follows:—

Spent to date	$13,856.76
Amount subscribed	9,156.00
Subscriptions paid	4,206.00
Balance on subscriptions	$4,206.00

Still required to get out of debt in addition to the subscriptions, $5000.

Amount asked to be donated at the opening services, $2,000.

The contractors are paid in full to date, although there is an overdraft at the bank.

Keeps Well and Active on Postum.

Postum does one good because it is made of clean hard wheat and contains no drug or other harmful substance.

"My husband always had his coffee twice a day—thought he could not do without it," writes a N.Y. woman. "About twelve years ago he began to have bad spells.

"His head felt queer, was dizzy and sick at his stomach. The doctor would come, and prescribed for biliousness but medicines gave no permanent relief.

"In a short time the same old spells would return. This went on for years, until we dreaded these spells and feared he would become an invalid.

"A friend to whom we told this experience said it was coffee. He had been the same way and stopped drinking coffee and got well by change to well-made Postum.

"He told us to be sure to make it right, according to directions on pkg. Now we like Postum as well as coffee, and I can't remember when my husband has had a sick day.

"Those bad spells are a thing of the past. He is 64, works every day and is as spry as a boy. We have been using Postum a year and a half and are glad to have a delicious drink which does not injure us as coffee did.

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

GRAVEYARD COUGHS AND COLDS

Cured Quickly by Catarrhozone.

A cough or cold this season of the year paves the way for pneumonia or consumption. The best remedy is "Catarrhozone". It eases a cough in five minutes, and colds cannot exist 1 ut a few hours where it is used. Mrs. H L. Chanowith, residing at Glendive, Montana, was worried by a "graveyard" cough. In the following letter she tells how Catarrhozone cured her in one week:

"I had a bad cough for several months that fell that settled on my lungs. I was worried very much to think that nothing I used could shake it off, but reading in the Halifax "Presbyterian Witness" of the wonderful cures Catarrhozone was effecting, I decided to try it. The irritability and soreness was taken out of my throat in a few days, and in less than one week it entirely cured my cough.

"It is with great gratitude and pleasure that I recommend Catarrhozone. I am sure it will benefit and cure all who use it."

(Signed) Mrs. H. L. Chanowith.

The reason Catarrhozone always cures is that it goes right to the sore spot, which it heals and makes well quickly. It is antiseptic and destroys disease germs in every part of the system. For Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis, nothing compares with Catarrhozone. It is very pleasant and simple to use, contains no injurious drugs, and is warranted perfectly safe to use. Catarrhozone inhaler is suitable to use in a street car, theatre, church, any place, at any time. Complete outfit costs but $1.00 and is guaranteed to cure or your money back. Trial size 25c., sold by druggists, or by mail, from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

CAMERONS AT WATERLOO.

How the Immortalized Highlanders Fought For Three Long Days.

The Cameron Highlanders fought at Waterloo throughout the three glorious days of June, and they were "particularly mentioned" by Wellington in his famous despatch of June 19, addressed to Lord Bathurst. Fortunate in their opportunities, they have been fortunate also in winning the praise of poets. Byron, in "Childe Harold," has consecrated their immortality in a famous stanza:

And wild and high the "Cameron's gathering" rose,
The war note of Lochiel, which Albyn's hills
Have heard, and heard too have her Saxon foes;
How in the noon of night that pibroch thrills
Savage and shrill! but with the breath which fills
Their mountain pipe, so fill the mountaineers
With the fierce native daring which instills
The stirring memory of a thousand years,
And Evans', Donald's fame rings in each clansman's ears.

Here sounds the high note of romance, and bravely the Highlanders could echo it. But war does not always rest at the lofty plane of glory, and we can sometimes realise it most clearly in homelier touches. After the battle it is said that the 79th stripped the cuirasses off the dead Frenchmen and used them for cooking its rations. They were good enough frying-pans, though the bullet-holes let something escape.

But some Belgian soldiers who passed by while the cooking was in progress, and seeing the cuirasses, went off with the legend that the Highlanders were cannibals, and no doubt the legend, which it is a pity to disturb, is repeated to this day. One other piece of comedy is worth remembrance. When the allied armies were in Paris, says a writer in "Blackwood's," Sergt. Campbell of the 79th was taken with others to the Elysee to be shown to the Emperor Alexander, and it is thus that he tells the tale himself: "The Emperor made a very minute inspection of us," he writes, "and his curiosity led him to call on me, as being the most robust of the party, to step to the front. . . . As soon as I stepped to the front I was surrounded by the astonished nobility, and the Emperor commenced his inspection and questions as follows: First, he examined my appointments and drew my sword. . . . Second, he examined my bone, gaiters, legs, and pleaded my skin. The questions were: If I was present at the actions of the 16th, 17th and 18th of June? How many officers and men the regiment lost? . . . Whether I was in Egypt? If I wore the kilt in winter, or if I did not feel cold in that season? If I was married? If my parents were alive?" Thus it was that the Highlanders seemed beyond the general experience of mankind.

From Putman to M.P.

Mr. T. F. Richards, the popular member of Parliament for West Wolverhampton, at one time served behind the bar of a public house in putman. As a boy, Mr. Richards knew what it was to "rough it," as the two following instances will show. One of his employers, who was supposed to be wealthy, undertook to give him food, clothing and pocket-money in return for his work. In that family it was usual to boil soapsuds so that the neighbors might think they were cooking the Sunday dinner, while they had to be satisfied with a very meagre lunch. Instead of a jacket, this employer offered him a man's coat with the sleeves cut short. His workmates jested at his uncouth attire, and he threw it away and had to go without a coat for eight months. Poor feeding, scanty clothing, and constant grinding have soured many natures, but they ripened and mellowed Mr. Richards' character.

Jenner as an Eater.

Dr. Jenner, the famous English physician, was a great tea drinker and very abstemious, never taking any stimulant except a measured glass of brandy when he had indigestion. Once for that cause he lived on stewed chops and rice for luncheon and dinner, with tea, for a couple of years, but ordinarily he was a great feeder.

"I recollect," said his friend, Dr. Cooper Bentham, "on one occasion Reynolds came to see him. Jenner was at dinner. He had soup, fish, the greater part of a chicken, and he was in the middle of a huge rice pudding when Reynolds entered and asked him how he was. Jenner drew a pitiful sigh and replied, "I am not at all well—no appetite.""

Irregular Spellers.

Shakespeare and his contemporaries, not to speak of their predecessors, appear to have done their literary work without the aid of a dictionary, for in the Bookseller, in "Notes on Dictionaries," we read that the first English dictionary would seem to be that of Cockeram, published at London in 1623, when Shakespeare had been dead seven years. It was a small pocket volume and did not profess to contain all the words in the language. But Shakespeare had the biggest vocabulary on record and did not worry over the spelling of even his own name.

Football In Olden Times.

What would be thought to-day of a game of football in which 500 or 600 players were engaged on each side, and how would we like to be in the thick of it when teams of this number were rushing after the ball? When we remember also that few rules governed the play, and that, moreover, a proportion of the players were horsemen, the events that marked the progress of the game must have been of sufficiently stirring a character to satisfy the most greedy seeker after excitement.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has introduced an afternoon tea service on its Pullman cars. Tea and coffee are served free of charge and the porters are forbidden to accept tips. There's a great change in railroading since the old days, when the brakesman, with peaked cap, buckskin mitts, and a lantern, used to go through a car glaring at the passengers as if he hated them.
engers as if he hated them.

A failing tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the Heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The Stomach also has its hidden, or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt, clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness in the only sensible and successful way. Sold by all dealers.

Tender for Red River Bridge

SEALED tenders, addressed to the undersigned, and marked on the envelope "Tender for the Red River Bridge," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway until twelve o'clock noon of the 8th day of April, 1909, for the construction and erection of a steel and concrete bridge and approach spans over the Red River between Winnipeg and St. Boniface, near the foot of Lombard street, together with grading and approach spans over streets in Winnipeg.

Separate tenders must be submitted for the substructure with other works as per schedule, and for superstructure.

Plans, details and profiles may be seen and full information obtained, at the office of the chief engineer at Ottawa, and also at the office of the district engineer at St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the forms supplies by the commissioners, which may be had on application to Mr. Hugh D. Lumsden, chief engineer, Ottawa, Ont., and M. S. H. Poulin, district engineer, St. Boniface, Man.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered Bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway for the sum of $25,000 for substructure and other work as per schedule, and for the sum of $25,000 for steel superstructure and floor.

The cheques deposited by the party whose tender is accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

The right is reserved to reject any or all tenders.

By Order,
P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, making the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, again nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

Why Do People Deposit Their Money in Banks for only 3 Per Cent. Interest?

BECAUSE, THEY THINK IT IS QUITE SAFE.

Why Do Some Invest in Bonds to get a Little Higher Interest?

Because, the bonds represent a mortgage on the property on which their money is invested which gives a feeling of safety.

Why Do People Invest in Wildcat Gold and Silver Mining Schemes? Because they think the chances of profit are big and they are willing to take the risk.

WHY NOT INVEST IN A SAFE STOCK IN A GOING COAL MINE

making money now and which presents such possibilities for development that it is expected that the profits will run from 25 per cent. to 50 per. cent. higher.

The Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited, Stock at $10 per Share is a safe Stock.

It is all common stock. There are no bonds or no mortgages or no preferred stock, on which interest must be paid before the common stockholder gets anything.

When you buy common stock of the Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited at $10 per share you become an actual owner of the mines and have an equal chance of the profits according to the number of shares held. A coal mine with a big deposit of coal ready for the miner's pick is as safe as a bank. To own and control shares of common stock in such a coal mine must be safer and better than holding bonds in a proposition in which you have no control and which may or may not be properly managed. The officers and management of the Winter Port Coal Mines of New Brunswick have the experience in mining and selling coal in both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

J. S. Gibbon, the President of the company, opened and developed the Winter Port Mines to the present stage.

W. E. Vroom, the Vice-President of the Company, was for some years actively associated in the management of the Springhill Collieries in Nova Scotia and the Albert Mines in New Brunswick.

Manufacturers in St. John speak highly of the Winter Port coal.

Winter Port coal is a good locomotive coal and has been used on the Intercolonial and other railways.

The Winter Port Coal Mines being practically on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific now opening up through New Brunswick will provide a most convenient coaling facility for that great transcontinental railway. Immense quantities of coal will be needed by the great railways and by the manufacturers, steamship lines, etc., in connection with the development of Canada's Winter Port at St. John, N.B., which is only 55 miles in a direct line from these coal mines.

Secure some Winter Port stock now at $10 per share (there is no personal liability) and get your share of the profits of a safe conservative money-making proposition.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Land Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother, or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perform the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

KEEPING BUDGET DARK

UTMOST SECRECY IS OBSERVED BY CHANCELLOR.

Huge Sums of Money Might Be Made If Features of Financial Statement of Britain Might Be Found Out In Advance, But Facts Are Jealously Guarded by a Few—News Once Leaked Out In Gladstone's Time.

It is worth hundreds of thousands of dollars to some people to know in advance the exact details of the British budgets. There are speculators on the Stock Exchange who could make a fortune out of the knowledge. To holders of brewery stocks, a hint or a whisper from the Chancellor of the Exchequer before he begins to "rob the henroosts" would be a boon and a blessing. But happy is he who expecteth nothing, for he shall not be disappointed. With Mr. Lloyd-George, as with other Chancellors of the Exchequer, "mum's the word." How he provides for an estimated deficit of $75,000,000, and raises the wind, as the saying goes, for the national housekeeping next year, is a secret which he locks up in his bosom until the moment he stands up in the House of Commons and draws the veil aside.

No doubt the man in the street often wonders how it is that, with so many members of the Government and so many officials necessarily in the confidence of a Chancellor of the Exchequer, his secret is always so well kept. The fact is that the actual details of the budget are known to very few people in advance. It may be questioned whether at any time there are more than two or three members of the Cabinet who can tell a public audience, if they should be invited to do so, precisely upon whose hard-earned money the Chancellor of the Exchequer is going to exercise his art.

Certainly the members of the Government outside the Cabinet have not much more than a general notion as to what is likely to happen, and it may turn out that a material part of their general notion is wrong. One might go farther and say that even the Cabinet as a whole are rarely in possession of the details in advance of any year's budget. For within the Cabinet is always an inner Cabinet—the Finance Minister's personal friends and supporters, the men from whom he often seeks counsel and assistance, or who, by right of their intimacy, proffer him counsel and assistance. These are the Ministers to be counted on the hand, who could tell more tales out of school than any others. By carefully choosing their brokers and covering their operations they could, if they liked, make large additions to their fortunes through their knowledge of the facts, and none would be the wiser. Yet everyone can be perfectly certain they will not use their official knowledge for any private purpose of this sort. An American politician might say this is foolish. The answer is that it is honest, and that it is British, and no case has ever been known of a Cabinet Minister failing to observe this unwritten law.

But there are two—or, say, three—men who know more of the Chancellor of the Exchequer's secret than anybody else, the Permanent Financial Secretary and the Permanent Administrative Secretary at the Treasury, and the Chancellor's own private secretary. The two Permanent Secretaries know the budget as a mother knows her baby; know it through all its phases and all its figures; know it in its early promise and its later disappointment; know it through all its train of worries, anxieties, and perplexities. All the year, in fact, they are fixing up the Chancellor's financial scaffolding for him, so that for nine months he has practically nothing to do in financial matters except dream and hope and scheme. Not until he knows what his deficit or surplus is through the labors of these men can he seriously start work on his budget and display to the world his talents as a financial genius—or otherwise.

Of course, there are dozens of officials and clerks at the Treasury who get a glimpse of the budget in quarter lights and half lights before it is actually unfolded to the House. Hundreds of memoranda pass from department to department, hundreds of letters are drafted, corrected, examined, and copied. Withal, the Chancellor keeps his golden secret. Everybody who has the smallest responsibility with respect to it at the Treasury is on honor to be faithful to his trust.

Yet budget secrets have leaked out from time to time, nevertheless. One instance which comes to mind concerns one of the famous budgets of the most famous of England's Finance Ministers—Gladstone. His private secretary, connected with a noble family, consciously or unconsciously betrayed the secret of his chief. It was, indeed, said that he had been "got at." In any case, his career was ended. Gladstone was not the man to forgive a secretary who failed to recognize that a stiff tongue makes a wise head, and he "fired him out" without more ado.

Dunraven, Journalist and Mariner.

Lord Dunraven, who celebrated his sixty-eighth birthday recently, is one of the few peers who have been war correspondents, and the only peer who holds an extra-master's certificate for navigation. His yachting exploits, of course, are well known, and he varies this hobby with big game hunting and picture-collecting. Lord Dunraven served in the South African war as a captain of a corps of sharpshooters. He had smelt gunpowder often before, but not in the capacity of soldier. He served in the Abyssinian campaign of 1867 as correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, and, later, acted in a similar capacity for the same paper during the Franco-German war.

Nothing in the way of a Cough is quite so annoying as a tickling, teasing, wheezing, bronchial Cough. The quickest relief comes perhaps from a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And besides, it is so thoroughly harmless that mothers give it with perfect safety even to the youngest babes. The tender leaves of a simple mountain shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its remarkable curative effect. A few days' test will tell. Sold by all dealers.

TABLEAU PASSION PLAY.

Christ's Life Will Be Elaborately Produced In London.

If all goes well there will be shown in the autumn, probably at the Albert Hall, London, a series of tableaux modelled in wax and with lighting and scenic effects, illustrating the life of Christ.

At first sight it would appear that waxworks are scarcely a proper medium for reproducing these tremendous incidents; the slightest error in taste would give offence to a countless number of people. It may be said at once, however, that these will be a very special kind of waxworks, and the reverent treatment of the subjects is thoroughly well assured.

The genesis and development of the idea is interesting. It was suggested sixteen years ago by the late Sir Augustus Harris to Mr. Louis Tussaud, and the latter intended to carry it out. Ever since, he told a representative of The Standard, he has kept it in view, and during the last ten years he has spent a considerable amount of time in visiting the principal galleries abroad and making himself familiar with every detail of the pictures which it is proposed to represent. Last year Mr. Tussaud laid his plans before Rev. Father Bernard Vaughan, who immediately and whole-heartedly endorsed them. "Of course," said Father Vaughan, "the success from a religious as well as from an artistic point of view of the drama will depend upon the reverent way in which your idea is carried out. If theatrically done, it will be instructive and helpful."

Father Vaughan has drawn up a series of thirty-six tableaux, which Mr. Tussaud intends to carry out. In order to indicate the subjects chosen the first half-dozen and the last half-dozen may be mentioned: Annunciation, Visitation, No room in Inn, Shepherds and Gloria in Excelsis, The Nativity, With Shepherds, The Crucifixion, The Burial, The Resurrection, Magdalen and the Garden, The Communion, Ascension from Mt. Olivet.

Lady Aberdeen and the Slave Boys.

Lady Aberdeen, who has added another to her many good works and deeds by founding a new monthly journal to help in the campaign against consumption in Ireland, figured in a dramatic incident thirty-two years ago. She and her husband went to Egypt for their wedding tour, at a time when Gordon was trying to suppress the slave traffic. Four slave boys who were offered for sale excited Lady Aberdeen's compassion, and the slave-dealer was invited to bring them on board Lord Aberdeen's dahabeeyah, where he hoped to find a purchaser. When the man stepped on deck with his human chattels, Lord Aberdeen pointed to the British flag and said: "These boys are free! I claim them in the name of the Queen!" Afterwards, however, he compensated the slave-dealer, and Lady Aberdeen returned to England with these four boys and another whom she had rescued. Three of her adopted children died, but two were educated and set to useful work.

Embarrassing For the Lecturer.

Civilized people when they listen to a lecture on some abstruse scientific subject applaud even if they do not understand. But there is evidently more frankness among savages, according to a story told by Captain Guy Burrows. A white man one evening tried to explain to some members of an African tribe, the Mobunghi, the wonders of the steam engine and steamship. He drew diagrams on the sand, and the audience listened and looked with apparently intense interest. At last he asked his hearers whether they understood. "Yes," they replied; they thought they did.

"There was a deep silence," Captain Burrows said, "for some time, and then a voice in the centre of the crowd expressed the unspoken sentiments of the whole assembly in one emphatic word, uttered in a tone of the deepest conviction—'Liar!'"

Embarrassing for the lecturer!—Westminster Gazette.

A Government Star-Gazer.

It was quite by accident that Sir Norman Lockyer took up the study of astronomy. He commenced his business career as a clerk in the War Office, and in course of time came to edit the army regulations. He happened to hear a chance lecture at Rugby on astronomy, and became so fascinated by the study that he devoted his spare time to the subject. He had erected in his front garden a 6 1-2in. equatorial, and made such rapid headway in his hobby that Lord Beaconsfield transferred him from the War Office to the Science and Art Department. Sir Norman is the Director of Solar Physics Observatory, and his numerous works testify to his enthusiasm in the study of the stars.

A Fine Old Veteran.

Gen. James Nowell Young is one of three survivors of the first Afghan war, fought nearly seventy years ago. Born on Feb. 4, 1824, the gallant veteran entered the army in 1840, and when scarcely eighteen was present with the 35th Bengal Native Infantry in many of the most important actions of that memorable campaign. With Sir George Pollock he took part in the capture of the Khyber Pass and the Jugdulluck Pass, the engagement in the Tesseen Valley, and the taking of the Huft Kohtal, an almost impregnable position on hills 7,800 feet above the sea, from which the enemy was driven from crag to crag.

Long-Lived Baronets.

Sir Charles William Strickland, whose ninetieth birthday was celebrated in the hunting field, is senior representative of a Yorkshire family whose record is probably without parallel. The present Sir William's father was a baronet for forty years, his grandfather twenty-six years, and his great-grandfather twenty-three years. For longevity the Strickland baronets are equally remarkable. Sir George (the fifth) was seventy-nine when he died, Sir William (sixth) eighty-one, Sir George (seventh) ninety-two, and the present Sir Charles (eighth) was born in 1819.

SPIRIT PHOTOGRAPHY.

London Newspaper Appoints Commission to Make Test.

A meeting was held recently of the commission formed some time ago by The London Daily Mail to investigate the genuineness of so-called spirit photographs. The commission was formed at the suggestion of A. P. Sinnett, who entered into the controversy with the writer of a letter to The Daily Mail, who expressed doubts as to some spirit photographs taken by Archdeacon Colley having been produced by non-material means. The commission consists of three well-known photographic experts and three gentlemen well known in the spiritualistic world.

There now seems some possibility of the difficult task undertaken by the spirit photography commission being accomplished. A spiritualist with whom the committee has been in touch has offered to take some exposed photographic plates from the photographic experts, which they may pack and seal in any way they think necessary to prevent the packets being opened or tampered with, and to "magnetise" these plates of a meeting of his spirit photography "circle," and then to return them to the commission, to be developed in his presence. It will then be seen whether the spiritually magnetised plates show on development any psychic writing or signs caused by purely external agency.

An offer has also been made to the commission by another gentleman to arrange for them a series of demonstrations of spirit photography with an ordinary camera, a woman medium having expressed her willingness to assist in the work. By availing themselves of this offer the commission may possibly obtain some conclusive evidence as to the truth or otherwise of the claims of spiritualists that spirit bodies can be photographed.

Entering the Lords.

In the English House of Lords the proceedings are very different. A newly created peer enters that historic chamber in a robe of scarlet velvet trimmed with ermine, attended by two fellow peers, who act as his sponsors and escorted by the black rod, as the sergeant-at-arms is known, and the garter king at arms, arrayed in a gorgeous tabard. The procession marches around, making low bows to the empty throne and to the presiding officer, who is the Lord High Chancellor from different parts of the gilded chamber, to which that imposing person gravely responds. When the new peer reaches the throne he kneels reverently and places upon the empty chair, where His Majesty ought to be sitting, the patent of nobility he has received from his sovereign. He is then led to the woolsack, where the Lord Chancellor administers to him the oath. His sponsors next lead him to the proper bench, where he takes his seat for a moment. Then all three rise and bow three times at the vacant throne and three times to the presiding officer. The Lord High Chancellor then leaves the woolsack and comes down to shake hands with the new peer and welcome him to the House. The other peers come also and tender their congratulations.

A Territorial Enthusiast.

Lord Esher, whose appeal for recruits for the London Territorial Force is being so well responded to, is one of the shrewdest business men in England. He has held many appointments and written a number of clever books, a third distinction being that he is the son of Lord Esher, for many years Master of the Rolls. It is said that Lord Esher once told a friend that the incident he most admired in the career of his distinguished father was when he inflicted upon a woman who had killed her husband under circumstances of extreme provocation a nominal sentence, and the event he most deplored was his father's acceptance of a peerage. But it is safe to affirm that if Lord Esher had not inherited a title from his father, he would have been called upon to accept one himself on account of his services to the country.

Kinglake Stories.

Kinglake, the author of "Eothen," was afflicted with gout, and he had a fancy to try a lady doctor and wrote to one to ask if gout was beyond her scope. She replied, "Dear sir, gout is not beyond my scope, but men are."

It was Kinglake who uttered one of the neatest of mots on the peculiar character of The Times. He had little fondness for that journal, in spite of personal friendships which might have been expected to soften his views of the question. The paper was still to him a sort of juggernaut, irresistible and fateful. On seeing the announcement of the new editor's marriage he exclaimed. "Heavens! That bring The Times into relations with humanity!"

"The Squire."

The continued illness of Mr. Henry Chaplin seems likely to cause the retirement of one of the most picturesque politicians in the House of Commons. Mr. Chaplin became Squire of Blankney—which is now the seat of Lord Londesborough—over half a century ago. He formerly owned a huge property in Lincolnshire, and there is not a laborer in that county who has not an affectionate word for him. His sporting proclivities have rendered him exceedingly popular. In days gone by he was a famous cross-country rider, and last year, despite his being well over sixty, he was always up with the hounds, and on one occasion, though a very heavyweight, a five-barred gate did not baulk him.

Prisoner's Daring Escape.

A private of the Northampton Regiment who was undergoing a sentence in the military prison at Colchester rang the fire alarm bell in his cell recently, and when a warder answered it he stunned him with the metal end of the fire hose seized his keys and escaped. The warder is in a critical condition.

HOW TO TELL

If the Kidneys and Liver are Not Acting Well.

Thousands die every year from aggravated kidney distress that could Ave been saved if they only knew.

Your back may ache, you think it's tiredness or physical weakness.

You grow irritable and nervous—it's put down to loss of sleep.

Joints ache, muscles get sore, —that's all put down to bad weather.

Then digestion gets poor, appetite fades away, color bleaches, spirit droop.

Can't you see it's all from your over-worked kidneys, which can't keep the body clear of poisons that are now surging through the whole system.

Cure your kidneys with Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"When I was so stooped and back weary, so lame and sore with kidney and bladder trouble, I cured myself quickly with Dr. Hamilton-ton's Pills" writes C. C. Ferrier, a well known merchant in Plainville. "Dr. Hamilton's Pills touched the spot, at once, gave my back ease, lifted depression and weariness, made a new man of me. I can also say for a good spring medicine to clear and enrich the blood Dr. Hamilton's Pills have no equal."

The housewife whose aching back makes every little duty a burden, the working man who is tired all day and can't rest at night, whose back aches, and whose feet swell—these people have kidney trouble. Women whose kidneys are sick, suffer continually from blind and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, bearing down pains, sharp twinges when stooping, distressing urinary troubles, aching muscles, and joints lack of appetite, and loss of sleep. Touch the cause. Cure the kidneys. Use Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills, which have cured thousands. 25c. at all dealers.

Will was Lost

About 18 years ago Mr. Joseph Gibson died leaving a will, but the family were unable to find it. The household effects were sold and a lady residing in Toronto who purchased some of the articles found the will in a picture frame. By the will the money was to be left to John Gibson and heirs, but since then John Gibson has died and the estate has not been distributed. The late Mr. Gibson had many relatives in this county.—Com.

Mr. Horace E. Wright of McMaster University, Toronto, spent Sunday in the city, the guest of Mr. A. A. Lillie.

Mr. R. T. Huston of the Canadian Grocer, Toronto, who was on the Canadian Press Association excursion, spent Sunday at his home in Otonabee.

Mr. R. R. Thompson, district passenger agent, and Mr. George Ham, general publicity agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, accompanied the Press Association to the city Saturday, and did much to make the trip an enjoyable one.

Mr. R. B. Morley, accountant of the Dominion Bank, has been transferred to the head office in Toronto. Mr. G. R. Medland of Toronto, has been appointed to the accountancy of the local branch. Mr. Morley, during his eighteen months' residence in Peterborough, has made many friends who will regret his departure from the city.

Mr. Robert Fair, chairman of the Board of Education, has presented the Collegiate Institute library with a ten-volume set of Caryle, bound in cloth. The gift is greatly appreciated. Further donations of books will be welcomed at the library.

Souvenir cards, Collegiate Institute, Normal School, Lift Lock (with description), all the parks, churches and public buildings at reduced price of one cent each or 10 cents per dozen. Times Bookstore.

Mr. Robert Bowden, who has just returned from Western Ontario, Ontario, where he spent the past four weeks stated that some of the farmers were plowing in the vicinity of Bell River. The ground is beginning to dry and conditions are very favorable for spring work.

Special Services

Next Sunday Rev. R. M. Manning, will occupy the pulpit in St. James' church and on Sunday evening he will begin a series of services which will extend over two weeks. These services will be held nightly, except Saturday, and will be of a special nature.

special train at Burketon and accompanied the journalists to the city when others were present to join in the reception. Upon the arrival of the train at the C.G.E. everyone alighted and seized the opportunity to see for themselves the plant of one of the greatest industries in Canada and one which supplies articles used in practically every household. Everyone had heard of the C.G.E. and knew that it was a big institution but few realized what was meant in the commercial world by the C.G.E.

Mr. E. G. Patterson had arranged for the reception of the visiting newspaper men and had provided a number of guides who accompanied his guests and explained briefly the interior works of the big institution. Only a portion of the plant was seen as it meant an all day's job to attempt to go through all the buildings. All the employes and attendants were very courteous. When the party got on the train again each was presented with a stick pin on which was a miniature electric globe as a souvenir of their visit.

CORDAGE WORKS.

The train pulled out of the C.G.E. yards and conveyed the party to the Canadian Cordage Company's plant. Here Mr. Bruce Fowler, the genial general manager, took possession of the visitors and personally conducted them through the plant where binder twine and rope is made. The process of manufacture proved very interesting and many would have been glad of an opportunity to remain longer. When leaving each one in the party was handed a rope measure as a souvenir.

When coming from the Cordage Works, Ald. Buller, chairman of the Fire, Water & Light Committee, sent in an alarm and the fire department made an exhibition run down Aylmer street. The brigade turned out in remarkably quick time and they were given three cheers by the pressmen.

The representatives of Canadian journalism walked from the Cordage Works up to the hotels for luncheon. Quite a number, however, availed themselves of the privilege of taking the street cars. It might be mentioned here that the Peterborough Radial Railway Company gave the pressmen the free use of the street cars for the day, a courtesy which was greatly appreciated and commented upon.

LUNCHEON.

The party, which numbered over 200, including the local press and guests from the city, were divided between the three hotels. Luncheon was ordered for 1.15 o'clock and at the appointed time everything was ready. At the Oriental, Mr. J. R. Stratton presided and gave an address of welcome. At the National His Worship Mayor Rush did the honors and welcomed the visitors to the city. While Ald. Turner, chairman of the Reception Committee, did the honors at the Snowden House. The addresses of welcome were responded to by members of the Press Association.

QUAKER OATS.

After luncheon the party met at the National Hotel and proceeded in a body to the immense mills of the Quaker Oats Company, an institution known the world over, and whose products are used by every family. At the factory the party was divided into sections and each in charge of a guide was taken through the mills and shown how Quaker oats, puffed rice, Quaker flour and the many other household commodities are made. It was a big task, but a most interesting and enjoyable one, to climb the many stairs and to walk through the departments and see the machinery turning out food stuffs.

When the guests returned to the ground floor they were sent into the main office where the management met them and furnished each with a plate of puffed rice, that popular cerial candy. Then souvenir cards were handed out and cigars were presented to the smokers. Mr. W. H. Denham, the superintendent, personally greeted each visitor.

This closed the day's program, the press special had been backed up on the Quakers Oats spur and all got on board. The train stopped at the depot and the local press and the aldermen said farewell to their news paper friends and at four o'clock the C.P.R. excursion to Peterborough was over.

Among the visitors were the following;—D. Williams, ex-president, Bulletin, Collingwood; W. M. O'Bierne, Beacon, Stratford; W. M. Burgoyne, Standard, St. Catharines; R. L. Mortimer, Free Press, Shelburne, Que.; J. W. Rutherford, Times Owen Sound; A. D. McKenzie, Times, St. Thomas; L. A. Bellanger, Sherbrooke, Que.; W. R. Givens, Standard, Kingston; A. C. Letters to The Editor

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—Regarding the market tolls. I am and always have been of the opinion that the tolls should be collected by one employed by the council to do so. It was decided this year to advertise for tenders instead of selling as heretofore by auction. At a meeting of the Property Committee the tenders were opened. I think there were six of them, the highest being that of Mr. R. Bradburn. One of the members of the committee remarked that he had been informed that Mr. Ball had been offered a better position than market clerk, so I remarked to the chairman that the highest tender should be accepted and the committee made that recommendation to the council. When it was moved that Mr. Ball should be retained the council voted six for and six in favor of accepting the tender, and carrying out my own conviction I gave the casting vote in favor of keeping on Mr. Ball. Other years when the tolls have been sold, the purchaser having paid a high figure for them, he was obliged to exact the last cent, and I have learned on good authority that there has been perfect harmony with the farmers all last year, which is better than a little larger revenue. I might say neither Mr. Ball nor any one else has spoken to me regarding retaining him to collect the tolls, and what I would like to see is a free market, and I think our merchants and citizens would profit therefrom.

Yours truly,

H. RUSH.

NEWS AND NOTES

The Rev. L. Geggie, of Toronto, will lecture in behalf of the Ladies' Aid Society on Tuesday evening, April 13th, on "The Rose, the Shamrock and the Thistle." His will be assisted by Mr. E. Haseldine, tenor soloist of Toronto. A great treat is in store for us in this lecture. Be sure and keep April 13th free.

The greatest convention of the century is to be held this week in Toronto, in the Massey Hall. It is called Canada's National Missionary Congress. Canada is leading the world in this movement. No such convention has ever before been held anywhere. It will be addressed by some of the foremost men in the world. St. Paul's will be represented by two or three delegates.

One per cent. of the farm produce alone of this Canada of ours would be sufficient to evangelize our share of the heathen population of the world in this generation. One per cent. returned to the God who grew it would do it all. Think of it.

The communion will be observed next Sabbath morning.

The Mizpo Adult Bible Class had an attendance last Sabbath of 105, and the collection amounted to $13.26.

Mr. C. V. Hubbard, Y.M.C.A., secretary for Japan, will give an address in the Y.M.C.A. on Sabbath, April 4th, at four o'clock, on "With the Japanese Army in Manchuria." All men are welcome.

OBITUARY

The funeral of the late Robert Duncan was held yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the A.O.F. The society turned out in a body. The City Council and civic officials also attended in a body. A large number of friends gathered at the house to pay their last respects to an old and respected citizen. Interment took place in Little Lake cemetery.

MRS. WM. McALLISTER.

One of the oldest residents of Peterborough County passed away Sunday morning in the person of Mary Ann Magill, wife of Wm. McAllister, of Coldsprings, Otonabee. The deceased was born in Cavan township, 77 years ago, and has lived in the county all her life. She leaves a husband and one son and one daughter to mourn her loss. The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock and interment will take place at Little Lake cemetery.

A failing tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the Heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The Stomach also has its hidden, or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organ. THE PNEUMONIA SEASON

MORE DEATHS FROM PNEUMONIA THAN FROM TUBERCULOSIS.

Pneumonia an Infectious Disease. It Can Be Prevented---A Remarkable Record.

[From the Des Moines Register and Leader.]

"Why has this season of the year become known as the pneumonia season? Why during the closing week of the old year were there more deaths in Chicago and New York from pneumonia than tuberculosis? Why are pneumonia and related bronchial troubles beginning to take the place of tuberculosis as the dread scourge of city life? Simply and solely because we are devoting too much ingenuity and energy to dodging the fresh and invigorating winter air that every twelve months refrigerates our latitude.

It is believed now that pneumonia is an infectious disease, and that in the cities where the death rate is growing so rapidly it is communicated in the heated and crowded cars. A nickel is so small, and the cold air is so chilling, that the American people are forgetting how to walk. The old time red that burned the cheek of childhood does not visit a mature face on an average of once in the twelve months, not even the red of a chilly and pinched nose. We are getting afraid of the climate, and as a result, the climate is taking its revenge.

The mere habit of turning up coat collars has killed thousands of people, and the fur boa has a long list to its account, for no part of the human body becomes delicate more quickly because of superfluous covering than the throat. And yet we are multiplying devices for turning up more coat collars. It is not too early to recognize that this is all wrong, that our climate is here to stay, and that if we are going to live in it with comfort we must accommodate ourselves to it. It will pay to keep on good terms with the climate."

A great many have learned that pneumonia may be avoided by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy whenever they have a cold. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for colds and grip during the epidemics of the past few years, we have yet to learn of a single one having had pneumonia, which should certainly convince the most skeptical of the value of that preparation. Its remarkable cures of colds have made it a staple article of trade and commerce throughout the United States and in many foreign countries.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has introduced an afternoon tea service on its Pullman cars. Tea and coffee are served free of charge and the porters are forbidden to accept tips. There's a great change in railroading since the old days, when the brakeman, with peaked cap, bucket-in mitts, and a lantern, used to go through a car glaring at the passengers as if he hated them.

In a Real Crisis Canada Can be Depended Upon

Ottawa, March 29.—While Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues are keeping their own counsel as to the policy they will announce this afternoon when Mr. Foster moves his resolution calling upon a contribution by the Dominion towards our own coast defence, there are surface indications as to the line the announcement will take.

It is not expected that the House will be told that Canada is prepared at the moment to make a cash contribution to the Imperial navy or build a Dreadnought or two. Sir Wilfrid, it is understood, will review recent events which have led up to the present excitement in the motherland, and will declare that nothing has occurred which would warrant the Dominion in departing from the policy of complete autonomy as laid down by the colonial conferences of 1902 and 1907.

With the recent declaration of the premier of Great Britain in mind, he will, in all probability, tell the House that while in the face of a real crisis the Canadian Government and the Canadian people would be willing to strain their physical and financial resources to the breaking point in defence of the motherland, there is no reason why time should not be taken to develop an arm of the British navy in Canadian waters along autonomous lines. He will likely say that we already have the basis of such a force in our fisheries protective fleet, and that this could be added to by the construction of certain types of coast defence vessels which would make a foreign enemy hesitate to approach our coasts in time of war. In the building up of such a naval force, he will say that Canada will be willing to co-operate with the motherland, as she is now doing in military matters, in order to create a force, which, in times of war or peace, would work in unison with the home fleet, a force which would be trained according to the same ideals and under the same system. In other words, that Canada would be willing, as she has shown by her acceptance of the idea of an Imperial military staff, to do everything in her power to bring about a complete co-ordination of the home and Canadian naval forces.

IN CASE OF PERIL.

Beyond this it is hardly expected the premier will go, with the qualification, of course, that under the the stress of exceptional circumstances, the Dominion would be willing to throw colonial conference or other compacts to the winds and rush to the defence of the Empire with men and money.

Sir Wilfrid, it is expected, will point out in the course of his speech that the plan proposed conforms to the policy adopted by the Australian Commonwealth.

If the Opposition, after hearing Sir Wilfrid's statement, persists in carrying on the discussion along party lines, an amendment will be moved with the object of making resolution conform to the policy of the Government.

In Hot Pursuit of the Flying Redskins

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 29—The Creek Indians, half breeds, and negroes, under personal command of Chief Crazy Snake, who have been on the warpath, today are retreating before five companies of Oklahoma militiamen, in an effort, apparently, to reach a stronghold in the Tiger Mountains.

The militiamen ordered out yesterday by Governor Haskell, as a result of the uprising that came after a clash at the home of Crazy Snake, in which Marshal Baum and Deputy Sheriff Odom were killed, camped for the night at Hickory Hills, the camp which had been hastily evacuated by Crazy Snake at their approach. At break of day today the soldiers moved forward to give battle to the redskins, but the chief, through the agency of his scouts, had been watching every move, and he led his forces away, apparently not daring, or at least not caring to fight his white foes in the open.

The militiamen, at this juncture, pushed forward at double quick. The Indians were about ten miles away from them, but the troops were determined the redskins should not be allowed to choose the battle ground, and thus gain enormous advantage. The troops outnumbered the Indians three to one, but should the latter gain the shelter of the hills, the outcome might be doubtful.

At the rate of progress they were making the troops were in a fair way to overhaul the Indians early this afternoon.

A Mystery for a Quarter of a Century

Chicago, March 26.—A kidnapping, which remained a mystery for a quarter of a century, apparently, was cleared up here early today by the finding in South Chicago of Mrs. Jason Warner, long sought by members of her family in Montreal.

The police here received a letter Wednesday from Madame Langevin, of 415 La Gauchetier street, Montreal, asking them to search for her sister Elizabeth, who, when five years old, was kidnapped from her home in Montreal twenty-five years ago. The hunt was kept up for six years.

PRESENTATION OF PRIZES TO WINNERS IN CLUB'S BONSPIEL

Peterborough Curlers Had a Jolly Time in the Club Rooms—A Large Crowd Present—Excellent Reports Presented—Season was a Big Success

Curling for the season of 1909 has closed. The finishing touches were put on last night when the club members gathered around the festive board in the parlors at the rink. There were some fifty curlers present and in the absence of President C. N. Brown, Vice-president R. M. Waddell just home from his tour of the old country with the Canadian curlers, occupied the chair and fulfilled his duties very acceptably. The event was an important one as well as a very enjoyable one. It marked the close of the most successful year the Peterborough Curling Club ever had. The membership was larger, the curlers were most enthusiastic, there were more games played and the ice was the best the club ever had. After the fire destroyed the old rink and all the stones and equipment things looked rather blue for curling, but the new and handsome and modern rink created an enthusiasm that was bound to make success. As a result those who undertook the resurrection of curling in Peterborough have every reason to feel proud and satisfied with their efforts.

Before the social part of the evening was started a business meeting was held downstairs when the affairs of the club were wound up for the season. The minutes were read and confirmed. The report of the secretary-treasurer was exceptionally favorable, as was the report from the rink committee and all other committees. The members were all well pleased and the prospects for Peterborough having one of the best clubs in Canada next season are the very brightest.

THE BANQUET.

After the business session was over the members adjourned to the parlors upstairs where a long table had been spread and from which refreshments were served. Besides the things which were destined to satisfy the inner man the table held two trophies won by the club, viz., the District Cup, presented by the president of the Ontario Association, and the Lindsay-Peterborough Cup, while a third, the Fitzgerald-Bottam shield hung on the wall. After the refreshments were served, Chairman R. M. Waddell started the program roll unwinding. It consisted of the presentation of prizes to the winners and winners up of the bonspeil primary, the winners and runners up of the consolation, the winners of the club schedule; vocal selections, and banjo selections by Mr. Clark, recitation by Mr. Winch, and several votes of thanks.

PRIMARY WINNERS.

Mr. R. Hicks presented the prizes to the rink winning the primary, which was skipped by Mr. W. G. Ferguson. In doing this Mr Hicks said that this was one of the evenings after a very successful season when the curlers got together for a social time and to present the prizes. This year the prizes were for those who were successful in the club's bonspeil, the first time a real bonspeil had been attempted.

The club was to be congratulated this season. It had a membership of 155, and 95 per cent of them were enthusiastic curlers. He took this to represent the foundation of one of the best clubs in Canada. He was glad the season had been so successful, and looked forward to the day when the finances would permit the club to extend the rink towards the front so as to have more space for social gatherings.

The prizes to the winners were handsome pipes and were presented to;

W. G. Ferguson, skip.
W. J. Baptie, vice.
W. C. Aikins, second.
J. D. Craig, lead.

Each of these gentlemen made fitting replies expressing their thanks to the club.

PRIMARY RUNNERS UP.

Mr. J. H. Cameron presented the prizes, clothes brushes and mirror, to the runners up in the primary contest. He remarked upon the large increase in the membership and the great sport the players had all had. He was pleased to see the three trophies the club had won but hoped to see next year several more. The prize winners were;

J. H. Connal, skip.
W. H. Denbrun, vice.
Ross Cameron, second.
W. J. Johnston, lead.

Mr. Jas. Connal made a very interesting reply in which he threw out a lot of valuable suggestions for the next season. He urged the skips to teach his players the finer points in the game. For instance, if a man could not play the curturn, as many local players cannot, the skip should call for the out as often as possible until the player got on to the turn. He spoke of the benefit of the bonspeil and the social gatherings. Mr. Ross Cameron also replied.

CONSOLATION PRIZE.

Mr. T. E. Matthews did the honors to the winners of the consolation prizes. He said that it gave him great pleasure to do so. The three younger members of the rink were presented with fancy clocks, while Mr. R. J. Winch, the oldest sport in the club and one of the best all round sports in the city, was presented with a silk hat. Mr. Winch is 73 years of age and he played a winning game all through the consolation. The rink was,

J. H. Knapman, skip.
A. H. Webb, vice.
R. J. Winch, second.
M. Wolsenholme, lead.

All the winners made a pleasing reply in accepting their prizes.

CONSOLATION RUNNERS UP.

Dr. Greer presented the prizes to the runners up in the consolation. Each member received a pair of gold cuff links. The doctor in his remarks concurred in all that had been said

The Last Marathon Alf. Shrubb Declares

Ottawa, March 29.—"If Flanagan gets on the track at the Polo Grounds at New York next Saturday, and attempts any of the unfair tactics he worked on me in my race with Longboat I'll pitch him out of the grounds. I tell you I'll stop the race if the officials permit that man Flanagan to get on the track and pace his man."

Alfred Shrubb's brown eyes snapped with every word of the above he spoke. The little fellow was angry and declared emphatically that he was compelled to run half a dozen men in Madison Square Garden instead of Longboat alone.

"But it will not happen again Mark my words; there will be a riot if any crooked work of that kind takes place."

Shrubb reached Ottawa last night, and is booked to go ten miles with Abbie Wood at the Arena tomorrow night.

Referring to the big race in New York Saturday, Shrubb said; "Win or lose, it will be the last Marathon I will ever run. My game is ten and fifteen miles. How do I think it will result? Well, you can never tell. I look upon Dorando as the most likely winner."

A Big Conflagration in the Harbor of Havana --Canadians Interested

Havana, March 29.—A serious fire that started on the docks shortly after eleven o'clock this morning, had made such headway by noon that grave fears are felt for the shipping in port.

The flames are spreading rapidly, and driven onward by a heavy southerly gale they threaten to sweep the entire waterfront of the city.

Several schooners, lighters, and launches are ablaze and drifting down with the wind. Their uncontrolled progress is endangering the steamers and other craft anchored in the harbor.

It is rumored that a large German steamer anchored out in the bay already is on fire, but the smoke is so thick that it is impossible to obtain verification of this report.

The flames started on the wharves of the Havana Central Railway, located on the upper side of the harbor.

A large number of Canadians interested in Cuba will be concerned by the news from Havana. George F. Davis, manager of the Canada and Cuba Land Co., whose office is in the Manning Chambers, 22 King street west, Toronto, only this morning, was due at Havana with a party representing New York and Chicago capital. Some Torontonians were also interested in the mission of the party, which sailed last Thursday on the fine Ward Line steamer Merida. Mr. Monroe, of the Canada-Cuba Land Company's office, heard of the fire from the Star and said he would at once notify Mr. Davis' wife that her husband, who was due at Havana at daylight, was probably in no danger.—Toronto Star.

Mr. W. H. Meldrum writes on Waterworks By-Law

Dear Sir,—I noticed a number of letters in the daily papers on the advantages we citizens are to get from the new dam which is not to cost you good ratepayers a cent. Fellow ratepayers take a grain of salt with this story. You bet your last dollar the ratepayers will have to pay the piper. Spend $120,000 on the waterworks dam and you may say goodbye to cheap water for a generation.

They are also going to do this impossible and childish thing, develop 1200 horse power from a dam that has been proved and can be proved any day that you cannot get on the new head of water given by Mr. Kennedy, the Water commissioners, engineer, over 750 effective h.p. Then we have letters from Aldermen Gillespie and McIntyre, and Mayor Rush advising you to vote for the bylaw. Have they given you any reasons that would appeal to any intelligent people? They are not conversant with water powers or dams themselves and they did not use their intelligence and do their duty in caring for the interests of the citizens who honored them by placing them in their several representative positions.

The power plant at the Nassau dam has 14 head of water, and if I am correctly informed they, under the best of conditions, using all the water in the river, never have seen a thousand effective horse power from this proposition. Yet, Ald. Morrow comes out and claims twelve hundred to two thousand horse power at the waterworks dam under 10 to 11 feet head. It is not just a little childish? Then he tries to throw suspicion on those who oppose this pet scheme of theirs. He says a number of letters have appeared in the press which are inspired by owners of, or those interested in power properties. Shame on such arguments, Ald. Morrow. When people call graft, self interest, and such names, it is well for the citizens to inquire where Ald. Geo. Morrow stands on this deal. Make no mistake, gentlemen, those opposing the spending of this large sum of money are just as much interested in the success and progress of this city as are those who are advocating this large expenditure.

I have no interest in any water power scheme or dam on the river having sold my interests a year or more ago.

Yours truly,
Wm H. MELDRUM.

How to Reduce Fat Proportionately

Proportion is the thing. A fat woman yearns to reduce her abdomen, but she doesn't want to produce a scrawny neck. This fact condemns the dieting method of reducing. You can't starve the fat off one place and not off another. Simply impossible. But why try dieting, or even exercising, when there is a better way of reducing fat than either.

Try the following; One-half ounce Marmola, 3-4 ounces Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, 4 3-4 ounces Peppermint Water. Any druggist will fill the above cheaply. Take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime and see if in a few weeks you are not losing about a pound of fat a day—not from places where you are normally plump, but from those that are overly fat. The receipt works like a charm. I am told, and though it produces delightfully apparent results, yet it is perfectly harmless. Doesn't even cause wrinkles, they say who have used it, nor interfere with one's diet, which are two other exclusive and important differences it possesses over all other fat reducers I ever heard of. Instead of being harmful, in fact, as so many of the advertised remedies are, it improves the health and appetite and complexion.

Many Letters by Ratepayers in Support of The Two By-Laws to be Voted on Today

Ald. Morrow Writes in Favor of the By-Law

Sir,—In reference to the power bylaw for $15,000, which will be voted on by the ratepayers on Tuesday, the 30th instant, I would like to give my reasons why I think this bylaw should be suported by the public.

In the first place the property is owned by the Water Commissioners in trust for the people. We are informed by the Water Commissioners that at the minimum flow of the river there will be developed about 1200 h.p., and for the greater part of the year there can be developed from 1500 to 2000 h.p.

There is used for waterworks purposes at the present time, 200 h.p. It will take about 200 h.p. to do the street lighting, so that we will have at least 800 h.p. additional to be used by the Waterworks Commissioners as required, and for commercial or home lightning if the citizens so desire.

The city is at present paying $6,000 a year for street lighting and I think with the development of their own power the city will save at least $3000 a year.

I think as a business proposition that the ratepayers should spend whatever is necessary to develop and utilize their own property.

A number of the letters which have appeared in the public press have been written and inspired by owners or those interested in power properties, and I hope the ratepayers will not allow anything of this kind to interfere in voting for the adoption of the $15000 power bylaw. I trust every freeholder, if he supports the waterworks bylaw will at the same time vote in his own interests, and vote for the power bylaw.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space, I am,

Yours truly,
W. G. MORROW.

THE POWER BY-LAW

The bylaw to issue debentures for $15,000 will be voted on today. This sum is for the purpose of constructing the forebays, tail race, wheel pits, foundations and power house for the electrical development of the power that will be available at the waterworks dam after the requirements of the waterworks department have been met.

There will be 700 horse power available after the waterworks have taken what they require. This power should be utilized for the benefit of the city, for street lighting and other purposes, and not allowed to run to waste.

It will be much cheaper to put in the forebays, wheel pits, etc., when the dam is being built than it would to do that work two or three years later, after the dam has been completed.

The street lighting will take about 200 horse power, and they will still be 400 to 500 horse power which can be sold or used in the service of the city.

With this preliminary work done—with the forebays, race, wheel pits and power house completed—the city will be ready to take the necessary steps and put in the machinery for furnishing light or power when it is required. This will put the city in such a position that it cannot be compelled to pay a high price for light or power, as it will be able, in a short time, to furnish light or power from its own dam.

It is prudent to take time by the forelock; it is good business to save money by doing work when it can be done most cheaply; it will be acting wisely to be ready to do the street lighting when the contract expires and to furnish power when it is needed.

It would be wanton waste to own 700 horse power and permit it to run over the dam and down the river, doing no one any good and a loss to the city.

Ald. McIntyre's Views on the Power By-Law

(To the Editor of The Times)

Dear Sir,—The mayor has, I notice, replied to that part of Ald. Hicks' letter in which he says that we did not write the letter published by the Power Committee, and there is one other matter to which I wish to refer. He questions the statement that the city pays nearly $5,000 for light, and says that this sum includes a bonus to the street railway. Now there is nothing in the contract with the Peterborough Light & Power Company referring to the street railway, and no reference to any bonus. The contracts with the two companies being separate and distinct. Further, at the time the contract for street lighting was made, the Ontario Power Co. rendered on enclosed arc lamps on 7.5 amp. capacity, and the Peterborough Light & Power Co., on open arc lamps of 9 amp. capacity, and the contention made by the latter company was that the open arc lamps at $50 each were cheaper than the enclosed lamps at $35, because the open lamps gave a stronger light and were preferable. Mr. G. M. Rogers, who was mayor at that time, and Dr. Morrison, who was chairman of the committee, visited another town where the enclosed are was in use, and they supported the argument that the open lamp, while being more expensive to maintain, gave a better light, and that it would take fewer of them to give the same service, and because of this the tender of the Peterborough Light & Power Co., was accepted. Since that, two years ago, the Peterborough Light & Power Co. asked the council to permit them to install the enclosed arc lamps, but after members of the council had enquired into the expense of operating the two kinds of lamps and seen the enclosed lamps in use, the request was refused unless the company gave a larger number or reduced the price.

The cost to the city of the light it uses is nearly $9,000, and if the city is ready to do its own lighting when the present contract expires, it will have that sum to apply on the cost of developing and supplying light and power.

Yours truly,
A. A. McINTYRE.

Waterworks By-Law for a New Dam, Further Statement by Commissioners

There has been one consideration touched on, in discussing the question of a new dam, by the Commissioners but not emphasized, as they did not wish to cause any alarm that could be avoided. But as a concerted effort is being made in some interested quarters, and my misrepresentation, to defeat the bylaw, they think it proper and only just to the electors to state the true situation in plain terms.

The water mains, as all know, have been very greatly extended in recent years, for fire protection and home and other services. In consequence of this, the pumping capacity of the present dam and plant has been reached, in the summer season. Before a new dam can be built, the limit of power will have been exceeded, unless refusal is given to any further extension of water supply. The central part of the city has been mostly covered for domestic and fire purposes. It will be the outer portions, generally, that will suffer by such refusal, and it will be particularly unfortunate for those making or intending to make building improvements.

Reserve of power, however, must be maintained to fully guard against danger from fire, and this without reference even to the demand that has come from the Fire Underwriters' Association. If the bylaw is turned down, the commissioners will then have seriously to scan all applications now pending or that may come to them, and will reserve and exercise their right of refusal, however regretfully, until more power is assured.

This is the true position of affairs that confronts the city, and electors must choose which course they will pursue.

The commissioners have given much thought to the condition of the present dam and to the needful provision for greater power, and they strongly advise against spending money on it, except to keep it in position until replaced by a new dam, which in all respects, in view of the momentous interests at stake, should be of the most modern type and construction, which is the character of dam designed in the bylaw, and which can be built without a dollar of cost, beyond the present water rates.

There was a very large attendance at the tea and entertainment given by the Ladies' Aid Society of St. James church last night. The function was held in the basement of the church and was the first event of the kind to be held there. The funds were in aid of that church to help pay the construction debt. After the supper an interesting program was run off and everyone had a good time. The Indian raised a substantial sum.

A War Correspondent's Narrow Escape

Mr. Frank Scudamore, the great war correspondent, who sent many of the Canadian despatches during the late Boer war, owes his health to Zam-Buk. He has passed unscathed through twenty-nine battles, but a scratch which turned to blood-poisoning nearly ended his days. Zam-Buk saved him and he writes as follows;—

"I have proved Zam-Buk such a blessing that I want others to know of its merits. The poisonous dye in one underclothes I was wearing got into a scratch I had sustained and blood-poisoning set up. Inflammation was followed by great pain and swelling, and then ulcers broke out on my legs. For some time I could not walk a few steps, nor even put my feet to the ground. On my left leg below the knee I had seventeen ulcer which caused holes into which I could put my thumb. On the right leg I had fourteen ulcers. Medical treatment failed to relieve, homely remedies were applied in vain. Week followed week and I gradually got worse, until I was worn out with pain and lack of sleep. On the advice of a friend I obtained some Zam-Buk and left off everything else while I tried it. It seemed to give me almost instant relief from the pain, and in a few days I noticed that it was healing the ulcers. To a man cheering indeed, and gladly I persevered with the Zam-Buk treatment. Bit by bit the poisonous matter was drawn out. The ulcers were healed, and new healthy skin grew over the previously diseased places. I am now quite cured and in gratitude I mention these facts that other sufferers from skin diseases may know of something which will cure them.

Zam-Buk is a sure cure for eczema, ring-worm, ulcers, abscesses, piles, bad leg, suppurating wounds, cuts, burns, bruises, chapped hands, and cold cracks, and all skin injuries and diseases. All druggists and stores sell at fifty cents box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price.

Bronchitis Cured

For Fifteen years Mr. John Pearson of Malvern Square suffered from Bronchitis and Throat Irritation. Doctors Failed to Relieve but Catarrhozone Cured Quickly.

The remarkable recovery of Mr. Pearson, who for years was principal of Malvern Square High School, is convincing evidence of the exceptional curative powers possessed by Catarrhozone.

"For fifteen years," writes Mr. Pearson, "I constantly suffered from Bronchitis and Throat Irritation. Until quite recently I was able to keep up my teaching, but my bronchial trouble became so annoying that I was forced to resign.

"For months I doctored with different physicians and was not benefited. My trouble grew more severe and extended to the lungs, and I feared I would end in decline.

"Providentially I was advised to use Catarrhozone, and I believe it really saved my life. Its immediate effect was to relieve the throat trouble sufficiently to give me perfect ease in speaking. Within one short week all symptoms of Bronchitis had disappeared. I can fervently recommend Catarrhozone. I know it has no equal as a cure and speedy cure for throat trouble and bronchitis."

Every air cell and air passage, all parts of the breathing organs are reached and treated by the antiseptic vapor of Catarrhozone. It soothes and heals the inflamed mucous surfaces, stops the cough, clears the nose and throat, and drives every symptom of bronchitis right out of the system.

To purify the blood of all poisons, and to build up the system, Ferrozone Tablets, which are included in every Catarrhozone outfit, are very highly recommended. This local and constitutional treatment in Bronchitis, Catarrh and Consumption cannot be equalled.

Catarrhozone is endorsed by physicians and ministers and thousands it has cured. Two months' treatment costs $1. Small size, 25c. Sold by all Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE IMMIGRATION BILL

The new Immigration Bill now before Parliament is an important measure. The clauses of the old Act shutting out mental and physical defectives, diseased persons, criminals and professionally immoral persons are re-enacted. A proviso is added prohibiting the entry of "obnoxious immigrants," that is to say, immigrants whose passage to Canada has been paid wholly or in part by any charitable organization or out of public money. This prohibition came into force by order-of-council on February 25th, 1909. It is now to become part and parcel of the statutes. It can only be avoided by written consent obtained from the minister or the superintendent of immigration.

The definition of stowaways has been so extended as to include tramps and bums who pass from the United States into Canada concealed in freight cars. Heretofore an undesirable immigrant might be deported at the Dominion Government's expense within two years after landing. The period of deportation is extended to three years, and terms in prison do not count in the immigrant's favor. Whenever any person, within three years of landing has been convicted of vagrancy, or has become a public charge, or an inmate of a penitentiary, jail, reformatory, or prison or of a hospitable or insane asylum or public charitable institution, he may be deported.

That portion of the old Act which provided for permanent boards of inquiry at ports of entry for the summary determination of all cases of detained immigrants has never been acted upon. Nor are there any regulations to govern their procedure, had they been appointed. The deficiency is now made good. Such boards have done valuable work at United States ports. They secure fair treatment for immigrants and generally expedite the labor of the regular officials.

The prescription of the regulations governing the medical, physical and mental examination of immigrants and passengers landing in Canada is left to the Superintendent of immigration with the approval of the minister. It is to be hoped that this inspection may be made as thoroughgoing as it is at New York and other United States ports.

By order-in-council the government may provide that the obligations of transportation companies bringing immigrants and passengers into Canada by land shall be the same as those imposed on masters and owners of vessels bringing immigrants and passengers to Canada, including the furnishing of names and descriptions of such immigrants and passengers. To this end trains may be detained at the border.

The governor-in-council takes the power to prohibit by order or proclamation the landing of persons who do not come to this country direct from the point of origin. This device was resorted to last year to check the influx of Asiatics via Honolulu. The governor-in-council may also prohibit the landing of people climatically or otherwise unsuited to this country.

Provision is made for the deportation of anarchists, persons who advocate the overthrow of governments by violence, and members of secret societies which are known to levy blackmail or compel obedience to their orders by threats of violence. The Mafia and Black Hand societies have gained a strong foothold in the United States and the purpose of the government is to prevent them taking root in this country.

GIVE US THE REAL MAN

Ordinary mortals like to take a great man's character after he is dead and shape it over to suit themselves. They like to erase his faults and polish up his virtues—or the parts of his make-up that proves most to their liking. The result often is that the great man is made to look about as much like a human being as a stuffed owl on the mantel looks like the real bird in its native woods.

Those who find much to admire in Abraham Lincoln have been, on many occasions, as they read books or as they listened to lectures, annoyed to see this great big human being made over into a wax-works figure to suit some narrow minded person's idea of what he was or should have been. He was not a sad faced angel with the shadow of martyrdom upon him, and a great sorrow in his soul for the wicked and weak generation in which he lived. He was a big, busy, worried man, with a hard job which he was handling as best he could without being any too well satisfied with himself or the results he was getting.

One of those men, who, not being satisfied with the real Lincoln, must re-make him in a narrow mould, would have it appear that when the assassination occurred in Ford's theater, Lincoln was not there as an ordinary man would be, in search of amusement. Oh, no! "Rulers of men," we are told, "must occasionally appear among the people; and it was more for this reason than for personal entertainment that Mr. Lincoln, with his wife and a few attendants, visited Ford's theater." This is to excuse Lincoln to those who do not approve of the theater. But the truth is that Lincoln went to the theater that night because he wanted to go; because it was his habit to go; because he found relaxation and enjoyment there. He was not the kind of man to talk humbug about going because, being a ruler of the people, he must show himself to the people. He simply went to the show because he wanted to see the show, and if theaters are deserving of condemnation, it is folly to try to make use of Lincoln as a witness against them.

Tender for Red River Bridge

SEALED tenders, addressed to the undersigned, and marked on the envelope "Tender for the Red River Bridge," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway until twelve o'clock noon of the 6th day of April, 1909, for the construction and erection of a steel and concrete bridge and approach spans over the Red River between Winnipeg and St. Boniface, near the foot of Lombard street, together with grading and approach spans over streets in Winnipeg.

Separate tenders must be submitted for the substructure with other works as per schedule, and for superstructure.

Plans, details and profiles may be seen and full information obtained at the office of the chief engineer at Ottawa, and also at the office of the district engineer at St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the forms supplied by the commissioners, which may be had on application to Mr. Hugh D. Lumsden, chief engineer, Ottawa, Ont., and M. S. R. Poulin, district engineer, St. Boniface, Man.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered Bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway for the sum of $25,000 for substructure and other work as per schedule, and for the sum of $25,000 for steel superstructure and floor.

The cheques deposited by the party whose tender is accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

The right is reserved to reject any or all tenders.

By Order,
P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—and it also usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes blood pressure away from pain, centers, its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though subtly, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.
If it's painful periods with women, same cause.
If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

Why Do People Deposit Their Money in Banks for only 3 Per Cent. Interest?

BECAUSE, THEY THINK IT IS QUITE SAFE.

Why Do Some Invest in Bonds to get a Little Higher Interest?

Because, the bonds represent a mortgage on the property on which their money is invested which gives a feeling of safety.

Why Do People Invest in Wildcat Gold and Silver Mining Schemes? Because they think the chances of profit are big and they are willing to take the risk.

WHY NOT INVEST IN A SAFE STOCK IN A GOING COAL MINE

making money now and which presents such possibilities for development that it is expected that the profits will run from 25 per cent. to 50 per. cent. higher.

The Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited, Stock at $10 per Share is a safe Stock.

It is all common stock. There are no bonds or no mortgages or no preferred stock, on which interest must be paid before the common stockholder gets anything.

When you buy common stock of the Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited at $10 per share you become an actual owner of the mines and have an equal chance of the profits according to the number of shares held. A coal mine with a big deposit of coal ready for the miner's pick is as safe as a bank. To own and control shares of common stock in such a coal mine must be safer and better than holding bonds in a proposition in which you have no control and which may or may not be properly managed. The officers and management of the Winter Port Coal Mines of New Brunswick have the experience in mining and selling coal in both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

J. S. Gibbon, the President of the company, opened and developed the Winter Port Mines to the present stage.

W. E. Vroom, the Vice-President of the Company, was for some years actively associated in the management of the Springhill Collieries in Nova Scotia and the Albert Mines in New Brunswick.

Manufacturers in St. John speak highly of the Winter Port coal.

Winter Port coal is a good locomotive coal and has been used on the Intercolonial and other railways.

The Winter Port Coal Mines being practically on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific now opening up through New Brunswick will provide a most convenient coaling facility for that great transcontinental railway. Immense quantities of coal will be needed by the great railways and by the manufacturers, steamship lines, etc., in connection with the development of Canada's Winter Port at St. John, N.B., which is only 55 miles in a direct line from these coal mines.

Secure some Winter Port stock now at $10 per share (there is no personal liability) and get your share of the profits of a safe conservative money-making proposition.

Synopsis of Canadian North west

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Land Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother, or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perwith the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

THE WATERWAYS TREATY

While the waterways treaty as originally adjusted was none too careful of Canadian interests, especially as regards the division of Niagara power, its complexion has been seriously altered for the worse by the adoption of the amendment moved by Senator Smith of Michigan. This directs that the treaty shall be so interpreted as to divide the water power of the Ste. Marie River according to its extent on each side of the international boundary line. If this is to be the rule as regards this river it should apply equally to Niagara, where the configuration of the channel favors the Dominion.

Apart from this, it is of the utmost importance for the future handling of diplomatic negotiations between Canada and the United States, that a firm stand be taken now in the matter of revision by the senate. When the term of any treaty are satisfactory to the governments on the basis of fair give, and take, alterations such as that made by the senate ought not to be accepted without a corresponding advantage to the Dominion. Any other course will simply be taken as an indication of weakness and encourage the U.S. Senate to repeat its familiar tactics. The Dominion Government should either reject the treaty as modified or append a corresponding rider as regards Niagara. In any event the government should stipulate in future that all treaties in which Canada is interested be subject to parliamentary ratification.

FLEECED BY EMIR.

British Tourists Spoiled of Everything They Owned.

Captain S. S. Butler described to a meeting of the Royal Geographical Society recently an amusing incident which befel Captain Aylmer and himself while they were journeying from Bagdad to Damascus.

At El-Jof, in Northern Arabia, they were received by the emir, Feysul Ibn Rashid, one of whose first questions after greeting them was "Are your teeth your own or are they false?"

"On our arrival at the house placed at our disposal," continued the lecturer, "Captain Aylmer and myself congratulated ourselves on our good fortune in having such a cordial welcome, but we had not been there more than five minutes when Feysul's head slave, a richly-dressed personage called Dahm, came to tell us that the emir would not take our camels or our money, as he had plenty of both, but that he would like any things of European make or of interest that we happened to have.

"This was only too true, and during our five days' stay there there was a continued procession of slaves and hangers-on from the castle demanding things for the emir and his visitors and favorites, and demanding them in such a way that it was impossible for us, situated as we were, to refuse, until we had practically nothing of any value left, having been fleeced of watches, revolver, compasses, various clothes, and other articles of our kit.

"The slave given us was nothing more or less than a spy, and the climax was reached, and I fairly lost my temper when a negro slave, who had come to demand scent, hair grease and moustache wax for the emir, told me I was a liar when I said I had none."

One Against Mr. Edwardes.

The famous theatrical manager, Mr. George Edwardes, tells a good story illustrative of the difficulties with which managers have to contend. "I was once negotiating with a lady," he says, "to go to India as prima donna, and I thought I would approach the question artfully. We were nearly agreed, the difference between us was a paltry $500 a week—I offered her $500 and she asked me $1,000 a week. I began to tell of the glories of India, how the lady would win the hearts of all the Princes, of Jams and Rams and Dams and nabobs. I said, 'As in their custom, they'll send you ropes of pearls to tie up your dresses, elephants with trunks full of emeralds, and diamonds enough for a skirt'—and skirts were skirts in those days. 'What is a miserable $500 a week by the side of that?' Well, I thought I had impressed the lady. She promised to think it over. She did. Next day I got a note: 'Dear Mr. Edwardes, give me my terms, and you can keep the presents.'"

The Saint and the Archangel.

It is on account of his pale, earnest face, on which suffering has left many a mark, and because of his wife's wonderful hair and complexion and her finely-moulded features, that someone has bestowed these nicknames on Mr. and Mrs. Philip Snowden. The Labor party is not deficient in good speakers, but there are not many better orators in the House than Mr. Snowden. Unfortunately, in his early days, he was the victim of an accident which has left him more or less of a cripple. At the same time this accident was the cause of his taking seriously to politics. Mrs. Snowden is also a very clever orator. She has spoken in almost every industrial centre in the United Kingdom, and has often acted as her husband's substitute when his health has prevented him fulfilling engagements.

One of "Dizzy's" Young Men.

It was Disraeli who may be said to have discovered the abilities of Lord George Hamilton, the chairman of the Poor Law Commission, whose startling report has just been issued. The late Lord Beaconsfield was attracted by handsome young men, and Lord George happened to be not only handsome, but he was the son of the statesmen's great friend, the third Duke of Abercorn. It was at "Dizzy's" suggestion that Lord George, then a young man of twenty-three, was put up to lead a forlorn hope in Middlesex, and to the surprise of everyone he was returned at the head of the poll. The sunny and equable temper of Lord George has gained for him much popularity, while one of his old colleagues has been heard to say, "George Hamilton is a useful fellow to have in the Cabinet, because he knows when to be silent."

Advice From the Gallery.

One of the best stories concerning Charles Warner, the popular English actor, who met with such a tragic end a few days ago, tells of an amusing incident which happened when he was appearing in a play written by Mr. George R. Sims, in which he is supposed to be starving in a garret. Before going on the stage he had forgotten to remove a valuable diamond ring, which glistened on his finger. He had a peculiar trick of extending his hand high above his head, and this night the light caught the gem and made it flash at the very moment he was declaring: "My wife and child are starving and I cannot give them bread. What shall I do? What shall I do?" A voice from the gallery responded: "Pawn yer ring, guv'nor!"

No Pension at 102.

Timothy Hennessy, though a hundred and two, works occasionally on his farm at Midleton, County Cork, Ireland. A few days ago he was refused an old-age pension on the ground of being in receipt of sufficient income. He is believed to be the oldest applicant in Ireland for a pension.

In compliance with "Sec. 99," Ontario Companies' Act, I give the following information; A Director, to qualify, must hold one or more shares. Under agreement, dated 14th of January, 1909, which may be inspected at Head Office of the Company, the entire Capital Stock of the Company has been allotted to J. T. Thompson as fully paid and non-assessable for the Companies' properties, 40 acres each, from which assays of 671, 884 and 976 ounces of silver to the ton have been taken. Mr. Thompson has transferred 100,000 shares to a trustee to be sold at 25c per share. Out of the sale of this stock are to be paid $10,000 to J. T. Thompson, Toronto, the balance $15,000, to be used for development.

The Directors received no consideration in either stock or money or their services. Usual Broker's commission of 3c per share to be paid on sale of stock. No payment to promoters other than as above set out.

Estimated preliminary expenses not to exceed $900. Prospectus dated and filed with the Provincial Secretary the second day of February, 1909.

PRUDENTIAL MINES, Limited

Capital $2,000,000, Shares $1.00 par value fully paid and non-assessable.

Owners of five 40-acre claims known as the Todd-McNeil claims adjoining the townsite of Elk City. Claims developed and thirty veins stripped showing native silver. Will start shipping upon opening of river. Claims conceded to be the richest group in Montreal river district by all competent authorities.

As the company is headed by the most honorable and conservative business men of Montreal, we are assured of a square deal all around, and no manipulating of stock.

We have the best Mining Engineer money can procure to put in charge of the work, namely,

J. C. BIEDLEMAN, OF SPOKANE, WASH.

Stock is not in the hands of any brokers, thereby saving the company the excessive commissions demanded by them, which enables us to put it in development work instead. The present allotment of stock is all that will be put on the market at any price.

Badly Run Down

Moral Well Exemplified in Mrs. Wilson's Case.

Like thousands of other people at this season of the year Mrs. E. P. Wilson was tired and worn out—was over wisely tired her health and vigor. But now she is robust and well, eats well, sleeps well, feels invigorated and braced. "For some years," writes Mrs. Wilson of Waimere, P.O., "I suffered from systematic weakness, biliousness and depressing headache. I could take little nourishment and grew thin and pale. If I ate a hearty meal the result was dreadful. Pains started at my chest, and spread all through my body going across my stomach, back and right side. I was discouraged till a friend insisted on me taking Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They made a new woman of me, and for the past eight months my health has been perfected. For a good cleaning, rejuvenating medicine I urge every one to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

There is extraordinary and magic power in Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they bring vigor, tone, health and spirits—are compounded from the most wonderful and healing juices and essence in vegetable life—are safe for young and old and guaranteed to kindle renewed activity and strength of every system that is weak, sickly or run down from kidney, liver, stomach or bladder trouble. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut—today—25c, at all dealers.

The total collections at St. James church Sunday, including subscriptions were $311. Large congregations were present at all services and responded liberally to the appeal. The trustees are much encouraged by the substantial amount given.

A falling tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the Heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The Stomach also has its hidden or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness is the only sensible and successful. Sold by all dealers.

Dental Lavatories in Sleeping Cars

Some of the Western railroads have been calling attention to dental lavatories which have recently been introduced in sleeping cars on their lines. As a matter of fact, the Pullman Company have decided to provide in all new sleeping cars that they build and in all the present sleeping cars when they are next put through the shops dental lavatories which will doubtless be much appreciated by their patrons. Already some of the Pullman sleeping cars operated over the Grand Trunk Railway System are provided with this new and special sanitary feature.

WEDDING BELLS

HUBBARD—STEWART.

A quiet wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at three o'clock at the parsonage of the Grace M.E. church, when George A. Hubbard and Miss Ida M. Stewart, both of this city, were united in marriage by Rev. W. F. Lask. The parsonage had been beautifully decorated in white blossoms, and greenery, and the bridal couple stood beneath an arch of blossoms and foliage during the ceremony. Standing with them were Miss Ethel Morgan and Mr. Samuel Snyder. The bride wore a gray travelling suit with pretty hat and gloves to match.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard left on a short wedding trip, including Los Angeles and coast points. On their return they will reside on West Cotton avenue. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard have a great many friends in this city, who wish them much happiness. Mrs. Hubbard is a sister of Mrs. M. B. Skuse of Redlands Junction. Mr. Hubbard is the foreman in the mechanical department of the Facts office.

The above account is taken from the "Redland Facts" of Redlands, Cal. Mrs. Hubbard is a daughter of Mrs. Noble Stewart of Otonabee. She went to California about a year ago and has many friends in Peterborough, who will join in extending her their congratulations.

Nothing in the way of a Cough is quite so annoying as a tickling, teasing, wheezing, bronchia-Cough. The quickest relief comes perhaps from a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And besides, it is so thoroughly harmless that mothers give it with perfect safety even to the youngest babes. Lot Number 2 of Sample Wash Suits

$2.50 to $7.00 Women's Wash Suits for 98c

THIS is an entirely different lot of suits from the last we had on sale, but we think the values are better than ever. The styles are just as good, being the samples of the Spring 1909 suits which were used by a large wholesale manufacturer last summer, also a few overmakes in different lines Only 49 in the entire lot and only one will be given to a customer. The last sale caused a little dissatisfaction or disappointment among some of the customers, which we deeply regret but were unable to avoid. This time we will remove every suit from the window at 7.30 and distribute them throughout the Annex on the counters so that everyone will have a fair chance. Here's a description of the suits as we see them: Natty prints, American muslins, fancy Indian-head and linens, zephyrs, etc., dark and light grounds in stripes, checks, plaids, spots and fancy patterns; some plain tailored, others prettily trimmed with lace, insertion, embroidery, tucks and folds. The most beautiful shirtwaist and princess suits yet sold at from $2.50 to $7.00. See window. In the Annex Wednesday at 8.10, not before.....

THE WATERWORKS BY-LAW CARRIED—THE POWER BY-LAW WAS DEFEATED

Mr. Matthews Pleased

Mr. Matthews stated that he was very well pleased that the people took the sensible view of the waterworks bylaw and carried it by 193 of a majority and especially in face of the fact that the vote was a large one and there was considerable opposition to it. The commissioners will go ahead at once and complete their plans and get the work under way as early as possible. The dam will probably be constructed with provision made for the development of all the available power at the new dam.

In speaking of the defeat of the power bylaw Mr. Matthews said he was sorry. He added that had the by-law carried and the development handed over to the commissioners, the work would not have been gone on with until they had made sure that the power was available in sufficient quantity to be profitable. Mr. Matthews expects the dam to be completed and the new pumps ready a year from next October.

People Declared Themselves on the Two Questions Submitted to Them —Majority for the Former was 161 and Against the Latter 42—Large Vote Cast

To the surprise of many of those who follow municipal matters the vote on the two money bylaws yesterday was a big one. A total of 899 was cast. The result was the carrying of the water commissioners' bylaw for $120,000 for a new dam and increased pumping capacity by a majority of 161. The commissioners carried on a very active campaign through the press and the effect of giving the people information was evidenced by the success achieved. The commissioners secured full information themselves before they went to the people and when they did so were in a position to tell the people what was wanted, what it would cost and what they were to get in return. The people read the commissioners articles and were convinced that the new dam was a good thing.

POWER BYLAW.

The power bylaw did not fare so well as the commissioners bylaw. The vote was about as large, there being only three less, but the majority was on the wrong side to suit the majority of the council. The bylaw was defeated by 42, there being 407 in favor of it and 449 against.

The only reason that can be advanced for the defeat of the bylaw is that the people did not know what their money was going to be spent for. The people are not opposed to municipal power, but a great deal of doubt was created by a strong opposition and the voters took the safe course and kept their money in their pocket for the time being.

The election yesterday was not a very lively one. No particular effort was made to get the vote out and not many people were around the booths, when the ballots were counted, however, it was found that about double the number of votes had been cast as is usually the case with bylaws not submitted at the municipal elections. The articles and correspondence in the press worked up a great deal of interest throughout the city. The returns were all in before six o'clock and the result was generally known last night.

The commissioners are well pleased with the way the people treated them, and they feel that it is but a renewal of the confidence in them that has always been displayed.

THE VOTE.

The vote on the bylaw yesterday was as follows;

WATERWORKS BYLAW.

Division.	For.	Against.
1 and 2	46	50
3	40	27
4, 5 and 6	57	40
7 and 8	119	68
9	26	28
10 and 11	75	59
12	61	30
13	87	46
	509	348

POWER BYLAW.

Division.	For.	Against.
1 and 2	36	59
3	36	30
4, 5 and 6	48	49
7 and 8	101	88
9	19	36
10 and 11	52	72
12	39	53
	407	449

The Times called up His Worship Mayor Rush last night, and asked him if he had anything to say in reference to the vote. The mayor replied in the negative. He would have been glad to see both bylaws carried, but it was up to the people and they decided against one of the propositions. The council would have to abide by that decision.

Ald. McIntyre, chairman of the special power committee said he was not surprised that the power bylaw was defeated in face of the opposition to it.

Ratepayers Made a Mistake

Ald. Gillespie stated that he firmly believed that the ratepayers made a mistake in defeating the power bylaw as the scheme to develop power at the new waterworks dam was in the interests of the people. He had confidence in the report of the engineers upon whose report the council adopted their proposition. He would, however, support the council on working up a power policy to be submitted to the people at some future date. He gave as his opinion that had the power bylaw been carried and proved as successful as the power committee hoped it would the people would have been more likely to support a big power scheme later on.

The engineer stated that the power was there. If engineers' reports cannot be taken as true and correct then the council will have difficulty in future in framing a policy which will be carried by the ratepayers.

Canada's Relations with the Foreign Countries, —Prof. Shortt's Subject

One of the most successful gatherings the Canada Club has held this season was the one last night when Prof. Adam Shortt of McGill University was the special speaker. The Hotel National was as usual, the place of meeting and the handsome dining room was very prettily decorated for the occasion. The menu was provided by Miss Rose Dennison in first-class style and the service was excellent.

There will be another meeting of the club on the last Monday in April, when a number of local gentlemen will discuss the questions dealt with by the celebrated speakers who have visited here the past season.

President D. O'Connell occupied the chair, and in introducing Prof. Adams Shortt, reminded the members of the club that he had been here last year on a similar occasion.

PROF. SHORTT'S ADDRESS.

Before taking up Canada's relations with foreign countries, Prof. Shortt spoke for a few minutes upon Imperial defence, a question that is creating so much stir throughout the empire today.

He emphasized the importance of this country coming to an intelligent understanding of its relations to the countries of the rest of the world. He did not think there was any reason for any panicky feeling at this time. There is nothing new that has not long been known by those at the head of affairs. The real importance is that such a panic can be created on such short notice, rather than the importance of any danger. He said there was a rapidly increasing yellow journalism in Great Britain and those papers were overpowering the more reliable press. This has been experienced in other countries of the world. The object of these journals is to stampede the people, and their policy is dangerous as it is trifling with the sacred elements of the empire. The remedy for such journalism is a more intelligent understanding of the situation by the leading men of the country who should express their views to the people. The Australian government said that if there was anything in the agitation then Britain should take her fleet over to the North Sea and capture the whole German fleet as that country has not a single ship in commission of the type all the row has been about.

Take it for granted that Canada is a nation. The most enlightened Emperialists today say that the first duty of Canada is to develop a thorough national spirit and until she does she will not be able to appreciate her relations to Britain and the other countries. Canada is a nation. But no nation can stand alone. The only country that can stand alone to any extent is Great Britain. Still she cannot stand all by herself. What made Great Britain what she is today was her policy of colonization, in all parts of the world and developing those colonies. If Canada became an independent nation with no specific connection and then look around for some connection with other countries there were only two nations which she could possibly go with, viz., Great Britain and the United States. Still Canada is rapidly becoming the most independent regent, economically, in the world. That is Canada can better supply herself with all her requirements than any other country in the world.

There is no possible reason in the world why Canada should break away from Great Britain, for if we did we would only have to cement those relations again.

The first thing a nation must do is to provide for herself and before she can be a power in the world or do good to other nations she must bring herself up to the same plane as those other countries and to help them.

Prof. Shortt said that there was no country in the world more misunderstood by her colonies than was Great Britain. In the past Canadians have believed that Britain has sold us out on past occasions in order to gain favor for herself with other countries. There was absolutely no foundation for these ideas when the facts were known. No more is there any foundation for the present flare in the papers over the supposedly war scare.

Besides Canada having responsible government in internal affairs has now self government of external affairs as well as in nearly every other way. He explained the duties of foreign consuls and the meaning of diplomacy.

The speaker thought the Canadian Club in Peterborough was one of the best organizations ever formed, and it was the duty of the members to study these matters now.

Mr. R. E. Wood in a few well chosen words moved a vote of thanks to the speaker, and Mr. D. Hughes-Charles seconded it.

Next meeting of the Canadian Club will be held on the last Monday in April, when local gentlemen will take up the discussion of the subjects dealt with by the celebrated speakers during the past season.

Nominating committee to draft the officers for the next year was moved by Dr. Morrison and R. F. McWilliams as follows;—Messrs. F. D. Kerr, Montgomery, Mowatt, Morris and L. M. Hayes.

MRS. WM. MOYSE.

The death occurred yesterday morning after a brief illness of Mrs. Josephine E. Moyse at her late residence, 139 Stewart street. She was 53 years of age and was born in Barrie. Her maiden name was Josephine E. Chalaupka. Her husband predeceased her some years ago. She was a woman highly esteemed by all who knew her and her death will be deeply regretted.

The funeral will take place on Thursday at 2.30 o'clock from the family residence to the Little Lake cemetery.

Great Britain Must Build a New Fleet to be the Greatest Ever Known

Startling Admissions of Sir Edward Grey, Foreign Secretary—An Extraordinary Scene in the British Parliament

London, March 30.—"Resolved, that in the opinion of this House, the declared policy of his Majesty's Government respecting immediate provision of battleships of the newest type does not sufficient secure the safety of the nation."

Mr. Arthur Hamilton Lee, Conservative member for the Farnham, division of Hampshire, to whom the duty had been delegated by Mr. Arthur Balfour, leader of the opposition, yesterday introduced the above motion for a vote of censure on the government in connection with the naval crisis, and in accordance with the notice given by Mr. Balfour several days ago.

The motion was greeted with loud opposition cheers in a full house, and there was a scene long to be remembered. Mr. Lee made a plea in the nature of an appeal to the government, instead of partisan condemnation, and the spirited reply of Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, was also in a non-partisan vein, and it was remarkable for his admission of the seriousness of the situation. He said Great Britain must build an entirely new fleet, the greatest and most costly the world has ever seen. Germany's program amounted to thirteen Dreadnoughts, besides many supplementary ships. The only question, he said, was one of time.

CHEERED THE BYE-ELECTION.

The premier and leader of the opposition participated in the debate, which degenerated into one of bitter partisanship.

During the denunciations the result of the Croydon bye-election, which caused great excitement, was announced. The news showed that the government had suffered the most crushing defeat in all the long series of bye-elections. The Unionist candidate was elected by 11,368 votes against 8,041 cast for the Liberal. The Labor candidate received 886 votes. The Unionist majority was nearly twice larger then the highest ever known in the district, namely, 2,329 in 1901. The Unionist members cheered the result madly.

When a division was reached after seven hours' debate, the vote was on strictly party lines, 125 to 353, a government majority of 228.

TOOK CARBOLIC ACID.

Mrs. McBrine, who lives on Aylmer street, opposite the fire hall, had a narrow escape from ending her life yesterday by taking a dose of carbolic acid in mistake for medicine. Both liquids were in similar bottles, and the mistake was not noticed until too late. Medical assistance was called and after working over the sufferer for some time she recovered and is able to be about again.

Naval Situation Discussed in Three Parliaments

Canada—House of Commons unanimously adopted premier's resolution to promote the speedy organization of a Canadian naval service in co-operation with Imperial navy.

Great Britain—Commons rejected Conservative vote of censure on government for alleged slowness in Dreadnought building. Foreign secretary made a frank speech.

Germany—Chancellor made a pacific speech, asserting that present excitement is due to talk of fanatics in both Britain and Germany.

The Messages Which House of Commons Sends to Britain

"This House fully recognizes the duty of the people of Canada, as they increase in numbers and wealth to assume in larger measure the responsibilities of national defence.

"The House is of opinion that under the present constitutional relations between the Mother Country and the self-governing Dominions the payment of regular and periodical contributions to the treasury for naval and military purposes would not, so far as Canada is concerned, be the most satisfactory solution of the question of defence.

"The House will cordially approve of any necessary expenditure designed to promote the speedy organization of a Canadian naval service in co-operation with and in close relation to the Imperial navy, along the lines suggested by the Admiralty at the last Imperial Conference, and in fully sympathy with the view that the naval supremacy of Britain is essential to the security of commerce, and the safety of the Empire and the peace of the world.

"The House expresses its firm conviction that whenever the need arises the Canadian people will be found ready and willing to make any sacrifice that is required to give the Imperial authorities the most loyal and hearty co-operation in every movement for the maintenance of the integrity and the honor of the Empire."

All Six Men are in Shape---The Indian is New York's Favorite

New York, March 30.—The world's greatest runners are training for the Marathon Derby next Saturday, to be held at the Polo Grounds. The six men who will start the race are known the world over, and all are in the pink of condition for the great endurance test.

Alfred Shrubb, the English runner, has been training in Canada; and Tom Longboat, the Onondaga Indian, and Dorando Petri, the Italian, in this city. Mart Maloney, a new comer, is at Yonkers. Henri St. Yves, the French runner, is getting in condition at Princeton, and Johnny Hayes, who won the Olympic Marathon, is at Lakewood. Reports from every camp today are sanguine of victory.

The purse offered is the largest ever held for the long distance race. The winner will get $5,000, $2,500 to second, $1,500 to third and $1,000 to fourth.

The race will be run on a turf course, a distance of 25 miles and 385 yards. A crowd of 50,000 spectators is looked for at the Polo Grounds, where repairs are going forward. The training camps will break up on Thursday, and the runners will then gather in this city. The Indian is the favorite in the betting here, and Dorando is a second. St. Yves has never run in this country, and is more or less of a dark horse. Maloney showed up well in the Yonkers run recently, establishing a brand new record, that was broken later by Sidney Hatch in Chicago.

Y.W.C.A. Gym Class Held Closing Exercises at the Collegiate Institute

The assembly hall at the Collegiate Institute held a large gathering of interested spectators last night to witness the closing exercises of the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium. The physical department the past season has been under the direction of Miss I. Coventry, and it has been most successful. The classes were all large and the directress was very popular, as was evidenced last night when four of the classes each presented her and Miss Rannie with a beautiful boquet of cut flowers.

The program was a very attractive one and included many exercises which provided much amusement for the spectators.

On the whole the evening was greatly enjoyed and Miss Coventry is to be congratulated upon the success with the young ladies. The program was as follows,

PART ONE.

Fancy March—Senior class.
Sailor Drill—Junior class.
Dumb-bell exercises—Boys' class.
Hoop Fantasia—Intermediates.
Club-swinging—Seniors.
Teddy bear frolic—Juniors.
Wand exercises—Junior class.
Flag drill—Boys' class.
Dumb-bell exercises — Intermediates.

PART TWO.

Wooden doll drill—Seniors.
Wand exercises—Boys.
Sailor's horn-pipe—Three juniors.
Lantern march—Intermediates.
Vocal—Mr. K. Shook.
Jumping jack—Master Ewart O'Shea.
Dumb-bell exercises—Juniors.
Sword dance—Misses Jessie Cressman and Marguerite Sanderson.
Scarf drill—Seniors.
Accompanist—Miss M. R. Rannie.

The Territorial Staff Band Coming

A splendid program has been prepared by the Canadian Territorial staff band to be presented in the Salvation Army citadel on Simcoe street Saturday night. This band is one of the best in the province and as it has been here before it is known to the citizens. Mr. T. F. Matthews will occupy the chair and there is no doubt but that the barracks will be crowded. The staff band will also be in the city on Sunday.

Return Tickets at Single Fare

Astronomical Society Lecture is Postponed

Professor Warren, of Cleveland, who was announced to deliver a lecture before the Royal Astronomical Society of Peterborough, in April, has sent a wire to the effect that he cannot visit Peterborough till May. The next meeting of the society will be held on April 13th, when Rev. Dr. Marsh will give an illustrated lecture on the subject "The Phenomena of the Sola- Photo-sphere."

Canadian Delegation to Confer with War Office

Ottawa, March 30.—The adoption of the resolution asserting the determination of the Canadian Parliament to enter upon the construction at an early date of a Canadian navy does not mean that any plans, either as to the size of the navy, or the annual expenditure, have been discussed by the Canadian Ministers. As a matter of fact, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in the course of his speech yesterday, made it quite clear that, in taking up the question of coast defence, the Government would be bound to pursue the same course which has been followed in connection with the development of the Canadian auxiliary of the Imperial army. In other words, the government, instead of taking up the matter with the council of Imperial defence, will confer with the war office, and proceed on lines agreed upon, and which would result in a force being created which could operate effectively in conjunction with the Imperial navy.

It is probable that after the session closes, a delegation representing the Cabinet will visit London to confer with the Imperial authorities on this subject. This delegation is certain to include Sir Frederick Borden, minister of militia, and Hon. L. P. Brodeur, minister of marine and fisheries, with probably another.

As pointed out in Mr. Foster's able analysis of the situation, Canada will probably have to make a start by the construction of one vessel, which will be built and manned in Great Britain. This will constitute the nucleus from which the Canadian navy will develop. Later on a number of smaller coast defence and submarine vessels will probably be added, but of this it is not possible to speak with certainty, for, as the premier pointed out in his speech, the ideas of the admiralty as to the proper type of vessel to build changes very rapidly. It will all be a matter for future consultation.

SIR JAMES WATSON

This eminent English physician is one of the greatest authorities on diseases of the respiratory organs.

In a recent address, Sir James Watson stated that the commonest of all disorders is Catarrh, and that not one person in ten thousand passes the winter without an attack of some sort.

Sir James advocates local treatment very strongly, and says that it is all nonsense trying to treat Catarrhal diseases by stomach medicines, atomizers, douches and snuffs.

Local treatment is applied most scientifically by Catarrhozone, which is inhaled into the nose, throat and lungs, and drives the disease completely out of the system.

Catarrhozone is a rational common-sense treatment; it clears the air passages, makes breathing easy and relieves at once. Physicians prescribe Catarrhozone with gratifying results, and pronounce it a specific for Catarrh in any part of the system.

Mr. Thos. Cox, one of the most prominent citizens of Minden, Ont., says; "I want to recommend Catarrhozone. It is a nice, clean cure for Catarrh. Cured me perfectly, and is well deserving of a trial from everyone at all affected by Catarrh or throat trouble."

Mr. G. F. Fadden, of Royan, Que., writes; "In my opinion Catarrhozone is the only cure for Catarrh. I had the disease in its worst form but only got relief from Catarrhozone. It cured me quickly and permanently, and I have no fear of the Catarrh ever returning."

The foregoing brief extracts, like thousands of others that the proprietors of Catarrhozone have received, prove that the proper remedy to use is Catarrhozone. It is quite different from the ordinary Catarrh preparation, and is warranted to prove entirely satisfactory. If it fails your money will be refunded, so if you benefited you won't be out of pocket.

All druggists sell Catarrhozone. Complete outfit, hard rubber inhaler, liquid for recharging, etc., costs $1.00; trial size, 50 cents. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE CANADIAN NAVY

Mr. McKenna, First Lord of the Admiralty, has informed the British House of Commons that it is not proposed that Great Britain shall buy the foreign warships at present under process of construction in British yards, that there is no necessity for making any such purchases, and that even if another power—meaning Germany—should buy these ships, it would cause no concern to the admiralty, no security in the lead for the next two or three years does Great Britain stand.

While these words from Mr. Reginald McKenna will cause rage and grief in some parts of Canada, and especially in some quarters of Toronto, we cannot conceal our satisfaction in finding that the particular Englishman whose duty it is to speak for the Britannia that rules the waves is able to clear his throat, and speak up with that definiteness and self-confidence that used to so please the present generation when it was somewhat younger.

We do not mind going to the rescue of the British Empire, but we would just as soon retain the old-time opinion that it is in no need of rescue.

Human nature being what it is, we would just as soon invest our money in a paying mine, or bet our money on a winning horse, as contribute, through sympathy, to a good but lost cause.

So John Bull is not beaten to his knees— That being the case, we must look at the situation as it exists. The opinion of this journal is, as has been stated in previous issues, that, if we are to remain in the Empire, we must do some of the household duties—we must help with the chores. But, long ago, it came to be understood among free people that taxes and tithes could not be exported, so that today we are in the position that if Canadians are to do anything towards paying their part in the general family arrangement, what is done should be done on our own counts. If nations are foolish—and it may as well be admitted that the well-reasoned articles that appear against militarism are not understandable in Germany and Japan—it may be wise and right that Canada should make certain provisions for defence on the St. Lawrence and on the Pacific. If we do anything anywhere we should do it of our own accord, with our own money, under our own direction, and on our own counts.

SIZING UP THE BABY.

Varying Views of the Different Members of the Family.

This is what the Browns had to say of the latest addition to the family:

The Mother—Oh, isn't he the cutest, grandest, handsomest, smartest little fellow in the whole world? Such eyes! Such features! Such shoulders! And hear him talk, will you? Why, he understands perfectly every word I say.

The Father—There's a boy for you! Smith will brag about that kid of his, will he? Well, you just wait until this youngster is a month old, and I'll take the conceit out of Smith!

Little Bobby—So that's what the stork brought, eh? Gee, the stork must have it in for this family!

Little Bella—Oh, ma, he's swallowed all his teeth, and all his hair's blowed off!

Bachelor Brother—I don't want to cause you folks any anxiety, but he's the smallest human being I ever saw outside of a dime museum. You want to feed him upon roast beef and porterhouse steak right away.

Uncle Jack (a dog fancier)—Is his nose cold? Hold him up by the back of his neck and we'll see if he's got any nerve.

Grandma—There you go, spoiling the child as soon as he has his eyes open! I suppose when he's a month old we shall all have to stand on our heads to amuse him! Give me that infant this instant before he has colic and dies!

The Family Cat—Well, that settles my hash! It's either hunt a new home or become a tailless feline inside of a month. Why, that kid's got a grip on him like a longshoreman's!

The Baby—Goo-goo! Goo-goo! Goo-goo-goo-goo! Or, in other words, I'll make it good and hot for this family about midnight!

His Name Was Sufficient.

San Malato, the famous Sicilian duelist, seemed to have stepped into our prosaic modern life straight from the pages of Brantome. His fame had done more than penetrate the four corners of Europe. It had reached his own home. Some misguided Sicilian bandits held up a coach one night and summoned its solitary traveler to come out. From the shadowy depths of the vehicle came two short sentences in a cold, staccato voice: "Spread out your cloaks. The mud must not spoil my boots when I descend." The cutthroats fled with the awe striking whisper of "San Malato" upon their quivering lips.—London Telegraph.

The Limit.

"What did the doctor say was the matter with you?"

"He said he didn't know."

"Well, what doctor are you going to next?"

"None. When a doctor dares to make such an admission as that he must be about as high in his profession as he can get."—London Mail.

Tender for Red River Bridge

SEALED tenders, addressed to the undersigned, and marked on the envelope "Tender for the Red River Bridge," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway until twelve o'clock noon of the 8th day of April, 1909, for the construction and erection of a steel and concrete bridge and approach spans over the Red River between Winnipeg and St. Boniface, near the foot of Lombard street, together with grading and approach spans over streets in Winnipeg.

Separate tenders must be submitted for the substructure with other works as per schedule, and for superstructure.

Plans, details and profiles may be seen and full information obtained at the office of the chief engineer at Ottawa, and also at the office of the district engineer at St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the forms supplies by the commissioners, which may be had on application to Mr. Hugh D. Lumsden, chief engineer, Ottawa, Ont., and M. S. R. Poulin, district engineer, St. Boniface, Man.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered Bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway for the sum of $35,000 for substructure and other work as per schedule, and for the sum of $25,000 for steel superstructure and floor.

The cheques deposited by the party whose tender is accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

The right is reserved to reject any or all tenders.

By Order,
P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures of prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label, if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good! Heed—for in this very reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

Why Do People Deposit Their Money in Banks for only 3 Per Cent. Interest?

BECAUSE, THEY THINK IT IS QUITE SAFE.

Why Do Some Invest in Bonds to get a Little Higher Interest?

Because, the bonds represent a mortgage on the property on which their money is invested which gives a feeling of safety.

Why Do People Invest in Wildcat Gold and Silver Mining Schemes? Because they think the chances of profit are big and they are willing to take the risk.

WHY NOT INVEST IN A SAFE STOCK IN A GOING COAL MINE

making money now and which presents such possibilities for development that it is expected that the profits will run from 25 per cent. to 50 per. cent. higher.

The Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited, Stock at $10 per Share is a safe Stock.

It is all common stock. There are no bonds or no mortgages or no preferred stock, on which interest must be paid before the common stockholder gets anything.

When you buy common stock of the Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited at $10 per share you become an actual owner of the mines and have an equal chance of the profits according to the number of shares held. A coal mine with a big deposit of coal ready for the miner's pick is as safe as a bank. To own and control shares of common stock in such a coal mine must be safer and better than holding bonds in a proposition in which you have no control and which may or may not be properly managed. The officers and management of the Winter Port Coal Mines of New Brunswick have the experience in mining and selling coal in both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

J. S Gibbon, the President of the company, opened and developed the Winter Port Mines to the present stage.

W. E Vroom, the Vice-President of the Company, was for some years actively associated in the management of the Springhill Collieries in Nova Scotia and the Albert Mines in New Brunswick.

Manufacturers in St. John speak highly of the Winter Port coal.

Winter Port coal is a good locomotive coal and has been used on the Intercolonial and other railways.

The Winter Port Coal Mines being practically on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific now opening up through New Brunswick will provide a most convenient coaling facility for that great transcontinental railway. Immense quantities of coal will be needed by the great railways and by the manufacturers, steamship lines, etc., in connection with the development of Canada's Winter Port at St. John, N.B., which is only 55 miles in a direct line from these coal mines.

Secure some Winter Port stock now at $10 per share (there is no personal liability) and get your share of the profits of a safe conservative money-making proposition.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Land Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother, or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perwith the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

YOUR TEMPERATURE.

The Reason a Sublingual Test is Used in Finding It.

What is a person's normal temperature? is a question often asked of every physician.

When the answer 98.6 degrees F. is given to the query very few people understand the physiological significance of this fact or how a degree of systemic heat is maintained during health within such narrow limits that their bodies have an even temperature the coldest day in winter or the hottest day in summer with an exactness of adjustment that is not obtainable in warming or cooling their houses with the most up to date heating and refrigerating apparatus.

Now, in accepting the statement that the body temperature is 98.6 degrees F. it must be borne in mind that to some extent this is a relative figure, for the warmth of the exterior varies markedly from that of the interior. The surface temperature of the head, hands or abdomen may differ from 96 degrees F. down to 95 degrees F. or lower, while that of the internal regions may extend up to 102.2 degrees F., the average of blood circulating in organs like the liver, pancreas and kidneys. For practical purposes some gauge must be accepted whereby normal temperature may be measured and compared. Therefore on account of convenience and practicability the temperature taken carefully under the tongue by a clinical thermometer has been selected as a common standard throughout medical circles. It is sometimes recorded in the axilla or groin instead of in the mouth when for any reason a sublingual test is not advantageous. The temperature of these localities differs slightly from the mouth, being .5 degrees F. less.—Technical World Magazine.

A STATE CARRIAGE.

Present to a Chinese Emperor That Puzzled the Orientals.

When, in 1793, Sir George Macartney headed the first British embassy to China, he brought with him numerous presents for the emperor. Among these was a magnificent state carriage, an article which delighted, but at the same time puzzled, the Chinese more than any other gift. Nothing like it had ever been seen at the capital. Comical disputes immediately arose as to the seat intended for the emperor.

The hammercloth which covered the box of the carriage had a smart edging of festoons of roses. It made a splendid appearance, and that, with its elevated position, immediately determined the official mind that it was without doubt the emperor's seat. Then the question arose of what the inside of the coach was intended for. The blinds, screens and so forth were all carefully examined, and it was decided that the interior was the place for the ladies only.

An old retainer went to a member of the embassy to ask if the conclusions were correct. When he learned that the fine elevated box was the seat of the coachman and that the emperor's place was inside the coach he was horrified. He asked, with a sneer, if it was supposed that the son of heaven would suffer any one to sit higher than himself and turn his back on him. When he found that the driver was obliged to use the seat in question he requested that the box be removed and placed somewhere behind.—Helen H. Robbins' "Our First Ambassador to China."

Prayers For Rain.

"Shall we have prayer for rain, Thomas?" asked the vicar of the clerk during a protracted drought.

"Oh, sir, you do exactly as you please!"

"But don't you think it would be a good thing? Rain is badly wanted."

"You do as you please, sir. You'd better 'ave it if so be as you do want it."

"But, Thomas, you don't seem to realise the necessity for having the prayer."

"Bless you, sir! You 'ave that ther prayer if you be so set on it, but it won't rain till the moon do change."—London Academy.

A HARD TASKMASTER.

Agassiz Forced His Pupils to Find Out For Themselves.

When I sat me down before my tin pan Agassiz brought me a small fish, placing it before me with the rather stern requirement that I should study it, but should on no account talk to any one concerning it or read anything concerning fishes until I had his permission so to do. To my inquiry, "What shall I do?" he said in effect: "Find out what you can without damaging the specimen. When I think that you have done the work I will question you." In the course of an hour I thought I had compassed that fish. But Agassiz, though always within call, concerned himself no further with me that day nor the next nor for a week. At first this neglect was distressing. But I saw that it was a game, for he was, as I discerned rather than saw, covertly watching me. So I set my wits to work upon the thing and in the course of a hundred hours or so thought I had done much, a hundred times as much as seemed possible at the start. I felt full of the subject and probably expressed it in my bearing. As for words about it then, there were none from my master, except his cheery "Good morning." At length on the seventh day came the question, "Well?" and my disgorge of learning to him as he sat on the edge of my table, puffing his cigar. At the end of the hour's telling he swung off and away, saying, "That is not right."

I went at the task anew, discarded my first notes, and in another week of ten hours a day labor I had results which astonished myself and satisfied him. Still there was no trace of praise in words or manner. He signified that it would do by placing before me about a half a peck of bones, telling me to see what I could make of them, with no further directions to guide me. Two months or more went to this task, with no other help than an occasional looking over my grouping with the stereotyped remark, "That is not right." Finally the task was done, and I was again set upon alcoholic specimens. — "Autobiography of Professor Shaler" in Atlantic.

HE FED THE STAFF.

Fine Dinner For a Hungry Crowd on a Small Capital.

Years ago the late Senator E. W. Carmack was editor of the Nashville Democrat, a paper that had a precarious life and flickered out on Thanksgiving day.

When the staff came around on Thanksgiving afternoon Carmack met them with the announcement that the paper was dead and that they were all without jobs. This was sadder than it seems now, for the paper had not been paying salaries for some time.

"Boys," said Carmack, "it's all over. The sheet is dead. But we shall not want for a Thanksgiving day dinner. How much money have we?" A search of all pockets showed $4.70.

"Plenty," said Carmack. "Come with me."

They went to the best restaurant and sat down, and Carmack ordered a sumptuous dinner, with turkey and everything complete. After the dinner was over and the diners were smoking the best cigars the house had Carmack called the waiter in his grandest manner and said: "Boy, you have served us admirably. We are more than pleased. Here is a small sum to compensate you for your trouble and as a slight token of our gratification."

"Thank yo', boss," grinned the waiter; "thank yo'. But how about this yere check of $19.70 for that dinner you all just had?"

"Boy," exclaimed Carmack, "what is your status here? Are you a waiter or are you the financial manager of this concern?"

"'Deed, boss, I's only a waiter."

"Well, then," said Carmack, "don't trouble yourself about the financial affairs of the place. Leave that to the manager." And he stalked out, followed by the feasted staff.

But he paid when fortune smiled again.

Pet Animal Cemetery.

Paris has a pet animal cemetery where thousands of dogs, cats, parrots and other animals are buried. Many of the inscriptions on the monuments are affecting in the extreme. "O Sappho!" is recorded above the grave of a toy terrier. "If my soul cannot join yours, dear and noble friend, I do not wish for salvation without thee! I shall wish, like thee, to slumber forever in the sleep that knows no awaking."

Over the resting place of a King Charles spaniel one reads: "I shall regret thee eternally, dear little one. How empty henceforth shall my life be without thee, dear little bowwow!"

An Expert.

She—How can you be so sure that you are in love with me and with no one else? Even I wonder at times whether there is a possibility of absolute certainty in such matters. He—You lack experience and the confidence it begets. I've been in love forty times and know every symptom.—Detroit Free Press.

Politeness.

"Politeness costs nothing," said the proverbialist.

"Which may explain," answered Miss Cayenne, "why some people of ostentatious wealth have so little use for it."

Lacks Tact.

Bates—That nephew of yours called me blackguard. Yates—Just like Ben; no tact about the boy. I've always told him that the truth was not to be spoken on all occasions.—Boston Transcript.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

FLEECED BY EMIR.

British Tourists Spoiled of Everything They Owned.

Captain S. S. Butler described to a meeting of the Royal Geographical Society recently an amusing incident which befel Captain Aylmer and himself while they were journeying from Bagdad to Damascus.

At El-Jof, in Northern Arabia, they were received by the emir, Feysul Ibn Rashid, one of whose first questions after greeting them was "Are your teeth your own or are they false?"

"On our arrival at the house placed at our disposal," continued the lecturer, "Captain Aylmer and myself congratulated ourselves on our good fortune in having such a cordial welcome, but we had not been there more than five minutes when Feysul's head slave, a richly-dressed personage called Dahm, came to tell us that the emir would not take our camels or our money, as he had plenty of both, but that he would like any things of European make or of interest that we happened to have.

"This was only too true, and during our five days' stay there there was a continued procession of slaves and hangers-on from the castle demanding things for the emir and his visitors and favorites, and demanding them in such a way that it was impossible for us, situated as we were, to refuse, until we had practically nothing of any value left, having been fleeced of watches, revolver, compasses, various clothes, and other articles of our kit.

"The slave given us was nothing more or less than a spy, and the climax was reached, and I fairly lost my temper when a negro slave, who had come to demand scent, hair grease and moustache wax for the emir, told me I was a liar when I said I had none."

One Against Mr. Edwardes.

The famous theatrical manager, Mr. George Edwardes, tells a good story illustrative of the difficulties with which managers have to contend. "I was once negotiating with a lady," he says, "to go to India as prima donna, and I thought I would approach the question artfully. We were nearly agreed, the difference between us was a paltry $500 a week—I offered her $500 and she asked me $1,000 a week. I began to tell of the glories of India, how the lady would win the hearts of all the Princes, of Jams and Rams and Dams and nabobs. I said, 'As is their custom, they'll send you ropes of pearls to tie up your dresses, elephants with trunks full of emeralds, and diamonds enough for a skirt'"—and skirts were skirts in those days. 'What is a miserable $500 a week by the side of that?' Well, I thought I had impressed the lady. She promised to think it over. She did. Next day I got a note: 'Dear Mr. Edwardes, give me my terms, and you can keep the presents.'"

The Saint and the Archangel.

It is on account of his pale, earnest face, on which suffering has left many a mark, and because of his wife's wonderful hair and complexion and her finely-moulded features, that someone has bestowed these nicknames on Mr. and Mrs. Philip Snowden. The Labor party is not deficient in good speakers, but there are not many better orators in the House than Mr. Snowden. Unfortunately, in his early days, he was the victim of an accident which has left him more or less of a cripple. At the same time this accident was the cause of his taking seriously to politics. Mrs. Snowden is also a very clever orator. She has spoken in almost every industrial centre in the United Kingdom, and has often acted as her husband's substitute when his health has prevented him fulfilling engagements.

One of "Dizzy's" Young Men.

It was Disraeli who may be said to have discovered the abilities of Lord George Hamilton, the chairman of the Poor Law Commission, whose startling report has just been issued. The late Lord Beaconsfield was attracted by handsome young men, and Lord George happened to be not only handsome, but he was the son of the statesmen's great friend, the third Duke of Abercorn. It was at "Dizzy's suggestion that Lord George, then a young man of twenty-three, was put up to lead a forlorn hope in Middlesex, and to the surprise of everyone he was returned at the head of the poll. The sunny and equable temper of Lord George has gained for him much popularity, while one of his old colleagues has been heard to say, "George Hamilton is a useful fellow to have in the Cabinet, because he knows when to be silent."

Advice From the Gallery.

One of the best stories concerning Charles Warner, the popular English actor, who met with such a tragic end a few days ago, tells of an amusing incident which happened when he was appearing in a play written by Mr. George R. Sims, in which he is supposed to be starving in a garret. Before going on the stage he had forgotten to remove a valuable diamond ring, which glistened on his finger. He had a peculiar trick of extending his hand high above his head, and this night the light caught the gem and made it flash at the very moment he was declaring: "My wife and child are starving and I cannot give them bread. What shall I do? What shall I do?" A voice from the gallery responded: "Pawn yer ring, guv'nor!"

No Pension at 102.

Timothy Hennessy, though a hundred and two, works occasionally on his farm at Midleton, County Cork, Ireland. A few days ago he was refused an old-age pension on the ground of being in receipt of sufficient income. He is believed to be the oldest applicant in Ireland for a pension.

Value of Maypoles.

The education of the London (Eng.) County Council has decided to supply maypoles to the girls and mixed departments of the elementary schools. A sub-committee reported that maypole exercise was a source of considerable physical and moral benefit to the pupil.

"OXOL"

The word "Oxol" does not mean one food, or one preparation. No; "Oxol" is a name given to all goods for horses, cattle, swine and sheep, prepared by Messrs. A. E. & T. G. Wintour of Australia New Zealand, England and Canada.

The veterinary preparations as well as the compressed bales of fodder placed on the market of the world under the name of

are all of the greatest possible order of merit and may be used by farmers, graziers, dairymen, and all owners of stock with the full assurance that these goods have the power in a very short time to double their incomes by feeding, fattening and curing all animals, which to them mean money.

Owners of five 40-acre claims known as the Todd-McNeil claims adjoining the townsite of Elk City. Claims developed and thirty veins stripped showing native silver. Will start shipping upon opening of river. Claims conceded to be the richest group in Montreal river district by all competent authorities.

As the company is headed by the most honorable and conservative business men of Montreal, we are assured of a square deal all around, and no manipulating of stock.

We have the best Mining Engineer money can procure to put in charge of the work, namely,

J. C. BIEDLEMAN, OF SPOKANE, WASH.

Stock is not in the hands of any brokers, thereby saving the company the excessive commissions demanded by them, which enables us to put it in development work instead. The present allotment of stock is all that will be put on the market at any price.

Leg was Broken

Mr. John White, 293 Aylmer St., of the cartage firm of White Brothers, had the misfortune to have his leg broken yesterday morning about 9.30 in an accident on Charlotte St. He was at Kennedy's blacksmith shop where some steel for the shop was being unloaded when a box of steel that was on the truck fell over on his leg fracturing it at the ankle. Dr. Eastwood was called and reduced the fracture.

Silver Maple Mines

Is reported to have native silver and the intention of the directors is to continue sinking on the present shaft to a depth of 200 feet. Before this depth is reached there will be considerable ore taken out, when a shipment will be made. From present indications the properties should pay good dividends and the stock when listed should reach a high point in a short time. This appears to be a real good speculation as the capital is very low, $100,000, and with 80 acres on which assays of from 671 to 967 oz. of silver to the ton have been taken should appeal to most mining investors. An American millionaire has said that, "No man ever amassed great wealth without speculation." This being true a great many people will die poor because they never speculate.

PERSONAL

Mr. L. M. Byers was in Norwood yesterday.

Miss Josie Morrow is the guest of friends in Lindsay.

Conductor Hoskill is again in charge of the G.T.R. flyer, after a brief illness.

Mr. John and Miss Mary Speer, 173 Hunter street east, are recovering from their recent illness.

Mr. Bert McKee spent Monday in Lakefield visiting his grandmother, Mrs. McKee, and left yesterday for Dundalk, where he will spend a couple of weeks at his parents before returning to Fort William.

Mr. O. S. Matchett, 364 Mark St., desires to thank the Ladies' Aid and Epworth League, of Mark street Methodist church for the two beautiful bouquets received during his illness.

Rev. Geo. Yule, of Winchester, Ont., formerly of St. Paul's church of this city, is a guest of Mr. Wm. Mudill.

The engagement is announced of Miss Irene Mallory, Brockville, to Mr. O. C. Bissell, Peterborough. The marriage will take place early in June.

Mr. Jas. D. Clarke has been called home to Elora on account of the serious illness of his father, Col. Clarke, formerly clerk of the Ontario Legislature.

The numerous friends of Rev. Dr. Marsh, Springville, will be pleased to learn that he has so far recovered from his recent severe illness as to make a visit to the city yesterday—the first time in about twelve weeks. Rev. Dr. Marsh was doubly prostrated with typhoid fever, one period of this disease following on the other, after apparent perfect recovery from the first attack. He is now thoroughly convalescent, and is rapidly regaining strength.

A failing day nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the Heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The stomach also has its hidden or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt, fairly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness is the only scientific and successful field by all dealers.

LEASE OF WATER POWERS.

Notice is hereby given that the lease of the two groups of water-powers below mentioned, will be offered at public auction in the sales' room of the department of Lands and Forests, in this city, on Tuesday, the 11th May next, at 10.30 o'clock in the forenoon.

The lease will be for seventy-five years on the terms below stipulated and on such other conditions as will be made known to the public on the day of the auction.

1. The "Kai-Kai-Ke" group (River des Quinze).

Description; —The water-powers created by the Kai-Kai-Ke rapid and the other rapids and falls situated above it as far as Lake des Quinze, in the county of Pontiac, at about 12 miles from the Indian Village of North Temiscamingue to which the steamboats connecting with the C.P.R. trains, at Temiscamingue ascend; also four hundred acres of land in the vicinity of the said rapid and of the Kai-Kai-Ke portage, from the head of the said rapid to a line drawn across the river des Quinze, at nine hundred feet above the entry of the channel called "Bryson Creek," together with all the lands that may be flooded in consequence of the construction of the dams intended to submerge the rapids above that of Kai-Kai-Ke and to Lake des Quinze exclusively, without such dams causing any portion whatever of the waters of River des Quinze to overflow into some other streams.

Total head, 98 feet; absolute power at low water, 32,980 horse-power, without warranty of exact measurement.

The lessee shall be obliged to expend a sum of $250,000 on the development of the said water-powers within the three years following the passing of the lease, in default whereof the lease shall be cancelled and the payments made confiscated.

2. "Island Rapids," group (River des Quinze).

Description; — The water-powers formed by the rapids known under the name of "Big Pipe Stone," "Little Pipe Stone" and "Islands Rapids," in the same county, at about eight miles from North Temiscamingue, to which the steamboats connecting with the C.P.R. trains of Temiscamingue ascend, including; 1. The bed and the water-powers of the River des Quinze, properly so called from a line drawn across that river at nine hundred feet above the entry or head of "Bryson Creek," (a the prolongation across the said river of the division line of ranges 7 and 8 of the township of Guigues; 2. The bed and the water powers of "Bryson Creek," channel or arm of the said river; 3. The large island between the river des Quinze, properly so called and the said "Bryson Creek," as well as all the islands and fore shores and all the islets and rocks in the said river and said "Bryson Creek," between the two lines above described; 4. A strip of land of 10 chains (660 feet) in width or depth (measured in a due north and south direction) along northern bank of the river des Quinze and of "Bryson Creek" and extending between the two lines above described; 5. Lastly, a strip of land also of 10 chains in width or depth, along the southern bank of the river des Quinze, between the two said lines drawn transversely to the river.

All these lands, bed of the river des Quinze, bed of Bryson Creek, islands, etc., covering a superficies of about 3000 acres.

The difference of level in the river des Quinze between the two lines above described is 95 feet in round numbers representing at low water, an absolute power of 32,000 horse-power, the whole without warranty of exact measurement.

The lessee shall be obliged to expend $300,000 on the development and working of these hydraulic powers within a delay of three years from the date of the passing of the lease under pain of resiliation of the lease and the confiscation of any payment made in the said delay.

The government binds itself to not sell for ten years from this any lands on the banks of the river des Quinze on a width or depth of at least fifteen chains (990 feet) beyond the lands above designated, from the foot of the rapids called "Island Rapids" to Lake des Quinze exclusively, so that the lessee may, at all points of the bank have free access to the river and that he may choose within that area the lands necessary for the full working of the said water-powers, which lands, whose superficies—including that of the lands mentioned in the above descriptions—shall not exceed 2560 acres for the "Island Rapids" group, and 2000 acres for the "Kai-Kai-Ke" group, shall also form part of the property leased.

The upset price shall be fixed on the day of the auction and each person desirous of becoming a bidder, must deposit at the Department of Lands and Forests before the sale, an accepted cheque for $10,000 which will be returned to him after the sale, unless he be the person to whom the property will be adjudged, to this person the said sum of $10,000 will be refunded when he shall have given proof of complete compliance with the conditions prescribed as to the development of the said water-powers, which compliance must be effected within the six months following the date of the lease.

Dental Lavatories in Sleeping Cars

Some of the Western railroads have been calling attention to dental lavatories which have recently been introduced in sleeping cars on their lines. As a matter of fact, the Pullman Company have decided to provide in all new sleeping cars that they build and in all the present sleeping cars when they are next put through the shops dental lavatories which will doubtless be much appreciated by their patrons. Already some of the Pullman sleeping cars operated over the Grand Trunk Railway System are provided with this new and special sanitary feature.

Simpson and Appleby Hook Up at Twenty Miles on Good Friday

Toronto, March 31.—It is do or die with a vengeance for Fred Simpson, the Ojibway Thunderbolt, on Good Friday. The Indian Marathoner gets a chance to retrieve the laurels he lost to "A. Shrubb, world's champion," a couple of weeks ago by trimming Fred Appleby, Chrubb's conqueror in the first outdoor race of the Canadian season.

Appleby beat Shrubb and Shrubb defeated Simpson.

Where do you figure the Indian?

Nowhere on that bald proposition, but send your tracks and back up a bit. Appleby defeated Shrubb at 15 miles. Shrubb cleaned Simpson up at 12 miles, and Simpson beat Appleby in the Olympic Marathon.

Simpson and Appleby meet at 20 miles.

Simpson is a Marathoner—a 20 and 25-mile man. Appleby is a 15-mile man.

SIMPSON'S RACE.

As far as race conditions, Simpson seems to have Appleby on the hip. The race is right at the redman's best distance—the Hamilton Herald distance, where he ran second twice in near record time.

He can have no excuse this time if he loses.

"I'm not whining much about the Shrubb-Simpson race results," said Tom Eck, the Indian's handler, "but Simpson was suffering from a severe cold, and I wanted a week's postponement. If I had got that there would have been a real race, but Simpson would have been second just the same. Now I have my man at his own distance. If Appleby beats him I'll have no excuses unless he throws a splint or the club house falls on him during the race. I recognize that the Englishman is the best man in the world at 15 miles, but I think at 20 we will be there, and there strong.

THE NEGOTIATIONS.

The history of the negotiations of the race promoters is worth repeating.

Appleby was decided upon.

Shrubb, as his opponent, this could not get, for Shrubb is tied up to Tom Longboat for a 15-mile race right after the big Marathon Saturday, and until Alfie gets that he'll have Indian nightmares and has no time for anyone else.

Hans Holmer tumbled into the money market, and the Bluenose was offered the job.

HOLMER REFUSES.

"I'm not the man," said Holmer, "I'm not in shape yet. I'll run 10 miles in a 20-mile relay," and Hans proceeded to estimate himself worth Rosedale grounds and the ball club as an attraction.

Then came John D. Marsh, the Manitoba veteran, who defeated Shrubb at Winnipeg a year ago. John D. has been around Michigan cleaning up "ganders," and John D.'s "a No. 1 hard" muscles just ashed for a chance at Longboat, Appleby, Shrubb, et al.

Fact is, John D. was so anxious for a crack at the top notchers that he would have contracted to run from Detroit to Toronto the week of the race, and then meet anybody, anywhere, at any distance.

John D.'s chances against Appleby did not look too good, so Simpson was chosen as the best man.

Tom Eck jumped at such a chance for his Ojibway to retrieve himself, so he signed up in a hurry.

PREMIER ROBLIN SAYS MANITOBA WANTS A DREADNOUGHT GIVEN

Matter is One for the Dominion and Not for Provinces, but Manitobans Would Enthusiastically and Unanimously Endorse Gift of Battleship

Toronto, March 31.—In view of the statement that the individual Provinces of Canada, particularly Ontario and Manitoba, might consider a proposal to make a gift of a Dreadnought to the Imperial navy, the Star today asked the premiers of the different Provinces if the favored such a proposition.

The following answers have already been received;

Sir James Whitney, Ontario —"I have neither received any communication nor have I communicated with anybody on this subject, but I desire again to emphasize the statement made by me yesterday, and to repeat that in my opinion Canada has let a great opportunity go by."

Premier R. P. Roblin, Manitoba —"Heartily approve of action taken by New South Wales and Victoria. The question of defence being Federal in character, the contribution should be made by the Parliament of Canada. The people of Manitoba are unanimously and enthusiastically in favor of a Dreadnought being at once built and presented to the British Government, and will support and endorse any action that the Parliament of Canada will take to this end."

Premier G. H. Murray, Nova Scotia —"Am not in a position at present to answer your question."

Premier F. L. Haszard, P.E.I. —"The legislature is prorogued, and I am not in a position to give any answer to the question just now."

Premier Hazen, New Brunswick—Could not be reached by the Star, or its correspondent today, but asked by the St. John Sun, he declined to make any public statement on the question.

Premier Scott, Saskatchewan—Mr. Scott being absent, W. R. Motherwell, the provincial secretary, wired; "We heartily concur in sentiments expressed in resolution recently adopted in the Canadian Parliament concerning practical loyalty to the Motherland."

Premier Gouin, Quebec—Gave his answer in an interview with the Star's correspondent. At first he said he did not think it wise to answer such a question without being prepared. The question is a serious one, but he does not expect the Provincial legislature to grapple with it, as he is fully confident that the Federal Government will handle the matter to the satisfaction of the whole population. Therefore, he does not want to take immediately an attitude that could give openings to misrepresentation.

Pinkerton Detective on the Kinrade Case

Portsmouth, Va., March 31.—In quest of information which may aid the Canadian authorities in unravelling the intricate and baffling details of the Kinrade murder case, Hamilton's deepest mystery, a detective has come to Virginia. A Pinkerton sleuth is here now probing with all the cunningness that Pinkerton's possess into Miss Florence Kinrade's life while in this city. Mr. James M. Bum, who was, according to Miss Kinrade's statement at the Hamilton inquest, a rejected suitor, has been interviewed by the Pinkerton man, who is in the employ of the Crown, coming not from Canada in this service but from the New York headquarters. Manager Butler, of the Orpheum theater, where Miss Kinrade sang, has also been questioned by the detectives, as has his wife. Newspaper men have also been interviewed, particularly with reference to the card which was attached to the bouquet of flowers which Miss Kinrade received while she was singing in the Orpheum. It is understood that on the southward trip the detective called in Richmond and Manchester, Va.

Property Committee Wants to Sell Vacant Property to Residents

A meeting of the Property Committee was held last night (when several matters of more or less importance were dealt with. Ald. Bradburn is handling his committee in good shape this year and there will be favorable results before the year is out.

One important matter taken up was the sale of several strips of land adjoining the street which are no good to the city but which are valuable to residents. This will be sold if the committee can get their recommendation through the council.

TO SELL LAND.

Chairman Ald. Bradburn reported that Architect Blackwell would furnish the committee with the specifications for the new isolation hospital. While these are being prepared the committee will visit the Hilliard farm and select a site for the building.

Ald. Bradburn said the city owned a part of a lot on Aylmer street, 40x80 feet, which was purchased for the opening of Aylmer street south. The property was bought from McMahon. A real estate dealer offered to purchase it and asked the committee to place a price on it.

The committee thought it would be well to sell it if a reasonable price could be secured. The committee will therefore recommend the council to authorize the committee to sell.

The committee also received offers for a strip of land adjoining Mr. G. H. Savary's property at 235 Wescott street. The offer was for $100.

Mr. W. S. Robinson offered $100 for the strip adjoining his property.

It was decided that both strips be sold at the price offered.

The committee also asked the council for authority to sell the three-cornered lot on Murray street near Stewart, which has been used for piling the old wooden walks on.

REPAIRS TO ROOF.

A communication was received from Engineer Hay, stating that the roof on the building presented to the city by the Nicholls estate, opposite the city buildings, stating that the roof was leaking now and he recommended that it be repaired at once.

The committee will ask the council for authority to have the roof repaired.

THE TOWN CLOCK.

A letter was received from Messrs. Alexander & Miller, making an offer to put the lighting fixtures in the town clock. It will cost $75 to put in a good job.

The matter was left over for a short time until the committee could figure out their finances.

REFUSE GROUND.

Ald. Bradburn brought up the matter of the refuse ground for the next year. The present agreement expires the 30th of April, and something must be done. The city pays $400 a year now.

The chairman stated that he saw the lot Mr. Stevens offered. There are about 41-2 acres in it, and he asks $800 and states he could get a man to work the ground and look after the trenches if the city did not charge any rent for it. If this could be made satisfactory it would pay for itself in two years.

The committee will look into the matter at once and see what can be done.

A Harrier Club to be Formed

A new cross country Harriers' Club is to be organized tonight when a meeting of young men will be held at 27 Lafayette avenue at eight o'clock. There are a number of young fellows in the city who are not yet connected with any athletic association in the city, and who are good runners. The object of the club will be to bring these fellows out and develop their speed. It is proposed to hold a paper chase every Saturday and two runs weekly. A large attendance is requested for tonight.

Carpenter's Tools were Stolen

Hector Baker was arrested by P. C. McGinty at his residence, College street, yesterday afternoon. He is said to have stolen a number of carpenters' tools from Robert Trew, Bolivar street. The kit contained a hammer, hatchet, square, two saws and a plane was found at his house. The theft is alleged to have been committed yesterday morning at a place on George street, where Mr. Trew was working.

Baker will likely appear before the magistrate in the morning.

Splendid Sermon by Rev. R. Seaborn in St. John's Church

Rev. R. Seaborn, M.A., of Toronto, was the speaker at St. John's church last night. He based his sermon on the text:—"The fruit of the spirit joy," which passage may be found in St. Paul's Epistle to the Galatians, 2.5. The reverend gentleman's discourse was of an exceptionally instructive and impressive nature, and claimed the undivided attention of the congregation. He contended that while many people think the end of religion is penitence, contrition and conviction of sin, the great result of religion is joy. Jesus Christ for the joy that was before him endured the cross. He realized that his manifold sufferings ultimately meant joy to the world. St. Paul who suffered many trials and persecutions after taking service for Christ, must have recognized that true religion produces joy when he wrote while in prison, "Rejoice in the Lord always." There is, said the speaker, a five-fold joy I would like every christian to possess—the joy of forgiveness; of companionship; of service; of growth and of strength. It is the Holy Spirit that brings us forgiveness and companionship, fills us with power for and joy of service and enables us to grow strong in Christ's love and work. Therefore, Mr. Seaborn concluded, let each christian's prayer be "Come Holy Ghost my soul inspire; bring to my poor heart the five-fold joy that should be mine and strengthen me to fight against sin and the devil, and win a great victory in the service of Jesus Christ."

Peterborough's Delegates to Missionary Convention

The local Protestant churches are well represented at the convention in connection with the Laymen's Missionary Movement, which opened in Toronto yesterday, and at which some 4,000 delegates were present. Nearly all the churches have appointed delegates who are in Toronto. The list, as complete as could be obtained, is as follows;

St. James church—Rev. H. M. Manning.

Knox church—Rev. H. J. Keith, Messrs. R. F. McWilliams and Richard Chiles.

George street Methodist church—Rev. F. A. Pearson, Messrs. B. F. Ackerman, B. Shortly and D. W. Dumble.

Park street Baptist—Rev. W. L. Riddiford, Messrs. Chas. Barrie, Chas. Green and Roy Jackson.

Murray street Baptist—Rev. G. R. Webb, Messrs. T. F. Matthews, Dr. Scott and P. Downham.

St. John's church —Mr. Roland Palmer and others.

St. Paul's church—Rev. R. Pogue, Messrs. J. C. Shook, Wm. Madill, H. O. Fiske, G. M. Roger and Sheriff Hall.

Mark street Methodist church —Rev. G. H. Coon.

Charlotte street Methodist church —Rev. G. W. Henderson, Messrs. R. J. Kidd, John Williams, A. B. Cunningham, H. P. Kennedy and Dr. Morrison.

The representatives from St. Andrew's church to the Laymen's Congress in Toronto left yesterday morning to join in the meetings. They were; Messrs. John Matthieson, John Hill, Andrew McFarland, Richard Lees, R. M. Waddell and Wm. Langford, Jr., Rev. Mr. Potter will go up to Toronto today.

Water Commissioners Reduce Rate on the Hydrants to $27.50

The Finance Committee met the Water Commissioners yesterday afternoon and succeeded in securing a reduction in the charge for hydrants to $27.50 a year flat. This puts Peterborough on a level with the lowest city in the province and will save the council $702.50 a year for water for fire protection.

The members of the Finance Committee are to be congratulated upon the success of their efforts and the Water Commissioners and especially the chairman, Mr. T. F. Matthews, for the fair and generous way in which the request of the committee was treated.

A meeting of the Finance Committee was held yesterday morning when the question of the water rates was discussed, and it was decided to have a joint meeting with the commissioners in the afternoon and present the request to them. The joint meeting was held in the afternoon when the Finance Committee placed their case before the commissioners. Ald. Bradburn, in the absence of the chairman, acted as spokesman, and handled the subject successfully.

Peterborough has 213 hydrants altogether. In the beginning the city paid $50 per year per hydrant. Later on the water company reduced the rate to $35 per year. Then about five years ago the Water Commissioners readjusted the rates whereby the city paid $30 per year for the old hydrants and $35 per year for five years for any new hydrants put in. This rate has remained the same until today when the new rate of $27.50 per year per hydrant flat will go into force.

The city has 179 hydrants for which $30 were paid and 34 hydrants at $35 per paid. Thus a saving of $702.50 per year is made. A few more touches like this will help a great deal to keep the city's fund in good shape this year.

Murray Street Baptists Will Purchase a Site for Their New Church

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the new Murray street Baptist church recommended last night that the church purchase a new site, on Murray street, if possible, but that all discussion of the report be left over until next Wednesday night when the congregation will meet again.

The above was the report of the committee, and that practically means that a new and much larger church is to be erected this year, although it is understood that the details of the report will not be made public until after the next meeting.

There are properties on Murray street which would be satisfactory for a church building and a handsome building opposite the Central Park would greatly add to the appearance of the street and would be in keeping with the other buildings in the neighborhood.

If the new Murray street church is erected opposite the park that section will be one of the most important and most attractive in the city.

WEDDING BELLS

(Special to The Times.)

Bethany, March 29.—The marriage of Miss Emma Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Graham of Cavan, to Mr. Jefferson Widdis of Omemee, took place at her parents' residence "Ebenizer," on Wednesday, March 24th, Rev. Mr. Adams of Bethany, being the officiating clergyman.

At the appointed hour to the harmonious strain of Mendelssohn, played by Mrs. Adams, the young couple took their place beneath an arch of evergreens trimmed with carnations.

The bride was attired in an empress gown of white taffeta silk, with the usual bridal veil caught up with lilies of the valley, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. She was assisted by Miss Eva Bryans of Havelock, who looked pretty in a gown of white organdie. Mr. Norman Yee of Omemee, acted as groomsman.

After the ceremony, the guests about fifty in number, sat down to a most sumptuous repast in the dining room. The bride is well known in Cavan, having for a number of years taken a deep interest in church matters, and being organist of Ebenizer church. She was widely known for her musical talent, and her many friends will indeed regret her departure from the neighborhood.

The groom has always lived in the vicinity of Omemee where he owns a beautiful farm.

The young couple will reside near Omemee.

They are followed by the hearty wishes of their many friends for a long and prosperous wedded life.

Mr. G. MacDonnell, who was moved to the local branch of the Bank of Montreal some three weeks ago, has been transferred to that Bank of Montreal, Oakwood, and leaves today to assume his new duties.

Sister's Trick

But It All Came out Right

How a sister played a trick that brought rapy health to a coffee fiend is an interesting tale;

"I was a coffee fiend—a trembling, nervous, physical wreck, yet clinging to the poison that stole away my strength. I mocked at Postum and would have none of it.

"One day my sister substituted a cup of piping hot Postum for my morning coffee but did not tell me what it was. I noticed the richness of it and remarked that the coffee tasted fine but my sister did not tell me I was drinking Postum for fear I might not take any more.

"She kept the secret and kept giving me Postum instead of coffee until I grew stronger, more tireless, got a better color in my sallow cheeks and a clearness to my eyes, then she told me of the health-giving, nerve-strengthening life-saver she had given me in place of my morning coffee. From that time I became a disciple of Postum and no words can do justice in telling the good this cereal drink did me. I will not try to tell it, for only after having used it can one be convinced of its merits.

Ten days trial shows Postum's power to rebuild what coffee has destroyed.

"There's a Reason."

Colonel Fred Wharburton Married Miss Elliott, —Miss Kinrade's Friend

Ottawa, March 31.—Mr. A. R. Wharburton, Liberal member from Queen's, P.E.I., has made the interesting discovery that Col. Wharburton, whose name figured prominently in the evidence of Florence Kinrade, in connection with the inquest recently held at Hamilton, is a cousin of his.

That there is such a man in existence, Mr. Wharburton says, there is not a shadow of doubt. He was attached to the Royal Engineers for a number of years and retired, going to Virginia, where he followed the profession of a civil engineer. It is known that he recently married a lady known as Miss Elliott, and when last heard from he was in Southern California. This individual, whose full name is Col. Fred Wharburton, is about 60 or 65 years of age.

Indian Still Favorite for the $10,000 Marathon Derby

Toronto, March 31.—New York despatches, discussing the big $10,000 Derby Marathon, say that all the runners will complete their training today.

They still persist in having Tom Longboat in Tom Flanagan's care, and say that he will do 20 miles over the roads in West Chester as his final stunt. Dorando is down for a 15-mile jog on the turf in Central Park, while Matt Maloney, the New Yorker, who claims the outdoor Marathon record, said he would do 15 miles in Yonkers today. Johnny Hayes says 15 miles will do him for a last practice gambol. St. Yves, the Frenchman, did 12 miles this morning at Princeton. He did 19 1-2 miles over a soggy grass course Monday in two hours flat, and that is good going.

Shrubb, the despatch says, will do 18 or 20 miles today. Seeing that Shrubb only left Ottawa this morning the truth of this information is doubted. Shrubb will undoubtedly rest today and jog seven or eight miles at Montclair tomorrow.

Shrubb's races at Toronto, Montreal, and Ottawa have been about right, but look out for Dorando. Harry Pollok has laid Dorando up for two weeks now, and that two weeks, following his hard winter campaign will about put the Italian right.

St. Yves, across the board, looks like the best bet, but don't overlook Longboat. The wily Indian is down to 144 pounds, and, while he did not show form here, he may have the necessary steam under his belt when he faces the starter. He likes the open air and cool weather.

Important to Ladies

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto is visiting this town, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments reserved at the Hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at Hotel Oriental, Peterborough, Wednesday, April 7.

Notice

Notice is hereby given that a by-law was passed by the City of Peterborough on the 22nd day of March A.D., 1909, providing for the issue of debentures to the amount of $2,000 for the purpose of paying for the construction of permanent street crossings and that such bylaw was registered in the registry office of the County of Peterborough, on the 24th day of March, 1909.

Any motion to quash or set aside the same or any part thereof must be made within three months after the first publication of this notice, and cannot be made thereafter.

Roll Call at the Murray St. Church

The annual roll call of Murray street Baptist church was held last night and proved the most successful ever held. The attendance was especially large and all the tables were filled while the supper was all that could be desired. The roll call is the great gathering of the year of the church family, and it is looked forward to by all the Baptists. After supper the roll was called and this occupied something over two hours. Several members from outside places were present.

Scarlet Fever

There were 21 cases of scarlet fever reported in the city during the month of March. This is the heaviest outbreak of scarlet fever for several years past.

PERSONALS.

Mr. R. Hicks was in Keene on business yesterday.

Mr. Webb of Chicago, is in the city the guest of his brother, Rev. J. R. Webb.

Mr. W. G. Morrow left last night on a business trip to Pittsburg.

Rev. Canon Davidson leaves this morning to attend the National Laymen's Missionary Conference, now in progress in Toronto.

There will be no Lenten service in St. John's church this afternoon on account of the absence of the rector.

Says This Medicin Has Mystic Powers

It's in the spring that health gives out—that folks begin to feel draggy, weary, restless,—hate to eat, look pale, feel discouraged.

If you've reached this state read what J. W. Jervell, well known in Morristown, has to say about the medicine that cured him. "Last winter I caught a heavy cold that settled in my back. My kidneys and liver were affected and my health failed. By spring I was in bad shape —couldn't sleep like I used to—felt tired in the morning—ate very little —was terribly depressed, late and anxious looking. Twinges of rheumatism, frequent neuralgia attacks over the temples, made matters worse. The doctor prescribed three times, but didn't help. Then I heard of Dr Hamilton's Pills—They possess mystic powers surely, for I gained and improved day by day and now am in perfect health again. I will praise and use Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I die."

The ingredients in Dr. Hamilton's Pills are pure and wholesome—come right from the storehouse of Nature to the form of veletable juices and extracts,—consequently this gentle invigorating laxative tonic and blood purifier is safe for old and young alike. We assure you of enormous benefit from Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which revitalize delicate glands, search out the seat of hidden disease, flood the body with vigor and health that has caused thousands of broken-down, despairing men and women to join in a mighty song of praise for the beneficient aid that comes from this king of all tonics. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills today. 25c. at all dealers.

Creeps Like a Serpent

Catarrh is an Insidious Disease, scarcely Noticeable at First, but Horrible in Relentless if not Checked.

No disease makes such inroads into weak constitutions as Catarrh. It spreads from the place of beginning to the lungs, bronchial tubes, stomach, intestines, and before long all the organs of the body are affected.

A splendid remedy, attended with remarkable success in curing Catarrh, has lately come prominently to the front. Its name is Catarrhozone, and no case is recorded where it failed to quickly relieve and cure.

The strong points about Catarrhozone are that it is both a local and constitutional treatment. It not only affords quick relief to the local symptoms, but also purifies the blood of all Catarrhal poisons, builds up and strengthens the system.

Catarrhozone Inhaler supplies an abundance of medicated air which is breathed in at the mouth, and after passing through every air cell and air passage of the breathing organs, is slowly exhaled through the nostrils.

This penetrating, volatile antiseptic at once kill the germs that cause Catarrh, and prevents the disease spreading when once established. It is so healing and soothing that the inflamed membranes and sore spots are restored to normal and healthy condition in a few days.

Catarrhozone cleanses the nose and throat and keeps them entirely free of mucous discharge. It prevents dropping in the throat, cures headache and makes breathing easy and the breath pure and sweet.

To build up and invigorate the system, a blood purifier and tonic called Ferrozone should be taken after each meal. In conjunction with Catarrhozone it is a valuable aid in establishing such a healthy condition of the body that Catarrh cannot exist.

Other medicines have been known to give relief, but to permanently eradicate every trace of Catarrh you must use Catarrhozone. It is a common-sense, earnest, clean method of cure that is endorsed by the profession and all intelligent pharmacists.

You are sure to be benefitted quickly and positively cured by Catarrhozone. The complete outfit costs only $1.00. Trial size, 25c. Sold by Druggists and N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Sir Evelyn Wood.

Sir Evelyn Wood, who has just celebrated his seventy-first birthday, is one of the few still active officers who saw service in the Crimea. It is not generally known that Sir Evelyn entered the navy, being fourteen at the time. He was present at the siege of Sebastopol, when his daring brought him under the notice of the Government. He left the navy at the end of the Crimean war and joined the 13th Dragoons. His army career has been of peculiar brilliance, and his gallantry has been exceptional. The story is told how one day the gallant field marshal, when he was commanding at Aldershot, was in mufti at the railway station, and went unrecognized by a private. Sir Evelyn went up to the man and told him who he was. "Tommy," after a brief pause, put his hand on the general's shoulder. "Look here," he said, "go easy. Just let Sir Evelyn hear you say that, and he'll jolly well punch your head."

Burial of Sir John Moore.

The death of Sir John Moore at Corunna is probably the best remembered fact in all the checkered history of the peninsular war, for a good reason. There are poets, like Shenstone, whose fame is secured by a single quatrain. The poetical reputation of Rev. Charles Wolfe, who eight years after the event, wrote "The Burial of Sir John Moore," rests on that one production alone. Ascribed, before its author's name became known to such well-known poets as Campbell and Byron, the poem took firm hold of a nation's heart. Dying of consumption at the early age of thirty-two, Wolfe's memory will ever be kept green by just that one piece, which "Ingoldsby" parodied, which a million schoolboys have recited, which Lord Byron pronounced to be "the most perfect ode in the language."—London Chronicle.

When Knights Were Bold.

When knights were clad in complete armor from top to toe it was essential that they should bear some sign by which their followers could distinguish them in battle, and this was the function of their armorial bearings. Knights who omitted to wear their own arms ran considerable risk, and it is related that at the battle of Bannockburn the last of the De Clares owed his death to his omission to wear his bearings. He was slain unrecognised, whereas had he been known he would have been held prisoner for the ransom or as a hostage.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. Thus is why his prescription — Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments the weak inside or controlling nerve. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to diagnose and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and real Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

TABLEAU PASSION PLAY.

Christ's Life Will Be Elaborately Produced in London.

If all goes well there will be shown in the autumn, probably at the Albert Hall, London, a series of tableaux modelled in wax and with lighting and scenic effects, illustrating the life of Christ.

At first sight it would appear that waxworks are scarcely a proper medium for reproducing these tremendous incidents; the slightest error in taste would give offence to a countless number of people. It may be said at once, however, that these will be a very special kind of waxworks, and the reverent treatment of the subjects is thoroughly well assured.

The genesis and development of the idea is interesting. It was suggested sixteen years ago by the late Sir Augustus Harris to Mr. Louis Tussaud, and the latter intended to carry it out. Ever since, he told a representative of The Standard, he has kept it in view, and during the last ten years he has spent a considerable amount of time in visiting the principal galleries abroad and making himself familiar with every detail of the pictures which it is proposed to represent. Last year Mr. Tussaud laid his plans before Rev. Father Bernard Vaughan, who immediately and whole-heartedly endorsed them. "Of course," said Father Vaughan, "the success from a religious as well as from an artistic point of view of the drama will depend upon the reverent way in which your idea is carried out. If theatrically done, it will be instructive and helpful."

Father Vaughan has drawn up a series of thirty-six tableaux, which Mr. Tussaud intends to carry out. In order to indicate the subjects chosen the first half-dozen and the last half-dozen may be mentioned: Annunciation, Visitation, No room in Inn, Shepherds and Gloria in Excelsis, The Nativity, With Shepherds, The Crucifixion, The Burial, The Resurrection, Magdalen and the Garden, The Communion, Ascension from Mt. Olivet.

Lady Aberdeen and the Slave Boys.

Lady Aberdeen, who has added another to her many good works and deeds by founding a new monthly journal to help in the campaign against consumption in Ireland, figured in a dramatic incident thirty-two years ago. She and her husband went to Egypt for their wedding tour, at a time when Gordon was trying to suppress the slave traffic. Four slave boys who were offered for sale excited Lady Aberdeen's compassion, and the slave-dealer was invited to bring them on board Lord Aberdeen's dahabeeyah, where he hoped to find a purchaser. When the man stepped on deck with his human chattels, Lord Aberdeen pointed to the British flag and said: "These boys are free! I claim them in the name of the Queen!" Afterwards, however, he compensated the slave-dealer, and Lady Aberdeen returned to England with these four boys and another whom she had rescued. Three of her adopted children died, but two were educated and set to useful work.

Beware of ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Tender for Red River Bridge

SEALED tenders, addressed to the undersigned, and marked on the envelope "Tender for the Red River Bridge," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway until twelve o'clock noon of the 8th day of April, 1909, for the construction and erection of a steel and concrete bridge and approach spans over the Red River between Winnipeg and St. Boniface, near the foot of Lombard street, together with grading and approach spans over streets in Winnipeg.

Separate tenders must be submitted for the substructure with other works as per schedule, and for superstructure.

Plans, details and profiles may be seen and full information obtained, at the office of the chief engineer at Ottawa, and also at the office of the district engineer at St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the forms supplied by the commissioners, which may be had on application to Mr. Hugh D. Lumsden, chief engineer, Ottawa, Ont., and M. S. R. Poulin, district engineer, St. Boniface, Man.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered Bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway for the sum of $35,000 for substructure and other work as per schedule, and for the sum of $35,000 for steel superstructure and ——.

The cheques deposited by the party whose tender is accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

The right is reserved to reject any or all tenders.

By Order,
P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.

The Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway,
Dated at Ottawa, 8th March, 1909.

Newspapers inserting this advertisement without authority from the commissioners will not be paid for it.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet these are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We call and cheerfully recommend

Why Do People Deposit Their Money in Banks for only 3 Per Cent. Interest?

BECAUSE, THEY THINK IT IS QUITE SAFE.

Why Do Some Invest in Bonds to get a Little Higher Interest?

Because, the bonds represent a mortgage on the property on which their money is invested which gives a feeling of safety.

Why Do People Invest in Wildcat Gold and Silver Mining Schemes? Because they think the chances of profit are big and they are willing to take the risk.

WHY NOT INVEST IN A SAFE STOCK IN A GOING COAL MINE

making money now and which presents such possibilities for development that it is expected that the profits will run from 25 per cent. to 50 per. cent. higher.

The Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited, Stock at $10 per Share is a safe Stock.

It is all common stock. There are no bonds or no mortgages or no preferred stock, on which interest must be paid before the common stockholder gets anything.

When you buy common stock of the Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited at $10 per share you become an actual owner of the mines and have an equal chance of the profits according to the number of shares held. A coal mine with a big deposit of coal ready for the miner's pick is as safe as a bank. To own and control shares of common stock in such a coal mine must be safer and better than holding bonds in a proposition in which you have no control and which may or may not be properly managed. The officers and management of the Winter Port Coal Mines of New Brunswick have the experience in mining and selling coal in both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

J. S. Gibbon, the President of the company, opened and developed the Winter Port Mines to the present stage.

W. E. Vroom, the Vice-President of the Company, was for some years actively associated in the management of the Springhill Collieries in Nova Scotia and the Albert Mines in New Brunswick.

Manufacturers in St. John speak highly of the Winter Port coal.

Winter Port coal is a good locomotive coal and has been used on the Intercolonial and other railways.

The Winter Port Coal Mines being practically on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific now opening up through New Brunswick will provide a most convenient coaling facility for that great transcontinental railway. Immense quantities of coal will be needed by the great railways and by the manufacturers, steamship lines, etc., in connection with the development of Canada's Winter Port at St. John, N.B., which is only 55 miles in a direct line from these coal mines.

Secure some Winter Port stock now at $10 per share (there is no personal liability) and get your share of the profits of a safe conservative money-making proposition.

HE HATED LONG PRAYERS.

And Well He Might After His Agonizing Experience.

"It happened," said the colonel, "that there were two colored preachers inhabiting cells in the penitentiary at Frankfort at the same time. If I remember aright, both were sentenced for polygamy, but old Sam was a Methodist parson, while old Jake was of the Baptist faith. It seems that Sam had done something to greatly offend the warden, and the punishment decided on was an old fashioned lashing. Some weeks after the affair came off the Rev. Sam, whom I had known from boyhood, was telling me about it.

"'I didn't mind de whippin' so much, Mars Jack, ef it hadn't been for de way old Jake acted. You see, de warden he said to me: "Sam, I'm gwine to whip you and 'low de whippin' will do you a whole heap uv good. I'm gwine to let old Jake pray for you, and de blows will continue to fall on your black hide while Jake's pra'r is a-goin' on. When he comes to a final stop den de punishment will likewise end."

"'Land sakes, Mars Jack, I knowed it was all up wid me den, for dat ignorant old nigger never did know when it was time to get up off'n his knees! De fac' dat a po' human bein' was in distress wasn't gwine to make a bit uv difference wid him. Well, sir, it was jes' like I 'suspected it'd be. Dey brought me out, and old Jake, de old villun, started in, and as fast as he prayed de warden come down on me wid a whip dat cut like a knife. I never did want to hear a pra'r come to an end so bad in my life, but it weren't any use. Every time I thought he was mos' through old Jake took a fresh hold, and down come de licks harder'n ever. Shorely it seemed to me like he prayed a mouth, and, Mars Jack, I wants to tell you right now dat I am set against long pra'rs for de rest uv my life.'"

ROTTEN COTTON GLOVES.

The Origin of a One Time Popular Slang Phrase.

The origin of "rotten cotton gloves," a phrase which for some years belonged to the slang of England and America, is worth relating. At a time when John le Hay was playing at the Prince of Wales' he was "commanded" to give his ventriloquial performance at a birthday entertainment at Sandringham.

His two figures, the usual squeaky old lady and the usual rude old man, had been newly dressed for the occasion, that their clothes might not suffer too keenly by comparison with the rich surroundings. But when Mr. le Hay had placed them in position and was about to begin his "show" he found to his disgust that his costumer had forgotten to change the old man's dirty cotton gloves for a pair of new kids.

The tone of shabbiness this gave to the male figure was too conspicuous to be ignored by poor Mr. le Hay, and in an eternal half minute his quick wit found a way out of the trouble for him.

"A nice thing," remarked the male doll, looking around at the royal audience with alarm, "bringing me to a swell house like this in these terrible gloves!"

This caused so much amusement that the ventriloquist decided to make more of the "wheeze," and the badly behaved old gentleman's incessant grumble throughout the entertainment, "rotten cotton gloves!" proved one of the chief successes of the evening.

The "line" was in full Mr. le Hay's subsequent performances in America as well as in England, and it, say, a man had had a bad deal in Wall street or in Throgmorton avenue it was the usual thing to say that he had a "rotten cotton deal."—London M. A. P.

A Sad Change.

While holding a term of court at Augusta once Judge Walton sentenced a man to seven years in prison for a grave crime. The respondent's counsel asked for a mitigation of the sentence on the ground that the prisoner's health was very poor. "Your honor," said he, "I am satisfied that my client cannot live out half that term, and I beg of you to change the sentence." "Well, under those circumstances," said the judge, "I will change the sentence. I will make it for life instead of seven years." It is almost needless to add that the respondent chose to abide by the original sentence, which the judge permitted him to elect.—Argonaut.

Fine Old Spanish Emeralds.

"Fine old Spanish emeralds" is a phrase which means something quite different from what it seems to imply. There never was an emerald mined in Spain, but after the conquest of Peru the conquerors brought home great quantities of loot, of which emeralds formed an important part. In this way the finest emeralds came into possession of the old Spanish families and as very few had been seen in Europe previous to that time all the best stones soon became classed as fine old Spanish emeralds. Today the expression still applies to the best emeralds of any source.

FUNNY POINTS IN LAW

Odd Problems With Which Courts Have Had to Wrestle.

A QUEER QUESTION OF TIME.

Curious Provision in an Eccentric Man's Will Upon Which Hangs the Settlement of an Estate—Are Duck Eggs Eggs, and is Skimmilk Milk?

One of the strangest problems ever submitted to the decision of the law was that growing out of the disposition of the property of an Englishman, the father of twin sons. It appears that this eccentric owned extensive tracts of land in Australia, the great part of which he stipulated in his will should go to the first of the two sons to attain the age of twenty-one years.

The younger of the sons had emigrated to Australia, while his brother remained in England, it so happening that they were in opposite quarters of the globe when they came of age. The fine point involved in the case was this: Australian time is some hours in advance of Greenwich, and therefore the claim was made that the young man in Australia reached his majority before his brother at home had done likewise. Which of the two brothers was legally entitled to the property? The question is yet unsettled and bids fair to afford employment for the exercise of lawyers' wits for many years to come.

Another hard nut for the lawyers to crack was presented by a case tried in Indiana some years ago. The question was in substance, Are eggs eggs, or are only hens' eggs eggs? Ludicrous as this may seem, the point involved some nice shades of meaning in these words, sufficient indeed to carry the case through several courts.

A man had ordered of his grocer one dozen eggs. He sent ducks' eggs. These were returned as not being what the customer had asked for, but the grocer refused to take them back. The customer, in turn, declined to receive the eggs, and they were sent back and forth so frequently for several days, during which they became bad, that finally the grocer deemed himself justified in entering suit against the customer for the value of the goods.

The magistrate before whom the case was first tried ordered the customer to pay, declaring ridiculous as it may seem, that duck eggs were as much eggs as any others. The man appealed from this, and the next court reversed the decision on the ground that such an order as the one in question tacitly implied hens' eggs, it being pointed out that if any other contention was allowed any kind of eggs might be sent, such as pigeons' canaries' or even snakes' eggs. That settled it.

In a case in a southern court this interesting question once came up: Are the grandchildren of a man also his children? In the legal sense this question is not so funny as it seems, inasmuch as it has been seriously contended not only in the United States, but in Great Britain as well, what they are.

Is skimmed milk milk? This point grew out of a case tried in Arkansas not very long ago. A man had asked at a dairy for a gill of milk to drink and was given skimmed milk, for which at the customer's complaint, the dairyman was fined. In a higher court, however, this decision was reversed, it being contended that skimmed milk was really much more milk than milk that was not skimmed, for the reason that the latter contained something that was not milk at all—viz, cream.

Some of the oddest points at law are those growing out of the tender passion. A judge in a western court was once called on to determine the hour at which evening courtship should cease. The circumstances were these:

A merchant had become much concerned at the late hour at which his daughter's lover lingered with her at the parental abode and so sought the aid of the law to expedite the young man's time of departure.

In delivering his decree the learned judge declared that 11 o'clock p. m. was the latest hour at which any young man, fiance or not, should be tolerated in the young woman's home and that after such hour the parents would be entirely justified in forcibly ejecting him.

A queer case once turned up in a New England town. A young man had embraced his sweetheart so vigorously that he seriously injured her ribs. If he suffered any mental anguish as the result of this contretemps, so likewise did he suffer in pocket, for as the result of an action brought against him by the young woman the youth was fined in the sum of $500 damages for the injury done the girl's ribs.

New England also affords this amusing case: A young Lothario of Maine during the course of his wirtship was each evening hospitably entertained at supper by his sweetheart. Some time afterward, his ardor cooling, the young man sought other fields to conquer. Then what should the young woman do but sue the young man who had been so bountifully entertained for obtaining the suppers on false pretenses. And, what is more, she succeeded in getting a judgment.—Edwin Tarrisse in New York Tribune.

An Exception.

Little Joe—Say, papa, is it true that history repeats itself? Papa—So they say, my boy. Little Joe—Well, mine don't when I'm trying to learn it.—Exchange.

HE GOT BIG PAY.

An African Salary That Commanded Respect and Obedience.

Makuba and Obianga were two Africans, the one the captain of a boat crew and the other subordinate to him. Obianga was an independent fellow, not in the least lazy, who rather resented "bossing." In a book entitled "The Jungle Folk of Africa" R. H. Milligan tells of an altercation between the two men. Makuba, the diplomatic, came out of it with flying colors.

The worst disputes between Makuba and Obianga took place when they supposed that I was asleep. The native when he lies down anywhere sleeps immediately. Whenever I was lying in the bottom of the boat they always thought I was unconscious and that no conceivable noise could waken me.

Captain Makuba orders Obianga to "haul away on the peak halyards," to which Obianga promptly replies:

"Do it yourself."

"I won't do it; you will do it!" says Makuba in a threatening tone.

"Are you my father?" says Obianga.

"No," answers Makuba, with infinite scorn. "How could a Kombi man be the father of a creature like you?"

"Then stop giving me orders!" says Obianga, with rising wrath. "It is not the first time you have tried it, and one of these days you will find out that it won't do."

"One of these days you will find out that I am captain of this boat and that you will have to obey me," says Makuba.

"Not as long as I carry a gun," answers Obianga.

By this time they are standing up and looking hard at each other. But Makuba would not think of striking a man in a mission boat. He therefore becomes diplomatic. Suddenly in a tone altogether different he says:

"Obianga, the trouble with you is that you are just a bushman. You don't know anything about civilization. On every big ocean steamer there is a captain, and every man on board, no matter what tribe he belongs to, obeys the captain."

Obianga becomes instantly curious and asks, "Is he rich?"

"Yes," says Makuba; "he gets big pay, and so do I get big pay."

"How much do you get, Makuba?"

"How much do you think?"

Obianga thinks as well as he knows how, his countenance distorted with the effort, and at length answers reflectively, "Two dollars a month." He himself gets a dollar and a half.

A broad smile engages Makuba's features as he slowly answers, "Five dollars a month."

Obianga gives expression to his surprise in a long, low whistle. It is quite evident to him that no ordinary person could command such wages, and in a tone of utmost compliance he says: "What was it you told me to do, Makuba? I forget."

"I forget, too," says Makuba. "Oh, yes," he adds, "I told you to haul on the peak halyards."

Maryland Lotteries.

A Baltimore man interested in antiquarian research made a collection of old lottery tickets which gives interesting testimony as to the development of public morals. Most of the tickets were given out by Maryland lotteries, but quite as large a collection could undoubtedly be made in other states. Four of the tickets are in the Washington monument lottery, which was authorized by the legislature and was not given up until 1824. As early as 1763 a lottery was advertised to build a wharf. The drawing took place April 20, 1764. Ten years later one was undertaken to build a market house in "Baltimore Town" and for "buying two fire engines and a parcel of leather buckets." In 1782 a yearly lottery was authorized to aid the city expenses. Other objects for which money was raised in this way were parsonages, church bells, circulating libraries and gristmills.

Why He Wondered.

A certain Irish police inspector was reviewing a Belfast police station, the sergeant of which was a very bad speller. Looking through the books, he came upon an entry, "Found a pig woondering on the public road."

"Sergeant," said he, "what was the pig woondering at?"

"I don't know, sir," said the bewildered man.

"Well," said the inspector grimly, "I do. He must have been wondering why I promoted you!"

The Elemental Feminine.

Arthur, aged four, and Louise, aged two and a half, were disputing over a string which Louise claimed. All threats and force on Arthur's part were useless; she would not give up. After a moment he used guile.

"Weez," he said, "will you be my little wife?"

"Ess," she coyly answered.

"Then give me the string," he commanded.

And she gave it without a murmur.—Lippincott's.

Answered.

Borleigh—Ha, ha, old man! Nailing down a carpet, are you? Jones (who has just struck his thumb)—No, you fool! The carpet was here all the time. I'm just putting the floor under it!

NERVOUS DEBILITY

OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT will cure you and make a man of you. Under its influence the brain becomes active, the blood purified so that all pimples, blotches and sickly head up; the nerves become strong as steel, so that nervousness, bashfulness and despondency disappear; the eyes become bright, the face full and clear, energy returns to the body, and the moral, physical and mental systems are invigorated; all drains cease—no more vital waste from the system. The various organs become natural and manly. You feel yourself a man and know marriage cannot be a failure. We invite all the afflicted to consult us confidentially and free of charge. Don't let quacks and fakirs rob you of your hard earned dollars.

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS.

BEFORE TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in early youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair came, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, went to Mt. Clemens for baths, but received little benefit. While at Mt. Clemens I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic. I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically, I have met them many patients and will continue to do so."

SPRING SKIN TROUBLES

Mothers who have used Zam-Buk know how it cures Spring Skin Troubles in Children or Adults. Mothers who have not yet tried it should note that Zam-Buk was unknown ten years ago, yet such is its merit that to-day it has become the standard salve in the homes of four continents! Zam-Buk is purely herbal; contains no poisonous colouring matter; is used by leading medical men; used in the British Army and Navy; used by all best fitted to know the needs of the skin. Test it yourself!

RESTORED HIS THREE CHILDREN.

MR. J. C. BATES, of Parks Falls, says:—"Parents should know how powerful Zam-Buk is as a healer of skin diseases and eruptions. My three children were all broken out on face, hands, and feet. Their condition was pitiable, and although I tried various ointments and salves, they did not seem to do any good. I heard of a few instances in which Zam-Buk had done great good when other things had failed, so gave it a trial. Within a very short time it cleared the sores from my little ones, although those sores had defied everything I had hitherto tried."

CLEARED FACE AND HANDS OF RASH.

MISS S. G. HAMILTON, of Alliston (Ont.), says:—"For a long time I suffered from spots, which broke finally into open sores. My face and hands became covered with these sores, and they were so painful, as well as unsightly, that I hardly knew which way to turn for relief. Whenever I put water near them they smarted and burned just for all the world as if I had been scalded. Zam-Buk was recommended to me, and the first few applications did so much good that I continued with it+ use. I am glad to say that a few weeks' treatment resulted in a perfect cure."

Zam-Buk cures pimples, skin eruptions, cuts, burns, bruises, piles, festering sores, ulcers, scalds, blood-poisoning, eczema, varicose ulcers, ringworm, bad leg, diseased ankles. Rubbed well into the parts affected, it cures neuralgia, rheumatism, and sciatica. All Druggists and Stores sell at 50c. box, three for $1.25, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse the cheap and harmful imitations sometimes represented to be "just as good."

Settled Mr. Greer's Claim Against the City for $90

Mr. Johnston Greer receives $90, the full amount of his claim, as a result of his accident some weeks ago. He put in his claim to the city and the Legal Committee took it up last night. The evidence was decidedly against the city and the committee decided to settle it without any further comment.

Those present at the committee were Ald. Turner, chairman; Aldermen Duffus and Metheral, Mayor Rush and City Solicitor Hall.

Mr. Wm. Biggins appeared before the committee on behalf of Mr Johnston Greer, who has a claim against the city for an accident he met with some time ago. Mr. Biggins explained how the walk on Water street north, was dangerous. There is no walk at the place where there should be and the water runs down from the gravel pit. The place is a dangerous one and he thought the city was liable. He also complained about the wire that was laid on the walk to keep the boards down. The wire is broken in many places and the ends stick up and catches ladies' dresses and frequently people fall over them.

Mr. Johnston Greer addressed the committee. He said the walk is in bad repair and water and ice accumulate and makes it slippery. That night he slipped and fell. The walk has been taken up for a distance of 16 feet 9 inches. He said when he slipped he fell backwards and struck his wrist on a plank that was out of place.

Mr. Biggins and the aldermen argued the matter for some time. It appears that the planks have been out of the particular place for four or five years and no teams have been crossing there during that time.

Mr. Allison was also present and he corroborated everything that the other two men had said. He maintained that had the plank been there the ice would not have accumulated and the accident would not have occurred. He and Mr. Higgins both stated that the north end of the town is very badly neglected. They receive no attention whatever from the city.

Mr. Greer asked for $90. He was off duty for a month and his doctor bill was $25. He was only asking for the bare amount that he was out of pocket.

When the interested parties retired the committee came to the conclusion that the claim should be paid and Ald. Duffus and Ald. Metheral moved the motion and it carried.

METHERAL'S CLAIM.

Another claim for damages was from Mr. W. G. Metheral, caused by the blocking up of Aylmer street last year for a month and a half. Both the city engineer and city solicitor were of the opinion that Mr Metheral was not entitled to any damages as the entrance to his shop was 150 feet north of the barricade and was not interfered with in any way.

The chairman stated that in the face of the two reports he could not see that the committee could not recommend anything different. There may have been a little inconvenience but not sufficient to cause any damage.

After a long discussion and dickering with the matter, Mayor Rush moved that no action be taken. This was seconded by Ald. Duffus, and it carried.

Y.M.C.A. Football Team Organized Last Night

A large and enthusiastic gathering was at the Y.M.C.A. last night when the Y.M.C.A. Football team was organized and will be entered in the Midland Football League. Besides the election of officers Messrs. Collings and Caniff were appointed to represent this club at the league meeting in the Y.M.C.A. on Saturday afternoon.

The colors of the club will be blue sweaters with white trimmings and a white triangle with a "P" in the center on the breast.

The officers elected were as follows;

President—W. S. Collings.
Vice-Pres.—D. B. McRae.
Sec.-Treas.—W. Caniff.
Manager—J. E. Sullivan.
Executive Committee—J. Archibald and R. Evans.

The meeting adjourned until Wednesday evening when a full attendance is requested.

Simpson will Save Himself for His Race with Fred Appleby

Brantford, April 1.—The twelve-mile race between Fred Simpson, the Ojibway Indian, and a relay team composed of Bill Cumming and Henry Jackson, scheduled for this city tonight, has been postponed until April 12.

Simpson has the most important engagement of his career on Good Friday, a 20-mile race with Fred Appleby, the English wonder, at Rosedale grounds, in connection with the baseball game, and he does not want to risk the chance of accident by competing here before that date.

Brantfordites are somewhat disappointed at the postponement, but in view of the circumstances, think he has made a wise move.

APPLEBY AT ROSEDALE.

Fred Appleby, the English runner who will run Fred Simpson at Rosedale on Good Friday, in connection with the baseball game, holds the world's record of 1.20.04 3-5, for 15 miles, but after that the Indian will have it on him. Appleby may have defeated Shrubb at fifteen miles, but Simpson defeated the former in the Olympic Marathon. The present race just splits the difference between the two distances, and it remains to be seen who is the greater at twenty miles, the speedy fifteen miler or the strong Marathon man.

Appleby is at present in New Jersey, but will come to Toronto on Monday to prepare for his first race as a professional. He has been very anxious to meet either Longboat or Shrubb, but their other engagements made it impossible for him to enter into a contract with either of them for some time to come. He seems to have regarded the Ojibway Thunderbolt as the next best thing, and he should be able to judge, as he met him in London.

Appleby has beaten Shrubb twice at 15 miles.

Stiff Neck

Stiff neck is caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the neck. It is usually confined to one side; or to the back of the neck and one side. While it is often quite painful, quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of rheumatism in ten requires internal treatment. When there is no fever and no swelling as in muscular and chronic rheumatism, Chamberlain's Liniment will accomplish more than any internal treatment.

Ontario Government's Four Million Loan

London, April 1.—The Bank of Montreal has been authorised by the Government of Ontario to offer £820,000 four per cent. registered stock, redeemable at par in 1947, the price issue being £102. The Canadian Associated Press understands the price is thought to be a good one for the government in comparison with the price of existing 3 1-2 per cent. stock and the securities of other Provinces. A prominent financier in the city, speaking to the Canadian Associated Press, said it was highly disadvantageous to the provinces' credit that their securities are not trustee securities, but besides this it is the case that the intrinsic merit of the obligations of the provinces are not fully appreciated in this country.

Editor Fell off the Train

St. Catharines, April 1.—J. B. Thompson, editor of the Thorold Post, is confined to his home as the result of an accident which he met with while returning on Saturday night last from the Canadian Press Association excursion to Peterborough. Mr. Thompson fell from the car steps at Merritton and cut his head and knee.

Diamonds Discovered in Ops Township

Lindsay, April 1.—Following the discovery of coal on Mr. Geo. Winn's farm in Ops township, comes the announcement that a $300 diamond has been found on a farm adjoining belonging to Mr. Patrick Tracey, lo. 15, con. 11. For some time a couple of men have been prospecting on the property and a close guard is kept on the operations. Several people on the inside are enthusiastic over the find.

Michael Carlin is at Elk Lake

Lindsay, April 1.—Michael Carlin, the much wanted assailant of Constable Shortt of Lindsay, has been located in the silver camps of Cobalt and Elk Lake. He boarded a train in Peterborough and went as far as North Bay, where he got off and made his way to Cobalt where he was recognised by a former Lindsay man. Carlin, however, soon decamped and is now supposed to be in Elk City. There is a reward of $50 for Michael's arrest.

Two Games in the Ten Pin League

Brantford Rifles are Coming Here

The swearing in of recruits for the 57th Regiment will take place on Monday, April 5th, the night of the first drill. The captains of the various companies are busy picking up men and the recruit force this year will be a very large one.

To date the St. Catharines regiment which has been invited here has not yet sent an acceptance of the invitation.

Lt.-Col. Stevenson of the 57th, has received a letter from Major Howard, of the 38th, Brantford, giving the official acceptance of the invitation extended to the Brantford Regiment to be here on Victoria Day, which falls on a Monday.

The letter is as follows;

"At a meeting of the officers held last Thursday it was unanimously decided to accept your invitation to visit your city over Victoria Day. We will probably leave Brantford between 8 and 10 o'clock Saturday night arriving in Peterborough early Sunday morning and entraining for home about 11 o'clock Monday night.

"We will send a deputation of our officers to make arrangements later on."

See our window display of Easter novelties and we think you will say it is the best assortment in town. Times Bookstore.

Otonabee Navigation Co. Getting Ready for the Opening of the Season

Commodore White Has a Gang of Workmen Getting the Fleet Ready for the Opening of Navigation

Commodore White of the Otonabee Navigation Co., with a gang of men commenced operations yesterday on the company's fleet preparatory to the opening of navigation. The coming season gives rosy promise of being the banner year for tourists, excursions and freight, and the waters cannot become free of ice any too soon. The Otonabee Company will be ready for the opening and their boats will be in the very best shape.

The steamer Water Lily, which was so popular with the public last year on the Peterborough—Stony Lake division, is being thoroughly overhauled. The machinery is being changed and improved with the object of materially adding to its speed and appearance. A new smoke stack is added and the seats will be put around the outside of the main deck.

This year the smaller steamers will be equipped with refreshment booths at which travellers and tourists may secure a cup of tea or coffee and a sandwich, etc., while the steamer Otonabee will have a first-class dining room and regular meals served on board at prices which will be reasonable. Thus the passengers will have all conveniences and the water trips out of the city will no doubt be by far the most enjoyable and fashionable.

As soon as the Water Lily is completed she will be launched and room provided for the Minnita, which will be brought down from Bobcaygeon as soon as the ice is out of the lakes.

The Otonabee also comes in for a thorough overhauling and a number of improvements will be made in this favorite vessel. The Monarch is undergoing a similar operation at her moorings at Gore's Landing, and she will make her first trip about the middle of the month or as soon as the ice is out of Rice Lake, which usually occurs between April 15th and 20th.

Oddfellows Will Attend Divine Service

Peterborough and Otonabee Lodges I.O.O.F., will attend divine service on Sunday, April 25th, to celebrate their 90th anniversary. This is an annual affair and it is expected that a record turnout will be present. The service this year will likely be held at St. Andrew's church.

Oddfellows will Go to Millbrook

On Good Friday night Peterborough Lodge, I.O.O.F., having accepted an invitation from Millbrook Lodge, will run a special train to that village and put on the work of the three degrees. A large turnout is expected as a splendid night is assured.

The Rebeccas Off for Toronto

Golden Link Lodge, Rebeccas, leave on a special car on the C.P.R. local this morning for Toronto where they will put on the degree work in one of the lodges there. The Golden Link degree team is one of the best in the province. They put the whole work on without a skip.

70,000 Americans Coming to Canada

Winnipeg, April 1.—Seventy thousand people from the United States will arrive in Western Canada during the present year, and will settle on homesteads in the three prairie provinces.

This is an estimate placed on the American movement by J. Bruce Walker, commissioner of immigration.

Tank Ship Blew Up Twelve Men Killed

Marseilles, April 1. — The French tank barque Jules Henry, Captain Escoffier, in the oil trade between Philadelphia and Cette, blew up this morning, and was practically wrecked. Twelve members of her crew were killed and many were wounded.

A representative of the Veritas Agency, accompanied by the second officer, was inspecting the vessel at the time she blew up. In the course of their work the two men entered the tank hold. Immediately after there was a tremendous explosion. The entire deck of the barque was lifted, and the forward portion of the ship was wrenched off.

TWENTY MEN BLEW UP.

Twenty men of the crew were at work painting and repairing. They all were blown into the air. Great sheets of fire shot up from the vessel, and in a few seconds she was enveloped in flames. Prompt aid came from neighboring ships in the harbor, but it was impossible for the small boats to get close in to the burning vessel. Six burned and mutilated bodies have been recovered from the floating wreckage. A number of wounded men have also been brought ashore. Others are still missing, and presumably perished.

THROWN HIGH IN AIR.

The second officer and the agency inspector were thrown high in the air by the force of the explosion. They are still alive, but are not expected to live.

The Jules Henry discharged her cargo at Cette, and arrived here March 27, with her tanks empty for inspection. It is presumed that the oil fumes in the tanks exploded.

Over Two Millions for Baltic Fleet

St. Petersburg, March 31.— The Duma yesterday passed the naval budget, including $2,242,800 for urgent improvements to the Baltic fleet, but it rejected, as it did last year, an appropriation for the construction of a new battleship on the ground that re-organization of the admiralty was incomplete, and the shipbuilding plans were not ready to debate.

M. Zvegintseff summarized the stupendous naval progress abroad, and called attention to the prevailing tendency to concentrate in home waters uniform squadrons of big ships. He said that ninety per cent. of Europe's naval strength was now stationed in the German Ocean. He pointed out Great Britain's success with liquid fuel, which originally was a Russian idea.

In conclusion he characterized the state of the Russian navy as deplorable, and demanded senatorial revision of the admiralty.

Past Grands' Night in Peterborough Lodge

The usual meeting of Peterborough Lodge No. 111, I.O.O.F., was held last night when the initiatory degree was put on by a team composed of the past grands of the lodge, and three members were duly initiated. The occasion was made one of exceptional interest by the manner in which the degree work was put on and by the very large attendance of members present. There were fully 100 members present.

Bro. D. H. Moore, P.G., during the evening presented six members with the veterans' jewels, making a very feeling speech at the same time.

Those receiving the jewels were,—Harry Long, J. D. Tully, Robt. McWhinnie, Harry Evans, R. J. Kidd, Frank Perry, J. D. Craig and Samuel Clegg.

At the close of the lodge a banquet was held in the dining hall, when Bro. Thos. Hooper catered very satisfactorily to the wants of the inner man. His choice menu brought forth many favorable comments from the members. The following toast list was then run off;—

Chairman—Bro. Dr. R. F. Morrow.
God Save the King.
The Grand Master and Lodge of Oddfellows of Ontario—Bro. A. A. Fowler, D.D.G.M.
Charter Members—P.G. Wm. Hinchcliffe.
Visiting Brethren—Bros. Keys and Collier.
Absent Members—Bros. W. J. Green.

A recitation was also given by Bro. D. Moore.

A quartette composed of Bros. Hill, Hall, Prest and Thornton, gave a fine selection.

A recitation was given by Bro McLaren.

Coal Discovered in Emily, It Burned Well on a Test

Lindsay, April 1.—Coal has been found on the farm of Mr George J. Winn, lot 4, con. 8, Emily, and considerable excitement reigns in the vicinity as a result of the find.

Tuesday Mr. Winn noticed a strata of dark rock protruding from the earth on a path along the side of and running through his farm. The formation strongly resembled coal, and an investigation immediately followed.

The strata was found to extend some distance and there seemed to be an unlimited supply. A quantity of it was loosened and taken to the house and placed in the fire, where it burned brightly for some time, leaving cinders similar to those produced by coal.

Mr. Winn was in Lindsay today, and stated that there seemed to be an endless supply of coal in the ridge, and that it appeared to be a trifle softer than the anthracite. He felt confident that it was a coal mine and intended making further investigations.

The ridge in which the coal was found runs through the township of Emily to Mount Pleasant.

A gentleman who visited this district last summer, and who was interested in the Pennsylvania coal mines, gave it as his opinion that the ridge of hills were coal bearing.

It would certainly be a great thing for Lindsay if Mr. Winn's discovery turns out to be the real thing. A number of local citizens intend driving out to view the ridge tomorrow and will procure samples of the coal.

The public will await with interest the outcome of further investigations and if coal is found in sufficient quantities to encourage immediate operations the discovery will prove a veritable bonanza.

Young Ladies' Mission Band Entertainment

A very successful social evening was held in St. Andrew's Guild Hall last night under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Mission Band. An unusually large number were present and the evening was one of the brightest and most enjoyable that has been held in the church for a long time. One of the most amusing features of the program was discovered while refreshments were being served. Cream puffs were passed around and instead of the creams being inside there was a slip of paper with "April Fool" printed on it.

The program was as follows;—

Piano Duett—Misses L. Shearer and M. Potter.
Vocal Solo—Miss Rea Potter.
Vocal Duett—Misses Georgiana and Prudy Long.
Piano Duett—Misses Phyllis Dawson and Helen Henry.
Solo—Miss Bella King.
Solo—Mr. J. Mercier.
Piano Solo—Miss Edith Kerr.
Solo—Mr. John King.
Piano Duett—Misses Dawson and E. Tully.

Dialogue—"Mr. Brown the only man in town"—Mr. E. Dormer took the part of Mr. Brown, and Misses E. Mathieson, C. Montgomery, G. Mowatt, Jean Kennedy, C. Mowatt, also took part. Mr. Staunton was the director.

Solo—Mr. Jas. Brown.
Piano Solo—Miss Myrtle Kennedy.
Solo—Mr. Gordon Wright.

Refreshments were served, and during this time Miss Jean Girvan rendered several instrumental selections.

Rev. Mr. Potter expressed his thanks upon behalf of the Mission Band to all those who had taken part in the program.

The Misses Long gave another duett and the gathering closed with the doxology.

Two Children were Fatally Burned at Emo

Emo, Ont., April 1.—A fire occurred seven miles north of here early this morning, resulting in the destruction of the home of Robert Stirret, sr., a farmer.

His two children, Colin, aged 7, and Ruby, aged 5, were burned to death.

Mr. Stirret was severely burned, and other members of the family slightly burned and injured by jumping from the upper windows, including Mrs. Campbell, Mr Stirret's daughter, and her infant child.

Midland League to be Organized

The Midland Football League will be organized on Saturday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock when a meeting of representatives of the various clubs will be held at the Y.M.C.A. here. Besides the local club it is expected that Lakefield, Lindsay, Bowmanville and Cobourg will all have representatives here and probably one or two other towns. The prospects for the league are very bright, and there should be some good football seen here this spring.

OBITUARY

The death occurred early yesterday morning at his late residence, River Road, Auburn, of Mr. Martin Walsh. The deceased had been ill for sometime. He was in his eighty-third year. He was very highly esteemed in the community and was for years a resident of this city.

Three sons and three daughters are left to mourn his loss. The daughters are Mrs. Leahy and Mrs. O'Heron, Auburn, and Mrs. Bowen of Toronto. The sons are Messrs. Michael of Campbellford, and Martin and Joseph, in the States.

Lost Everything

While Mr Arthur Bell of Douro, was in the city yesterday with a load of grain he received a message that his house was on fire. He at once left for home as fast as the horses could travel. Mr. Bell was considerably excited owing as his wife and family being left at home alone. On his arrival he found the house and contents completely destroyed but the family were safe. The loss will be heavy as Mr. Bell had very little insurance. The barns were saved after a hard fight in which the neighbors gave great assistance.

A Dangerous Disease

Owing to its Tendency to Spread to all Parts of the System, Catarrh should be Checked in its Incipient Stages.

Catarrh commences generally with a slight cold, and because slight, it is often neglected. Then the cold that has been given brings forth a dangerous Sneeze—perhaps it is the harvest of consumption which is the harvest of death.

Better spend a few months each day inhaling Catarrhozone, an aromatic antiseptic remedy that is breathed in through the mouth, and, after permeating all the respiratory organs, is slowly exhaled through the nostrils.

The immediate effect of Catarrhozone is magical—so prompt and efficient. Relief is instantaneous, throat and nose cleared in a few moments by the penetrating vapor from the Inhaler Ferrozone, taken in conjunction with Catarrhozone, purifies the blood, cleanses it of all poisons, and builds up the system so that Catarrh cannot exist.

You are sure to receive lasting benefit from Catarrhozone if bothered by Catarrh in any part of the system. It is highly recommended for Bronchitis, Asthma, and Lung Trouble, and used for Coughs and Colds in the head it has no equal.

Remember that Catarrhozone is both a local and constitutional treatment, and is warranted under all circumstances to give satisfaction. Money refunded if it fails.

Two months' treatment, consisting of a beautiful polished hard rubber Inhaler and large bottle of liquid for recharging, together with a box of Ferrozone tablets costs but $1; trial size, 25c. Sold by all druggists and N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont. Buy it to-day.

THE DEFENCE OF LIBERTY

Parliament is usually more conservative than the people, and this characteristic was shown in the debate on the question of Canada's share in the naval defence of the Empire. The leaders on both sides could have used much stronger language than they did without going in advance of public opinion. But moderate and restrained language is often a better and more impressive evidence of public opinion than flights of eloquence.

What is the public opinion of Canada upon this question? We feel sure that the deep interest which it arouses is not due to anxiety as to our own safety alone, as to the defence of our coasts and coast cities from invasion. Our jealousy and wise regard for the principle of autonomy makes us insist upon the principal of local control, but local control does not mean limitation to local purposes. By virtue of its geographical position, Canada, if not absolutely safe, is safer from attack by sea than any other portion of the British Empire. But Canadians feel that even if that local safety were absolutely assured, they have a deeper and wider interest, an interest in the security of the British Empire as a whole, and in the security of Great Britain as a citadel of freedom.

We do well to safeguard the constitutional liberties of Canada; we should be unwise and shortsighted if we lost sight of the larger principle of world-wide liberty. The friends of liberty, not in Canada alone, not for the British Empire alone, but all over the world, are deeply interested in the security of that empire. Without it, the progress of liberty would have been slow indeed, the prospects of liberty today would be dark and discouraging. The continent of Europe is still dominated by the military, despotic, and feudal ideas that have held sway there for centuries. Without Great Britain it is probable that these ideas would have been carried to this continent and all over the world. The hope of the world lies in the growth of those countries in which the seeds of British liberty have been planted.

And thus self-government and sound Imperialism are inseparably bound together. The British Empire is worth defending because it is free, because its anxieties give hope to the enemies of freedom, because its fall would be the fall of freedom, and because any other empire that might conceivably take it place would be a Roman empire, in which the liberties of the people would be ruthlessly trodden down. When Canada and Australia have attained to that growth of population and wealth which their resources promise, the danger will be passed; the forces of liberty will be immeasurably stronger than those of despotism. But this future is conditioned upon the maintenance of the British Empire, and above all upon the security of that citadel of freedom which lies nearest to the point of danger. The world must know that the growth of the self-governing commonwealths of the Empire will be accompanied by a growth in the defensive strength of the Empire, that the forces of liberty cannot be divided and beaten in details that no part of the Empire, which enjoys the blessings of freedom will remain cold and unmoved if ever the foundation of freedom be imperilled.

The Oyster Crab.

Some of the most remarkable crabs in the world live at the expense of other animals. They are crustacean tramps and have no shame in sustaining existence at other animals' cost. One of these marine tramps is a little fellow that makes its home with the living oyster. In fact, it dwells in the oyster's shell and feeds on whatever is left over from the mollusk's dinners. Oddly enough, however, it is only the female that has this habit of "boarding out." The male crab has no permanent home, but spends its time swimming about at the surface of the water. Oyster crabs sometimes are big enough to have an arm stretch of an inch. Epicures consider them very good to eat. Sometimes they are cooked separately, and occasionally they are pickled. Crabs of nearly allied species, somewhat bigger, are found in the shells of mussels and scallops. In this case, again, only the female is a parasite.

Scottish Caution.

Certainly the cautious Scot spirit pervaded the opinions of the Scottish architect who was called upon to erect a building in England upon the long lease system, so common with Anglican proprietors, but quite new to our friend. When he found the proposal was to build upon the tenure of 999 years he quietly suggested: "Could ye no mak' it a thousand? Nine hundred and ninety-nine years 'll be slippin' awa'."

But of all the cautious and careful answers we ever heard of was one given by a carpenter to an old lady in Glasgow, for whom he was working, and the anecdote is well authenticated. She had offered him a dram and asked him whether he would have it then or wait till his work was done. "Indeed, mem," he said, "there's been sic a power o' sudden deaths lately that I'll just tak' it now."—"Reminiscences of Dean Ramsay."

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription — Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and real improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

Tender for Red River Bridge

SEALED tenders, addressed to the undersigned, and marked on the envelope "Tender for the Red River Bridge," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway until twelve o'clock noon of the 8th day of April, 1909, for the construction and erection of a steel and concrete bridge and approach spans over the Red River between Winnipeg and St. Boniface, near the foot of Lombard street, together with grading and approach spans over streets in Winnipeg.

Separate tenders must be submitted for the substructure with other works as per schedule, and for superstructure.

Plans, details and profiles may be seen and full information obtained, at the office of the chief engineer at Ottawa, and also at the office of the district engineer at St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the forms supplied by the commissioners, which may be had on application to Mr. Hugh D. Lumsden, chief engineer, Ottawa, Ont., and H. S. M. Fonlis, district engineer, St. Boniface, Man.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered Bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway for the sum of $25,000 for substructure and other work as per schedule, and for the sum of $50,000 for steel superstructure and floor.

The cheques deposited by the party whose tender is accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

The right is reserved to reject any or all tenders.

By Order,
P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.

Why Do People Deposit Their Money in Banks for only 3 Per Cent. Interest?

BECAUSE, THEY THINK IT IS QUITE SAFE.

Why Do Some Invest in Bonds to get a Little Higher Interest?

Because, the bonds represent a mortgage on the property on which their money is invested which gives a feeling of safety.

Why Do People Invest in Wildcat Gold and Silver Mining Schemes? Because they think the chances of profit are big and they are willing to take the risk.

WHY NOT INVEST IN A SAFE STOCK IN A GOING COAL MINE

making money now and which presents such possibilities for development that it is expected that the profits will run from 25 per cent. to 50 per. cent. higher.

The Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited, Stock at $10 per Share is a safe Stock.

It is all common stock. There are no bonds or no mortgages or no preferred stock, on which interest must be paid before the common stockholder gets anything.

When you buy common stock of the Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited at $10 per share you become an actual owner of the mines and have an equal chance of the profits according to the number of shares held. A coal mine with a big deposit of coal ready for the miner's pick is as safe as a bank. To own and control shares of common stock in such a coal mine must be safer and better than holding bonds in a proposition in which you have no control and which may or may not be properly managed. The officers and management of the Winter Port Coal Mines of New Brunswick have the experience in mining and selling coal in both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

J. S. Gibbon, the President of the company, opened and developed the Winter Port Mines to the present stage.

W. F. Vroom, the Vice-President of the Company, was for some years actively associated in the management of the Springhill Collieries in Nova Scotia and the Albert Mines in New Brunswick.

Manufacturers in St. John speak highly of the Winter Port coal.

Winter Port coal is a good locomotive coal and has been used on the Intercolonial and other railways.

The Winter Port Coal Mines being practically on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific now opening up through New Brunswick will provide a most convenient coaling facility for that great transcontinental railway. Immense quantities of coal will be needed by the great railways and by the manufacturers, steamship lines, etc., in connection with the development of Canada's Winter Port at St. John, N.B., which is only 55 miles in a direct line from these coal mines.

Secure some Winter Port stock now at $10 per share (there is no personal liability) and get your share of the profits of a safe conservative money-making proposition.

Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother, or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perwith the above while living with his parents or off farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

FLEECED BY EMIR.

British Tourists Spoiled of Everything They Owned.

Captain S. S. Butler described to a meeting of the Royal Geographical Society recently an amusing incident which befel Captain Aylmer and himself while they were journeying from Bagdad to Damascus.

At El-Jof, in Northern Arabia, they were received by the emir, Feysal Ibn Rashid, one of whose first questions after greeting them was "Are your teeth your own or are they false?"

"On our arrival at the house placed at our disposal," continued the lecturer, "Captain Aylmer and myself congratulated ourselves on our good fortune in having such a cordial welcome, but we had not been there more than five minutes when Feysal's head slave, a richly-dressed personage called Dahm, came to tell us that the emir would not take our camels or our money, as he had plenty of both, but that he would like any things of European make or of interest that we happened to have.

"This was only too true, and during our five days' stay there there was a continued procession of slaves and hangers-on from the castle demanding things for the emir and his visitors and favorites, and demanding them in such a way that it was impossible for us, situated as we were, to refuse, until we had practically nothing of any value left, having been fleeced of watches, revolver, compasses, various clothes, and other articles of our kit.

"The slave given us was nothing more or less than a spy, and the climax was reached, and I fairly lost my temper when a negro slave, who had come to demand scent, hair grease and moustache wax for the emir, told me I was a liar when I said I had none."

One Against Mr. Edwardes.

The famous theatrical manager, Mr. George Edwardes, tells a good story illustrative of the difficulties with which managers have to contend. "I was once negotiating with a lady," he says, "to go to India as prima donna, and I thought I would approach the question artfully. We were nearly agreed, the difference between us was a paltry $500 a week—I offered her $500 and she asked me $1,000 a week. I began to tell of the glories of India, how the lady would win the hearts of all the Princes, of Jams and Rams and Dams and nabobs. I said, 'As is their custom, they'll send you ropes of pearls to tie up your dresses, elephants with trunks full of emeralds, and diamonds enough for a skirt'—and skirts were skirts in those days. 'What is a miserable $500 a week by the side of that?' Well, I thought I had impressed the lady. She promised to think it over. She did. Next day I got a note: 'Dear Mr. Edwardes, give me my terms, and you can keep the presents.'"

The Saint and the Archangel.

It is on account of his pale, earnest face, on which suffering has left many a mark, and because of his wife's wonderful hair and complexion and her finely-moulded features, that someone has bestowed these nicknames on Mr. and Mrs. Philip Snowden. The Labor party is not deficient in good speakers, but there are not many better orators in the House than Mr. Snowden. Unfortunately, in his early days, he was the victim of an accident which has left him more or less of a cripple. At the same time this accident was the cause of his taking seriously to politics. Mrs. Snowden is also a very clever orator. She has spoken in almost every industrial centre in the United Kingdom, and has often acted as her husband's substitute when his health has prevented him fulfilling engagements.

One of "Dizzy's" Young Men.

It was Disraeli who may be said to have discovered the abilities of Lord George Hamilton, the chairman of the Poor Law Commission, whose startling report has just been issued. The late Lord Beaconsfield was attracted by handsome young men, and Lord George happened to be not only handsome, but he was the son of the statesmen's great friend, the third Duke of Abercorn. It was at "Dizzy's" suggestion that Lord George, then a young man of twenty-three, was put up to lead a forlorn hope in Middlesex, and to the surprise of everyone he was returned at the head of the poll. The sunny and equable temper of Lord George has gained for him much popularity, while one of his old colleagues has been heard to say, "George Hamilton is a useful fellow to have in the Cabinet, because he knows when to be silent."

Advice From the Gallery.

One of the best stories concerning Charles Warner, the popular English actor, who met with such a tragic end a few days ago, tells of an amusing incident which happened when he was appearing in a play written by Mr. George R. Sims, in which he is supposed to be starving in a garret. Before going on the stage he had forgotten to remove a valuable diamond ring, which glistened on his finger. He had a peculiar trick of extending his hand high above his head, and this night the light caught the gem and made it flash at the very moment he was declaring: "My wife and child are starving and I cannot give them bread. What shall I do? What shall I do?" A voice from the gallery responded: "Pawn yer ring, gov'nor!"

No Pension at 102.

Timothy Hennessy, though a hundred and two, works occasionally on his farm at Midleton, County Cork, Ireland. A few days ago he was refused an old-age pension on the ground of being in receipt of sufficient income. He is believed to be the oldest applicant in Ireland for a pension.

SPIRIT PHOTOGRAPHY.

London Newspaper Appoints Commission to Make Test.

A meeting was held recently of the commission formed some time ago by The London Daily Mail to investigate the genuineness of so-called spirit photographs. The commission was formed at the suggestion of A. P. Sinnett, who entered into the controversy with the writer of a letter to The Daily Mail, who expressed doubts as to some spirit photographs taken by Archdeacon Colley having been produced by non-material means. The commission consists of three well-known photographic experts and three gentlemen well known in the spiritualistic world.

There now seems some possibility of the difficult task undertaken by the spirit photography commission being accomplished. A spiritualist with whom the committee has been in touch has offered to take some exposed photographic plates from the photographic experts, which they may pack and seal in any way they think necessary to prevent the packets being opened or tampered with, and to "magnetize" these plates of a meeting of his spirit photography "circle," and then to return them to the commission, to be developed in his presence. It will then be seen whether the spiritually magnetized plates show on development any psychic writing or signs caused by purely external agency.

An offer has also been made to the commission by another gentleman to arrange for them a series of demonstrations of spirit photography with an ordinary camera, a woman medium having expressed her willingness to assist in the work. By availing themselves of this offer the commission may possibly obtain some conclusive evidence as to the truth or otherwise of the claims of spiritualists that spirit bodies can be photographed.

Entering the Lords.

In the English House of Lords the proceedings are very different. A newly created peer enters that historic chamber in a robe of scarlet velvet trimmed with ermine, attended by two fellow peers, who act as his sponsors and escorted by the black rod, as the sergeant-at-arms is known, and the garter king at arms, arrayed in a gorgeous tabard. The procession marches around, making low bows to the empty throne and to the presiding officer, who is the Lord High Chancellor, from different parts of the gilded chamber, to which that imposing person gravely responds. When the new peer reaches the throne he kneels reverently and places upon the empty chair, where His Majesty ought to be sitting, the patent of nobility he has received from his sovereign. He is then led to the woolsack, where the Lord Chancellor administers to him the oath. His sponsors next lead him to the proper bench, where he takes his seat for a moment. Then all three rise and bow three times at the vacant throne and three times to the presiding officer. The Lord High Chancellor then leaves the woolsack and comes down to shake hands with the new peer and welcome him to the House. The other peers come also and tender their congratulations.

A Territorial Enthusiast.

Lord Esher, whose appeal for recruits for the London Territorial Force is being so well responded to, is one of the shrewdest business men in England. He has held many appointments and written a number of clever books, a third distinction being that he is the son of Lord Esher, for many years Master of the Rolls. It is said that Lord Esher once told a friend that the incident he most admired in the career of his distinguished father was when he inflicted upon a woman who had killed her husband under circumstances of extreme provocation a nominal sentence, and the event he most deplored was his father's acceptance of a peerage. But it is safe to affirm that if Lord Esher had not inherited a title from his father, he would have been called upon to accept one himself on account of his services to the country.

Kinglake Stories.

Kinglake, the author of "Eothen," was afflicted with gout, and he had a fancy to try a lady doctor and wrote to one to ask if gout was beyond her scope. She replied, "Dear sir, gout is not beyond my scope, but man are."

It was Kinglake who uttered one of the neatest of mots on the peculiar character of The Times. He had little fondness for that journal, in spite of personal friendships which might have been expected to soften his views of the question. The paper was still to him a sort of juggernaut, irresistible and fateful. On seeing the announcement of the new editor's marriage he exclaimed: "Heavens! That bring The Times into relations with humanity!"

"The Squire."

The continued illness of Mr. Henry Chaplin seems likely to cause the retirement of one of the most picturesque politicians in the House of Commons. Mr. Chaplin became Squire of Blankney—which is now the seat of Lord Londesborough—over half a century ago. He formerly owned a huge property in Lincolnshire, and there is not a laborer in that county who has not an affectionate word for him. His sporting proclivities have rendered him exceedingly popular. In days gone by he was a famous cross-country rider, and last year, despite his being well over sixty, he was always up with the hounds, and on one occasion, though a very heavyweight, a five-barred gate did not baulk him.

Prisoner's Daring Escape.

A private of the Northampton Regiment who was undergoing a sentence in the military prison at Colchester rang the fire alarm bell in his cell recently, and when a warder answered it he stunned him with the metal end of the fire hose seized his keys and escaped. The warder is in a critical condition.

YOUR TEMPERATURE.

The Reason a Sublingual Test is Used in Finding It.

What is a person's normal temperature? is a question often asked of every physician.

When the answer 98.6 degrees F. is given to the query very few people understand the physiological significance of this fact or how a degree of systemic heat is maintained during health within such narrow limits that their bodies have an even temperature the coldest day in winter or the hottest day in summer with an exactness of adjustment that is not obtainable in warming or cooling their homes with the most up to date heating and refrigerating apparatus.

Now, in accepting the statement that the body temperature is 98.6 degrees F. it must be borne in mind that to some extent this is a relative figure, for the warmth of the exterior varies markedly from that of the interior. The surface temperature of the head, hands or abdomen may differ from 86 degrees F. down to 83 degrees F. or lower, while that of the internal regions may extend up to 102.2 degrees F., the average of blood circulating in organs like the liver, pancreas and kidneys. For practical purposes some gauge must be accepted whereby normal temperature may be measured and compared. Therefore on account of convenience and practicability the temperature taken carefully under the tongue by a clinical thermometer has been selected as a common standard throughout medical circles. It is sometimes recorded in the axilla or groin instead of in the mouth when for any reason a sublingual test is not advantageous. The temperature of these localities differs slightly from the mouth, being .5 degrees F. less.—Technical World Magazine.

A STATE CARRIAGE.

Present to a Chinese Emperor That Puzzled the Orientals.

When, in 1793, Sir George Macartney headed the first British embassy to China, he brought with him numerous presents for the emperor. Among these was a magnificent state carriage, an article which delighted, but at the same time puzzled, the Chinese more than any other gift. Nothing like it had ever been seen at the capital. Comical disputes immediately arose as to the seat intended for the emperor.

The hammercloth which covered the box of the carriage had a smart edging of festoons of roses. It made a splendid appearance, and that, with its elevated position, immediately determined the official mind that it was without doubt the emperor's seat. Then the question arose of what the inside of the coach was intended for. The blinds, screens and so forth were all carefully examined, and it was decided that the interior was the place for the ladies only.

An old retainer went to a member of the embassy to ask if the conclusions were correct. When he learned that the fine elevated box was the seat of the coachman and that the emperor's place was inside the coach he was horrified. He asked, with a sneer, if it was supposed that the son of heaven would suffer any one to sit higher than himself and turn his back on him. When he found that the driver was obliged to use the seat in question he requested that the box be removed and placed somewhere behind.—Helen H. Robbins' "Our First Ambassador to China."

Prayers For Rain.

"Shall we have prayer for rain, Thomas?" asked the vicar of the clerk during a protracted drought.

"Oh, sir, you do exactly as you please!"

"But don't you think it would be a good thing? Rain is badly wanted."

"You do as you please, sir. You'd better 'ave it if so be as you do want it."

"But, Thomas, you don't seem to realize the necessity for having the prayer."

"Bless you, sir! You 'ave that ther prayer if you be so set on it, but it won't rain till the moon do change."—London Academy.

A Home Trader.

And he meant it.—Lippincott's.

What Every Woman Requires for Headache Languor

Does your strength give out? Do you feel languid and tired this spring? Are you pale, somewhat nervous, finding it hard to do your housework? Thousands feel just the same—feel the enervating influence of spring, whether that brings out latent symptoms of disease and weakness. You should do like Mrs. Flanagan of Manor Junction—here is her experience. "I will never again suffer the torture of deadening spring illness — never will I have headaches, such sleepless nights, such pale cheeks and loss of appetite. I lived through it all several times, but now I know the medicine that cures. I urge every person, young and old, to try the invigorating effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. When I was so played out, listless,—Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me appetite—I relished my meals and grew strong. Rosy color came to my cheeks, every day I felt brighter and better. All my old strength has been restored and the great tonic, blood purifying powers of Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."

Women who are continually pale, tired and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, aching muscles, hearing, downs pains, lack of sleep and loss of appetite—they are the poor women that surely need Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. 25c at all dealers.

Scraping the Roads

With the first day of spring the "white wings" were put on the main streets with hoes and shovels and the city's house-cleaning was begun in earnest. In many places dry patches are to be seen on the roadways, but there is still a lot of snow and ice, and what is really wanted is a warm April shower for a few hours.

It is not likely that it will now be put on until after the Easter vacation.

Here on a Visit

Mr. S. Galbraith of Glasgow, Scotland, was in the city this week, and was registered at the Hotel National. Mr. Galbraith was for twenty-seven years the British consul in the West Indies, and only lately retired. He is on a tour through Canada, and having heard of the great hydraulic lift took at Peterborough desired to see it before returning to the Old Country. He was much impressed with this city. He went east yesterday morning.

Will open this Month

Local lovers of roller skating will be pleased to hear that the roller rink will be opened about the middle of April. A gentleman in the city, who has been looking after the interests of Prof. Genno since he opened the rink last fall has received a letter from him, in which the writer states that he will likely be in Peterborough on or about the 14th of April, andwill immediately make preparations for the coming season.

Prof. Genno intends to spare no expense to make the rink this year more popular than ever. He is at present in New York, but will open a week's engagement in Barrie on April 5th, and from there will come to Peterborough.

Goes to Calgary

Mr. J. E. Crough leaves on Saturday morning for Calgary, stopping a few days en route at Toronto. In his departure Peterborough loses one of her best known and most clever athletes. Jack, as he is familiarly known, has been a member of many Peterborough rugby, association football and hockey teams, and his going will leave a gap that will be hard to fill, especially on next fall's rugby team, where he was counted upon to be one of the stars. He will be an acquisition to some of the western teams.

An Ideal Cough Medicine

"As an ideal cough medicine I regard Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in a class by itself," says Dr. E. A. Wiltshire, of Gwynneville, Ind. "I take great pleasure in testifying to the results of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. In fact, I know of no other preparation that meets so fully the expectations of the most exacting in cases of croup and coughs of children. As it contains no opium, chloroform or morophine it certainly makes a most safe, pleasant and efficacious remedy for the ills it is intended."

Tramps in the Stable

Mr. Charles Adams, 168 Maria St., was very greatly surprised the other night on going out to his stable, to find a couple of tramps cuddled up in the hay, at rest for the night. The police station was telephoned to and a couple of the force went over, but in the meantime the "weary Willies" had made their escape.

It is not known whether they had been staying there for some nights or not but several residents of Ashburnham have lately had calls from tramps in the search of something to eat.

To be Ready on April 15th

The officers and men of the 57th are eagerly anticipating the time when they will be able to use the new armories. They will be able to do so at an early date. There is a general impression in the city that the armories will not be opened to the regiment until May 24th. This is a mistaken idea and was corrected by Lt.-Col. Stevenson, yesterday. "It is expected that the armories will be used by the regiment about April 15th," he informed the Times yesterday.

Beware of ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists. Price 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

The City's Debt

The people of Toronto are complaining about the way in which the council there has been piling up the debenture debt for small expenditures which should be met out of current revenue. The same state affairs exists here. Many small amounts are met by debenture which should be paid out of current revenue. As a result the city's debt is a great deal larger than it should be. The real seriousness of such a policy will be felt when the city desires to construct some large public utility by purchase a power or electric light plant or something of the kind which requires a great deal of money that must be raised by debenture. The aldermen this year will do well to adopt a new policy so far as issuing debentures is concerned.

Will Build a New Methodist Church

The congregation of Zion Methodist church, Otonabee, of which Rev. W. D. Harrison is pastor, intend building a new church, for the building of which tenders are being asked. It is proposed to build it of block cement. The present church will be torn down. The new one will accommodate two hundred persons. It will be fitted with a basement for Sunday school purposes. It is expected that it will be ready for opening early in the fall. The congregation has greatly increased in numbers of late and the new church was a necessity.

Dental Lavatories in Sleeping Cars

Some of the Western railroads are now calling attention to dental lavatories which have recently been introduced in sleeping cars on their lines. As a matter of fact, the Pullman Company have decided to provide in all new sleeping cars that they build and in all the present sleeping cars when they are next put through the shops dental lavatories which will doubtless be much appreciated by their patrons. Already some of the Pullman sleeping cars operated over the Grand Trunk Railway System are provided with this new and special sanitary feature.

Market Tolls Discussed

The market clerk matter was up before the Property Committee again last night and at one time it looked favorable for a warm time between Ald. McIntyre, who is a strong supporter of Mr. Ball, and Ald. Duncan, who wants the city to get more money out of the market.

The question of putting a check on the market tolls was introduced by the chairman and it was discussed. It was impossible to devise any scheme that night however, that would work satisfactorily, so it was left over for a few days' consideration.

Ald. Duncan moved that the market clerk be placed on commission.

Ald. McIntyre refused to second the motion. He said he would second the motion if all the city officials were paid by commission. He said he was opposed to reducing the market clerk's salary, and he claimed that the object of Ald. Duncan's motion was to cut the salary.

Ald. Duncan denied any such intention. He merely wanted some one kept on the market, and as Ald. McIntyre could not figure out any better plan the motion could not go through.

Ald. McIntyre also wanted Mr. Ball to hire his own assistants instead of the committee hiring a man.

Ald. Bradburn said Mr. Ball could engage his man if that man was satisfactory, but not otherwise.

Ald. Hicks, who had been out of the city, arrived at this time, and he was asked his opinion on the commission scheme.

Ald. Hicks, however, suggested that the matter be left over for a few days to give the members a little more time to figure the matter out.

This suggestion was accepted.

Bad Season for Colds

Colds and grip were quite prevalent last winter and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in great demand and performed some remarkable cures. Mrs. Mary J. Robinson of Cameron, W. Va., says; "Last winter I was taken with one of the awfulest colds I ever had in my life. I could not speak above a whisper and was very hoarse. I was afraid it was going to be pneumonia. I took one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in three days was lots better and could talk. I did not take but one bottle and it cured me. I now tell everybody about Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the good it did me."

Letters to The Editor

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—The result of the vote on the bylaws on Tuesday last, indicates clearly the citizens of Peterborough are satisfied the commissioners have gone thoroughly into the matter of a new dam and accordingly voted the amount asked for the purpose.

The result of the vote on the City Council's bylaw for $15,000 for a power house is a decided indication the citizens are in favor of a municipal power plant. But the council had not sufficient information on the matter.

There is no question, but that the city must and will do its own lighting at the expiration of the present contract, 5 1-2 years hence, and the defeat of the hasty proposition submitted on Tuesday last will result in a properly matured power bylaw being submitted to the ratepayers at a reasonably early date.

The Water Commissioners are, I understand, making provision at the new dam for a future power house, and it is very reasonable to suppose that the two power houses combined would lessen the cost of construction and maintenance very materially.

The citizens have asked for their vote for further particulars and information; in the meantime the power cannot get away, it is the property of the city.

Yours truly,

R. HICKS.

Delphis Picard Dropped Dead Returning Home

With shocking suddenness Delphis Picard of 372 Queen street, died last evening from heart failure. The deceased left his work at Messrs. H. Le Brun's & Co.'s, for home about half-past five. He had not gone far when, without a moment's notice, he dropped dead. He was carried into a side room in the Crown Hotel, and Dr. Halliday was called, but when the doctor arrived the man was dead and an examination developed the fact that he was dead when he fell. Heart failure was the cause.

The deceased was 50 years of age, and had lived in the city for the past 25 or 30 years and had been employed during that time at Messrs. H. Le Brun & Co. as a tailor. He was a brother of Mr. Joseph Picard, sr. He leaves a wife and three young children, two girls and one son. Other relatives are two brothers, Telephore of Michigan, and Augustine of Chicago, and one sister Mrs. Cardlie of LaNorie, Que. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at half-past three o'clock, to St. Peter's cathedral, and interment will take place in St. Peter's cemetery.

Local Post Office Needs a Lot More Sorting Room

Alterations are soon to be made at the post office which will give more accommodation for the employees to carry out their duties. Six hundred and fifty boxes are to be taken out at the west side of the office and it is the intention to run a partition from the wicket to stamp vendor, giving considerably more space for the work of assorting mail inside.

Those who had boxes rented were notified to return the keys by the 1st of April, in order that the necessary changes could be commenced right away. At present the space for working is somewhat limited. Each mail carrier has his own rack for letters and since the appointment of an extra postman, additional room is required.

Indian Quite Confident of Winning the Derby, Italian the One to Beat

New York, N.Y., April 2. — The more you hear and see, the less you know in this Marathon race.

The World to-day produces a sporting cartoon showing all six runners in a $10,000 derby hat and the caption is "Shake 'em up and take your choice.

That is about the best you can make of the race. That it is an open one is something you must admit. Last night I saw a dozen sporting men, sporting editors, runners and ex-runners and other chaps, usually considered wise guys, and not one of them would pick a winner without reservation. Most of them were honest enough to say, "I can't separate them."

LONGBOAT CONFIDENT.

In fact the only man who will pick a winner is Longboat himself. Longboat came in the Victoria Hotel at seven o'clock this morning and amused himself by making rough house. He threw Sol Mintz and myself on the floor, but not content with that upset Flannagan's bed on top of him. He was like a colt. I never saw him looking better.

"Who'll win?" I asked.

"Me," he said. 'Only runner in the bunch is Dorando, and I have beaten him twice. I have more speed than he has."

He sat quiet a while.

"Anybody who says Tom Longboat is going to get beat ought to have his head read," he said finally. "I'm far better than I was when I beat Shrubb. The only thing is I have bruised heel from walking in low heeled shoes."

He showed the heel. It discolored, but in the soft going I don't think it will bother him unless the new half broken spiked shoes, which he proposes wearing, chafe it. I would sooner see him wear his old shoes.

On the surface it looks like craziness to say that Longboat is in shape after two weeks' training. If he is he is the only athlete I know who can come around in such short notice, yet at that, I have been with him in a dozen races where he did all his training in the last week, and not consistent training at that. I took him to task for not training at least a month, and he came back at me with this remark:

"I train five weeks for the Knights Marathon, and get my block beat off."

Longboat did not say anything, but from the way he sidled around Flannagan, indicated to me a desire of having Flanagan behind him again during the race. Flanagan declares he will not have anything to do with Longboat in this race. If he stays away it will be the first big race in two and a half years he has not had the benefit of Flanagan's keen judgment and encouragement.

FLANAGAN SAYS "DON'T BET."

While Flanagan does not say so, he believes in his heart that the Indian is due for a trimming. In an interview in the World today he says; "Longboat has won a lot of races and a lot of money for his friends and backers. What I say is, don't bet on him. Let him run tomorrow. There will be lots more races, and safer ones to bet on." Flanagan is afraid of Dorando; not his running abilities, but his condition.

CAN'T OVERLOOK INDIAN.

There is one thing sure; no matter how much you think you know, you cannot overlook Longboat. Bill Davis, his Indian trainer, is willing to bet the gold out of his teeth on Longboat, and says he never had more than a week's training in his life for a race. Davis forgets the two months' grind Harry Rosenthal gave him before the Boston Marathon in 1907, where he made the record of 2.24.24, which has stood ever since, a clip that would have made the Marathon record to 2.32.

The race is a big betting proposition here, and the bookies are satisfied because every starter has support. The Italian gold belts are loosening up in great style.

To those who like Shrubb and think he will win if he stays back I would point out that Shrubb ran 20 miles in 2.01.00 and broke down and was forced to quit, while Longboat covered 20 miles in Buffalo in the Dorando race in 1.59, and at that dropped his pace to a dog trot after the Italian quit.

WISE PAT POWERS.

The race is the talk of the town. They sing songs about it in the theatres, and it's the big item in the sporting papers. Maybe P. T. Powers isn't a wise guy. "Ten thousand dollars Marathon Derby," looks big. It draws together the six best men on the continent, and if the day is fine the same Powers will get a sixty thousand dollar gate. For this he pays out $10,000 in purse money, with about $1,500 in appearance

Re West Peterborough Dominion Election

On Thursday, Osgoode Hall, Hon J. R. Stratton had entered a counter or cross petition in connection with the West Peterborough Dominion election, against his opponent, in the October election, Mr. John Hampden Burnham. The counter petition alleges bribery, treating, personation, undue influence, etc. The petitioner asks that respondent be declared and found guilty of the corrupt and illegal acts charged, and adjudged disqualified and incapable of being elected to a sitting in the House of Commons, or of voting at an election of a member of that House, and of holding any office in the nomination of the Crown, or of the governor-general in Canada.

The cross petition recites that on November 21, 1908, a petition against the election of petitioner was presented by respondent, and served substitutionally upon petitioner, and that by an order made on December 28, 1908, the time for presenting a cross-petition by petitioner was extended until April 2, 1909. The respondent in counter petition was served today.

S. A. Staff Band will be Here Today

The Territorial Staff Band of the Salvation Army, Toronto, will arrive in Peterborough this morning and will be at the barracks at the meetings to-night and Sunday, giving a special musical service Sunday afternoon. The band has twenty-five musicians, and is the leading musical organization of the territory, and all its members are staff officers at headquarters.

The band will arrive on the C.P.R. from Toronto at 11.26 and will play from the station to the Y.M.C.A. where the musicians will be dined by the local Army bandsmen. At three o'clock the band will given an open air concert, probably on the corner of Hunter and George streets and also at the open air meeting in the evening.

Brigadier Morris is the conductor of the band.

Work is Resumed on New Wharf

By the time navigation is in full swing a long felt want will be completed and Peterborough will have an up to date wharf. Last fall work was started at the Wolfe street wharf but the cold weather put a stop to operations as the work is nearly all of a cement nature. But the main wall was finished and Wednesday work was commenced again, and operations will be rushed. When finished there will be a wall 2 feet wide and about 76 feet above the river extending from the C.P.R. bridge down the full length of the old wharf. At the south end a number of steps will be put into allow canoeists and those from other small craft to land and this will be a big convenience. The rest of the wharf will be nicely graded, and when the work has been completed Peterborough will have a thoroughly modern and up-to-date wharf.

The work is in charge of Mr. Jack Hayes which is a guarantee that the work will be done in an efficient manner.

City Baseball League Was Organized for Peterboro' This Year

There will be a city baseball league this year and the prospects are very bright. Four teams were represented at the organization meeting last night and there will likely be one or two more clubs entered. Baseball is taking a strong hold on Peterborough people and a city league should be a great success. The officers were elected and the meeting adjourned until Thursday night, April 15th.

The Marathon Derby

On account of the great interest being taken by Peterborough people in the $10,000 Marathon Derby to be run this afternoon at the Polo Grounds, New York, The Times will contain a full report of the race in Monday morning's issue. Special arrangements have been made to have as complete a report as possible. While the result will be known before The Times is issued the story of the big race is equally interesting and as usual this paper will furnish the first details. Watch for Monday's issue.

Michael Angelo was Subject of Lecture

A most interesting and instructive illustrated lecture was given by Prof. Young, of Trinity College, Toronto, in the Y.W.C.A. last night. The subject was "Michael Angelo," and his life and paintings. It was one of the series of university extension lectures under the auspices of the educational committee of which Miss Weir is convenor. The gymnasium of the Y.W.C.A. was crowded, and everyone thoroughly enjoyed the evening's program.

In opening Prof. Young gave a brief account of Angelo's life and pointed out the earnest purpose that animated all his work. He was in such poor circumstances in the beginning that he was forced to take the material out of the quarry for his sculptures himself. The illustrations included a set of pictures of the prophets, of the Madonas and also of the Last Judgment.

The lantern used was Mr. Fisk's electric lamp and it gave exceptional satisfaction. In addition to the lecture several musical numbers were given.

Miss Geraldine King—Piano solo.
Mr. Herbert Rush—Vocal solo.

Inspector Mowatt acted as chairman.

A Loaded Revolver Shell Found Near Kindred Home

Hamilton, April 2—Although the detectives acting under instructions from the attorney-general's department, refuse to give out any information about the Kinrade murder case, it is understood that their search of the last few days in the neighborhood of the scene of the tragedy has been rewarded by the finding of a 32-calibre, full cartridge. This was found in a yard near the Kinrade property. It may or may not belong to the revolver which the murderer used to kill Ethel Kinrade.

The mystery of what became of the revolver and the empty cartridge shells has been one of the most puzzling features of the case, and the officers have not only ransacked the house and inspected the plumbing, but had the sewer leading from the street opened up.

There was a heavy fall of snow the day after the murder. The warm weather of the past few days cleared the ground, and in the hope that this might reveal something, the detectives have gone over the locality again.

One story was that they found five cartridge shells, but so far as can be learned, the single undischarged cartridges was all that was found.

Board of Works Arrange for Four Miles of Walk

A busy session of the Board of Works was held last night when a lot of business was put through in good order. Most of the items were small, but the committee took up the new cement walks to be laid this year and if the program is carried out it will be a busy summer.

Those present were Chairman Ald. Phelan, Mayor Rush, Aldermen Bradburn, Gillespie, Duncan and Buller. City Engineer Bay and Street Commissioner Evans.

Chairman Ald. Phelan stated that he thought it would be possible to make some arrangements with the Water Commissioners for the use of their steam blower for the purpose of thawing out drains, etc., that had become frozen up.

Ald. Duncan moved that the chairman interview the chairman of the Water Commissioners in reference to the matter. Ald. Buller seconded it.

The Ontario Bridge Co., of Toronto, wrote the committee asking that they be given a chance to tender on any highway bridges the city may be going to build. They make a specialty of highway bridges.

The city engineer notified the committee that it was time now for the proposed new cement walks to be advertised so that there will be no interference with the work when the season opens.

It was moved by Ald. Buller and Ald. Gillespie that the city solicitor be requested to look into the request of the G.T.R. re the siding into the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co., and if found correct be granted.—Carried.

A petition was received from residents on Water street, asking for a crossing from the east side of Water street, near the corner of Hillier street.

The matter was left in the hands of the chairman and street commissioners. A crossing will also be put in from the opera house across Water street to the Peterborough Canoe Company's factory.

Wm. Taylor & Co., wrote asking for a share of the city's business for cement brick for underground work. The communication was received.

The engineer presented a report from the deputation which attended the cement exhibition in the St. Lawrence Market, Toronto, in March.

The engineer reported that it would cost $29.50 to place the Page wire fence along the railing around the Brock street and King street bridges. The precaution was recommended as a protection from children falling into the creek. The bridge over the creek on George St., also needs protection.

On motion the report was adopted and the work will be done.

The committee will not pay any damages to Mr. Thos. Hooper for alleged damage to his illuminated sign outside his north store. The sign is on the street which is contrary to the by-law.

On motion of Ald. Bradburn and Ald. Gillespie, the matter of opening Wescott street was left in the hands of the mayor and chairman to interview the interested parties to see what is the best price that can be secured.

The committee went over the long list of sidewalks that are to be built this year and the total length of walk will be four miles. The list includes one and eight-tenth miles that were provided for last year and in the year before that were not built. The balance is for walks not petitioned for but are badly needed and will be advertised this spring. In addition to these there are many petitions already in which are properly signed and the walks will have to be built if possible. As it looks now the Board of Works will have a big season's work and a good gang of men will be kept busy all summer. The list includes a lot of walks in Ashburnham and these will be looked after early in the season.

A resolution was passed giving authority to have the tenders called for street watering. At the same time the committee asked authority from the council to open the tenders and award the contracts.

The committee will purchase 2000 feet of sanding and a couple of thousand feet of elm planking for sidewalks and crossings.

The Board of Works will put men on the market on Monday morning to give it the usual spring cleaning.

The chairman of the committee was given authority to purchase supplies for the Board of Works department.

The chairman will look over the watering carts and decide whether or not they need painting this year.

Fred Simpson Training Hard for the Race with Appleby Good Friday

Toronto, April 2—Fred Simpson, the Otaway Thunderbolt, is fast rounding into shape for his 20-mile race on Good Friday with Fred Appleby, the Englishman, who holds the world's record of 1.20.04 3-5 for fifteen miles.

Simpson holds the American outdoor record for fifteen miles of 1 hour 27 minutes and 2 seconds, and that was made on the road.

Appleby's time was made on the Lethbridge track at London, England, one of the fastest tracks in the world, so that comparing the times it looks as if the Indian should be able to make the famous sister of Alfred Shrubb step some.

Simpson's cold which undoubtedly bothered him in his race with Shrubb has entirely disappeared. Last week he had a bad coughing spell at the end of every run, but the last two spring days have chased the cold out of him and he has not been smothered with the cough at all.

TRAINING HARD.

On Wednesday the Indian did ten miles and on Thursday he went for a walk for two hours in the morning following by a seven-mile run in the afternoon which was done in faster time than the first seven miles against Shrubb at the armories.

Fred is training at the Varsity track. It is still pretty heavy but he is more than pleased to get outside again and say farewell to the indoor tracks for awhile. Tom Eck made the Indian go seven miles this morning and he will call upon him for a fast five this afternoon. Appleby is staying in New York for the Marathon tomorrow afternoon and will likely come on here right after the race.

PICK DORANDO.

Both Simpson and his manager, Tom Eck, pick Dorando to win the big race in New York tomorrow after soon with Shrubb a close second.

Tom Eck says he does not see how Longboat can be in condition and does not expect him to run better than third.

Mrs. I. Puffer has gone to Peterborough to undergo a critical operation at the Nicholls hospital.—Norwood Register.

Man Killed by Comrade Striking Him with Lantern

Kenora, April 2.—Returning from Dryden, Ont., under the influence of drink, John Bell and Alex. Miller, the latter familiarly known as "Sandy," stopped for the night at the shanty of Ed. Buckley. Bell was put to bed and Miller assisted Buckley to finish the chores. Returning to the house about one o'clock this morning, Bell said something to Miller which Buckley did not hear, but which infuriated Miller, so that he struck Bell a terrible blow with a heavy, stable lantern. The lantern was shattered, which left the shanty in darkness. Buckley, it is said, grappled with Miller, who is a larger and stronger man, and the latter threw his host out of the shanty, but following, apologized for his violence, and continued his road to his own home.

Buckley, getting no answer from Bell, who was breathing heavily, went to a neighbor for light and help. Returning with John Robinson they found Bell dead, a piece of the shattered lantern glass had cut his jugular vein.

Robinson and Buckley walked to Minnetaki, where they wired the chief of police of Dryden, who immediately went to the scene.

Buckley and Robinson think Miller had not the slightest idea of a fatal result unless he has since returned to the shanty for his chum. There was no bad blood between them so far as is known.

ANOTHER FATAL BRAWL.

As the result of a drunken brawl following a maple sugar party on the Cutineau, held last night, Amedee Sylvester, 29 years of age, of Bridge street, Hull, is reported to be in a dying condition. He was severely pounded over the head, and is in an unconscious state. The doctors despair of his recovery. It is expected an arrest will be made today.

Bad Season for Colds

Colds and grip were quite prevalent last winter and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in great demand and performed some remarkable cures. Mrs. Mary J. Robinson of Cameron, W. Va., says; "Last winter I was taken with one of the awfulest colds I ever had in my life. I could not speak above a whisper and was very hoarse. I was afraid it was going to be pneumonia. I took one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in three days was lots better and could talk. I did not take but the one bottle and it cured me. I now tell everybody about Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the good it did me."

Young Girl Drinks Poison and Takes Gas

Toronto, April 2.—Because she was selling discouraged and despondent, Miss Grace Darling Moore, a young woman of 22, made desperate efforts to end her life this morning in her room at 158 Wilton avenue.

Two empty bottles of laudanum and a piece of rubber tubing leading from the gas jet to the bed where she was lying testify to the efforts that the young woman made in the abortive attempt to kill herself.

About twelve o'clock today, the lady of the house, Mrs. Gensing, smelled a strong odor of gas about the upper hall, and traced it to Miss Moore's room. Bursting in the door, she saw the unfortunate young woman stretched across her bed, with the gas pouring into her face from the hose, and the two empty bottles lying beside the bed.

The couch was one of those folding beds, and on the shelf across the top of the bed was lying a book. It was Chas. Reede's "It's Never Too Late to Mend."

RUSHED FOR DOCTOR.

Mrs. Gensing, as soon as she realized what he happened, rushed across the street to Dr. R. H. Robinson's. Here it was found the doctor was out, but he was reached by phone, and was soon on the spot.

After a hasty examination of the girl he called an ambulance. Within twenty minutes after the girl was first discovered she was on her way to the General Hospital. Here the doctors believed that they will be able to save her life if the laudanum in the bottle was not too strong a solution.

PERHAPS ONLY A LITTLE POISON

Dr. R. H. Robinson, 163 Wilton avenue, told the following to a reporter;

"I was over on Seaton street on a case about 12 o'clock when I got a phone message to go quickly to 158 Wilton avenue. I went there and found the girl in bed unconscious, with two empty bottles beside the bed. There had apparently been laudanum in them, at least one of them, and it may be that she may not have had enough laudanum to do the deed, and she employed gas to make sure of it.

"She used gas for cooking, and a tube hung down from the jet. She turned the gas on full, and got into bed, covering her head with the bed clothes. When Mrs. Gensing was passing the room she smelled gas, and, getting no response from her rap on the door, she broke in the door and found the girl covered up, and the tube close to her mouth. If the laudanum does not have a fatal effect, I think she will recover. She will, as far as the gas is concerned."

Mr. Albert Gensing is the owner of No. 158 Wilton avenue, and Miss Moore has been a roomer there for some three or four months. She worked for Nasmith's before this time, but she has done nothing since coming to the Wilton avenue house.

The girl is an American, and was extremely religious.

CATARRHOZONE

Rev. D. K. Smith, of White Head, N.S., was cured of catarrh by Catarrhozone.

The following statement coming from one of Nova Scotia's prominent churchmen carries conviction of the fact that Catarrhozone is all right.

"For years I tried all the advertised remedies for Catarrh, but was unable to get relief until I used Catarrhozone. Before I had used the Inhaler half an hour my nostrils became free and clear so that I could breathe easily through them. In one day Catarrhozone helped me immensely, stopped my coughing and hawking and cured a dull pain that was continually over my eyes. I have great pleasure in recommending Catarrhozone. I have proved it the best remedy for Catarrh and diseases of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes."

There is certainly no remedy that is so well spoken of by the clergy as Catarrhozone and this can be accounted for by the fact that it gives perfect satisfaction.

It is the only remedy that reaches all diseased parts and gives quick relief without bad after effects. Catarrhozone contains no cocaine nor morphine. It is nature's own remedy, soothing and healing, and pleases everybody that uses it.

Catarrhozone is a local and constitutional treatment. The Inhaler clears the air passages, stops the headache, and Ferrozone Tablets that are included in every complete Catarrhozone outfit, never fail to drive impurities from the blood. They builds up and strengthens the system so that Catarrhal conditions cannot exist.

The speediest cure for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Bronchitis, and Asthma is Catarrhozone. Two months' treatment, price $1.00; medium size 50c; at druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

SATURDAY, APRIL 3.

MAKES FOR BETTER RELATIONS

The bill before the Congress of the United States is more than an indication of a trend on the part of our neighbors towards moderation in tariff legislation, it affords further evidence of a disposition on their part to pursue a more friendly policy towards Canada.

The waterways treaty, minus the Smith amendment, which does not appear to have expressed the real sentiment of the Senate, was the first notable illustration of this new feeling which is being gradually developed. The tariff legislation now under consideration is even more indicative of growing friendliness, not only to Canada, but to the common Mother Country as well. The report of the committee in introducing that legislation, as Mr. Lewis pointed out in the special despatch in Saturday's issue, expressly admits that Great Britain was not treated fairly under the Dingley law, and declares that the lowest rate of duty to be put in force under the Payne measure shall apply to British goods. Not only this, but the minimum rate, reserved for countries which do not discriminate against the United States, is to be extended to Canada as well, even although the Dominion does discriminate in favor of the Mother Country, and to that extent against the United States. The provision for reciprocial free trade in coal and agricultural implements is also a holding out of the olive branch to this country. This marked change in attitude is cause for most sincere thankfulness on the part of all those who desire to see the cause of international peace and good neighborhood make way, and the most important duty resting upon the Ottawa government today is to show that this country is prepared to meet fully their way all advances made.

Kingston Has Lots of Trouble

The Peterborough City Council is not the only municipal governing body in Ontario that has trouble with their fire department. Kingston's firemen will resign in a body. That's even worse than having four drop off the force without notice. No doubt the Chief Fire, Water and Light Committee will be glad to receive the sympathy of the Kingston people. A despatch from the Limestone City is as follows:

Kingston, March 30.—The Fire Light Committee engaged in the reorganization of the fire department, asked that the resignation of Chief Elmer be asked for, and 150 citizens petitioned to have him retained. A resolution was passed by the council calling for a new chief from outside the city with the appointment of Chief Elmer as assistant at the present salary. The resignation of every man in the department will be asked for.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

THE TURTLE'S HEAD.

Chopped Off, It Retains Life For a Number of Hours.

On the counter, in a porcelain dish, stood the covered head of a large turtle.

"That is rather gruesome," said a man who was buying oysters.

The oyster opener glanced at the head carelessly.

"It is a bet," said he. "I bet Gus Schmidt that the head would keep alive twenty-four hours. It's nearly twenty-five now since I chopped it off. Gus is late. But I win anyhow," he added.

"Where's my money? Pay me my money!" a deep voice shouted at this moment, and a short man swaggered in.

"You've lost, Gus," said the oyster opener. "There is still life in her."

"There is—sit," said Gus Schmidt. "Nix on the life."

And he extended a stumpy finger fearlessly toward the turtle's mouth.

"Gee!"

Startled, amazed, Gus Schmidt leaped back. For in the turtle's open eyes a fierce light had flashed, the ugly mouth had opened and shut with a sharp snap, and the head in some strange way had advanced an inch or five toward the tempting finger, much as a piece of steel advances toward a magnet.

"This may surprise you, Gus," said the oyster opener, wiping his wet hands in order to pocket his winnings. "But it don't surprise me none. I've seen turtle heads keep life in 'em longer'n this here."

Greeley Dodged Lincoln.

President Lincoln, having been often and severely arraigned in the New York Tribune for what Mr. Greeley considered his slowness in prosecuting the war, had said: "If he (Greeley) objects to my policy, I shall be glad to have him state to me his views frankly and fully. I shall adopt his if I can. If I cannot, I will at least tell him why. He and I should stand together."

"If I were to go," said Greeley when the words were repeated to him, "he would simply twist me around his fingers, as he always does."

"Lincoln's smile would wilt me in half a minute," he said on another occasion when again urged to see the president and have a talk with him. "He is a wonderful man—wonderful! I never can harbor a thought against him except when I keep away from him."

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription — Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and oh! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

Tender for Red River Bridge

SEALED tenders, addressed to the undersigned, and marked on the envelope "Tender for the Red River Bridge," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway until twelve o'clock noon of the 8th day of April, 1909, for the construction and erection of a steel and concrete bridge and approach spans over the Red River between Winnipeg and St. Boniface, near the foot of Lombard street, together with grading and approach spans over streets in Winnipeg.

Separate tenders must be submitted for the substructure with other works as per schedule, and for superstructure.

Plans, details and profiles may be seen and full information obtained at the office of the chief engineer at Ottawa, and also at the office of the district engineer at St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the forms supplied by the commissioners, which may be had on application to Mr. Hugh D. Lumsden, chief engineer, Ottawa, Ont., and M. S. R. Poulin, district engineer, St. Boniface, Man.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered Bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway for the sum of $35,000 for substructure and other work as per schedule, and for the sum of $65,000 for steel superstructure and floor.

The cheques deposited by the party whose tender is accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

The right is reserved to reject any or all tenders.

By Order,
P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.

The Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway.

Newspapers inserting this advertisement without authority from the commissioners will not be paid for it.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—a scientific Tablet or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell.

Why Do People Deposit Their Money in Banks for only 3 Per Cent. Interest?

BECAUSE, THEY THINK IT IS QUITE SAFE.

Why Do Some Invest in Bonds to get a Little Higher Interest?

Because, the bonds represent a mortgage on the property on which their money is invested which gives a feeling of safety.

Why Do People Invest in Wildcat Gold and Silver Mining Schemes? Because they think the chances of profit are big and they are willing to take the risk.

WHY NOT INVEST IN A SAFE STOCK IN A GOING COAL MINE

making money now and which presents such possibilities for development that it is expected that the profits will run from 25 per cent. to 50 per. cent. higher.

The Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited, Stock at $10 per Share is a safe Stock.

It is all common stock. There are no bonds or no mortgages or no preferred stock, on which interest must be paid before the common stockholder gets anything.

When you buy common stock of the Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited at $10 per share you become an actual owner of the mines and have an equal chance of the profits according to the number of shares held. A coal mine with a big deposit of coal ready for the miner's pick is as safe as a bank. To own and control shares of common stock in such a coal mine must be safer and better than holding bonds in a proposition in which you have no control and which may or may not be properly managed. The officers and management of the Winter Port Coal Mines of New Brunswick have the experience in mining and selling coal in both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

J. S. Gibbon, the President of the company, opened and developed the Winter Port Mines to the present stage.

W. E. Vroom, the Vice-President of the Company, was for some years actively associated in the management of the Springhill Collieries in Nova Scotia and the Albert Mines in New Brunswick.

Manufacturers in St. John speak highly of the Winter Port coal.

Winter Port coal is a good locomotive coal and has been used on the Intercolonial and other railways.

The Winter Port Coal Mines being practically on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific now opening up through New Brunswick will provide a most convenient coaling facility for that great transcontinental railway. Immense quantities of coal will be needed by the great railways and by the manufacturers, steamship lines, etc., in connection with the development of Canada's Winter Port at St. John, N.B., which is only 55 miles in a direct line from these coal mines.

Secure some Winter Port stock now at $10 per share (there is no personal liability) and get your share of the profits of a safe conservative money-making proposition.

A HARD TASKMASTER.

Agassiz Forced His Pupils to Find Out For Themselves.

When I sat me down before my tin pan Agassiz brought me a small fish, placing it before me with the rather stern requirement that I should study it, but should on no account talk to any one concerning it or read anything concerning fishes until I had his permission so to do. To my inquiry, "What shall I do?" he said in effect: "Find out what you can without damaging the specimen. When I think that you have done the work I will question you." In the course of an hour I thought I had compassed that fish. But Agassiz, though always within call, concerned himself no further with me that day nor the next nor for a week. At first this neglect was distressing. But I saw that it was a game, for he was, as I discerned rather than saw, covertly watching me. So I set my wits to work upon the thing and in the course of a hundred hours or so thought I had done much, a hundred times as much as seemed possible at the start. I felt full of the subject and probably expressed it in my bearing. As for words about it then, there were none from my master, except his cheery "Good morning." At length on the seventh day came the question, "Well?" and my disgorge of learning to him as he sat on the edge of my table, puffing his cigar. At the end of the hour's telling he swung off and away, saying, "That is not right."

I went at the task anew, discarded my first notes, and in another week of ten hours a day labor I had results which astonished myself and satisfied him. Still there was no trace of praise in words or manner. He signified that it would do by placing before me about a half a peck of bones, telling me to see what I could make of them, with no further directions to guide me. Two months or more went to this task, with no other help than an occasional looking over my grouping with the stereotyped remark, "That is not right." Finally the task was done, and I was again set upon alcoholic specimens. — "Autobiography of Professor Shaler" in Atlantic.

HE FED THE STAFF.

Fine Dinner For a Hungry Crowd on a Small Capital.

Years ago the late Senator E. W. Carmack was editor of the Nashville Democrat, a paper that had a precarious life and flickered out on Thanksgiving day.

When the staff came around on Thanksgiving afternoon Carmack met them with the announcement that the paper was dead and that they were all without jobs. This was sadder than it seems now, for the paper had not been paying salaries for some time.

"Boys," said Carmack, "it's all over. The sheet is dead. But we shall not want for a Thanksgiving day dinner. How much money have we?" A search of all pockets showed $4.70.

"Plenty," said Carmack. "Come with me."

They went to the best restaurant and sat down, and Carmack ordered a sumptuous dinner, with turkey and everything complete. After the dinner was over and the diners were smoking the best cigars the house had Carmack called the waiter in his grandest manner and said: "Boy, you have served us admirably. We are more than pleased. Here is a small sum to compensate you for your trouble and as a slight token of our gratification."

"Thank yo', boss," grinned the waiter; "thank yo'. But how about this yere check of $19.70 for that dinner you all just had?"

"Boy," exclaimed Carmack, "what is your status here? Are you a waiter or are you the financial manager of this concern?"

"'Deed, boss, I'a only a waiter."

"Well, then," said Carmack, "don't trouble yourself about the financial affairs of the place. Leave that to the manager." And he stalked out, followed by the feasted staff.

But he paid when fortune smiled again.

Pet Animal Cemetery.

Paris has a pet animal cemetery where thousands of dogs, cats, parrots and other animals are buried. Many of the inscriptions on the monuments are affecting in the extreme. "O Sappho!" is recorded above the grave of a toy terrier. "If my soul cannot join yours, dear and noble friend, I do not wish for salvation without thee! I shall wish, like thee, to slumber forever in the sleep that knows no awaking."

Over the resting place of a King Charles spaniel one reads: "I shall regret thee eternally, dear little one. How empty henceforth shall my life be without thee, dear little bowwow!"

An Expert.

She—How can you be so sure that you are in love with me and with no one else? Even I wonder at times whether there is a possibility of absolute certainty in such matters. He—You lack experience and the confidence it begets. I've been in love forty times and know every symptom.—Detroit Free Press.

Politeness.

"Politeness costs nothing," said the proverbialist.

"Which may explain," answered Miss Cayenne, "why some people of ostentatious wealth have so little use for it."

Looks That.

Bates—That nephew of yours called me blackguard. Yates—Just like Ben; no tact about the boy. I've always told him that the truth was not to be spoken on all occasions.—Boston Transcript.

HE GOT BIG PAY.

An African Salary That Commanded Respect and Obedience.

Makuba and Obianga were two Africans, the one the captain of a boat crew and the other subordinate to him. Obianga was an independent fellow, not in the least lazy, who rather resented "bossing." In a book entitled "The Jungle Folk of Africa" R. H. Milligan tells of an altercation between the two men. Makuba, the diplomatic, came out of it with flying colors.

The worst disputes between Makuba and Obianga took place when they supposed that I was asleep. The native when he lies down anywhere sleeps immediately. Whenever I was lying in the bottom of the boat they always thought I was unconscious and that no conceivable noise could waken me.

Captain Makuba orders Obianga to "haul away on the peak halyards," to which Obianga promptly replies:

"Do it yourself."

"I won't do it; you will do it!" says Makuba in a threatening tone.

"Are you my father?" says Obianga.

"No," answers Makuba, with infinite scorn. "How could a Kombi man be the father of a creature like you?"

"Then stop giving me orders!" says Obianga, with rising wrath. "It is not the first time you have tried it, and one of these days you will find out that it won't do."

"One of these days you will find out that I am captain of this boat and that you will have to obey me," says Makuba.

"Not as long as I carry a gun," answers Obianga.

By this time they are standing up and looking hard at each other. But Makuba would not think of striking a man in a mission boat. He therefore becomes diplomatic. Suddenly in a tone altogether different he says:

"Obianga, the trouble with you is that you are just a bushman. You don't know anything about civilization. On every big ocean steamer there is a captain, and every man on board, no matter what tribe he belongs to, obeys the captain."

Obianga becomes instantly curious and asks, "Is he rich?"

"Yes," says Makuba; "he gets big pay, and so do I get big pay."

"How much do you get, Makuba?"

"How much do you think?"

Obianga thinks as well as he knows how, his countenance distorted with the effort, and at length answers reflectively, "Two dollars a month." He himself gets a dollar and a half.

A broad smile engages Makuba's features as he slowly answers, "Five dollars a month."

Obianga gives expression to his surprise in a long, low whistle. It is quite evident to him that no ordinary person could command such wages, and in a tone of utmost compliance he says: "What was it you told me to do, Makuba? I forget."

"I forget, too," says Makuba. "Oh, yes," he adds, "I told you to haul on the peak halyards."

Maryland Lotteries.

A Baltimore man interested in antiquarian research made a collection of old lottery tickets which gives interesting testimony as to the development of public morals. Most of the tickets were given out by Maryland lotteries, but quite as large a collection could undoubtedly be made in other states. Four of the tickets are in the Washington monument lottery, which was authorized by the legislature and was not given up until 1824. As early as 1763 a lottery was advertised to build a wharf. The drawing took place April 20, 1754. Ten years later one was undertaken to build a market house in "Baltimore Town" and for "buying two fire engines and a parcel of leather buckets." In 1782 a yearly lottery was authorized to aid the city expenses. Other objects for which money was raised in this way were parsonages, church bells, circulating libraries and gristmills.

Why He Wondered.

A certain Irish police inspector was reviewing a Belfast police station, the sergeant of which was a very bad speller. Looking through the books, he came upon an entry, "Found a pig wondering on the public road."

"Sergeant," said he, "what was the pig wondering at?"

"I don't know, sir," said the bewildered man.

"Well," said the inspector grimly, "I do. He must have been wondering why I promoted you!"

The Elemental Feminine.

Arthur, aged four, and Louise, aged two and a half, were disputing over a string which Louise claimed. All threats and force on Arthur's part were useless; she would not give up. After a moment he used guile.

"Weez," he said, "will you be my little wife?"

"Ess," she coyly answered.

"Then give me the string," he commanded.

And she gave it without a murmur.—Lippincott's.

Answered.

Boreigh—Ha, ha, old man! Nailing down a carpet, are you? Jones (who has just struck his thumb)—No, you fool! The carpet was here all the time. I'm just putting the floor under it!

An Appropriate Sign.

Mrs. Smith—I see the contractor has put the sign "Sold" on the new house next door. Mr. Smith—Yes, and the sign "Stung" should be put on the buyer.—Kansas City Journal.

Don't trust the fellow who has a vacant look in a poker game. He generally has a full house.—Philadelphia Record.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

A GREAT RUNNER.

One of His Feats of Which He Had to Be Reminded.

"I'm the real thing as a runner," said Howard James majestically as he seated himself at the first home dinner since his return from college. His mother and sister looked at him in sheer admiration.

"Yes, mother, I wish you could have been at the university to see me run. During the football season I ran away from every one on the team. They were not in it for a minute. In the classes I took the lead, leaving them in the lurch. I always stood highest in my lectures. And then when it came to selecting a president for the class I made the race. When the voting started I ran second, but at the last, well, I ran ahead of all of the other candidates. There's no doubt about it, I'm a runner. Of course, when the baseball season opened the crowd wanted me to get on the team. At first I hesitated because I realized my superiority, but persuasion succeeded. I went on the team, and the way I ran bases was a positive shame. Then I went into the track meet. I ran ten yards in ten seconds, almost equaling the world's record. Yes; I am a runner. Then"—

"Then you ran into debt," interrupted Old Man James, with a distinctive grunt, "and I have to pay you out."

DARK DOINGS.

The Reason One Woman Is Disgusted With the Voting Proposition.

When any one asked Mrs. Pratt her opinion on the question of equal suffrage she had her answer ready. "I don't want to hear anything about it," she would say pleasantly, but firmly, "and I'd just as soon tell you why. It's because there's got to be a concealment and mystery about voting, and I like things open and aboveboard. It's the way I was brought up and the way I shall always feel if I live to be a hundred.

"I've had one experience, and that's all I want. A friend of mine talked and talked to me about voting on the educational question till at last I said I would, because I was brought up to think a great deal of education, and I always shall. So I gave up an engagement to go to the polls and register (and the dress was almost spoiled on account of my raining that trying on, too, because she didn't wait to see whether it fitted or not, but stitched the seams right up), and then I took the greatest pains to go and vote just as they'd told me to, and what do you suppose Henry Pratt told me afterward? My vote was thrown out because I had the frankness to write my full name and address on it!

"I told Henry that nothing would surprise me after that—nothing!"

Arago's Modesty.

Arago, the great French scientist, was never seen with a decoration on his breast. He valued honors lightly. One evening Leverrier, the astronomer, called on him on his way to dine with a minister. He expressed a wish to appear decorated with an order to which he was entitled, having received the official notice of the honor, although he had not as yet the decoration itself.

"Open that drawer," said Arago, "and take whatever you want."

In that drawer were all the crosses and ribbons which kings and emperors confer.

While Arago wished above everything to promulgate science and to make his researches useful, he did not attempt to identify himself forever with his discoveries by writing books. He had no time for writing, but contented himself with noting the results of his work in the record of the bureau of longitude or announcing it verbally to the academy.

Broke Rule to Win Scholarship.

Sir Alexander Mackenzie, principal of the Royal Academy of Music, who has discredited the story that Mendelssohn left the score of his "Midsummer Night's Dream" in a cab and re-wrote it from memory without variation from the original, was as a boy of thirteen in a German orchestra playing Gounod's "Faust" before it was known in England and playing from the manuscript of Lind's compositions before ever a printer had seen them. At the age of seventeen he was in London, and won the King's Scholarship at the Academy over which he now presides. Whereas now there are hundreds of scholarships open to competition, the one young Alexander secured was the only scholarship then offered. When he went in for it he was earning his living by playing in orchestras, and in order to attend the competition he absented himself from a rehearsal without leave. On his return the conductor told him to take up his fiddle and clear out. Young Alexander did as he was told, saying, "Well, I don't care. I've won the King's Scholarship." "Oh, you have, have you?" replied the conductor. "Very well, under the circumstances you may stay."

A Story of the "69th."

There is no more hard-working officer in the British army than Lieut.-Col. the Earl of Longford, who has been created a member of the Victorian Order. During the South African War he raised and commanded the 69th, or Dublin, Company, Imperial Yeomanry, and was unfortunate enough to meet De Wet at that terrible skirmish which history has dubbed the Lindley disaster. The four companies were surrounded, but the Earl of Longford would not surrender his company, in spite of the others having ceased fire. He called out, "The Forty-fifth will not surrender," but a shell knocked him over, when the company gave in to De Wet, not before thirty out of the 120 were either dead or wounded.

OBITUARY

BETSY NORTHCOTE.

Yesterday morning death removed one of Peterborough's oldest residents in the person of Mrs. Betsy Northcote, Charlotte street. The deceased was 80 years of age and has lived in Peterborough for over half a century. She enjoyed pretty good health until a couple of weeks ago, but since then she has been rapidly sinking until about noon yesterday when she passed away. Her son, William Northcote, of Welland, who is the only survivor, arrived on the C.P.R. yesterday morning and saw his mother just before she died. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 3.30 and interment will take place at Little Lake cemetery.

Stiff Neck

Stiff neck is caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the neck. It is usually confined to one side, or to the back of the neck and one side. While it is often quite painful, quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of rheumatism in ten requires internal treatment. When there is no fever and no swelling as in muscular and chronic rheumatism. Chamberlain's Liniment will accomplish more than any internal treatment.

An Ideal Cough Medicine

"As an ideal cough medicine I regard Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in a class by itself," says Dr. R. A. Wiltshire, of Gwynneville, Ind. "I take great pleasure in testifying to the results of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. In fact, I know of no other preparation that meets so fully the expectations of the most exacting in cases of croup and coughs of children. As it contains no opium, chloroform or morophine it certainly makes a most safe, pleasant and efficacious remedy for the ills it is intended."

money, and another $500 for Dorando, Longboat, and so on, good for training expenses. Five thousand dollars will cover the rest of his expenses. Custard pie for Patrick, isn't it?

COMBINATION AGAINST INDIAN

The race starts at three o'clock. I don't think it will be a very fast one, because the men will be busy eeling each other out and watching ach other. There is one thing I am afraid of though, and that is a combination against Longboat. That the ace is on the square no one around here doubts, and every man is running for a reputation. To get a Marathon reputation they must have a victory over the Onondaga, and with his end in view I am afraid a combination of some sort will be made to beat the Indian.

At the Olympic games, for instance, he French and Italian bicycle riders in the 62 mile race combined to beat he Englishmen out, and they tried every crooked trick in the category. n that race Harvey Young, the Canuck, worked his head off pacing English riders back into the bunch when the continental riders had them gone, and Young is given much of the credit for winning the race for Great Britain.

POSSIBLE COMBINATIONS.

If the Frenchman and the Italian do combine, where will Alfie Shrubb stand? Is he patriotic enough to jump in and aid Longboat? And where will Maloney and Hayes be if combinations are formed to beat the Indian? Tom Longboat is the man they all want to trim. P. J. Mulqueen and Richard Cowan arrived today for the race.

LONGBOAT'S HANDLERS.

Each competitor will have three attendants, and they are to be rigidly confined to a trackside space of 70 yards. Any man whose attendants trespass on any other's territory is o be disqualified. Tom O'Rourke, Sol Minto and Bill Davis will look after Longboat.

HINTS AT DARK THINGS.

W. P. McLaughlin, in the World, hints at dark things He says; "Warning—I have no definite line on the runners who are to compete in the Marathon Derby. I have no choice at this writing. I will have some addvice for sport lovers in tomorrow's paper.' I have heard some things about two of the runners that, if true, will have a serious bearing on the result. So hold your wages for a day."

To All The Women Who Suffer Pe-ru-na Is Earnestly Commended.

Many a matron has lengthened the days of her comely appearance by taking Peruna. To be beautiful, the body must be kept clean internally as well as externally. Peruna produces clean mucous membranes, the basis of facial symmetry, and a clear, healthy complexion.

Systemic Catarrh.

Mrs. James Golloher, Norwood, Ontario, writes:

"I was suffering from systemic catarrh for about two years. In damp weather I was unable to do my work, as my back and sides would ache, and I thought if I did not soon find a cure I could not live long.

"I saw where Peruna had cured hundreds who had suffered as I was. I decided to try it.

"After taking the first bottle I felt a big change. I have taken five bottles and I am completely cured.

"I thank Dr. Hartman for his kind advice to me."

Sick Headaches.

Miss Nettie E. Bogardus, R. F. D. 21, Westfield, N. Y., writes:

"I have been a great sufferer from sick headaches, but am now entirely free from that trouble. I have not felt so well in ten years as I do now. I would recommend Peruna and Manalin to all sufferers. I will say, God bless Dr. Hartman and his wonderful remedies."

Catarrh Made Life Miserable.

Dlle. Marie L. Meunier, 913 Ontario street, Montreal, Can., writes:

"I take pleasure in stating that I have been cured of catarrh by Peruna.

"This disease made my life miserable, especially in the morning, when I had to cough and spit and make every effort to clear my throat and air passages.

"This remedy cured me promptly and I recommend it most highly to persons afflicted with this terrible disease."

My Sister Advised Me to Try Peruna.

I Took Your Treatment and My Appetite Returned Speedily.

I Gained Strength and Flesh and am in Perfect Health.

I am so Thankful Your Medicine has Done Me so Much Good.

Grateful for Relief.

Mme. Leo Gabourg, 215 Rue Arago, St. Sauveur, Quebec, Canada, writes:

"I thank you very much for the advice you have given me. I am very well indeed. It seems to me that I am no longer the same person.

"Some of my friends have been troubled with colds and have used Peruna with very satisfactory results. As for myself, I am happy to be so successfully cured, and so promptly."

Catarrh of Bowels.

Mrs. Maggie Durbin, 1322 North St., Little Rock, Ark., writes:

"I was troubled for five years with a chronic disease. I tried everything I heard of, but nothing did me any good. Some doctors said my trouble was catarrh of the bowels, and some said consumption of the bowels. One doctor said he could cure me; I took his medicine two months, but it did me no good.

"A friend of mine advised me to try Peruna and I did so. After I had taken two bottles I found it was helping me, so I continued its use, and it has cured me sound and well.

"If any one wants to know what Peruna did for me if they will write to me I will answer promptly."

Pains in the Side.

Mrs. Julia Braxton, Apollo, Pa., writes:

"Peruna has cured me of heart trouble and pains in the side.

"A year ago I was expected to die at any time, and the doctor was sometimes called at two o'clock in the morning. But I am thankful to say that I do not have to send for a doctor now.

"Since I have used your Peruna as you advised me, I am well and able to do all my housework.

"I have all the faith in the world in Peruna, as it cured me, and I know that it will cure others."

ACT QUICKLY

When you have finished reading this advertisement to the last line, REMEMBER THIS: "I challenge anyone to show me a CLEANER AND MORE PROMISING PROPOSITION in connection with our offer."

If you have faith in the North Country and feel like putting $100.00 where it will do the most good for you, we will tell you where the sure money lies in mining investments. It was this very thing which caused sagacious men of unquestioned business integrity to say to me, "Go ahead, we have confidence in you and will back you up."

Nothing short of the impossible, therefore, can prevent me from "making good" to them. BERNARD A. SCHOERKE.

THE UNITED STATES SECURITIES COMPANY, LIMITED, of Youngstown, Ohio, U.S.A., was incorporated under a charter of the State of Ohio, with an authorized capital of $20,000, of which $9,000 has been paid up, the balance of the stock remaining in the treasury as reserve.

The company has complied with the legal requirements of the Province of Ontario, and is authorized to exercise the powers provided for by its charter, "TO ORGANIZE AND PROMOTE COMPANIES WITH SHARE CAPITAL, ACT AS FISCAL AND TRANSFER AGENTS, AND BUY AND SELL SECURITIES."

STRONG FINANCIAL CONNECTIONS IN THE STATES AND CANADA, AND AN EXCEPTIONALLY COMPETENT BOARD OF DIRECTORS, PLACES THE COMPANY IN A POSITION TO ADMINISTER BUSINESS AFFAIRS UNDER PROPER GUIDANCE, AND PROVIDES FOR A WIDE MARKET FOR ITS SECURITIES, AND A PROGRESSIVE POLICY IN MERITORIOUS STOCK OFFERINGS TO THE INVESTING PUBLIC.

Coleman, Silver Lake, Gowganda

Claims Nos. 10804 to 10813 inclusive, M.R. 719 and M.R. 2263.

These properties have been selected with great care and will serve the purposes well for which they are intended. M.R. 719, in particular, which is located in the same rich section with the Ottawa and Ottawa-Cobalt Mines, gives every reason for the belief that a splendid mineral deposit will be opened up with the development of the present system of veins. (An adjoining property is being explored by Montreal interests, on a vein of decomposed calcite, cobalt and copper, which has been traced from M.R. 719).

Numerous veins, well mineralized, have been located on the 10 properties, 10804 to 10813, which are located in the section where the "Edison," "Richardson," "Rupert," West Coleman," "Crown Jewel," and other highly promising properties are found, the formation being mainly in the distance, with numerous eruptive breaks.

M.R. 2263, in Gowganda territory, is located immediately to the north of the recently opened Government Townsite, and is a splendid fissure formation, with silver finds in the immediate vicinity.

Lively Scrap at Fire Hall Saturday Night

The fire hall was the scene of another lively scrap on Saturday night. About eight o'clock, a man who, it appears was in the habit of going there when under the influence of liquor to create a disturbance, appeared in the hall again and in the same condition. He was requested by the chief to take his departure but refused. A lively bout ensued in which the chief administered a fair thrashing upon the disturber. An effort was made to swear out a warrant against the chief, but City Clerk Armstrong told the man to call at the office Monday morning at ten o'clock. The chief also wanted to issue a counter warrant against the man, but he had to wait also. The case will likely be aired in the police court.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee

A short session of the Fire, Water and Light Committee was held Saturday afternoon when the account of the Peterborough Light and Power Co. for light was passed. The chairman and Ald. Morgan were authorized to purchase half a dozen pair of rubber boots for the fire department. The contract was awarded to Messrs. McGregor and Reid to fix the electric wiring in the fire hall, according to the demands of the Underwriters' Association.

The Lacrosse Boys will Organize

Canada's national summer sport should boom in Peterborough this year. In the past lacrosse has had a large circle of supporters here and from all appearances there is material on hand now for a good team. At the meeting held in the Crown Hotel a few nights ago a large number of enthusiasts were present and the prospects looked good for the season. Tomorrow night another meet will be held and it is expected that the club will be organized. A full attendance is requested. Everyone who likes lacrosse, the best sport in the world from a spectator's standpoint, should be present.

New Rails Being on the C. P. Line

Spring work on the C.P.R. is now the chief object of the sectionmen. The yard is being cleaned up and the winter's litter has been removed. It is learned that a large quantity of new rails will be laid on the line west of the city. Mr. Geo. Spicer, foremen of the section men, west of the city, has been in the neighborhood of Burketon, disposing of rails, and in a short time the laying of them will be begun; Practically every summer now several gangs of men are employed at this work in the district east and west of Peterborough.

A Small Fire Last Night

A small fire broke out at Mr. J. B. Simmons, 173 Park street last street last night about 7.30. Mr. and Mrs. Simmons had gone to church and left the children to keep house. The youngsters got playing with matches and set fire to the lounge. One of the neighbors ran into the house and carried the lounge out while another neighbor sent in an alarm from box 31. When the department arrived the fire was out. Only about $2 damage was done.

The Grits Won the Second Bowling Game

The Grits were again victorious in the return game of ten pins against the Tories on Saturday night, and once more the Tories had to pay for the supper. There was a good crowd out to see the two five-men teams roll the balls, but if they expected to see any fancy bowling, they were disappointed. The scores were all small, all the players apparently had an off night. The Tories won the first two games by some 50 pins but as was the case in the first contest the Grits came back strong in the third game, winning by over a hundred pins and thus captured the series. After the game the boys adjourned to Boopers where the supper was partaken of.

The scores were as follows:

GRITS—
Sutherland	126	161	183
Ferguson	161	126	166
Glover	126	116	161
Martin	162	156	185
Cairns	179	134	195
	745	705	890
TORIES—
McIlroy	154	158	159
Pollard	193	124	189
Bruce	123	155	122
Connors	147	139	167
Wareham	156	167	126
	773	737	762

Total pinnage counted. Grits won for second time in last game.

WEDDING BELLS

BUCK—McMILLEN.

A pretty wedding was celebrated on March 31st, at six o'clock p.m., in Peterborough, when Mrs. Alberta McMillen of Harwood, was united in marriage to Mr. Thomas D. Buck of Norwood. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. A. M. Cowling, 270 William street, Mr. Henderson, pastor of Charlotte street Methodist church, performed the ceremony, only the immediate friends being present on account of bereavement in the groom's family. They were unattended. After the ceremony a dainty tea was served. The bride's wedding dress was point d'esprit over cream silk. The bride looked charming in her travelling suit of grey taupe with pattern hat to match. They will reside at Norwood. The bride will be at home to her friends after April 15th. Their many friends join in wishing them a bright and prosperous future. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet, set with pearls.

ST. YVES WON MARATHON OVER WET TRACK IN RECORD TIME

Distance Covered in 2.40 50, 3-5—The Dark Horse Won—Longboat the Favorite, Quit Dead After the 19th Mile—Shrubb Quit After the 25th Mile—Large Sums of Money Changed Hands

Features of the Race

Distance—26 miles, 385 yards.
Contestants—St. Yves, Longboat, Shrubb, Dorando, Maloney, Hayes—the greatest of distance runners.
Purse—$10,000
Winner—St. Yves, the Frenchman, who was the dark horse and long shot.
Longboat quit dead after the 19th mile. Stopped twice before that but started again.
Shrubb quit dead after the 25th mile.
Dorando and Shrubb worked together to kill Longboat.
Longboat was the favorite with Dorando second.
Times was 2 hours 40 minutes 50 2-5 seconds, which is 3 minutes 29 4-5 seconds faster than the Hayes-Dorando race in Madison Square Garden—the fastest Marathon of recent date.

(Special to The Times.)

Polo Grounds, N.Y., April 3.— St. Yves the wonderful Frenchman, won the greatest professional long distance race ever pulled off in America. He was the dark horses and the long shot, but he possessed the goods and is today entitled in every respect to the claim that he is the greatest long distance runner in the world. There was nothing funny about St. Yves victory. He is only 24 years of age; just a little over five feet in height and he carries no superfluous flesh. He has the speed and he has the staying power and he proved it today by his exceptional exhibition. It will take a whirlwind to beat St. Yves or to capture the world's championship from him. His age entitles him to run for several years yet. In this respect he had quite an advantage over the other contestants who are getting near the end of their tether.

There is great rejoicing among the French in this city, although the majority of the sports are wondering at their lack of ability to figure out the dope in advance. Longboat was the favorite and large sums sums of money were placed on him and the other runners. St. Yves carried comparatively few bets.

The crowd at the Polo Grounds numbers over 25,000 and everyone was in their place before the race started. Many of the bleacherites were at the gates at eight o'clock this morning and had their lunch with them. At twelve o'clock sharp the gates were thrown open and the immense crowd poured in.

Early in the morning showers of rain fell and a drizzle kept up almost until the race started. As a result the track was heavy and necessarily slow. One would have figured on the big fellows winning, but foot races are different than the ponies. The little man had the advantage.

With the condition of the track and the time of the race 2.40 50 3-5, and comparing the time with other Marathons run on good dry tracks, the public can hardly realize what the ability of the grand little Frenchman is. It is also hard to imagine what the time would have been on a dry track.

THE RACE BEGINS.

They are off, the gun being fired at three o'clock. Dorando set the pace with the others as follows; St. Yves, Longboat, Shrubb, Maloney and Hayes. Shrubb moved ahead of Longboat the second time around and this order they maintained the third lap with the first four bunched. St. Yves took the lead on the sixth lap and set a furious pace, gaining 25 yards at the end of the first mile. Times, first mile, 5.14.

DEAD SET ON LONGBOAT.

St. Yves, starting the ninth lap, lapped Hayes, with the others forty yards behind. Shrubb sprinted on this lap and began to gradually creep up to St. Yves. Shrubb, however, eased up on the next lap, deliberately letting Dorando run second. Shrubb is evidently trying to force Longboat to a fast pace. Dorando and Shrubb are working together. Starting the third mile Dorando, Shrubb and Longboat lapped Hayes, Dorando making a face at Hayes as he passed.

Time for second mile, St. Yves 10.44.

Hayes has now been lapped by all the others. Maloney doing the trick on the seventeenth lap. St. Yves gained about ten yards on the third mile, the time being 15.25, which is the best made outside of the Shrubb-Longboat race.

St. Yves is keeping up the fast pace, lapping Hayes for the second time on the twenty-first lap.

Dorando, Shrubb and Longboat are still sticking together like glue, with Dorando laboring.

LAPPED HAYES SECOND TIMES.

On the fourth mile Dorando, St. Yves and Longboat lapped Hayes the second time. St. Yves cut out a sprint on the 26th lap, lapping Maloney.

Time, 4th mile, St. Yves, 22.16 4-5.

Shrubb sprinted two laps after the four-mile mark and gradually began to pick up on St. Yves. The latter was now looking worried. Shrubb lapped Maloney first time on the 29th lap, and is picking up on St. Yves, being only 20 yards behind at the fifth mile, while Dorando and Longboat lapped Maloney Shrubb sprinted on the 31st lap and was only three yards behind St. Yves, passing him on the next lap, but St. Yves cut out a sprint and again took the lead. St. Yves is only 20 yards ahead of Longboat, while all four leaders have lapped Maloney the second time and Hayes the third time.

The four are now bunched. Dorando leaps into second place, ahead of Shrubb.

Time for fifth mile, St. Yves, 28.09.

The pace quickened in the sixth mile, time being 33.51 1-5.

The official time of starting was 3.10 p.m.

TIME IS FAST.

The time is the fastest yet outside of the Dorando-Longboat race at Buffalo. Longboat passes Shrubb at the first lap, but all four leaders still remain bunched with St. Yves 10 yards in front. Dorando attempted to catch St. Yves on the seventh mile. St. Yves sprinted and these sprints will likely prove his undoing.

Time, 7 miles, St. Yves, 39.42 4-5.

Dorando is beginning to perspire freely, while Longboat is running easy. St. Yves cut out another sprint in the 8th mile and gained 30 yards on the other three, and also lapped Hayes and Maloney again.

Time, 8th mile, St. Yves, 45.36 2-5.

The other three lapped Hayes and Maloney on the 33rd lap and in the first four you will find the winner.

Shrubb is now running second, though only for half a lap, Dorando and Longboat both passing him, while St. Yves still holds the same margin of a lead.

St. Yves uncorked another sprint on the 35rd lap, but Shrubb would not let him get too far ahead. Longboat pulled up on his first sprint on the ninth mile and gave a tremendous reception. Shrubb, jealous of any enthusiasm for the Indian, passed the latter, but only for half a lap. St. Yves is still holding his lead with Longboat not many yards behind.

Time, nine miles, St. Yves, 51.19 4-5.

'A SERIES OF SPRINTS.

The pace was a series of sprints in the tenth mile. Shrubb took the lead for the first time on the 52nd lap, with St. Yves and Longboat right behind. Longboat is sticking closely with them although the Canucks would rather see him back a little.

Time, 10 miles, St. Yves, 57.16 1-5.

Hayes is now a mile behind and Maloney half a mile. Shrubb and St. Yves are now setting a hard pace with the determination of killing the Indian, but Longboat wisely dropped back forty yards with Dorando 20 yards behind him.

Time, 11 miles, Shrubb, 62.47.

Shrubb and St. Ives fought it out together, the 12 mile time being, Shrubb 68.36 3-5, with the two leaders gradually catching Longboat and Dorando on their first lap.

Shrubb lapped Dorando for the first time on the 76th lap and is only a few inches behind Longboat. The time for ten 13th miles; Shrubb 75.15 St. Ives lapped Longboat and Dorando one lap after the 13th mile was completed., as did Shrubb. The athletes are running in record time, with St. Ives and Shrubb trying to outsprint each other every little while.

The rain, by the way, had cleared after the fifth mile, Shrubb and St. Ives gained a quarter of a lap on the next mile; 2 me. 14 miles, Shrubb 1.20.13 4-5. So far Shrubb and Maloney have been the only ones to take any nourishment. Shrubb is beginning to limp a little. Hayes, at 14 1 2 miles, began to pick up his stride, passing Longboat and Dorando, but he can't gain anything on Longboat, who is sticking to him, although Hayes is a mile behind the leaders. Time, 15 miles, Shrubb 1.26.23 3-5.

HAYES SHOWS CLAS .

Hayes, however, is gradually forcing the other back, while Maloney has passed Longboat and Dorando, being three laps behind the leaders. Dorando is following Maloney closely, passing him in the next lap with Longboat 30 yards behind. The Toronto contingent is beginning to worry over Longboat, Bill Davies abetting to pacing and the opinion seems to be that Longboat is done. Dorando is going strong and has passed Hayes, being half a lap ahead of Longboat, with the Indian wobbling. Time, sixteen miles, Shrubb 1.32.32 1-5. Shrubb and St. Yves have now lapped Longboat the second time.

LONGBOAT CHANGES SHOES.

Longboat took his first nourishment at 16 1-2 miles, but it looks about all over with him. Hayes and Dorando lapping him on the 17th mile. Longboat's distress was ended two laps after the 17th mile mark, when it was said that he had quit, when he dropped into his training tent. It was only to change his shoes, however, he coming out strong and passing St. Yves and Shrubb, but in the delay he lost two laps. Tom Flanagan says Longboat's distress was occasioned by a pair of new shoes and his spurt only looks like a flash in the fire. Time 18 miles, Shrubb 1.45.12

Longboat quit the second time, and after a short rest started again, but was only walking at the start. He picked up his pace, but on pas-

Territorial Staff Band Visited Peterborough Salvation Army Band

The visit of the Canadian Territorial Staff Band to the Salvation Army in Peterborough, proved a great success and at the same time the public was furnished a musical treat. The visiting band arrived in the city on the C.P.R. train at noon and paraded up George street to the Y.M.C.A., where they were entertained to luncheon by the local band. This event was a very creditable one. The menu provided all that could be desired and the repast was greatly enjoyed. That evening an open-air concert was given after which the big event of the visit was heard at the Army barracks on Simcoe street.

The barracks were crowded to the doors with a most appreciative audience. Sharp at eight o'clock, Mr. Jas. Hall, chairman of the local advisory board, in opening made a few remarks of welcome to the visiting musicians.

An excellent program of music was then rendered, which was greatly appreciated by the large audience.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

On Sunday afternoon the staff band in an open air concert at the corner of Charlotte and George streets, was listened to by a large gathering of people. After the concert the band paraded to the barracks where the second program was rendered. Rev. E. A. Pearson acted as chairman and the numbers were listened to with great pleasure. T. F. Matthews took the chair, and

The twenty-three holders of liquor licenses in Peterborough have applied for the renewal of the same for 1909-10. There are nineteen hotel licenses and four shop licenses, and a meeting of the Board of License Commissioners will be held on Tuesday evening, April 15th, at 7.30 to consider the applications.

The hotels that have made application for licenses for the year commencing May 1st, and as follows;—National, Grand, Montreal, Queen's, Snowden, White, City, New Oxford, Cavanagh, Royal, Peterborough, American, Oriental, Commercial, Windsor, Crown, Munro, Maple Leaf and Albion.

The applications for shop licenses are from the following; A. Elliott & Co., F. R. J. Mitchell, A. Boumtree and J. C. Sullivan.

Midland Football League Organized

The annual meeting of the Midland Football League was held Saturday afternoon at the Y.M.C.A. with representatives from a majority of the teams who will play the game in this district during the coming summer.

The election of officers resulted as follows;

Hon. President — Hon. J. R. Stratton.
Hon. Vice-Pres—Dr. Geo. Burnham.
President—Dr. Devitt, Bowmanville
1st Vice-President—Mr. P. Fitzgerald.
2nd Vice-President—Mr. W. Burk, Lakefield.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. E. Brumwell.
Executive—Dr. A. W. McPherson, Geo. W. Jarvis, Bowmanville, W. Ritchen, Havelock.

Dr. Devitt was selected as representative to the meeting of the Ontario Association in Toronto on Good Frida.

Coughs that are tight, or distressing tickling coughs, get quick and certain help from Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. On this account Druggists everywhere are favoring Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. The tender leaves of a harmless lung-healing mountainous shrub give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its curative properties. Those leaves have the power to calm the most distressing Cough, and to soothe, and heal the most sensitive bronchial membrane. Test it once yourself, and see! Sold by all Dealers.

But there is such a thing as crying peace, peace, when there is no peace. If a man's home were threatened with assault he would arm himself to defend it. Even out the Empire, the home of the race, is threatened. In Canada to have no part in its own defence and that of the other British communities.

Germany is the greatest land power in Europe. Is need fear no foe. Yet with feverish haste the Emperor hurries forward the construction of a powerful navy. What can his object be unless it is to overwhelm Great Britain, whose navy is essential to the safety of a sea-girt and sea-exposed coast? With few colonies to protect and no Egypt or India to cherish, Germany is able to concentrate its growing fleet in the North Sea ready for a sudden lunge.

Some time ago a radical member of the British House of Commons signed a memorial in favor of a further reduction in armaments. Since then a visit to Berlin has convinced him that the Germans mean war and he regrets his signature. In five years Britain has reduced its appropriations for naval armaments by nearly $25,000,000 per annum. In the same time Germany has increased its annual expenditure for the same purpose by over $40,000,000. Which is the aggressor, Britain or Germany? At such a juncture Canadians should refuse to continue the position of pensioners on the bounty of the Imperial Admiralty.

Some Canadians are opposed to the cross Jingo spirit. They do not want to paint the map red. None of us desires to add more territory to the Empire's area. We have here no scheme of conquest. The question is purely one of self-defence. How is the Empire to be guarded against a determined aggressor? How are the responsibilities laid upon us by preceding generations to be lived up to and fulfilled?

That Germany is to blame for the competition in armaments is evident from Mr. Asquith's statements that upwards of a years ago Great Britain made informal representations to Berlin with a view of scaling down international naval programs. But the Berlin government responded that the increase in the German navy was fixed by law and could not be altered.

England, with a population of 45,000,000, was able to give Sir Francis Drake enough ships to crush the Spanish Armada. But for that, some England, Canada, with a population of seven millions, could not stave off the attack of a flotilla of war canoes. It is nonsense to say that we are not financially able to pay our own way in the matter of defence.

The Canadian General

To all interested and that means everybody, in Peterborough especially, the excellent statements presented at the annual general meeting of the Canadian General Electric, held at the head offices, Toronto, on March 29th ult., are very gratifying, as they must be to the management and stockholders. In spite of the world-wide business depression affecting every branch of industrial operation, the directors were enabled to present a satisfactory financial statement. The profits of last year's operation were somewhat in excess of those of the preceding year a result achieved on a decreased output indicating careful and conservative management, permitting a handsome addition to the credit side of profit and loss, and current liabilities were more than cut in half—the reduction being from $2,191,256 to $1,093,123.38. Without detailed analyses of the reports and statement, it may be generally said that they are of a satisfactory character and indicate a renewal of prosperity for one of the most important industrial enterprises in Canada. The interested reader is referred to the report appearing elsewhere in this issue for more exact information. It is satisfactory to know that the main interests of the Canadian General Electric Company in Peterborough, as represented by the local works, which are increasingly busy and expanding in capacity, show a decided improvement.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

What England Has to Face if She is to Maintain Supremacy of Seas

London, April 3.—Britain's position is the cause of considerable anxiety on the part of the Graphic, which says;

For once, in the way the introduction of the naval estimates has roused something more than languid interest in parliament. The dramatic statement of Mr. McKenna, the weighty and patriotic speech of Mr. Balfour, and, it must be added, the candid, but lame explanations of the prime minister of his previous miscalculations, produced something more nearly approaching panic than any other parliamentary discussion on naval strength which we have seen in our time.

GRAVITY OF THE SITUATION.

How far the affair was stage-managed by the government with a view to frightening their pacifist supporters into assent to even their own "quite insufficient proposals," as Mr. Balfour called them, it is impossible to be sure. Hint of one thing—or, rather, of two—we are very sure; that nothing which Mr. McKenna said went one whit beyond the real gravity of the situation, and that if the government did not know how grave the situation is, they alone of people by way of being conversant with naval affairs were in ignorance. With regard to the shipbuilding resources of Germany, the Imperial marine office called for a report in 1907 as to the capabilities of the leading shipbuilding firms in the country. The Vulkan Co. of Stettin, the Weser Co. of Bremen, the Krupp Germania Co., Blohm & Voss, Hamburg, and Schichau of Dantzig, all reported that they could turn out two large armored ships complete in from 24 to 30 months. The only possible doubt as to whether Germany could complete ships as fast as we, depended on whether Krupp's at Essen could supply the armor plate, guns and gun mountings. On this point, Mr. E. C. Rywater, writing in the Naval League Annual, says; "Governmental orders have hitherto been executed by Krupp in conjunction with work for foreign countries. It is therefore obvious that the rejection of all save national work would enable the factory to increase its present output of offensive and defensive equipment especially as the establishment is now being enlarged very considerably." What has happened, in point of fact, is that the German government, having its requirements for several years ahead fixed and definite before it, has amply told Krupp's to go ahead, and turn out what is required in advance of requirements. The grave feature in the situation is, that our firms of gunmakers, having no such security before them, have refrained from laying down the expensive plant required, and that our output of guns and mountings at this moment is actually limited to the necessary armament for six Dreadnought ships, if these are to be completed in two years.

Catarrh

THE MOTHER OF CONSUMPTION.

How this dread disease may be prevented and cured—the opinions of people who have been cured by

CATARRHOZONE.

Catarrh is very often spoken of as the mother of consumption, because when unchecked it extends from its place of beginning to the bronchial tubes then deeper and deeper, till finally the disease becomes consumption of the lungs.

The safest and best remedy for any form of Catarrh is Catarrhozone. It is inhaled to all parts of the breathing organs, kills the disease, and drives it completely out of the system.

Mrs. Mary J. Whitney, of Clay street, Topeka, Kansas, was cured of Nasal Catarrh after twenty years' suffering by Catarrhozone. She says;

"I owe to Catarrhozone an immense debt of gratitude. It cured me of Catarrh of the most disagreeable kind after doctors without number had pronounced my case incurable. My breath is pure and my respiration regular, and I do not cough any more since using Catarrhozone. It has cured me perfectly."

Another case of Chronic Catarrh that was cured quickly by Catarrhozone is that of Mr. O. J. Lace, of [illegible] Mr. Lace says;

"I tried for four years to get rid of Nasal Catarrh, used salt douches, atomizers, tablets, stomach medicines, etc., but they didn't do much good.

"Then I tried Catarrhozone, and received relief in a few hours. It cured in a week, so that I never had a recurrence of my former trouble."

Miss Winer, who resides on May street in Hartford, Conn., was cured of throat trouble by Catarrhozone, and speaks of her recovery in the following words;—

"Repeated colds finally resulted in a Catarrhal condition from which I suffered more or less every spring and fall. Catarrhozone was the only remedy that relieved and cured me. I recommended it."

No treatment is so good for Catarrhal affections and Bronchitis as Catarrhozone. Its success is quite unequalled in the history of medicine. It will cure you quickly and surely, and is well worth a trial. Two months' treatment guaranteed to cure, price $1.00; small size 50c. Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont. Buy it today.

NAVAL RESOLUTIONS

The proposal that the provinces shall make contributions to the British navy raises a very serious question. The defence of Canada is under the control of the Parliament of Canada, and the defence of the Empire is still more a matter of general rather than of local concern. It is in the highest degree desirable that the action of Canada should be a united action.

It seems to us that there has been some misunderstanding as to the nature of the resolutions unanimously adopted by the House of Commons. An impression seems to have gone abroad that the effect of these resolutions was to limit the action of Canada to the defence of the coasts of Canada. Nothing could be more opposed to the truth. The House of Commons declared its cordial approval of any necessary expenditure "designed to promote the speedy organization of a Canadian naval service in co-operation with and in close relation to the Imperial navy, along the lines suggested by the admiralty at the last Imperial Conference, and in full sympathy with the view that the naval supremacy of Britain is essential to the security of commerce, the safety of the empire, and the peace of the world."

The resolutions do not limit Canadian action to the defence of our own coasts. They are absolutely silent as to the defence of our own coasts and of our own shipping. They are absolutely free from any suggestion of selfish fear or anxiety. They are framed upon the broadest lines. They declare that the naval supremacy of Britain is essential to the security of commerce, the safety of the empire, and the peace of the world. They declare that Canada will give the Imperial authorities the most loyal and hearty co-operation in every movement for the maintenance of the integrity and the honor of the Empire.

It is objected that the resolutions are vague. It is true that they do not enter into the details of the organization of Canada's naval service. It would be impossible to embody these details in a set of resolutions. But it is declared that the scheme shall be worked out by consultation and co-operation with the British naval authorities. What better plan could be devised? If local defence alone were contemplated, Canada might work out her own plans in her own way. But in regard to concerted action, Canada must surely act in co-operation with the British Government and its naval experts, not with the irresponsible critics of that Government.

Few Beds in Bagdad.

About 60 per cent of Bagdad's population possess no beds. These poor people rest on blankets spread on the floors of their houses in the winter and on the roofs in the summer. Owing to the excessive heat of these regions sleep is made impossible elsewhere than on the roof or in the open gardens. It is an interesting sight to see how the women at sunset emerge from their houses to prepare the evening meal on the roof and spread the bedding for the night. Inasmuch as the climate is very dry, there is little to fear from exposure to the night air. While a considerable number of the roofs are surrounded by lattice-work to insure a certain amount of privacy, by far the larger number are quite exposed to the gaze of curious and inquisitive neighbors.

Learning without politeness makes a disagreeable pedant, and politeness without learning makes a superficial, frivolous puppy.—Chesterfield.

A Fine Old Veteran.

Gen. James Nowell Young is one of three survivors of the first Afghan war, fought nearly seventy years ago. Born on Feb. 4, 1824, the gallant veteran entered the army in 1840, and when scarcely eighteen was present with the 35th Bengal Native Infantry in many of the most important actions of that memorable campaign. With Sir George Pollock he took part in the capture of the Khyber Pass and the Jugdulluck Pass, the engagement in the Tezeen Valley, and the taking of the Huft Kohtul, an almost impregnable position on hills 7,800 feet above the sea, from which the enemy was driven from crag to crag.

Long-Lived Baronets.

Sir Charles William Strickland, whose ninetieth birthday was celebrated in the hunting field, is senior representative of a Yorkshire family whose record is probably without parallel. The present Sir William's father was a baronet for forty years, his grandfather twenty-six years, and his great-grandfather seventy-three years. For longevity the Strickland baronets are equally remarkable. Sir George (the fifth) was seventy-nine when he died, Sir William (sixth) eighty-one, Sir George (seventh) ninety-two, and the present Sir Charles (eighth) was born in 1819.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. That is why his prescription — Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and real Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

Tender for Red River Bridge

SEALED tenders, addressed to the undersigned, and marked on the envelope "Tender for the Red River Bridge," will be received at the office of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway until twelve o'clock noon of the 8th day of April, 1909, for the construction and erection of a steel and concrete bridge and approach spans over the Red River between Winnipeg and St. Boniface, near the foot of Lombard street, together with grading and approach spans over streets in Winnipeg.

Separate tenders must be submitted for the substructure with other works as per schedule, and for superstructure.

Plans, details and profiles may be seen and full information obtained, at the office of the chief engineer at Ottawa, and also at the offices of the district engineer at St. Boniface, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the forms supplied by the commissioners, which may be had on application to Mr. Hugh D. Lumsden, chief engineer, Ottawa, Ont., and M. S. R. Poulin, district engineer, St. Boniface, Man.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered Bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway for the sum of $25,000 for substructure and other work as per schedule, and for the sum of $25,000 for steel superstructure and floor.

The cheques deposited by the party whose tender is accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada as security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms. Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

The right is reserved to reject any or all tenders.

By Order,
P. E. RYAN,
Secretary.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic sufferers, nor cause bony growths head to high capitals. That is impossible; but I can now surely kill the pains and tortures of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. When that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it unfailingly cures all curable cases of this humanity's much dreaded disease. The uric acid poisonous wastes, found in Rheumatic blood, seems to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer with this help. We call, and in confidence recommend

Why Do People Deposit Their Money in Banks for only 3 Per Cent. Interest?

BECAUSE, THEY THINK IT IS QUITE SAFE.

Why Do Some Invest in Bonds to get a Little Higher Interest?

Because, the bonds represent a mortgage on the property on which their money is invested which gives a feeling of safety.

Why Do People Invest in Wildcat Gold and Silver Mining Schemes? Because they think the chances of profit are big and they are willing to take the risk.

WHY NOT INVEST IN A SAFE STOCK IN A GOING COAL MINE

making money now and which presents such possibilities for development that it is expected that the profits will run from 25 per cent. to 50 per. cent. higher.

The Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited, Stock at $10 per Share is a safe Stock.

It is all common stock. There are no bonds or no mortgages or no preferred stock, on which interest must be paid before the common stockholder gets anything.

When you buy common stock of the Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited at $10 per share you become an actual owner of the mines and have an equal chance of the profits according to the number of shares held. A coal mine with a big deposit of coal ready for the miner's pick is as safe as a bank. To own and control shares of common stock in such a coal mine must be safer and better than holding bonds in a proposition in which you have no control and which may or may not be properly managed. The officers and management of the Winter Port Coal Mines of New Brunswick have the experience in mining and selling coal in both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

J. S. Gibbon, the President of the company, opened and developed the Winter Port Mines to the present stage.

W. K. Vroom, the Vice-President of the Company, was for some years actively associated in the management of the Springhill Collieries in Nova Scotia and the Albert Mines in New Brunswick.

Manufacturers in St. John speak highly of the Winter Port coal.

Winter Port coal is a good locomotive coal and has been used on the Intercolonial and other railways.

The Winter Port Coal Mines being practically on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific now opening up through New Brunswick will provide a most convenient coaling facility for that great transcontinental railway. Immense quantities of coal will be needed by the great railways and by the manufacturers, steamship lines, etc., in connection with the development of Canada's Winter Port at St. John, N.B., which is only 56 miles in a direct line from these coal mines.

Secure some Winter Port stock now at $10 per share (there is no personal liability) and get your share of the profits of a safe conservative money-making proposition.

WITCHCRAFT IN ENGLAND.

The Last of the Judicial Prosecutions and Executions.

Sir Matthew Hale, it is true, had hanged two poor women at Cambridge in 1664, but a few years later Lord Chief Justice Holt set himself strongly against such charges and in every case tried before him directed the jury to bring in a verdict of acquittal. In a celebrated trial at Guildford in 1701 not only was the supposed witch found not guilty, but her false accuser, one John Hathaway, was condemned to a year's imprisonment and to stand in the pillory three times. Yet, horrible to relate, a woman named Hicks, and her daughter, a child of nine, were hanged together at Huntingdon on July 26, 1716, for raising a storm of wind in league with the devil.

The last judicial sentence for witchcraft in England was in 1736, one Jane Wenham being actually found guilty, according to the indictment, of "conversing familiarly with the devil in the form of a cat." The judge, however, procured a reprieve for poor old Jane, and she was ultimately released, to end her days in peace.

Last, the witchcraft act was repealed for the United Kingdom in the same year. It was quite time, for only nine years earlier, in 1727, a woman was brought before Captain David Ross, deputy sheriff of Sutherland, charged with "causing her daughter to be shod by the devil," and so making her lame both in hands and feet. The fact having been proved to the captain's satisfaction, the old woman was put into a tar barrel and burned at Dornoch. The weather being cold at the time, we are told that she "sat composedly warming herself by the fire prepared to consume her while the other instruments of death were getting ready."

The last attempt to execute a witch in England ended disastrously for the perpetrators. In 1761 at Tring two old people named Osborne, man and wife, being suspected of witchcraft, were seized by a crowd, stripped, cross bound and thrown into a pond. Both died of this brutal treatment. But the witchcraft act had been repealed, and, a verdict of wilful murder having been returned against one Colley, the chief instigator of the assault, he was in due course tried and hanged.—Cornhill Magazine.

He Called Lady Kinnoull "Mollie."

Lord Kinnoull, who has just recovered from a serious illness, is a first-rate musician, has written several charming songs, and plays the piano with the skill of a professional. His wife, too, is a great lover of music, and since she was quite a girl has devoted much of her leisure to hospital visiting, which recalls a rather interesting story in connection with her marriage. At St. George's Hospital Lady Kinnoull made the acquaintance of a youth who was suffering from hip disease. Between the young man and his kind visitor a correspondence sprang up. He always addressed her as "Dear Mollie," and concluded his letters "With all my heart's love, yours respectful." At length the lady became engaged to be married, and duly informed her humble admirer of the fact. Receiving no answer, she sent him a ticket for the wedding. Still no reply. Again she wrote, and at last received from him the answer, with neither beginning nor end of the orthodox kind. "I can never write to you again, as I don't know how to begin." Lady Kinnoull set his mind at rest by reminding him that her name was still "Mollie."

Sir Evelyn Wood.

Sir Evelyn Wood, who has just celebrated his seventy-first birthday, is one of the few still active officers who saw service in the Crimea. It is not generally known that Sir Evelyn entered the navy, being fourteen at the time. He was present at the siege of Sebastopol, when his daring brought him under the notice of the Government. He left the navy at the end of the Crimean war and joined the 13th Dragoons. He army career has been of peculiar brilliance, and his gallantry has been exceptional. Th story is told how one day the gallant field marshal, when he was commanding at Aldershot, was in mufti at the railway station, and went unrecognised by a private. Sir Evelyn went up to the man and told him who he was. "Tommy," after a brief pause, put his hand on the general's shoulder. "Look here," he said, "go easy. Just let Sir Evelyn hear you say that, and he'll jolly well punch your head."

Burial of Sir John Moore.

The death of Sir John Moore at Corunna is probably the best remembered fact in all the checkered history of the peninsular war, for a good reason. There are posts, like Shenstone, whose fame is secured by a single quatrain. The poetical reputation of Rev. Charles Wolfe, who eight years after the event, wrote "The Burial of Sir John Moore," rests on that one production alone. Ascribed, before its author's name became known to such well-known poets as Campbell and Byron, the poem took firm hold of a nation's heart. Dying of consumption at the early age of thirty-two, Wolfe's memory will ever be kept green by just that one piece, which "Ingoldsby" paredied, which a million schoolboys have recited, which Lord Byron pronounced to be "the most perfect ode in the language."—London Chronicle.

When Knights Were Bold.

When knights were clad in complete armor from top to toe it was essential that they should bear some sign by which their followers could distinguish them in battle, and this was the function of their armorial bearings. Knights who omitted to wear their own arms ran considerable risk, and it is related that at the battle of Bannockburn the last of the De Clares owed his death to his omission to wear his bearings. He was slain unrecognised, whereas had he been known he would have been held prisoner for the ransom or as a hostage.

SIZING UP THE BABY.

Varying Views of the Different Members of the Family.

This is what the Browns had to say of the latest addition to the family:

The Mother—Oh, isn't he the cutest, grandest, handsomest, smartest little fellow in the whole world? Such eyes! Such features! Such shoulders! And hear him talk, will you? Why, he understands perfectly every word I say.

The Father—There's a boy for you! Smith will brag about that kid of his, will he? Well, you just wait until this youngster is a month old, and I'll take the conceit out of Smith!

Little Bobby—So that's what the stork brought, eh? Gee, the stork must have it in for this family!

Little Bella—Oh, ma, he's swallowed all his teeth, and all his hair's blowed off!

Bachelor Brother—I don't want to cause you folks any anxiety, but he's the smallest human being I ever saw outside of a dime museum. You want to feed him upon roast beef and porterhouse steak right away.

Uncle Jack (a dog fancier)—Is his nose cold? Hold him up by the back of his neck and we'll see if he's got any nerve.

Grandma—There you go, spoiling the child as soon as he has his eyes open! I suppose when he's a month old we shall all have to stand on our heads to amuse him! Give me that infant this instant before he has colic and dies!

The Family Cat—Well, that settles my hash! It's either hunt a new home or become a tailless feline inside of a month. Why, that kid's got a grip on him like a longshoreman's!

The Baby—Goo-goo! Goo-goo! Goo-goo-goo-goo! Or, in other words, I'll make it good and hot for this family about midnight!

His Name Was Sufficient.

San Malato, the famous Sicilian dentist, seemed to have stepped into our prosaic modern life straight from the pages of Brantome. His fame had done more than penetrate the four corners of Europe. It had reached his own home. Some misguided Sicilian bandits held up a coach one night and summoned its solitary traveler to come out. From the shadowy depths of the vehicle came two short sentences in a cold, staccato voice: "Spread out your cloaks. The wind must not spoil my boots when I descend." The cutthroats fled with the awe striking whisper of "San Malato" upon their quivering lips.—London Telegraph.

The Limit.

"What did the doctor say was the matter with you?"

"He said he didn't know."

"Well, what doctor are you going to next?"

"None. When a doctor dares to make such an admission as that he must be about as high in his profession as he can get."—London Mail.

The Experienced Swine.

The crowd around the postoffice stove, after exhausting the possibilities of politics, local and national, had been discussing the alleged lack of the truth telling instinct in Old Man Simpkins. Uncle Ezra came in, and Jim Peters said:

"What do you think about it, Uncle Ezra—would you call Old Man Simpkins a liar?"

"Well," answered Uncle Ezra slowly as he thoughtfully studied the ceiling, "I wouldn't go so far as to call the old man a liar, but I do know it to be a fact that when feedin' time comes to get any response he has to have somebody else call his hogs for him."

Purely Professional.

"You say he's a professional man?"

"Yes," answered Miss Cayenne doubtfully. "One of the kind who hang out a sign 'Back in an Hour' and leave it there the year through."

Both Busy.

"The girl who knows she is pretty makes a fool of herself."

"And the girl who doesn't know she is pretty makes a fool of some man."

A WOMAN VETERAN.

Mrs. Elizabeth Evans Is Only Female Survivor of Alma.

Mrs. Elizabeth Evans, of Richmond, England, is the only woman living who saw the Battle of Alma and went through the trying experiences of the Crimean War. She was born at Bristol in 1829, and in 1851 married Mr. Evans, a private in the King's Own Lancashires. She was one of three women arriving at the Crimea, being almost the first to land. The marching was terrible, and she suffered owing to poor food. When the barrack-room was erected Mr. and Mrs. Evans had a corner in a large room, in which there were 24 men. They had to put a large curtain round the bed at nighttime. Mrs. Evans marched with the troops who assembled for the Battle of Alma.

"'Come over here to the trenches,' my husband said to me, 'it is like a shambles. They are cutting off arms and legs wholesale.' I shuddered and refused to go. Later I saw them burying the dead. A great big pit was dug, and broken guns and empty rifles and dead bodies were all thrown in together and covered over. My worst time was after the winter, when the spring weather brought the fever. I was very bad. I was the only woman left. I had to be nursed by men. They thought I was dying, and when they brought three planks I thought they were going to bury me, and I screamed out, 'Don't bury me; I'm not dead yet.' When I was strong enough to be moved they sent me home. I didn't know whether my husband was dead or alive, but after I had been home some time he turned up all right. He died in Richmond eleven years ago."

CAMERONS AT WATERLOO.

How the Immortalized Highlanders Fought For Three Long Days.

The Cameron Highlanders fought at Waterloo throughout the three glorious days of June, and they were "particularly mentioned" by Wellington in his famous despatch of June 18, addressed to Lord Bathurst. Fortunate in their opportunities, they have been fortunate also in winning the praise of poets. Byron, in "Childe Harold," has consecrated their immortality in a famous stanza:

And wild and high the "Cameron's gathering" rose,
The war note of Lochiel, which Albyn's hills
Have heard, and heard too have her Saxon foes:
How in the noon of night that pibroch thrills
Savage and shrill! but with the breath which fills
Their mountain pipe, so fill the mountaineers
With the fierce native daring which instills
The stirring memory of a thousand years,
And Evans', Donald's fame rings in each clansman's ears.

Here sounds the high note of romance, and bravely the Highlanders could echo it. But war does not always rest at the lofty plane of glory, and we can sometimes realize it most clearly in homelier touches. After the battle it is said that the 79th stripped the cuirasses off the dead Frenchmen and used them for cooking its rations. They were good enough frying-pans, though the bullet-holes let something escape.

But some Belgian soldiers who passed by while the cooking was in progress, and seeing the cuirasses, went off with the legend that the Highlanders were cannibals, and no doubt the legend, which it is a pity to disturb, is repeated to this day. One other piece of comedy is worth remembrance. When the allied armies were in Paris, says a writer in "Blackwood's," Sergt. Campbell of the 79th was taken with others to the Elysee to be shown to the Emperor Alexander, and it is thus that he tells the tale himself: "The Emperor made a very minute inspection of us," he writes, "and his curiosity led him to call on me, as being the most robust of the party, to step to the front. . . . As soon as I stepped to the front I was surrounded by the astonished nobility, and the Emperor commenced his inspection and questions as follows: First, he examined my appointments and drew my sword. . . . Second, he examined my hose, gaiters, legs, and pinched my skin. The questions were: If I was present at the actions of the 16th, 17th and 18th of June? How many officers and men the regiment lost? . . . Whether I was in Egypt? If I wore the kilt in winter, or if I did not feel cold in that season? If I was married? If my parents were alive?" Thus it was that the Highlanders seemed beyond the general experience of mankind.

From Potman to M.P.

Mr. T. F. Richards, the popular member of Parliament for West Wolverhampton, at one time served behind the bar of a public house as potman. As a boy, Mr. Richards knew what it was to "rough it," as the two following instances will show. One of his employers, who was supposed to be wealthy, undertook to give him food, clothing and pocket-money in return for his work. In that family it was usual to boil soapsuds so that the neighbors might think they were cooking the Sunday dinner, while they had to be satisfied with a very meagre lunch. Instead of a jacket, this employer offered him a man's coat with the sleeves cut short. His workmates jested at his uncouth attire, and he threw it away and had to go without a coat for eight months. Poor feeding, scanty clothing, and constant grinding have soured many natures, but they ripened and mellowed Mr. Richards' character.

Jenner as an Eater.

Dr. Jenner, the famous English physician, was a great tea drinker and very abstemious, never taking any stimulant except a measured glass of brandy when he had indigestion. Once for that cause he lived on stewed chops and rice for luncheon and dinner, with tea, for a couple of years, but ordinarily he was a great feeder.

"I recollect," said his friend, Dr. Cooper Bentham, "on one occasion Reynolds came to see him. Jenner was at dinner. He had soup, fish, the greater part of a chicken, and he was in the middle of a huge rice pudding when Reynolds entered and asked him how he was. Jenner drew a pitiful sigh and replied, "I am not at all well—no appetite.'"

Irregular Spellers.

Shakespeare and his contemporaries, not to speak of their predecessors, appear to have done their literary work without the aid of a dictionary, for in the Bookseller, in "Notes on Dictionaries," we read that the first English dictionary would seem to be that of Cockeram, published at London in 1623, when Shakespeare had been dead seven years. It was a small pocket volume and did not profess to contain all the words in the language. But Shakespeare had the biggest vocabulary on record and did not worry over the spelling of even his own name.

Football in Olden Times.

What would be thought to-day of a game of football in which 500 or 600 players were engaged on each side, and how would we like to be in the thick of it when teams of this number were rushing after the ball? When we remember also that few rules governed the play, and that, moreover, a proportion of the players were horsemen, the events that marked the progress of the game must have been of sufficiently stirring a character to satisfy the most greedy seeker after excitement.

Important to Ladies

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto is visiting this town, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments reserved at the Hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at Hotel Oriental, Peterborough, Wednesday, April 7.

The Canadian Pacific Railway

On the busiest day you can enjoy the privilege of a seat to yourself on local train via C.P.R. at 7.35 a.m.

A comfortable roomy seat, in a well upholstered arm chair, in a handsome smooth running car at a cost of but twenty-five cents. One trial will convince you it is a quarter well invested. Reserved seats at city ticket office. W. Mellroy, agent.

Hockey Banquet

All arrangements have been completed for the annual banquet of the city hockey league which takes place this evening at the Oriental hotel. The champion Lakefield team have been commissioned with and will be on hand when the silverware is presented by Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P., the donor of the cup. The Chieftains who won the championship of the junior city league will also be presented with the cup won by them, which was donned by Messrs. Graham and Clarke. There promises to be a large number present and a most enjoyable evening is looked for.

Cricket to Boom

Mr. A. C. B. Pousette, secretary-treasurer of the Peterborough Cricket Club, has received a letter from Mr. Hugh S. Reid, secretary of the Canadian Cricket Association, notifying him of the annual meeting of the association at the Walker House Toronto, on Monday, April 5. Owing to the fact that the letter was only received Saturday it is too late to send a representative of the local club to the meeting and Mr. Reid has been asked to represent Peterborough.

Mr. Pousette says the Peterborough club will join the association.

A New Line

The number of C.P.R. telegraph wires between Toronto and Montreal is being increased by a gang of men who commenced the work in Peterborough a few days ago, the intention being to work west towards Toronto. They have recently come from a Sudbury line, and will be located here for a time. When the men draw further away from the city they will have their headquarters at Cavanaville and so on. The work will be carried on through the summer. They are also putting up new poles all along the road wherever they are needed. The adding of the new wires necessitates the changing of the arms to increase the number of spools.

OBITUARY

PATRICK DAVEY.

The death occurred after a short illness, at St. Joseph's Hospital Friday evening, of Mr. Patrick Davey 82 Lafayette avenue. The deceased was 75 years of age and was born in Ireland, coming to this country when quite young. Until a year ago he had resided in Douro. He was widely known and highly respected for his many estimable qualities. He was married 56 years ago to Ann Crowley, who still survives him.

His wife and three daughters are left to mourn his loss. The daughters are Mrs. S. McFee, of Rochester, N. Y., and Misses Ellen and Mary at home.

The funeral took place yesterday from the family residence and proceeded to St. Joseph's cemetery, Douro, for interment.

ADELINE MITCHELL.

About six o'clock Saturday night Adeline Mitchell, wife of Morton Mitchell, 469 Gilmour street, passed away after a brief illness. Deceased was about 40 years of age, and was well known in the city. Besides a husband, three sons, Roy, Almond and Melville are left to mourn her loss. The funeral will be held today at two p.m., and interment will take place at Little Lake cemetery.

Feed You Money

Feed Your Brain and It Will Feed You Money and Fame

"Ever since boyhood I have been especially fond of meats, and I am convinced I ate too rapidly, and failed to masticate my food properly.

"The result was that I found myself, a few years ago, afflicted with ailments of the stomach and kidneys, which interfered seriously with my business.

"At last I took the advice of friends and began to eat Grape-Nuts instead of the heavy meats, etc., that had constituted my former diet.

"I found that I was at once benefitted by the change, that I was soon relieved from the heart-burn and the indigestion that used to follow my meals, that the pains in my back had ceased entirely.

"My nerves which used to be unsteady and my brain, which was slow and lethargic from a heavy diet of meats and greasy foods, had gradually, but none the less surely, been restored to normal efficiency.

"Now every nerve is steady and my brain and thinking faculties are quicker and more acute than for years past.

"After my old style breakfasts I used to suffer during the forenoon from a feeling of weakness which hindered me seriously in my work, but since I have begun to use Grape-Nuts food I can work till dinner time with all ease and comfort."

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS.

Submitted to the Shareholders at the Annual General Meeting, held at the Offices of the Company, in Toronto, on Monday, 29th March, 1909.

Your Directors have pleasure in submitting to the Shareholders the Balance Sheet of the Company as upon the 31st day of December, 1908, the combined Statement of Profit and Loss for the year, and the Certificate of Messrs. Price, Waterhouse and Company, Chartered Accountants.

The past year has been one of world-wide industrial depression and this Company, in common with others, has experienced the disadvantages of a material shrinkage in the volume of business offering, and, in view of the prevailing conditions of trade, it is gratifying to your Directors to be able to submit to the Shareholders so satisfactory a Financial Statement.

The Surplus Account shows a Profit somewhat in excess of the preceding year, and this result was obtained on a decreased output. Owing, however, to a policy of rigid economy, operating expenses were proportionately reduced, and, after ample provision for depreciation and the payment of Interest and Dividends, a substantial sum has been carried forward to the credit of Profit and Loss Account, as a result of the year's operations.

In addition to our usual conservative method of taking our inventory of materials, either at cost or the market price, whichever is the lower, $146,946.48 has been written off for depreciation, in addition to the year's expenses for renewals, repairs and maintenance, which were charged direct to operating account.

During the year the Company's original issue of Preferred Stock, amounting to $300,000.00, was retired at par, plus a premium of 5 per cent., and the maturing Bonds of the Northey Manufacturing Company, amounting to $160,000.00, were paid off.

Current liabilities have been reduced from $2,191,286.99 to $1,083,123.88, as a result of a smaller Inventory of raw materials and finished stock being required for a lesser volume of business, and the Contingent Liability on Notes Receivable discounted has been reduced from $1,161,616.44 to $302,518.17.

During the latter part of the year marked cheques to an aggregate amount of $121,207.00 were required to be deposited with tenders for Government and other contracts, and are included for Statement purposes in the Company's Bank Account, but this amount should be deducted when estimating the amount due on operating expenses.

Notwithstanding the continued industrial depression, this Company have been fortunate in securing several important contracts, which, added to current business, will keep us fairly busy during the year. During the past three months we have secured more orders than during the previous six months, and as present indications point to a material improvement in trade conditions, we look forward to the future with more confidence than at any time during the preceding year.

To the Shareholders of the Canadian General Electric Company, Limited.

We have examined the books and accounts of the Canadian General Electric Company, Limited, and of its subsidiary companies (the Canada Foundry Company, Limited, and the Industrial Realty Company, of Canada, Limited), for the year 1908, and we find that the annexed Consolidated Balance Sheet and Surplus Account are correctly prepared therefrom.

During the year there have been charged to Capital Accounts only expenditures in respect of actual additions, extensions or permanent improvements, plus interest during construction. Proper provision has been made for Depreciation of Plant and Equipment.

The Inventories of Raw Material, Supplies, Work in Progress and Manufactured Products have been taken and certified by responsible officials of the Company, and have been checked by us with the factory records. The valuations have been accurately made at or below cost price, ample allowance being made in respect of goods that are either obsolete or not readily saleable.

Reserves have been made for Doubtful Accounts and Notes Receivable and for all ascertainable liabilities.

We have verified the Cash, the Investments and the Bank Balances by actual inspection or by properly certified statements.

We certify that the annexed Balance Sheet is properly drawn up so as to show the true position of the Company at December 31st, 1908, and that the Surplus Account shows the correct result of the operations for the year.

ST. YVES' GREAT RUN.

St. Yves is running like a little machine, tearing off spurts now and then, that were truly marvelous. He lapping Shrubb when four laps of the 20 miles had been accomplished. Mintz and O'Rourke tried to urge Longboat on, but the Indian refused to go, running into his dressing tent on the 20th mile, quitting for good. Shrubb looks as if he would follow him. Time, 20 miles, St. Yves 1.57.25 4-5.

SHRUBB STOPS FOR RUB.

Time for 21 miles was, St. Yves, 2.03.56 2-5, which is far ahead of the record. Shrubb is now walking, while Hayes and Maloney are running strong. The official standing at 21 miles was, St. Yves, one-half lap ahead of Shrubb, with Dorando three laps behind the leader, Maloney and Hayes, one mile behind.

Longboat quit at 18 miles five laps (official). Shrubb stopped to get a rub, but came on again after St. Yves had lapped him. Time, 22 miles, St. Yves, 2.10.41 1-5.

St. Yves has gained three laps on Shrubb, the latter now walking.

Dorando passed Shrubb and is now second. Time, 24th mile, St. Yves, 22.24.38.

Shrubb quits in 25th. Was wobbling very bad at 24 miles 3 laps, and when he reached the dressing tent quit for good.

ST. YVES WINS.

St. Yves wins, Dorando second, Hayes third. The real race is now between Hayes and Maloney for third money, Hayes getting on even terms with him at 25 1-2 miles.

Bang went the gun for the last lap and Henry St. Yves, the 21-year-old athlete, finished with a great burst of speed, amid tremendous enthusiasm. The officials crowding around the winner blocking Hayes and Dorando. Time of race, 2.40.50 3-5, which is record time.

Dorando is now sprinting, finishing his last lap with a great sprint, his time being 2.45.37. The crowd is now rushing over the field, obstructing Hayes and Maloney, the former finishing third and was carried off the field. Time, Hayes, 2.49.27.

Maloney fourth, one minute behind Hayes, last man in the race.

Fire Hall and Streets to be Placed in Hands of a Commission

One of the most important matters introduced in the council this year was the notice of motion by Ald. Hicks. Not only is it important, but if carried out will mean a most drastic change in the management of the city's affairs. The motion was to apply to the legislature for power to have the spending departments of the city placed in the hands of a commission.

Ald. Hicks gave notice of motion as follows;—

That a petition be prepared by the city solicitor to the legislature of Ontario, asking that authority be given to the council of this city to provide for the management of the streets and fire department and other public departments and the expenditure of money for these purposes by commissioners to be elected by the municipal electors.

Missionary Banquet in Y.M.C.A. Dining Hall

A very successful banquet was held in the Y.M.C.A. banquet hall last night under the auspices of the Foreign Work Committee of that institution. A large number of business and professional men of the city were present and followed the two addresses very closely. The Foreign Work Committee has undertaken to raise $300 in support of a secretary in one of the heathen countries and last night's event was in the interests of this movement. The chair was occupied by Ald. J. J. Turner, chairman of the committee and after justice had been done to the splendid menu he introduced the speakers of the evening, Messrs. Coulter and Hibbert of New York City. Mr. Coulter gave one of the best missionary addresses ever heard in this city. He is eloquent and impressive. He spoke of the advances commercially and socially that has been made by those Asiatic nations; about the contributions from the christian nations to the commercial interests of the heathen nations; and of the contributions of the civilized nations to the uses of the eastern nations. Mr. Coulter closed with a strong appeal that the healing stream of the gospel be sent from the christian nations to the heathen nations.

Mr. Hibbert gave his talk on his experiences with the Japanese army in Manchuria.

Deputations were Heard

Mr. R. H. Leary appeared on behalf of the natural gas people. He said their franchise had expired on March 31st. Mr. Deetman is here now and is prepared to go ahead with the work at once.

On motion the franchise was extended until June 30th.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Messrs. P. Campbell and H. Beal were present in the interest of the Horticultural Society, and asked the city to give them protection in the city parks at this time of the year against the boys and men who are destroying the sod by tramping over it. At the present time the chief of police claims he has no authority to act in the matter. The society intends to fix up the upper part of the park this year and it is desirous to have proper protection.

Mr. Beal said he saw the chief lately and he claimed that he had no authority to prosecute offenders. Mr. Beal also said he wrote the police commissioners last fall but no action was taken. There was no use of the city granting money for the parks if the people were allowed to trample the sod and flowers.

The matter will be taken up at once.

GUN CLUB.

Messrs. L. Ball and C. Wood asked the council for permission to use Riverside Park again for the purpose of shooting at clay pigeons. They represented the Peterborough Gun Club.

If the club assume all responsibility for damage done, it was moved that they be granted the same privilege as in former years.

THE FIRE HALL.

Ald. Buller brought up the matter of the trouble at the fire hall on Saturday night. The chairman told the chief to eject anyone coming in the worse of liquor. There were several people who went into the fire hall for the purpose of making trouble. He gave particulars of the row and asked that the city solicitor be asked to take charge of the case.

On motion the city solicitor was asked to look after the city's interests in the case on Wednesday morning.

Address Before the Poultry Association

The lecture by Prof. Graham, of Guelph, tomorrow night should be of a very interesting and instructive nature and should be heard by a large number. The speaker of the evening will come on the invitation of the Poultry Association of Peterborough and the lecture will be illustrated by views which Prof. Graham will bring with him. The council chamber has been secured for the occasion and everybody is invited to be present. Prof. Graham is in charge of the poultry institutions in connection with the Agricultural College of Guelph, and by his thorough knowledge of the subject will no doubt be appreciated by those who are fortunate in attending the lecture.

RAN A RUSTY NAIL INTO HIS FINGER

USING Zam-Buk on a cut or scratch is insuring yourself against the danger of blood-poisoning, festering, or inflammation. As soon as you sustain an injury—a scratch from barbed wire, a cut, a burn, a bruise—put on a little Zam-Buk, and then don't worry! Zam-Buk kills the disease germs, which, entering wounds, set up festering, etc. Not only so, but Zam-Buk stimulates the cells to rapid action, and in this way builds up healthy skin very quickly; also, it eases pain and smarting. You have ease, insurance against blood-poisoning, and rapid healing—only Zam-Buk combines the three! Try it!

Mr. Alf. Hy. Orth, of Shipley (Ont.), says:—"While at work recently I had the misfortune to ran a rusty wire nail under my thumb nail, to the depth of about one and a half inches. The pain was terrible, and what I feared was that the nail, being so dirty and rusty, would set up festering and blood-poisoning. I knew, from previous experience, how good Zam-Buk was, so I cleaned the wound, melted a little of the balm, and ran it into the wound. The result was wonderful. It soothed the pain, and the thumb actually did not swell. Zam-Buk kept away all inflammation. I was able to go on with my work all the time, and in a few days the thumb was as good as ever."

Zam-Buk cures cuts, burns, bruises, sprains, piles, festering sores, ulcers, scalds, blood-poisoning, eczema, running ulcers, prairie itch, ringworm, scald-head, bad leg, diseased ankles, and all other skin diseases and injuries. Rubbed well into the parts affected, it cures neuralgia, rheumatism, and sciatica. All Druggists and Stores sell at 50c. box, three for $1.25, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

LOCAL OPTION VOTE WILL BE TAKEN AT JANUARY ELECTIONS

Ald. Morgan Champions the Local Option Cause and Insisted on the Matter Being Settled Now—Majority Favored the Petition

The local option bylaw will be placed before the electors of this city at the January elections next and if it is carried the bar room will be abolished in Peterborough. The City Council decided upon the course last night when a deputation of local option advocates waited upon the aldermen to back up the petition they had forwarded previously. The decision, however, is on condition that the city solicitor finds the signatures on the petition are correct.

A deputation of about 75 citizens including a score of ladies were present on behalf of the local option petition which was presented to the council. The ministers of the city were also present.

Rev. J. G. Potter was the first speaker. He stated that the petition with 1500 signatures asking that a local option vote be taken at the municipal election next January. There were actually 1700 names on the petition.

His worship stated that the Committee of the Whole Council would take the matter up in the near future.

Rev. Mr. Potter said the deputation would abide by the decision of the council although they would like to have it settled tonight.

Ald. Morgan wanted to know why the vote could not be taken tonight.

Rev. Mr. Webb said there was a strong feeling among the citizens that the matter should be dealt with in the open council as the deputation could hear the discussion.

The mayor therefore said that if the aldermen were ready to take it up he was willing.

It was moved by Ald. Morgan and Ald. Morrow that, if the petition was found to be all right, a bylaw be prepared and submitted at the January election.—Carried.

THE PETITION.

Whereas it is provided by Sec. 141 of Liquor License Act being chapter 245, R.S.O., 1897, that the council of any municipality may pass bylaws prohibiting the sale by retail of spirituous or other manufactured liquors as particularly set forth in the said section provided that the bylaw before the final passing thereof has been duly approved of by the electors of the municipality as provided thereby and,

Whereas the said act provides that in case in petition in writing signed by at least 25 per cent. of the total number of persons appearing by the last voters' list of the municipality to be qualified to vote at municipal election is filed with the clerks of the municipality on or before the 1st day of November next preceding the day upon which such poll will be held praying for the submission of such bylaw it shall be the duty of the council to submit the same to a vote of the electors as aforesaid.

Such petition was presented to the council signed by some 1500 ratepayers.

The Regiment Asks for the City's Aid

Col. Stevenson appeared before the council with Major Clegg and Capt. Bennett, and addressed the aldermen. Col. Stevenson said that some years ago the 57th invited the Ottawa regiment to visit the city, the council at that time made a grant to the officers. It is the intention this 24th of May, to bring one regiment, likely two and possibly three. But they decided to wait upon the council and see what assistance the city could give. The regiment has already invited the Brantford soldiers to come, but if the city could not help them they would have to drop the other invitations. They would not, however, like to drop the matter.

Motion to Revert to the Ward System was Given Three Months' Hoist

The question of electing aldermen by wards is apparently not very popular with the aldermen at the present time. The majority of them voted against the motion to return to the ward system and the amendment which gave the motion a three months' hoist was carried, so that Ald. Morgan cannot introduce his pet scheme again until the good old summer time when the aldermen will be hot under their collars and in better shape to deal with those big questions.

Ald. Morgan moved that a bylaw be prepared providing for the election of aldermen by ward system. Ald. Buller seconded the motion.

The act provides, said Ald. Morrow, that if the motion is carried before the 1st of November, a bylaw must be prepared and submitted to the ratepayers at the following January election.

There was some discussion on the motion in which several of the aldermen expressed their opinions.

Ald. Hicks stated that he would rather have the one year term than the ward system.

In amendment Ald. Morrow and Ald. Phelan moved that the question be given a three months' hoist.

The motion was carried.

Ald. Morgan asked for the yeas and nays.

Yeas—Aldermen Phelan, Morrow, McIntyre, Gillespie, Bradburn, Duffus and Hicks.

Nays—Aldermen Metheral, Turner, Buller, Morgan, Duncan.

Ald. Morgan asked Mayor Rush to vote on the motion. His worship consented and voted for the amendment, making the vote 9 to 5.

Regular Session of City Council Did Business

A busy session of the council was held last night although the motion to adjourn was passed at 10 o'clock. The minor matters of business transacted are given below.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were taken as read.

Those present were; Mayor Rush, Aldermen Phelan, Morrow, McIntyre, Metheral, Turner, Gillespie, Bradburn, Buller, Morgan, Duncan, Duffus and Hicks.

A number of communications were received and read and referred to their respective committees.

One communication was received from P. Thompson, asking for an increase in his salary as plumbing inspector.

TAX ROLL.

The tax collector reported as follows;

Total on roll	159,356.06
Total on deposit	151,647.34
Balance	7,709.32
Less discount	2,290.45
Balance	5,418.87
Collected during month	$3292.47

ACTION FOR DAMAGE.

The City Council was given notice that an action for damages would be entered against the city for the death by drowning of young Roberts some time ago. It will be remembered that the lad was playing along the crib work on the creek between Stewart and Bethune streets, when he fell in and was drowned before he could be got out.

This matter was referred to the Legal Committee.

The Horticultural Society wrote the council asking that the band be instructed to play in Central Park this summer as the society intends fixing up Victoria Park. The society also mentioned several other improvements that it is intended to make this summer.

MR. KENNEDY'S CLAIM.

Mr. J. H. Burnham brought up the claim of Mr. Kennedy, who fell on the sidewalk some time ago. Mr. Burnham explained that he fell on the same place three times himself, and he also informed two city officials at the time, and no sand was placed on the ice. Mr. Kennedy is 82 years of age and when he fell he broke his hip. He should have his expenses of $95 paid by the city. Mr. Kennedy is not able to bear the expense.

Reports of the several committees were read and adopted.

STREET WATERING.

Ald. Turner introduced the matter of street watering on George street. He said that year the watering was unsatisfactory owing to the fact that it was not done often enough. The merchants are caused considerable damage and inconvenience and they should be given every possible protection.

STREET CROSSINGS.

Ald. Metheral and Ald. Hicks moved that the crossings built this year where crossings are built when sidewalks are already laid, be charged to current account.

It was moved in amendment by Ald. Phelan and Ald. Turner, that the matter be referred to the Board of Works to report on.

The amendment was adopted on condition that this be the last year the present policy is adopted.

License for the Electric Wirers

A deputation of electric wiring contractors appeared before the council in reference to their petition for a license on electric wiremen. The deputation was heard and the matter was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee, and the deputation will be asked to appear before that committee.

A petition was received from the plumbers and electric wiring contractors, asking the council to pass a bylaw providing for a license of $25 per year for electric wiring contractors and that such licensed contractors supply labels with their license number and name on all jobs.

Czar will Pay Visit to King Edward But will Ignore Germany

St. Petersburg, April 5.—Preliminary preparations are being made for a round of state visits by the emperor to Scandinavia, and possibly to London, in the early summer.

According to the plans, his majesty will leave in June aboard the imperial yacht Standart, escorted by a division of the Baltic fleet and torpedo boats, and will go to Stockholm, Christiania, and Copenhagen, and perhaps thence to England to return King Edward's visit during the summer.

In any event, it is regarded as a certainty that this is the first extensive imperial trip projected since 1901.

Enthusiasm and Fat

These two, like oil and water, mix poorly. Thin does not imply fat men and women never gete enthusiastic. They do down deep inside. But what does it amount to? Their fat doesn't get excited. They can't transmute their enthusiasm into energetic action, so they might as well keep calm.

Thus it is that fat people generate much steam for life's work, only to find the load too much for the horse-power, and as a result thousands of both sexes get past so fast and no further. "Much they care," says the unsolicited plum one. But they do care. They care keenly for financial, mental, sexual, business, fall hunting, straight-front and comfort reasons, and that is why Marmola Prescription Tablets have been so heartily welcomed by the overweight classes. The reason is not far to seek. Marmola Prescription Tablets take off about a pound a day, in most cases, without interfering in any way with the taker's table tendencies of his love of ease. To some, possibly, their absolute economy appeals. Thus one large case costing seventy-five cents at any drug store or at the markers. The Marmola Company, Detroit, Mich., direct, is said in itself alone to contain enough tablets to make a decided change in any one.

But these are merely surface reasons. Marmola checks the formation of fat by curing the fat-forming tendency. The fat just slips away, as it were, without a sign of a wrinkle. Thus the work these tablets do is not injurious. It is natural. That is the real reason these tablets are so much appreciated. They are safe.

Beware of ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists. Price 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Fell Into Tub of Hot Water Babe Never Whimpered

Toronto, April 5.—As the result of falling into a tub of hot water yesterday morning, little Freddie Stewart, the three-year-old son of Geo. Stewart, 25 Sheridan avenue, died at the Sick Children's Hospital at 6.30 this morning.

Yesterday morning the father was in the kitchen preparing to give his little son a bath. He had just poured a kettle-full of boiling water into the tub, which was standing on the floor, and had gone to the other end of the room to get some cold water. While his back was turned, little Freddie, who was running around in his night dress, climbed into the tub, evidently thinking the bath was ready.

"He never made a sound," said Mr. Stewart, in relating the occurrence to a reporter this morning. "The first warning I had was when his mother, who was holding the baby, called to me that Freddie was in the tub. When I rushed over to him, and lifted him out, he was trying to climb out himself, but he had not let a whimper out of him."

Dr. Isabelle G. Wood of Bathurst street, was summoned, and after bathing the brave little fellow in olive oil, had an ambulance called and had him taken to the hospital.

Here everything possible was done for the little sufferer, but without avail. Up till midnight hopes were entertained that the child might recover, but about three o'clock this morning the reaction from the shock set in, and from then until the tired spirit left the tortured little body the little chap suffered agony.

Mr. Stewart is employed at the Imperial Plaster Co. They have two other children, both boys, one older than Freddie, and the other a baby who will be a year old tomorrow.

"He was such a manly little fellow, and so popular and well-known among all the neighbors," said the grief-stricken father. "It was so sudden, I can hardly realise it yet."

21 Missing from British Ship that Struck Derelict

London, April 5.—A despatch to Lloyd's from Punta Arenas, Chili, says that the steamer Oak Branch struck what is supposed to have been a derelict in the straits of Westminster, and was abandoned in a sinking condition.

The first officer and 18 of the crew and passengers were landed safely, but the captain and twenty persons are missing.

The Oak Branch is a vessel of 2,864 tons, and sailed from Liverpool for Valparaiso on February 24.

Missionary Talk Given Tonight

Dr. Gertrude Hulet, a returned missionary from India, and who is one of the most gifted and successful missionaries from the Ontario and Quebec Baptist conference will address the annual meeting of the Women's Missionary Circle of Murray street Baptist church tonight. The ladies have decided to throw this meeting open to the public, and it is expected that there will be a large attendance from all other churches in the city. It will be borne in mind that gentlemen are welcome as well as the ladies.

Pekin Law Forbids Chinamen Changing Nationality

Pekin, April 5.—A new law of naturalization was promulgated today.

It provides that Chinamen may no longer adopt foreign citizenship, and it declares that Chinamen who in the past have become the subjects or citizens of other States, still are Chinese.

Many Chinamen are affected by this ruling, especially those who have registered themselves in Hong Kong as British subjects. As also a number of high Chinese officials at home and abroad.

The City Hockey League Banquet

The fast bunch of hockey players from Lakefield, who won the senior city hockey league championship the past winter were in the city last night and were guests of the other teams in the league at a banquet. The affair was the annual one and is in an event which is looked forward to with great interest by all the boys. A large number sat down to the banquet and thoroughly enjoyed the menu. After supper several speeches were made and the championship cup was presented to the winners.

Dr. P. Goldsmith Died in Belleville

Belleville, April 5.—Dr. P. Goldsmith of Toronto, died here this morning of heart failure, aged 64. He had been in feeble health for some time. He came here from Toronto a few days ago on a visit, and died at the home of a friend. Dr. Goldsmith had practised medicine successfully for many years in Peterborough, Campbellford and this city. While here he was physician to the Deaf and Dumb Institute. He moved to Toronto about two years ago. He was a prominent Mason, a Methodist and a Liberal. A widow and family survive, among the sons being Dr. P. G. Goldsmith, of Toronto.

The late Dr. P. Goldsmith was well and favorably known in this city and his death will be learned with much regret.

A Widow's Luck

Quit the Thing that was Slowly Killing Her

A woman tells how coffee kept her from insuring her life;

"I suffered for many years, chiefly from trouble with my heart, with severe nervous headaches and neuralgia; but although incapacitated at times for my housework, I did not realise the gravity of my condition till I was rejected for life insurance, because, the examining physician said, my heart was so bad he could not pass me. This distressed me very much, as I was a widow and had a child dependent upon me. It was to protect her future that I wanted to insure my life.

"Fortunately for me, I happened to read an advertisement containing a testimonial from a man who had been affected in the same way that I was with heart trouble, and who was cured by leaving off coffee and using Postum. I grasped at the hope this held out, and made the change at once.

"My health began to improve immediately. The headaches and neuralgia disappeared. I gained in flesh, and my appetite came back to me at once. Greatest of all, my heart was strengthened from the beginning, and soon all the distressing symptoms passed away. Then I again made application for life insurance, and had no trouble in passing the medical examination.

"It was seven years ago that I began to use Postum, and I am using it still, and shall continue to do so, as I find in it a guarantee of good health."

Asthma Cured

Mrs. Farndel, of Clementsport, N.S., suffered all her life from asthma, but was permanently cured by Catarrhosone after all other means failed.

Mrs. Farndel's recovery affords overwhelming proof of what Catarrhosone will do. Nothing except Catarrhosone was of the slightest benefit, but when given a fair trial it cured.

Now, perhaps you need something for your cold, or bronchitis or Asthma? Why not try Catarrhosone? Thousands have been cured by inhaling it a few minutes now and again, and certainly it wouldn't do you any harm to profit by their experience.

Mrs. Farndel gives the following statement of her case for the benefit of others who are suffering from asthma, and hopes that many will follow her example and use Catarrhosone.

"I am now in my eightieth year, and cannot recall the time when I was free from the Asthma. I had always a choking cough, feverishness, spasms, difficulty in breathing, head ache and nausea. My druggist advised Catarrhosone one day, and I bought a large outfit. It gave relief in five minutes and helped me very much in one day.

"I inhaled Catarrhosone ten minutes every hour, and by the time two bottles were used. I was completely cured. I am as free now from Asthma as if I never had it. My perfect recovery is due entirely to Catarrhosone. I prize my Catarrhosone Inhaler next to life itself."

(Signed) MRS. T. FARNDEL."

This is a proof positive that Catarrhosone is a sure and speedy cure for the worst kind of Asthma. It is guaranteed to give satisfactory results, and your money will be refunded if it fails. All you need is a trial of this grand preparation to be quite satisfied and convinced that it is the best. Your druggist recommends and sells it. Price $1.00, small size 50 cents. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ontario.

THE POSITION OF ENGLAND

There are those who say that the excitement in England over the naval program of Germany is a calculated explosion of jingoism. It is described as a form of attack on the Liberal Government. It is said that the object is to distract the attention of the British people from Social reform and to commit the colonies to a financial partnership in the naval expenditures of the Mother Country and the mad militarism of Europe.

A frank examination of the facts does not find support for these arguments. The settle policy of England has been to maintain a navy equal to the combined navies of any other two first-class powers. But it was suddenly discovered that the two-power standard had not been maintained and that by 1912 the navy of Germany might be equal to that of Great Britain.

In an hour Great Britain's basis of security seemed to disappear. The defence in which she trusted was found to be enormously weakened. Her naval supremacy, which all parties hold vital to the safety of the country and the protection of British commerce on the seas, is threatened and the whole position of the Empire in Europe is radically affected.

In the House of Commons Mr. Balfour stated the position with inflexible firmness, but with discretion and moderation of temper. Mr. Asquith, while disputing certain of his conclusions, admitted the substantial truth of the Conservative leader's conclusions. He confessed that the two-power standard had not been maintained. He admitted that the country faced a situation unprecedented in modern history. He acknowledged the fairness and the gravity of Mr. Balfour's statement.

Germany has the most powerful and best disciplined army in Europe. There is danger that in a few years Germany will have a navy equal to that of Great Britain. With a vastly more powerful army and as strong a navy as Britain, the German empire would hold a position of something like absolute dominance in Europe, and a power of aggression which the Mother Country could only regard with serious apprehension.

Grant all that may be said, and should be said, as to the madness of European expenditures for military purposes and grant in Great Britain to do under such circumstances? It can hardly be doubted that Germany has been chiefly influential in blocking the movement for disarmament or at least checking the reduction of the war estimates of the nations. Germany more than any other country has restricted the beneficent operations of The Hague Tribunal.

Year by year Germany strengthens her position on land and on sea. Year by year Great Britain's relative strength declines and already the effort to maintain the two-power naval standard, the bedrock of British policy, has been defeated. Is it to be supposed that in face of the plain revelation and the certain significance of these facts the Mother Country can be calm, indifferent and inactive? Is it the mere shrieking of yellow journalism, or the mad irresponsible mouthing of jingoism, if the alarm and apprehension of Great Britain finds expression in British communities the world over?

PINKERTON'S CHARITY.

Why He Gave the Fellow Who Lost His Leg a Dollar.

It was a raw, stormy night. Mr. Pinkerton was walking home from the club, after a fine dinner that put him on good terms with himself and with the world, when he was accosted by a big, burly chap, who requested financial assistance.

"Say, mister, can't yo help a poor fellar what's lost his leg?" the beggar whined as Pinkerton passed along.

"Lost a leg?" retorted Pinkerton, eying the man suspiciously. "Why, you have two legs, haven't you?"

To all appearances the man certainly had.

"Yes, sir," returned the beggar, with a mournful smile that stirred Pinkerton's heart. "I've got two of 'em left, sir, but my best one—ah, that is gone forever! I lost it in a railway accident, sir."

"For heaven's sake, what were you before this catastrophe happened," cried Pinkerton—"a centiped?"

"No, sir; just a plain, ordinary human bein', sir. The leg I lost, sir, was a wooden one, sir, and it used to excite a lot of sympathy when I got it strapped on. It was worth $4 a day to me, that leg was, but, now it's gone, I'm the dead brokest beggar in ninety-seven counties," explained the beggar.

Whereupon Pinkerton gave the fellow a dollar. This at first seems an extravagant sum to give to a man like that, but in this case it was not so, for Pinkerton is a writer by trade, and he knew he could put the incident into words and sell it to some editor for $10 or $11.—Judge.

A Wife to Be Pitied.

"I don't believe in early shopping," said the short man in the corner of the car.

"Why not?" the man with the dark green hat asked him.

"For a very good reason," replied the short man. "If I don't give my wife her Christmas spending money until the day before Christmas, she won't come back at me for more, can she?"

And he grinned atrociously.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Misunderstood.

When Mark Twain was a young and struggling newspaper writer in San Francisco a lady of his acquaintance saw him one day with a cigar box under his arm looking in a shop window.

"Mr. Clemens," she said, "I always see you with a cigar box under your arm. I am afraid you are smoking too much."

"It isn't that," said Mark. "I'm moving again."—Success Magazine.

Merely Practice.

Father—Why do you allow that fellow who's calling here to remain so long?

Girl Law Student—Merely practicing for my court practice, father.

Father—How so?

Girl Law Student—Well, I was prepared to dismiss his suit, but of course I had to listen to his argument for a day.—Baltimore American.

Her Mother—Then why are you pencilling your eyebrows and taking such pains to fix yourself up?

She—I want to look my best when he comes back.—Chicago Record-Herald.

One Is Illegal.

"What is the difference between making money and earning money?" asked the youth.

"Sometimes the difference is a trip to the penitentiary for counterfeiting," answered the home grown philosopher.—Pittsburg Post.

Family of Pensioners.

The town of Donegal, Ireland, boasts of four members of one family who receive old-age pensions, while a fifth will be eligible next year. The name of the family is Hilley, and those receiving the pensions are the mother, her two daughters and a son.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription — Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to lepose and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and real improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

Gentlemen Who Are Bald

Investigate and see for yourself the Art covering in Wigs and Toupees. Prof. Duroswend Patent Toupee are now worn on over 50,000 heads by all classes in all stations of life.

In this particular structure the ventilation is perfect; so light as a feather; is securely adjusted to the head; can be combed just as your own hair; they make any man look ten years younger, besides the protection you get from Catarrh, Colds, Neuralgia, etc. Call and see them at Hotel Oriental, Peterborough, Wednesday, April 7.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and ailing nerves centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help. If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves — re-establish them as needed, with

Why Do People Deposit Their Money in Banks for only 3 Per Cent. Interest?

BECAUSE, THEY THINK IT IS QUITE SAFE.

Why Do Some Invest in Bonds to get a Little Higher Interest?

Because, the bonds represent a mortgage on the property on which their money is invested which gives a feeling of safety.

Why Do People Invest in Wildcat Gold and Silver Mining Schemes? Because they think the chances of profit are big and they are willing to take the risk.

WHY NOT INVEST IN A SAFE STOCK IN A GOING COAL MINE

making money now and which presents such possibilities for development that it is expected that the profits will run from 25 per cent. to 50 per. cent. higher.

The Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited, Stock at $10 per Share is a safe Stock.

It is all common stock. There are no bonds or no mortgages or no preferred stock, on which interest must be paid before the common stockholder gets anything.

When you buy common stock of the Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited at $10 per share you become an actual owner of the mines and have an equal chance of the profits according to the number of shares held. A coal mine with a big deposit of coal ready for the miner's pick is as safe as a bank. To own and control shares of common stock in such a coal mine must be safer and better than holding bonds in a proposition in which you have no control and which may or may not be properly managed. The officers and management of the Winter Port Coal Mines of New Brunswick have the experience in mining and selling coal in both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

J. S. Gibbon, the President of the company, opened and developed the Winter Port Mines to the present stage.

W. E. Vroom, the Vice-President of the Company, was for some years actively associated in the management of the Springhill Collieries in Nova Scotia and the Albert Mines in New Brunswick.

Manufacturers in St. John speak highly of the Winter Port coal.

Winter Port coal is a good locomotive coal and has been used on the Intercolonial and other railways.

The Winter Port Coal Mines being practically on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific now opening up through New Brunswick will provide a most convenient coaling facility for that great trans-continental railway. Immense quantities of coal will be needed by the great railways and by the manufacturers, steamship lines, etc., in connection with the development of Canada's Winter Port at St. John, N.B., which is only 55 miles in a direct line from these coal mines.

Secure some Winter Port stock now at $10 per share (there is no personal liability) and get your share of the profits of a safe conservative money-making proposition.

SOME LONG BANQUETS.

Feasts That Have Included Over One Hundred Courses.

Speaking at a dinner in London recently Sir Robert Hart, the veteran inspector-general of the Chinese customs, said the longest banquet he ever sat at was one in Pekin, which lasted for 17 consecutive hours. There were 125 courses, and he tasted them all. Mr. Ward, an American envoy to China, who tried to secure the interview with Emperor Hieng-Fung in 1860, tells how he was entertained at a dinner that lasted from noon one day until six o'clock on the evening of the day following. The total number of courses is not given, but Ward mentions that he had to give in after partaking of 138 different dishes, "whereupon his hosts wondered greatly"—presumably at his abstemiousness.

Probably, however, the Eskimo banquets last longer than any others, and the quantity of food swallowed is also proportionately greater. Ross records that seven of his party of natives once ate continuously for 32 hours, during which time they consumed 200 pounds of seal meat. Europeans, exposed to the same climatic conditions, act in much the same way. Capt. Scott, of the Discovery, on his return from his long sledge journey over the inland ice of the Antarctic Continent, did nothing but eat and sleep for the space of three days and nights, and even then he was still hungry.

Commander Peary and his party, returned famished from their futile dash for the pole in 1906, slaughtered a herd of seven musk oxen on Hasen Island, off the extreme north of Greenland. For two days and nights thereafter they crouched inside their snow huts, eating continuously, and when they had finished, the pile of bones outside was "as high as a tall man's chin."

EXTREMELY ANCIENT RACE.

Skeletons Which Have Particular Interest to European Anthropologists.

The name Naanderthaloid has been used to denote an extremely ancient race of men, of which remains were last found in 1856 in the Neander valley (Germany). Since then, says The Scientific American, an entire skeleton of an adult woman of the same type was found in Dordogne (France), in 1905, and only a few months ago, near the same place, Mr. O. Hauser unearthed the skeleton of a youth showing the typical characters of the race—strongly developed supraorbital ridges, powerful maxilla, large teeth, etc. The wisdom teeth were still in their alveoli. The lower jaw was prognathous to an extent almost exiting to mind the muzzle of the animal. The canine teeth were not very highly developed, as in anthropoid apes. The bones of the limbs were entirely in accord with the type known to us in paleolithic man, the femur massive and stubby; the radius curved. Near the human remains were found those of Bos primigenius. The attitude in which the body was placed seemed to indicate that it had been placed there for burial. This is of special interest, as it has hitherto been somewhat generally held that primitive man did not bury their dead, and this was an indication of his entire lack of all religion.

Booking Seats For Uncle Tom.

Here is a charming little story told by Mr. Arthur Collins, the London actor. "Recently," he says, "three tiny little mites, each holding a fist tightly clenched, came into the hall at Drury Lane Theatre, one asked an attendant to show them the box-office, towards which the three advanced. The box-office counter was far above their heads, so the attendant lifted one of the trio to a level with the counter, and he asked in a very tiny voice for 'a seat where I can see everything,' and put down a little pile of silver. He was duly given a ticket for a stall seat, and then the next was lifted up in the same way and asked for 'a seat next to Jimmy,' which he got. Finally, the third, a girl, was lifted up and demanded two seats—one for herself 'on the other side of Jimmy,' and one for Uncle Tom—and added the information that 'Uncle Tom was coming from Australia and had not seen a pantomime for twenty years.' Then the little trio walked off, after thanking the attendant."

The First Peer of the Realm.

Dr. Davidson, Archbishop of Canterbury and first peer of the realm, who had such a large hand in filling the Education Bill, was confidential friend and adviser to Queen Victoria for twenty years. The very fact that he was honored with such a confidence, and kept it so long, is an open proof of his tact, shrewdness, and common sense. Indeed, it would be no compliment to say that he has never made a mistake. He has certainly a marvellous gift of "not putting his foot into it." Owing to the effects of gun accident in his youth, the archbishop has to be content with the very simplest of diets. He touches scarcely any meat, and frequently subsists for months on nothing but milk foods. Like the Bishop of Ripon, Dr. Davidson has never taken kindly to gaiters. He is a man of inexpensive tastes, and when the head of the diocese of Rochester was a constant patron of omnibuses and tramcars.

What the Subalterns Know.

Gen. Sir E. Locke Elliott, who is retiring from the command at Leahnaw, has long enjoyed the reputation of being the most sarcastic soldier in the army, and it must be admitted he does his best to live up to it. A lady was talking to him a short time ago of his length of service in India, and opined that he must know a lot about it. "Not a bit, madam; not a bit. The longer you serve in India the less you know about it. I have subalterns who could put me right upon every subject under the sun," he replied. "and if you doubt my statement, just ask them. They will confirm every word of it."

FIRES AND INSURANCE

What Being Burned Out May Mean to a Business.

DAMAGE ONE CANNOT COVER.

Enormous Losses Caused by the Suspension of Operations and the Drifting Away of Trade That Are Not Appreciated by the General Public.

"I suppose you heard that Black & Co. were burned out from the roof to the basement last night?" remarks the man in the car.

"No!" exclaims the friend who hasn't seen the morning paper. "I suppose they carried insurance?"

"Oh, yes—a hundred thousand or so!" returns the first speaker, at which his friend settles back with the comment that everything is all right then.

This is the layman's conclusion almost invariably. Some big concern burns out, but with insurance to an amount seeming to cover the loss the average man is disposed to feel that it is all right. He doesn't stop to think of the enormous risks of a business which cannot be covered by insurance and which for weeks, months or years after a fire are crippling and perhaps ruinous to the fire victim.

Take, for example, a highly organized factory plant in prosperous times which has been turning out a vast specialized product from the hands of thousands of expert workmen. This plant, filled with costly machinery, is covered by insurance upon its visible, material assets. Fire sweeps it and lays everything in hopeless ruin. If every piece of machinery, every building and all material adjuncts of the plant have been covered to full value in such a plant, will the reader dare make a rough guess as to what the limitations of loss may be?

Only the other day I stepped into a bookbindery, unostentatious in its street signs and occupying a fifth floor in an obscure street. In the elevator shaft was that peculiar odor which marks the track of fire and firemen days and weeks after such an accident.

"Most of the fire was next door," explained the proprietor, "but I guess the smoke and the water were about as bad for us. Sometimes it is almost better to have the fire yourself than be next door to it."

Which seemed to be especially true of book material. Where smoke and soot had failed to blot and ruin the stock, water from the engines in the street had flooded it until ruin alone was descriptive. Everything had been closed down, workers in the plant were idle, and the proprietor was awaiting the adjustment of the insurance which he had been carrying. But in the extent of this insurance itself was a treaty situation.

Ordinarily the house had carried policies which would have left it the minimum of risk on its machinery, stock and materials. Ordinarily a still further blanket policy was carried for the purpose of covering the normal amount of book material on hand owned by others and contracted for rebinding. But only a few days before the fire the house had received a consignment of $5,000 worth of lawbooks to be bound. These volumes, aside from intrinsic value, represented so much of other value as to make the risk abnormal for almost any amount. And these books were ruined.

Before receiving them the binder had asked the owners to take out a policy for themselves protecting them against such fire loss. The firm had not done so, and when the fire damage came the disposition of the owners was to hold the binder for them under one of the binder's blanket policies.

On this one disputed point, taking it into court, will some one make a guess as to what this one feature of the fire may cost the binder, who to all purposes was "insured." If it should be settled in the supreme court after five or seven years, for example?

But in the case of the big manufactory, with its imported special machinery, its season of rush work and its enormous and fluctuating stock of material—if on the morning after the fire the insuring companies settle in full for the visible losses, how much has the company been damaged?

Of first consideration, perhaps, is the enormous payroll of the concern. If most of the mechanical work of the plant has been done by pieceworkers, still the necessary force of directing employees on salary is a problem. The determination of the owners is to start up anew. Tried and proved employees must be retained while the work of rehabilitation goes on. They must be paid even if they are to do no more than wait. Settlement of some kind must be made with contractors who have been supplying raw materials from the hands of other thousands of workers. No matter what the clauses in contracts providing immunity in case of fires, strikes and acts of Providence, every line of business affecting the welfare of the manufactory has been affected.

The plant is a total loss. Before it can be rebuilt the ruins of the old factory must be cleared away.

In the meantime all those customers of the manufactory who have been pressing for the filling of contract orders find themselves shut out of any chance for receiving them. They turn at once to other competing establishments for the work. Not only does the burned out firm lose all chance of profits from this work, but it is running a long chance of losing some of its oldest and best customers of years' standing.

THE TURTLE'S HEAD.

Chopped Off, It Retains Life For a Number of Hours.

On the counter, in a porcelain dish, stood the severed head of a large turtle.

"That is rather gruesome," said a man who was buying oysters.

The oyster opener glanced at the head carelessly.

"It is a bet," said he. "I bet Gus Schmidt that the head would keep alive twenty-four hours. It's nearly twenty-five now since I chopped it off. Gus is late. But I win anyhow," he added.

"Where's my money? Pay me my money!" a deep voice shouted at this moment, and a short man swaggered in.

"You've lost, Gus," said the oyster opener. "There is still life in her."

"There is—sit," said Gus Schmidt "Nix on the life."

And he extended a stumpy finger fearfully toward the turtle's mouth.

"Gee!"

Startled, amazed, Gus Schmidt leaped back. For in the turtle's open eyes a fierce light had flashed, the ugly mouth had opened and shut with a sharp snap, and the head in some strange way had advanced an inch or two toward the tempting finger, much as a piece of steel advances toward a magnet.

"This may surprise you, Gus," said the oyster opener, wiping his wet hands in order to protect his winnings. "But it don't surprise me none. I've seen turtle heads keep life in 'em longer'n this here."

Greeley Dodged Lincoln.

President Lincoln, having been often and severely arraigned in the New York Tribune for what Mr. Greeley considered his slowness in prosecuting the war, had said: "If he (Greeley) objects to my policy, I shall be glad to have him state to me his views frankly and fully. I shall adopt his if I can. If I cannot, I will at least tell him why. He and I should stand together."

"If I were to go," said Greeley when the words were repeated to him, "he would simply twist me around his fingers, as he always does."

"Lincoln's smile would wilt me in half a minute," he said on another occasion when again urged to see the president and have a talk with him. "He is a wonderful man—wonderful! I never can harbor a thought against him except when I keep away from him."

Stiff Neck

Stiff neck is caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the neck. It is usually confined to one side, or to the back of the neck and one side. While it is often quite painful, quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of rheumatism in ten requires internal treatment. When there is no fever and no swelling as in muscular and chronic rheumatism, Chamberlain's Liniment will accomplish more than any internal treatment.

Weary, Worn Out, Tired

If You Feel Poorly this Spring this Article is worth Considering.

Nothing in life keeps people from advancement like poor health. If the nerves are weak, if the stomach, liver, bowels or kidneys fail to work properly, healthy, surely suffers. Spring is the hardest time on health—the season when the system calls for active cleansing medicine.

The best plan is to entrust your condition to a physician of reputation like Dr. Hamilton, who has had years of experience in compounding tonics. For the lifeless and tired feeling of spring Dr. Hamilton says nothing is better than Mandrake and Butternut Pills, and this is well proven in the case of James Burton of Lewistown. "I had grip and it left me very weak. The disease settled in my back and side, which ached day and night. I had a nagging cough. My appetite was all gone. My nerves unstrung. I could not sleep well. I struggled against growing pale, thin and weak—but it was no good. Spring brought depression, overpowering weakness and bad headaches. But my life was spared, simply because I learned of the wonderful merit in Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. The result was marvellous. I gained rapidly, became strong, ruddy, vigorous, perfectly well. I urge every man and woman to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly.

You'll brighten up, have cleaner blood, stronger nerves, better spirits after using Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. at all dealers. Guaranteed safe, sure helpful for old and young.

Bad Season for Colds

Colds and grip were quite prevalent last winter and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in great demand and performed some remarkable cures. Mrs. Mary J Robinson of Cameron, W. Va., says, "Last winter I was taken with one of the awfulest colds I ever had in my life. I could not speak above a whisper and was very hoarse. I was afraid it was going to be pneumonia. I took one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in three days was lots better and could talk. I did not take but the one bottle and it cured me. I now tell everybody about Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the good it did me."

OBITUARY

JOHN O'TOOLE.

The death occurred Sunday night at his home in Douro, of John O'Toole, after an illness of some weeks. He was 73 years of age and was born in Ireland. He resided in Asphodel township on first coming to Canada, but for the past 20 years had resided in Douro. He was well known and highly respected.

His wife and seven sons and two daughters are left to mourn his loss. The sons are; Messrs. Michael, Dennis and John, of Otonabee; Nicholas, of Douro, and James and William of Peterborough. The daughters are; Mrs. P. Leahy of this city, and Mrs. E. Nolan of Lakefield.

The funeral will take place this morning to St. Joseph's church, and thence to St. Joseph's cemetery, Douro.

Special Service in the Open Air

The Ministerial Association held their regular meeting yesterday morning at the Y.M.C.A. The president, Rev. J. H. Keith, occupied the chair, and there was a good attendance of the ministers. Rev. J. G. Potter of St. Andrew's church, spoke briefly on temperance and moral reform. It was decided to hold an open air service in Central Park on the afternoon of Good Friday, when short addresses will be given by the local clergy and a bright service will be held.

An Ideal Cough Medicine

"As an ideal cough medicine I regard Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in a class by itself," says Dr. R. A. Wiltshire, of Gwynneville, Ind. "I take great pleasure in testifying to the results of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. In fact, I know of no other preparation that meets so fully the expectations of the most exacting in cases of croup and coughs of children. As it contains no opium, chloroform or morophine it certainly makes a most safe, pleasant and efficacious remedy for the ills it is intended."

The New Church

Another meeting of the Murray street Baptist church will be held tomorrow evening when the discussion on the proposed new church will be the chief subject.

Easter Gifts

Although Easter is of ecclesiastical origin and essentially a religious festival, it has from very early times been looked upon as a time of gladness and well-wishing.

In Canada the season has a special attractiveness because it comes to us on the threshold of spring, when all the world is bright and beautiful. This would seem therefore the most appropriate time in the year for remembering friends.

In view of the increasing popularity of seasonable gift-giving, we are showing a wide assortment of dainty and suitable articles of all kinds, including Easter cards, greeting cards and novelties. We cordially invite you to see our stock whether you buy or not. Times Bookstore, Hunter street, Peterborough.

Collegiate Institute will Open at 8.30 a. m. During May and June

The daylight bill being discussed in the House of Commons has caught on in Peterborough. The principal of the Collegiate Institute, who is always ready to take up with advanced ideas that are for the better of the community, wrote to the Board of Education last night. He made the request that the hours of school be moved back one-half hour, so that instead of opening at nine o'clock it be 8.30 during May, June and September. The advantages of this at once appealed to the members of the board and it was adopted.

Mr. Crane read a report from the principal of the Collegiate to the effect that during the months of May, June and September, the schools be opened at 8.30 a.m., and adjourned at 11.30 a.m., opened again at 1 o'clock and adjourned at 3.30 o'clock.

The schools become very hot in the afternoon and it was also a move towards the new daylight bill.

On motion by Mr. Crane and Mr. Dumble, the idea was adopted for May and June and if satisfactory it be continued in September.—Carried.

Dr. Gertrude Hulet Gave a Splendid Lecture in Murray Street Church

At the meeting of the Missionary Society in the Murray street Baptist church last night two most pleasant surprises were sprung. The first was the presentation of a life-membership to the Mission Circle, to Mrs. (Dr.) E. J. Hunter, who has been president of the society for several years and who was re-elected president for the ensuing years. Mrs. Hunter has been a very faithful officer of the circle and has accomplished a great deal.

The second surprise was the presentation of the autograph quilt to Mrs. (Rev.) Webb. This quilt has been under preparation for some time, and it bears the names of nearly 500 members of the congregation. The names are all worked in silk, and it is a very handsome thing and will be greatly valued by the recipient. The society realized the sum of $65 from the guilt by the parties whose names appear on it paying a nominal sum for the privilege. Mrs. Webb is the very efficient superintendant of the Mission Band, and the presentation was in recognition of her services to the society.

Murray street Baptist church was filled last night with an interested audience who gathered to hear Dr. Gertrude Hulet's lecture. The doctor is a returned missionary to India and her subject was her work among the natives of that country. The lecture was exceedingly interesting and instructive and everyone was well pleased with it.

The Collegiate Grounds will be Beautified

It is a well known fact that Mr. D. W. Dumble, police magistrate, is an enthusiastic horticulturalist. He is a lover of everything that is beautiful and his hobby is to assist nature in every way possible. Mr. Dumble is also greatly grieved when he sees thoughtless people deliberately destroying lawns, flowers, shrubs, trees, etc., and frequently says hard things about them. Such was the case last night at the Board of Education meeting. He was advocating the beautifying of the lawn around the new Collegiate, but said it was no use of the board spending any money if the mohawks and hoodlums were not kept off. He blamed the boys of the Collegiate for much of the damage that has been done. He claimed that no matter how much a boy knew he was not educated if he destroyed property, and he wanted the principal of the school to make this one of his special subjects and to talk to the pupils about it when he had them all together in the assembly hall. Mr. Dumble outlined a plan for improving the Collegiate grounds which will greatly add to the appearance of the premises, and which he and two others have authority to carry out.

Before the meeting adjourned, Mr. Kenner, principal of the school, asked permission to address the board in reply to Mr. Dumble. Mr. Kennen explained that it was not the boys of the Collegiate who did the damage as the boys there were all well behaved. He claimed Mr. Dumble had no right to say the hard things he did about them. In conclusion Mr. Kenner stated that if the lawn was put in shape and the board kept the general public off and prevented eastern driving their carts over it, he would guarantee that the students of the Collegiate would keep off the grass.

Beware of ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Entertained Students

The graduating students of the Peterborough Normal School were entertained by Principal Walker and his staff Monday evening. The graduates to the number of thirty-five gathered in the Assembly hall at five o'clock. Short addresses were given by Mr. Walker and the other teachers and by Mr. A. Mowatt, inspector of the city Public schools, and by Mr. J. Coyle Brown, inspector of the rural schools. At the conclusion of the addresses dainty refreshments were served in the dining hall. The results of the examinations will be published the latter part of the month.

Athletic Association Waited Upon the Board During Regular Session

The Athletic Association of the Collegiate Institute waited upon the Board of Education last night, and asked that the board provide them with grounds suitable for their purposes. It was suggested that the board grant the price of the rent for the Riverside Park.

Several other matters of business were also taken up and passed upon.

In the absence of Chairman L. M. Hayes, Mr. Roby, Fair was appointed to the chair.

The minutes were taken as read.

Those present were;—R. Fair, D. W. Dumble, E. F. Mason, B. F. Ackerman, W. F. Nelson, John Crane, W. H. Hill, Dr. Morrison and Dr. Burnham.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following communications were received and dealt with:

On motion of Messrs. Crane and Hill the Collegiate Institute will be used for the Nicholls Hospital nurses graduating exercises.

BOYS MAKE REQUEST.

A deputation from the Collegiate Institute Athletic Association, was present. Mr. Harry Hall stated that the association badly needed athletic grounds. They had decided that the Riverside Park grounds would be the best. But the grounds would cost $25, and the boys cannot meet that expense. They have met all other expense, but felt that this year the board might help them out. The Central school grounds are too rough and are not suitable for other sports except baseball. The association play all games without any gate receipts.

The question was referred to the Supervision Committee with power to act.

The Finance Committee's report was presented by Dr. Morrison.

Dr. Morrison said that as the usual time for issuing the cheques to the teachers is on the 15th of the month, he moved that they be issued this month on the 7th.

The Supervision Committee reported through Mr. John Crane re the arrangements for the scholarships this year.

The Property Committee was given authority to advertise for tenders for the supply of fuel for the coming year.

The chairman of the Property Committee and Mr. Dumble and Mr. Hill be authorized to expend some money towards decorating the grounds at the Collegiate Institute. The sum was limited to $75.

Dr. Morrison also moved that the Collegiate Institute Committee be disbanded as their work has been completed. The motions were seconded by Mr. Mason.

Queen Alexandra school and the Collegiate Institute will be supplied with pocket beetem and mop jars, and the Property Committee also get authority to make some necessary improvements to lawns around the schools. The motion was moved by Messrs. Nelson and Hill, and carried.

Intermediate Lacrosse Team was Organized

Peterborough will have a lacrosse team this year and it will be entered in the C.L.A. intermediate series. The organization meeting was held at the Crown Hotel last night when about thirty enthusiastics were present and got the club off to a good start. A list of interesting discussion was indulged in and the prospects are very bright.

The patrons and patronesses are Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. B. Neil, Mr. and Mrs. B. LeBrun, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kendry.

OFFICERS.

The following officers were elected;—

Hon. Pres.—J. J. Howden.
Hon. Vice-Pres.—W. Rudkins.
President—J. Cottingham.
1st Vice—Dr. Wightman.
2nd Vice—M. Halpin.
Sec.-Treas.—Leo Dobbin.
Executive Committee—R. M. Glover, E. N. MacWilliams, Clarke, McCabe and the captain.
Manager—D. Dobbin.

Mr. Fred Dobbin was elected a delegate to attend the C.L.A. meeting in Toronto on Good Friday, and instructed to have the team entered in the intermediate series.

Gets a Pension

Mr. Leonard Dobbin, Ashburnham, received papers the other day from the United States Government, entitling him to a pension of twelve dollars per month, in recognition of services rendered in the New York State militia. Mr. Dobbin enlisted in the New York State militia during the American Civil War in 1865. He did not take part in any of the engagements of the war between the North and the South, but was enlisted and was ready to go to the front had he been needed. Mr. Dobbin will receive twelve dollars per month until he is 70 years of age, and after that he will be entitled to fourteen dollars a month. It is understood that he will endeavor to secure his back pension, which, it is said, amounts to over four thousand dollars.

The Strathconas to Have a Fast Baseball Team

The Strathconas held an organization meeting at the Y.M.C.A. last night when the same enthusiasm was displayed that has marked this club's career since its first organization. It was decided to have a baseball team again this year, and to enter the Senior City League if such a league is formed. The same management which has had charge of the sports in the past will again look after the team.

Body of the Late Gus Sawyers was Recovered

The body of the late Augustus Sawyers, son of Mr. A. Sawyers, of this city, was recovered in the river at Campbellford yesterday, after having been in the water since last December when the unfortunate young man came to his death. The particularly sad circumstances surrounding the death will be remembered and that the remains have been recovered will be a relief to the relatives. The deceased's father left last night for Campbellford, and will bring the remains to Peterborough and the funeral will be held from the station to Little Lake cemetery where interment will be made.

Was Given a Bath in the Otonabee

There was only one case at the police court yesterday morning. John Kelleher was the complainant in an assault case. John Conroy was the defendant but after hearing the evidence of both parties the Magistrate dismissed the case.

According to Kelleher's story, the assault took place on the first day of April at the rear of the Cereal works power house when a number of men were engaged in removing stones from the river. Large stone-boats were used in the work, and the defendant and complainant were both engaged on the same job.

Kelleher claims that Conroy deliberately pushed him off the boat into the water and as a result he was drenched to the skin and suffered after effects. But according to the foreman who had charge of the work the boat became overturned by the current and this was how the defendant had come to get into the water.

The defendant told the same story and contradicted the complainant's version of the affair with the result that the case was dismissed.

Place of Meeting will Not be Changed as Yet by Board of Education

Mr. Nelson a motion to have Board of Education meet in Collegiate Institute, and that secretary's office be moved to t building was not a popular one the Board of Education memb Mr. Nelson moved his motion, and E. F. Mason seconded it. All the ot members of the board opposed although they stated that they lieved the Institute was the pro place to meet. That portion of t motion referring to the meetin being thrown open to the public with no opposition. The public welcome to attend the meetings as always have been. In future, how ever, this will be understood as invitation.

The motion was discussed and fi ally Mr. Nelson consented to with draw his motion.

That whereas a number of citi zens having expressed the desire t attend meetings of the board, and that as the new Collegiate Insti tute would furnish adequate accom odation, be it resolved, that all fu ture meetings be held in the board room of the said Collegiate Insti tute, and that the public be invit ed, through the press to attend.

In speaking to the motion Mr Nelson said the people wished to at tend. There is lots of room in the new Collegiate Institute for open meetings. The public should be given full confidence of all matters.

Mr. Crane said that while it would be nice to have everything at the Collegiate it would be almost necessary to have a permanent secretary on the ground.

Mr. E. F. Mason said he had not heard of the notice of motion not had he spoken of it to other mem bers, but he felt that it was an impossible to expect the secretary to furnish a board room, furniture, heat, light, etc., gratis. The board have rooms of their own that can be used and he could see that there was no reason why the school should not be used. He further stated that the public should be taken into the confidence of the board. The people are no doubt satisfied with the board's work. He seconded the motion.

Mr. Dumble said he would not be influenced by sympathy for the secretary of the Central Canada Loan Co., nor the public. He said the meetings were all open and were fully reported in the papers. There was no reason to change the place. There was no vault in the school and it would be very difficult to have the vault in one place and the secretary's office in another. He did not think the public wished to attend.

Mr. Nelson asked if the people had a right to come to the meetings.

He was assured that the public would be welcomed, at any of the meetings.

Mr. Hill said the board found the present place of meeting very inconvenient and it would be a serious thing to make any change. At any rate the board could now take their papers and records to, the school safe and vault was installed. He did not think this was an opportune time to make a change.

Mr. Crane moved in amendment that the board do not change its place of meeting, but that the public be invited through the press to attend.—Mr. Hill seconded the amendment.

Upon request Mr. Nelson withdrew his motion.

Winnipeg Dog Team Ran 412 Miles in 82 Hours

(Special to The Times.)

Seattle, Wash., April 6.—A special cable from Nome states that the Nome-Candle Creek dog race, promoted by the Nome Kennel Club, and on which hundreds of thousands dollars were wagered, was won by Berger's teams, numbers one and two driven by Scotty Allen and Berg Blatchford respectively. They finished first and second as named.

Berger wins the purse of $11,000 gold, and will hold for a year the handsome Suter Trophy, hung up for the All-Alaska Sweepstakes.

The distance was 412 miles, and the winner's time was 82 hours and 2 minutes.

The second team was 17 minutes behind the first.

Fink's Siberian dogs, upon which success $100,000 was wagered, became snow-blind and finished third.

There were fourteen teams in the race, which began last Thursday.

The course was lined with enthusiastic citizens, most of whom closed their places of business during the contest.

The start was made in a blizzard and the temperature ranged from 10 to 20 degrees below zero.

The winners broke last year's record by about 24 hours.

ARE YOU DEAF?

Hundred of perfect recoveries from are reported as a result of the use of Catarrhozone.

The result of actual experience proves that ninety cases in every hundred can be cured, and stay cured, of impaired hearing by the regular use of Catarrhozone.

Among the many prominent business men whose hearing has been restored by Catarrhozone, might be mentioned Mr. Geo. W. Warner of 288 Wellesley street, Toronto, and Mr. William Jones, contractor, of Halifax, N.S. Both these gentlemen have testified to the merits of Catarrhozone as a valuable cure for deafness, and their statements prove beyond all question that Catarrhozone cures impaired hearing and even total deafness.

The efficiency of Catarrhozone is placed beyond dispute by its long list of successful cures, and on the highest authority we can recommend it to our readers. It is a very simple remedy to use, and never causes confusion or gets out of order.

Catarrhozone Inhaler is beautifully polished and made of hard rubber. It is suitable to carry in the vest pocket, and can be used in any church, theater, street car, at any time, in any place. The complete outfit costs but $1.00 and lasts two months. Trial size 25c. Sold by druggists or sent to any address on receipt of price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

A PERMANENT TARIFF BUREAU

The pulling and hauling that has marked the course of the Payne bill ever since it was launched by the ways and means committee and the greater tribulations that are plainly indicated to be the lot of congress before the Dingley law is superseded make fine pickings for the advocates of a tariff commission. As we are to have a protective tariff, a commission-made list of schedules undoubtedly would come nearest to establishing it on thoroughly scientific principles which would have due regard for the interests of the consumers.

While the time has not arrived when congress may be expected to turn over the tariff-making prerogative to a nonpartisan body, there is no sound reason why the idea of President Taft with respect to a tariff bureau should not be carried out during the present special session. As the president told a committee representing the recent national tariff convention at Indianapolis, such a bureau would be of great assistance in applying the new tariff law, it being assumed that, whatever other changes may be made, the maximum and minimum principle will prevail, demanding much expert knowledge, investigation and detail of administration to give it proper effect.

A permanent tariff bureau, moreover, may prove its value the next time revision is undertaken, through information acquired by constant investigation of foreign conditions and by reason of changing economic and industrial conditions in this country. It, first of all, would be able to show reasons for changes in specific schedules at times when general revision is not necessary, and go far in the direction of relieving the whole tariff question of some of the complications that now beset it. The country would welcome a modicum of relief along this line, while congress itself might appreciate the reduced wear and tear.

ESCAPES AS ATHLETE.

Glasgow Prisoner Eludes Police in Marathon Costume.

At an early hour in the morning, when the milk carts were making their rounds in Glasgow recently, a neatly dressed figure was seen speeding along Duke street.

Apparently an athlete, little attention was paid to him by the drivers of the milk carts, tramway car men or even policemen, who took the man to be a local Marathon athlete out for a morning spin.

One little boy, sharper than his elders, rang the bell of Duke street prison and informed the authorities that "yin of yer prisoners has escaped and is rinnin' along the Cumbernauld." "Aws' hame tae yer bed," was all his thanks for disturbing the officials at such an hour in the morning.

By the time the boy's story was found to be true the prisoner, Edward Toye, had got safely away, and no trace of him has been found.

It appears that the warder, in making his rounds of the prison, entered the corridor in which the man's cell was situated. He is positive that he locked the gate behind him. Reaching Toye's cell, he had just opened its door when his attention was directed to another matter at the furthest end of the corridor. In a moment Toye, who is only five feet in height and as wiry as a squirrel, threw off his prison garb, and in his underclothing made for the locked gateway, through the bars of which he successfully wriggled himself.

A drop of twenty feet landed him in the courtyard, where he lay across the axle of a goods-laden lorry, the driver of which, in all ignorance, drove him to freedom right under the eyes of the prison staff.

Toye was under sentence of three years' penal servitude, and was that day to have been removed to Peterhead convict prison. He is 30 years of age, and since he was a boy of incorrigible thief.

One of the Immortal Arnolds.

Mr. Forster came of a family that simply could not help themselves in becoming famous. Son of William Delafield Arnold, director of Public Instruction in the Punjab, and nephew of such master minds as Dr. Arnold of Rugby, certainly the greatest and still most hero-worshipped of the great cult of English public school masters, and Matthew Arnold, whose classic poetry will ever live in the minds of those Englishmen who can never forget the sad and tragic description of a so-called unbeliever's tomb of Christ:

"But He is dead;
Far off He lies
In a far Syrian town;
And in His grave
With trembling grass
The Syrian stars look down."

Likewise nephew of Sir Edwin Arnold, whose "Light of Asia" is still the only safe handbook for those lovers of Indian lore who look upon Buddha as the light of the coming Indian race, a probability which God forbid, and Lord Morley of Blackburn destroy.

Sir Gerard Lowther's Response.

Sir Gerard Lowther, British Ambassador at Constantinople, who had disquieting experience while witnessing a performance of "The Merry Widow" a few days ago in the Turkish capital, knows how to deal with the person who is everlastingly trying to extract secret information for his or her own use. At a dinner party held during a Far Eastern crisis, when all the world seemed expecting Sir Gerard to act with a strong hand, a society dame, anxious to learn what the British move would be, called across the table to him: "What are you waiting for, Sir Gerard?" "A lamb cutlet, madam," was the response, given in Sir Gerard's politest tones.

A Curious Ceremony.

Among the Madhava Brahmin families in the Bellary districts a peculiar wedding observance prevails. A wedding takes the better part of a fortnight. A day is selected toward the end of the festivities when a hideous effigy of the bridegroom's father, fantastically robed in rags, is carried through the streets in procession. The effigy's head is shaded by a sort of sieve adorned with tassels, such as cocoas and margosa leaves. Every few yards the procession halts and the feet of the effigy are reverentially washed and the forehead is decorated anew with a caste mark by the bridegroom's mother. On such occasions the bridegroom's other feminine relatives are paid much mock attention by the women of the bride's party.

The Goats of Asia Minor.

The goat more than any other factor has assisted the rural inhabitants of Asia Minor to destroy the magnificent forests which once extended from Smyrna through to Konia, the ancient capital of Karamania. Not only have the peasants and nomads destroyed the timber for the sake of firewood, but they destroyed it also in order that their goats might obtain suitable pasture. And the goats in their turn prevented the new shoots ever after from replacing the trees which had been cut down.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. That is why his prescription — Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths to leading druggists everywhere to indorse and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and real Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

Weak Women

To weak and run-down women, there is at least one way to help. But, while that way, two propositions must be considered. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.
Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical nervous membrane supporting remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, making the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, strips removed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

Why Do People Deposit Their Money in Banks for only 3 Per Cent. Interest?

BECAUSE, THEY THINK IT IS QUITE SAFE.

Why Do Some Invest in Bonds to get a Little Higher Interest?

Because, the bonds represent a mortgage on the property on which their money is invested which gives a feeling of safety..

Why Do People Invest in Wildcat Gold and Silver Mining Schemes? Because they think the chances of profit are big and they are willing to take the risk.

WHY NOT INVEST IN A SAFE STOCK IN A GOING COAL MINE

making money now and which presents such possibilities for development that it is expected that the profits will run from 25 per cent. to 50 per. cent. higher.

The Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited, Stock at $10 per Share is a safe Stock.

It is all common stock. There are no bonds or no mortgages or no preferred stock, on which interest must be paid before the common stockholder gets anything.

When you buy common stock of the Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited at $10 per share you become an actual owner of the mines and have an equal chance of the profits according to the number of shares held. A coal mine with a big deposit of coal ready for the miner's pick is as safe as a bank. To own and control shares of common stock in such a coal mine must be safer and better than holding bonds in a proposition in which you have no control and which may or may not be properly managed. The officers and management of the Winter Port Coal Mines of New Brunswick have the experience in mining and selling coal in both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

J. S. Gibbon, the President of the company, opened and developed the Winter Port Mines to the present stage.

W. E. Vroom, the Vice-President of the Company, was for some years actively associated in the management of the Springhill Collieries in Nova Scotia and the Albert Mines in New Brunswick.

Manufacturers in St. John speak highly of the Winter Port coal.

Winter Port coal is a good locomotive coal and has been used on the Intercolonial and other railways.

The Winter Port Coal Mines being practically on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific now opening up through New Brunswick will provide a most convenient coaling facility for that great transcontinental railway. Immense quantities of coal will be needed by the great railways and by the manufacturers, steamship lines, etc., in connection with the development of Canada's Winter Port at St. John, N.B., which is only 55 miles in a direct line from these coal mines.

Secure some Winter Port stock now at $10 per share (there is no personal liability) and get your share of the profits of a safe conservative money-making proposition.

The First Peer of the Realm.

Dr. Davidson, Archbishop of Canterbury and first peer of the realm, who had such a large hand in killing the Education Bill, was confidential friend and adviser to Queen Victoria for twenty years. The very fact that he was honored with such a confidence, and kept it so long, is an open proof of his tact, shrewdness, and common sense. Indeed, it would be no compliment to say that he has never made a mistake. He has certainly a marvellous gift of "not putting his foot into it." Owing to the effects of gun accident in his youth, the archbishop has to be content with the very simplest of diets. He touches scarcely any meat, and frequently subsists for months on nothing but milk foods. Like the Bishop of Ripon, Dr. Davidson has never taken kindly to gaiters. He is a man of inexpensive tastes, and when the head of the diocese of Rochester was a constant patron of omnibuses and tramcars.

What the Subalterns Know.

Gen. Sir E. Locke Elliott, who is retiring from the command at Lucknow, has long enjoyed the reputation of being the most sarcastic soldier in the army, and it must be admitted he does his best to live up to it. A lady was talking to him a short time ago of his length of service in India, and opined that he must know a lot about it. "Not a bit, madam; not a bit. The longer you serve in India the less you know about it. I have subalterns who could put me right upon every subject under the sun," he replied, "and if you doubt my statement, just ask them. They will confirm every word of it."

Stiff Neck

Stiff neck is caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the neck. It is usually confined to one side, or to the back of the neck and one side. While it is often quite painful, quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of rheumatism in ten requires internal treatment. When there is no fever and no boweling as in muscular and chronic rheumatism, Chamberlain's Liniment will accomplish more than any internal treatment.

DOGS IN SILKS.

Fido's Season of 1909 to Have Extravagant Fashions.

The cult of the toy dog has been increasing every year in England, and no smart woman is seen without a diminutive ball of brown or black or gray fluff under her arm. It is said, however, that 1909 is going to rival all its predecessors in extravagant fashions for the scented canine pets.

A toy dog will soon be a more expensive luxury to keep than a motor-car. One well-known society woman has a maid for a couple of miniature Pomeranians, and the little animals' outfits cost as much as many women spend on their own wardrobes.

"The modern dog, who only weighs as much as a fair-sized doll, is one of the most important members of the household," the manager of a West End firm said recently. "It is as necessary for us to cater for him as for his owner or her children.

"The old kitchen plate for the miniature 'toy' is out of the question nowadays. Every pet has a little plate stamped with his name and a drinking bowl. These are made in anything from fine china to pewter or even real silver.

"The high-bred toy dog suffers intensely in the cold weather, and for this reason sweaters and miniature cardigan jackets are being made. The sweaters are crocheted or knitted, and cost about $3.50. The cardigan jacket is made of brilliant scarlet flannel fastened with gilt buttons.

"Another novelty is a raincoat made of silk waterproof, lined with a contrasting color. It is very useful in these days, when a woman always takes her dog out motoring. They are made with a hood over the head.

"Dogs' boots have been seen before, but this year they are being knitted or crocheted in thick wool to put on at night when Fido is tucked up in his basket.

"Miniature dog blankets are made of gray tweed, bound with an right-colored braid, with the spoilt creature's monogram embroidered in one corner."

A most ingenious traveling bag for toy dogs will be seen this season. It is made of canvas lined with cloth. The bag contains a comb and brush, a toothbrush and nail clip, and a handbrush to draw on like a glove, made of fibre tendrils, with which the dog is scrubbed in his bath every morning.

The rest of the outfit comprises a cake of scented soap, some cold cream, a soft bath towel, and a bottle of perfume.

The toy dog's playthings are made of india-rubber, and consist of balls, solid dolls, mice, or tiny replicas of himself.

The latest bed for Fido is not a basket. This resting place he selects in the daytime, but at night he is provided with a miniature armchair. It is fitted with a down pillow, and there is a white fur rug to put over him.

Solid gold or silver bracelet collars are fashionable for the tiniest dogs. These are engraved with the name and address of the owner, and are often set with gems.

Land Clubs Increase.

A land movement of silent but extraordinary development was revealed recently when a convention of land clubs was held at Westminster Hall, London. Many districts have started these clubs for the reconstruction of English country life. At this meeting they were federated into a union. The movement is an effort to restore great tracts of unused land to the people and arises from the difficulty throughout England of buying land. The small holdings act having proved worthless, agricultural laborers formed these clubs. Many members of the Government are interested in the scheme and strong representation will be made in Parliament that the Government should buy land and set up model colonies of small holders, appointing a commissioner for every county land club. Norfolk is well organised, having 5,000 members in its club with a balance of $5,000 in the bank. Recently three notices were given in this county of three compulsory sales.

2,000 Consecutive Daily Baths.

An astonishing record has lately been created by Mr. Thomas Moorby, a well-known resident of Hull, England. Mr. Moorby makes it a practice to take a morning bath in the open air daily throughout the year, whatever the climatic conditions, and recently completed a record of 2,000 consecutive daily baths. A two miles run or ride before breakfast, thinly clad, and during the last two years without hat or cap, on an empty stomach, is (he says) surely evidence enough, especially when the very severe weather encountered lately is taken into consideration, of the beneficial results following such a course of exercise. A teetotaller and a non-smoker, nearing the age of sixty-five, Mr. Moorby says that so far as physical fitness is concerned he is equal to a man of thirty-five, and, indeed, feels younger than he did twenty-five years ago.

The Late Secretary For War.

Death as usual has been very persistent in its calls lately upon the cultured and leading classes of the old land, and all ranks of society have felt the sting of the fatal arrow, but perhaps nowhere has it so heavily fallen than in the ranks of the late Balfour administration by the removal of the Right Hon. Hugh Oakeley Arnold-Forster, M.P., the late Secretary for War, who only a brief week ago followed with an impassioned speech the Right Hon. R. B. Haldane's presentation of the war estimates; now he is gone, never again to help the party of Balfour, Chamberlain and Lyttelton, whenever they may resume office.

Seven Brothers Named William.

William Harris Number One, a son of the "Sausage King," explained in the Kingston (Eng.) County Court recently that this was actually his real name. He said all his six brothers were also named William Harris, and that they were named "William Harris Number Two," "William Harris Number Three," etc., in order to distinguish them.

HINDU REBEL METHODS

HOW SEDITION SPREADS AMONG THE NATIVES.

Story in Pall Mall Magazine Tells How Soldier Was Accused of Poisoning the Wells of the Village and Innocent Tommy Atkins Was Brutally Ill-treated—Arrival of Patrol Saved Him From Death.

The methods which, it is claimed in some quarters, are adopted by those inclined on poisoning the minds of the millions of India against British rule are strikingly illustrated in a short story which appears in the current issue of The Pall Mall Magazine.

The situation which gives the writer the story is as follows: Private Jas. Smith has fallen out of the ranks in the course of some cavalry manoeuvres, and in trudging along with his horse home in the hope of finding the camp. As a matter of fact, he is lost, and some time after dark has fallen he reaches a native village.

On the same day a fakir, "filthy to an unspeakable degree," had arrived in the village, and at the moment that Private Jas. Smith reached it was haranguing the natives on the wrongs of India.

His hearers, standing and sitting around him in picturesque groups, dwelt upon his words, and swallowed his statements eagerly. They saw themselves robbed of their little stock of hard-earned money; they saw themselves preyed upon by a Government of foreigners, and despaired to make fat an unknown Lord-Sahib and a King who dwelt across the seas.

Truth and lies rolled together and in turn from his glib and polished tongue.

He demonstrated beyond refutation how famine had been introduced into the country with the sole view of stamping out the population. He showed how, not content with the progress of the scourge with which it was seeking to kill off the people, the Government had invented a certain thing called inoculation with the sole view of slaying the people by more direct means.

But, he went on, that was not all, worse things were being done. When the Government saw that people were not deceived by their wicked trick of inoculation they began to do something yet more devilish. They sent out emissaries to—here, with an orator's instinct for effect, he paused—to poison the village wells!

It was at this moment that Private Jas. Smith stumbled into the village, and the fakir took instant advantage of the dramatic possibilities of the situation.

"Hush! Watch him, and see if he goes not to the well!" he whispered. Naturally that is exactly what Smith did. The bucket was lowered three times before his thirst and that of his horse had been satisfied.

"There!" said the fakir impressively to those nearest him. "There! Did I not tell you that Government sent forth men to tamper with the wells!"

The result was that Private Jas. Smith was attacked and tied up, and then the fakir led his audience to the well to prove that it had been poisoned.

Truly, this pseudo-fakir was a useful man to those who employed him. He was not one of the posturing devotees who acquire merit and earn sanctity by measuring their length along the road all the way from Calcutta to Benares, or by some similarly foolish and impressive act. He was of another breed—a new breed that has sprung into existence, or perhaps has only renewed its existence, of recent years; a breed the members of which are sent out from various centres to poison the minds of the country folk, to tell them the "real truth" about the Feringhi and the aims of his rule.

The bucket was again lowered. It was easy for the fakir to drop several little bread pills into it, and then it was raised.

Floating on the surface were half a dozen little objects that bobbed innocently in the ripples, and showed white in the light of the lantern. A roar broke from the crowd; the water was poisoned!—had been poisoned before their eyes by a soldier! There was the poison in the bucket, evidence irrefragrable of the truth of statements they had been ready to believe proofless.

Private Jas. Smith was dragged out and brutally ill-treated by the villagers and the fakir. The villagers wanted to make him drink of the "poisoned" water, but the fakir was against this. Throw him down the well, was his advice. "The well is useless to you henceforth, for it is already foul with poison. Therefore drop him in it."

Now the fakir was only too eager that the village should be embroiled with the authorities; he knew that the villagers would be much too simple and too avaricious to sacrifice Private Smith's horse, for it would be of use to them. Consequently, when search was made for Private Smith, his horse would be found in or near the village. That, in its turn, would almost certainly lead eventually to the dragging of the well and the fishing-up of a soldier's body. Then there would be the devil to pay, with the ultimate result that the village would really become angry and disaffected with Government. That would be so many more gained.

But Private Smith was not thrown down the well. He was rescued by a night patrol which happened on the village just in the nick of time.

The upshot was, firstly, that Private Smith was stiff and sore for several days; secondly, that the village had quartered upon it a force of punitive police, to show them that soldiers must not be bound or drowned in that off-hand way; thirdly, that the fakir, who turned out to be a defaulting babu from a commercial office in Calcutta, was sent to the Andamans for ten years.

Nova Scotia Apples.

Of late years the export of apples from Nova Scotia has averaged 500,000 to 600,000 barrels annually, the bulk of which goes to Great Britain.

Good Prospects

The bricklayers are beginning operations and are optimistic over the prospects for the season. Last year the knights of the trowel were late in getting started with the result that they had a lot of work on their hands, which kept them busy up to late in the fall, and much bricklaying was done during the winter. But this year the bricklayers have got away to a good start as a walk around the city will convince anyone who is sufficiently interested. With numerous houses and stores going up and extensive improvements to several of the churches, the bricklayers may be justified in looking forward to a busy year.

Prevention—these Candy Cold Cure Tablets—will quickly and quickly check all colds and the Grip. Try them once and see. 25c. Sold by all dealers.

Made Good His Escape with the Handcuffs on

Havelock, April 7.—Fred Varty, a young man living about a mile from this village, was arrested last night on the charge of creating a disturbance and was handcuffed, but subsequently made good his escape, taking the "bracelets" with him. In spite of a diligent search he has up to the present eluded his pursuers. Constables Cochrane and Moore of Peterborough, and Brill of Havelock, are searching this afternoon, the former two having arrived on the noon train today.

Fred and Frank Varty came into the village last night, imbibed generously of the fiery liquid, and under its influence started to paint the town a bright vermilion. From all accounts they soonatirred up trouble, and, after several mixups, the police were summoned.

GOT CLEAR AWAY.

Fred was arrested by Constable Brill and was handcuffed, when Frank interfered, and drew the attention of the law towards himself. Quite a crowd had gathered and over one hundred men were looking on. The constable left Fred in charge of a number of the citizens and went to arrest Frank. Fred took French leave of the crowd, disappearing suddenly and with the steel bands tightly clasping his wrists. Bothamen are at liberty with the constables scouring around, determined to run them to earth.

Simpson Says He Will Come Home in Front or Hike Back to the Farm

Toronto, April 7.—Four miles in 20.40, is pretty good going.

That is what Fred Simpson and Red Hawk, the Indians, did yesterday at Varsity track, according to the watch of James Bell, manager of John D. Marsh, the runner, Simpson, who was out training for the Appleby race, was joined by Red Hawk, and a ding-dong race resulted. They galloped the first mile in 4.50, and put in another mile in 4.51 before they got through with the fracas.

Hawk came home in front in a drive. Simpson letting go in the stretch for fear he would hurt himself for Friday's big race with Fred Appleby at Rosedale. Appleby will do five miles today at a smart pace.

Simpson says he has to come home in front this time or hike back to the farm. Tom Eck has him in fine fettle, and the indications are that a bumper crowd will turn out to see this 20-mile Marathon duel between Alf. Shrubb's conqueror and the Indian Marathoner, and the opening ball game. The reserve seats are going like hot cakes.

Appleby thinks the Indian has the best of it, because he is at home, and at his own favorite distance, but says that he will make him step inside 1.56 to win.

Now 1.56 is flying. It is better than St. Yves' time to the 20-mile mark in the Marathon Derby by two minutes.

A DUEL ALL THE WAY.

The race should be a duel from the start. Appleby is a slow beginner, and so is Simpson. They should go to the 10-mile mark in .56, and the battle should be fought out from there to the fifteenth-mile mark. If Appleby is as good as he once was he will lead Simpson a quarter-mile or more at 15 miles. Then it is a question of Simpson's stamina. Simpson is away the stronger runner. Appleby is a little fellow like Alfie Shrubb, and those who fancy him should remember that both in the English Marathon trial and the Olympic race himself he quit at 20 miles. In the trial he was leading Duncan, Lord and Beal in 1.56 when he petered out. In the Olympic race he was 30 seconds behind Longboat when Longboat dropped, and he quit 3-4 of a mile further on. Appleby hasn't any reputation as a stayer, and that is just where those who are behind Simpson hope to get him.

It will be bone and sinew and stamina against 15-mile speed, style, and courage wrapped in a fragile form.

Look out for the Indian!

Fire Department Had Busy Time Yesterday

The very high winds of yesterday gave the fire department an excellent opportunity for a workout. They received no less than eight calls, to extinguish chimney fires. Fire alarms were received from street boxes, one by telephone, and two were verbal. From the following places:—457 Bolivar street, 173 Park street, 532 Sherbrooke street, 203 Rink street, 177 Dublin street, 83 London street, 182 Lock street and 496 Water street.

The calls to Sherbrooke street and Rink street, came in at the same time, and it was necessary to divide forces. The hose company attending one and the truck company attending the other. The same thing occurred in the forenoon while the department was responding to the call at 83 London street, from box 42 a second alarm was sent in from the same box for a chimney fire at 177 Dublin street.

The tenth fire alarm for the day was received at 11 o'clock last night from box 42 at the corner of Dublin and George streets. The Mann Planing mill was burning, saw dust, etc., in the furnace and the high wind caused sparks to fly in all directions. The neighbors became frightened and called out the brigade. No damage was done.

Annual Easter W.F.M.S. Meeting

The annual Easter meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of St. Andrew's church will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, April 20th. An address will be delivered by Rev. A. E. Two Big Events in St. Andrew's

St. Andrew's church will hold a layman's missionary movement dinner in the Guild Hall on Wednesday, April 21st at 6.30 o'clock. This was decided upon at a joint meeting of the session and board of managers held last night. It was also decided to hold a big congregational rally on May 3rd. Sunday, May 2nd, is the anniversary of the church and Principal Gandier of Knox College, Toronto, will preach. He will also assist at the social function on Monday night.

Coughs that are tight, or distressing tickling coughs, get quick and certain help from Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. On this account Druggists everywhere are favoring Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. The tender leaves of a harmless lung-healing mountain shrub are used to make Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its curative properties. These leaves have the power to calm the most distressing Cough, and to soothe, and heal the most sensitive bronchial membrane. Test it once yourself, and see! Sold by all Dealers.

Cyclone Sweeping Over Ontario, Great Destruction in Its Wake

Buildings Blown Down, Roofs Raised, Women Carried Off Their Feet, Farmer Lifted from His Rig—Wind Blew at Rate of 70 to 80 Miles an Hour

Hamilton, April 7.—The velocity of the wind has greatly increased during the last hour and reports of damage are coming in from all sections of the surrounding country. The ambulance has just been called to the corner of Wilson and Fairview avenue where it is reported that a house has been blown down. Trees all over the city are being uprooted and poles blown over. On King and James streets bricks blown off chimneys and cornices are crashing in through windows and endangering the lives of pedestrians. The street railway service was tied up again this afternoon.

SEVERAL BLOCKS UNROOFED

St. Catharines, April 7.—This afternoon the fiercest wind storm that ever happened around these parts, hit the Niagara Peninsula. Many barns have been blown over in the country. In the city several business blocks have been unroofed and the flying slate and bricks from falling chimneys, made it dangerous to be out.

At 2.30 the tower of the Central fire hall went over with a crash, badly wrecking a blacksmith ship next door.

At Port Dalhousie part of the roof was blown off the Maple Leaf Rubber factory, and a big water tank was blown down.

Ridley College gymnasium was also unroofed. The streets here are strewn with wreckage and fallen trees.

Hamilton, April 7.—A gale of wind that at times, attained a velocity of 70 miles an hour did a great deal of damage and played all sorts of strange pranks in Hamilton and vicinity.

Signs all over the city were ripped down, plate-glass windows along King and James street smashed, chimneys lifted off houses, and a great deal of damage done along the bay front, where the waves ran mountain high.

The telephone and telegraph companies were hard hit, and the service badly crippled. The wind disarranging the wires in every direction.

WIRES BLOWN DOWN.

The first intimation of agale came from Chicago and the western points, where the service was practically demoralized. For a time Hamilton was entirely cut off from outside communication, although the telegraph companies got some of their lines opened up this afternoon.

The street car service and machinery in manufacturing places was tied up for considerable time.

Several people were injured by boards blown off high buildings.

Mrs. William Acres, an aged woman, was lifted off her feet on King street and hurled against a wagon. Her head was badly cut and her body bruised.

On Main street the wind swooped a large board off a wagon and carried it across the street, where it struck and almost killed a pedestrian, who was removed to the hospital.

BLOWN OFF BUILDING.

Another man was blown off a building, but escaped serious injury. Women were knocked off their feet on James street, and the wind carried bats over telegraph poles and fences.

Telephone reports from the surrounding country say that the storm is doing a great deal of damage. A farmer driving over the high level bridge, a hundred feet above the canal, was blown off his rig, and the raising saved him from going over.

Along Burking Beach the wind and water did much damage.

BREAKING UP THE ICE.

Port Arthur, April 7.—A high wind is breaking up the ice on Thunder Bay, and with the ice breaker Whalen moving it out, open water is promised in a day or two.

TORNADO IN INDIANA.

Wabash, Ind., April 7.—The only tornado Wabash has known in 25 years injured a score of persons last night, and did damage amounting to thousands of dollars. A dozen houses were demolished.

FACTORIES WRECKED.

Peru, Ind., April 7.—A tornado last night destroyed four factories and several school buildings, and wrecked many small structures.

HOTEL ROOF LIFTED.

Chatham, Ont., April 7.—A terrific windstorm struck here at dawn blowing from the north-west, and kept up with unremitting fury till noon. Whitecaps were blown up the river as far as Aberdeen bridge, and at the bend in the river, about a mile below Chatham, a continuous spray was blown over the river road, drenching farmers coming to the city.

Empty buggies were overturned in the street, and several persons narrowly escaped injury by flying debris. Part of the roof was blown off the Hotel Garner, and the damage done to unbeautiful billboards around town would do credit to a civic scenery association.

A SCHOOL DAMAGED.

Guelph, Ont., April 7.—At about a quarter past ten this morning all the brick and stone work in the front gable of the new St. Patrick's ward school fell with a deafening crash to the sidewalk below. The school children and teachers were frightened, and it was only owing to the presence of mind of the latter that a panic was avoided.

PART OF ELEVATOR LEVELLED.

Port Hope, April 7.—Telephone and telegraph wires down on both sides of the town. Part of Grand Trunk elevator blown down.

WILD TIME ON WATERFRONT.

Whitby, April 7.—The gale which sprung up this morning is the heaviest blow experienced here for a long time. Trees and telephone and telegraph poles and lines have suffered, and there is a wild time along the waterfront.

The Firemen in New Roll Yesterday

A funny thing happened yesterday while the fire department was working at one of the chimney fires. The lady of the house (with a prunes and prisms expression on her face) said to the chief;—"Now, while the men are all here I want every one of those pipes taken down, thoroughly cleaned and put back again." The orders did not effect the chief very much so her ladyship repeated her demands. "Have the men take down all the pipes and clean them and put them up again." At this time the head of the brigade tumbled to the fact that he was up against a suffragette so he hustled the men out of the house, climbed on the wagon and hiked for the fire hall without further notice.

Will Attend the Convention in Germany

Mr. Louis Mendel, of the Mendel Studio, will attend the International Convention of Photographers to be held in Dresden, Germany, commencing May 1st, and continuing for a month. Mr. Mendel will sail from New York on April 24th. He expects to be absent from the city six weeks. He will visit all the leading art studios in Paris, France, and London, England. He will return to Peterborough with all the latest and newest ideas in photography.

It is also Mr. Mendel's intention to spend a few days at his old home in Tilsit, in the eastern part of Germany. His many friends will wish him a pleasant voyage and a safe return.

Lumber was Blown High in the Air

The heavy wind yesterday played havoc with the big lumber piles on Burnham's Point. The top layers on the piles were lifted in the air and scattered over the yard in all directions. Some of the boards went 60 feet in the air while many others were broken.

The wind also caused considerable damage to the electric wires in the city and linemen will be busy today. Chief Howard with his men were out yesterday afternoon looking after the fire alarm system, which like all other wires is usually disarranged by the wind.

Reynolds Was too Ill to Attend Court

The case of Chief Howard, charged with assaulting Frank Reynolds at the fire station on Saturday night last, came up before Magistrate Dumble, at the police court yesterday morning, but was enlarged for another week.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams appeared for Reynolds, and asked for an adjournment. He stated that Dr. McClelland had told him that Reynolds was too ill to attend court. Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for Chief Howard, and Mr. E. B. D. Hall was present in the city's interests.

His worship thought that no one would be inconvenienced by a week's adjournment, and granted it at the request of complainant's counsel.

Prof. Graham Gives Interesting Talk on Poultry and Poultry Breeding

It is seldom that a lecturer imparts as much information that was simple and capable of being understood by all and which was of general interest, as did Prof. Graham of Guelph, before the Peterborough Poultry Association last night. The address was looked forward to with pleasure by all the poultry fanciers in the city, and the council chamber was filled. Prof. Graham is thoroughly conversant with poultry raising and he knows how to talk to poultry breeders.

After the lecture a large number of questions were asked and answered and much benefit will result from the lecture.

At the close the members of the association adjourned to Jacobi's restaurant, where they enjoyed a supper and a social hour.

Mr. Jas. Baptie, president of the association occupied the chair and opened the meeting by introducing the lecturer, Prof. Graham, of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph.

Prof. Graham stated that his object was to talk on how to raise chickens and how not to raise them. The majority of the slides to be shown would be mostly connected with raising poultry for domestic purposes rather than of the fancy class. In opening Prof. Graham stated that there was no other branch of agricultural in which so many classes of people were interested as poultry. Everyone keeps them. The poultry industry is naturally on the increase. There were last year 25 per cent. more chickens in Ontario than the past year, and this meant an increase of several million birds. The exports of poultry are on the decrease. The price of eggs and poultry are on the increase while the number of birds are increasing so there is no danger of the market being overdone. In speaking of the profit in poultry the speaker said that a pound of poultry can be made for the same number of pounds of grain as can a pound of pork, while poultry pells for a great deal more.

Prof. Graham then had the slides put on. The first one was of a trio of Plymouth rocks. He pointed out the good qualities of a good bird. The next was a house in which it was shown that houses are not necessarily warm. The best results are obtained from low-down houses, and with them open to the weather.

He recommended that chickens be raised on different lots each year. They do better and are raised for much less cost. One of the best places to grow chickens is in the corn field. He displayed several views of chickens running in the field.

He demonstrated to what extent a canvas front house is used. At the Agricultural College they are cranks on fresh air and find it is a great success so far as the health of the birds and egg production is concerned. The reason for this is that a bird is a fresh air creature, and will not stand confinement or foul air. It must have fresh air, and the house must be dry.

Prof. Graham demonstrated the superiority of hen incubation over machine incubation. An incubator cannot hatch a normal bird. He often disagrees with scientists in this matter but he retains his idea. All the best birds are hatched with hens although he admitted that the incubator is a necessary evil. Passing on the speaker stated that he would rather use brooders for raising chickens.

The illustrations included many views of American poultry farms where thousands of birds are raised annually.

A vote of thanks was moved by Mr. R. B. Leary and seconded by Mr. J. A. Storey, and tendered to Prof. Graham for his very able and interesting address.

Two Presbyterian Congregations Hear Reports on Congress

There was a fair sized gathering at Knox church last night to hear the reports of the delegates to the Laymen's Missionary Conference. The very storm might interfered to a great extent with the attendance, and one of the speakers was ill and unable to be present. Nevertheless the meeting was very interesting and the speakers were listened to with close attention.

The first speaker was Mr. R. F. McWilliams who gave an outline of the meetings of the congress, and emphasized the point that with the united efforts of all the members of the Protestant churches the evangelization of the world in this generation would be possible. This was the first generation that it was possible and this generation of christians could only evangelize this generation of heathen. In regard to the home mission work the great importance of this country as a link between the two greatest christian countries in the world was emphasized. This country could take the lead in uniting for good all the Anglo-Saxon races in their work of aiding the backward nations.

Rev. Mr. Keith summarized the convention as a great congress of great men on a great issue in the work of a great Leader. He related the surprise of a large number of clergymen who found that when the convention opened there were no seats to be had because the full number of 2500 laymen had claimed their seats. He declared that from personal observations there was no comparison between the teachings of Christ and those of the heathen teachers and it behooved every christian to do his utmost to carry the gospel to all the world.

There was a very large number at the prayer meeting in St. Andrew's church last night. The meeting was of a missionary nature and was a preliminary to the carrying out of the projects presented at the congress recently held in Toronto, and also to deepen the interest in the Woman's Home Missionary work. Mrs. Potter presented an interesting report of the annual meeting of the W.H.M.S., held in Toronto last Wednesday and Thursday, and referred particularly to the address of Rev. Geo. Arthur of Vegreville, Sask., which showed the very important work being done among the foreigners of the Northwest by the Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Potter also referred to the very inspiring address by Sir Andrew Fraser, regarding the Zenana work in India, and she spoke of the most instructive and encouraging words of Robt. E. Speer. Dr. Andrew Grant, for some years a missionary in Dawson City, had brought home to the consciences of the women assembled the needy character of the work in the north land.

Mr. Richard Lees spoke of the Laymen's Conference, referring to it as the most unique assembly in the history of christendom. He spoke of the many prominent men who addressed the congress as representatives of all the denominations, which showed the heartiness and unanimity in which the churches were taking hold of the great work. The address throughout was a very excellent portraiture of the spirit of the congress.

Farmers in Manitoba Are Very Busy Preparing the Land

Calgary, Alta., April 7.—Favorable reports are coming in from the south part of the Province regarding winter wheat. That on breaking is specially good. Some of the grain on fallow land will have to be resown. The acreage will be much larger than last year. From the north the reports are also of very favorable conditions. Ranchers are well advanced with their work. There has been more moisture than usual, both north and south.

The large cattle raisers say that there has never been a more satisfactory spring in their industry. Cattle have wintered exceptionally well and there is splendid pasturage on the ranges.

There is an active demand for farm labor. The immigration agents are constantly placing farm help. Immigration is active, and this year is principally of the land-seekers with moderate means from Great Britain and the States. The flow of the unmonied immigrants has been stopped. In the cities and towns the building trades are very busy. Calgary has a far bigger building season ahead of it than last year.

SEEDING AT YORKTON.

Yorkton, Sask., April 7.—Seeding commenced here on Saturday, when James Beatty, of Wallace District, sowed ten acres of wheat. Practically all the farmers in the district will be at work on their land this week.

FROST STILL IN THE LAND.

Midale, Sask., April 7.—Farmers expect to start seeding this week. The snow has almost all disappeared. It still freezes at night and the frost is not going out as fast as might be expected. The land, however, is in fine condition.

SNOW IS DISAPPEARING.

Strathclair, Man., April 7. — The snow is rapidly disappearing, and if the fine weather continues seeding will begin in a week or ten days in this locality.

BUSY GETTING READY.

Portage la Prairie, Man., April 7. —The farmers in this district are busily preparing to start seeding.

NEARLY READY AT OAKLAND.

Oakland, Man., April 7.— Seeding will begin in this district in a few days, according to present indications.

ON THE LAND AT SWIFT CURRENT

Swift Current, Sask., April 7.—Seeding in general in this district today, although several farmers have been on the land for the past week. There are fifteen hundred acres of winter wheat in this district and it looks very promising. There will be a large acreage of grain the coming season. Many settlers are arriving, mostly Americans, and many will break and sow flax and oats this spring. A big percentage have enough money to pass the year without a crop providing they can grow enough feed.

COMMENCED AT SASKATOON.

Saskatoon, Sask., April 7. —The first seeding in this district commenced yesterday, when John Urquhart, four miles south of the city, began active operations.

OBITUARY

THOMAS M. PATERSON.

Thomas Maxwell Paterson died very suddenly last night at the Nicholls Hospital. He was only removed to the hospital in the afternoon suffering from stomach trouble and nerves. He sank very rapidly until the end came in spite of the doctors' efforts. The deceased was 58 years of age and was well known in the city having lived here many years and for some time conducted a stock broker's office on Simcoe St. He was unmarried and lived with his sister, Mrs. A. W. Paterson, 358 Stewart street.

The funeral will take place at 2 p.m. from the residence of Mr. A. W. Paterson, 358 Stewart street.

Building Committee Report

The report of the Building Committee on the new Murray street Baptist church was received by the members of the congregation last night. On account of the weather the attendance was very small, and as several of the leaders in the movement were out of the city, there was no discussion and the meeting adjourned for two weeks.

Roof of London School Fell, Injuring Children

London, April 7.—A windstorm did terrific damage about town this morning, and a number of people had narrow escapes from injury. The walls of the Globe Casket Co., which was burned out some time ago, came down with a crash at eleven o'clock, but falling inward no one was injured.

The 60-foot chimney of the Free Press Printing Company fell crashing through the cement roof and into the engine room. The engineer stepped through a door to safety as the bricks fell near him. The chimney of the Hobbs Glass Co. fell about noon and set fire to the place. The roof was torn off the Green-Swift building, and also from the Purdon Hardware Co.

One thousand dollars' damage was done to St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, the wind tearing three of the large pinnacles off the front of the building. Dozens of trees were blown down and signs torn from their fastenings. The roof of Aberdeen School was partly blown in and a number of children are reported injured.

Bronchitis

Catarrhozone Cures Bronchitis of three years' standing after four doctors failed.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

"I feel it my duty," writes Mrs. Boyd, of Leonardville, N.B., to let you know that I have been cured of Bronchitis of three months' standing by Catarrhozone.

"With the least change in temperature or exposure to inclement weather, I was attacked with bronchial discomfort, wheezing in the chest, hoarseness, sore throat, partial loss of voice, and stuffiness of the head. I consulted four doctors and was treated by them all without any benefit.

"Catarrhozone was strongly recommended to me by several persons whom it had benefited, and I was induced to give it a good trial.

"It quickly relieved my difficult breathing, so I got the complete outfit, hard rubber inhaler, etc., and I began systematically the Catarrhozone treatment.

"In a few days the huskiness and hoarseness disappeared, and my voice became stronger. The running of the nose, and 'stuffiness of the head,' feverishness, difficult breathing, were all done away with before I had been using Catarrhozone very long.

"About six weeks' treatment was sufficient to do more for me than four doctors failed to do in three years' time. It cured me and I don't believe there is another such a remedy on earth. Its action is speedy, pleasant and permanent."

Catarrhozone is a new, scientific treatment, and is guaranteed to cure Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Cold, etc., or money refunded. It contains nothing injurious and can be used by the infant as well as by the adult.

It is both a local and a constitutional remedy. The Inhaler supplies abundance of medicated air, which spreads through all the air passages, killing germ life, and healing sore spots as it goes.

The impurities in the blood are driven off by Ferrozone tablets, which strengthen and build up the system to such a healthy condition that disease simply can't exist.

Catarrhozone is recommended by doctors and druggists for all respiratory diseases. It relieves quickly and cures permanently. Complete outfit costs $1.00; trial size, 25c. At Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Con., Kingston, Ont. Buy Catarrhozone today.

CANADA AND THE WEST INDIES

Things seem to be shaping for closer commercial, and possibly political relations between Canada and the British West Indies. An announcement made recently by Lord Crewe, the secretary for the colonies, indicates that the Imperial Government realizes the value and importance of more intimate trade relations between these British dependencies, and will co-operate in bringing about such a result. A Royal Commission will be appointed, consisting of two Canadian and two English members, with a representative, Sir Daniel Morris, of the West Indies, and an ex-member of the customs service at Trinidad, to act as advisers. Mr. Field ing will be one of the Canadian commissioners, an appointment that will be generally approved, as he has a better knowledge of all the circumstances that must be taken into consideration in framing a preferential trade arrangement than any other available Canadian. The British members of the commission will arrive in Canada during the summer, and after studying the conditions here, will leave for the West Indies in the autumn with their Canadian colleagues.

Although for the present it is doubtful if Jamaica, the largest island in the British group, will be included in the negotiations, a sufficient number of the other islands have agreed to the principle of preferential trade relations to warrant negotiations being taken up by Canada, Barbadoes, Trinidad and Demerara, together with some of the smaller islands, are ready to discuss the question, believing that in a solution of the matter will the means be found for permanent prosperity to their staple industries. Jamaica at the present time depends so largely for her prosperity on the fruit trade with the United States that she fears any preferential arrangement with Canada would bring about retaliatory measures at Washington. But it is admitted in the island that closer trade relations with Canada and the mother country on a preferential basis would secure her against any damage from hostile American action. It is realized that the policy followed at Washington will be dictated purely by American interests, and if those interests seem to make it advisable to give preferential advantages in the markets of the United States to products from Cuba, the damage resulting to Jamaica from such a course would not be considered. The people of the West Indies have had a very striking lesson of such a possibility. Before the war with Spain the United States wanted West Indian sugar, and while the markets of the United Kingdom and Europe were supplied with the continental bounty-fed beet sugar, the United States took the West Indian product. But after the war a great change occurred, and through preferential arrangement with Porto Rico, the Philippines and Cuba the United States' importations from the West Indies sank almost to a vanishing point. Then Canada came to the rescue, and under the influence of Mr. Fielding's sugar preference the West Indian sugar trade was practically transferred from the United States to Canada. Those facts have not been forgotten by the people of those islands, and if a firm preferential basis can be established, with the influence of the British Government behind it, it is not unlikely that even Jamaica will decide to cast in her lot with the neighboring islands, with the result of consolidating the whole British West Indian trade within the confines of the empire.

There is no doubt that in many ways Canada and the West Indies are complementary to one another. While many of the products of the latter will find a growing market in the Dominion, there is no reason why many of the commodities that the islands now import from the United States should not be supplied from Canada. The action of the Dominion Parliament in regard to the preference on West Indian sugar has been beneficial to both parties to the arrangement, and there seems every reason to believe that further action on similar lines will prove to be equally satisfactory. It is understood that the commission will also consider the improvement of the transportation, telegraph and other facilities for trade between this country and the islands.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription — Dr Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to impress and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and real Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

Keir Hardie Has His Troubles.

Mr. James Keir Hardie, M.P., attempted to address a public meeting at Oxford the other night on unemployment and labor, but some undergraduates caused great disorder by throwing rotten eggs, oranges and apples. Free fighting took place and the meeting ended noisily. Mr. Keir Hardie was only allowed to speak for a short time, the greatest disorder prevailing. The undergraduates interrupted at the outset by singing the National Anthem and Rule Britannia. A proctor intervened, but with little effect, and the meeting was brought to an abrupt conclusion.

Mr. Victor Grayson, in spite of his troubles with the labor party, is by no means deserted by them, and has received an important position on the staff of The Clarion, certainly one of the brightest, if not the most originally written organ of the advanced Social and Labor party.

Where the Rejected Ties Go.

A man was buying a tie and carefully laid aside one or two as not worthy of further consideration. The salesman picked out one of the rejects and placed it in a separate box, which prompted the buyer to ask if it had been placed with those he was looking at by mistake.

"Oh, no," was the response, "but we have orders when five or six men turn down a tie as they look over a box to take it out and put it aside."

"Then what becomes of it?"

"We sell them to women who come to buy ties for men."

A Trying Position.

Mrs. Oldwoman was seriously ill and found herself in a trying position. This is how she described her trouble to a friend:

"You see, my daughter, Harriet, married one of those homypath doctors and my daughter Kate an allypath. If I call the homypath my allypath son-in-law and his wife will get mad, an' if I call my allypath son-in-law then my homypath son-in-law and his wife will get mad, an' if I go ahead and get well without either of 'em then they'll both get mad. So I don't see but I've got to die outright."—London Answers.

Bad Season for Colds

Colds and grip were quite prevalent last winter and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in great demand and performed some remarkable cures. Mrs. Mary J. Robinson of Cameron, W. Va., says: "Last winter I was taken with one of the awfulest colds I ever had in my life. I could not speak above a whisper and was very hoarse. I was afraid it was going to be pneumonia. I took one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in three days was lots better and could talk. I did not take but the one bottle and it cured me. I now tell everybody about Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the good it did me."

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. This tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—crushes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.
If it's painful periods with women, same cause.
If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell as 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

Notice

Notice is hereby given that a by-law was passed by the City of Peterborough on the 22nd day of March, A.D., 1909, providing for the issue of debentures to the amount of $2,000 for the purpose of paying for the construction of permanent street crossings and that such by-law was registered in the registry office of the County of Peterborough, on the 26th day of March, 1909.

Any motion to quash or set aside the same or any part thereof must be made within three months after the first publication of this notice, and cannot be made thereafter.

Dated the 26th day of March, 1909.

Clerk

Why Do People Deposit Their Money in Banks for only 3 Per Cent. Interest?

BECAUSE, THEY THINK IT IS QUITE SAFE.

Why Do Some Invest in Bonds to get a Little Higher Interest?

Because, the bonds represent a mortgage on the property on which their money is invested which gives a feeling of safety.

Why Do People Invest in Wildcat Gold and Silver Mining Schemes? Because they think the chances of profit are big and they are willing to take the risk.

WHY NOT INVEST IN A SAFE STOCK IN A GOING COAL MINE

making money now and which presents such possibilities for development that it is expected that the profits will run from 25 per cent. to 50 per. cent. higher.

The Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited, Stock at $10 per Share is a safe Stock.

It is all common stock. There are no bonds or no mortgages or no preferred stock, on which interest must be paid before the common stockholder gets anything.

When you buy common stock of the Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited at $10 per share you become an actual owner of the mines and have an equal chance of the profits according to the number of shares held. A coal mine with a big deposit of coal ready for the miner's pick is as safe as a bank. To own and control shares of common stock in such a coal mine must be safer and better than holding bonds in a proposition in which you have no control and which may or may not be properly managed. The officers and management of the Winter Port Coal Mines of New Brunswick have the experience in mining and selling coal in both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

J. S. Gibbon, the President of the company, opened and developed The Winter Port Mines to the present stage.

W. F. Vroom, the Vice-President of the Company, was for some years actively associated in the management of the Springhill Collieries in Nova Scotia and the Albert Mines in New Brunswick.

Manufacturers in St. John speak highly of the Winter Port coal.

Winter Port coal is a good locomotive coal and has been used on the Intercolonial and other railways.

The Winter Port Coal Mines being practically on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific now opening up through New Brunswick will provide a most convenient coaling facility for that great transcontinental railway. Immense quantities of coal will be needed by the great railways and by the manufacturers, steamship lines, etc., in connection with the development of Canada's Winter Port at St. John, N.B., which is only 55 miles in a direct line from these coal mines.

Secure some Winter Port stock now at $10 per share (there is no personal liability) and get your share of the profits of a safe conservative money-making proposition.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Land Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother, or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perform the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Contraband Goods Materialized.

Much amusement has been caused throughout Australia by an incident in which figured Mr. Smart, the Victorian Collector of Customs. Not long ago Mr. Smart raided the museum of a spiritualist—Mr. T. W. Stanford—and demanded duty on goods said to have been "materialised" by "medium," Mr. C. Bailey. Accompanied by an inspector, the collector called on Mr. Stanford and suggested that, whatever the origin of the wonderful articles "materialised," they had in some way been imported, and that duty should be paid. Mr. Stanford stuck to his story concerning the spiritual source of the mandarin's robes and other products of the East. The two officers then prepared a report for the Minister of Customs. When, however, the report reached the Labor Minister he declared that he was not going to make a martyr of Mr. Stanford, and that the sooner the incident was buried the better. Mr. Stanford's claim is that the "medium," by spiritualistic agency received the marvellous carved ivory beads, Chinese silks and robes, Indian tapestry, etc., in atomic form from Eastern countries through the atmosphere.

England's Generals.

There has not been an English general since Marlborough. Wellington was born at Dangan Castle, Meath, of an old Irish family called Wesley, and christened in Dublin. Wolfe was born at Fernoaux Abbey, Kildare, and christened at Westerham. His grandfather defended Limerick against William III.

Sir John Moore and the Napiers were Scotchmen; so was Abercrombie (Egypt); so were Napier of Magdala, Crawford and Clyde. Wolseley, Roberts and Kitchener are Irish. So was Gough. The generals and statesmen who saved India to Great Britain were Neill, Nicholson, the two Lawrences (Irish), Edward (Welsh), and Rose (Scotch).

The Milkman-Peer.

Lord Rayleigh, whose profit-sharing scheme, by which some 200 employes on his Essex estate have received bonuses, has created so much interest, is one of the most practical of English agriculturists. His dairy business has proved a most successful venture, and every morning special trains, loaded with drums of milk from his herds at "Lady Tarling," his beautiful Essex home, arrive in London to take the milk to his London shops. The success of his lordship's dairy business may be estimated from the fact that his employes invest their money in the same at a guaranteed four per cent. interest and a share of the profits beyond that margin.

Stiff Neck

"Stiff" neck is caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the neck. It is usually confined to one side, or to the back of the neck and one side. While it is often quite painful, quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of rheumatism in ten requires internal treatment. When there is no fever and no swelling as in muscular and chronic rheumatism, Chamberlain's Liniment will accomplish more than any internal treatment.

PASSING OF LONDON.

Rosebery Says It Keeps Changing Like a Huge Camp.

Lord Rosebery, in delivering the presidential address to the members of the London Topographical Society at Burlington gardens, was in a pessimistic mood regarding the transitoriness of London.

"We survive our London," he said. "We realise in modern life that all around us is change. The house that we knew in childhood seems to be in the minority, and when in a long walk one comes to some untouched nook, it is with the same surprise that one finds a patch of snow under a hedgerow after a thaw.

"If some power the gift could give us to see once more the London of our childhood, the contrast would, I believe, be greater than we imagine. We live in a city almost as fleeting as an encampment. We do not strike out tents, but rather lose our ruins just as our judiciously constructed house is coming to pieces.

"Let our society watch this process viligantly, as, I believe, the London County Council also watches it with more authority and ampler means, and garner up carefully what is worth preserving of a great city built not for time or posterity, but for the business exigences of a leasehold tenure."

Lord Rosebery's address referred principally to Whitehall Palace, the site and remains of which he said he had recently explored in the company of Lord Welby.

"I thought Lord Welby and myself were somewhat attentively watched," he added, "until it was judged from our appearance that we were not political women in disguise.

"Though glorious under Henry VIII., Whitehall remains chiefly connected with the name of Stuart. We call that name unlucky, not with scientific accuracy, for it has plenty of luck, though it did not know how to use it, or threw it wantonly away up to the very end.

"Its princes persistently misgoverned Great Britain when it was not difficult to govern, and ended by throwing away an empire for a mass. We should admire that tenacity of conscience as compared with the more jaunty example set by their relative and ancestor, Henry IV., did we not know that when it was too late Charles Edward abandoned the mass with easy alacrity. Be that as it may, we know that not merely the glory, but the actual habitation of Whitehall ceased with these luckless Stuarts."

A Bashful Princess.

Princess Alexandra, the elder of the Duke of Fife's two daughters, and granddaughter of King Edward, was to have been presented at one of the courts which are to be held during May. Just before she left for Egypt with her father and mother, however, she begged hard to be let off until the season of 1910, when her younger sister, Princess Maud, will be able to brave the ordeal with her. Princess Alexandra's timidity is even worse than that of her mother the Princess Royal, who is known in intimate family circles as "Her Royal Shyness." Being a royal personage, she would not be presented like an ordinary debutante, but would have to take her place on the royal dais to be criticised by everyone in the ballroom. Her mother probably fully sympathising with her daughter, has let her off until next year, when the two sisters will be able to hold hands on the dais. Princesses Alexandra and Maud, who were born in 1891 and 1893, respectively, have lived a very retired life, formerly at Brighton, which residence the Duke of Fife has now given up, and latterly in the Highlands.

Queen to Wear Great Gem.

The Queen will wear the great Cullinan diamond in future on state occasions when the crown is not in use.

It will be set in the imperial crown in such a manner that it can be detached for separate use.

The crown and diamond were taken to Buckingham Palace a few days ago, and the matter was discussed between the King, the Lord Chamberlain, Col. Sir Douglas Dawson, the master of ceremonies, and representatives of Messrs. Garrard, the court jewelers.

The feasibility of the plan having been demonstrated, the court jewelers have been commanded to carry out the work. Thus the Cullinan, while retaining the status of a crown jewel, will be available for wear by the Queen on some occasions upon which the crown itself is not in actual use.

It is understood that the King's main object is to show to the fullest possible extent his appreciation of the Transvaal's gift, feeling sure that the donors would be more gratified by this use of the gem than if it were to be fixed permanently in the crown and kept as a rule from the public eye.

"All Mad."

After leaving Eton Lord Meath had some glorious times in the little principality of Schaumberg-Lippe, where he went to learn German. In company with some other gay young English spirits, he organized a paper-chase. So little was this game understood by the natives that when the "field" asked some peasants whether they had seen the hare, they replied, "Ah, yes, the thief has the booty in a bag; you will catch him over the hill." Next day a policeman came from the Prince of Schaumberg-Lippe, his highness having heard that the boys had been robbed of 300 thalers. Prolonged explanation only drew from the policeman the remark, "Good heavens! The English are all mad."

Tortoiseshell Atrocities.

An appeal has been sent by native gentlemen in Bombay to the Queen asking Her Majesty to discourage the use of tortoiseshell ornaments on the ground of the cruel methods in vogue for procuring the shell.

It is obained from turtles which are caught alive and shelled by baking them before a slow fire. If the reptile survives it is let loose in the sea again to grow a fresh shell, and is afterwards caught and "shelled."

PEERESS WRITES PLAY.

Lady Townshend Combines Many Roles in London Production.

"The Novice," a one-act play written by the Marchioness Townshend, was successfully produced recently in aid of a local institution at the Middlehead (Eng.) Town Hall. It is founded on a picture called "The Foundling," which the marchioness saw one year at the Academy.

"The two most striking points about 'The Novice,'" Lady Townshend says, "are that there are no male characters in it, and that there is no love scene.

"The play may be described as a Lenten play, for the character of Sister Catherine is a deeply religious one. Its object is to show how very lovely and devout some of the sisters in the convents are."

The scenery, also the work of Lady Townshend, represents the garden of the Convent of Our Lady of the Lilies, and the play was stage managed by her also.

The story is a simple one. It tells of the conflict of Marie Josephine between a saintly and a worldly life. She has been jilted by her lover and is about to take the veil, full of hesitation and doubts. Then in the midst of her vague fears and tremblings comes a message from the outer world which shows her the way she is to go.

It is none other than a cradle with a little baby in it—the child of her one-time lover, whose wife is dead, and who is dying himself. He leaves the baby to her whom he once loved, and she renounces her novitiate and resolves to devote her life to the child.

It was received with enthusiasm for its austere, beautiful sentiment, and Lady Townshend, smiling and beautiful, bowed her thanks.

The play was inspired by the Academy picture, "The Foundling," Lady Townshend said after the performance. It is meant to show the power and efficacy of prayer.

"I should love to see it produced in London," she said.

A Venturesome Lord.

Lord Brooke, heir to the earldom of Warwick, who is reported to be engaged to Miss Eden, daughter of Sir William and Lady Eden, and one of the most beautiful girls in society to-day, is in his twenty-eighth year, and first distinguished himself as a lad of seventeen by running away from Eton to serve in the war in South Africa. The story ran that he pawned his fur coat and bought a second-class ticket for the Cape. Touched by this display of spirit, his friends obtained for him a reasonably safe employment—as A.D.C. to Lord Milner! He was the youngest officer bearing a commission in South Africa, and at the close of the war was given a command in the 1st Life Guards. He has since served as a war correspondent with the Russian army in Manchuria, and there he spent his twenty-first birthday. He has also made an adventurous trip to Uganda.

A Fee to Tipsters.

Lord Durham, the new Knight of the Garter, enjoys, among other distinctions, that of being one of the few turfites in the peerage, and of being so much like his brother, the Hon. F. W. Lambton, that they could on occasion take each other's places. His lordship is one of the richest of our peers and a keen sportsman. He is an old member of the Jockey Club, and lately has been singularly successful on the turf. Last year he won no fewer than forty-one races, on one occasion scoring a "treble," the stakes totalling nearly $30,000 for the day. His great desire, however, is not so much to win races as to make the "sport of kings" more pure. He would abolish racing "tipsters," and his famous speech at the Gimcrack Club some years ago, in which he denounced turf frauds in unmeasured terms, led to considerable improvement in the tone of the racing world.

The Tallest Bishop.

Dr. Talbot, the Bishop of Southwark, who recently celebrated his sixty-fifth birthday, is still in full vigor, despite an Alpine accident by which he was long crippled. Dr. Talbot is said to be the tallest occupant of the English Episcopal Bench, being well over six feet in height. He is also perhaps the most democratic of High Churchmen. He is always accessible to humblest of his flock, and patronizes the penny bus far more frequently than he does the more expensive cab. Many good stories are told of Dr. Talbot. Once he played in a Worcestershire cricket match, and a local curate bowled him a wide. "That's outside my parish," shouted the bishop. The next ball caught him full in the episcopal apron. The reverend bowler apologized, but added, slyly, "That, at any rate, was well in the diocese, my lord!"

Aborigines of Australia.

There are now 75,000 of the aboriginal population in Australia. Of this number there are about 20,000 in the colony of Queensland. Queensland has an elaborate system for looking after the welfare of the blacks by means of "protectors" stationed all over the colony to see that the natives are fed and clothed and shielded from interference of white people. Many of the natives are over six feet in height. Like most savages, they are polygamists, but they are not cannibals. The natives under civilisation have developed habits of economy and saving. They have made good progress in both reading and writing, but missionary reports state that teaching them arithmetic is hopeless.

An Historic Custom.

The forthcoming marriage of Lord Desaro, son and heir of the Duke of Wellington, to Miss Coats, reminds one of the fact that at Apsley House, where the bride-elect will one day reign as Duchess of Wellington, the old custom is still kept up of presenting a flag to the sovereign on each anniversary of the battle of Waterloo. These flags are subsequently given to the regiment of Guards quartered at Windsor.

HOW TO TELL

If the Kidneys and Liver are Not Acting Well

Thousands die every year from aggravated kidney distress that could have been saved if they only knew.

Your back may ache, you think it's tiredness or physical weakness.

You grow irritable and nervous—it's put down to loss of sleep.

Joints ache, muscles get sore, —that's all put down to bad weather.

Then digestion gets poor, appetite fades away, color bleaches, spirits droop.

Can't you see it's all from your over-worked kidneys, which can't keep the body clear of poisons that are now surging through the whole system.

Cure your kidneys with Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"When I was so stooped and back weary, so lame and sore with kidney and bladder trouble, I cured myself quickly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills," writes C. C. Ferrier, a well known merchant in Plainsville. "Dr. Hamilton's Pills touched the spot at once, gave my back ease, lifted depression and weariness, made a new man of me. I can also say for a good spring medicine to clear and enrich the blood Dr. Hamilton's Pills have no equal."

The housewife whose aching back makes every little duty a burden, the working man who is tired all day and can't rest at night, whose back aches, and whose feet swell—these people have kidney trouble. Women whose kidneys are sick, suffer continually from blind and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, bearing down pains, sharp twinges when stooping, distressing urinary troubles, aching muscles, and joints lack of appetite, and loss of sleep teach the same. Cure the kidneys. Use Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills, which have cured thousands. 25c at all dealers.

No Meeting

The meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Football Club called for last night did not materialise.

Spring Showers

The first real spring rain fell yesterday, although the weather turned colder at night when more rain fell.

Committee Meeting

A meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council will be held tonight when several matters of importance will be taken up and dealt with.

Baseball Meeting

A meeting of those interested in the T.A.S. Baseball Club will be held tomorrow night to decide whether club will enter the Midland League or not.

Road Scraping

A big improvement is being made on the city streets by the Board of Works department which has a gang of men and teams busy drawing the mud off. A few more spring showers will dispose of all the ice along the side of the streets and it will only be a little while before the roads are clean and dry again.

Lots of Wood

J. E. A. Fitzgerald & Co., have four thousand cords of wood at Stony Lake, and they will commence bringing it down as soon as navigation opens. The tug "Ajax" will again be in service and will do some towing for the lumber companies, in addition to bringing down the company's wood.

Navigation open

The C.P.R. officials here have been notified that the first steamer for Port Arthur, Fort William, and west ern points, will leave Owen Sound on or about April 17th. Freight for transportation on the first boat will be booked at Peterborough after April 12th. Freight for Sault Ste. Marie and Georgian Bay points will be booked here after April 13th.

Keep off the Walks

Chief Rousel wishes to make it distinctly understood that those using bicycles will not be allowed to ride their machines on the sidewalk. There is no excuse for this practice being indulged in and offenders will be severely dealt with if they fall into the hands of the police. This trouble occurs every year and Chief Rousel intends to stop it right at once and those interested will be wise to take this warning.

PERSONAL

Miss Steinhoff of the Normal School staff, left yesterday for her home in Stratford.

Miss Lang of Peterborough, was in town yesterday visiting friends —Lindsay Warder.

General Road Master Bibby of Allandale, stopped off in the city yesterday, and went down to Belleville on the afternoon train.

Mrs. A. W. Archibald and Master Willie Archibald left yesterday by C.P.R. for Portland, and will take an Allan Line steamer for Glasgow, for a three months' vacation to visit their parents, after 'five years' absence.

Miss Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey, who went to Red Deer district from Peterborough a little over a year ago, is engaged to be married to an English gentleman of large means and an ancient manor, who came out from England some time ago to look after some investments. After their marriage they will reside in England.

Does It Mean Early Completion of Line?

Can the following paragraph from the Canadian Miller be taken to mean the early completion of the C.P.R. grain line from Victoria Harbor to Peterborough? The Miller says that;

"The Canadian Pacific Railway has let the contract for the erection of a new elevator at Victoria Harbor, Georgian Bay, to the John S. Metcalf Co., Chicago. The capacity of the new elevator will be two million bushels, and the price is in the neighborhood of $900,000. Work will be commenced immediately, as the elevator and wharves are to be completed within a year."

Stiff Neck

Stiff neck is caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the neck. It is usually confined to one side, or to the back of the neck and one side. While it is often quite painful, quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of rheumatism in ten requires internal treatment. When there is no fever and no swelling as in muscular and chronic rheumatism, Chamberlain's Liniment will accomplish more than any internal treatment.

Easter Gifts

Although Easter is of ecclesiastical origin and essentially a religious festival, it has from very early times been looked upon as a time of gladness and well-wishing.

In Canada the season has a special attractiveness because it comes to us on the threshold of spring, when all the world is bright and beautiful. This would seem therefore the most appropriate time in the year for remembering friends.

In view of the increasing popularity of reasonable gift-giving, we are showing a wide assortment of dainty and suitable articles of all kinds, including Easter cards, greeting cards and novelties. We cordially invite you to see our stock whether you buy or not. Times Bookstore, Hunter street, Peterborough.

Back from Trip

Mr. H. B. Collier of the Collier-Cunningham Co., Limited, has just returned from a business trip to Ottawa, Montreal and Toronto. The demand for the company's electric specialties is growing rapidly, as wherever introduced much interest in their practical utility, comfort, labor-saving efficiency is created among householders and others. Mr. Collier's visit to these large cities was productive of very gratifying results—the orders secured being an additional indication of the extreme value of these handy electrical inventions. Mr. Collier also reports that he found the tendency of general trade to be much more healthy and active than for many months past.

Beware of ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free.

Many Chimneys are Not Cleaned

Yesterday was a record day for the fire department. From early morning until late at night the fire hall was rung every little while. The brigade no sooner returned from one call then they had to hustle off to the other end of the city. The horses had one of the hardest day's work they have ever been called upon to put in. The high wind blowing all day caused the dirty chimneys to take fire and although the assistance of the brigade was not always needed until the alarm was sent it.

The question might well be asked the members of the Fire, Water & Light Committee, "Did it ever strike you that householders neglect to clean their chimneys because they feel that the fire department has nothing else to do but to watch their chimneys?"

It looks very much as if many householders think it unnecessary to clean the soot out of the chimneys. Such however, is not the case, and it is up to the Fire, Water & Light Committee to find a remedy. If nothing else will do they might make it compulsory to clean all chimneys out once or twice a year. Such legislation will be a big saving on the fire hall horses.

An Ideal Cough Medicine

"As an ideal cough medicine I regard Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in a class by itself," says Dr. R. A. Wiltshire, of Gwynneville, Ind. "I take great pleasure in testifying to the results of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. In fact, I know of no other preparation that meets so fully the expectations of the most exacting in case of croup and coughs of children. As it contains no opium, chloroform or morophine it certainly makes a most safe, pleasant and efficacious remedy for the ills it is intended."

AN ABSENT PART.

The Budding Actor Was a Success as Carlos the Fiddler.

"The son of a wealthy old friend of mine, being stage-struck, joined out with a traveling opera company. I met him loafing and strutting about a hotel in a small town," said the veteran actor.

"'Come over to the opera house and see the show,' said he.

"I went, but I saw no signs of this young man on the stage, nor was his name on the program. Afterward I met him in the lobby of the hotel.

"'I did not recognize any of the characters as you,' I remarked. 'What part are you playing?'

"'Why, I am playing the part of Carlos the Fiddler,' said he.

"'There was no such part.'

"'Oh, yes, there was. Didn't you notice how they talked about him? In the first act, in order to get the chorus off the stage, didn't the soubrette put her hands over her eyes, look off L. 4 E. and say, "Oh, girls, Carlos the Fiddler is going to have a dance on the green; let us hasten or we will miss it," then burst into song and skip off? You bet she did.

"'Then, again, in the second act, when the bell is tolled without, doesn't the prima donna say: "Hark that bell! That bell can stand an awful lot of harking, for who is pulling the rope but Carlos the Fiddler?"

"'That is true, young man, but they only talk about you. You do not show yourself on the stage during the whole performance.'

"'I am aware of that, but you must remember I am as yet a raw recruit. Still I feel I am on my way to fame and glory, though the path may be strewn with thorns.'

"'Oh, if the hope and optimism of youth could be with us in our later years!' sighed the veteran actor.

Mrs. Macquoid Still Working.

Mrs. Macquoid, better known to novel readers, perhaps, as Katharine Macquoid, who has written over fifty novels and hundreds of short stories, is still writing in spite of her eighty years. She does most of her work on the typewriter herself, and confesses that if she has to lay it aside for a little while she feels worried, and yearns to get back to it. Her husband, Mr. Thomas Macquoid, R.I., is ninety years of age, and also is still working.

World's Greatest Lakes.

If anyone will refer to the map, he cannot fail to be struck with the continuity of the series of lakes which extends northwesterly across Canada from the head of Lake Superior. Discarding the Great Lakes themselves, this is the most important series of fresh water bodies in the world.—Victoria Colonist.

The Results of Easter Examinations at Collegiate Institute

The results of the Easter examinations at the Collegiate Institute have been recived from the Principal Mr. H. R. H. Kenner. In the lower forms the work of the students as shown by the marks they have obtained at Christmas and Easter will be taken into consideration in the promotions at mid-summer. In the higher forms these results will have no bearing upon the final examination in June excepting probably being an encouragement to keep up their good work and an incentive to others to put forth better efforts in order to finish in the higher ranks.

The results are as follows:

MANY PEOPLE KILLED OR INJURED AS A RESULT OF HURRICANE

Young Lady Killed by Debris at Norwich—Football Player Drowned at Hamilton—London Man Struck Dead by a Branch—Property Loss Enormous

SUMMARY OF STORM.

DIRECTION—Cut across Western Ontario, from the Detroit River, in a swathe, fifty miles wide, traveling south-east. Toronto missed the brunt but Hamilton and the Niagara Peninsula felt its real strength. The wind in spots reached 92 miles an hour. Prescott was the place furthest east in Canada reporting exceptional gales.

LOSS OF LIFE—Four are known to be dead and a score injured in Western Ontario.

DAMAGE TO PROPERTY —Probably $500,000, widely distributed.

London, April 8.—James Tunks of London, a retired farmer, seventy-five years of age, is dead from injuries received last night, when a branch of a falling tree struck him. He was in the woods with his son during the windstorm, and a basswood fell near them, breaking twenty feet from the ground. To get it out it was necessary to cut a smaller tree, and, when it fell, the large one came too, a branch striking the old man on the head. Concussion of the brain resulted, and he died at an early hour this morning.

ESCAPED VIA WINDOWS.

Dunnville, Ont., April 8 — The heavy wind yesterday caused much damage in this district, a brick schoolhouse in Canboro township was wrecked, the teachers and pupils escaping through the windows without injury. The F. R. Lalor canning factory had a gable and side wall blown in.

The fishing tugs saw the storm coming and made for shelter, arriving in port safely, but lost thousands of dollars worth of fish nets.

A SO-CART UPSET.

Stratford, April 8—Yesterday's gale raged with unabated fury last evening with dire results. The whole roof of the Stratford Manufacturing Company's plant was lifted and one wall also toppled over. The damage was $2,000.

R. P. Delaframer, a local photographer, was hurled to the Market Square pavement about nine o'clock and his arm terribly fractured, the bone protruding from the flesh in several places.

A coal car was started down a small grade towards the station, but was met by the yard engine en route, and no damage resulted.

Members of the County Council from various parts of Perth report a number of unroofed buildings, and trees down, but no heavy damage. In the city fresh details are constantly coming to hand of overturned chimneys, broken windows, shutters being torn off, fences down, etc.

A lady with two children in a baby carriage came to grief on one of the main streets, the go-cart overturning, and the precious little one rolling to the pavement.

WATER DROPPED EIGHT FEET

Hamilton, April 8—Boatmen on the waterfront declare that the great blow from the west yesterday lowered the water in the bay nearly eight feet. The west-end marsh lands are almost dry today; something unknown in years. The water was driven through the piers at the canal with terrific force. Five Mile Creek, west of the city, was practically dry this morning. The great wind scooped the water out of its bed and scattered it over the country for a mile. Many windmills and barns have been blown down in the country, and on the mountain top a man carrying a large board was blown over a five-foot fence.

The iron parapet and about a hundred feet of the south wall of the new Normal school was blown down.

WOMAN'S HIP BROKEN.

Guelph, April 8.—Mrs. Shannon of Eden Mills, who was in the city yesterday, was carried off her feet by a fierce gust of wind just as she was walking round the corner of the Wellington Hotel, and thrown forcibly to the pavement, breaking her hip.

The comfortable farm home of Mr. Bowne, on a side road off the Erasmus road, about a half mile beyond the city limits, suffered much damage. One side of the roof was torn off and hurled to the ground with a deafening crash last night just an hour or so after the family had retired. With half of the entire roof of their home gone, the family were in dire straits. They moved as much of their goods as they could to the roofed part of the house, and then took refuge with neighbors.

One side of the roof of a big barn belonging to a farmer named Smith, out on a side line that runs off the Erasmus road, about half a mile past the city limits, was torn off the building yesterday by the wind and carried about fifty feet in the air, and then planted down on top of a threshing engine and outfit that was standing overnight in the barnyard.

London, April 8—The six children, pupils of the Aberdeen school, who were injured during the wind storm here yesterday by being buried under piles of brick and debris, are somewhat improved today. Last evening faint hopes were held out for the recovery of two of the children, a boy and a girl, the most seriously injured, but the outlook is better today.

Jack Clarke, the boy, aged eight years, was the most dangerously injured of all.

Was Remembered by His Friends

A number of the friends of Mr. Fred (Jerry) Edmonds, the genial and sturdy backstop of last year's baseball nine, gathered at the Windsor Hotel last night to tender him a farewell banquet, Jerry has been signed on the Winnipeg ball team and will be found in the catching department, his friends here feeling confident that he will make good and hold down the receiving end to everyone's satisfaction.

The banquet proved a very enjoyable affair, the spread being all that could be desired. There was a short toast list in an interval of which Mr. Edmonds was presented with a suit case. The presentation was made by Harry Burridge on behalf of the rest of the boys.

"Jerry" briefly expressed his gratitude for the kindness which was being heaped upon him, and was making his departure from the city harder to bear. He had made many good friends while in Peterborough and thanked them for their generous gift.

"Jerry" made good with the local fans last year and before many games had been played he was a prime favourite. His reliability and nerve behind the bat made him an invaluable man; at bat he could be depended upon for a pinch hit or a long drive, his ability having been frequently manifested. From the coaching lot he had it on them all. He left to-day for Toronto, where he will spend a week or two before going West.

Martin Sentenced to Three Months in the County Jail

Thomas Martin was sentenced to three months at hard labour in the county gaol by Magistrate Dumble at the police court yesterday. He was found guilty to stealing a watch and chain from Wellington Cannon on Saturday evening last. Martin formerly belonged to Campbellford, and according to a communication received by Chief Rozel, from Constable Lynn, of that town, he has been convicted there of stealing a watch. Martin asked for another chance, stating that he had lost his wife last August and had three small children to support.

His Worship said that he did not think that a man with his record should ask for a chance. A man who drank and did not know what he was ding had no excuse for his conduct.

The Evidence.

Wellington Cannon was the first witness called. He and the prisoner boarded together on Edinburgh street. On Saturday night last the complainant laid down on the floor to rest. Martin laid down beside him. About fifteen minutes later the prisoner got up and went out.

He noticed him go away, but thought he had gone into the kitchen. They had been together all day, returning home about five o'clock. He had the watch on him when he laid down. Harry Raymond came and asked witness if he had his watch. He felt his pocket and found it gone. It was a nickel watch. It cost him $4.50. The chain was worth $2.50. On finding the timepiece gone he hurried out. He went to information and asked him if he had his watch, as he had suspicions of Martin. Cannon jumped to his feet and said "no." Witness ran out and saw the prisoner at Edinburgh and George streets. Martin denied having the watch. Raymond told him that he had better come back and give up the watch. He replied that he wouldn't and told him to get a policeman. That was the man to get the watch and chain.

C. R. Drum is Coming to Peterboro' for Six Days' Religious Rally

The Y.M.C.A. has completed arrangements for a big six days' religious campaign. Mr. C. R. Drum, secretary of the religious work department of the International Committee of the Y.M.C.A., will arrive here on Wednesday, next and will start to work at once. The campaign is in charge of the local religious work committee and the expenses of it will be met by the board of directors personally.

The first meeting will be held on Thursday evening. It will be an invitation affair and will take the form of a supper table conversation on Bible study. A supper will be held in the Y.M.C.A. banquet hall at 6.30 at which the ministers, Sunday school superintendents and other religious workers will be present.

On Friday evening Mr. Drum will deliver his popular lecture "The Boy," at eight o'clock. All should hear this lecture.

On Saturday evening at seven o'clock there will be a meeting for boys over 12 years of age in the Y.M.C.A. hall.

Sunday afternoon a big mass meeting for men will be held in the opera house when Mr. Drum will deliver his lecture "An Honest Man." This lecture will be a good one and ad man in Peterborough should miss the opportunity to hear it.

During the week Mr. Drum will hold a noon hour service at one of the factories each day, for four days. In addition to this there will be several private conferences.

Mr. Drum, before taking up his present work, was connected with one of the colleges in Syracuse, N.Y., and he has lectured in many of the large cities of the United States. As a speaker he has few peers. He is eloquent, scholarly and earnest and at the same time his lectures are of such a nature that they appeal to all classes. It is expected that much good will be accomplished by the week's campaign.

Mr. John Brinton's Eighty-Second Anniversary

John Brinton, of Brinton's, Limited, the noted carpet manufacturers of Kidderminster, England, received many felicitations from friends on the occasion of his 82nd birthday recently, among them being several telegrams and letters from the weavers at the firm's factory in Peterborough. Mr. Brinton in spite of his age, continues to render public service as a member of the city council, not as talking member, but one taking a full share of administrative work.—Canadian Textile Journal.

Local Lumber Co's Made Big Cut in the Woods this Season

Mr. John Westlake, who looks after the government dams in the northern part of the county, says the creeks there are rapidly breaking up and the drives of logs will soon be brought down.

"It will have over three hundred thousand logs to look after, coming over the dams this year," said Mr. Westlake.

He stated that big cuts had been made by the Peterborough Lumber Co., the Cavendish Lumber Co., and the Dickson Co., and the season in the woods has been a good one.

Public Library Plans Occupied Attention of the Aldermen

The Committee of the Whole Council had a busy time last night when several matters were discussed and refered to committees. The most important of these was the plans for the new public library. The committee went over them, heard a report from the Property Committee heard the architects and then refered the matter to the Property Committee to report on again.

Those present were, Mayor Rush, Aldermen Duncan, McIntyre, Phelan, Metherel, Bradburn, Hicks, Buller, Morgan, Duffus, Morrow, Turner Gillespie.

The first matter taken up was the plans for the new public library. Ald. Bradburn made a verbal report upon behalf of the Property Committee and explained why it had been left to the Committee of the Whole Council.

Committee reported through Ald McIntyre, who recommended that the plans of the local architects, Messrs. Belcher & Blackwell. He also gave a brief description of the plans which will make a fine looking building. Ald. McIntyre stated that he considered the building could be kept within the $25,000.

Ald. Morrow stated that while in Pittsburg he went through the new library there which would cost about $6,000,000. He mentioned the new system adopted there for washing the air before it went into the stock room. This system kept the dust from getting onto the books.

ARCHITECT HEARD.

There were a number of the architects present and on motion they were heard by the committee.

The first were Messrs. Strickland & Bland. Mr. Bland in discussing his plan pointed out the strong feature of their lighting system, viz., that of lighting from side windows instead of all end light. He also pointed out the advantages of keeping the public out of the stock room. He pointed out the great necessity of making the plans for a library as complete as possible for future extensions. This was one of the strong features of their plans. He suggested that the city have contractors give estimates on all the buildings.

Mr. Proctor was next heard and he explained his plans. It was these plans that the committee made their second choice.

Messrs. Belcher & Blackwell were next heard. Their plans were the

A sub-committee of the Property choice of the sub-committee.

The matter was referred back to the Property Committee to report on.

WESCOTT STREET.

The next matter taken up was the expropriation of Wescott street. The council has no money to go on with and Mr Kidd is anxious to know what is being done, as he wants to build. Mr. Rolling will have about 200 feet frontage on the extension and he was not prepared to do very much. Miss Halpin and Mrs Kidd are asking pretty stiff prices. Altogether it will cost about $1500 now.

It was moved by Ald. Morrow and Ald. Bradburn that the solicitor be instructed to take no action for the present.

City Engineer Hay was instructed to strike the grade for a new walk in front of Mr Thos. Moore's new house on Bethune street north.

The claim of Mr Kennedy for damages for his accident was discussed at some length. Several of the Legal Committee were inclined to reverse their decision which was contrary to granting any damages.

On motion the matter was referred to the committee again.

Ald. Duncan reminded the council that the Master Painters were holding a convention here in July and the painters were getting out some thing like 16,000 souvenir books of the city. This book includes many cuts of the leading factories, etc., and he would like to have a cut of the council in it. He also asked that the council furnish that cut which would cost about $8.

It was moved that the City Council have its picture taken and that a cut be purchased for use in the painters' booklet. The photos will cost $15.

An Ideal Cough Medicine

"As an ideal cough medicine I regard Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as a class by itself," says Dr. R. A. Willshire, of Gwynneville, Ind. "It also great pleasure in testifying to the results of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. In fact, I know of no other preparation that meets so fully the expectations of the most exacting in case of croup and coughs of children. As it contains no opium, chloroform or morophine it certainly makes a most safe, pleasant and efficacious remedy for the ills it is intended."

Mrs. K. Eardly-Wilmot Died Very Suddenly at Her Home in Perth

It will be learned with profound regret in all circles that Mrs. K. Eardley-Wilmot died very suddenly at her home in Perth, on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Eardly-Wilmot will be remembered by a very large circle of friends in Peterborough, as she and Mr. Wilmot were prominent citizens here for several years, Mr. Wilmot was the local manager of the Bank of Montreal, and was a warden in St. John's church. Mrs. Wilmot was choir leader in St. John's for some time and frequently sang solos there as in other churches, and at many social functions. She was also one of the leading society ladies in this city and was very popular.

The late Mrs. Eardly-Wilmot was a native of Guelph. Her maiden name was Beatrice Christholm. The remains passed through Peterborough yesterday afternoon on the C.P.R. train, and the funeral will be held in Guelph on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. D. Hughes-Charles went to Guelph yesterday afternoon to attend the funeral.

To Mr. Eardly-Wilmot in extended the heartfelt sympathy of a very large number of Peterborough's citizens.

In the Game with the Toronto Pros.

A number of ball players who are well known in Peterborough have been selected to meet the Toronto Eastern League team in a practice game on Saturday. Among them is Harry Burridge, Peterborough's former catcher, Fred Clements, who pitched for the Petes last season, and Connie Murphy, who played left field for two seasons. Jack Moran, who caught here for the Arctics and Cobean, who pitched for St. Andrew's here last season. The Toronto Star says:

The following Toronto professionals will play two games in Hamilton on Good Friday, with Johnny Brennan's team, returning from their game with the Toronto Eastern League team here on Saturday at Rosedale, after which they leave for their respective teams:

Hardy—Scranton.
"Knotty" Lee—Davenport.
O'Hearn—Rock Island.
Cobean—Reading.
Moran—Oswego.
Nye—Edmonton.
Smith—Edmonton.
McGinn—Utica.
Clements—Edmonton.
Murphy—Edmonton.
Burridge—Youngstown.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription — Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to impress and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and real improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

Grant to Regiment is a Serious Proposition as the City Has No Funds

Money is the root of all evil, although it is truly a most necessity fathers are beginning to realize, and convenient evil. This the case. As a matter of fact the council is up against it and the year is just beginning. When the rate was struck at 19 1-2 mills only a very small appropriation was made for special grants. That money is all gone except $30 and the demand has not begun.

The new armories are to be opened on May 24th. The 57 Regiment has planned to make their one of the biggest days the city ever saw in a military way. It is proposed to bring two or three regiments here to assist the local soldiers in the ceremonies. It will be a day or in fact two days, that will be enjoyed by every man, woman and child in the city and by thousands from the surrounding country.

The council has been approached for assistance and it depends on the extent of that assistance what kind of a celebration will be held. Everyone realizes that a thousand soldiers cannot be entertained for nothing and one or two hundred dollars are no good.

As stated above the council has no money and the aldermen are up a tree. They all want to help in making it a big day but they have no funds to do it with, and they cannot see now where it is coming from.

After discussing the question thoroughly the Finance Committee was asked to shoulder the responsibility of devising a plan whereby the reputation of the city will be maintained and to report back to the council.

The regiment, it must be remembered did not ask in a direct way, for a grant. They placed their plans before the council and stated that if the City could assist them they would be very glad. The officers who waited upon the council stated that one regiment had been invited and would be here and that the 57th would look after their entertainment irrespective of the council in case the council had no funds. But without the city's assistance it would be impossible to bring any more than the one regiment.

If only the Brantford Rifles come they will be camped at Central Park. If two or three regiments come the fair grounds will be used as a camping ground.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

She Kissed the Wrong Man

A funny incident happened at the G.T.R. station yesterday morning while the holiday crowds were getting on and off the trains. One of the motormen of the street railway took his wife down to the station, to bid her good-bye. While waiting for the train another man and his wife stepped up and engaged them in conversation. Just as the train was pulling in the motorman stepped back to speak to another gentleman and hubby No. 2 stepped forward beside Mrs. Motorman. As the train stopped Mrs. Motorman turned quickly and throwing her arms about her husband's neck kissed him a good smack on the cheek. But to her horror she discovered that she had kissed another man.

Mr. Richard McCallum

A well known citizen of Stirling, Ont., cured of Chronic Catarrh and Irritable throat by Catarrhozone.

A remarkable case, exciting great interest in Stirling, which, if possible, adds to the popularity of Catarrhozone as a cure for Catarrh, Bronchitis and Throat Trouble.

Catarrh is one of the most disagreeable and at the same time hardest to cure diseases. This has been Mr. McCallum's experience:

"For many years," he writes, "I have suffered from Catarrh, and continually hawked and coughed, so that my throat was always in an inflamed irritable condition.

"Doctor's medicine did not help me in the least, and all other remedies I used were quite useless. In one case it was time wasted in snuffing powder up the nose; in another using a greasy ointment, and so on. Not one of them was the least bit of good.

"I heard Catarrhozone favorably spoken of and tried a sample, and it really benefited me more in a few hours than years of treatment with doctors.

"Sending such immense benefit in the sample size, I got the complete outfit, large Hard Rubber Inhaler, etc., and but a few weeks of its use completely cured me of Catarrh and throat trouble.

"I recommend Catarrhozone as the most satisfactory Catarrh remedy on the market. Every word said about it is true.

(Signed) "Richard McCallum."

Now perhaps you need a remedy like Catarrhozone. It is the only treatment that is applied locally as well as constitutionally. The Inhaler clears the air passages, stops sneezing and spitting, and purifies the breath.

The Pyrozone Tablets which are used in conjunction with Catarrhozone Inhaler, drive all the poisons from the blood and build up the system to a healthy, vigorous condition.

The complete outfit costs $1 at all druggists; trial size 25c. by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont. Buy Catarrhozone to-day.

DUTY ON LUMBER

In the speculations on the changes that the United States Congress may make in the tariff, probably none has excited more general interest on both sides of the boundary line than that regarding a reduction or abolition of the duty on lumber imported from Canada. It has been held by some critics that such a policy would result in an enormous increase in such imports. This view was held by some to be based on the supposition that the imported lumber would be obtainable at a lower price than the domestic supply could be sold at in consequence of certain economic conditions connected with the larger forest area in Canada, and the lower cost of production. Other persons did not regard these things as likely to be so important a factor as the circumstance that were the lumber from Canada allowed to go in free or with a greatly reduced duty, the holders of large tracts of timber in the United States would be inspired by a desire to denude the Canadian supply in order to preserve and thereby greatly enhance in value the native forests.

A statement made to Mr. Payne by Mr. Gifford Pinchot, the chief forester of the United States, seems to dispute the accuracy of the opinions we have mentioned. Mr. Pinchot holds that the abolition of the import duty on lumber would not promote the conservation of the forests, or reduce the price of lumber to the consumer in the United States. He says that only two per cent. of the supply of lumber in the country comes from Canada and that with no duty not more than five per cent. could be expected from that source. Ultimately he believes that Canadians will require all their lumber for their own use. He holds that the lumbermen are right when they say that high prices for lumber mean slower work, and that lower prices would mean less clean work and greater danger from forest fires; that the increased use of Canadian lumber would be offset by the greater waste in American forests, and that the Forestry Bureau has refrained from recommending the removal of the duty on lumber and shingles pending the completion of an investigation from the subject.

These expressions from one who is admitted to be a competent authority on the subject are interesting, since they have a not remote bearing on some of the problems which Canadians have to solve in the general interest regarding the conservation of our forests and the utilization of our timber to the best advantage. For Mr. Pinchot, like Mr. Roosevelt, realizes that a country's first duty is to itself, and that if we can supply our neighbors with lumber, we must be expected always to do so with the reservation that our own interests must always have the first consideration. To no province in the Dominion at the question of forest wealth and the production of lumber of more importance than to British Columbia, and some of the remarks made by Mr. Pinchot should not be ignored by those on whom the responsibility of directing legislation on the subject will rest. In the conservation of their timber resources both countries are interested, and each may derive useful information from the experience of the other.

HE GOT THE CHANGE.

Then He Got a Jolt When He Got Back to His Wife.

After haggling for twenty minutes over the price the dealer finally consented to let the vase go for $3.79. Mrs. Brownlee knew she was getting a bargain at that price, so she considerately refrained from insisting upon a further reduction.

"Have you the money with you to pay for it?" she said to Mr. Brownlee.

"I've $10," said Brownlee.

"That'll do," she replied. "The man can change it."

Somewhat reluctantly Mr. Brownlee produced the bill. With reluctance the dealer refused it.

"No gota change," he said. "Saturday afternoon. Put alla da moon ina da bank."

"But aren't there other shops near where they will change it for you?" asked Mrs. Brownlee.

"No leava shop," the Italian explained. "Boy gona home. Other customer he wanta buy. Gota stay here."

Mrs. Brownlee was disappointed, but not discouraged.

"I must say," she said, rather severely, "that you don't seem very anxious to make a sale. However, I am bound to have that vase. Dear," to Brownlee, "suppose you get the bill changed. You'll only have to go down to the corner and buy a cigar."

Mr. Brownlee already had six cigars in his pocket, but he obediently made a trip to the nearest tobacconist's for another. He selected a strong, black cigar worth 15 cents and offered the ten-dollar bill in payment.

"Smallest you've got?" asked the clerk.

Brownlee lied and said it was.

"Sorry," said the clerk. "I can't change it. This is Saturday afternoon, and we've put most of our money in the bank."

Mr. Brownlee returned the cigar and renewed his quest for small change. The pursuit took him to two more cigar stores, two groceries, a drug store and a saloon. In the latter place, by appealing to all the other thirsty customers present, the desired change was finally secured in dollars, halves and quarters. Mr. Brownlee then took his bearings. He computed that in his wanderings he had traversed a distance of fourteen blocks and had consumed half an hour's time. As a result of that calculation he was in a bad humor when he again entered the little store.

"Here's the change," he said, "and a confoundedly hard time I had to get it too!"

Mrs. Brownlee patted his hand sympathetically.

"Oh," she said. "I'm so sorry! I shan't need it, after all. After you went out I saw several other little things that I liked, and I bought enough of them to come to the whole $10."

Unwritable English.

"Did you know that there is at least one sentence in English that can be spoken, but that it is impossible to write?" asked a University of Pennsylvania senior. Yes, it's correct English, I suppose, and then again it isn't. Here is the sentence, although I swear I don't know how you are going to write it: 'There are three twos in the English language.' You see, if you spell it t-w-o the sentence is incorrect, as it is if you spell it either t-o-o or t-o. Catch the point? Really, it is incorrect to say it, although it certainly should be possible to express the thought. This thing has got me going, and it simply goes to show what a mess the English language is. There certainly is a word 'two' and a word 'too' and another 'to,' and they are all three pronounced alike—two, too or to—which make it correct to say there are 'three twos' or 'three toos' or 'three tos' in the English language. But what's the use?"

Where She Would Exit.

Miss Whackemall was lecturing her class upon the formation of the globe.

"Now, what country," she said, turning to the dunce of the class, "is opposite us on the globe?"

"Dunno," answered the pupil.

"Come, come!" said Miss Whackemall. "Suppose I were to bore a hole through the earth here and you were to go in at this end. Where do you think you would come out?"

"Outer the hole, miss!" shouted the dunce and went down one.

A Dubious Tribute.

The young theological student who had been supplying the Bushby pulpit for two Sundays looked wistfully at Mrs. Kingman, his hostess for the time being. "Did you like the sermon this morning, if I may ask?" he inquired.

"You done real well with the material you selected," said Mrs. Kingman, with much cordiality. "As I said to Zenas on the way home, 'I've heard a dozen or more sermons preached on that text, and this young man's the first one that ever made me realize how difficult 'twas to explain'."

Her One Desire.

The pensioned off "faithful nurses" in an aristocratic family took a mournful pleasure in keeping the "In Memoriam" cards which were from time to time sent her. On one occasion "the daughter of the house," visiting the old lady's cottage, noticed the collection so ostentatiously displayed. "Ah, yes, miss, I keeps 'em all!" said the aged nurse. "I've got your pore pa's and your sainted ma's and your brother William's and your sister Carry's, and if I only had yours I think I could die 'appy!"—London Standard.

Bad Season for Colds

Colds and grip were quite prevalent last winter and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in great demand and performed some remarkable cures. Mrs. Mary J. Robinson of Cameron, W. Va., says: "Last winter I was taken with one of the awfulest colds I ever had in my life. I could not speak above a whisper and was very hoarse. I was afraid it was going to be pneumonia. I took one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in three days was lots better and could talk. I did not take but the one bottle and it cured me. I now tell everybody about Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the good it did me."

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your home. If you cough—even from a chronic throat trouble—always heal, soothe and cure the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppose it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how many things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label. If poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good! Here's for this very reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must be in w be on the label. And it's not only safe, just it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable remedy. Take no chances with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

Why Do People Deposit Their Money in Banks for only 3 Per Cent. Interest?

BECAUSE, THEY THINK IT IS QUITE SAFE.

Why Do Some Invest in Bonds to get a Little Higher Interest?

Because, the bonds represent a mortgage on the property on which their money is invested which gives a feeling of safety.

Why Do People Invest in Wildcat Gold and Silver Mining Schemes? Because they think the chances of profit are big and they are willing to take the risk.

WHY NOT INVEST IN A SAFE STOCK IN A GOING COAL MINE

making money now and which presents such possibilities for development that it is expected that the profits will run from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. higher.

The Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited, Stock at $10 per Share is a safe Stock.

It is all common stock. There are no bonds or no mortgages or no preferred stock, on which interest must be paid before the common stockholder gets anything.

When you buy common stock of the Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited at $10 per share you become an actual owner of the mines and have an equal chance of the profits according to the number of shares held. A coal mine with a big deposit of coal ready for the miner's pick is as safe as a bank. To own and control shares of common stock in such a coal mine must be safer and better than holding bonds in a proposition in which you have no control and which may or may not be properly managed. The officers and management of the Winter Port Coal Mines of New Brunswick have the experience in mining and selling coal in both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

J. S. Gibbon, the President of the company, opened and developed the Winter Port Mines to the present stage.

W. E. Vroom, the Vice-President of the Company, was for some years actively associated in the management of the Springhill Collieries in Nova Scotia and the Albert Mines in New Brunswick.

Manufacturers in St. John speak highly of the Winter Port coal.

Winter Port coal is a good locomotive coal and has been used on the Intercolonial and other railways.

The Winter Port Coal Mines being practically on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific now opening up through New Brunswick will provide a most convenient coaling facility for that great transcontinental railway. Immense quantities of coal will be needed by the great railways and by the manufacturers, steamship lines, etc., in connection with the development of Canada's Winter Port at St. John, N.B., which is only 55 miles in a direct line from these coal mines.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Land Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother, or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perform the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

HATS, WEARS AND HAIR.

The First Pronounced Innocent of Separating the Other Two.

The rules of health for the hair so far as we know them are brief. Brush the hair thoroughly at least once a day, but let the scalp alone. Let the brushing be thorough and preferably with two brushes, which you may use as if you were currying a racehorse to get him into show condition.

Keep the hair thoroughly clean in this way and the scalp will largely take care of itself. Wash the hair as often as may be needed for cleanliness, which, as a rule, for men will be once a week and for women about half as often.

Avoid using too strong soaps, strong alkalies, such as ammonia and soda, and too hot water, as all of these take out too much of the natural lubricant or oil of the hair and leave it dry and harsh. As a rule it is well to dry clean the scalp as much as possible, and it is surprising how clean the hair and scalp can be kept just by thorough and regular brushing and currying alone.

The most important detail about the washing of the hair is that it should be rubbed or brushed until thoroughly dry. If this is done in the short hair of men there is no objection to wetting it daily or even two or three times a day if desired. The risk in leaving it not perfectly dry is that the natural oil of the hair when mixed with water rapidly decomposes or ferments.

This condition both irritates the scalp and furnishes a fine culture medium for germs, which thereupon promptly sweep in and give rise to the commonest form of dandruff. Particularly objectionable is the habit of wetting or slicking the hair in order to comb it and avoiding the use of the brush altogether. The intelligently used brush is the best known hair tonic, but when the vigor of the hair is beginning to fail even this may be carried to an extreme and become injurious.

While it is well to keep the scalp dry and well ventilated and exposed to both light and air, there does not appear to be any valid ground for the belief that going bareheaded, particularly in the sun, in any way promotes the vigor of the hair.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson says in the Cosmopolitan that "so far as we know anything about the intentions of nature it was never meant that the human head should be exposed to the direct rays of the sun. Experts are unanimous in declaring that excessive exposure of already thinning hair to the direct rays of the sun will certainly accelerate the process.

"I have seen a great many bald heads exposed to the no hat cure," he said, "but I have not seen any crop, except blisters, produced thereby.

"The bulbs of the roots of the hair go down completely through the skin and into the fatty layer which lies between it and the skull, and the thing that to the expert eye is really significant of the prospect as to progress or cure in a particular case is not the condition or color or cleanliness of the scalp, but the thickness or thinness of this fatty layer which underlies it.

"So long as this is present and the scalp is freely movable over the skull there is hope of restoring a reasonable growth of hair, but when this has been absorbed and the shiny scalp sticks as closely to the skull as the cover on a baseball the outlook is practically hopeless."

Town That Moves Twice Every Year.

Gartok is a trade town in Tibet. During three months of the year it is situated at the place where it is designated on the map. During the other nine months it is not there at all, but is about forty miles farther south at a much lower altitude. Climatic conditions are the cause of this migratory habit. When the heat grows too intense for comfort the whole town packs up and, driving the herds of yaks, sheep and goats, moves up to the higher altitude, and the traders from India at once begin to drift in. Trade continues for three months; then, before the severe Tibetan winter begins, the town moves back again to the warmer climate of the lower altitude and its period of hibernation sets in.

Not at the Theatre.

The absent-minded man didn't look up from his paper when the conductor came around. He just felt in his side pocket for his ticket and handed the ticket to the conductor. The ticket, however, was a theatre coupon.

"There," spoke up the conductor rather sharply; "this doesn't go. Come on with the right one."

The absent-minded man glanced down over the top of his paper at the coupon.

"Well," he snapped, "that's the coupon off the ticket the man gave me, and I purpose to occupy this seat right through all three acts. You can just"—

Then he came out of the fog and, with a sheepish look, fished out the car ticket.

A Puzzling Letter.

A business communication in Arabic recently reached a Manchester firm and when translated by a Syrian interpreter proved to contain a request for the price of coppering "two water sheep" of certain given dimension. The translator was confident of his version, but admitted that he did not know what "water sheep" could be. For the moment even the heads of the firm were puzzled until it struck some one that this was the nearest synonym in the vocabulary of a pastoral people for "hydraulic ram."—Manchester Guardian.

Disraeli Among the Lords.

Disraeli was a past master of the art of flattery, but his audacity carried him out of danger. Soon after his elevation to the House of Lords he was asked by a brother peer how he felt in his new surroundings. "Oh, don't ask me," he groaned; "dead and buried."

Then, remembering that his questioner was of the company which he was condemning, he added, "and in the realms of the blessed!"—Westminster Gazette.

CANONIZING OF SAINTS

INTERESTING CEREMONY IN CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Two Degrees of Sanctity Are Recognised, That of Blessed and That of Saint—Many Years Are Frequently Taken Up In Process of Canonization—Devil's Advocate Appears to Present Case Against Saint.

Apropos of the fact that Joan of Arc is to be created a "saint" at Easter, it is interesting to note how saints are canonized in the Roman Catholic Church.

There are two recognized degrees of sanctity—that of Blessed and that of Saint. The first is known by the decree of beatification, which is nearly always a stage on the road to canonisation. Before the Church will recommend for the veneration of the faithful any departed spirit she requires proof of eminent virtue and two authenticated miracles wrought by or through the intercession of the person to be honored.

There are thirteen or fourteen steps in the process of beatification, extending always over some years, and sometimes from one century to another. The first step is a formal inquiry by the bishop of the diocese as to the reputation of the person proposed for the decree. If this is satisfactory, another inquiry takes place to see if all the requirements of the Bull of Urban VIII. have been complied with. The acts and minutes of these inquiries are then sent to the Congregation of Rites.

A solemn court is held and a person is elected to the position of the Devil's Advocate, whose duty it is to show cause why the decree should not be issued. The Congregation then consider the report and appoint a special commission to investigate the charges. This stage takes about ten years. After that, if all is satisfactory, the "process" is served and the holy person is entitled to be called "Venerable." Several other stages of a similar nature take place, and then, if everything is satisfactory, the ceremony of beatification is performed at the Vatican. The decree declares the recipient to be among the citizens of Heaven and accords him the title of "Blessed," but the festivities in his honor, including the veneration of his image and relics, are only of local significance.

Canonization only follows on fresh evidence of miraculous powers being performed by the Beatus. In the case of martyrs, all that is needed is proof of preparation for true martyrdom.

The first step is taken in the county or diocese of the servant of God by the ordinary, who sets up his court and examines witnesses on the existence of a reputation for sanctity. The bishop sits as judge, and an official corresponding to the Devil's Advocate watches the case to see that all the forms of the law are strictly observed, and the notes of the case are sent to Rome to be laid before the Congregation of Rites, whose business it is to sift and examine the evidence. If all is satisfactory, he is entitled to the full address of "Saint," and enjoins his culture upon the whole Church.

The actual ceremony of canonization is one of the most solemn and imposing of all Papal functions, and is carried out with much pomp and splendor in the Vatican Basilica. It commences by a grand procession of Pope and cardinals, with the image of the saint borne on banners. The Pope then takes his seat upon an elaborate throne, surrounded by the dignitaries of his court. The postulator, generally a person of high rank is led to the steps of the throne, and there petitions that "the blessed servant of God may be enrolled in the catalogue of saints." The Pope replies that so grave a matter requires light and counsel from Heaven. The litanies are thereupon chanted, and the request renewed.

Again the Pope requires to ascertain the will of God by prayer, and the Veni Creator is sung. A third request is then made, and the Pope finally announces that the Beatus is enrolled in the canon of the saints, and that his memory is to be celebrated on a certain day throughout the whole Church.

Mothers and Husbands.

Once I was young, now I am old, and I have never seen a girl that was unfaithful to her mother that ever came to be worth a one-eyed button to her husband. It is the law of God. It isn't exactly in the Bible, but it is written large in the miserable lives of many unfortunate homes. I am speaking for the boys this time. If any of you chaps ever come across a girl that, with a face full of roses, says to you as you come to the door, "I can't go for thirty minutes yet, for the dishes are not washed," you wait for that girl. You sit right down on the doorstep and wait for her, because some other fellow may come along and carry her off, and right there you lose an angel. —Bill Arp.

The Turkish Fez.

The use of the fez is not controlled by religious faith, for it is worn by all classes in the Turkish empire and even beyond its limits. It is said to derive its name from the African city of Fez. In the Levant it is more commonly known under the modern designation of tarbosh. While the fez is not distinctively Turkish or Mussulman, its use is by no means ancient among the Ottomans. It is said that it was introduced to Turkish use by the Sultan Mahmud II., who adopted it from the Greeks.

Very Different.

"How dare you?" exclaims the angry composer to his critic. "How dare you, sir, characterize my music as you have?"

"I don't understand you," demurs the critic.

"You said that my rhapsody impromptu was a bum tune!"

"Bum tune! Oh, my good friend, I said no such thing! I said it was a vagrant melody."

PRODIGAL WITH MONEY.

An Author Who Was Constantly In Financial Difficulties.

Of Robert Buchanan, an author whose books seem nowadays in a fair way to be forgotten, there are some interesting glimpses in Chambers' Journal. A friend says of him that he was a man who was constantly in difficulties in regard to money matters. He would have a pocketful of money one day and none at all the next. He "gave money away right and left to those who appealed to his sympathy," and he was absurd in generosity as regarded his friends. This particular friend says of this trait:

"I found it extremely difficult to get him to accept any money due to him for transactions undertaken for me. If I asked him, 'How much do I owe you, Bard?' he invariably answered in the same strain, 'Eight thousand five hundred and nineteen pounds, four shillings and sevenpence,' or 'Give me half a million, and we will cry quits.' If we dined together casually, one, two, six of us, he invariably managed to get hold of the bill and pay it.

"This trick of his, of course, became familiar, and we seldom asked him to dinner unless we had arranged the matter beforehand with the powers that be. When he discovered that fact he would say: 'Oh, this is a duke's affair. All right, I expect to be treated as in a ducal mansion.' It was the same with cabs and trains. He was a large, stout man, but he had a curious faculty of reaching the cabman's hand or the ticket office before the allurement of us.

"He was a confirmed turf speculator—a strange pursuit for a singer of songs and dreamer of dreams—and it need hardly be said he lost far more than he gained, but when he was successful—and occasionally his winnings were large—he always managed to find a means of sharing his good fortune with those less privileged than himself. One of his many methods of telling white lies was this: 'How are you, X.? I owe you £20.' This is the first I have heard of it,' would likely be the reply. 'Oh, I took the liberty of putting a sovereign on King Charles for you, and he started at 20 to 1,' and forthwith he handed over the money."

English in Java.

A book published in Java, called "The West Java Travelers' Guide," says of a certain sanitarium: "At the establishment is a physician. The sick may invoke the physician for daily treatment, with use of medicaments. Children below ten years pay for lodges half of the price."

Under "Addresses and Announcements" is politely recommended "the hotel prigin, with occasion for warm baths, where till now all reconvalescents, as well as Mrs. Physicians and particulars and officials, have found back their health. Cures malaria, complains in the chest and other fatnesses, green sickness, cutaneous diseases," etc., and we are assured that "this healthy abode for reconvalescents has also occasion to many delightful idylic excursions to which saddle horse and tandem are stationed when before timely ordered."

He Had No Objections.

He had held one of the fattest jobs in the gift of the local political boss, and when he died there was an unseemly scramble for his position. The first man to reach the boss had no particular claim upon him, but merely placed his faith in the adage of the early worm.

"Guv'ner," said he, "do you think you would have any objections to my getting into Jones' place?"

"Oh, I'm sure I have no objections," was the unfeelingly reply. "None in the world, if the undertakers and coroner are willing."

Not So Easy as He Looked.

The passenger train had halted in an isolated rural district on a summer afternoon. The "smart" young man aboard, who volunteered to furnish amusement for the passengers, discovered an awkward country lad sitting on a stump not far distant. Seizing the opportunity for some fun, he cried: "Hello, sonny! Do you live in these parts?"

"Yaas," drawled the youth.

"Say, do you have any fools around here?"

"Nary one," came the response. "We sent for a carload last week, but wasn't lookin' for them yet."

The Care of the Eyes.

When one is using the eyes for close work it is wise to change the focus at intervals and gaze off at a distance. If the distant view is of green mountains and fields it will be most restful. If the air in the room can be frequently changed that will rest the eyes also. One should never use the eyes for study or work before breakfast or after the strength has been reduced by disease or a nervous strain. A book should be held about eighteen inches from the eyes. The light for work should be steady and, for an entire room diffused rather than spotty.

As She Used to Every Morning.

The bereaved Mrs. O'Leary, with a neighbor, stood sobbing over the coffin of her deceased husband.

"Oh, Mrs. Murphy!" she cried, "Oi can't belave Pat's lyin' there dead. He's only ashlape."

"Shure, he do look loike he wor only ashlape," returned her sympathizing friend. "Call to him, Mrs. O'Leary—call to Pat jist as ye used to wake him iv'ry marnin'."

Mrs. O'Leary dashed away her tears and called vehemently:

"Git up, ye lazy baste, an' go out an hunt fer a job!"

The Rat's Revenge.

While a rat-trap was being set in a Woodbridge, England, wheelwright's shop recently by the light of a paraffin lamp, a rat darted out of a hole and upset the lamp. The premises was set on fire, and damage to the extent of $1,000 was done.

Appetite Gone—Nerves Badly Run Down

A Strong Moral Well Exemplified in Mrs. Wilson's Case.

Like thousands of other people at this season of the year Mrs. E. P. Wilson was tired and worn out—winter sorely tired her health and vigor. But now she is robust and well, eats well, sleeps well, feels invigorated and braced. "For some years," writes Mrs. Wilson of Waimere, P.O., "I suffered from systematic weakness, biliousness and depressing headache. I could take little nourishment and grew thin and pale. If I ate a hearty meal the result was dreadful. Pains started at my chest, and spread all through my body going across my stomach, back and right side. I was discouraged till a friend insisted on me taking Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They made a new woman of me, and for the past eight months my health has been perfected. For a good cleansing, rejuvenating medicine I urge every one to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

There is extraordinary and magic power in Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they bring vigor, tone, health and spirits—are compounded from the most wonderful and healing juices and essence in vegetable life—are safe for young and old and guaranteed to kindle renewed activity and strength of every system that is weak, sickly or run down from kidney, liver, stomach or bladder trouble. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut—today—25c. at all dealers.

Stiff Neck

Stiff neck is caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the neck. It is usually confined to one side, or to the back of the neck and one side. While it is often quite painful, quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of rheumatism in ten requires internal treatment. When there is no fever and no swelling as in muscular and chronic rheumatism, Chamberlain's Liniment will accomplish more than any internal treatment.

Easter Gifts

Although Easter is of ecclesiastical origin and essentially a religious festival, it has from very early times been looked upon as a time of gladness and well-wishing.

In Canada the season has a special attractiveness because it comes to us on the threshold of spring, when all the world is bright and beautiful. This would seem therefore the most appropriate time in the year for remembering friends.

In view of the increasing popularity of seasonable gift-giving, we are showing a wide assortment of dainty and suitable articles of all kinds, including Easter cards, greeting cards and novelties. We cordially invite you to see our stock whether you buy or not. Times Bookstore, Hunter street, Peterborough.

BASEBALL

It speaks pretty well for Peterborough's Midland League Championship ball team of 1908, the way they are being snapped up by the Western teams. Jerry Edmonds goes to Winnipeg, and Outfielder Murphy and Pitcher Clements to Edmonton. The probabilities are that three other players who wore the Peterborough uniform last year will follow their team mates to the Golden West. A number of other former Midland Leaguers will also be found in the West, including Jimmy O'Hearne, and Danny McGuire, both of whom have worn the Port Hope uniform. The Midland League teams last year were about fast enough for any of the minor leagues and the Peterborough boys should have no difficulty in making good in the West.

Anniversary Services in Knox Church--Rev. J. A. Wilson Preached Twice

Knox church was crowded at both services yesterday to hear Rev. J. A. Wilson of St. Andrew's church, Hamilton, and formerly assistant in St. Paul's church, Peterborough. The reverend gentleman was always a favorite with the Knox congregation and the fact that he consented preach the anniversary services here this Easter was welcomed by all the congregation. Rev. Mr. Wilson occupied the pulpit at both services and also addressed the Sunday school children in the afternoon. His sermon in the morning was a splendid one and very appropriate, being a discription of the resurrection and and the meaning of it to the christian.

The text was taken from John 20 1; "It was yet dark," and Matthew 28. 1, "It began to dawn." As the darkness always precede light so does pain and gloom preced joy and gladness. It was yet dark when Mary Magdalene started for the sepulchre and upon her arrival it was just beginning to dawn. But when she found that the body was gone and realized that Christ had risen there was joy in her heart and she hurried away to spread the news. Christ appeared to many people after His resurrection so that there is no uncertainty about it. It is a fact. If it was not a fact the christian faith would be in vain and the church of God would be valueless.

In conclusion Rev. Mr. Wilson referred to the great Laymen's Missionary Congress in Toronto and urged upon the congregation the necessity for them as christians to do the risen Lord's commands and send the Gospel to all the world.

Rev. Mr. Wilson will give a lecture tonight in Knox church on "A Nation's Best Asset."

News from St. Paul's Church

Sunday, 3 p.m.—The Young People's Guild will hold their regular weekly meeting. Subject; "Lessons from the Book of Proverbs."

Tuesday, 8 p.m.—The Fraser Mission Band will hold their regular monthly meeting. The young ladies of the congregation should all identify themselves with this society.

Wednesday, 7.45 p.m.—The mid-week prayer service. As most of our people will want to hear Dr. Grenfell, the heroic doctor missionary, the meeting will close at 8.30 p.m.

Thursday, 8 p.m.—Choir practice in the church.

The Rev. A. T. Taylor, D.D., will be our anniversary preacher on May 2nd. As St. Andrew's anniversary is to be held on the same day, we are to have an exchange of preachers for the evening service. Rev. Principal Gandier will preach in St. Paul's in the evening.

Prayer is asked for the great Simultaneous Evangelistic Campaign, which our General Assembly's Committee has planned for the Kootenay, and which is now under way. Meetings are being held in Nelson, Nakusp, Kaslo, Creston, Moyie, Cranbrook, Fernie, Coal Creek, Hosmer, Coleman, Pincher Creek. About twenty workers are engaged, most of them prominent ministers of our own Church. The expense in connection with this Home Mission Evangelistic Effort will be heavy. There are a number of things in connection with the campaign that you will be glad to know. Among these are;—

1.—Mr. T. M. Woods goes by his own offer without remuneration.

2.—The men of Bloor street congregation are paying all expenses for Professor Kilpatrick.

3.—The Portage la Prairie congregation is paying all expenses for Rev. Thurlow Fraser, their pastor, as well as pulpit supply.

4.—The Canadian Pacific Railway has granted free transportation from Winnipeg westward.

Next Sabbath morning the pastor will begin a series of expository sermons on the Beatitudes. The first sermon will deal in a general way with the teaching of the Sermon on the Mount.

Dr. Grenfell, "The Patron Saint of Labrador," as he has been called, will lecture in the Opera House, Wednesday evening. His work is well known to the people of Peterborough. He is worth going a hundred miles to hear.

Six of our men attended the recent Missionary Congress in Toronto. All have come home thoroughly imbued with the spirit of the Congress which was the Spirit of the Christ, and all are determined to do what they can to enlist the active co-operation of the men of St. Paul's in the work. Do not fail to hear these delegates tonight.

The Rev. A. L. Geggie of Toronto, will give a lecture in behalf of the Ladies' Aid Society on April 19th on "The Rose, the Shamrock and Thistle." He will be assisted by Mr. Baseldine, tenor soloist. Fuller notices next week.

Stallion Show on Market Square

The stallion show on the Market Square under the auspices of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition directors promises to be a most successful affair. Great interest is being displayed in the event by the horse-breeders of the district and the indications point to a very large attendance and a fine showing of horses. It should be understood that in order to exhibit stallions it is necessary that exhibitors should be members of the association and those who are not members should take out tickets which will give them all the privileges of the association during the fall fair. The exhibition on the Market Square will take place on Saturday, April 24th, and the classes will be as following:

Imported Clydesdales.
Canadian Bred.
Three-year-old imported Clydesdales.
Shire.
Percheron.
Coach.
Hackney.
Standard Bred.
Thorough Bred.
Pedigrees must be produced.

SIMPSON DEFEATED APPLEBY, ENGLISHMAN QUIT IN 15TH MILE

Appleby Could Not Pull Away from the Indian Who Finished the Race Alone, Time 2.03, 35—The Ojibway was Strong All the Way—Small Crowd in Attendance

Toronto, April 10.—Fred Appleby, the English runner of whom so much has been heard, proved a counterfeit in Saturday's race with Fred Simpson. Appleby quitting in the first lap of the sixteenth mile, or just a lap after Simpson passed him, the Hiawatha Indian finishing the last five miles alone.

Appleby set all the pace, but at twelfth mile he was laboring very bad and it only looked a matter of a few miles before he threw up the sponge. Appleby may have beaten Shrubb at fifteen miles, but he will never do it again, as the Alfie of today would run rings around the reputed importation from the old sod who was counted upon by the English critics and some of the Canadians as well to win the Olympic Marathon.

Appleby may have some speed, but his staying power is limited to fifteen miles. Simpson ran a beautiful race and bears out what Manager Crocker of the Canadian Olympic team said; "That Simpson was the coming Marathon Marathon runner. The time was very good for fifteen miles, it being 1.28.43, against 1.28 23 2-5 in the Derby at New York.

The crowd were all for Simpson and when Appleby quit, the cheering was loud and long, the crowd rushing over the field. Tommy Longboat was caught by the enthusiastic ones and carried around the field on the shoulders of his admirers.

Appleby's explanation for his poor showing was the cold weather, he declaring he was near frozen from the second mile up to the 15th.

1	mile —Appleby	5.18
2	miles—Appleby	10.53 1-2
3	miles—Appleby—	16.22
4	miles—Appleby	22.16

6	miles—Appleby	33.50
7	miles—Appleby	39.37
8	miles—Appleby	45.35
9	miles—Appleby	51.33
10	miles—Appleby	57.33
11	miles—Appleby	1.03.40
12	miles—Appleby	1.09.50
13	miles—Appleby	1.16.01 1-2
14	miles—Appleby	1.22.20
15	miles—Simpson	1.28.43
16	miles—Simpson	1.34.42
17	miles—Simpson	1.41.18
18	miles—Simpson	1.48.04

FOUR LAPS TO THE MILE.

Previous to the start of the Appleby-Simpson twenty mile race, which was run off after the ball game at Rosedale, it was announced the track would be four laps to the mile, a new track having been surveyed just inside the clay one, on the grass.

The crowd was very small, not more than six hundred being present and it looks like a white elephant for the promoters. Old Sol shone brilliantly at times, but these periods were few and far between, and altogether the crowd, like the weather, was a very cold one.

At 3.45 p.m., the crack of the pistol announced the start. Appleby, the English runner, taking the lead and setting a fast pace, with Simpson right behind. The Indian was running with more speed and looked more like a runner than on any previous occasion. The first mile was reeled off in 5.18, which is just four seconds behind St. Yves' time last week at New York. Appleby kept up a steady jog, the second mile time being 10.53 1-2, as against 10.44 by St. Yves in the Derby.

APPLEBY SETS THE PACE.

Simpson seemed content to let Appleby set the pace, there being no change in positions. The time for the third mile was 16.22, which is only seven seconds behind St. Yves' time. Simpson in this mile took off his gloves, running with his bare hands, but Appleby still retained his mitts.

While the fourth mile was in progress Alfie Shrubb bet Fred Rountree of the Tecumsehs $30 to $20 that Appleby would win. The time for the fourth mile was 22.16, which is 1-5 of a second better than St. Yves' time, although it must be taken into consideration that St. Yves ran over a turf track that was watersoaked.

The fifth mile was reeled off in 28.01 or one second behind St. Yves' time, while the time for the sixth mile proved to be 1 1-5 seconds better than St. Yves, the time being 33.50.

PACE BEGINS TO TELL.

The seventh mile showed the runners to be gaining on the Derby time, the time being 39.37, against 39.42 at New York, while the eighth mile was done in 45.35, one second ahead of Derby time. The ninth mile showed the runners to be slowing up, the time being 51.33 against 51.19 in the Derby.

Brano, manager of Appleby paced the latter a few yards in the next mile and handed out some instructions, but no anticipated spurt resulted, and the runners passed the half way mark or ten miles with the two together. Time 57.33 against 57.18 in the Derby.

Both runners took some liquid refreshments right after this mile post had been passed, Simpson losing 15 yards, but he soon gained the lost ground. Tom Lingboat walked across the field to the club house and received a hearty cheer from the small gathering Tom, however, went on unheeded to the club house, he evidently being affected by the crowd like some other "Indians" present.

The eleventh mile saw the runners still keeping up the fast clip, the time 1.03.40, which is somewhat slower than the Derby time of 1.02.47. Simpson showed his first spurt shortly after this, but he did not attempt to pass Appleby. However, the latter is now slackening up a trifle in his pace, and is running with a laboring stride. The time for the twelfth mile was 1.09.50, against 1.03.36 3-5 in the Derby.

Appleby received some more nourishment in the thirteenth mile, but Simpson passed it up. The time for this mile was 1.16.01 1-2, against 1.14.00 1-5 in the Derby.

The runners were still together when the fourteenth mile post was reached, but Appleby is being coached by his trainer on nearly every lap, besides he is taking more nourishment. Time 14 miles, 1.22.10, against 1.20.16 4-5 in the Derby.

APPLEBY QUIT IN 15TH MILE.

Just as the 15-mile mark was reached Simpson spurted and gained a big lead. Appleby just lobbing around, and one lap after he passed him. Appleby quit for good, Simpson finishing alone.

Celebrating 80th Birthday of General Wm. Booth, S. A.

London, April 10.—With the rising of the sun on Merry England's shores this morning, April 10th, there begins a celebration which will encircle the entire globe. It is the 80th birthday of one of the grandest old men of the century, and on that day men of all races, colors, castes and conditions will participate in showering gratitude and congratulations upon a world-wide benefactor—General William Booth, the founder and head of the Salvation Army.

This will not only be so in the case of his 98,975 officers, 20,325 bands men, and millions of soldiers throughout the world, but without doubt the General's modest little villa in the Old Land will be the destination of thousands of loving messages from people great and small in all lands, who want to take a hand personally in the remembrances of the hour.

HIS SLUM WORK.

Ham, England, in 1829, and when 15 years of age wandered into a Methodist chapel, and before he had left he had undergone that wonderful change of heart known the world over as "conversion." He joined the Methodist church, and at once launched into the slum work in Nottingham as a lay preacher. When 26 years of age he went to London and began his great slum work in the famous East End, and nine years later the Methodists ordained him a minister.

One day, while he was preaching in a Clapham chapel, a young woman named Catherine Mumford, an earnest and zealous Christian worker, was in the audience. She was greatly impressed by his sermon, and that impression had a broader meaning, and when, subsequently, they were made formally acquainted, they became in love with each other, and it resulted in a happy and successful union.

Mr. Booth felt he was called for the evangelical field, and though the Methodist conference made him a minister and desired to thrust him into their work of the pastorate, yet he felt he could not afford to neglect the gift that was in him for his beloved work, and one day in July, 1865, having no money, no church, no income, no prospects, and no support except from his faithful helpmate, he began his life's work in earnest in the East End of London. He cut himself from denominational ties, and followed the dictates of conscience.

BEGAN IN AN OLD TENT.

Securing an old tent, rotten and unsafe, he pitched it in an old disused graveyard in the heart of White chapel, and started preaching to the poor and neglected ones, every night resulting in scores of wretched ones coming to the penitent form. After a while he moved to a wierd place called Mile End Waste, where one night his tent came to grief under a driving rain and wind storm. He next found shelter in an old dancing saloon, then in an ancient wool warehouse. From here he moved into an abandoned theater, where one Sunday afternoon he gathered a score or more of the toughest and most notorious characters in the district. From that moment the work thrived and grew marvelously, a revival stirring the East End from end to end.

HOW IT GOT ITS NAME.

How the Army got its name took place in this way; Mr. Booth one day, in dictating to his secretary, used the words, "The Christian Mission is a volunteer army." The secretary wrote the sentence. Then Mr. Booth looked over the paper, and with his pen substituted "salvation" for "volunteer," as the stronger word. "Salvation Army," came with a sudden gust of inspiration, and the name was quickly appended to the movement.

Mr. Booth, being at the head of the movement, was naturally called "the General," and in this way the thought was originated, and so a great Salvation Army was inaugurated which has been used to carry the gospel message to millions of souls throughout the world.

From the very start William Booth accepted the Bible as it was written—literally. With all his heart and soul and mind he believed in eternal punishment and eternal peace, and that the atonement of Jesus Christ for sin was the only means of salvation.

WANTS TO ENTER RUSSIA.

"I hope they will allow me to enter Russia," said the General to Mr. Stead one day. "For years I have been in the list of persons who were forbidden to cross the border. The last time I went to Japan, Russia refused to allow me to travel by the Siberian railway. Even the name of Booth was enough to render it difficult for my daughter-in-law to return from Hemmingfors last year by way of St. Petersburg. But now I hope they understand I am not a revolutionist, nor even an assassin. I help their good, and shall rejoice to open Salvationist work among the Russian people. Open air meetings, I know, will not be permitted, but with that exception I believe we shall find no obstacle to our operations."

For years and years the army was held in contempt by the populace. They were shamefully ill-treated, yet with the exhaustless spirit of the Redeemer of all mankind they pressed through all the difficulties, the insults, the riots, the mob violence of those who had it in their hearts to maim and if possible, to stamp out the work so nobly undertaken, until they have reached the time when the storm has ceased and the sun shines in favor upon the universal work of the great mission.

W. T. STEAD'S TRIBUTE.

"Thirty years ago, when I first came to London, one of my first journalistic duties was to patrol the streets on Sunday nights in order to report the attacks made upon the Salvation Army processions by the mob," said Mr. W. T. Stead, in an interview recently.

"What a wondrous change has come over the spirit of our dream. Since Mr. Gladstone's death General Booth has become the Grand Old Man par excellence of Great Britain. No one attacks the Salvation Army in the streets, and very few criticise them in the press.

STILL THE CHIEF FIGURE.

With all his great age, General Booth is still the mainspring and controlling power of the great organization whose movements are directed from his office at London. His enthusiasm and wonderful organizing power have given life to the religious military system of which he is really "General."

Time Not Yet Ripe for Church Union

Toronto, April 11.—In Castle Memorial Hall yesterday a joint meeting of the boards of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec passed the following resolution;

While sympathising with the idea of a union of some kind of the Baptists of the Dominion to meet every four or five years, we believe that for the present at least, the purpose of such a union should be to promote mutual acquaintance to discuss the leading problems of Church and State, of the home and society in the light of our distinctive principles, to stimulate interest in our enterprises, and to promote the spirit in which they should be conducted.

Mr. Thos. Urquhart presided, and Rev. C. J. Cameron, secretary of the convention, acted as secretary of the meeting. The idea fo the union of the three Baptist conventions of the Dominion was discussed, but the feeling of the meeting was that the time had not yet arrived for union, and that the proposal was not yet practicable. Seventy members from as far west as Windsor, and as far east as Montreal, were present. Although the matter has still to be submitted to the convention, it is felt that the ideas of the seventy members will have a great deal of weight. The representatives agreed that, although not favorable to the present executive union, a decided step had been taken in the words of the resolution. A reference was made to the step taken by the Baptist laymen at the recent Laymen's Missionary Conference, in organizing for the Dominion, and it was deemed wise to watch the progress of it, as it would no doubt throw some light on the question of union.

Celebrating 80th Birthday of General Wm. Booth, S. A.

Big Ovation to Beresford as He Retired

Gen. Booth's 80th Birthday

(From the Sunday World.)

One figure at this time will be the cynosure of the eyes of the world, at least from a religious and sociological standpoint, and the people of fifty-two different countries and colonies will hail the name of William Booth as he will be found to take a prominent place in recognising the far-reaching and beneficent influences that have affected the whole empire in general, and himself in particular, through the unique personality of him who has been designated "The Grand Old Man" of the present great christian statesman and humanitarian of the age. In England, France, Germany and Scandinavia there will be festivals of thanksgiving—and their echo will ring in the jungles of India, and float to the islands of the sea, and mingle with the jubilations of the peoples of Australasia.

As Canada has shown her readiness to associate herself with matters of imperial importance, so she day.

Not only from a religious and sociological standpoint does Canada recognise the sterling worth of the movement governed by General Booth, but she realizes that in a material sense, in the scientific and careful treatment of its social propaganda, it has earned the gratitude of our statesmen and those who desire to see Canada become a great and growing nation. Canada also recognises that in all that stands for the uplifting of the national life, the attainment of those high ideals for which this country has established a reputation, the Salvation Army is no small factor.

The Army is the reflex of the noble impulses of its founder, hence we hail him and say; "Heartiest greetings on your 80th birthday. Long live the general!"

Commissioner.

Has No Gymnasium, Grant from Government Withheld

Kingston, April 10.—It is reported that the Ontario government has withheld the annual grant to the Kingston Collegiate Institute because that institution has no gymnasium, as required by the act.

Some time ago the Board of Education asked the city council for $4,000 to erect a gymnasium to meet the education department's requirements, but the council took no action, the civic finance committee being satisfied to let the government dare to withhold the grant.

Scenes at Portsmouth and London were Without Parallel in British Naval History in Times of Peace

London, April 10.—The scenes which followed the landing at Portsmouth of Lord Charles Beresford, after he had hauled down his flag by order of the Admiralty as commander-in-chief of the Channel fleet, were absolutely without precedent in the history of the navy in times of peace. The enthusiasm was as great as if Lord Charles Beresford, admittedly most popular officer in the British navy, had been some national hero returning from a great sea victory.

Immense crowds gathered both at the naval seaport and at the railway terminus in London, and gave the retiring admiral an ovation which bore a striking testimony to the feeling of the nation not only regarding his services to the country, but of resentment at the manner in which the present naval crisis had been dealt with by Mr. Asquith and his government. Lord Charles Beresford is now free to tell what he knows about the navy. His attitude is indicated in the following message which he gave to the press.

"I consider that the present situation with regard to naval affairs is so grave that I must have time to think carefully what course of action my duty to the navy and to the country dictates."

FAREWELL TO SHIPMATES.

His leave taking of the officers and men of his flagship, the King Edward VII., was almost pathetic. After shaking hands with the entire ship's company, the admiral, dressed in plain clothes, came ashore, all hands standing attention and giving a silent salute.

Outside the dock yard gates an enormous crowd was waiting in the rain and mud; The advent of Lord Charles was the signal for an outburst of a roar of cheers.

An Ideal Cough Medicine

"As an ideal cough medicine I regard Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in a class by itself," says Dr. R. A. Wiltshire, of Gwynneville, Ind. "I take great pleasure in testifying to the results of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. In fact, I know of no other preparation that meets so fully the expectations of the most exacting in cases of croup and coughs of children. As it contains no opium, chloroform or morophine it certainly makes a most safe, pleasant and efficacious remedy for the ills it is intended."

Easter Services at St. John's

Yesterday, Easter Sunday, was a big day in St. John's Anglican church. Five services were held, including the children's Sunday school in the afternoon, and all services were very largely attended. Rev. Canon Davidson conducted the services and was assisted by Venerable Archdeacon Warren of Toronto, who preached two eloquent and appropriate sermons at the morning and evening prayer. The music by the choir was of an exceptionally high order and the choir and choir leader, Mr. R. J. Devey, deserve great credit. The following is the program at yesterday's services:—

Easter Day.

Holy Communion 7 a.m. and 8 a.m.
11 a.m.—Matins and sermon.
Processional Hymn 134. Jesus Christ is risen today.
Easter anthems (instead of Venite) to Grand chant.
Benedictus, Chant 139
Office Hymn 138. "The strife is o'er."
Anthem "Christ is risen;" Turner.
The Doxology will be sung at the presentation of the thankoffering.
Holy Communion (Sung) at 12.15.
Hymn 127. "At the Lambs High Feast we sing."
Service sung throughout to Woodward's setting.
Elevation—"Since by man came death;" "By man came also the resurrection of the dead." Handel's Messiah.
Post Communion Hymn 126.
Concluding Voluntary "Gloria in Excelsis," Snyder.
Children's Easter service at 3 p.m. in the church.
The mite boxes and children's Easter thankofferings will be presented at this service.
Festal Evensong and Sermon 7 p.m.
Hymn for procession 133. "Come, ye faithful."
Psalms sung to Cathedral Psalter Chants, 155, 55.
Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis to Smart, in D.
Hymn before Sermon, "On the Resurrection morning."
Anthem, "Gloria in Excelsis," Mozart.
Recessional Hymn 137, "Christ is Risen."
Concluding Voluntary, "Hallelujah," Handel.

Letter to The Editor

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir.—I am pleased to notice that Dr. Grenfell is going to lecture in the Opera House on April 14th. He is doing a great work among the poor fisher-folk in Labrador, and very much for the cause of temperance, so I hope there will be a large audience to hear him as the mission ought to be of great interest to the people of Peterborough.

Yours truly,
W. S. MERRELL.

OBITUARY.

After a brief illness extending through one week, dread pneumonia claimed another victim in the person of Mr. Samuel McKee, who passed away on Good Friday night at the residence of his sister, Mrs. H. Bradburn, 771 Water street. He was a son of the late William McKee, of Smith township. Early in life he learned the dry goods business with the late W. G. Thompson of this city. Subsequently he went into business in Stratford and later was a member of the firm of Carson and McKee of Listowel, where for many years they conducted a successful general business.

Recently the late Mr. McKee has been living in private with his sister, Mrs. H. Bradburn, 771 Water street. In religion he was a member of the Methodist Church.

The deceased is mourned by one daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Large, Listowel; two brothers, John, of St. Thomas, and William, of Molesworth, and one sister, Mrs. H. Bradburn.

MONEY NO OBJECT

When People are Seeking Health or RELIEF from any DISEASE the Price Never Counts.

It is a fact that not less than a million is spent every year by people seeking a satisfactory cure for Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably the best and most highly recommended preparation in Catarrhozone which treats the local symptoms very effectually by means of medicated air supplied through a convenient hard rubber inhaler. The poisons in the blood are driven off by Parmelee Tablets, which are taken after each meal. They promote appetite, aid digestion, and make the blood rich and pure, so that it will nourish all parts of the body.

This combined local and constitutional treatment in catarrhal diseases has met with wonderful success and can be relied upon to cure every time. The inhaler stops sneezing, coughing, droppings in the throat, and brings quick relief and cure to all the disagreeable symptoms of catarrh.

The following testimonials from well-known Canadians furnish abundant proof what Catarrhozone accomplishes in stubborn cases.

Mrs. James Tweedie, of Jay Bridge, says: "For years my daughter doctored unsuccessfully for Catarrh. She had droppings in the throat, hawkings, nausea, and could not sleep at night. The first day's use of Catarrhozone benefitted and ultimately cured my daughter so that Catarrh has never returned. I can recommend Catarrhozone as a grand remedy for Catarrh."

Thousands of strong letters could be given like the above if necessary, but all this is required to prove the merit of Catarrhozone in a trial. It is sure as death to cure and if it fails your money will be refunded. Catarrhozone cured lots of cases worse than yours and can do it again.

Complete outfit costs $1.00. Small size 50c. Sold by druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

ELECTRIFICATION A SUCCESS

As a contribution to the discussion concerning the Illinois Central and electrification we give here the substance of a dispatch that was sent to a New York paper from New Haven a few days since.

The New York, New Haven and Hartford Road has experimented with electrification from New York City to Stamford, Conn., and, according to this dispatch, it has completed plans for an extension as far as New Haven, which is about seventy-three miles from New York, or forty miles beyond Stamford. It is said, moreover, that work will be begun at once on a power house on the Housatonic River. The news came out, it appears, at the trial of a suit for $10,000 damages against the railroad which was brought by a woman who complained of the smoke from a roundhouse, and Vice President McHenry made the statement in court that the roundhouses would soon be closed and that the old buildings would be refitted and remodelled for the storage of electric motor. He said further that in two years all the passenger trains between New Haven and Stamford would use electricity. We find also this pertinent paragraph; "The New Haven Road experts are unanimous in their opinion that the electrical operations between New York and Stamford are a success."

Mr. Harriman's doubt that electrification is a success in New York is then answered, and note that the roundhouse and the smoke have an important part in the story, and that the sufferers who are intent on being rid of a nuisance and who have a just cause of action are not expected to put up half the money, for abolishing the nuisance. Those who are responsible for the wrong are the ones to provide the remedy.

As regards the cost of the improvement on the Illinois Central, it is clear that the road is rich enough to adopt any practicable system. The cry of bankruptcy was heard in the earlier stages of track raising in this city, and it is no more impressive now than it was then.

We are taught not by declarations and theories, but by examples, the example of track raising here and of electrification in the East. And it is impressive to find that the same forces are at work everywhere and that with the yielding of the eastern roads we have the beginning of the end. Mr. Harriman himself admits that electrification must come some time. The public will insist that it has come already and that there must be a substitution of electricity for steam wherever conditions are such as to make the old system a nuisance to great numbers of people.

YOUR TEMPERATURE.

The Disease a Guiltiness Test is Used in Finding It.

What is a person's normal temperature? is a question often asked of every physician.

When the answer 98.6 degrees F. is given to the query very few people understand the physiological significance of this fact or how a degree of systemic heat is maintained during health within such narrow limits that their bodies have an even temperature the coldest day in winter or the hottest day in summer with an exactness of adjustment that is not obtainable in warming or cooling their homes with the most up to date heating and refrigerating apparatus.

Now, in accepting the statement that the body temperature is 98.6 degrees F. it must be borne in mind that to some extent this is a relative figure, for the warmth of the exterior varies markedly from that of the interior. The surface temperature of the head, hands or abdomen may differ from 96 degrees F. down to 86 degrees F. or lower, while that of the internal regions may extend up to 102.2 degrees F., the average of blood circulating in organs like the liver, pancreas and kidneys. For practical purposes some gauge must be accepted whereby normal temperature may be measured and compared. Therefore on account of convenience and practicability the temperature taken carefully under the tongue by a clinical thermometer has been selected as a common standard throughout medical circles. It is sometimes recorded in the axilla or grain instead of in the mouth when for any reason a sublingual test is not advantageous. The temperature of these localities differs slightly from the mouth, being .5 degrees F. less.—Technical World Magazine.

A STATE CARRIAGE.

Present to a Chinese Emperor That Puzzled the Orientals.

When, in 1793, Sir George Macartney headed the first British embassy to China, he brought with him numerous presents for the emperor. Among these was a magnificent state carriage, an article which delighted, but at the same time puzzled, the Chinese more than any other gift. Nothing like it had ever been seen at the capital. Comical disputes immediately arose as to the seat intended for the emperor.

The hammercloth which covered the box of the carriage had a smart edging of fleurdelys of rouge. It made a splendid appearance, and that, with its elevated position, immediately determined the official mind that it was without doubt the emperor's seat. Then the question arose of what the inside of the coach was intended for. The blinds, screens and so forth were all carefully examined, and it was decided that the interior was the place for the ladies only.

An old retainer went to a member of the embassy to ask if the conclusions were correct. When he learned that the fine elevated box was the seat of the coachman and that the emperor's place was inside the coach he was horrified. He asked, with a moan, if it was supposed that the son of heaven would suffer any one to sit higher than himself and turn his back on him. When he found that the driver was obliged to use the seat in question he requested that the box be removed and placed somewhere behind.—Helen H. Robbins' "Our First Ambassador to China."

Prayers For Rain.

"Shall we have prayer for rain, Thomas?" asked the vicar of the clerk during a protracted drought.

"Oh, sir, you do exactly as you please!"

"But don't you think it would be a good thing? Rain is badly wanted."

"You do as you please, sir. You'd better 'ave it if so be as you do want it."

"Well, Thomas, you don't seem to realize the necessity for having the prayer."

"Beg pardon, sir! You 'ave that there prayer if you be so set on it, but it won't rain till the moon do change."—London Academy.

A Home Trader.

A surgeon in a town, engaged to perform an operation of minor character upon a somewhat unsophisticated patient, asked him if he were willing to have only a local anaesthetic.

"Sure," replied the other. "I believe in patronizing home industry wherever you can."

And he meant it.—Lippincott's.

A Diplomat.

Landlord—How did you manage to rent that microscopic flat to Mrs. Hunter? Agent—Dead easy. When I showed her the little rooms I told her they were all closets, and she was so pleased that she forgot to look for rooms.—Exchange.

Reluctant.

Large Lady (beamingly)—Could I get a seat near the stage, please? Box Office (surveyingly)—Why, certainly. What row did you want? Large Lady (indignantly)—Don't get frush, young man.

Bad Season for Colds

Colds and grip were quite prevalent last winter and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in great demand and performed some remarkable cures. Mrs. Mary J. Robinson of Cameron, W. Va., says: "Last winter I was taken with one of the awfullest colds ever had in my life. I could not speak above a whisper and was very hoarse. I was afraid it was going to be pneumonia. I took one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in three days was lots better and could talk. I did not take but the one bottle and it cured me. I now tell everybody about Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the good it did me."

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments ever are to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

Why Do People Deposit Their Money in Banks for only 3 Per Cent. Interest?

BECAUSE, THEY THINK IT IS QUITE SAFE.

Why Do Some Invest in Bonds to get a Little Higher Interest?

Because, the bonds represent a mortgage on the property on which their money is invested which gives a feeling of safety.

Why Do People Invest in Wildcat Gold and Silver Mining Schemes? Because they think the chances of profit are big and they are willing to take the risk.

WHY NOT INVEST IN A SAFE STOCK IN A GOING COAL MINE

making money now and which presents such possibilities for development that it is expected that the profits will run from 25 per cent. to 50 per. cent. higher.

The Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited, Stock at $10 per Share is a safe Stock.

It is all common stock. There are no bonds or no mortgages or no preferred stock, on which interest must be paid before the common stockholder gets anything.

When you buy common stock of the Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited at $10 per share you become an actual owner of the mines and have an equal chance of the profits according to the number of shares held. A coal mine with a big deposit of coal ready for the miner's pick is as safe as a bank. To own and control shares of common stock in such a coal mine must be safer and better than holding bonds in a proposition in which you have no control and which may or may not be properly managed. The officers and management of the Winter Port Coal Mines of New Brunswick have the experience in mining and selling coal in both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

J. S. Gibbon, the President of the company, opened and developed the Wurter Port Mines to the present stage.

W. E. Vroom, the Vice-President of the Company, was for some years actively associated in the management of the Springhill Collieries in Nova Scotia and the Albert Mines in New Brunswick.

Manufacturers in St. John speak highly of the Winter Port coal.

Winter Port coal is a good locomotive coal and has been used on the Intercolonial and other railways.

The Winter Port Coal Mines being practically on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific now opening up through New Brunswick will provide a most convenient coaling facility for that great transcontinental railway. Immense quantities of coal will be needed by the great railways and by the manufacturers, steamship lines, etc., in connection with the development of Canada's Winter Port at St. John, N.B., which is only 55 miles in a direct line from these coal mines.

Secure some Winter Port stock now at $10 per share (there is no personal liability) and get your share of the profits of a safe conservative money-making proposition.

ANIMALS' WEAPONS.

Toothless Ant Eaters Have Claws Capable of Killing a Man.

Not long ago a British scientist and animal lover contributed to the world the result of his studies of animal life. Not the least interesting of his observations was "How Animals Defend Themselves."

"The larger animals in general," he says, "are provided with weapons more or less effective. The carnivora have sharp teeth, with which they rend their prey, and the toothless ant eaters have enormous claws, capable of killing a man.

"Many reptiles use their tails to strike down their game, while a large number of animals are supplied with pungent odors or secretions that are equally potent as a defence. In certain groups we find enormous horns and tusks that are intended entirely for purposes of protection. In some cases they are upon the top of the head, as in oxen or some cetaceans, they are highly developed teeth.

"Our common horned animals depend upon their head weapons for defence. They are of two distinct kinds and subject to a marvelous variation in the different families.

"One group, represented by the common cow, is called the hollow horned ruminants, because the weapons are hollow and persistent—that is, they are never shed except in one instance—the prong-horned antelope.

"Another great group, represented by the deer, have solid horns that are cast at certain times and grow again very rapidly.

"When a stag loses its horns it retires to the dense woods, away from its kind, and remains secluded until it is armed again. The growth of the new horn is very rapid.

"In the rhinoceros we find a curious arrangement, the horns in some being easily moved, seemingly only held by the skin. They form terrible weapons, however, though totally different in their construction from the ivory tusks of the elephant, with which they are often matched, being formed of hairy fiberlike matter. Some species have a single horn, while others have two."

Montreal's Venerable Canon.

The celebration by Rev. Canon Ellegood of Montreal of his 85th birthday, must have been a source of gratification to all the many friends of that venerable gentleman, who is both a vigilant apostle of the church and, old though he is, still a devoted disciple of old Izaak Walton and an enthusiastic golfer. Quite a common sight is that of the canon going over the course at Dixie in a time which puts many a youngster to the blush. And he invariably spends his summers in the pursuit of the frolicsome salmon or the wily trout. Probably no Montrealer has a better knowledge of the Maritime Provinces than has Canon Ellegood, and he never fails to impress upon his Montreal friends the much-needed lesson that there is no necessity to go out of Canada for recreation at any time of the year.

But the canon has some peculiarities. He is a vegetarian, and although not a teetotaler, he is one of those Anglicans who believe that drink is the cause of most evils. He makes it a rule never to have any liquor in his house, except, as in following the example of St. Paul, to keep a little alcohol ready to meet any stomach complaint. A few years ago Montreal reporter went to see the old gentleman in regard to some parish business and had an interesting interview. At its conclusion the following colloquy took place:

"Do you ever take anything?

The scribe, like most newspaper men, answered in the affirmative, and then the canon said:

"What will you have—an orange or an apple?"

What Heaven Is.

The wife of a minister was entertaining some friends the other day when one of the visitors asked the dominie's wife if she had ever painted a mental picture of Heaven. She said that she had not. Moreover, she declared, she had not thought it necessary to do so.

"Do you mean to say," inquired one of the visitors, with a show of surprise, "that you have listened to your husband's sermons without feeling that you knew what Heaven is like?"

"I mean to say that I have not given the matter much thought. When my husband dies I want to go wherever he goes. That will be heaven enough for me," announced the clergyman's wife.

One of the women told her husband that night what the minister's wife said, and the brute remarked:

"That's what I call love that never grows cold."

Homemade Pocket Lamp.

A simple and safe pocket lamp that will last for about six months without extra expense can be made at home for a few cents.

Have your druggist take a strong vial of clear glass or a pill bottle with screw or cork top and put into it a piece of phosphorus about the size of a pea and fill the bottle one-third full of pure olive oil that has been heated for fifteen minutes, but not boiled. Cork tightly, and the result will be a luminous light in the upper portion of the bottle. If the light becomes dim, uncork and recork again. The lamp will retain its brilliancy for about six months. This makes a perfectly safe lamp to carry. These lamps are used by watchmen of powder magazines. Care should be exercised in handling the phosphorus, as it is very poisonous.

Man's Contrariness.

One of the most curious traits of that most curious creature, man, is the fact that the very things he most admires in a sweetheart he condemns or ignores in a wife. Before they were married when she coquettishly stuck a flower in her pretty curls he went into rhapsodies of romantic fervor. After the honeymoon when she tries the same little Cupid's trick he most likely does not even see that she has adorned herself with a floral wreath to win a compliment or a kiss.

PEERESS WRITES PLAY.

Lady Townshend Combines Many Roles In London Production.

"The Novice," a one-act play written by the Marchioness Townshend, was successfully produced recently in aid of a local institution at the Maidenhead (Eng.) Town Hall. It is founded on a picture called "The Foundling," which the marchioness saw one year at the Academy.

"The two most striking points about 'The Novice,'" Lady Townshend says, "are that there are no male characters in it, and that there is no love scene.

"The play may be described as a Lenten play, for the character of Sister Catherine is a deeply religious one. Its object is to show how very lovely and devout some of the sisters in the convents are."

The scenery, also the work of Lady Townshend, represents the garden of the Convent of Our Lady of the Lilies, and the play was stage managed by her also.

The story is a simple one. It tells of the conflict of Marie Josephine between a saintly and a worldly life. She has been jilted by her lover and is about to take the veil, full of hesitation and doubts. Then in the midst of her vague fears and tremblings comes a message from the outer world which shows her the way she is to go.

It is none other than a cradle with a little baby in it— the child of her one-time lover, whose wife is dead, and who is dying himself. He leaves the baby to her whom he once loved, and she renounces her novitiate and resolves to devote her life to the child.

It was received with enthusiasm for its austere, beautiful sentiment, and Lady Townshend, smiling and beautiful, bowed her thanks.

The play was inspired by the Academy picture, "The Foundling," Lady Townshend said after the performance. It is meant to show the power and efficacy of prayer.

"I should love to see it produced in London," she said.

A Venturesome Lord.

Lord Brooke, heir to the earldom of Warwick, who is reported to be engaged to Miss Eden, daughter of Sir William and Lady Eden, and one of the most beautiful girls in society to-day, is in his twenty-eighth year, and first distinguished himself as a lad of seventeen by running away from Eton to serve in the war in South Africa. The story ran that he pawned his fur coat and bought a second-class ticket for the Cape. Touched by this display of spirit, his friends obtained for him a reasonably safe employment—as A.D.C. to Lord Milner! He was the youngest officer bearing a commission in South Africa, and at the close of the war was given a command in the 1st Life Guards. He has since served as a war correspondent with the Russian army in Manchuria, and there he spent his twenty-first birthday. He has also made an adventurous trip to Uganda.

A Fee to Tipsters.

Lord Durham, the new Knight of the Garter, enjoys, among other distinctions, that of being one of the few twins in the peerage, and of being so much like his brother, the Hon. F. W. Lambton, that they could on occasion take each other's places. His lordship is one of the richest of our peers and a keen sportsman. He is an old member of the Jockey Club, and lately has been singularly successful on the turf. Last year he won no fewer than forty-one races, on one occasion scoring a "treble," the stakes totalling nearly $10,000 for the day. His great desire, however, is not so much to win races as to make the "sport of kings" more pure. He would abolish racing "tipsters," and his famous speech at the Gimcrack Club some years ago, in which he denounced turf frauds in unmeasured terms, led to considerable improvement in the tone of the racing world.

The Tallest Bishop.

Dr. Talbot, the Bishop of Southwark, who recently celebrated his sixty-fifth birthday, is still in full vigor, despite an Alpine accident by which he was long crippled. Dr. Talbot is said to be the tallest occupant of the English Episcopal Bench, being well over six feet in height. He is also perhaps the most democratic of High Churchmen. He is always accessible to humblest of his flock, and patronises the penny bus far more frequently than he does the more expensive cab. Many good stories are told of Dr. Talbot. Once he played in a Worcestershire cricket match, and a local curate bowled him a wide. "That's outside my parish," abseted the bishop. The next ball caught him full in the episcopal apron. The reverend bowler apologised, but added, slyly, "That, at any rate, was well in the diocese, my lord!"

Aborigines of Australia.

There are now 78,000 of the aboriginal population in Australia. Of this number there are about 20,000 in the colony of Queensland. Queensland has an elaborate system for looking after the welfare of the blacks by means of "protectors" stationed all over the colony to see that the natives are fed and clothed and shielded from interference of white people. Many of the natives are over six feet in height. Like most savages, they are polygamists, but they are not cannibals. The natives under civilization have developed habits of economy and saving. They have made good progress in both reading and writing, but missionary reports state that teaching them arithmetic is hopeless.

An Historic Custom.

The forthcoming marriage of Lord Desaro, son and heir of the Duke of Wellington, to Miss Coats, reminds one of the fact that at Apsley House, where the bride-elect will one day reign as Duchess of Wellington, the old custom is still kept up of presenting a flag to the sovereign on each anniversary of the battle of Waterloo. These flags are subsequently given to the regiment of Guards quartered at Windsor.

HE GOT BIG PAY.

An African Salary That Commanded Respect and Obedience.

Makuba and Obianga were two Africans, the one the captain of a boat crew and the other subordinate to him. Obianga was an independent fellow, not in the least lazy, who rather resented "bossing." In a book entitled "The Jungle Folk of Africa" R. H. Milligan tells of an altercation between the two men. Makuba, the diplomatic, came out of it with flying colors.

The worst disputes between Makuba and Obianga took place when they supposed that I was asleep. The native when he lies down anywhere sleeps immediately. Whenever I was lying in the bottom of the boat they always thought I was unconscious and that no conceivable noise could waken me.

Captain Makuba orders Obianga to "haul away on the peak halyards," to which Obianga promptly replies:

"Do it yourself."

"I won't do it; you will do it!" says Makuba in a threatening tone.

"Are you my father?" says Obianga.

"No," answers Makuba, with infinite scorn. "How could a Kombi man be the father of a creature like you?"

"Then stop giving me orders!" says Obianga, with rising wrath. "It is not the first time you have tried it, and one of these days you will find out that it won't do."

"One of these days you will find out that I am captain of this boat and that you will have to obey me," says Makuba.

"Not as long as I carry a gun," answers Obianga.

By this time they are standing up and looking hard at each other. But Makuba would not think of striking a man in a mission boat. He therefore becomes diplomatic. Suddenly in a tone altogether different he says:

"Obianga, the trouble with you is that you are just a bushman. You don't know anything about civilization. On every big ocean steamer there is a captain, and every man on board, no matter what tribe he belongs to, obeys the captain."

Obianga becomes instantly curious and asks, "Is he rich?"

"Yes," says Makuba; "he gets big pay, and so do I get big pay."

"How much do you get, Makuba?"

"How much do you think?"

Obianga thinks as well as he knows how, his countenance distorted with the effort, and at length answers reflectively, "Two dollars a month." He himself gets a dollar and a half.

A broad smile engages Makuba's features as he slowly answers, "Five dollars a month."

Obianga gives expression to his surprise in a long, low whistle. It is quite evident to him that no ordinary person could command such wages, and in a tone of utmost compliance he says: "What was it you told me to do, Makuba? I forget."

"I forget, too," says Makuba. "Oh, yes," he adds, "I told you to haul on the peak halyards."

Maryland Lotteries.

A Baltimore man interested in antiquarian research made a collection of old lottery tickets which gives interesting testimony as to the development of public morals. Most of the tickets were given out by Maryland lotteries, but quite as large a collection could undoubtedly be made in other states. Four of the tickets are in the Washington monument lottery, which was authorized by the legislature and was not given up until 1824. As early as 1763 a lottery was advertised to build a wharf. The drawing took place April 20, 1764. Ten years later one was undertaken to build a market house in "Baltimore Town" and for "buying two fire engines and a parcel of leather buckets." In 1782 a yearly lottery was authorized to aid the city expenses. Other objects for which money was raised in this way were parsonages, church bells, circulating libraries and gristmills.

Why He Wondered.

A certain Irish police inspector was reviewing a Belfast police station, the sergeant of which was a very bad speller. Looking through the books, he came upon an entry, "Found a pig wondering on the public road."

"Sergeant," said he, "what was the pig wondering at?"

"I don't know, sir," said the bewildered man.

"Well," said the inspector grimly, "I do. He must have been wondering why I promoted you!"

The Elemental Feminine.

Arthur, aged four, and Louise, aged two and a half, were disputing over a string which Louise claimed. All threats and force on Arthur's part were useless; she would not give up. After a moment he used guile.

"Wess," he said, "will you be my little wife?"

"Yes," she coyly answered.

"Then give me the string," he commanded.

And she gave it without a murmur.—Lippincott's.

Answered.

Borleigh—Ha, ha, old man! Nailing down a carpet, are you? Jones (who has just struck his thumb)—No, you fool! The carpet was here all the time. I'm just putting the floor under it!

Says This Medicine Has Mystic Powers

It's in the spring that health gives out—that folks begin to feel draggy, weary, restless,—hate to eat, look pale, feel discouraged.

If you've reached this state read what J. W. Jarvell, well known in Morristown, has to say about the medicine that cured him. "Last winter I caught a heavy cold that settled in my back. My kidneys and liver were affected and my health failed. By spring I was in bad shape—couldn't sleep like I used to—felt tired in the morning—ate very little—was terribly depressed, late and anxious looking. Twinges of rheumatism, frequent neuralgia attacks over the temples, made matters worse. The doctor prescribed three times, but didn't help. Then I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills—They possess mystic powers surely, for I gained and improved day by day and now am in perfect health again. I will praise and use Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I die."

The ingredients in Dr. Hamilton's Pills are pure and wholesome—come right from the storehouse of Nature to the form of veletable juices and extracts,—consequently this gentle invigorating laxative tonic and blood purifier is safe for old and young alike. We assure you of enormous benefit from Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which revitalize delicate glands search out the seat of hidden disease, flood the body with vigor and health that has caused thousands of broken-down, despairing men and women to join in a mighty song of praise for the beneficient aid that comes from this king of all tonics. Stiff Neck

Stiff neck is caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the neck. It is usually confined to one side, or to the back of the neck and one side. While it is often quite painful, quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of rheumatism in ten requires internal treatment. When there is no fever and no swelling as in muscular and chronic rheumatism, Chamberlain's Liniment will accomplish more than any internal treatment.

Easter Gifts

Although Easter is of ecclesiastical origin and essentially a religious festival, it has from very early times been looked upon as a time of gladness and well-wishing.

In Canada the season has a special attractiveness because it comes to us on the threshold of spring, when all the world is bright and beautiful. This would seem therefore the most appropriate time in the year for remembering friends.

In view of the increasing popularity of seasonable gift-giving, we are showing a wide assortment of dainty and suitable articles of all kinds, including Easter cards, greeting cards and novelties. We cordially invite you to see our stock whether you buy or not. Times Bookstore, Hunter street, Peterborough.

Keep off the Grass in the Parks in the Future

It has been reported that there was no provision in the statutes to protect the parks from trespassers. Such, however, is a mistake. Upon looking up the latest amendments it was found that a clause was added, including downs, etc., without a fence around them in the trespass clause. To walk across lawns or pull flowers from the beds is a punishable offence and the parks come under this clause. The chief of police was duly notified and he has instructed his men to keep an eye open for trespassers. The Horticultural Society has also notified their men. In future anyone caught walking on the grass at Victoria or Central parks will be prosecuted. It will be well for the public, or at least the individuals to keep off the grass.

Weekly Drill and Orders for the Week

The second weekly drill this season was held last night in the old armories and it will probably be the last drill on the block pavement. A large number were in uniform and some good work was done. The orders for the week were read by Acting Adjutant Major W. G. Bennett as follows;

Peterborough, April 12, 1909.

Orders by the officer commanding the 57th Regiment Peterborough Rangers;—

1. The following extracts from militia orders No. 247, Wednesday, Oct. 28, 1908, is promulgated for information of the regiment certificate of military instruction has been granted as follows;—Lieut. J. H. Eastwood of the 57th Regiment, special Lieut. Supt. R.M.S.

From militia order No. 248, Thursday, Oct. 29, 1908;

The undermentioned officer has been examined in equitation by Boards of Officers at camp at Barriefield and Aldershot and has been issued with a certificate of qualification;—Lieut. J. H. Eastwood, 57th Regiment.

No. 2. Detail of duty, for week ending April 19th, 1909. Captain for the week, Capt. Mills; next for duty, Capt. Clunton. Subaltern for the week;—Lieut. Langford, next for duty, Lieut. Kelly.

No. 3. The regiment will parade with both bands, stretcher section and signallers at the drill hall at 8 o'clock p.m., on Monday, April 19th, 1909, for the first marchout of the season. The regiment will leave the drill hall at 8.30 p.m., proceed east on Murray street, south on George, east on Simcoe, north on Water, west on Murray and return to the drill hall. It will then march into the new drill hall and take possession of the quarters allotted to them.

No. 4. Officers commanding companies will see that all extra clothing, equipment, etc., will be placed in the several company boxes ready for removal into the new armories on Tuesday, April 13th. The boxes will be locked and the O. C. will retain the key. Major Bennett is hereby detailed to take charge of this transfer.

No. 5. The commanding officer desires to call particular attention of all officers of the regiment to orders Nos. 2 and 3.

No. 6.—Leave of absence from parade is hereby granted to Lieut. J. D. Clark.

No. 7 The C.O. has been pleased to make the following promotions; A Co. to be Col.-Sergt. F. W. Levett vice Col.-Sgt. J. G. Giles, discharged.

G. W. BENNETT.
Major,
Acting Adjutant.

Sergt.-Major Rundle, formerly of the 57th Regiment, and who is in the city on a visit, paid a visit to the boys at the armories last night, and received a cordial welcome. The Sergt.-Major intends to return to the city and take up his residence in the near future.

One Man Dead and Many Badly Burned In Swan River Hotel

Swan River, Man., April 12.—The Empire Hotel was destroyed by fire on Sunday morning.

The flames had a good start when discovered, and the occupants made their escape through the windows.

Walter Livingstone, a young homesteader, journeying from his parents' home in Minneapolis, was burned to death, while a comrade was rescued with difficulty. It was thought that Livingstone got out, but being missed a search in the ruins confirmed the fears that he must have been overcome.

Most of those who escaped got away in their night gear, and many of them were more or less burned.

Teachers will be in Convention

The annual convention of the Teachers' Association of the city will be held at the Collegiate Institute on Thursday and Friday, May 20th and 21st. The County Teachers' Association will also meet on the same dates at the Normal School. On Thursday evening a joint meeting of the associations will be held in the Collegiate Institute Assembly Hall, when Rev. Canon Cody of Toronto, will give an address on an appropriate subject. This will be an open meeting.

"Inverlock" was Destroyed by Fire

"Inverlock" the beautiful summer resort on Sandy Lake, owned by Mr W. J. Irwin, was totally destroyed by fire on Saturday afternoon. The loss is nearly $10,000, only a small amount of insurance being carried.

The fire broke out in a shed in close proximity to the dwelling and it is supposed that it was caused by a spark falling on the roof of the outbuilding. The fire spread rapidly from the shed to the dwelling, and Mr. Irwin and his family were unable to do anything to stop the flames. So quickly did the fire accomplish the destruction of the buildings that only a small quantity of the household effects was saved. The loss on the building is placed at $7,000 and the contents destroyed were worth in the vicinity of $1,500.

"Inverlock" was one of the most popular resorts at the lake, and it will likely be rebuilt.

The Copper Belt Mines Co. Limited

In another column of this issue will be found the advertisement of the Copper Belt Mines Co., of Chicago. This company is disposing of its stock at par value $1 per share. The property is located in the Raw Hide Buttes, Loraine County, Wyoming. It consists of 600 acres and shows rich values in copper, gold and silver, with an abundance of lime and iron. There is every indication of enormous profits resulting from the working of these mines and it will be a wise man who invests in them.

The officers and directors are all business men of standing and of sound business principles who are connected with the company because it gives promise of being a good paying proposition. Look up their advertisement for fuller particulars.

The Roller Rink Opened Last Night

The Auditorium roller rink, which was so popular last season was reopened last night after several months' quiet, and a big crowd of skaters were present. The young people were just as anxious as ever to get on the rollers and rock over the hardwood floor. Prof. Geasne and Miss Patterson are again in charge, and they were welcomed by the patrons. The band was present and rendered a fine program adding much to the pleasure of the evening. The auditorium is one of the most popular pleasure resorts in the city. The exercise is healthy and invigorating, and this season promises to be a most successful one. The management has secured a splendid attraction for next week in the El Roy sisters, a reference to whom will be found on another column.

The officers of the 57th Regiment had a flashlight group photo taken by Mr. R. M. Hall last night in the officers' quarters after the drill. This was to commemorate the last meeting in the old drill hall.

Farm Labor in Demand, Want Experienced Men, Unemployed Won't Work

Port Hope, April 12.—Thanks to the presence in the neighborhood of a goodly number of British immigrants, many of whom have been here for several years, the rural labor problem needs no solution. With but one or two exceptions, not a farmer in Hope or Hamilton townships is in need of a man.

An odd feature of the case lies in the fact that most of the Britishers have gone in for the raising of fowl in large number. Some bright and enterprising firm went through here some time ago with a few loads of incubators, and now none but the slowest is without a machine, a lamp, and a few settings of eggs.

IDLE WILL NOT WORK.

Peterborough, April 12. — Farmers in this district at the present time cannot get help. There are, as is usually the case in the spring of the year, a large number of unemployed walking the streets, but they refuse to take up farm work. Every Saturday and even on week days farmers endeavor to get men to help them with the early work, but they return home empty handed. Men and women and boys too, are wanted, but very few can be secured.

Mr. G. Hewson, the local immigrant agent, has fifty or more names of farmers who have applied for helpers, and the names have been on his books for weeks. The wages are higher than last year, $20 to $30 a month being the general offer, but this does not tempt any of the city idlers. The farmers consider the situation with a feeling akin to alarm as many of them will be without the help necessary to hurry through the plowing and seeding which will be general in a week or two.

NEED HELP IN KENT.

Chatham, April 12. — Experienced farm help is quite scarce in Kent county. There are dozens of idle men in and around Chatham, but they are mostly immigrant Englishmen, who know nothing and do not seem to care to know anything about farm work. The seeding season will soon be on full blast in this section and it now looks as though it will find Kent farmers without proper assistance.

The Marathon Derby Receipts were $38,000

New York, April 12.—The gross receipts from the Marathon Derby at the Polo grounds were $38,000. The New York Baseball Club assumed all risks and guaranteed $15,000 for expenses, which included the $10,000 purse.

It was understood that the expenses in excess of this amount were to be shared by Messrs. Powers and Pollok, who simply promoted the match; also, that the net receipts were to be divided on a 50 per centbasis. In this way it is said that the club and the promoters divided about $23,000 equally.

NEWS OF ATHLETICS.

St. Yves defeated Matt Maloney in a 20-mile race at Providence, Saturday by 3 laps and 25 yards in 2.02.02. St. Yves and Shrubb have been matched for 15 miles in New York, April 24.

Fred Appleby wants another crack at Fred Simpson. He says that in the warm weather he can eat the Indian for breakfast. The Englishman forgets that Simpson will improve with the warmer weather, too.

Tom Longboat tried to resume training Saturday with a 5-mile walk, but he found his heel too sore, and he had to let up.

The Italian championship road race Saturday over the I.C.A.C. course in Toronto, was won by G. D. Dominico, with W. C. Liberto second, and A. Pilolli third. The time was 30.23.

St. Luke's Church Has a Handsome Surplus

A large and representative number of St. Luke's congregation attended the vestry meeting in the Sunday school room last night. The rector, Rev. Dr. Langfeldt presided. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

The financial report was presented and was the most gratifying that has been received for a long time. Besides paying all indebtedness there is a handsome surplus on hand to begin the new year. The wardens were warmly complimented and especially Mr. C. R. Browning, the people's warden. The members of the congregation are also to be congratulated upon their liberality in contributing to the work of the church. The finances of St. Luke's were never in better condition.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The rector chose as his warden for the year, Mr. G. L. Hay, while the people elected as their warden Mr. C. R. Browning. 00

The sidesmen were elected as follows;—Messrs. Wm. Maniece, G. G. Pratley, Henry Potter, Chas. Crane, G. L. Hay, Stephen Gaskins, Alex. Fitzgerald, Samuel Whitaker, C. R. Browning and R. B. Rogers.

Lay Delegates to the Synod — Messrs. G. L. Hay, Wm. Maniece and G. M. Warde.

A committee was appointed to consider the vesting of the choir, and to report at the adjourned meeting two weeks hence. The members are; Messrs. Frank Adams, H. Adams, Alex Fitzgerald, C. R. Browning, jnr., J. J. Turner, jr., R. B. Rogers.

Auditors—Messrs. F. J. Jamieson and G. L. Hay.

Resolutions of condolence was passed to the family of the late Col. J. Z. Rogers and to Mr. Alex Fitzgerald.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Bible class for their generous assistance, financially and otherwise during the past year.

The meeting adjourned for two weeks.

An enlarged photograph beautifully executed, of the late Col. J. Z. Rogers, was presented to St. Luke's church yesterday by Mr. R. M. Ray, a lifelong friend of the late Colonel. The photograph, which represents him in the uniform of the 57th Regiment as Colonel, is hung in the Vestry of St. Luke's church.

The Easter offering was a most generous one, the sum received was greater than that asked for. This is an exceedingly gratifying state of affairs and speaks well for the congregation and the rector.

Large Gathering Heard Rev. J. A. Wilson, M.A.

Knox church was well filled again last night to hear Rev. J. A. Wilson, M.A., pastor of St. Andrew's church, Hamilton, give his address on "A Nation's Best Asset." The lecture was in connection with the anniversary services which were held on Sunday. The chair was taken by the pastor, Rev. B. J. Keith, who made a few opening remarks and then introduced the speaker of the evening. At the close of the program Rev. Mr. Riddiford, pastor of Park street Baptist church, was called upon to make a few remarks which he did in a humorous way.

Rev. Mr. Wilson's address was eloquent and extremely interesting, and was very closely followed throughout. The speaker was very popular with both Knox and St. Paul's congregations when he was assistant pastor at St. Paul's and he still has a large number of admirers here who were glad of an opportunity to see and hear him again.

During the evening the following musical program was rendered;

Duet—Misses Gason and Chilea.
Banjo Selection—Mr. Clark.
Anthem—Knox church choir.
Solo—Miss Bryce.
Banjo Selection—Mr. Clark.
Anthem—Knox church choir.

Women's Styles From Paris Designs Come from Hades

Sunday, as a day for displaying the new creations that the milliners claim are hats was a decided failure. It is true that the sun was bright and cheerful, but the wind blew out of the north and sent the cold chills running up and down one's back like it does in mid-winter. It was a cold day and there was snow on the ground. Still there were not a few of the fair sex who defied the weather man and appeared on the streets, and in the churches in summer dresses and bunches of straw on tops of their heads. If the new hats seen Easter Sunday in the churches are a sample of what are to come the men might just as well start now and remain at home on Sundays. When one sees the collection of bird cages, coal scuttles, umbrellas, bath tubs, cabriolets, etc., etc., one does not wonder at, but agrees with the words of Rev. Dr. William Young Chapman of the Somerville, N.J., Presbyterian church, who said, "Women get their fashions from Paris, and Paris gets them from hell." Again he stated, "Fashions have never been so subtly diabolical as now."

Dr. Chapman did not express in words what he thought of the women who were lead about by the nose by the designers of women's wearing apparel, but it is safe to conclude that his opinion would be somewhat similar to that of the men who sit behind the hats.

In years gone by it was possible for a man to occasionally dodge a woman's hat. Not so now. If a fellow is able to pass safely down the roadway he will do well.

One man said;—I saw a great big thing in the distance flopping up and down for all the world like a flying machine trying to rise. I hurried towards the spot only to find a skinny little woman with her outer "barn-door" on her head trying to navigate against a breeze.

The Charity Board Met Last Night

The semi-monthly meeting of the Charity Board was held last night in the city clerk's office. The accounts for the month of March were passed, as the regular monthly meeting was not held. Several applications were considered although the number of people seeking charity is beginning to decrease with the opening of spring work, and from now on there will be still fewer applications.

Successful Year for All Saints' Congregation New Church This Year

All Saints' congregation had a most successful year since the last report. The vestry meeting was held last night and the financial report showed large increases. The meeting was well attended and the rector, Rev. Mr. Trumpour presided. This was the first vestry meeting the new rector has been at, and it must indeed have been gratifying to him to find a united church, and all working in harmony.

The feature of the wardens' report was that during the past six months the weekly offerings have averaged $60 per Sunday, the largest amount ever received. The average for the six months preceding was $38.

The reports of the various branches of the church were read by the following;—

Woman's Auxiliary—Mrs. Gilbert.
Woman's Guild—Mrs. Davis.
Girls' Guild—Miss E. Bullen.
Men's Association—Mr. Metheral.
Sunday School—Mr. A. E. Wilson.
Boys' Club—Mr. A. E. Wilson.
Girls' Auxiliary—Mrs. Bloyce.
Chancel Guild—Miss Gilbert.
Wardens—Mr J. Edgar.
Building Fund—Mr. J. Edgar.
Poor Fund—The Rector.

All the reports showed that the societies had all prospered and had accomplished much good work.

The total sum received from all sources was $4,215.21, including $563.73 for the building fund.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

People's Warden—Mr J. Edgar.
Rector's Warden—Mr. Hogan.
Lay Delegates to Synod— Messrs. Davis, W. G. Rowden and Thos. Hooper.
Clerk of the Vestry—Mr. A. E. Wilson.
Report on Charity Board— Mr. W. Buller.
Report on Nicholls Hospital Board —Mr. John Green.
Auditors —Messrs. Dryland and Davis.

NEW CHURCH.

The building of the new church will proceed at once. The congregation is now waiting for the tenders to come in and these will be opened and the contracts awarded at the adjourned meeting to be held in two weeks.

Inspecting the New Armouries

Inspector Fuller of Ottawa, and Contractor G. A. Proctor, of Sarnia, arrived in the city last night, and inspected the armories. They will complete their work today and see that everything is all right before the regiment moves in. The regiment will have the extra equipment with the military boxes, etc., moved into the new quarters today and possession of the armories will be taken next Monday night upon the return from the first march out. The armories are now completed. The painting being the last contract to be finished, was completed on Saturday. The inspectors are well pleased with the manner in which all the work has been done and they will have a favorable report to make to headquarters when they return to Ottawa.

Dr. Grenfell Coming

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Peterborough, April 12, 1909.

Sir,—It is to be hoped everyone who can possibly do so will be present to hear Dr. Grenfell's address on Wednesday evening. He is a man who deserves from us a very hearty expression of approval and support. His personal sacrifices—his utter disregard for self,—where the welfare of others is concerned, cannot be too highly referred to.

Apart from the fact that his remarks will be extremely interesting, a crowded opera house will evidence our appreciation of his devotion to his great work, and will tend to encourage him in his efforts, already so successful to improve the physical and moral condition of the fishermen of Labrador.

Yours truly,
E. A. PECK.

OBITUARY

MRS. DAVID CASEY.

Mrs. David Casey of Otonabee passed away at her home, lot 29, concession 9, of that township, Sunday about twelve o'clock. She was forty years of age and had been ill for over a year. Her maiden name was Johanna Heffernan, and she was a daughter of the late Patrick Heffernan of Otonabee. Mrs. Casey is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mary and Geraldine, and six sons, Thomas, John, David, Willie, Jimmy and Eddie. They will have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

The funeral will take place this morning at nine o'clock from the family residence to St. Peter's Cathedral and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

MRS. JOSEPH HUSTON.

Word was received in the city Sunday, of the death in Chicago, of a former Peterborough lady, Mrs. Joseph Huston, who passed away in that city on Saturday. Mrs. Huston was formerly Miss Ida Martyn. She is a sister of Mrs. John H. Mowry, Sherbrooke street. Her husband was buried here a few months ago. Two daughters, Mrs Benson of Winnipeg, and Mrs. Cannon of Chicago, are left to mourn her loss.

The remains are expected here today and will be interred in Little Lake cemetery.

Annual Vestry Meeting of St. John's Church

St. John's church vestry meeting was held in the guild room last night. The rector, Rev. Canon Davidson presided. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

The financial report showed a surplus of $235.67, over and above all expenses. In addition to this the church has $700 on special deposit towards the reduction of the church debt. This means that the new vestry has been opened and paid for in one year from Easter to Easter. The financial report was referred to the auditors.

On motion of the retiring wardens, Chas. H. J. Mitchell, seconded by Mr. Harry Long, the retiring rector's warden, Mr. Jos. Mills was elected people's warden for the ensuing year. The rector was not prepared to name his warden until the adjourned meeting two weeks hence. In the meantime, upon the request of Rev. Canon Davidson, Mr. Mitchell will fill that office.

On motion of Messrs. C. H. J. Mitchell and Harry Long, Mr. Robert Fair was elected to represent the church on the Nicholls Hospital Board.

On motion of Messrs. Fair and Mitchell, the rector, the wardens, Dr. Halliday and Harry Long were appointed a committee to name the Advisory Board.

Messrs. W. R. Morris and Frank Linton were appointed auditors.

The meeting then adjourned for two weeks.

At a subsequent meeting of the congregation Messrs. Jos. Bell, McFarlane Wilson and W. E. Conway were appointed lay delegates to the Synod.

Coughs that are tight, or distressing tickling coughs, get quick and certain help from Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. On this account Druggists everywhere are favoring Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. The tender leaves of a harmless lung healing mountainous shrub give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its curative properties. Those leaves have the power to calm the most distressing Cough, and to soothe, and heal the most sensitive bronchial membrane. Test it once yourself, and see! Sold by all Dealers.

El Roy Sisters are Coming Here

Peterborough people will be given a treat next week when the El Roy Sisters will appear at the Auditorium roller rink. These two little girls are only 9 and 11 years of age. They are the youngest professional skaters on the road and they are good ones too. They have appeared five times in Toronto and always attracted large audiences and they were in Montreal four times. This week they are playing a return engagement in Brockville, and next week they will appear here. The children are noted for their beauty and grace and will no doubt draw large crowds.

A Woman's Sympathy

Are you discouraged? Is your doctor's bill a heavy financial load? Is your pain a heavy physical burden? I know what these mean to delicate women—have been discouraged, too; but learned how to cure myself. I want to relieve your burdens. Why not end the pain and stop the doctor's bill? I can do this for you and will if you will permit me.

All I want need to be write for a free test of the remedy which has been placed in my hands to be given away. Purchase this one box if only you—it has done so for others. If so, I shall be happy and you will be cured for 50 (the cost of a postage stamp). Your letters held confidentially. Write to-day for my free treatment. MRS. F. B. CURRAN, Windsor, Ont.

Slowly Dying

Thousands are slowly dying from catarrh, but don't know their danger.

A CASE IN POINT.

Mr. Ulric Berault, a young gentleman who has lived for years in Sweetsburg, Quebec, inherited Catarrh from his mother. The disease spread through his system till he was a physical wreck.

"As a child," said Mr. Berault, "I was prone to an ulceration of the mucous lining of the throat and nasal passages.

"I grew pale and emaciated, lost all desire for food, and got into such a dreadful condition that my friends said that Catarrh was fairly eating me up.

"Every organ of my body seemed affected and the doctor said it was the first stage of consumption. He advised Catarrhozone, and I inhaled it ten minutes at a time every few hours, and was rewarded in a few days by a wonderful improvement.

"Catarrhozone pleased me and the doctor so well that I used it continually, and took Ferrozone Tablets after each meal to build up my strength. In about three weeks I was quite recovered, and the doctor says no remedy but Catarrhozone could work such a miracle.

"Every one in town knows I was just about dead with Catarrh, and my cure is an evidence of what Catarrhozone can do. It is a pleasure to recommend Catarrhozone."

(Signed) Ulric Berault."

Catarrhozone beyond question is the proper remedy for catarrhal and bronchial troubles. The medicated air goes all through the air passages of the head, throat and lungs. It kills the germs, heals the sore spots, allays irritation and keeps the breath pure.

Headache, tired feeling across the eyes, nausea, all these well-known disagreeable symptoms are overcome by the medicated air of Catarrhozone.

Ferrozone Tablets which are used in conjunction with Catarrhozone Inhaler drive all the poisonous secretions of catarrh from the blood. One taken after each meal creates new appetite and digestion, strengthens the stomach, revitalizes and invigorates the entire system.

Catarrhozone is quite unsurpassed as a cure for Catarrh in any part of the system. It is highly recommended for Bronchitis and Asthma, and for coughs and colds has no equal.

Complete outfit, sufficient for two months' treatment, price $1.00; trial size 25 cents. Druggists or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

BRITAIN PREPARING

The Morocco question, which had its alarms, was settled, and one after another the issues in the Balkans have been peacefully closed. True, it is impossible to say how durable are some of the understandings that have been reached. So far as the outside world can judge the amicable arrangement between Germany and France, in respect to Morocco, was entered into in good faith. Turkey's acquiescence in the terms of Austria's seizure of the two provinces leaves no chance for the reopening of the dispute on that account. The agreement to which Turkey and Bulgaria have come through Russia's mediation and substantial aid is sure to hold so long as other causes of disturbance in the Balkans are inactive. Servia's acceptance of Russia's advice, and submission to the judgment of Europe in accordance with that advice, leave Austria without excuse for further aggressiveness towards the little Slav power. Unless Austria throws off all pretence of decency and attacks Servia, war will hardly come of the Balkan situation.

Not equilibrium in that quarter, however stable or unstable it may be, was hardly brought about before the attention of the world was turned to disquieting appearances in the relations between Great Britain and Germany. There has been no disagreement, no diplomatic hitch, between the two governments. On the contrary, the governments are on the most cordial terms. King Edward has not long ended a very pleasant visit to Berlin, where he was warmly received by the people, as well as by his nephew, the emperor. Yet all at once the British people are aroused to a tremendous pitch of feeling by a play which turns on their unpreparedness to resist invasion. That play enormously assisted to enroll the ranks of Mr. Haldane's Territorial Army, and in this way contributed to a strengthening of the land forces and increasing the security against an invading host. But the play was not the only assistant of anti-German feeling and preparation. Parliament was not long in session before Mr. McKenna, first lord of the admiralty, made his alarmist speech as to the rapidity with which Germany has been stealing marches in the matter of naval construction. The nation responded to this grave utterance and to the warnings of the opposition under as it responded to Dr Mawrier's ping.

Plainly, the British people have no confidence in German assurances of good-will, and are convinced that the only footing upon which intercourse with Germany can be carried on with safety is that of power. So long as Britain is strong enough to speak with any assurance she may feel easy in her relations with Germany. That appears to be the sense of the British people, and it is sound sense. There may be wrong in suspecting Germany of being at heart hostile to their country, but they are not wrong in insisting that their country be maintained in a condition for defence against any foe.

A POLITICAL HISTORY

If you want an evidence of the growth of Canada that you can keep right under your eye, compare the Parliamentary Guide of thirty years ago with the volume just issued for 1909, with its 800 closely packed pages. Here are the election of 221 members of the House of Commons, and of 443 members of Provincial Legislative Assemblies—nearly as many elected legislators as sit at Westminster. There are biographies of all these and of 87 Senators, besides members of Provincial second chambers, and others, bringing the total up to not far short of a thousand. There are detailed results of general elections for the Dominion and nine provinces. There are the names and offices of every ministry since Confederation, and every province since its creation. There is also a concise description of the constitution of Canada, illustrated by quotations from the Confederation Act and other documents. The popular vote in the last general election is given for the benefit of those who like to show how near the opposition came to pulling as many votes as the government.

An addition which has involved a great deal of labor is a list of all the bye-elections held for the House of Commons since Confederation. Many a hard-fought battle is recalled by these figures, and many an argument could be settled by consulting the pages of the Guide. Everyone who is interested in the political history of Canada will find instruction and entertainment in this compact little volume.

A Wife to Be Pitied.

"I don't believe in early shopping," said the short man in the corner of the car.

"Why not?" the man with the dark green hat asked him.

"For a very good reason," replied the short man. "If I don't give my wife her Christmas spending money until the day before Christmas, she won't come back at me for more, can she?"

And he grinned atrociously.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Misunderstood.

When Mark Twain was a young and struggling newspaper writer in San Francisco a lady of his acquaintance saw him one day, with a cigar box under his arm looking in a shop window.

"Mr. Clemens," she said, "I always see you with a cigar box under your arm. I am afraid you are smoking too much."

"It isn't that," said Mark. "I'm moving again."—Success Magazine.

Father—Why do you allow that fellow who's calling here to remain so long?

Girl Law Student—Merely practicing for my uphill practice, father.

Father—How so?

Girl Law Student—Well, I was prepared to dismiss his suit, but of course I had to listen to his argument for a while.—Baltimore American.

Her Mother—I thought I just heard you saying goodby forever to Mr. Snigglefy.

She—Yes.

Her Mother—Then why are you pencilling your eyebrows and taking such pains to fix yourself up?

"What is the difference between making money and earning money?" asked the youth.

"Sometimes the difference is a trip to the penitentiary for counterfeiting," answered the home grown philosopher.—Pittsburg Post.

Diagnosis.

"Is that water you are using well water?"

"I s'pose not," answered Farmer Corntassel. "I don't see how it could do exactly well with all the germs the doctors say it has in it."—Washington Star.

Bad Season for Colds

Colds and grip were quite prevalent last winter and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in great demand and performed some remarkable cures. Mrs. Mary J. Robinson of Cameron, W. Va., says: "Last winter I was taken with one of the severest colds ever had in my life. I could not speak above a whisper and was very hoarse. I was afraid it was going to be pneumonia. I took one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in three days was lots better and could talk. I did not take but the one bottle and it cured me. I now tell everybody about Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the good it did me."

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stock a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneeze stage—they break, or ward off these early colds. That's merely better. That's why they are called Preventics.

Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Ripe for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you notice all over, think of Preventics. Prompt as they also are in preventing stomach sickness. And don't forget your child. If there is feverishness, night or day, Heroin probably lies. Preventics' strongest ally. Sold in 10 boxes for the pocket, also in the boxes of 25. Preventics. Insist on your druggists giving you

Why Do People Deposit Their Money in Banks for only 3 Per Cent. Interest?

BECAUSE, THEY THINK IT IS QUITE SAFE.

Why Do Some Invest in Bonds to get a Little Higher Interest?

Because, the bonds represent a mortgage on the property on which their money is invested which gives a feeling of safety.

Why Do People Invest in Wildcat Gold and Silver Mining Schemes? Because they think the chances of profit are big and they are willing to take the risk.

WHY NOT INVEST IN A SAFE STOCK IN A GOING COAL MINE

making money now and which presents such possibilities for development that it is expected that the profits will run from 25 per cent. to 50 per. cent. higher.

The Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited, Stock at $10 per Share is a safe Stock.

It is all common stock. There are no bonds or no mortgages or no preferred stock, on which interest must be paid before the common stockholder gets anything.

When you buy common stock of the Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited at $10 per share you become an actual owner of the mines and have an equal chance of the profits according to the number of shares held. A coal mine with a big deposit of coal ready for the miner's pick is as safe as a bank. To own and control shares of common stock in such a coal mine must be safer and better than holding bonds in a proposition in which you have no control and which may or may not be properly managed. The officers and management of the Winter Port Coal Mines of New Brunswick have the experience in mining and selling coal in both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

J. S. Gibbon, the President of the company, opened and developed the Winter Port Mines to the present stage.

W. E. Vroom, the Vice-President of the Company, was for some years actively associated in the management of the Springhill Collieries in Nova Scotia and the Albert Mines in New Brunswick.

Manufacturers in St. John speak highly of the Winter Port coal.

Winter Port coal is a good locomotive coal and has been used on the Intercolonial and other railways.

The Winter Port Coal Mines being practically on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific now opening up through New Brunswick will provide a most convenient coaling facility for that great transcontinental railway. Immense quantities of coal will be needed by the great railways and by the manufacturers, steamship lines, etc., in connection with the development of Canada's Winter Port at St. John, N.B., which is only 65 miles in a direct line from these coal mines.

Secure some Winter Port stock now at $10 per share (there is no personal liability) and get your share of the profits of a safe conservative money-making proposition.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Land Agency or Sub-Agency for the district in which the land is situate. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at any Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother, or sister of an intending homesteader.

Duties—(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. He may also do so by living with father or mother, on certain conditions. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) A homesteader intending to perish with the above while living with his parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

The Budding Acter Was a Success as Carlos the Fiddler.

"The son of a wealthy old friend of mine, being stage-struck, joined out with a traveling opera company. I met him loafing and strutting about a hotel in a small town," said the veteran actor.

"'Come over to the opera house and see the show,' said he.

"I went, but I saw no signs of this young man on the stage, nor was his name on the program. Afterward I met him in the lobby of the hotel.

"'I did not recognise any of the characters as you,' I remarked. 'What part are you playing?'

"'Why, I am playing the part of Carlos the Fiddler,' said he.

"'There was no such part.'

"'Oh, yes, there was. Didn't you notice how they talked about him? In the first act, in order to get the chorus off the stage, didn't the soubrette put her hands over her eyes, look off L. 4 E. and say, "Oh, girls, Carlos the Fiddler is going to have a dance on the green; let us hasten or we will miss it," then burst into song and skip off? You bet she did.

"'Then, again, in the second act, when the bell is tolled without, doesn't the prima donna say: "Hark that bell! That bell can stand an awful lot of harking, for who is pulling the rope but Carlos the Fiddler?"

"'That is true, young man, but they only talk about you. You do not show yourself on the stage during the whole performance.'

"'I am aware of that, but you must remember I am as yet a raw recruit. Still I feel I am on my way to fame and glory, though the path may be strewn with thorns.'

"'Oh, if the hope and optimism of youth could be with us in our later years!' sighed the veteran actor.

KEEP CHEERFUL.

Use Logic Even When You Have Cause For Feeling Blue.

Whoever went through an entire season without seeing a ray of sunshine? And yet when we have the blues how often we sit down and prognosticate a future for ourselves without a single mitigating circumstance in it to warrant us in not swallowing a tablespoonful of strychnine and getting through with our troubles all at once.

There are few out of custody foolish enough to abandon all hope on a dark, rainy day and say: "Now I know that it is always going to rain. It never can be any brighter. Nothing will ever happen to make it stop, and I rather expect it to keep on getting worse and worse."

It may rain for a day or two, and sometimes things are pretty soppy for a week, but we all know that it will stop eventually, so bear with our rubbers and umbrellas and leaky roofs and wet wood and muddy floors with a fair degree of philosophy, always looking out hurriedly the first thing in the morning for drying weather.

Now, why can't people be as logical about their hard luck as they are about the weather and not let a blue day make them sure it's bound to last?

Nobody ever keeps right on breaking her best china plates or spoiling twelve egg cakes or making both dress sleeves for one arm. Very few break their legs or arms more than once or twice in a lifetime. Not many have typhoid fever more than once. Then why can't people when they are getting their dose of such trouble pull themselves together for the strain, all the time saying over and over so that they won't for a minute forget it: "Never mind. Everybody has to take a turn. A thing like this is sure not to last forever."

Death Signs In Holland.

The outward signs on the houses where some one has died in north Holland are original in the extreme. When the dead person is a Protestant, a long black mantle such as the undertaken wears when he goes to the grave is hung in the middle of the front door. In the case of a Roman Catholic a tall black cross is placed on the doorstep.

Too Much Sport.

Lord Kinnaird, the president of the Football Association, speaking recently at Newport, Monmouthshire, said he feared that the people of Great Britain were carrying sports too far and making them an occupation instead of a recreation.

The Cowboy BARONET PRAISES ZAM-BUK.

EVERYBODY has heard of Sir Camille Cave-Brown-Cave, "The Cowboy Baronet"! Most people know that this gentleman, whose home is at Stretton Hall, Ashby-de-la-Zouch, England, prefers the active life of a traveller and a worker to that of a titled gentleman. Sir Camille Cave, in his cowboy role, made himself well-known in several of the States. He has also lived at different times the life of a sailor, a soldier, a gold-miner, and a contractor, so that his opinion on many subjects is exceedingly valuable. Like most men of note, Sir Camille Cave is a firm believer in Zam-Buk. He has carried it with him to all corners of the earth, and proved its value in a thousand emergencies. He has used it when in the wilds of Australia, the deserts of Egypt, the plains of India, and the mysterious cities of China. When working as a "Cowpuncher" in the States it was his great stand-by. Writing to a friend recently, he said of this great balm:—

"I feel it to only my duty to let you know what great benefit I have derived by keeping Zam-Buk handy, and having it in constant use. For the sprains and bruises which I have incurred in my cowboy life generally I have found it a reliable and speedy healer. Some of the best nights in the West that I know are Zam-Buk nights, with the greatest benefit. On one occasion my horse, "Bob," came down with me. He rolled over my limbs, bruising me generally, and tearing pieces of skin off my arms. By the use of Zam-Buk immediately, the wounds and bruises were cleanly and quickly healed, and the raw parts covered with new healthy skin. When on the plains I have used Zam-Buk for poisonous insect bites, and have found it particularly beneficial for mosquito bites, and the aches and pains following malarial fever caused by mosquitoes.

"Zam-Buk has yielded me far more remarkable results and generally proved more reliable than anything could have done in the way of mere ointments and embrocations, and I think it is without equal as a healer of skin diseases and injuries."

No clearer evidence than that above from this well-known Leicestershire baronet could be needed in order to finally establish the reputation of Zam-Buk. Never before has any "First-Aid" preparation attained the success Zam-Buk has obtained with the classes and the masses all over the world. This is because never before has such a rich, pure, and unique balm been discovered.

The secret of Zam-Buk's strength lies in the refined herbal extracts which form the essential foundation of the balm, and to the ingredients owner in which these herbal juices are combined with one another. Parents in the home, foremen in the workshops and factories, and athletes in the field, cannot do better than "Keep a box of Zam-Buk Always Handy."

WHAT ZAM-BUK CURES.—Zam-Buk is a positive and certain cure for cuts, burns, bruises, [illegible] festering sores, ulcers, scalds, blood-poisonings, eczema, scabs, varicose ulcers, boils, ringworm, prairie itch, ringworm, pimples, skin-eruptions, scalp-sores, bad leg, diseased ankles, and all other skin diseases and injuries. Rubbed well into the parts affected, it cures eczema, chilblains, and indolent ulcers. All Druggists and Stores sell at 50c. box, three for $1.25, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse the cheap and harmful imitations sometimes represented to be "just as good."

Lease of Water Powers

Province of Quebec.

Notice is hereby given that the lease of the two groups of water-powers below mentioned, will be offered at public auction in the sales' room of the department of Lands and Forests, in this city, on Tuesday, the 11th May next, at 10.30 o'clock in the forenoon.

The lease will be for seventy-five years on the terms below stipulated and on such other conditions as will be made known to the public on the day of the auction.

1. The "Kai-Kai-Ke" group (River des Quinze).

Description; —The water-powers created by the Kai-Kai-Ke rapid and the other rapids and falls situated above it as far as Lake des Quinze, in the county of Pontiac, at about 12 miles from the Indian Village of North Temiscamingue to which the steamboats connecting with the C.P.R. trains, at Temiscamingue ascend; also four hundred acres of land in the vicinity of the said rapid and of the Kai-Kai-Ke portage, from the head of the said rapid to a line drawn across the river des Quinze, at nine hundred feet above the entry of the channel called "Bryson Creek," together with all the lands that may be flooded in consequence of the construction of the dams intended to submerge the rapids above that of Kai-Kai-Ke and to Lake des Quinze exclusively, without such dams causing any portion whatever of the waters of River des Quinze to overflow into some other stream.

Total head, 96 feet; absolute power at low water, 32,000 horse-power, without warranty of exact measurement.

The lessee shall be obliged to expend a sum of $250,000 on the development of the said water-powers within the three years following the passing of the lease, in default whereof the lease shall be cancelled and the payments made confiscated.

2. "Inland Rapids," group (River des Quinze).

Description; — The water-powers formed by the rapids known under the name of "Big Pipe Stone," "Little Pipe Stone" and "Islands Rapids," in the same county, at about eight miles from North Temiscamingue, to which the steamboats connecting with the C.P.R. trains of Temiscamingue ascend, including; 1. The bed and the water-powers of the River des Quinze, properly so called from a line drawn across that river at nine hundred feet above the entry or head of "Bryson Creek," to the prolongation across the said river of the division line of ranges 7 and 8 of the township of Guigues; 2. The bed and the water powers of "Bryson Creek," channel or arm of the said river; 3. The large island between the river des Quinze, properly so called and the said "Bryson Creek," as well as all the islands and lore shores and all the inlets and reaks in the said river and said "Bryson Creek," between the two lines above described; 4. A strip of land of 10 chains (660 feet) in width or depth (measured in a due north and south direction) along northern bank of the river des Quinze and of "Bryson Creek" and extending between the two lines above described; 5. Lastly, a strip of land also of 10 chains in width or depth, along the southern bank of the river des Quinze, between the two said lines drawn transversely to the river.

All these lands, bed of the river des Quinze, bed of Bryson Creek, islands, etc., covering a superficies of about 2000 acres.

The difference of level in the river des Quinze between the two lines above described is 96 feet in round numbers representing at low water, an absolute power of 32,000 horse-power, the whole without warranty of exact measurement.

The lessee shall be obliged to expend $200,000 on the development and working of these hydraulic powers within a delay of three years from the date of the passing of the lease under pain of resiliation of the lease and the confiscation of any payment made in the said delay.

The government binds itself to not sell for ten years from this any lands on the banks of the river des Quinze on a width or depth of at least fifteen chains (990 feet) beyond the lands above designated, from the foot of the rapids called "Island Rapids" to Lake des Quinze exclusively, so that the lessee may, at all points of the bank have free access to the river and that he may choose within that area the lands necessary for the full working of the said water-powers, which lands, whose superficies—including that of the lands mentioned in the above descriptions—shall not exceed 2560 acres for the "Island Rapids" group, and 2000 acres for the "Kai-Kai-Ke" group, shall also form part of the property leased.

The upset price shall be fixed on the day of the auction and each person desirous of becoming a bidder, must deposit at the Department of Lands and Forests before the sale, an accepted cheque for $10,000 which will be returned to him after the sale, unless he be the person to whom the property will be adjudged; to this person the said sum of $10,000 will be refunded when he shall have given proof of complete compliance with the conditions prescribed as to the development of the said water-powers, which compliance must be messed within the six months following the date of the lease.

English in Java.

A book published in Java, called "The West Java Travelers' Guide," says of a certain sanitarium: "At the establishment is a physician. The sick may invoke the physician for daily treatment, with use of medicaments. Children below ten years pay for lodges half of the price."

Under "Addresses and Announcements" is politely recommended "the hotel prigin, with occasion for warm baths, where till now all reconvalescents, as well as Mrs. Physicians and particulars and officials, have found back their health. Cures malaria, complains in the chest and other fatnesses, green sickness, cutaneous diseases," etc., and we are assured that "this healthy abode for reconvalescents has also occasion to many delightful idylic excursions to which saddle horse and tandems are stationed when before timely ordered."

He Had No Objections.

He had held one of the fattest jobs in the gift of the local political boss, and when he died there was an unseemly scramble for his position. The first man to reach the boss had no particular claim upon him, but merely placed his faith in the adage of the early worm.

"Guv'nor," said he, "do you think you would have any objections to my getting into Jones' place?"

"Oh, I'm sure I have no objections," was the unfeelingly reply. "None in the world, if the undertakers and coroner are willing."

Not So Easy as He Looked.

The passenger train had halted in an isolated rural district on a summer afternoon. The "smart" young man aboard, who volunteered to furnish amusement for the passengers, discovered an awkward country lad sitting on a stump not far distant. Seeing the opportunity for some fun, he cried: "Hello, sonny! Do you live in these parts?"

"Yaas," drawled the youth.

"Say, do you have any fools around here?"

"Nary one," came the response. "We sent for a carload last week, but wasn't lookin' for them yet."

The Care of the Eyes.

When one is using the eyes for close work it is wise to change the focus at intervals and gaze off at a distance. If the distant view is of green mountains and fields it will be most restful. If the air in the room can be frequently changed that will rest the eyes also. One should never use the eyes for study or work before breakfast or after the strength has been reduced by disease or a nervous strain. A book should be held about eighteen inches from the eyes. The light for work should be steady and for an entire room diffused rather than spotty.

As She Used to Every Morning.

The bereaved Mrs. O'Leary, with a neighbor, stood sobbing over the coffin of her deceased husband.

"Oh, Mrs. Murphy!" she cried. "Oi can't belave Pat's lyin' there dead. He's only ashlape."

"Shure, he do look loike he wor only ashlape," returned her sympathizing friend. "Call to him, Mrs. O'Leary—call to Pat jist as ye used to wake him iv'ry marnin'."

Mrs. O'Leary dashed away her tears and called vehemently:

"Git up, ye lazy baste, an' go out an hunt fer a job!"

The Rat's Revenge.

While a rat-trap was being set in a Woodbridge, England, wheelwright's shop recently by the light of a paraffin lamp, a rat darted out of a hole and upset the lamp. The premises was set on fire, and damage to the extent of $1,000 was done.

Maryland Lotteries.

A Baltimore man interested in antiquarian research made a collection of old lottery tickets which gives interesting testimony as to the development of public morals. Most of the tickets were given out by Maryland lotteries, but quite as large a collection could undoubtedly be made in other states. Four of the tickets are in the Washington monument lottery, which was authorized by the legislature and was not given up until 1824. As early as 1763 a lottery was advertised to build a wharf. The drawing took place April 20, 1764. Ten years later one was undertaken to build a market house in "Baltimore Town" and for "buying two fire engines and a parcel of leather buckets." In 1782 a yearly lottery was authorized to aid the city expenses. Other objects for which money was raised in this way were parsonages, church bells, circulating libraries and gristmills.

Why He Wondered.

A certain Irish police inspector was reviewing a Belfast police station, the sergeant of which was a very bad speller. Looking through the books, he came upon an entry, "Found a pig wondering on the public road."

"Sergeant," said he, "what was the pig wondering at?"

"I don't know, sir," said the bewildered man.

"Well," said the inspector grimly, "I do. He must have been wondering why I promoted you!"

The Elemental Feminine.

Arthur, aged four, and Louise, aged two and a half, were disputing over a string which Louise claimed. All threats and force on Arthur's part were useless; she would not give up. After a moment he used guile.

"Wess," he said, "will you be my little wife?"

"Ess," she coyly answered.

"Then give me the string," he commanded.

And she gave it without a murmur.—Lippincott's.

What Every Woman Requires for Headache Languor

When your strength gives out?
Do you feel languid and tired this spring?
Are you pale, somewhat nervous, finding it hard to do your housework?
Then you feel just the genuine—feel the enervating influence of spring, whether that brings out latent symptoms of disease and weakness. You should do like Mrs. Flanagan of Beaver Junction—here is her experience. "I will never again suffer the torture of headache spring illness — never, until I have headaches, each sleepless night, each pale cheeks and lack of appetite. I tried through ill all several times, but now I know the medicine that cures. I urge every person, young and old, to try the invigorating effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. When I was so played out, listless,—Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me appetite and relished my meals and grew strong. Rosy color came to my cheeks, every day I felt brighter and better. All my old strength has been restored and the great tonic, blood purifying powers of Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."
Women who are continually pale, tired and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, aching muscles, bearing, downs pains, lack of sleep and loss of appetite—they are the poor women that sorely need Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. 25c at all dealers.

Cosgrave's Beer

Words of praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Cosgrave's" refers you

It is safe to say that no product, of any kind, enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

Its self-evident honesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body, and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

Turkish Troops Revolt and Surround Parliament

Seize War Office and Demand Dismissal of the Grand Vizier---Resent Young Turks' High-Handed Manner

Constantinople, April 13.—The mutinous troops are demonstrating against the building of Parliament.

Panic has seized the people of Constantinople, and all through the city shops are being hurriedly closed.

Constantinople, April 13.— Serious disturbances of a revolutionary character have broken out here. The situation is grave.

Frankfort, Germany, April 13. — "Constantinople has been in full revolution since early this morning," declared the Constantinople correspondent of the Frankfuter Zeitung in a despatch from the Turkish capital, dated today.

"Two battalions of troops quartered in the ministry of war marched out at dawn, headed by their officers, and proceeded via Divan and Jolu streets to the Mosque of St. Sophia, from which point they surrounded the building of parliament. They demand the dismissal of the Grand Vizier, the president of the chamber, and the minister of war."

OCCUPIED BUILDING.

Vienna, April 13.—Startling rumors are current here to the effect that Constantinople today is in the throes of a grave revolutionary movement.

The information thus far received is meagre, but it is reported that several thousand mutinous troops have surrounded the building of the parliament, and that the whole capital is in a state of dangerous excitement.

Another report says that the ministry of war has been occupied by the insurgents and that the minister has fled.

RESENT YOUNG TURKS' WAY.

London, April 13.—The only news to reach London up to half past twelve today of the situation in Constantinople was contained in a code message. It set forth that serious disturbances of a revolutionary character had broken out, and that the situation was grave, and it was accepted here as foreshadowing a dangerous upheaval.

Neither the foreign office, the Turkish embassy, nor the banks with Constantinople connections had any further information. It is known, however, that the situation has been extremely strained for several weeks past owing to the great bitterness between the Committee of Union and Progress and the Liberals. The Liberals resent the attempts of the committee to control public affairs.

AN EDITOR MURDERED.

The murder on April 7 of Hassan Fehmi Effendi, editor of the Liberal newspaper Serbest, is thought here to have been the climax of the political feud. The editor was shot and killed by an unknown man as he was entering his office.

A government official accompanying him was wounded. The Serbesti had been carrying on a campaign against the Committee of Union and Progress, in other words, the Young Turks.

Violent demonstrations both inside parliament and in the streets adjacent following the killing of the editor. The Grand Vizier and the President of the Chamber were obliged to harangue the crowds outside, and assure them that justice would be done. The chamber accepted an interpellation denouncing the crime as a political murder, and calling upon the government to take the necessary steps to apprehend the assassins.

The eulogies showered on Turkey for transforming her government, from that of an autocracy to that of a constitutional government without the shedding of a drop of blood were rather previous. While the growing power of the Young Turks persuaded the Sultan of the wisdom of acquiescing in their demands, particularly as they had a strong following in the army, the Liberals who favor constitutional government objected to the arrogant assumption of autocratic powers by the Committee of Progress, composed principally of members of the Young Turks' movement, and the difference between these two forces, which should be co-operating, has become so acute that bloodshed is almost inevitable. The retirement of the former grand vizier, the strongest man in Turkey, which was forced by the Young Turks, was the first step towards an open break between the two bodies representing the people. The present fight is not against autocracy, but against bureaucracy, and it will be fortunate indeed if the reactionaries who are by no means asleep do not seize the occasion to overthrow the constitution. The world will look on with the keenest interest during the developments of the next few days, and Britain, which has been the foster parent of the Turkish constitution, and the ardent supporter of the former grand vizier, will be sure to use her influence on behalf of the people. Her wise guidance, so freely given during the recent months was never so needed.

HALF A MILLION DOLLAR FIRE SWEEPS CITY OF ROCHESTER

One Hundred Families are Homeless—Mostly Polish Jews—Financial Loss Much Less Than First Reported—Local Firemen Conquered the Flames

(Special to The Times.)

Rochester, N.Y., April 13. — The fire which broke out here this morning about 11 o'clock in the Palmer Building, which is devoted to manufacturing, has resulted in serious loss. The building is situated at the corner of Main and Gibbs street. This was the starting point of one of the biggest fires in the history of Rochester.

The fire swept over a wide area, it having jumped nearly a mile where it started the second series of fires. The conflagrations were of such proportions that the local fire department seemed inefficient to cope with the situation.

Aid was immediately summoned from Buffalo and Syracuse and both of those cities rushed companies to Rochester. By the time the outside assistance arrived however, the local firemen were masters within both areas. The assisting firemen were held in reserve in the center of the city as every Rochester company had been called on for duty.

Although accurate estimates cannot be made at this time the loss is at least $500,000. This includes $40,000 on the Palmer Building, $100,000 on the Running Co. manufacturing plumbers' supplies, and $90,000 on the beautiful Jewish temple, and the rest is in small amounts.

More than 100 families are homeless, but most of them are Polish Hebrews, who have not yet recovered from the fear that the fire was a signal of the second coming of the Messiah.

Mayor Edgerton this evening issued a call for relief funds for these families. Some of the unfortunates are quartered in present houses and a large number of them are spending the night at public school No. 9.

The militia with loaded rifles are patrolling the fire area tonight, and will remain on duty until order is restored.

SWEEPING THE CITY.

Rochester, April 13.—At 1.30 this afternoon fires were raging in two sections of Rochester, apparently uncontrollable, and unless the gale which is now blowing 30 or more miles an hour abates, the damage will be incalculable. Every piece of fire apparatus is on the scene, and appeals have been sent to Syracuse and Buffalo for assistance. Both cities have replied that they are sending aid on fast trains.

At this time it is estimated that the loss is easily one million dollars.

The fire broke out in the Selden Building, a four storey structure at the corner of Gibbs and Main street. That building is in ruins. The flames leaped to St. Peter's church on Grove street, and then to the big Jewish synagogue, the Berith Kodesh Temple. St. Peter's was saved, but the temple is gutted. Apartment houses on Grove street, valued at $100,000, were next swept away, and then the flames attacked a score or more residences.

Rochester, N.Y., April 13.— Fire broke out this forenoon in a business block at the corner of East Main and Gibbs streets. It communicated with some apartment houses in the rear of St. Peter's church. A high wind was blowing.

Later a second fire broke out in the First Reformed Church of the Reformed Church in America, a frame structure in Oregon street, corner of Harrison, about a mile from the first fire, and an alarm was turned in. Owing to the necessities of the big fire raging in Main street east at the time, only one company could respond, and with the inadequate means at their disposal the firemen were unable to save the church building, and turned their attention to the protection of surrounding property.

Across Harrison street from the church is the rather large lumber yard of the Palmer Lumber Company. The lumber yard caught fire from the burning church.

The building in which the flames were first discovered were occupied by the Electro-Surgical Implement Company. The building is entirely destroyed. So far as is known, every person employed in the building where the fire broke out escaped.

TWENTY-FIVE HOUSES ON FIRE.

The flames are still spreading.

Twenty-five houses are now afire in the section of Grove, Gibbs, and Stillson streets. Berith Kodesh Temple will be a total loss. First German Lutheran Zion church also probably will go.

At one o'clock Chief Little and the Board of Underwriters, at a conference, decided to call help from Syracuse and Buffalo.

One girl is reported missing. She worked in the burned Palmer Building. A woman on Nassau street went violently insane from fear as her home was in the path of the flames, and she was sent to a hospital.

Panic of 1907 Caused a Loss to American Railways of 330 Millions

Chicago, April 13.—An advance abstract on the statistics of the American railways for the year ending June 30, 1908, as compiled by the Bureau of Railways' News and Statistics, says;

"Instead of a decrease of only $164,464,941 in gross earnings, as the result of the temporary financial depression of 1907-08, as set forth in the preliminary income report of the Interstate Commerce Committee for the year ending June 30, 1908, the panic of 1907 resulted in a loss of over $330,000,000."

A Sad Double Drowning Reported at Gananoque

Gananoque, Ont., April 13.—Albert Wheeler, aged 24, and Frank McCabe, aged 30 years, were drowned a few miles west of this place shortly before 12 o'clock last night.

Wheeler and Albert Gauthier had a camp up the river, and came to town yesterday with one hundred muskrat skins, which they disposed of, and then proceeded to enjoy themselves. McCabe was in their company during the day, and about nine o'clock the three men started for their camp in a skiff. They had reached a point known as Seaborn Creek, within a few rods of their camp, when the boat was swamped. Gauthier managed to swim ashore, but the other men were unable to help themselves, and met a watery grave.

Gauthier proceeded at once to the nearest residence, that of Henry Cooke, on Howes' Island, and gave the alarm.

WERE URGED NOT TO GO.

John Wheeler, father of Alberta, is a farmer residing on the main shore almost opposite where the accident happened, and Mr. Cooke at once notified him, and then brought the news to Gananoque. No attempt has yet been made to recover the bodies owing to the high wind prevailing. The wind blew a gale from the south-west during the night, and the young men were urged not to attempt to go home until this morning. They were fearless, however, and could not be dissuaded, and it is a sad and particularly unfortunate feature that they had weathered the worst of the trip and reached a point of comparative shelter when the accident occurred.

Frank McCabe came here from Napanee about four years ago, and was employed at the Provincial and International Hotels as porter and bartender. For the past two months he has been out of employment, but expected to resume his work in a few days. He had decided at first to accompany the others last night, and had gone to his home, but Gauthier and Wheeler followed him and finally persuaded him to go.

McCabe was married three years ago to Miss Jaynes of Marysville, Ont., to whom the sympathy of the community is extended. She is in a delicate condition. Rev. J. T. Pitcher and Dr. I. J. Davis broke the sad news to her this morning.

Wheeler was unmarried.

Celebrated Their Crystal Wedding

One of the most interesting and joyous events that has taken place in Peterborough for some time was the crystal wedding of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Braund which was held at their residence on Park street Monday evening. Sixteen years have come and gone, joys and tribulations have been experienced by both who still look back with pleasure to the time when they were made man and wife at the Salvation Army barracks by Staff Captain McIntyre.

Invited guests to the number of a hundred were present and a most enjoyable time was spent by all. The Salvation Army orchestra furnished the music for the evening and this added much to the enjoyment of the celebration. After all invited had assembled in the spacious dining room of the house where Mr. and Mrs. Braund received many congratulations and good wishes, the company adjourned to a large room over the store where a sumptuous repast was spread and partaken of. The short speeches of a congratulatory nature were made by some of the guests and the host and hostess were called upon to respond and they thanked their friends for their many words and acts of kindness which had been shown to them on this occasion.

A Rain That Will Break Up the Ice

Practically all the rivers and lakes north of the city were still solid with ice and last week the settlers were still driving on the ice. It was felt that the only thing to break up the ice was a heavy rain. The rain came yesterday and last night in real earnest. Large quantities of water fell although as yet there has been no thunder or lightning. The rain, nevertheless, did a great deal of good and the ice will not last much longer. As yet there has been no flood on the Trent Valley waterway, and it is not likely that anything serious will happen now. As

Immigrants Prefer to Remain in the Cities-- Not Anxious to Work

St. Catharines, April 13.—The labor problem again confronts the farmers of this district. It does not appear now quite so serious, however, as it has proved to be the past two years. Owing to the number of men who have been employed in this vicinity for some months the fruit growers and farmers of the townships of Louth, Grantham and Niagara hope to have less difficulty securing efficient help during the spring, summer and autumn of this year. In the township of Thorold the situation looks less promising. Although there are in that part of the district a large number of recently arrived immigrants, among them there are a number of Englishmen who have not yet evinced any decided liking for steady work of any kind.

NO USE FOR CITY-BRED MEN.

Milton, April 13.—There is a demand for farm laborers in this neighborhood, and high wages are offered to good, steady men. No others are wanted. Farmers have no use for city-bred immigrants. There are plenty of them here now who have been unemployed all winter and who are likely to remain so as far as our farmers are concerned.

NEW ARRIVALS NOT AVAILABLE.

Hamilton, April 13.—The experience of farmers in Wentworth county is that new arrivals in this country prefer to live in the city, where employment is to be had, to working on the farms.

IN BEETON DISTRICT.

Beeton, April 13.—Spring work has not commenced here yet, although two or three farmers are reported to be ploughing. There will not be any work done of consequence until after a warm rain. Fall wheat is looking well and was not affected by the open winter. Farm help appears to be plentiful at present, but a number of the best men have gone West this spring.

Bill will be Presented to The City Council

At the meeting of the Board of Health yesterday morning the Board decided that it had no authority to certify a bill of $200 presented for nursing in connection with the scarlet fever cases, the nurses being engaged by City Relief Officer Miller. As the funds of the city relief department have been exhausted by the heavy demands on the department the bill was passed on by that department to the Board of Health to have the latter body confirm it before presentation to the City Council. The board decided that it should be presented to the council directly.

The minutes of the two meetings on February 8th and 26th were read at the opening of the morning's meeting and received as read.

As Ideal Cough Medicine

"As an ideal cough medicine I regard Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as a class by itself," says Dr. R. A. Wiltshire, of Gwynneville, Ind. "I take great pleasure in testifying to the results of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. In fact, I know of no other preparation that meets so fully the expectations of the most exacting in cases of croup and coughs of children. As it contains no opium, chloroform or morephine it certainly makes a most safe, pleasant and efficacious remedy for the ills it is intended."

The Golf Season Has Opened

For the first time this season a number of the golf enthusiasts walked up to the golf links on Monday, and had a splendid game. One of the players stated that he never saw the grounds in as good shape at this time of year as they were on Monday. The old Scotch game promises to be more popular this year than ever and as soon as this last rain runs off and the sun gets out the season will be opened in earnest.

Mr. C. R. Drum Has Arrived

Mr. C. R. Drum arrived in the city yesterday afternoon on the C.P.R. train, and is registered at the Oriental Hotel. Last night he met a number of the directors at the Y.M.C.A. and made a very favorable impression. Today at noon Mr. Drum will address the employes at the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co. Tonight Mr. Drum will attend the lecture of Dr. Grenfell, the missionary from Labrador, having withdrew his first public meeting on that account. The public meeting will be held on Friday evening.

St. Mark's, Otonabee, Annual Vestry Meeting

The annual meeting of the vestry of St. Mark's church, Otonabee, was held yesterday morning when Rev. Dr. Langfeldt occupied the chair. Mr. Thos. Greystock, the people's warden, presented the financial report which showed the church to be free from all indebtedness. The finances are in an exceptionally satisfactory condition, and the members of the congregation are to be congratulated.

The election of the people's warden resulted in Mr. Fred Collings being asked to fulfil the duties of that office for the ensuing year. The rector, Rev. Dr. Langfeldt chose Mr. Joshua Smithson as his warden.

Lay delegates to the Synod were elected as follows;— Messrs. John Dixon, Homer Parker of Toronto, and Dr. Burnham of Peterborough.

A vote of thanks was passed to Dr. Burnham for his very liberal Easter offering to the church's funds.

The sewer on Simcoe street near the Dominion Bank became blocked last night and the water was running into the bank basement. City Engineer Boys and staff got busy at once and relieved the sewer before any damage resulted.

Sick Doctor

Proper Food Put Him Right

The food experience of a physician in his own case when worn and weak from sickness and when needing nourishment the worst way is valuable;

"An attack of grip, so severe it came near making an end of me, left my stomach in such condition I could not retain any ordinary food. I knew of course that I must have food nourishment or I could never recover.

"I began to take four teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts and cream three times a day and for two weeks this was almost my only food; it tasted so delicious that I enjoyed it immensely and my stomach handled it perfectly from the first mouthful. It was so nourishing I was quickly built back to normal health and strength.

"Grape-Nuts of of great value as food to sustain life during serious attacks in which the stomach is so deranged it cannot digest and assimilate other foods.

"I am convinced that were Grape-Nuts more widely used by physicians it would save many lives that are otherwise lost from lack of nourishment."

Absolutely the most perfect food in the world. Trial of Grape-Nuts 10 days proves.

LUNG TROUBLE

PROMPTLY RELIEVED AND PERMANENTLY CURED BY INHALING CATARRHOZONE.

Mrs. Bixy Brown, of Tusenago, N. S., was cured by Catarrhozone of lung trouble and Catarrh after hundreds of other remedies failed.

If your lungs are weak; if there is consumption in your family; if Colds, Catarrh and Bronchitis bother you, be sure to use Catarrhozone. It is especially adapted for these diseases and cures every time.

Mrs. Brown took cough mixtures, but they made her sick. Then she used an inhaler, but, after resorting without benefit to poultices and numerous other remedies, she tried Catarrhozone.

"I used Catarrhozone Inhaler," writes Mrs. Brown, "five minutes every hour, and soon recognized that it was going to cure me. I could feel the soothing medicated air spreading through the air passages of the throat, and it touched the sore spots in the lungs that other remedies failed to reach. Catarrhozone seemed to go just where it was needed most, and soon put a stop to my cough. It restored me to perfect health, and I am convinced that no cough, cold or catarrh can exist if Catarrhozone is used."

No treatment is so clean, so pleasant, so certain to cure as Catarrhozone. By means of the Inhaler the local symptoms such as coughing, inflammation and congestion are speedily corrected. Ferrozone tablets, which are taken after each meal, purify and cleanse the blood of all poisons and build up and strengthen the system.

This local and constitutional treatment is always effective, and cures cases that have been given up as hopeless. Money can't buy or produce anything better, and to get cured it is absolutely necessary to use Catarrhozone.

Complete outfit costs $1; small size, 25c. At druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

TWO KINDS OF PATRIOTISM

It is said that on account of the recent outbreak of the war spirit in England, Socialism has suffered a decline. In the midst of war's alarms, social and political reform is sure to receive a temporary check. Patriotism shows itself alternately in two forms—in eagerness to defend the nation against foreign foes, and in eagerness to make it worth defending. Social reformers are bent upon enriching and beautifying the home, military enthusiasts are anxious about the fences and the doors, the bolts and the locks. Both are necessary under present conditions, though it was Ruskin's conviction that the sum spent upon the bolts and locks was altogether out of proportions to the sum spent upon the things guarded.

When it is sought to arouse enthusiasm for the defence of the British Empire, what is the strongest argument, the most moving appeal? Not that the British Empire contains so many millions of square miles and so many hundreds of millions of people, but that it is free, and that its cause is the cause is the cause of civilization and the progress of humanity. But to urge these claims to pay these things without seeking to make them true and to keep them true, is the merest hypocrisy. It is necessary to lay stress upon this side of patriotism, because it is the side that is most likely to be neglected. Patriotism, as the word is commonly used, means the spirit that would defend the country against some foreign enemy. It is not commonly recognized that there is true patriotism in fighting against such internal foes as poverty, intemperance, or tuberculosis, political tyranny or corruption. We are willing to accord some degree of praise to the men and women who fight these battles; but we rarely describe them as patriots.

For the last four years Great Britain has had a government whose members have been strongly impressed with the importance of making the country better worth defending. It has sought to diminish the evils of intemperance, to mitigate the horrors of poverty, to strengthen the intellectual fibre of the people by a better system of education, to strengthen their physical fibre by getting them out of the slums of the cities and "back to the land." In all this it has met with the bitter opposition of men of narrow views, whose only conception of patriotism is hatred or suspicion of some other country. And yet, whether there is to be peace or war, what higher patriotic service could be rendered than to make the people stronger in mind, stronger in body, and stronger in moral fibre? What greater incentive to spring to the defence of a country than to know that this and country there is constant progress in freedom, equality, and justice?

A PROTECTED FISH.

Peloros Jack of New Zealand Has Unique Distinction.

In Peloros Sound, on the south side of the Cook Strait, which is situated between the North and South Islands of New Zealand, lives one of the most remarkable fish in the world. Where he came from or how long ago he was born no one seems to know. But captains of vessels and voyagers tell curious stories of him for the last thirty years Peloros Jack, as this fish has been named, has plotted for several miles each steamer which neared the sound, afterwards returning to await the arrival of the next vessel.

Day or night appears to make no difference to him, for he is always to be depended upon to make his appearance, and those who frequently pass through the strait can tell almost to the moment when he will show himself. His length is estimated at about 16 feet, and from the fact that he is of light grey color, and comes to the surface to blow, he has been called the "little white whale."

He has no companions — in fact, seems to be an outcast of the fish world — and can be seen making straight for a steamer, when some distance away, on account of a large fin which shows about 18 inches above the surface of the water. Many theories have been put forward as to why Peloros Jack should make a practice of accompanying ships passing through the strait, the most likely of which seems to be that he comes to the bow of each vessel to scrape the barnacles off himself, for he touches the ship as he darts from side to side.

Peloros Jack is the only fish in the world protected by Act of Parliament. In September, 1894, it was enacted that it should not be lawful for any person to take the fish or mammal of the species known as Risso's dolphin in Cook Strait under a penalty of not less than £5 and not more than £100. There has never been any fish of this species seen in the strait except Peloros Jack, so that the Act of Parliament was passed solely on his behalf.

Stories of the Earl of Durham.

The Earl of Durham, the new Knight of the Garter, is noted for his gift of humor, and some time ago (so M.A.P. tells us) he made an amusing speech in which he said that he was not greatly impressed by his high title. "If I go to a railway station," he remarked, "and want to take a cab, and one man offers to take me for 10s., and another says, 'My lord, I'll take you for 7s. 6d.,' I always accept the title and the 7s. 6d."

As a boy, Lord Durham was very fond of practical joking, and on one occasion—so the story goes—he was the means of frightening his mother. When the earl was quite a lad he and his twin brother were taken to the seaside, and one day permission was given to the boys to paddle. No sooner was he beyond the reach of his mother's arm than the future earl rushed out into the waves until the water reached to his shoulders.

"Now, mother," he cried, "if you want me ever to come out you must come and fetch me."

The countess was much frightened until a brawn workman arrived on the scene.

"Want that there boy, mum?" he asked, taking in the situation, and having received an affirmative answer, he waded into the sea and brought the indignant little gentleman safely to the shore.

Bermuda's 300th Anniversary.

The members of the committee appointed some time ago for the purpose of making arrangements for celebrating the 300th anniversary of the settlement of Bermuda as a British Colony recently approached the Legislature for a grant of $5,000 as a contribution towards the expenditure. The House of Assembly voted $2,500, but when the resolve making appropriation for this amount came before the Legislative Council, it was rejected. Consequently the proposed celebrations will receive no State support from the Public Treasury. The principal reason which actuated the members of the Legislative Council to vote against the resolve was that on the death of Queen Victoria the Legislature unanimously agreed to an expenditure of $30,000 towards the cost of erecting a monument to her late Majesty. To the reproach of Bermuda, the work, on various pretexts, has never been undertaken.

Lead Shot.

We owe lead shot to Watts, a Bristol plumber, who dreamed that while repairing a church roof his foot slipped and a ladle of molten lead that he was carrying fell to the ground and that on descending to recover his property he found that the metal had assumed, instead of the silvery plaque he had expected, the form of countless minute globules. Curiously last him next day to repeat, so far as he could, the accident of his dream. A like result followed, and the lucky dreamer ultimately made a handsome fortune.—London Chronicle.

The Penalty For Life-Saving.

There are no half measures about the law. If it means to be absurd, absurd it will be. The Lee coroner was about to hand five shillings to a bargeman for pulling a woman out of the water, when it was pointed out that the woman was alive when rescued. As a result the man got no reward. Had the woman been dead he would have been given five shillings.

The Resourceful Clergyman.

Rev. H. Gibson adopted a novel plan for furnishing the new Attercliffe (Sheffield, Eng.) Church Men's Social Club. He commandeered a large furniture van, and, seated on the box, he made a tour of the parish. By the end of the day he had secured sufficient articles to furnish the club.

The End Season for Colds

Colds and grip were quite prevalent last winter and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in great demand and performed some remarkable cures. Mrs. Mary J. Robinson of Cameron, W. Va., says: "Last winter I was taken with one of the severest colds ever had in my life. I could not speak above a whisper and was very hoarse. I was afraid it was going to be pneumonia. I took one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in three days was lots better and could talk. I did not take but the one bottle and it cured me. I now tell everybody about Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the good it did me."

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak Kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that support and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine gets pale, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell

Why Do People Deposit Their Money in Banks for only 3 Per Cent. Interest?

BECAUSE, THEY THINK IT IS QUITE SAFE.

Why Do Some Invest in Bonds to get a Little Higher Interest?

Because, the bonds represent a mortgage on the property on which their money is invested which gives a feeling of safety.

Why Do People Invest in Wildcat Gold and Silver Mining Schemes? Because they think the chances of profit are big and they are willing to take the risk.

WHY NOT INVEST IN A SAFE STOCK IN A GOING COAL MINE

making money now and which presents such possibilities for development that it is expected that the profits will run from 25 per cent. to 50 per. cent. higher.

The Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited, Stock at $10 per Share is a safe Stock.

It is all common stock. There are no bonds or no mortgages or no preferred stock, on which interest must be paid before the common stockholder gets anything.

When you buy common stock of the Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited at $10 per share you become an actual owner of the mines and have an equal chance of the profits according to the number of shares held. A coal mine with a big deposit of coal ready for the miner's pick is as safe as a bank. To own and control shares of common stock in such a coal mine must be safer and better than holding bonds in a proposition in which you have no control and which may or may not be properly managed. The officers and management of the Winter Port Coal Mines of New Brunswick have the experience in mining and selling coal in both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

J. S. Gibbon, the President of the company, opened and developed the Winter Port Mines to the present stage.

W. E. Vroom, the Vice-President of the Company, was for some years actively associated in the management of the Springhill Collieries in Nova Scotia and the Albert Mines in New Brunswick.

Manufacturers in St. John speak highly of the Winter Port coal.

Winter Port coal is a good locomotive coal and has been used on the Intercolonial and other railways.

The Winter Port Coal Mines being practically on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific now opening up through New Brunswick will provide a most convenient coaling facility for that great transcontinental railway. Immense quantities of coal will be needed by the great railways and by the manufacturers, steamship lines, etc., in connection with the development of Canada's Winter Port at St. John, N.B., which is only 65 miles in a direct line from these coal mines.

Secure some Winter Port stock now at $10 per share (there is no personal liability) and get your share of the profits of a safe conservative money-making proposition.

SOME LENTEN LEGENDS.

Strange Custom at the Widow's Son Tavern.

Throughout the country many curious customs, which had their origin in the days of long ago, are still observed during the season of Lent. Special dishes, for instance, in some parts are still allotted to each Sunday in Lent. On Tid Sunday in the East of England a very stodgy plum-pudding is made and eaten by laboring men's families, this being known as "Harvest Strengthening," and the belief runs that whoever eats of this pudding will be fortunate during the harvest season, and that good luck will be his share.

Mi'-Lent Sunday, sometimes called "Mothering Sunday," is usually kept as a kind of festival in various parts. The term "Mothering Sunday" arises through the country custom of lads and lasses away from home at service being allowed the day off in order to visit their mothers, it being customary to carry a cake to present to them on that day.

In Shropshire, says a writer in Country Life, as well as taking a simnel cake, it is usual to present the first violets of the year to the mother, hence the proverb, "Who goes a-mothering finds violets in the lane," this pretty custom also lingering in Gloucestershire and Herefordshire. The old writer Herrick sings:

I'll to thee a simnel bring
'Gainst thou go'st a-mothering;
So that, when she blesseth thee,
Half that blessing thou'lt give me.

This verse reminds one that just before Easter it was customary for village children to go round to each house carrying small wooden blades or swords which they beat together, making a tapping noise, and singing:

Herrings, herrings, white and red,
Ten a penny, Lent's dead.
Rise, dame, and give us an egg
Or else a piece of bacon.
One for Peter, two for Paul,
Three for Jack-o'-Lantern all.
Away Lent, away.

The goodwife who answered their request by giving them cakes, eggs, apples, or money would be "them servanded."

Perhaps the most curious of Lenten customs, however, is that observed every Good Friday evening at the Widow's Son Tavern at Bromley-by-Bow.

A bun stamped with the date of the year is placed in a wire basket hung from the ceiling of the bar; this year the sixty-ninth bun will join the dusty company. The strange custom owes its origin to the following pathetic story: Long years ago the tavern was a private house where lived a widow and her only son. The lad, in spite of his mother's prayers and tears, would go to sea, and left home on Good Friday, promising to return the next year on that day in time to eat a hot-cross bun.

The day came, but not the lad; however, the poor mother set aside a bun for him, believing he would come to redeem his promise. Year by year, with saddening heart but hopeful eyes, she added a bun; but her lad never came, and at her death the practice was not allowed to die out.

Animal Lover and Artist.

The real secret perhaps of Mr. Cecil Aldin's success as a painter of animals and dogs is to be found in the fact that he has a knowledge of animals which only the true sportsman can possess. He has lived amongst them all his life, and at school his passion for animals used to get him into trouble. No live creature was allowed in the schoolroom, but young Aldin's locker was a nesting-place for white mice, while puppies were [illegible] of the boot-room. "At one time or another," says Mr. Aldin, "I have had almost every breed of dog you can mention, from the Russian wolf-hound to the French poodle. And many are the amusing stories he tells of his pets. Once he kept a foxhound in his studio, and there was not a larder within a half mile radius which the dog did not visit. "The moral and material damages which I had to pay on account of that dog," says Mr. Aldin, "were simply amazing. He thought nothing of running off with a leg of mutton, and it was on account of his thieving propensities that I was obliged to get rid of him."

Monster Nests.

In Australia are to be found the largest, heaviest and most peculiar nests in the world. These are the nests of the jungle fowl, so called, and are built in the form of great mounds, the average measurement in height being fifteen feet and the circumference 150 feet. The nests are erected in secluded, sheltered spots, and, as in the case of the small nests of birds, they are skillfully interwoven with leaves, grass and twigs and such other suitable material as the fowl may be able to procure. A similar system in the construction of nests is followed by the bush turkey, whose home is, however, more comprehensive in design. Its shape is pyramidal. It has been asserted by Australian naturalists that the nests of the bush turkeys, which live in colonies, are so large that to move them requires the services of six or seven men.

Vicar's Curious Bequests.

Some bequests of an unusual nature were made by the late Rev. Arthur G. Girdlestone, vicar of All Saints', Brixton Hill, London, Eng., who left estate of the gross value of over $70,000. He bequeathed $60 each to the organist, verger, blower, and pew-opener of All Saints', $25 to each of the fairly regular scholars and teachers of the Sunday-school Bible classes, one year's wages to each of his servants, including his gardener, and a sum not exceeding $750 for distribution among his church workers at the discretion of the executors.

Long Distance Walker.

A farmer, whose death is reported near Tideswell, England, at the age of 82, in early life regularly walked to Chester—a distance of 68 miles—in order to catch a train for Bangor. He often drove his gig all the way from Anglesey to Wrexham, a distance of 125 miles.

Rheumatic poisons are quickly and surely driven out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy—liquid or tablet form. Dr. Shoop's booklet on Rheumatism plainly and interestingly tells just how this is done. Tell some sufferer of this book, or better still, write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis., for the book and free test samples. Send no money. Just join with Dr. Shoop and give some sufferer a pleasant surprise. For sale by all dealers.

HE IS THE IMPERIAL WHIP

SIR ALEX. ACLAND-HOOD A MIGHTY MAN.

Chief Whipper-In of the Unionist Party in the British House of Commons is a Famous Huntsman and a More Famous Handler of Men When Divisions Make Things Exciting in Parliament.

A tall, soldierly-looking English gentleman, with ruddy-pink face, bristling moustache, and kindly eyes; an active cavalryman of fifty-five, with hair parted in the middle, the slightest possible stoop in the shoulders, the quiet air of a man of the world, a cultured voice, a way of flitting in and out unobtrusively from behind the Speaker's chair, or of stepping in to survey his men—and his opponents—from the swinging doors of the Bar of the House—such is Sir Alexander Acland-Hood, M.P., Chief Unionist Whip.

The [illegible] of the man—needs be sly indeed to escape the vigilant eye of this man with the fine red tan in his face and the ever-alert brain in his smallish, well-poised head.

The great art of the party Whip is to be able to whip a listless M.P. into due attendance at critical or important times without letting him know he is being whipped in. At this Sir Alexander Acland-Hood is a past-master. It has been said of him, and notably when he was holding Mr. Balfour's tired forces together in the critical days and nights of 1905, that he can scent a Unionist M.P. anywhere within a five-mile radius of Westminster.

Fighting son of a fighting family, Sir Alexander has fought foes abroad, fire in the precincts of the Tower, and crises at Westminster. Born in 1853, son and grandson of M.P.'s, educated at Eton and Oxford, he entered the army in 1875. He served with the 1st Dragoon Guards and the Grenadiers, and went right through the Egyptian campaign. Out of the war he brought a medal with clasp, the Fifth Class of the Medjidie, the Bronze Star, much honor, and other marks of it.

The year 1885 found the present political Whip in command of a body of troops fighting the fire that threatened the Tower of London. He won.

After Balliol, Sandhurst and Egypt, this tall, fierce-moustached soldier and gentleman went out to Australia as aide-de-camp to the governor-general—a rich succession of trainings for an Imperial Whip. Then he came in for the family estates down in the West Country, to ride hard across great open stretches and range over a constituency forty-five miles wide, and store up new strength for severe yet delicate work at Westminster.

Here is a typical "day" of Sir Alexander when his party is in power. He is at the Whip's office, a drab corner of drab-looking Downing street, by eleven or half-past to tackle the problems that bristle in the correspondence of the chief Government Whip, a "Patronage Secretary to the Treasury." Then through a labyrinth or two with the Prime Minister and a quick lunch and a long stride across to the House by a quarter to three.

He walks in from behind the Speaker's chair with a swift glance of the eye at his cohorts on the green benches. He speaks seldom. He thinks much. His eye can take in as many men with a glance as some people's can with a long stare. He has only strolled in with his hands on his hips, with an air of leisurely carelessness. But he is neither leisurely nor careless.

"The worst of it is," said a young Unionist one day, "Acland-Hood cannot only see who's there, but also who's away."

So, noting absentees, noting the trend of the night, focussing in his mild eye the possibilities of the sitting, the tall cavalryman with the bristling moustache will work on until midnight and after.

What pressure there was on Sir Alexander's brain and nerves during that remarkable last session of the Premiership of Mr. Arthur Balfour, and how night after night—nay, hour by hour—he out-manoeuvred in House and division lobby the guerilla warfare carried on by the Radical marauders under Messrs. Lloyd-George and Churchill, no one will fully know. Now and then, I am told, Sir Alexander spoke here and there to a laggard Conservative in a way that brought him up to duty with a violent turn. But it was good for them all. And in a long period of party danger Sir Alexander averted defeat.

He discovered that the Liberals had a subtle plan. They had arranged to lull the Unionists into a sort of false security by drawing off a lot of their men and letting the Unionists have large majorities on the various divisions during the early part of the evening, and then crowding them out by stealth all of a sudden in a later division. Forty-five Radical M.P.'s were cooped up in one house hard by, all ready to be let loose at a signal. They chuckled with delight over the coming discomfiture of Mr. Balfour.

But they reckoned without Sir Alexander. He whipped in his scattered battalions, heaping a respectable number of his merry men out of the debating chamber. So division after division was called, and again and again the Unionists got their small but solid majorities. At length, pale, dispirited, and weary, the Radicals watched the hands of the clock crawl to forty-thirty, and heard the sounds of waking life stirring the metropolis, and Sir Alexander still had his devoted corps ready for anything. So the Radicals sauntered and went to bed.

Sir Alexander Acland-Hood not only is, but looks, the Imperial Whip.

EDITORIAL DIFFICULTIES.

In Outlying Parts of Empire They Are Sometimes Very Great.

The editorial chair in some of the smaller Outposts of Empire must at times be anything but an easy one. We arrive at this generalization after perusing a journal from the Gold Coast, the district correspondents of which appear to have modelled their [illegible] sentences on Ruskin's famous one-page sentence, or Dr. Gulnness Rogers' 300 word peroration. One correspondent has a sentence which begins: "Now leaving that subject as has been apparently exorticated by Mr. Mee, the world-renowned copying, and plunging with profound meditation into the depths of creation," and runs on for 200 words without a break. Another runs on for 212 words, and another, writing from Calabar, says: "Competitive examination is indeed a useful step for the Government to see to, to prevent rogues and undesirable individuals who promptly rush into offices, flattering themselves to be what they are rightly not and in the course of a short time becoming troublesome pests in the different offices; we think it is not enough to term a man full scholar simply because he has 4 inches collar on and a fine tie. It is a competitive examination that will prove what he is able to do, and by this means blunders and unpleasantness in offices will be put a stop to. Mark you this." Then from Attaboe we learn that "the Twin Rivers are not under proper management now. The Omanhin instead of engaging a man who is better qualified to supervise the Twin Rivers has chosen his son for the work, wishing to fill all the departments with his relatives and so the work lacks much fairness. No proper receipt is given to the passengers, which makes sometimes a passenger pay double fare. The passengers should also be farried in good instead of wasting their valuable time."—Standard of Empire.

Oldest Parish Clerk.

Amongst England's centenarians, one of the most interesting is James Carne, who lives in the village of St. Columb Minor, Cornwall, and who is looking forward to celebrating his 103rd birthday on May 3rd next. For over half a century Carne has carried out the duties of verger and parish clerk, and during that time has only missed one Sunday's services. What is more curious still is that his grandfather as well as father acted in a similar capacity in the old church of St. Columb Minor. The former was verger for fifty years, and the latter served for fifty-four. Thus the Carne family have a record of over 150 years' service for the one church.

Carne has the reputation amongst the villagers of being a veritable prayer-book. In the earlier days of his parish clerkship it was customary for him to walk up and down the aisle playing his flute, and so lead the village choir. This instrumental accompaniment was the forerunner of a church band which was considered quite a grand feature, and consisted of a flute, a clarionet, and a bass viol, with the later addition of a cornopean. The bandsmen practised in the quaint old parlor of the village "pub," hard by.

In spite of his advanced age the old verger's health still keeps good, and it is only in the last five or six years that he has worn glasses. He spends much of his time working in his garden. He is a non-smoker and practically a teetotaller, and was originally apprenticed to the tailoring business, but his father took him away from it "on account of his being delicate." However, the outdoor life of a postman may have helped to build up his constitution, for Carne was the parish mail-carrier for more than 21 years and never missed his duties a single day.

Monastery For England.

The Scottish Hypoongi, Bhikx Ananda Matteya, has just returned from his Buddhist mission in England, and he reports that his proselyting was attended with much success. He claims to have established a society of Buddhist missions in England, with a membership of 150, under the leadership of the well known Pali scholar, Prof. Rhys Davids, Fellow of the Royal Society. It is the Hypoongi's intention to return to England in a few years and establish a Buddhist monastery.

While the Hypoongi has only good to say for himself and his works, one Dhammaloko, an Irish-American who has abandoned the name of Welsh and attained to a considerable standing in Buddhism in Burma, makes long preachments to the contrary. It is certain that Dhammaloko would not trust Matteya in his sight or out of it.

Queen Alexandra's Favorite Room.

Queen Alexandra's favorite room is her boudoir at Sandringham. There she follows her own tastes without court dictation, and she affectionately talks of her boudoir as "home." The walls are in apple green and white, and the furniture is of the Marie Antoinette style. There is bric-a-brac collected by the Queen herself from all corners of Europe. Everything in the room is of her personal selection. She passes most of her leisure time there, usually alone or with her friend and confidante, Charlotte Knollys. Tea is always served at five o'clock in the boudoir, the Queen herself pouring out the tea for her women guests.

30,000 Earthquakes a Year.

No man has rendered finer service in the furtherance of seismological science than Prof. John Milne, who is now engaged on a seismic survey of the world. At Shide Hill House, Newport, Isle of Wight, which rests on a solid bed of chalk, Prof. Milne has erected an instrument of his own devising, which makes automatic records by day and night of every serious earthquake anywhere in the world, and he has declared that there are about 30,000 every year, of which 100 are noteworthy.

CLEAN Up INSIDE

Blood and System Cleansing in the Spring Makes Good Health all Summer.

In spite of all your careful habits it is safe to say that in the spring you feel poorly—have a throbbing sensation in the head—skin is pasty or yellow, with dark rings under the eyes. If not absolutely billious the system is so full of bile that you feel heavy and tired all day long.

Clean up, work off the winter's accumulation of waste, purify your blood. Do this and you'll feel fresh as a prize-fighter. "For ten years, says W. B. Gangster of Concord. "I suffered greatly from impure blood, which made me feel debilitated and unfit for work. I had no appetite, suffered from indigestion and gas, had some pains in the back, caused by poor kidney action. Spring was the hardest time of all, and many a time I felt despondent and languid enough to throw up the sponge. I was impressed by the marvellous work done by Dr. Hamilton's Pills and tried them. They toniced me exactly. In one week I felt like new. I was braced up, got rid of blood weakness, gained in flesh, got back my old time appearance and spirits. Dr. Hamilton's Pills will clean all the sickness out of a man in short order and I urge young and old to use this grand tonic medicine."

Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a perfect spring medicine, they destroy germs and poisons of every description and strength whereby the system rallies and the patient quickly enjoys the blessings of Perfect Health. Get Dr Hamilton's Pills today—25c. For sale at all dealers.

Laymen's Banquet

At 6.30 o'clock tonight the laymen of St. Andrew's church will gather around the banquet hall in the Sunday school house. Preparations are made for a large crowd and a thoroughly enjoyable time is anticipated. All the men of St. Andrew's are invited to be present, as after the supper a very interesting discussion will take place.

Stiff Neck

Stiff neck is caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the neck. It is usually confined to one side, or to the back of the neck and one side. While it is often quite painful, quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of rheumatism in ten requires internal treatment. When there is no fever and no swelling as in muscular and chronic rheumatism, Chamberlain's Liniment will accomplish more than any internal treatment.

The many friends of Mr. M. J. Hutchinson, formerly city editor of the Examiner, and now managing editor of the Canadian Dry Good Review, will regret to learn that he has been very ill will appendicitis in Toronto, and that he was operated on recently. His condition at the present time is favorable and an early recovery is looked for.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription — Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments be weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

OBITUARY

MARIE ALMA PICARD.

The death occurred yesterday morning about two o'clock of Marie Alma Picard, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Picard, Sr., 105 Lock street. The late Miss Picard had been suffering for weeks with a lingering disease, gradually growing worse until the end came. She was 28 years of age and had lived all her life in this city. She was well known among a wide circle of friends who will learn with deep regret of her demise. She was a lady of many estimable qualities.

Besides her parents, five brothers and three sisters are left to mourn her loss. The brothers are; Messrs L. J. Picard, city; A. A. Picard, New York, and Romulus, Euclid and Leo at home. The sisters are Mrs. G. Pope of Lindsay, and Misses Eugenie and Beatrice of this city.

The funeral will take place on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock from the family residence, 105 Lock St., to St. Peter's cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

WILLIAM JOBE.

At three o'clock yesterday morning at the Nicholls Hospital, William Jobe passed away after an illness of two weeks. He was operated on for appendicitis and afterwards fell into the grip of pneumonia which proved fatal.

The late William Jobe was well-known in this city and in the whole county. A number of years ago his name was a household word for home-made candy, in the manufacture of which he was particularly skilled, and as a result had a wide and paying trade. He was a familiar figure on the market on Saturdays, and conducted a store on George street, enjoying a large business. The deceased was 47 years of age, and was born in Warwickshire, England. He was the son of the late William Jobe. Twenty-five years ago he married Ellen Miller, who, with a family of eleven children, survives him. Of these children all are at home excepting Harry of North Dakota, and Florence of Rochester.

His brothers surviving him are Thom, of Peterborough; John, of Havelock, and James, of Hamilton, and his sisters, Mrs. George Benson, Sr., of Peterborough; Mrs. E. Morris, Toronto, Mrs. Impson, Rochester; Mrs. E. Riskner, Rochester, and Mrs. Wm. Robinson, also of Rochester.

The funeral will be held on Thursday at 2.30 p.m., from the family residence, 14 Albert street, to the Little Lake cemetery. The services will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Biddiford.

MRS. JOS. BUSTON.

The remains of the late Mrs. Jos. Buston, who passed away in Chicago, on Sunday, arrived in the city at noon yesterday.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the residence of Mrs. Richard Martin, 35 Crescent street, to the Little Lake cemetery.

Beware of ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Cosgrave's Beer

Wordsof praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Cosgrave's" refers you

It is safe to say that no product, of any kind, enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

Its self-evident honesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body, and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

Licensing the Electric Wiring Contractors was Before the Committee

There was a very quiet, peaceful session of the Fire, Water & Light Committee last night. There was not a scrap of any kind and the meeting lasted until a quarter after ten o'clock. This is something new and augurs well for the future meetings. The most important matter taken up was that of a license upon the electric wiring contractors. Several of the contractors were heard and the committee will gather further information and take the matter up at another meeting.

Several other minor items of business were put through.

Those present were;—Chairman Ald. Buller, Ald. Morgan, Ald. Hicks and Mayor Rush.

The first business taken up was the request of the electric wiring contractors that a license of $25 be placed on all those who take electric wiring contracts.

A letter was received from the city solicitor who stated that the Municipal Act provided for such a license being passed and the license fee fixed.

Mayor Rush asked what the reason was for asking for this license.

Mr. F. R. J. MacPherson stated that there were several good reasons. The main one was that after the responsible wirer had completed his work some irresponsible person comes along and make additions to the wires and the whole system is spoiled. This makes it very bad for the contractors and puts them in a bad light. It was also proposed that the contractors furnish the customers with certificates, guaranteeing the work to be satisfactory to the Underwriters' Association.

Ald. Buller asked if there was any other place in Canada or the United States where the electricians were licensed.

The reply was that in Ottawa the electricians were licensed and they also had an inspector. If the city appointed an inspector that would do away with any licenses.

The only object the contractors had was to get rid of the irresponsible linemen who do the bad wiring and to guarantee to the people a satisfactory job that the underwriters will not order changed, and if it is not up to the requirements the contractors will have to make it right at their own expense.

A letter was received from the chief of the Fire Department notifying the committee of the fire on Concession street where about $25 damage was done to the sidewalks.

The letter was received.

Several letters were received from manufacturers of pottery rules for the fire alarm system.

The chairman and the chief will purchase a supply.

The account for the two meters from the Northern Electric Company was ordered paid.

It was moved by Aldermen Turner and Hicks that the chairman see Mr. Robt. Hall and authorise him to look up one or two horses suitable for the Fire Department.

Moved by Ald. Morgan that the bits be taken out of the horses' mouths and let out until they come to the harness.

Ald. Turner suggested that the committee write to several other departments and ask whether they use the bits in the horses' mouths while eating or not.

This was adopted on motion.

The petition from the Gilmour St. residents asking for incadescent lights was held over until the committee decides on what money is necessary at the Fire Department, and it is known how much will be left.

Ald. Turner moved that the city clerk be authorized to secure quotations from insurance men on a blanket accident policy on the whole brigade, and also to find out from some of the other cities how the policies are held. Ald. Hicks seconded the motion.

On motion the order for the arc light at Jackson Park, for which the township of Smith is to pay one-third was cancelled and the light will not be put up this year.

Ald. Hicks suggested that the committee ask the council to allow the committee to retain the $500 saved by the reduction in the cost of hydrants. A motion to this effect was passed.

Calgary Eye-Opener to go to Toronto

Calgary, Alberta, April 14.—R. C. Edwards, editor of the Eye-Opener, Calgary, is considering a very flattering suggestion from some Toronto business men to move his paper from Calgary to Toronto, and he will probably accept.

The offer came to him last summer shortly before the Dominion elections and Mr. Edwards was on the point of accepting. However, when the elections were announced, he decided to remain in Calgary to give assistance to M. S. McCarthy and C. McGrath in Lethbridge in the elections.

Now the way is clear as the will probably accept the offer.

The Eye-Opener will probably be turned into a joint stock company in which Mr. Edwards will hold the controlling interest.

Coal Mines at the G.T.P

A Great Natural Coaling Facility Provided at the New Brunswick End of the Line

The Winter Port Coal Mines, which have been turning out coal on a profitable basis for local business for the past five years in Queen's County, New Brunswick, are expected to provide a great coaling facility for the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, where the company's line passes through Queen's County in the Province of New Brunswick.

Winter Port coal is a good coal for domestic use, for manufacturers' and locomotive use, and the favorable situation of the mines together with the experienced management in mining and selling of coal should make the business a very profitable one.

Those who wish a safe and profitable investment should write to J. S. Gibbon, St. John, N.B. President of the Winter Port Coal Mining Co., Ltd., for full information.

A Case of Poisoning, Man Eludes the Police

Lindsay, April 14.—Thomas Parliament of Balsover vicinity, Eldon township, has reason to believe that his brother, Henry Parliament, attempted to poison him on January 1, with a poison known as "rough-on-rats" or white arsenic, and this is the foundation for an information sworn before County Magistrate Moore last Saturday. Subsequently a warrant was issued for the arrest of the supposed poisoner.

CHIEF ON HUNT.

Chief Vincent has been in the vicinity of Balsover during the past couple of days in search of Parliament. It was expected that he would arrive in that district from parts unknown Tuesday, but he failed to show up and the chief came home last night. However, he received a 'phone message on his return and went back again to Balsover. It is surmised that the wanted man is captured by now, the county police having effected the arrest.

The cause of the attempt to poison (if there actually was such an attempt made), the manner in which the brother evaded death and other particulars cannot be discovered until further developments take place.

Magistrate Moore was seen by a reporter this afternoon and he maintained that all he knew about the case was included in the information laid, which is as follows;

THE CHARGE.

"That Henry Parliament did, on or about Jan. 1, unlawfully, and maliciously cause to be administered to Thomas Parliament a large quantity of a certain deadly poison, commonly known as rough-on-rats, or white arsenic, and thereby did endanger the life of the said Thomas Parliament."

"How does it come about that the information was laid on Saturday when the crime is said to have taken place on January 1, in the information?" the reporter asked.

"That's all I know about it," replied the magistrate, "And don't you go and surmise a lot of things and make comments on the affair before it comes up in court."

Investigations in other channels brought out that Parliament, the accused, is a man of about 30 years of age, and is well-known in Eldon and the surrounding country. It is said that Thos. Parliament was extremely sick after taking the poison (in a cup of tea) and that Dr. Grant of Woodville, and another physician from Brechin were called and administered antidotes to the sufferer.

It is expected that Chief Vincent will return with the prisoner this evening.

Florence Kinrade will be Re-Called

Hamilton, April 14.—Florence Kinrade will be called to the stand again.

This step is definitely announced by the authorities today in connection with the inquest into the murder of Ethel Kinrade here on Feb. 25th, which will resume April 22nd, a week from tomorrow.

That the proceedings will furnish sensational developments is intimated by the police, who give the impression that they have some good reason for the view.

A detective who has been in touch with the case declared that he looked for a big sensation within a very short time.

Dr. Anderson coroner, will be the only one authorized to issue admission tickets to the forthcoming inquest proceedings.

Western Farmers are Anxious About the Backwardness of Spring

Winnipeg, April 14.—With mid-April and anywhere from fifteen to thirty degrees of frost last night, Western farmers are beginning to get a little uneasy about the laggard spring.

Everything was going along nicely, and in some districts wheat seeding had actually begun, when the cold snap came along. Much snow remains on the ground, and the weather must change quick if this is to be removed and substantial progress made with seeding this month.

The ice in the Red River still shows no signs of breaking up. Last season the spring came too early, and the crop suffered, but, while there is no cause for anxiety as yet, zero weather is not welcome.

A Scarcity of Farm Help in Canada

Belleville, April 13.—J. H. Carr, Dominion Government Immigration Agent for this district, says the demand for farm labor is fair here, and the supply quite equal to it. Several farmers are unsupplied, but there are laborers on the way who will fill the places. The immigrants who came out here last year and the year before, Mr. Carr says, are giving much better satisfaction than those who came in previous years. Wages paid in this district for an unskilled farm laborer is from $10 to $12 a month up, with, of course, board and washing. The very large majority of the men are giving fair satisfaction. There is an urgent demand in this district for female domestic farm help, wages from $8 to $10 per month.

NO HELP PROBLEM.

Bracebridge, April 13.—Different in every respect in the farmer's lot here to the conditions that hold in other parts of the Province. He does not require outside assistance for the farm. He finds it impossible on his clearings to produce sufficient to supply local demands, and the result is that potatoes, hay, grain, butter, eggs, fowl and meats have to be imported to a large extent, at least half the amount consumed. This is exclusive of summer tourist traffic. A number of farmers on the lake shores cater to this latter line, but they are only on the fringe so far as getting the trade goes. There is great scope for scientific farming along the lines mentioned. The soil area is sufficient to supply everything the district requires in farm produce. The trouble is that attention has been diverted from the farm by lumbering operations, and the younger generation has grown up with a craving for the lumber woods and camp life. There is room for farmers who would give attention to stock and agriculture and the improvement of farming generally. Then the farm help problem might become a problem. Under existing conditions it is not.

LOOKED AHEAD AT LINDSAY.

Lindsay, April 13.—The farmers in this city believe in keeping good farm help when they get them. When hired help was plentifully they picked the good men, and the majority of them have them yet. Only two men, as far as can be ascertained, have applied in town for hired help. However, help is plentiful, as there are lots of idle young men around. Whether they will work on a farm is another question.

ENGLISHMEN IN PEEL.

Brampton, April 13.—The scarcity of help experienced in recent years on account of the exodus of farmers' sons and others familiar with farm work to the West is not as great this spring as a year ago. The average wages being paid for eight months is from $23 to $25 per month. While a considerable number from this district have left for the West during the past few weeks there will be no difficulty in farmers securing sufficient labor this year. Many of the young Englishmen who came to Canada two or three years ago are now able to do the work required of them and are commanding good wages and giving satisfaction.

WEDDING BELLS

COX—STERLING.

The marriage of the Hon. George A. Cox and Miss Amy Gertrude Sterling, eldest daughter of Mr. Walter Sterling, was solemnized at four o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's father in Carlton street, Toronto. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George Jackson, pastor of Sherbourne street Methodist church, and the Rev. Professor Wallace of Victoria University, in the presence of only the immediate relatives. The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her father, and left later in the afternoon with her husband for New York en route for Europe. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Cox will reside in Mr. Cox's beautiful home in Sherbourne street, Toronto.

CLARKE—EMMERSON.

The marriage took place at 2.30 Wednesday, April 14th, at 266 Stewart street, of Myrta Merrill, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Emmerson to Samuel Arthur Clarke, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Clarke, of St. John's, Newfoundland. The bride who was gowned in an empire dress of bisque crepe de chine with touches of pale blue over taffeta, was unattended. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. Henderson of Charlotte street Methodist church. After luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke left on the 4.30 for their future home in Toronto. The bride travelled in a grey suit and hat to match.

McILMOYLE—BELL.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the residence of Rev. J. R. Webb, 344 Rubidge street, Tuesday afternoon, when Mr. Wm. John McIlmoyle was united in marriage to Miss Ellen Davidson Bell. Rev. Mr. Webb officiated. Both parties reside in Smith township.

The El Rey Sisters

The attraction at the Auditorium Roller Rink next week will be the El Rey Sisters. Prof. Genno and Miss Patterson are to be congratulated upon securing these two clever children whose ages are 9 and 11 years. There is no doubt but that they will attract large crowds to the popular resort next week. The El Rey Sisters are the youngest and best skating team in the world, and besides their clever performances they possess a rare beauty and grace which is bound to prove a valuable attraction. No one should miss seeing these two little girls. They will be at the roller rink all next week.

The Bisley Team

Col.-Sergt. W. Moore of Peterborough, is entitled to a place on the Canadian Bisley team this year, but he is unable to say at present whether he will be able to make the trip this year or not. His friends are hoping, however, that he will cross the pond to represent this city at the big meet.

The Canadian team which will go to Bisley this year will be in charge of Lt.-Col. A. Bertram of the Third Infantry Brigade, Dundas, who has been appointed commandant of the team. Major W. F. Mercer of the Second Queen's Own Rifles, Toronto, has been appointed adjutant of the team.

No definite date is fixed for sailing yet, but the team is expected to leave Montreal for England about June 19.

Doctor Said Only Zam-Buk Could Cure Her Eczema

In view of the numerous cures which Zam-Buk has worked when all else has failed, there is little wonder that in the end the doctor attending Mrs. J. P. St. Denis, of 305 Thompson street, Winnipeg, should tell her there was nothing but Zam-Buk could cure her. The result showed the far-seeing wisdom of this practitioner, and having been completely cured by Zam-Buk, Mrs. St. Denis gives her experience for the benefit of other sufferers.

She says; "Eczema started on one side of my face and nose. At first my nose felt sore, similar to what one feels when having a bad cold. I paid no attention to this, thinking it would pass away in a day or so, but to my surprise it got worse. The nose then became swollen and hard, and turned a purplish red, as well as part of the cheek on that side of my face. As the disease developed, pimples and ulcers broke out, then the skin cracked in places and peeled off in flakes, leaving my face and nose raw and sore. This condition reacted on my general health, and I became very ill. I could get no sleep at night because of the irration and the pain, and my face was in such a shocking condition that for two months I did not go out of the house. I applied remedies which were supposed to be good for skin diseases, but in vain. My doctor also treated me, but without effect, until one day he said that the only thing which would now be likely to cure me was Zam-Buk.

"Acting on his advice, I procured a supply and found that even the first few applications had a soothing effect on the sores. I left off everything else in favor of this balm, and applied it liberally every day to the affected parts. In a remarkably short time, considering the obstinate nature of my disease, we saw traces of improvement, which encouraged us to persevere with the Zam-Buk treatment. Zam-Buk reduced the discoloration, then the hard swelling began to show traces of leaving, the sores seemed to be less angry, and in about three weeks' time most of the sores were healing nicely. To cut a long story short, I continued with the Zam-Buk treatment until my face was cleared completely of all traces of the troublesome and painful eczema."

Zam-Buk is a sure cure for cuts, lacerations, burns, eczema, ringworm, poisoned wounds, festering sores, bad leg, and all skin injuries and diseases. It is also a cure for piles. Druggists and Stores everywhere sell at 50c. a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, on receipt of price. You are warned against cheap and harmful imitations sometimes represented as "just as good."

In yesterday's issue appeared an item in reference to the laymen's banquet in St. Andrew's church, stating that it was to be held last night. It should have been next Wednesday night, April 21st.

Dr. Grenfell's Lecture on His Life and Work in the Labrador Field

Dr. Grenfell, the widely known Labrador medical missionary, attracted a large crowd to the opera house last night to hear his discourse upon the life and work among the people of that rocky and ice-bound land. The speaker and his work are no strangers to Peterborough people, and an opportunity to hear him lecture and to learn more about the work and the country in which he labors was welcomed. Dr. Grenfell gave a very impressive talk and made an earnest appeal for assistance in that field which is so wide and where his work is so much appreciated. A large number of very fine views were shown on the canvas and the evening proved most enjoyable and instructive.

Mr. J. H. Burnham occupied the chair and made a few opening remarks and referred to Dr. Grenfell's work. He then introduced the speaker of the evening.

DR. GRENFELL.

Dr. Grenfell received a warm reception from his audience. The doctor indulged in no flights of oratory during the course of his address, but told his story in a simple, unassuming way that went direct to the hearts of his hearers. There were flashes of humor here and there, however, that brightened the discourse, and served to show that it was no mere sentimentalist that had undertaken the tremendous task that he had assumed, but a whole man, filled with the spirit of his Master and who thoroughly enjoys the doing of it.

HOW HE BEGAN.

The doctor told how he began his work. At first he practised his profession of surgery, but anxious to do something for the unfortunate, he began making life brighter for the ragged children, taking many of them off on holiday trips. Then he fitted up a gymnasium in his house so that their bodies might be developed as well as their souls. Then he took up the work among deep sea fishermen, sailing in a schooner down the Swedish, Danish, Irish and other coasts of Europe. Finally he sailed across the ocean to Labrador, where his attentions have since been engaged. He found that there were many vessels trading among the deep sea fishermen whose principal traffic was in liquor and tobacco.

FIGHTING LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

He went to Ostend and purchased four tons of tobacco, which he brought across the ocean, and with this he started to wage war against the liquor boats, with the result that for fifteen years past there has not been one of them in the business. Indeed, at the present time there is not a single place on the Labrador coast where liquor is sold. The greatest foe of the sailor is not in the storms or in the icebergs, although these are great, indeed, but in the liquor traffic. For this reason he was endeavoring to raise $100,000 with which to establish a Sailors' Institute at St. John's. Right around where the men are compelled to land at that point there are half a hundred places of iniquity, in the shape of saloons and evil houses, but not one decent place where a sailor can go and get washed. He wished to provide a place which would make it unnecessary for these men to resort to the saloons and other places, and it was for this object that he wished to enlist their sympathies. He never used liquor in his practice, because it was entirely unnecessary, it was most inadvisable.

MANY VIEWS SHOWN.

Dr. Grenfell showed many scenes on the Labrador coast illustrative of his arduous work, in which were exhibited pictures of the fishing vessels, the fishermen at work, dog teams, hospitals, religious services, and many other views, depicting the various industries and co-operative stores, etc., which he has established during the seventeen years of his work there, all of which make for the comfort and relief as well as the spiritual and material well being of the people of that bleak country. Many of the scenes were exceedingly pathetic, and all were instructive, and greatly enhanced the appreciation of all present in the self-sacrificing soul-winning work of the great Dr. Grenfell.

At the close of the lecture, Sheriff Hall, upon behalf of the audience, expressed their appreciation of the doctor's talk, and expressed the belief that the support from Peterborough would be greater in the future.

Large Tract of Land Reserved

Toronto, April 12.—An order in council has been passed setting apart 1,000,000 acres of land extending westerly from the east boundary of Rainy River District, including Hunter's Island, and contiguous to the international boundary as a forest reserve.

This land is adjacent to a tract which has been set apart by the State of Minnesota for a similar purpose, and as the minister of public works has agreed to make it a game preserve as well, co-operation between the officials of the province and those of the State of Minnesota in the matter of game protection will be productive of good results.

To W. A. Preston, Rainy River, is due the credit for placing the matter before the government, arranging for a workable plan with the United States officials.

"Down with the Republic" is the Cry in France

Mera, France, April 12.—The striking button makers of Mera, whose demands for a continuance of the previous wage scale in the button factories have been followed by violence and disorders recalling the days of the revolution, have brought about a veritable reign of terror here and in the neighboring towns of Crepin and Lormeison.

About 2,000 soldiers, under the command of General Nicolas, consisting of dragoons, hussars, and cuirassiers, and 500 gendarme, under the leadership of the prefect of Cae, are today patrolling the streets of all the towns and the surrounding country, where further violence is to be expected.

The mob is ugly, and cries of "Down with the Republic!" are heard constantly. The soldiers are bearing the insults of the people with great stoicism, and although a number of the troops have been injured severely by stones, no reprisals have been made.

Warning to Picture Shows

The Provincial Treasurer has issued a warning to the moving picture shows of the Province that all that have not taken out licenses before the first of May and complied with the new regulations will be prosecuted. The fine is $100, with $25 extra for each day. A number of the churches have protested against being forced to provide boxes as protection for a single entertainment.

Man Slashed with Knife at Bancroft

Bancroft, April 13.—Louis Saucier returned from the lumber woods on Monday to find his wife living with a man named Emmanuel Hannah. A row took place, and he threatened to have Hannah arrested. The latter retaliated by pulling a knife and stabbing Saucier in the abdomen, inflicting a dangerous wound. Dr. Embury of Bancroft, was called, and a telephone message was received from him this morning, in which he stated that Saucier was badly slashed, and he could not say what the result would be. Hannah skipped out immediately after the row, accompanied by Mrs. Saucier, but a warrant was issued for his arrest, and placed in the hands of a local constable, who succeeded in capturing him, and he is now on his way to Bancroft, where he will be given a preliminary trial before Police Magistrate Jarman. The parties lived in Raglan township on the border of Hastings county.

Stiff Neck

Stiff neck is caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the neck. It is usually confined to one side, or to the back of the neck and one side. While it is often quite painful, quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of rheumatism in ten requires internal treatment. When there is no fever and no swelling as in muscular and chronic rheumatism, Chamberlain's Liniment will accomplish more than any internal treatment.

Fire Chief was Again Remanded

The charge against Fire Chief Howard of assaulting Frank Reynolds at the fire station on Saturday night, April 3rd, was to have been heard yesterday morning at the police court, but owing to the serious illness of the complainant, the case had to be again enlarged for eight days. The counter charge against Reynolds, laid by Chief Howard, for trespassing, of course, had also to be enlarged until Thursday next.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams, counsel for Reynolds, stated that his client was quite ill with pneumonia, and it may be some days before he will be able to attend court.

Conservatory Announcement

There will be a piano recital at the Conservatory Music Hall this afternoon at 4.15 by the junior pupils of Miss Bessie Sloome. In the evening Miss Mabel McCaw of the Conservatory faculty will give a recital, and will be assisted by Miss Julia Choate, violinist, and Miss Frances Manning, soprano. Invitations may be had by calling or phoning to the Conservatory.

There was no practice of the Conservatory orchestra last night on account of the lecture by Dr. Grenfell.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Piper, and children of Toronto, spent Easter at the home of Mr. T. W. Robinson, 825 Weller street.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

"Coffee Doesn't Hurt Me."

Tales that Are Told

"I was one of the kind who wouldn't believe that coffee was hurting me," says a N.Y. woman. "You just couldn't convince me its use was connected with the heart and stomach trouble I suffered from most of the time.

"My trouble finally got so bad I had to live on milk and toast almost entirely for three or four years. Still I loved the coffee and wouldn't believe it could do such damage.

"What I needed was to quit coffee and take nourishment in such form as my stomach could digest.

"I had read much about Postum, but never thought it would fit my case until one day I decided to quit coffee and give it a trial and make sure about it. So I got a package and carefully followed the directions.

"Soon I began to get better and was able to eat carefully selected foods without the aid of pepsin or other digestants and it was not long before I was really a new woman physically.

"Now I am healthy and sound, can eat anything and everything that comes along and I know this wonderful change is all due to my having quit coffee and got the nourishment I needed through this delicious Postum.

"My wonder is why everyone don't give up the old coffee and the troubles that go with it and build themselves up as I have done, with Postum."

Easy to prove by 10 days trial of Postum in place of coffee. The reward is big.

"There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

Successfully Rescued

Mr. Harry Gibson, of Kingston, was rescued from an enemy that had relentlessly pursued him for years.

Mr. Gibson was born and brought up in Kingston. By profession he is a school teacher. He received his training in Queen's University, where he took a course in arts and medicine that will befits him to talk on almost any subject.

The enemy that for 25 years relentlessly pursued Mr. Gibson is a menace to our entire population—it is the demon, Catarrh.

Mr. Gibson says:—"For years I was never free from Catarrh of the nose and throat. It bothered me winter and summer and kept me so continually coughing and hawking that I found it a great impediment to the proper performance of my duties at school. I used every available means of obtaining a cure, took bottle after bottle of medicine prescribed by local doctors, but never got more than temporary relief. I consulted a well-known specialist in the States, but after spending a considerable amount of money with him to no advantage, was forced to look elsewhere for relief, which I first received from Catarrhozone.

I consider Catarrhozone a genuine cure for Catarrh. It drove that loathsome disease completely out of my system, and today I am as well as if I never knew what the word Catarrh implied."

A straightforward proof of cure, coming from a well-known gentleman like Mr. Gibson carries conviction of the fact with it that Catarrhozone does all that is claimed for it. As a cure for Catarrh and Bronchitis it positively has no equal. All druggists, price $1; small size, 50 cents. By mail from Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

WHERE OUR BANKS ARE WEAK

Peter Ryan of Toronto, has delivered a vigorous attack upon the Canadian banks in the currency number of Collier's. He has various faults to find with them. He blames the defeat of Mr. Pringle at the last Dominion election to the influence of the Bankers' Association. When the Home Bank offered a higher rate of interest than other chartered banks they were refused the privileges of the clearing house. This is what is alleged by Mr. Ryan:

"The Home Bank, it may be remembered, made a strong bid for business by offering more interest than any of the other banks. It got the business—and lost the privileges of the clearing house. Then the Home Bank promptly decided that it would rather have less business and more clearing house. So it reduced its rate of interest—and all was forgiven. The Sovereign Bank also attempted to give its depositors a little better bargain than the other banks were offering. It made a strong point of reckoning interest every three months and the other banks were compelled to follow suit, for there was no convenient club with which to abate the Sovereign Bank at the moment. Since that institution has retired from business, the rate of interest is calculated twice a year, because 'it is too much trouble to total it up oftener.'"

Further, Mr. Ryan says:

"The worst faults of the banks of Canada is that there are too few of them—too few banks, too many branches. There are not enough to make that healthy competition that is the life of trade. In the United States, where the Canadian style of banking out is so admired—by the bankers—it is easy to start a bank, for whenever a bank is needed a new one is opened, not a branch of an old one. Branch banks are not allowed. Once they were—but the people of the United States soon realized that, carried to its logical conclusion, the branch bank system would result in a money trust that would make the Standard Oil look insignificant.

"Well, say the defenders of the Canadian system, which would you rather have, a lot of weak banks or a few strong banks? To which the answer is; A lot of strong banks; for it will be shown that the banks of Canada are not the miracles of strength they are supposed to be, and that many banks do not necessarily mean weak banks.

"The Canadian system was installed on the theory that, having the ready money of the country in the hands of a few powerful banks, with branches scattered all over the country, money could be rushed to any point in an emergency. This was true when it was first said, and it remains true. The question is; Did any one ever hear of it being rushed from Toronto or Montreal to Fergus or Elora, or any other little community? On the contrary, it is rushed away from those points to Toronto and Montreal, and a good many millions of it finds its way to New York in the course of a year. The banks of Canada, in a word, are not a great reservoir from which irrigating streams of money are piped to those parts of the country where the drought threatens the little farmer and manufacturer. On the contrary, they are a suction pipe that drains the country, working on the good old Biblical principle of; 'To him that hath shall be given.' In the United States the small town has its bank or couple of banks, owned by citizens, maintained by the savings of the other citizens. The directors and managers are all citizens also, with an interest in the prosperity of the place, and with a strong desire to see it flourish. Every man who applies for a loan is personally known to them, or to one of them.

A man must not suppose that he can buy indulgences by subscribing liberally to the missionary funds.

Mr. Castro should be flattered to find that he is attracting the attention of several national governments, and is forbidden to land anywhere in South America as they fear he would stir up the continent.

The ice left the Indian river in one day this year; and judging from all appearances spring has come. The river is now dotted with canoes of the dusky redmen and also of his paleface brethren. Rats are reported scarce this year but judging from the canoes as they are unloaded there seems to be a plentiful supply. We understand the price is 45c a hide. There are some people at the business who never saw a trap set. One young man of considerable education; set out eighteen traps on Monday morning, but on visiting the place the following

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription — Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and all improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

Lead and Zinc Mining Offer

The Bardy Lead and Zinc Company, whose advertisement appears on another column of this issue, has recently received a report on their land which is indeed gratifying. The chief ores on the property are sulphide and oxidized ores of zinc and lead with traces of gold and silver. The company has on a 50-year lease 246 acres of land in Northeast Arkansas, and are now ready to start drilling to ascertain the extent of the lead and zinc contained in the property. The par value of the stock is $25 per share, and it is now being offered for quick sale at $6.50. This company has the earth sights. The only thing necessary to make this a perfectly pure investment is to find out how much mineral they have. It is for this purpose that the stock is being sold. All you are interested investigate the proposition at once. Look up the adv. on another page.

Bad Season for Colds

Colds and grip were quite prevalent last winter and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in great demand and performed some remarkable cures. Mrs. Mary J. Robinson of Cameron, W. Va., says; "Last winter I was taken with one of the awfullest colds ever had in my life. I could not speak above a whisper and was very hoarse. I was afraid it was going to be pneumonia. I took one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in three days was lots better and could talk. I did not take but the one bottle and it cured me. I now tell everybody about Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the good it did me."

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys surely point to weak Kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Brights or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell

Why Do People Deposit Their Money in Banks for only 3 Per Cent. Interest?

BECAUSE, THEY THINK IT IS QUITE SAFE.

Why Do Some Invest in Bonds to get a Little Higher Interest?

Because, the bonds represent a mortgage on the property on which their money is invested which gives a feeling of safety.

Why Do People Invest in Wildcat Gold and Silver Mining Schemes? Because they think the chances of profit are big and they are willing to take the risk.

WHY NOT INVEST IN A SAFE STOCK IN A GOING COAL MINE

making money now and which presents such possibilities for development that it is expected that the profits will run from 25 per cent. to 50 per. cent. higher.

The Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited, Stock at $10 per Share is a safe Stock.

It is all common stock. There are no bonds or no mortgages or no preferred stock, on which interest must be paid before the common stockholder gets anything.

When you buy common stock of the Winter Port Coal Mining Company, Limited at $10 per share you become an actual owner of the mines and have an equal chance of the profits according to the number of shares held. A coal mine with a big deposit of coal ready for the miner's pick is as safe as a bank. To own and control shares of common stock in such a coal mine must be safer and better than holding bonds in a proposition in which you have no control and which may or may not be properly managed. The officers and management of the Winter Port Coal Mines of New Brunswick have the experience in mining and selling coal in both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

J. S. Gibbon, the President of the company, opened and developed the Winter Port Mines to the present stage.

W. E. Vroom, the Vice-President of the Company, was for some years actively associated in the management of the Springhill Collieries in Nova Scotia and the Albert Mines in New Brunswick.

Manufacturers in St. John speak highly of the Winter Port coal.

Winter Port coal is a good locomotive coal and has been used on the Intercolonial and other railways.

The Winter Port Coal Mines being practically on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific now opening up through New Brunswick will provide a most convenient coaling facility for that great transcontinental railway. Immense quantities of coal will be needed by the great railways and by the manufacturers, steamship lines, etc., in connection with the development of Canada's Winter Port at St. John, N.B., which is only 55 miles in a direct line from these coal mines.

Secure some Winter Port stock now at $10 per share (there is no personal liability) and get your share of the profits of a safe conservative money-making proposition.

Was Badly Scalded

Evaline Foy, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walker Foy, 74 Hunter street, Ashburnham, was seriously scalded yesterday morning by falling into a large pan containing clothes and boiling water that had just been a few minutes before, removed from the stove.

The little girl, with a number of other children was playing in the yard at the rear of Mr. Patrick Regan's place. The week's washing was being done and the woman had removed the clothes from the boiler to a large pan of hot water in the yard. The child was running about and not noticing the pan fell into it.

The cries of the little one attracted attention and she was quickly removed to her home across the street. Two doctors were summoned and attended her injuries. She was burned badly on the legs and on the abdomen. The child will recover.

FLAG COURTESY.

Etiquette at Sea Is Very Strictly Observed by Captains.

Flag etiquette is strictly observed by sea captains, for by its means they are able to act in a courteous and polite manner towards one another when on the high seas. For instance, when two liners belonging to the same owners sight each other at sea they hoist flags immediately, and in passing the junior captain always dips his ensign to the senior captain. Then, again, according to that nautical authority, the editor of The Shipping Gazette, if two liners belonging to different owners pass each other at sea, and the captains happen to be acquainted, the master who realizes that he is the junior invariably dips to the other ship.

In the case of a British liner sighting a foreign liner there is no definite practice, but, as a rule, the commanders of foreign liners courteously dip to any large British liner they meet on the high seas. It is just a matter of courtesy, and often the commander of a British vessel will run up his ensign first.

A certain code of etiquette exists, too, between the tramp steamer and the liner. If a tramp steamer approaches a liner, it is not customary for the latter to hoist her flags unless the tramp takes the first step. Then, as soon as it is seen that the cargo boat has hoisted her flags, the liner responds. Mail and passenger liners, for instance, when passing along the coast of Portugal, may sight dozens of cargo steamers, and, naturally enough, will not show their flags unless the tramp does first. But if a dozen or more cargo boats hoisted their flags to the liner, the latter would be expected to acknowledge them.

In the case of men-of-war, all merchant ships, tramps, or liners dip their ensign, whether British or foreign. Signalling between British warships and merchant ships has received a good deal of attention during recent years, and both naval officers and mercantile officers welcome an opportunity of signalling to each other. In fact, commanders of liners rarely sight men-o'-war at sea that do not have their colors flying as soon as the liner is in sight.

It is nearly half a century ago since the system of sea signalling called the "International Code of Signals," was compiled in consequence of action taken by the British Board of Trade, and adopted by nearly all the commercial nations of the world. The system consists of eighteen flags and a code pennant. In using and interpreting these signals it is, of course, necessary to be in possession of the signal-code book, in which the meanings attached to the flags and combinations of the flags are printed. Each nation, however, prints its own copy of the signal book in its own language, and thus two ships totally ignorant of each other's language may converse by means of these flags.

Mr. Pinero as an Actor.

Maybe the famous dramatist is wondering why, in the various reminiscences which have been aroused by Mr. H. B. Irving's appearance in "Charles I.," a certain interesting fact has not been recalled. In the Lyceum revival of 1879 Mr. Pinero, when still a young actor and an almost unknown author, appeared as the aged Marquess of Huntly. Amongst other parts he also played Lord Stanley in "Richard III." That early experience behind the footlights has proved of immense value to Mr. Pinero, and to his training more than one leading player owes nearly everything. It has been said of one of our most prominent actresses that he even taught her to breathe. So unversed was she in the art of elocution that, had it not been for Mr. Pinero, half her words would have been inaudible. But he can be sarcastic as well as kind. One day he expostulated with an actor for speaking a word in a certain fashion. "I have always pronounced the word so, and shall continue to do so," said the actor, much annoyed. "My dear sir," replied the dramatist, "by all means speak the word as you will. I wouldn't deprive you of one of your laughs for the world."

Agriculturist and Novelist.

Mr. Rider Haggard has lately been talking about afforestation schemes, and his words on the subject are worthy of every respect. When he is not writing novels he is studying agriculture, and he has one of the best-appointed farms in the country at Ditchingham. His home at Ditchingham he once painted yellow, which led a facetious printer to address some proofs to "Mustard Pot Hall." That printer's humor received a severe check per return of post. People refer to Mr. Haggard, by the way, as a wealthy novelist. Whatever his wealth may be to-day, his first literary efforts were certainly far from encouraging. He lost $250 over his first book; his second brought him $50; over his third he made $250; but his fourth—"King Solomon's Mines"—made him rich and famous.

The Chilly Homes of England.

It is very largely our own fault if England has earned the reputation of an impossible country to winter in. As a nation we are, I verily believe, the greatest living amateurs in the science of keeping our houses warm. An Englishman's home is his castle; it is also, ninety-nine times out of a hundred, his refrigerator. The truth is that England in winter time is one of the chilliest spots on earth. After some years in America it took me, I recall, thirty months on my return to London to get warm again. —London Chronicle.

Quaint Marriage Customs.

The quaint wedding ceremony of cutting up the bride's garters and distributing them amongst the wedding guests, which was recently revived during the wedding festivities of the Kaiser's son, reminds one of the many quaint marriage customs that still survive in many of old English and Scottish families.

One notable tradition of this sort still kept green by the Dukes of Atholl and their heirs is that of the bridegroom carrying the bride across the threshold of Blair Castle.

THE MAGIC OF HOUDIN

Remarkable Cleverness of the Famous French Conjurer.

HIS MOST WONDERFUL FEAT

A Mysterious Performance Before the Court of Louis Philippe That Was Probably the Result of a Subtle Bit of Psychological Reasoning.

A link connecting the names of Cagliostro, the great charlatan, and the French conjurer Robert Houdin may be found in a story that may be justly termed "The Most Incredible Feat of Magic Ever Performed."

In 1846 Houdin, then at the height of his popularity, was invited to St. Cloud to give a performance before the king, the royal family and court. The conjurer had only his young son as an assistant and could rely on no tricks of light or mechanism, as the exhibition was given in one of the drawing rooms of the palace. He finished with the following extraordinary performance:

Borrowing several handkerchiefs, he wound them into a package, which he laid on the table. Then he went about among the guests distributing cards on which were to be written the names of places to which it was desired that the package be invisibly transported. Houdin then handed the cards to the king, asking him to select three at hazard and from them choose the destination he liked best.

The first card read, "I desire the handkerchief to be found beneath one of the candelabra on the mantelpiece."

"That," said the king, "is too easy for the ability of a conjurer of the ability of M. Houdin."

The second read, "The handkerchiefs are to be taken to the dome of the Invalides."

"That," commented the king, "is better. However, it is much too far, not for the handkerchiefs, but for us. The third card suits me," said the king. "It is desired that you should send the handkerchiefs into the chest of the last orange tree on the right of the avenue."

Houdin expressed his willingness to attempt the feat, and the king whispered an order that immediately sent a group of attendants to guard the orange tree in question.

The conjurer placed the package of handkerchiefs under an opaque glass bell and then, waving a wand, ordered the package to proceed to the place chosen by the king. When the bell was raised the handkerchiefs were gone, but in their place was a white turtledove. A trusted attendant was sent to the orange tree to open the chest. He returned bearing a small iron coffer covered by rust.

"Are the handkerchiefs in this coffer?" asked the king.

"Yes, sire, and they have been there, too, for a long time."

"How can that be possible? The handkerchiefs were given you hardly a quarter of an hour ago."

"Yet it is so, and your majesty will be even more surprised when I prove that this coffer and its contents were placed in the chest of the orange tree sixty years ago. Deign to remove from the neck of the turtledove the key of the casket."

Louis Philippe unfastened a ribbon holding a small rusty key, unlocked the coffer, found a document bearing the seal of Cagliostro and read:

This day, the 9th of June, 1786, this iron box, containing six handkerchiefs, was placed among the roots of an orange tree by me, Balsamo, count of Cagliostro, to serve in performing an act of magic which will be executed on the same day sixty years hence before Louis Philippe of Orleans and his family.

Beneath the parchment conveying this message was found a package containing what seemed to be the six handkerchiefs placed on the table a few minutes before. In his memoirs M. Houdin offers no solution for the mystery. A shrewd annalist has explained it as being no more than a clever bit of psychology on the part of the conjurer, who knew the character of Louis Philippe and knew him to be exceedingly clever in small things. —Bookman.

His Qualifications.

He was pleading his cause earnestly.

"I am wealthy," he said, "and could make ample provision for you."

She nodded and checked one point off on her fingers.

"I have had experience with the world," he continued.

She checked off another point.

"I have passed the frivolous point," he went on, "and I have the steadfastness, the age and the wisdom to guard and guide you well."

He paused for an answer.

"The points you make are strong ones," she said, "but they lead undeviatingly to the conclusion that you would make an excellent father for me. You have all the necessary qualifications, but just now I am looking for a husband."

Considerate.

"Have you done anything to earn the gratitude of the people?"

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum, "although they don't know about it. I have let them off of a lot of speeches they I was tempted to make."

MEDICAL COLLIERS.

How They Cure Blindness and Set Broken Limbs.

To Scotland belongs the peculiar distinction of having produced quite a number of men within the past few years who, without any medical training whatever, have effected cures which have baffled the skill of the cleverest physicians and surgeons of the day.

In our recent review of the reminiscences of Lady Priestley, whose husband, Sir William Overend Priestley, was one of the greatest doctors of modern times, mention was made of Haughy, a Highland peasant, who wrought such marvellous surgical cures that he became the most popular man in the whole countryside.

Haughy reminds one of William Rae, the Blantyre "Miracle Worker," who, five years ago, astounded the world with some wonderful feats of bloodless surgery, work in which Haughy excelled. As a boy Rae worked at the pit-head, but the mysteries of anatomy always had a great fascination for him. At fourteen years of age he exhibited a wonderful power over bones and joints, and practiced amongst his acquaintances with extraordinary success. He ultimately rose to the position of colliery official, but the success and local fame which he gain through putting disjointed hips and other dislocations to rights brought him so many patients that he was forced to relinquish his ordinary occupation and devote himself entirely to surgery.

And such was his success that hundreds of patients clamored for treatment every day. His house became the Mecca of cripples, one of his most startling successes being the case of a youth of nineteen who for two years lay a helpless invalid with a curved spine and humped back. He had been to many hospitals, each of which had failed to effect the cure which Rae brought about in half an hour.

Another wonderful Scottish bloodless surgeon is James Wallace, of Tayport, Fifeshire, known as the "Blacksmith Bone Doctor." Wallace has hundreds of cures standing to his credit, which are quite as remarkable as those performed by Rae. For the past forty years he has made use of his extraordinary knowledge of the bones in the human body by affording relief to the maimed, and although he is now a man of over seventy years of age he still continues to exercise his skill, his fingers having lost none of their cunning.

Consumption Must Go.

Dr. Latham, a noted London physician, gives the "white plague" a life of 30 or 40 years longer, at the end of which time, he says, tuberculosis will have disappeared as completely in civilized countries as have leprosy and cholera.

How medical science has suppressed many deadly diseases is related in connection with this striking prediction of the end of consumption. Smallpox is the most striking example. Sixty years ago smallpox accounted for a large percentage of the deaths in England. Nowadays the deaths from smallpox are among the lowest in the mortality returns.

Cholera epidemics have for long been unknown in England, and no one need contract the disease if he observes certain simple precautions. Another terrible disease which medical science has rendered preventable is hydrophobia. If the preventive inoculations with the Pasteur serum are begun within a fortnight after the dog's bite, the disease practically never ensues.

Of disease conquered by sanitary methods directed against the specific germs themselves, malaria and yellow fever are the most important. "Roman fever," formerly the curse of the marshy Campagna region of Italy, has also been stamped out by similar methods. A great scientific campaign is now being carried on in Central Africa against the mysterious "sleeping sickness," and promises to be ultimately successful.

The Powerful Englehawk.

Perhaps the deadliest foe of the Australian sheep farmer is the englehawk, and many and wonderful are the contrivances invented for his destruction or capture. A correspondent at Singleton says it is no uncommon thing for a farmer with a run of quite average extent to lose a hundred sheep in a season through the depredations of these carnivorous birds. "Their strength," he writes, "is so abnormal that it is practically impossible for the sheep on which one pounces to resist the attack, and their appetite for live mutton appears to be insatiable. They are occasionally caught by means of a trap attached to the carcass of a sheep, and sometimes poisoned; but their numbers are nevertheless continually increasing."—London Standard.

An Exciting Snapshot.

Lord Minto returned to Calcutta a few days ago on the conclusion of his short tour in Assam.

The trip was marred by an accident to Col. Victor Brooke, the viceroy's military secretary. A rhinoceros charged the elephant ridden by Col. Brooke, dashing that officer against his howdah so violently that his right arm was fractured in two places.

The viceroy alone was shooting the rhinoceros, and Col. Brooke was attempting to take a photograph of the shot and also to turn the charging animal.

Coal Seam in a City Street.

A seam of coal of good quality, two feet thick, has been discovered under Briggate, one of the principal streets of Leeds, Eng. It extends from the direction of the Grand Central Hotel. Already about two tons have been excavated, and it is declared quite fit for household purposes.

The discovery was made in a cellar during some drainage excavations.

Fifty Years a Pauper.

At a meeting of the East Preston, Sussex, England, board of guardians it was reported that an aged inmate, who recently died in the workhouse, first became chargeable to the union as a pauper lunatic in January, 1850, and that his maintenance during the past fifty years had cost the ratepayers over $4,500.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. That is why his prescription — Dr Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments be weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop o strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When those nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths re leading druggists everywhere to ispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and ee if improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

OBITUARY

ROLAND W. BETHERINGTON.

The death occurred yesterday morning of Roland Warboy Betherington, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Betherington, 666 Downie street. The child had been ill for three weeks. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved parents.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at two o'clock from the family residence to the Little Lake cemetery.

MRS. MARGARET BOWIE.

The death occurred Tuesday at her late residence in Bridgenorth, of Mrs. Margaret Bowie, after an illness of some weeks' duration. The late Mrs. Bowie was 82 years of age, and was born in Scotland. She was the wife of the late Henry Bowie, who predeceased her four years ago. She was a woman highly esteemed and had been a resident of Bridgenorth for many years.

Two daughters and one son are left to mourn her loss. The daughters are Mrs. Thomas Black, and Mrs. James Gregg, of Bridgenorth, and the son is Mr. James Bowie of Souris, Man.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at two o'clock from the family residence to the Bridgenorth cemetery.

EVELYN FOY.

Little Evelyn Foy, who while playing with a number of other children on Monday last, fell into a pan containing boiling water and was badly scalded, succumbed to her injuries yesterday morning. The immediate cause of her death was convulsions resulting from the burns. She was burned from the waist, down the front of the body. The child was only two years old and suffered great pain. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Foy, 74 Hunter street, Ashburnham. Much sympathy is felt for the sorrowing parents in their bereavement.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at four o'clock from the family residence to the Little Lake cemetery.

Three Small Boats were Locked Through, Navigation is Open

Navigation on the Trent canal was opened yesterday for the season of 1909 and all the bridgetenders and lockmasters are on duty. The lift locks are not yet open as the painters are not yet through with their work. The locks have been thoroughly overhauled during the winter and are ready for operation. At the present time there are 14 men handling paint brushes and they are rushing the work so that the locks will be ready in a few days. If there were any boats to lock through there would be no trouble as the painters could stop, but as yet the big boats are not ready.

At the Peterborough locks three boats were let through. Two gasoline launches, one of which went down and two came up, and the Rob Roy were the first to navigate the river. The Otonabee Navigation Company's steamer Monarch is ready at Rice Lake and will be up on Saturday, and the Rambler is also expected up tomorrow.

On the Lakefield section the government boat Empire, is running between Lakefield and Young's Point, while on the Lakefield diversion Baker's tugs have started bringing logs down from Scugog lake.

The fourteen lighthouses on the Lindsay river are now being fixed up and will be ready next week for the season.

The ice is all out of the canal waterway except in Clear Lake, but even that is not very bad and a steamer could navigate with a little trouble. It is not expected that the ice will last for more than a few days. Stony Lake is now practically clear as are also the other lakes and rivers further up the canal south to Rice Lake there is no more ice than there is in summer.

All the navigation companies are busy with their boats getting them ready and it is anticipated that the freighters as well as the passenger boats will have a busy season.

Banquet at Y.M.C.A., Bible Study Discussed

The supper table conference on Bible study held at the Y.M.C.A. last night was a most profitable and interesting affair. It was something new and it took exceedingly well with those present. As a result some benefits are looked for. The feature of the evening was the address by Mr. C. R. Drum of New York, who is here in the interests of the association.

Supper was served in the banquet hall at the Y.M.C.A., at about seven o'clock, and about half a hundred of the city's best men gathered round the festive board. The menu, which was furnished by Coleman Bros., included many appetizing dishes, and was all that could be desired.

Following the supper was Mr. Drum's address on Bible Study. He took up the value and necessity of Bible Study, and suggested ways in which the church could use the association in developing Bible study in fields that are not now used. Mr. Drum's address was a stirring one, and was closely followed by the interested gathering. Much information of value was received and it will be acted upon.

Rev. Mr. Keith of Knox church, spoke on the need of Bible study in relation to the church, and Mr. W. B. Wrong on the need of Bible study in relation to the association.

Following the three addresses was an open discussion in which a large number took part, on the best method of producing more efficient and a larger number of male teachers in the Sunday school. There is a dearth of male teachers, a condition which should not exist, and it is felt that if there were more men in the Sunday schools, and it is the intention of the association to take up this branch of the work.

The meeting passed a resolution whereby the religious committee of the association, in co-operation with the Sunday school superintendents and the pastors, will take up the matter of a male teachers' training class.

Improvements are Now Underway

The improvements to the post office, which it was announced in these columns some time ago were to be made, are now under way. Men are busy in the sorting department rearranging the furniture to economize space and to make handling the mails easier. When this is complete, other improvements, such as taking out the boxes will be started.

Will Start a Picture Show in Toronto

A moving picture house with a large seating capacity is what Mr. W. A. Edwards of the Crystal, proposes to conduct, at the corner of King and Bay streets, Toronto. He was in that city yesterday looking over the premises.

Mr. Edwards had the idea for some time that in spite of the many moving picture places in Toronto there was room for another good one. The place will be fitted up in the most modern and convenient manner.

Was It a Mistake? Large Sum on Plate

Washington, Penn., April 14.—The insertion of an advertisement in a local newspaper that there had been found in the collection plate of the Roscoe Methodist Episcopal church near here after the services last Sunday night a $1,000 bill developed the fact that the church officers think the donor made a mistake.

The yearly collections of the church do not average much more than the amount, and the officials state in the advertisement that they will return the money to the owner if he wants it back and can prove he inadvertently dropped it into the plate.

The Drain was Frozen

The drain across Simcoe street from the rear of the Dominion Bank Building is being torn up. It was noted in The Times a few days ago that this drain was plugged. It was plugged all right and was also frozen solid. The public works department have men taking up the tile, which by the way are three feet under the ground, and thawing them out and relaying them.

Thirty Persons Killed in Riot Over a Forbidden Religious Procession

Mexico City, April 15.—Rioting which occurred at Valardena, a mining camp in Coahuila, last Saturday was more serious than at first reported. 32 men being killed and many injured.

The trouble was instigated by Father Ramon Valenzuela, parish priest, it is asserted, who lies in a hospital hovering between life and death. Fourteen of the rioters were executed by the government troops and many were imprisoned.

The fighting occurred when Jefe Politico, of the town, an officer corresponding to a mayor, attempted to stop a religious procession headed by the village priest, the laws of Mexico forbidding such parades. A thousand parishioners followed the priest, wishing to witness the annual burning of Judas, and when the orders of the mayor became known the mob stoned him, and later burned the house of the mayor, who, with his wife, escaped by climbing a rear wall and seeking protection in the American colony.

The rioters then stormed a Chinese hotel, looting it of all liquors and foods, and terrorizing the neighborhood during the night by their drunken orgy. The police force fired on the mob, many members of which were well armed. The officers were forced to retreat, leaving six of their number dead in the main street. Later troops arrived in a special train, and a short fierce fight between troopers and rioters ensued, bringing the total deaths to 32, with a number injured.

Father Valenzuela was arrested. One of his followers smuggled a knife to his cell, and the priest stabbed himself six times in a vain attempt to commit suicide. He is now in the prison hospital. Quiet was restored.

Champion St. Andrew's Presented with Trophy At Banquet Last Night

About fifty gathered around the festive board at Jacobi Bros. restaurant last night. The occasion was the complimentary banquet to the champions of the church hockey league. The winners of the senior league were the St. Andrew's Guild, and the All Saints' Club won the junior league. Host Jacobi prepared a splendid supper for the boys and it was thoroughly enjoyed.

A feature of the evening was the presence of several of the pastors who took a lively interest in the affair and who evidenced considerable enthusiasm in the boys' games. Good clean sport is upheld by all and so popular is sport among the churches that suggestions were made by the pastors for a baseball league and a big field day.

Mr. J. H. Burnham who donated the cup to the senior league players was not present, being called out of the city. He was represented by Mr. D. B. McRae, who presented the cup to the champions, and made a neat speech in which he congratulated the winners and also the league upon the success achieved last season.

The banquet was a fitting closing of one of the best seasons the church league ever had. Great interest was taken in the games and the athletic sports are an important branch of the young men's societies. The supper was served at nine o'clock and after justice was done to the good things the toast list Those taking part were:—Misses Hilda was run off and a couple of very pleasant hours were spent. During the evening musical numbers were given by Mr. Frank Clarke and Mr. W. M. Johnston, which were greatly appreciated.

Ed. Brown, of Port Hope, Had Fearful Experience--Blown Out to Sea

Rochester, N.Y., April 15.—Without a mouthful of food for more than twenty-four hours, and living in momentary expectation of being swamped in his frail boat, Edgar L. Brown of Port Hope, who was reported to have been drowned Monday noon, when a boat in which he had fallen asleep, was blown out to sea, reached Port Hope, Tuesday afternoon, according to a telgram today.

Brown was fishing on Round Pond near here on Monday morning, and fell asleep in his boat. He was carried out into the lake. No one saw his plight until he was about three miles from the shore, and, by that time, Brown, who had awakened, had decided to set out on his seventy-mile jaunt across the lake. Word was sent to the life saving station, and Capt. Forbes manned the boat with his crew and set out to search for the lost man. After four hours' fighting, they had to give up the task, and were lucky in having the Ontario to tow them back to shore. The telegram from Port Hope stated that Brown had a fearful experience.

He has a mother and sister living at Port Hope.

Thousands Homeless on Burning Mountain

Mexico City, April 15.—A great forest fire is raging in the Zitacuaro Mountains, in Michoacan. Hundreds of men who have been fighting the flames have been compelled to give up the unequal struggle, and the mountain is now burning from end to end, a distance of many miles.

Thousands have been rendered homeless by the fire, and a great quantity of the dye woods, in which the region abounds, has been destroyed. Owing to the isolation of the region the fire will have to burn itself out. The country thereabouts abounds in valuable hardwoods. Already a number of valuable hacienda have been swept by the flames, and scores of villages destroyed. No details as to loss of life are available.

The Fish Inspectors are on the Watch

Fish Inspector Watt and all the other inspectors on the Trent water way got down to business yesterday and for the next two months will keep their eyes skinned for nimrods illegally catching or killing bass and lunge. Last year not a few men were caught and fined and this year a closer watch will be kept and none will be allowed to go if caught. This is something in which every real sport who enjoys fishing should assist the inspectors.

Is Hopelessly Ill

Mr. Chas. Collins returned last evening from Bracebridge, where he was called on account of the serious illness of his brother, Rev. Father T. Collins. The reverend gentleman is conscious and in good spirits, but the physicians state that it is only a matter of a few days until death claims him.

Rev. Father Galvin of St. Peter's cathedral, Peterborough, is in charge of the parish.—Lindsay Post.

Place "D" Rails and Semaphores at the Crossings

Officials of the Grand Trunk Railway were in the city yesterday morning and held a consultation with Mr. J. H. Larmonth of the Street Railway Co. on the proposed new semaphores and "D" rails, which will be installed at the railway crossing on Charlotte street. A semaphore will be placed on each side of the street car track, at a position where they may be seen by the conductors on the cars. The "D" rails will be put on each side of the railway on the street car track, and both semaphores and "D" rails will be gateman in charge. This new arrangement will simplify matters for both passenger trains and street cars and there will be less danger of accidents. The same idea is in operation at the Lock bridge and has given every satisfaction. The work is to be completed about the first of June, and work will be started in the near future. The officials of the G.T.R., who were present were; W. R. Tiffin, superintendent of the northern division; Trainmaster Irwin, H. W. McCall, C.E., and T. Sandy.

Smith Man Met with a Painful Accident

Mr. Robert Huddie of Smith, had a very nasty accident befall him on Tuesday night when he was thrown out of his buggy while turning at the corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets. The horse turned very suddenly throwing Mr. Huddie out on to the road.

The side of his face was cut badly and the skin was all taken off the back of his left hand. The gash in his face bled freely and it took several stitches to close the wound.

Mr. Huddie was found on the road in a semi-unconscious condition by Mr. Fred Herron, who took him to Dr. Gallivan's surgery, where his wounds were dressed and he was able to proceed home afterwards.

Bad Season for Colds

Colds and grip were quite prevalent last winter and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in great demand and performed some remarkable cures. Mrs. Mary J. Robinson of Cameron, W. Va., says; "Last winter I was taken with one of the awfullest colds I ever had in my life. I could not speak above a whisper and was very hoarse. I was afraid it was going to be pneumonia. I took one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in three days was less better and could talk. I did not take but the one bottle and it cured me. I now tell everybody about Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the good it did me."

BASEBALL

A meeting of the athletes of the various church will be held in the Y.M.C.A. on Monday night for the purpose of organizing a church baseball league. It is expected that all the churches in the hockey league will be entered in the baseball league along with one or more other churches.

Five in One Family Have Gone Insane

Shelburne, April 15.—As the result of information laid by Jas. Johnston, a well-known and wealthy farmer of Mulmur township, near Lavender, five members of his own family are now lying in the jail here, charged with threatening to injure the person and property of the informant. They are;

Mrs. Tod Johnston, his wife.
Mary Jane Johnston, daughter.
David Johnston, son.
Albert Edward Johnston, son.
Jas. Johnston, son.

FOUGHT WITH CONSTABLES.

About one o'clock yesterday afternoon three constables, Messrs. Wm. Laverty, Joseph White, and George Wattam, left Shelburne to arrest the five, arriving at the farm at 4.30 o'clock.

They encountered many difficulties in arresting them, and it was only after a struggle that Tod Jane Johnston, the informant's wife, was handcuffed.

Three men were necessary to hold her down while being handcuffed, and it was evident from the start that she was quite insane.

On the arrival of the constables at the farm they found the two women in a nude state and it was with considerable difficulty that they found enough in the house to dress them before bringing them to town.

Not quite as much difficulty was encountered with the other members of the family, but several attempts were made by the women on the journey to town to escape.

Owing to the difficulty in arresting them they had not started on the return trip until 5.30 o'clock, and the very bad condition of the road, kept them on the journey to Shelburne until nine.

A large crowd of spectators was on the streets and their arrival was soon made known by the loud yells and shrieks from the old lady, Mrs. Tod Jane Johnston, who is well on to 80 years of age.

They were committed to the Orangeville jail by James Williamson, J.P., of Whitfield, and Reeve Greer of Perm, and were removed to the Orangeville jail this morning, where they will remain until the necessary papers are received for their commitment to an asylum.

INSANE FAMILY IN COURT.

Orangeville, April 15.—The County Assize Court, in session this morning, was rudely interrupted when the frenzied cries of five insane persons engaged in noisy argument in the lower part of the county buildings, rang through the court room corridors. The cause of the disturbance was the arrival of County Constable Lafferty with Mrs. Tod Jane Johnston and her four adult children from Mulmer township. The whole five are violently insane. Mrs. Johnston is over seventy years of age, and she presented a pitiful sight in her disheveled condition, and with her gray hair loose down her back. The ages of the children are; Mary Jane, 37; James, 27; Albert Edward, 25; David, 23.

Lead and Zinc Mining Offer

The Hardy Lead and Zinc Company, whose advertisement appears on another column of this issue, has recently received a report on their land which is indeed gratifying. The chief ores on the property are sulphide and oxidized ores of zinc and lead with traces of gold and silver. The company has on a 50-year lease 240 acres of land in Northeast Arkansas, and are now ready to start drilling to ascertain the extent of the lead and zinc contained in the property. The par value of the stock is $25 per share, and it is now being offered for quick sale at $6.50. This company has the ore in sight. The only thing necessary to make this a perfectly sure investment is to find out how much mineral they have. It is for this purpose that the stock is being sold. If you are interested investigate the proposition at once. Look up the adv. on another page.

Fifty Witnesses for the Kinrade Inquest

Hamilton, April 15.—That the police have been very active in the interval since the Kinrade murder inquest was adjourned is evident by the fact that they have subpoenaed fifty witnesses to appear before the coroner's jury, when the investigation is resumed one week from tonight. Crown-Attorney Washington volunteered this information this afternoon, but refused to make any predictions or comments.

It is understood that all the witnesses, with two or three exceptions, are Hamilton people, who made statements, which the police considered were of importance, if sworn to in the witness stand.

Hamilton, April 14.—Florence Kinrade will be called to the stand again.

This step is definitely announced by the authorities today in connection with the inquest into the murder of Ethel Kinrade here on Feb. 25th, which will resume April 22nd.

That the proceedings will furnish sensational developments is intimated by the police, who give the impression that they have some good reason for the view.

A detective who has been in touch with the case declared that he looked for a big sensation within a very short time.

Dr. Anderson coroner, will be the only one authorized to issue admission tickets to the forthcoming inquest proceedings.

Coughs that are tight, or distressing tickling coughs, get quick and certain help from Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. On this account Druggists everywhere are favoring Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. The tender leaves of a harmless lung-healing mountainous shrub give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its curative properties. These leaves have the power to calm the most distressing Cough, and to soothe, and heal the most sensitive bronchial membrance. Test it once yourself, and see! Sold by all dealers.

Messrs. Barry Simpson and Walter Garbutt of the Traders' Bank, Lakefield, returned home yesterday morning.

Excited by King Wedding Lady Carling Succumbs

London, Ont., April 15.—Lady Carling, wife of Sir John Carling, died at her home shortly after four o'clock this morning from heart failure. She was 80 years of age, and two years ago sustained a paralytic stroke, which left her in a very weakened condition. Yesterday events in connection with the wedding of her granddaughter, Nenone Louise Carling, to Charles S. King of Windsor, excited Lady Carling very much, and throughout the night she was unwell, and died suddenly.

Mrs. King, while on her way to her wedding, called on her grandmother, as the latter was too ill to attend the ceremony.

Sir John Carling, who is now in his 84th year, feels the blow very keenly, and is completely prostrated.

Sir John's health has not been good for some time, and it is feared his wife's death will tell heavily on him, as they were devoted to each other.

Lady Carling was married in 1857, and was the eldest daughter of the late Henry Dalton. Besides her husband, she is survived by two sons, John, and T. Harry of this city. She was a woman greatly beloved, and always took the deepest interest in works of charity.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. King, who left last night on their honeymoon trip to Bermuda, have been notified, and will return at once.

Musical Recitals at Conservatory of Music

Over three hundred music lovers of the city went to the Conservatory Music Hall last night to hear Miss Mabel McCaw's piano recital. Miss McCaw is a member of the Conservatory faculty. She is a most successful teacher and a brilliant player, a combination which is rarely found. She rendered the most exacting program displaying fine musical technique. The audience was greatly pleased and felt well repaid for the presence.

Miss McCaw was assisted by Miss Julia Choate, who rendered two excellent violin solos. Miss Francis Manning was to have assisted also, but she was unable to be present through illness.

The program was as follows,

1. Beethoven—Sonata Pathetique
   (A) Grave
   (B) Allegro
   (C) Adagio Cantabile
   (D) Rondo
2. Violin Solo
   Miss Choate.
3. Chopin
   (A) Nocturne—op. 37, No. 1
   (B) Valse—op. 34, No. 1
   (C) Polonaise—op. 40, No. 1
4. Wieniawski—Capriccio Valse
   Miss Choate.
4. (A) MacDowell—To a wild rose
   (B) Sinding—Frublings rauschen.
   (C) Moszkowski—Valse Brillante in A flat.

That beautiful operatta "Princess Chrysanthemum," which was put on by the young people of the Conservatory, will be presented again on May 6th. This is the result of requests from a large number of citizens.

A great musical treat is in store for Peterborough people on Thursday night next when Miss Edith Miller and her grand concert company of London, will appear at the Conservatory of Music Hall. This is a concert which no one should miss.

Yesterday afternoon a most enjoyable juvenile recital was given at the Conservatory by the junior pupils of Miss Bessie Elcome. This was at four o'clock, and was heard by quite a number of the parents and friends of the young performers Boomer, Lizzie Webber, Gladys Clark, Laura Duncan on the piano, and Miss Edwina Palmer on the violin.

Massacre of Armenians is in Progress in Turkish Seaport

Constantinople, April 15.—A massacre of Armenians is in progress today at Mersina, a seaport of Asia Minor, on the Mediterranean.

Enraged at the murder of two Moslems by an Armenian and the fact that the assassin was not apprehended, the Mohammedan population of Mersina, which counts a total of 10,000 inhabitants, took the law into its own hands and attacked the Armenian quarters.

The Christian communities of Mersina are appealing to the consuls here for help.

Another False Alarm

Another false alarm artist got busy last night about two minutes to nine o'clock and sent in an alarm from the corner of Dublin and George streets, box 42. The brigade was given a run for nothing, but when the $25 reward becomes generally known it is likely that a couple of the clever guys will figure in the police court. One or two boys will be summoned today for starting grass fires and then sending in an alarm. The chief landed a couple of them this week.

Churchill Says Britain Won't Include the U. S. Among Possible Enemies

London, April 15.—In a long letter to his admirers, dealing with naval affairs, Winston Churchill, president of the Board of Trade, declares that it would be absurd to build ships against the United States and that it is not the government's policy to take the American navy into consideration in framing the British naval estimates.

"Because," he added, "we do not believe that there is any reasonably probable—nay, humanly conceivable—combination against the peace and freedom of the British people which would include the American navy."

Mr. Churchill thus does something to overcome the tactical blunder committed a few weeks ago by Premier Asquith, who, when asked in the House if the United States was included when Britain planned to keep her navy up to the standard of any two powers, replied in the affirmative.

Mr. Churchill also declares that no more fatal obsession could benumb the brain of any statesman than to suppose there was a profound antagonism between Great Britain and Germany which could only be solved by war, because through their commercial interests alone, these two countries are necessary to each other.

A Startling Revelation

The friends of Miss Mary McKenzie, of London, were astonished to hear that she had gone into consumption.

This sad intelligence came as a shock to Miss McKenzie's many friends. In the early fall she contracted a heavy cold which developed rapidly into Catarrh, and finally made such rapid advances that the bronchial tubes and lungs became affected.

Although the doctors said nothing short of a change of residence to the south would benefit, on the advice of a Dundas street druggist Miss McKenzie decided to thoroughly test Catarrhozone which is warranted to cure all diseases of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes.

Miss McKenzie says: "After my druggist had recommended Catarrhozone I spoke to my friends about it and they all said it was such a good remedy that I commenced forthwith to inhale it five or six times each day. I breathed it deeply into my lungs, and felt its beneficial action very quickly. It seemed to go where other remedies did not reach, and was so pleasant and convenient that I did not mind using it very frequently, which, probably, was the cause of it curing my obstinate case so quickly. Certainly no case of Catarrh or Bronchitis should go uncured if the sufferer can get Catarrhozone, which is a sovereign remedy, worthy of the highest recommendations."

Miss McKenzie's case needs no enlargement. She was in a critical condition, apparently beyon dthe aid of doctors' medicines.

Catarrhozone has cured her, and others in her condition should no longer experiment with uncertain, untried treatments, but should turn at once to catarrhozone, and in it they will find relief and cure unobtainable by other means. Remember the name, Catarrhozone. Complete outfit guaranteed to cure. Price $1.00. Small size 50 cents. Druggists or N. C. Poison & Co., Kingston, Ont.

UNIVERSITIES AND THE PEOPLE

General Booth, it is reported, will crown his life-work by founding a university which will be devoted to the study of social problems. To those who are disposed to regard such a plan as a magnificent dream, the obvious answer is that the General combines in a remarkable way the qualities of the dreamer and the practical man. His dreams come true.

Most universities deal with social problems as parts of a course in political science. But undoubtedly the study is capable of development. The Queen's aPrk contains many buildings devoted to the study of physical science, in which all kinds of facts are examined and compared, and in which experiments are carefully and patiently made. If there were a similar exhaustive and patient inquiry into poverty, drunkenness, the house problems, water supply, transportation, the laying out of streets, immigration, and other social, political and municipal questions, it can hardly be doubted that results of great value would be obtained.

A professor in General Booth's university would not, we imagine, confine his activities to the lecture rooms, nor would the laboratories be in specified buildings. Sometimes like the hero of Caryle's Sartor Resartus, he would take them to the top of some tall city building, where they would behold the myriad lights of a city, the throngs of people rushing about in the quest of pleasure, the beggars and the drunkards, and the other wrecks of society, the roofs under which so many varied dramas are being enacted. Sometimes he would show them a dangerous level crossing. Again he would conduct them through slums such as are shown in "Salvation Nell or through the "Shacktowns," into which the poor are driven by high rents. There is plenty of material even in cities of the size of Toronto, to say nothing of such enormous aggregations of human beings as are found in London, New York, or Chicago.

An Ideal Cough Medicine

"As an ideal cough medicine I regard Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as a class by itself," says Dr. E. A. Willshire, of Gwynneville, Ind. "I take great pleasure in testifying to the results of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. In fact, I know of no other preparation that meets so fully the expectations of the most exacting in cases of croup and coughs of children. As it contains no opium, chloroform or morephine it certainly makes a most safe, pleasant and efficacious remedy for the ills it is intended."

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible, but I can now surely kill the pains and purge of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We will, and in confidence recommend

A SAFE INVESTMENT AND A PROFITABLE INVESTMENT COMBINED

Such is the opportunity offered by an investment in Stock of the Winter Port Coal Mining Co., Ltd.
—At $10 Per Share—

There are no bonds or mortgages of any kind against the property and business. The Stock is all Common Stock and each shareholder becomes an actual owner of the property and business, and has an equal chance at the profits according to the number of shares held.

The Winter Port Coal Mines

In Queens county, New Brunswick, have been in operation on a profitable basis for about five years.

The opportunity to enlarge the business, increase the output and make very largely increased profits, comes with the opening of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway passing the coal fields.

The mines are situated at the best distributing centre in the Province of New Brunswick. It is estimated that on a very moderate output, which can be obtained as quickly as arrangements can be made to take care of the men on the ground, that the business should pay

PROFITS FROM 15 TO 50 PER CENT. ON CAPITAL INVESTED

The management of the business is in the hands of people whom have had experience with the local conditions and understand the mining of the coal cheaply and the selling of it at the most profitable rates. If you want a safe and profitable investment, write for booklet, "An Opportunity," giving full reports, to

GREAT LABOR SAVING DEVICE

The Penman & Sprang

DUPLICATOR

Will produce 100 copies in ten minutes, and is without doubt one of the greatest inventions of its kind ever conceived

THE DUPLIGRAPH

The most reliable, cleanest, simplest, quickest and most up-to-date duplicating machine on the market.

It will reproduce one hundred facsimile copies of a penwritten original in fifteen minutes; fifty to seventy-five copies of an original written on typewriter or twenty-five copies of an original written with a copying pen.

The original is written on ordinary paper, with an ordinary pen, typewriter or copying pencil, and the copies can be taken on ordinary paper cardboard, wood or china. Call and see it in operation.

Weary, Worn Out, Tired

If You Feel Poorly this Spring this Article is worth Considering.

Nothing in life keeps people from advancement like poor health. If the nerves are weak, if the stomach liver, bowels or kidneys, fail to work properly, healthy surely suffers. Spring is the hardest time on health —the season when the system calls for active cleansing medicine.

The best plan is to entrust your condition to a physician of reputation like Dr. Hamilton, who has had years of experience in compounding tonics. For the ills and tired feeling of spring Dr. Hamilton says nothing is better than Mandrake and Butternut Pills, and this is well proven in the case of James Burton of Lewistown. "I had grip and it left me very weak. The disease settled in my back and side, which ached day and night. I had a nagging cough. My appetite was all gone. My nerves unstrung. I could not sleep well. I struggled against growing pale, thin and weak—but it was no good. Spring brought depressions, overpowering weakness and bad headaches. But my life was spared, simply because I learned of the wonderful merit in Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. The result was marvellous. I gained rapidly, became strong, ruddy, vigorous, perfectly well. I urge every man and woman to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly.

You'll brighten up, have cleaner blood, stronger nerves, better spirits after using Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. at all dealers. Guaranteed safe, sure helpful for old and young.

Park Street Athletics

The Park Street Athletic Club met Wednesday night and discussed summer sports. The boys are right in line for all that is going. Their baseball team will likely be entered in the intermediate league and it is also likely that they will have a harriers' department as some of the members are favorable to running.

An Ideal Cough Medicine

"As an ideal cough medicine I regard Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in a class by itself," says Dr. E. A. Wiltshire, of Gwynneville, Ind. "I take great pleasure in testifying to the results of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. In fact, I know of no other preparation that meets so fully the expectations of the most exacting in cases of croup and coughs of children. As it contains no opium, chloroform or morphine it certainly makes a most safe, pleasant and efficacious remedy for the ills it is intended."

BOWLING

The Lawn Bowling Club have engaged the caretaker for the season, and he started to work yesterday, getting the green in shape for an early opening of this popular game.

Prevention—these Candy Cold Cure Tablets—will safely and quickly check all colds and the Grip. Try them once and see. 25c. Sold by all dealers.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

A Grass Fire

The fire brigade was called to box 31 yesterday, to put out a grass fire. It is said that a certain boy deliberately set fire to the grass and then went in the alarm. Chief Howard stated yesterday that he intended to make an example of some of these "smart Alecs," who are sending in the false alarms.

Boys and Fires

A young boy had an exciting experience on Rubidge street, north of Hunter, yesterday. He was playing with a bonfire when the grass ignited and rapidly spread and got beyond his control. A number of other boys from the neighborhood were attracted to the vacant lot and helped extinguish the fire. Some of the fresh youngsters will be landed in the police court if their funny work does not cease.

New Organization

The organization of a Theatrical Mechanical Association in Peterborough is being seriously considered, and it is likely a meeting for that purpose will be held at an early date. The T.M.A. is widely represented in other cities, and those interested locally are of the opinion that it would be a good idea to form one here. A membership would be obtained from the Grand Opera House, the Crystal and the Royal theater. There was talk of the organization of an association some time ago, but the matter never took definite shape.

Beware of ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except in prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists. Price 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

PERSONAL

Mr. C. H. Yule of Colborne, was in the city yesterday.

Miss L. Galvin of Selwyn, is visiting friends in the city.

Mr. James McPhee, 330 Water St., is visiting with friends in Madoc.

Miss Jennie Thompson of Toronto, is the guest of Mrs. Mountjoy, Stewart street.

Mr. James Bustard and daughters, Miss Florence and Lena have returned after visiting relatives in Toronto, Waterton and St. Thomas.

Mr. Joseph Welch, manager of the Yonge street store of the Patterson Confectionery Co., Toronto, is in the city visiting at his home on Elm street.

Mr. R. Melville Moore leaves today for Toronto, where he has accepted a position with Ellis Bros., the well known Queen City jewellers. Mr. Moore's many friends in Peterborough, while regretting his departure from the city, will wish him every success in Toronto. He will be a source of strength to one of the city hockey teams next winter.

Mr. Alex. Marshall, the well known Scottish evangelist has arrived in the city and is the guest of Mr. H. A. Fife, Harvey street. Mr. Marshall commenced his series of meetings last night in the Gospel Hall, and will speak there again tonight, while a third meeting will be held on Sunday evening. Mr. Marshall has just returned from the West Indies and has a vast amount of interesting information as well as helpful advice to give. He will prove well worth hearing.

The old fashioned way of doing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription— Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

Mr. C. R. Drum to Give a Lecture

"That Boy" is the title of the lecture which will be given by Mr. C. R. Drum in the Collegiate Institute Assembly Hall tonight. Mr. Drum comes from New York and is the secretary of the International Committee of the Y.M.C.A. He is here for a week and this is his first public appearance. Those who have had the privilege of hearing him in private gatherings are delighted with him. He is an excellent speaker and has a good message to deliver.

On Sunday afternoon at four o'clock a mammoth mass meeting for men will be held in the Grand Opera House when Mr. Drum will lecture on "An Honest Man." This is an occasion on which all the men should be present at the opera house. Special music will be provided.

WEDDING BELLS

HOOPER—BOYCE.

The marriage took place on Tuesday at All Saints church of Miss Maud Frances Boyce, daughter of Mr. Harry Boyce of Orillia, to Mr. Wm. Hooper of Orillia, son of Mr. T. Hooper of Downer's Corners. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. R. Trumpour, and the bride and groom were unattended. The bride wore a navy blue travelling suit, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Hooper, who have the best wishes of a host of friends, will reside in Orillia.

Stiff Neck

Stiff neck is caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the neck. It is usually confined to one side, or to the back of the neck and one side. While it is often quite painful, quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of rheumatism in ten requires internal treatment. When there is no fever and no swelling as in muscular and chronic rheumatism, Chamberlain's Liniment will accomplish more than any internal treatment.

LACROSSE

Peterborough will play intermediate this year, but at present they are having a little difficulty in securing grounds. Peterborough devotees some attention to baseball also and there is a race on between the baseball and lacrosse magnates as to who will secure the grounds. Fred Dobbin is leading the van in lacrosse and has a fair chance of winning out.—Mail & Empire.

Don't forget the big meeting tonight at the Crown Hotel. There is important business to be transacted and it is important that all interested in the national game should be present. A successful team is one that gets started early in the season. The prospects are bright for the local boys if they only get busy now.

JUDGING A CIGAR.

The Only Real Way to Find Its Quality is to Smoke It.

On no point is the average smoker so ill informed as that of judging a cigar. Nine times out of ten, upon being handed a cigar, he will hold it to his nose, unlighted, sniff at the wrapper with a critical air and deliver his verdict in a self satisfied manner. This characteristic maneuver is always a source of amusement to any tobacco man who happens to observe it. There is only one way to ascertain the quality of a cigar, and that is to smoke it. No expert will pass judgment on a cigar until he has lighted it and smoked it well down toward the middle. The first and most important point upon which he bases his opinion is the "burn." Tobacco may have every other virtue, but if it does not hold the fire and burn evenly it is poor tobacco. Next in order of importance comes the aroma—the smoke must have a pleasing "smell;" next comes the flavor—the smoke must be smooth and not "scratchy" or bitter. Then there is the color—rich brown, indicating a ripe leaf, well cured—and last is workmanship—good if the wrapper is put on smoothly and the "bunch" is made so that the cigar "draws" freely and is neither too hard nor too spongy, bad if the reverse.—Bohemian Magazine.

ROMANCE OF HISTORY.

These Things Read Like Legends, but Are Matters of Fact.

A peasant girl called half witted did promise to defeat the victors of Agincourt and did it; it ought to be a legend, but it happens to be a fact. A poet and a poetess did fall in love and eloped secretly to a sunny clime; it is obviously a three volume novel, but it happened. Nelson did die in the act of winning the one battle that could change the world; it is a grossly improbable coincidence, but it is too late to alter it now. Napoleon did win the battle of Austerlitz; it is unnatural, but it is not my fault. When the general who had surrendered a republican town returned, saying easily, "I have done everything." Robespierre did ask, with an air of inquiry, "Are you dead?" When Robespierre coughed in his cold harangue Garnier did say, "The blood of Danton chokes you." Strafford did say of his own desertion of parliament, "If I do it may my life and death be set on a hill for all men to wonder at." Disraeli did say, "The time will come when you shall hear me."

The heroic is a fact, even when it is a fact of coincidence or of miracle, and a fact is a thing which can be admitted without being explained.—G. K. Chesterton in London News.

No Drums in the Middle Ages.

As we come to the middle ages, when the nations of modern Europe were struggling into existence, we find that at first the drum was not used at all. So, although melody had been known and practiced for many centuries, rhythm had been quite forgotten, for what there is left to us of the music of the middle ages contains no bars, and we know that it was slowly and monotonously chanted, without the least accent.

In the eleventh century, however, things began to improve, more particularly as the crusaders brought into Europe all sorts of percussion instruments from the east. Various kinds of drums, tambourines and cymbals were then seen in Europe for the first time since the days of savages, and they have been used, with very little change, ever since.—St. Nicholas.

An Epistolary Hint.

In the letter from Boston was a special delivery stamp.

"What did she send that for?" the woman wondered. "The information she wants can be sent in an ordinary letter. It won't need to be sent special."

"That stamp," said the man, "is a delicate hint to be quick about answering. It is a harry up device used by many men. It is very effective. A two cent stamp does not always spur one on to any special effort, but a special delivery stamp means that the writer wants what he wants when he wants it, and the most dilatory correspondent alive is not going to let any grass grow between the scratches of his pen when answering."

Mantle Rays.

"There are X rays and X rays, and there are also rays from those mantle things that you put on gas burners to improve the light." The speaker, a photographer, pointed to a batch of fogged plates. "I know to my cost that there are mantle rays," said he. "For a month I stored new plates in a closet along with a mantle, and all of them got fogged. The mantle, you see, contained thorium, a radio-active substance that penetrates a cardboard plate box as easily as it penetrates glass. I didn't know that till my doctor told me so last week. My ignorance cost me over a hundred plates."

Shunted.

Editor—Is this your first effort?

Budding Poet—Yes, sir. Is it worth anything to you?

Editor (with emotion)—It's worth a guinea if you will promise not to write anything more for publication until after this has been printed. I want your entire output, you understand.

Budding Poet—I promise that, all right. When will it be printed?

Editor—Never while I'm alive.—London Telegraph.

A kindness done to the good is never lost.—Plautus.

Propose to Build Wall Across the Old Goose Pond on Water Street

Ald. Turner introduced a new subject into the Board of Works. At least it is new for this year. That is, a concrete wall across the front of the old Goose Pond. Everyone in the city knows where the Goose Pond is and know how it has been filled in and good houses erected where once was a bay caused by the Otonabee river. The roadway at this point is very narrow and the river bank has been used for years as a dumping ground for all kinds of rubbish. Ald. Turner proposes to build the wall 15 or 20 feet east of the roadway and fill in the space between the road and the wall. He also proposes to build a sidewalk on the east side and to plant trees along the bank. By doing this an old eye sore will be converted into a beauty spot and Water street will be straightened out and greatly improved. To pay for the undertaking the alderman suggested submitting a bylaw to the people authorising them to issue debentures.

The other members of the Board of Works thought it would be best to allow the matter to stand until the committee made its usual spring tour when this place would be examined.

Street Watering Tenders for 1909 are Awarded

The street watering this year will cost $1,664 or a little less than it did last year. The Board of Works received nine tenders for the four districts in response to their advertisement. These were opened last night and it was found that there was considerable difference between the tenders and in each case the lowest one was accepted. The above price does not include the cost of the central district where two carts are operated by the Board of Works department.

The successful tenderers were,

Eastern District—George McMillan, $391.

Southern District—Samuel Harper, $425.

Western District—Z. Blodgett, $396.50.

Northern District—Justice Blodgett, $449.50.

Other tenderers were;

Luke Meleney, western, $459.

Richard Frae, western, $589.

Luke Meleney, southern, $497.

Albert Blogge, eastern, $449.

S. R. Diney, southern, $519.

The Turf Club to Have Matinee on May 24th

At a meeting of the Turf Club it was unanimously decided to hold a matinee of May 24th, and to offer a good list of prizes in order to encourage a large field of entries.

The prizes decided upon were as follows;

Free-for-all; first, one set of hobbles; 2nd, one heavy wool blanket; 3rd, one cooler; 4th, one pair of quarter boots.

Slow Class (2.50)—First, one set hobbles; second, one heavy wool blanket; 3rd, one cooler; 4th, one pair of quarter boots.

There is also to be a five-mile running race for men, to use a hackneyed term, a five-mile Marathon. It is open to all, and the prizes that are being offered are such that it is expected a large field will enter.

The first prize is a gentleman's gold watch; second a signet ring; third, a new hat.

This matinee will be held in the afternoon of the holiday and should be largely attended. Those who saw the matinee on December 24th will not soon forget it. One of the races went six heats before it was settled, in the gloom of what was practically night. The Turf Club gained many friends by the events of that day, and they will be glad to hear that another matinee is to be held. The same horses will be back and others also, as both races are open. In the 2.50 class any horse in the country that has no mark will be permitted to enter. The Turf Club will make further announcements regarding the event.

Brown's Thrilling Story--Prayed All Night That He Might Not be Drowned

Cast About by the Wind and Waves as He Drifted Across the Lake in His Flat-Bottomed Punt

ANXIOUS NIGHT BALING WATER

Grafton, April 16—To drift seventy miles across Lake Ontario in a 12-foot flat-bottomed punt, in a windstorm that raised the waves to such a height that the ferry could not go out, was the thrilling experience of Edgar Brown, formerly of Port Hope. He drifted out early Monday morning from near Charlotte, N.Y., and arrived three miles and a half east of here on Tuesday at noon, near Mr. Morgan's place. From Sunday night to Tuesday morning he was without food.

Brown walked from Morgan's up to Cobourg, ten miles, and could not go any further. Then he took the train, and arrived at Port Hope at ten o'clock. His friends at Charlotte got word last night that he was drowned. Brown is 37 years of age, five feet six in height, and has worked at farm work most of his life. He has been away from Port Hope nineteen years, and has been working in the vicinity of Charlotte, in the employ of T. J. Wrigley.

DRIFTED OUT WHILE ASLEEP.

Early Monday morning he and a friend named McGregor went out to Round Pond to fish, and towards morning they pulled the boat up on the shore and lay down and went to sleep. McGregor, Brown thinks, must have got out while he was asleep, and the release of his weight caused the boat to drift out, as he was in the far end. He has received word that Mr. McGregor is safe. All he knows about drifting out, however, is that when he woke up he could just see a point of land.

"The first thing I said when I woke up," he relates, "was 'Where am I?' I remember well. Then I looked around for my partner, but he was nowhere to be seen. The two oars were hanging in the oar-locks. I must have been asleep for a long time. I think I was eight or ten

Smith Street Bridge

The Smith street bridge will be placed before the people again in a few weeks for further consideration. City Engineer Hays has completed his plans for the new structure and it is ready now for the bylaw to be submitted to the people. Plans were prepared for both steel and concrete bridges, with an 18-foot roadway, and a walk on each side. There is only a difference of $7,200 between the two materials, the concrete being the more expensive.

Since the bylaw was submitted the last time members of the Board of Works have made careful enquiries of engineers all over the Province who are authorities on bridge work, and they are unanimous in stating that the concrete bridge is by far the better to build.

The chairman and the city engineer made very thorough enquiries when in Toronto recently, and gained considerable valuable information. With these reports before them and with the superior appearance of the concrete structure over the steel the committee decided unanimously in favor of the concrete.

In building the bridge, no matter of what material there is likely to be some few claims for land damages on the west side, and before submitting the bylaw the chairman and the engineer will interview the people interested and get from them if possible an understanding of what their damages will be.

On motion of Aldermen Turner and Buller the committee recommend the council to accept the engineer's plans for a concrete bridge and also to submit a bylaw to the people at an early date.

It is necessary to submit the bylaw soon so that the work may be gone on with this summer. Something has to be done before the year is out as the present bridge is practically out of commission.

A Marine Slip to be Built and the Lift Lock to be Lighted

The chairman of the Board of Works, along with Aldermen Bradburn and McIntyre was in Ottawa this week for a few days on business. They waited upon the minister of railways and canals and after they got through with their business the chairman of the Board of Works proposed that the department of railways and canals light the Peterborough lift lock with electricity, and also that they build a marine slip in the city.

Ald. Phelan pointed out the great advantages to be derived by the marine men if the lift lock was lighted. It will require eight or ten arc lights to do the job and as the cost will not be a very heavy one the minister assured Ald. Phelan that the proposition would be looked into at once and the possibility is but it will be granted.

The marine slip is a great necessity here. There are a large number of boats here now and the number is being constantly added to. The slip would serve the same purpose as a dry dock and would be a great convenience to local boat men. It is also likely that the department will build this in the near future and on the government property at Lock No. 6.

The success of Ald. Phelan is a matter of congratulation, and if the government carries out the work the city will be benefitted.

Fall Wheat Splendid in Western Ontario

St. Mary's, April 16.—Mr. Rice, head of the Carter Milling Company here, has just returned from a tour of inspection of the crops of fall wheat in Western Ontario, and reports that they are looking excellent and not affected detrimentally in the least by the recent severe weather. He says there is far more acreage of fall wheat than in any previous year in this section of the Province, and it is looking wonderfully strong.

Wheat jumped 10 cents here yesterday, from $1.05 to $1.15. A rise in the price of bread in Western Ontario is inevitable.

Board of Works Busy with Deputations that Want Walks and Sewers

There is a wild scramble this year for sidewalks, sewers and repairs and "those little things" which keep the aldermen's constituents in good humor. What the cause is is hard to say. It may be that it is felt the old ward system of electing the council may be adopted, and the aldermen are desirous of making themselves solid. Every time the Board of Works meets each member has one or two or three "just little things" they want done right away. Last night was no exception, and fully half an hour was spent in this way. Notes were made of all of them an dwhen the season opens up for operations due attention will be paid to them.

Another feature of last night's meeting was several deputations which wanted little things done. Sewers and sidewalks in short lengths were in demand, while others wanted roads graded, etc., to benefit the property they are interested in and to improve the appearance of the city. Altogether the committee had a rather busy night.

Those present were; Ald. Phelan, chairman; Aldermen McIntyre, Gillespie, Bradburn, Buller, Duncan and Mayor Rush.

Mr. Taylor appeared again to urge upon the Board of Works the necessity of a sewer on Benson avenue, where he has several new houses.

The board will take this matter up as soon as possible.

Mr. Paquette who has several new houses on Patterson street, was present and complained about the manhole on the sewer pass his place being too high. He claimed it was altogether too high.

City Engineer Hays explained that this was necessary so that the street could be raised. At present that part of the street is a regular lake in the spring. The engineer said it was the intention to raise the sidewalk and the road.

Mr. Paquette also asked to have the sidewalk built this year. There is a petition on file and the chairman stated that it would be taken up in due course.

The deputation having been disposed of the board proceeded with the regular business. The first matter taken up was the street watering contracts. Reference to this will be found in another column.

Mr. T. J. Moore was present in reference to grading Bethune street. He stated that the city engineer had been there and he stated that very little could be done until the street was graded. There are five new houses there now an dthey have no sidewalk. They want a grade struck so that they can build their private walks.

The city engineer was instructed to take up the matter of grading Bethune street north of Smith at once and prepare a plan for the sewers, etc., and report to the council at once.

Messrs. Huffman and Armstrong were present. Mr. Huffman said he understood that there had been an order passed a couple of years ago for a sidewalk on the north side of King street. He would like to ask for that now and have the walk built at once. There were several new houses there now and all the people want the walk.

The chairman said that the committee would consider this walk when they went around this spring and he did not doubt but that the walk would be built.

A letter was received from Messrs. G. Walter Green & Co., Ltd., putting in a tender for castings, etc., for the season of 1909.

The Wm. Hamilton Co., also had a tender in and as the prices were the same, the work will be divided up.

Sewer pipes for 1909 will be purchased from the Ontario Sewer Pipe Co., at a couple of cents per foot less than was paid last year. The tender was 6c. per foot f.o.b. Milton. The Hamilton Sewer Pipe Co., tendered 6 9-10c per foot f.o.b. Hamilton.

On the suggestion of Ald. Turner the chairman will get prices from local hardware men and if they can give the same prices the order will be given to them.

The claim of the Cameron Septic Tank Co., was referred to the city solicitor and that he write Mr. Shipman and take whatever steps he thinks necessary.

The Water Rising in the Otonabee

The past couple of days have seen the water in the Otonabee river rise several inches, and last night it was still up. This is the first time this spring that the water has been high and this city is particularly fortunate in escaping damage by floods such as is experienced in other cities. It is due wholly to the conservation of the waters in the back lakes. All the superfluous wetness of the spring is held back until required in midsummer and fall when the rains are few and far between. This year a greater amount of water than ever will be reserved and it is not expected that there will be any trouble or inconveniences in the summer or fall.

The Regiment will March Into New Armouries on Monday After Parade

Early Next Week Contractors will Commence Tearing Down the Old Drill Sheds which Have Done Duty for the 57th Regiment for the Past Half Century

Early next week Contractor Geo. Proctor of Sarnia, will commence tearing down the old drill sheds which have done duty for the 57th Regiment for the past half century. The old rafters in this building could relate many a good story and if allowed to talk while the old soldiers of many pleasant memories of the olden days.

To permit the razing of the building the 57th Regiment will bid farewell to their old quarters on Monday night. The first march out of the season will be held at eight o'clock when the full strength of the regiment and both bands will be in line. After the parade around the city the soldiers will return to the drill hall where the band will play "Auld Lang Syne," "God Save the King," etc. Then the regiment will march into their new quarters in the new armories where the night's drill will take place.

The belongings of the 57th have already been moved and when the soldiers decamp there will be nothing left. The new armories, however, are not yet furnished, and the soldiers will have only temporary quarters. There are no rifle racks or furniture or equipment of any kind and there will not be for some time yet. It is understood, however that the government has let the contract for part of the equipment, but there is still a lot to be awarded.

If it is intended to have the old armories torn down and the grounds put in any kind of presentable shape by the formal opening on May 24th, it will require a lot of hustling in the meantime.

Just when the other corps of the city will move in has not been decided. They are at liberty to take possession of their quarters at any time but they will have to put up with the same inconveniences as the 57th for a while at least. It is not likely therefore that the drill sheds in Ashburnham will be vacated for some time.

THREE REGIMENTS ARE COMING TO PETERBOROUGH

There is every prospect that Peterborough will witness on May 24th next, the greatest military display in the history of the city. The officers of the 57th Regiment have practically been assured of substantial assistance from the city, and upon this assurance decided to issue the invitations to the 19th Regiment of St. Catharines and the 15th Regiment of Belleville. The invitations were sent this week and the officers are awaiting the replies which it is hoped will be accepting the invitations.

Three visiting regiments in the city at one time besides the local regiment will be a great event in the annuals of Peterborough. It will be something that every man, woman and child will look forward to, enjoy at the time and remember for long afterwards.

As yet the officers have not completed their arrangements for entertaining and accommodating the soldiers as it is first necessary to learn the number that will be present. The Brantford Rifles will be here 400 strong, and it is likely that the other two will be equally as strong.

Entertained Sixty Boys of Congregation

Rev. J. G. Potter of St. Andrew's church celebrated his birthday last night by entertaining about sixty of the boys of the congregation to tea in the Sunday school room. The boys gathered around the festive board about 6.30 o'clock and thoroughly enjoyed the spread which the pastor had provided. Rev. Mr. Potter takes a great interest in the boys of the congregation. After supper the guests with their hosts proceeded in a body to the Collegiate Institute Assembly Hall, where they heard Mr. C. R. Drum's lecture on "That Boy."

Races at the Y.M.C.A. Good Time by the Boys

The mile races for junior and senior boys held by the boys' department of the Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon were warmly contested, and proved very interesting, a large number of people gathering at the Y.M.C.A. to witness the start and finish. The course was from the "Y" along Murray street to Water street, along Water to Smith, to George street and return along that thoroughfare to the starting point. The distance is well over a mile and both seniors and juniors covered the course in excellent time.

Eleven youngsters faced the starter in the race for boys under 16 years of age, and they had a lively race all the way, the leaders cutting out a fast pace that caused a number of the youngsters to drop rapidly behind. Nagle Phelan was the first to cross the line after an interesting race in which the four leaders had a merry battle all the way. Harold Hill was second, Ross Laing third, and Harold Morrow fourth, the four being pretty well bunched.

The time for the juniors was 6 28, which is pretty rapid travelling for boys of that age. Three started in the race for boys over 16 years. Ray Scott, W. Eastwood and Bruce Lees. They started at a rapid clip, but Eastwood soon established a big lead and won handily by fifty yards. Scott was second about the same distance in front of Lees. The latter was far the smallest of the trio, but finished strong and fresh.

The time was 6 28 1-5, a fifth of a second slower than that made by the juniors.

The Sewer Work to be Started

The Board of Works will have a gang of men start the sewer work for the season next week. The front is all cut out that ground and several sections of sewer are badly needed and the people are clamoring for them. Mr. Martin Leary will be the foreman again as he has given satisfaction for the past two years. The first place to be done will be on Aberdeen avenue, from there they will go up Aylmer street north, and then on by Dublin street. In the meantime other work will be mapped out.

Splendid Lecture on That Boy by C. R. Drum in Collegiate Institute

"That Boy" was the subject of a very stirring and earnest as well as profitable and interesting address by Mr. C. R. Drum of New York before a large gathering in the Collegiate Institute Assembly Hall last night. Mr. Drum is a splendid lecturer and commands the attention of an audience from beginning to end. He is here in the interests of the religious work of the Y.M.C.A., and he is accomplishing much good. The assembly hall was well filled last night and all were delighted with the lecture.

Mr. J. H. Shook, president of the association, occupied the chair, and on the platform with him were Mr. Thorton, chairman of the Religious Work Committee, and Mr. C. R. Drum.

Mr. Shook in opening the meeting stated the objects of the campaign which is being carried on. The Y.M.C.A. realizes the benefits of social and athletic life in the association, but the spiritual side is also an important factor in the lives of young men and these is one of the main objects of the association.

Mr. C. R. Drum was well received

Bronchitis

SCIENTIFICALLY TREATED

The best authorities agree that bronchitis is treated most scientifically by Catarrhozone, which goes right to the root of the trouble.

Bronchitis can be treated successfully only by a remedy carried direct to the affected parts along with the air breathed.

Catarrhozone is a vegetable antiseptic and is inhaled at the mouth, and afterpassing through all the air passages of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs, is exhaled through the nose.

The healing vapor of Catarrhozone goes wherever the air you breathe goes, and touches every part that is affected. No matter how deep-seated the bronchial irritation may be, Catarrhozone is sure to reach it.

Catarrhozone protects and heals the affected membrane, stops the cough, feels up the sores, and is guaranteed to bring speedy relief and sure cure.

By means of the inhaler Catarrhozone treats the local symptoms of bronchial trouble very effectually. The poisons and impurities in the blood are driven off by Catarrhozone, which is a wonderful tonic and stimulant for the entire system.

Catarrhozone is a muscle and tissue builder, increases the appetite aids digestion and makes the body so healthy and strong that bronchitis goes away for good.

A prominent steamboat owner, well known throughout Eastern Ontario, Captain Dunlop of Kingston, was perfectly cured of Bronchitis by Catarrhozone. The Captain had suffered for more than 20 years, and says that Catarrhozone is the best cure for Bronchitis on the face of the globe.

Mr. A. J. Calhoun, a prominent citizen of Neepawa, Manitoba, speaks very appreciatively of Catarrhozone as a specific for Bronchitis, and states that his wife could not get along without it.

Everyone that has used Catarrhozone is satisfied that it is superior to all other remedies. It is delightful to inhale, simple and convenient to use, and relieves from the first breath taken through the inhaler.

Better try Catarrhozone. All druggists sell and recommend it. Complete outfit, price $1.00; trial size 25c. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

TAXES AND WARSHIPS

Now that the war scare flurry is past, we begin to see things in their truer proportions. Germany has given none of the Britishers a thrill that it is doubtful if she can supplement the threat of indefinite multiplication of battleships, which the political jingoes of the Motherland affected to discover. Battleships cost money—a Dreadnought from ten to fifteen million. The bottom of Germany's purse for such purposes is not any too deeply covered. A revenue to keep pace with Britain's military and naval expenditure is hard to come at. A writer in a Berlin publication points out that there are few new sources of revenue which can be unveiled without intolerably adding to the already almost intolerable burdens of the people. He says that there are millions in Germany who can afford no better meat than horse flesh and increased burdens upon people of this class will pretty well represent the proverbial 'last straw.' Germany is essentially a nation of manufacturers. With sixty million people Germany has only eighty-six and one-half million acres of land under cultivation. Will Germany, tied down to horse flesh diet take kindly to new taxes on food products, to help build navies to crush Great Britain, the only country in the world that maintains an open market for the products of German mechanics, the bulk of the German population? To build warships Germany must have money. Governments can get money only by taxation. There is a limit to the ability of a people to pay taxes. Germany seems to be getting to the problem of getting blood out of a stone.

The old fashioned way of doing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription— Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one goes to it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then these organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to diagnose and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days and real improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

AERONAUTIC PROGRESS

Though Count Zeppelin's voyage from Friedrichshafen to Munich last week threw no new light on the possibilities of the type of airship which he has done so much to develop, the dirigible balloon has probably not yet shown the utmost of which it is capable. Even if the demonstrations which he or other inventors give this year do not show so great an advance on previous achievements as those of 1908, it will be remarkable if they do not mark a distinct progress. The aeroplane, too, promises to be very much in evidence in the next few months and to appear to greater advantage than ever before. What now seems to have been a rather fortunate accident compelled the Wrights to build a new machine for the war department, and the opportunity for making several minor improvements will undoubtedly be utilized. There will be much curiosity regarding the Herring aeroplane, the official trial of which was also postponed until next summer, and perhaps its author, will show that he, like his rivals, has profited by delay.

Concerning the merit of several aeronautic novelties, it is greatly to be hoped that the season now opening will furnish helpful information. One is called the "helicopter," and employs a screw propeller both to lift itself and to effect a forward movement. Shop tests and theory indicate that a properly designed machine of this class can rise more easily than the aeroplane, but the advantage is offset by one serious fault. If the engine of an airship like the Wrights' should be stopped, there would be a gentle descent unless the wind was particularly gusty. Lilienthal's short flights without a motor establish that fact. Some of the helicopters would have been designed dispense entirely with supporting surfaces. Risky as is such a policy, it would be instructive to witness a trial of the plan. After a practical demonstration of the usefulness of a screw for lifting purposes, perhaps the addition of one to the aeroplane would be regarded as essential.

Still another rather original suggestion is that steadiness in flight must be promoted by a gyroscope. One inventor has proposed to apply the principle by making a considerable part of his engine rotate in a horizontal plane around a vertical shaft. The airship in which he would employ this ingenious motor is modelled largely after that of the Wrights, but the only public test yet given to it—at Morris Park last fall—resulted in failure. The power was turned on, but the thing would not budge. Possibly it will do better next time. It would be interesting to know whether the means here adopted do insure stability while in flight are better or worse than those of the Wrights and Herring.

Finally, the world would like to know what Dr. Bell's tetrahedral kite will do in an absolute free flight under the power of its own engine. When pulled by a cord from in front this device has shown a remarkable lifting capacity. It will easily carry a man. Dr. Bell believes that it will be more steady in flight than any aeroplane. Yet, twice within the last fortnight it has behaved disappointingly. The motor which has been built for it was taken out after the first trial and transferred to a small aeroplane, the Silver Dart. The engine then worked like a charm. When it was restored to the kite there was something unsatisfactory in the conduct of the combination, but whether the trouble was with the kite or the motor the dispatches did not say. Probably nothing but some trifling readjustment is necessary to restore smooth, and a really significant test may be looked for any day.

Bermuda's 300th Anniversary.

The members of the committee appointed some time ago for the purpose of making arrangements for celebrating the 300th anniversary of the settlement of Bermuda as a British Colony recently approached the Legislature for a grant of $5,000 as a contribution towards the expenditure. The House of Assembly voted $2,500, but when the resolve making appropriation for this amount came before the Legislative Council, it was rejected. Consequently the proposed celebrations will receive no financial support from the Public Treasury. The principal reason which actuated the members of the Legislative Council to vote against the resolve was that on the death of Queen Victoria the Legislature unanimously agreed to an expenditure of $30,000 towards [illegible] a monument to [illegible] Island. To the proposal of [illegible] the work, on various grounds, has never been undertaken.

Lead Shot.

"We once had shot to waste, a Bristol plumber, who dreamed that while repairing a church roof his foot slipped and he fell. In spite of caution lead that [illegible] to the ground [illegible] proceeding to recover his property he found that the metal had assumed, instead of the silver plaque he had expected, the form of countless shining globules. Curiously had the next day to repeat, so far as he could, the accident of his dream. A like result followed, and the lucky dreamer ultimately made a handsome fortune.—London Chronicle.

The Penalty For Life-Saving.

There are no half measures about the law. If it means to be absurd, absurd it will be. The Lee coroner was about to hand five shillings to a bargeman for pulling a woman out of the water, when it was pointed out that the woman was alive when rescued. As a result the man got no reward. Had the woman been dead he would have been given five shillings.

The Resourceful Clergyman.

Rev. H. Gibson adopted a novel plan for furnishing the new Atterdale (Sheffield, Eng.) Church Men's Social Club. He commissioned a dog fanciers van, and, seated on the box, he made a tour of the parish. By the end of the day he had secured sufficient articles to furnish the [illegible]

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is in itself, actually diseased. It is simply always a hidden, tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This tiny nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power more stability, more controlling, motive governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have their own controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart-sickness. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is no popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help. If you would have strong Hearts, strong stomachs, strong kidneys (these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

The Winter Port Coal Mines

In Queens county, New Brunswick, have been in operation on a profitable basis for about five years.

The opportunity to enlarge the business, increase the output and make very largely increased profits, comes with the opening of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway passing the coal fields.

The mines are situated at the best distributing centre in the Province of New Brunswick. It is estimated that on a very moderate output, which can be obtained as quickly as arrangements can be made to take care of the men on the ground, that the business should pay

Stories of the Earl of Durham.

The Earl of Durham, the new Knight of the Garter, is noted for his gift of humor, and some time ago (so M.A.P. tells us) he made an amusing speech in which he said that he was not greatly impressed by his high title. "If I go to a railway station," he remarked, "and want to take a cab, and one man offers to take me for 10s., and another says, 'My lord, I'll take you for 7s. 6d.,' I always accept the title and the 7s. 6d."

As a boy, Lord Durham was very fond of practical joking, and on one occasion—so the story goes—he was the means of frightening his mother. When the earl was quite a lad he and his twin brother were taken to the seaside, and one day permission was given to the boys to paddle. No sooner was he beyond the reach of his mother's arm than the future earl rushed out into the waves until the water reached to his shoulders.

"Now, mother," he cried. "If you want me ever to come out you must come and fetch me."

The countess was much frightened until a brawn workman arrived on the scene.

"Want that there boy, mum?" he asked, taking in the situation, and having received an affirmative answer, he waded into the sea and brought the indignant little gentleman safely to the shore.

THE CONSULTATION.

What Her Sister Heard When She Listened to the Doctors.

One of two sisters who lived together was suddenly taken with a lung attack she feared was serious, says the London Telegraph. She therefore sent for a specialist and asked her doctor to meet him. Talking over his coming with her sister, she said: "Mona, I wish I could know Sir Henry B.'s real opinion. Neither he nor Dr. M. will tell us if there is anything really wrong, but I would much rather know."

Her sister replied: "Do not worry, dearest. You shall know everything, for I will go down to the dining room and stand behind the big oak screen and listen to every word they say."

"And will you be sure to tell me, Mona?"

"You may rely on me, dearest. I will tell you every word."

"Even if I am not to get well?"

"Even then, dearest," promised the loyal Mona.

The hour for the consultation arrived, and the sister went to the dining room and, standing behind the great oak screen, ensconced herself and prepared to listen.

By and by the two doctors were heard descending the stairs, and a moment later they came into the room. Walking over to the fireplace, the specialist sank into an easy chair and the local doctor sank into another. Then followed a moment's silence, broken by the specialist, who leaned a little forward.

"My dear M.," he said slowly as he looked across at his colleague, "of all the ugly women that's the very ugliest woman I've ever seen in my life."

"Is she?" replied the local doctor. "You wait until you've seen her sister."

MAMMOTH MINERS.

The Experts Who Prospect and Dig For Prehistoric Creatures.

Mammoth miners are experts who know where to prospect for mammoths and how to dig them out, even as the mining engineer knows where to prospect for silver and how to extract it.

In the west, in Alaska and in Siberia mammoth miners are always at work. They are always unearthing creatures that died 100,000 years ago.

Siberia was the mammoth's true home. Siberia 100,000 years ago was one luxuriant forest. Here the fur covered beasts, with their ten foot trunks and their fifteen foot stature, swarmed. Then an earthquake removed a barrier range between Siberia and the Arctic ocean, and those low lying forests were inundated. All their animal and vegetable life was killed.

The first of the drowned Siberian mammoths was found in 1799 by an Eskimo villager on the banks of the Lena. It was imbedded in a vast cake of ice. The villagers melted the ice, they feasted on the 100,000-year-old flesh, and then they sold the tusks.

Only the bones remained when Zlotover of the Petersburg Imperial museum reached that outlandish village after a journey of 7,500 miles. He took the bones back to the museum, where you may see them mounted today. He bought the tusks from the ivory traders and fixed them on the skeleton, and the book he wrote about his find is still a text book among the mammoth miners of our day.

Safeguarding Crime.

It is inexplicable how those pessimistic carpers who are accustomed to hit all the minor chords with the loud pedal on can fail to see all about them the unmistakable signs of progress and the reddening dawn of a new day in the social yeast. And especially is this true in matters pertaining to crime. There is no doubt that the general standards of crime have been immeasurably raised of late. Nowadays a man can do almost anything and get away with it, provided he can arouse the sympathy of the special lady writers and pay the experts. Ah, brothers, who can say that all this does not make for the general uplift? How can we hope to realise the better things of life until crime has been made perfectly safe?—Life.

Sea Air.

At a meeting of the French Therapeutical society M. Laumonier showed that the therapeutic effect of sea air on the coast is quite different from that of the open sea—i. e., twenty or thirty miles out. On the coast the effect tends toward excitement and congestion and, moreover, is irregular in its action. Out at sea it is tonic and regulating, and in addition the patient gets quiet, a regular life and a continuous bath of pure air. These advantages are not so patent on board great liners on account of the vibration and the smell from the engines, but on a sailing ship they are evident.

Chinese Idea of Government.

Here is a Chinese idea of prosperity in a nation: When the sword is rusty, the plow bright, the prisons empty, the granaries full, the steps of the temple worn down and those of the law courts grass grown, when doctors go afoot, the bakers on horseback and the men of letters drive in their own carriages, then the empire is well governed.

Getting Ready For Him.

"Dearest, what did your father say when you told him I loved you?"

"He didn't say anything, Harold; simply went over to the gymnasium and arranged for a course of boxing lessons."

Great men are they who see that spiritual is stronger than any material force.—Emerson.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

WANTED THEM SAVED.

Lincoln Stuck to His Selection of a Hospital Chaplain.

The nomination of a Mr. Shrigley of Philadelphia, a Universalist, for the position of chaplain for the hospital was not met with favor on all sides, and a delegation of protestants went to Washington to see President Lincoln on the subject. The following interview was the result:

"We have called, Mr. President, to confer with you regarding the appointment of Mr. Shrigley of Philadelphia as hospital chaplain."

"Oh, yes," replied the president. "I have sent his name to the senate, and he will no doubt be confirmed at an early date."

One of the young men replied, "We have not come to ask for the appointment, but to solicit you to withdraw the nomination."

"Ah," said Lincoln, "that alters the case. But on what grounds do you wish the nomination withdrawn?"

The answer was, "Mr. Shrigley is not sound in his theological opinions."

The president inquired, "On what questions is the gentleman unsound?"

"He does not believe in endless punishment. Not only so, sir, but he believes that even the rebels themselves will be finally saved," was the reply.

"Is that so?" inquired the president.

The members of the committee responded, "Yes, sir."

"Well, gentlemen, if that is so and there is any way under heaven whereby the rebels can be saved, then, for God's sake and their sakes, let the man be appointed."

Mr. Shrigley was appointed and served until the end of the war.

THE GREAT BOMBARDMENT.

A Constant Rain of Missiles Upon the World's Atmosphere.

The regions of space beyond our planet are filled with flying fragments. Some meet the earth in its onward rush; others, having attained inconceivable velocity, overtake and crash into the whirling sphere with loud detonation and ominous glare, finding destruction in its molecular armor or perhaps ricochetting from it again into the unknown. Some come singly, vagrant fragments from the infinity of space; others fall in showers, like golden rain, all constituting a bombardment appalling in its magnitude.

It has been estimated that every twenty-four hours the earth or its atmosphere is struck by 400,000,000 missiles of iron or stone, ranging from an ounce up to tons in weight. Every month there rush upon the flying globe at least 12,000,000,000 iron and stone fragments, which, with lurid accompaniment, crash into the circumambient atmosphere.

Owing to the resistance offered by the air few of these solid shots strike the earth. They move out of space with a possible velocity of thirty or forty miles per second and, like moths, plunge into the revolving globe, lured to their destruction by its fatal attraction. The moment they enter our atmosphere they ignite, and the air is piled up and compressed ahead of them with inconceivable force, the resultant friction producing an immediate rise in temperature, and the shooting star, the meteor of popular pariance, is the result.

A Subtle Hint.

A representative in congress, who is the father of several bright girls, tells a story whereof one daughter is the main figure.

"For a long time," says the representative, "I had the bad habit of hanging about the lower door when the girls had men callers. One evening I had settled in an easy chair in the reception room just off the drawing room when one of my girls, who was talking to a bright chap from our own state, called out:

"'Dad!'

"'What is it, daughter?'

"'It's 9 o'clock, the hour when Tom and I usually go into committee.'"

When an Ostrich Kicks.

"The only safe place in the neighborhood of a kicking ostrich is just behind it," said a zoo keeper. "An ostrich can kick a man to death, but its kicks are delivered at an angle of 45 degrees. Within those 45 degrees, right abaft the 'pope's nose' of the bird, there is absolute safety. On the ostrich farms of California, when the herds are being driven, you will always see the ostrich boys holding on to the tails of bad kickers. The kickers tear along, and their scaly legs shoot out like piston rods, but the boys in the shelter of the pope's nose are safe."

Condemnation.

"What do you think of members of European aristocracy as sons-in-law?" asked the old-time friend.

"Well," answered Mr. Cumrox, "the way their relatives boss them around indicates that they ought to make easy husbands."

The Idiotic Affair.

Irate Parent—Am I to understand there is some idiotic affair between you and that impecunious young ass, Lord Bilaris? Fair Daughter (very sweetly)—Only you, papa!

It never seems to occur to persons who are getting married that they ought to take each other for good as well as for better or worse.

ALFRED COONEY.

GOT HIM CHEAP.

The Way a Famous Surgeon Was Once Cleverly Tricked.

Sir Morel Mackenzie once received a wire from Antwerp asking him his charges for a certain operation. He replied £500 and was told to come at once. When he stepped upon the dock he was met by three men in mourning, who informed him sadly that he had come too late, the patient had died.

"But," said the spokesman of the party, "we shall pay you your full fee." And they did. "And now," said the man, "since you are here, what do you say to visiting the city hospital and giving a clinic for the benefit of our local surgeons? It is not often they have an opportunity of benefiting by such science as yours."

Sir Morel said he would gladly comply. He went to the hospital and performed many operations, among which were two of a similar nature to that for which he had been called for. When he had finished all thanked him profusely. On the steamer going home he met a friend, who had a business house in Antwerp.

"Pretty scurvy trick they played on you, Sir Morel."

"What do you mean?" asked the surgeon.

"Told you the patient died before you arrived, didn't they?"

"Yes."

"Liars. You operated on him and a friend with the same trouble at the clinic. Got two operations for one price."

HE WAS EXCITED.

And Yet He Was Making Only a Very Reasonable Request.

It was a dramatic scene, pregnant with the most tragic possibilities. Thus thought a witness to the meeting of three Italians near the big express depot at Fifteenth and Market streets. A man and woman who were delivering a trunk into the hands of a clerk were suddenly confronted by another man, who was highly excited. He approached the woman. In voluble Italian he raved and swore and pleaded, while she shrilled equally excited answers. The other man stood back against the wall, his arms folded defiantly, his head sunk on his chest. It certainly looked as if daggers were to be drawn. The interested bystander asked of some listeners who understood the rapidly splattered dialect what the trouble was all about.

"Why," was the volunteered translation, "this woman has run away from her husband with this man," pointing to the sulky individual.

"Oh, and he is begging her to return?" was the next query.

"Not on your life," was the expressive reply. "She has packed up all her husband's clothes in her trunk, as well as her own, and he is begging her to give back at least his Sunday suit."

Baked Men.

Workers in porcelain factories are literally baked, but by some miracle of use and wont they remain sufficiently undercooked to live. At least if they are not quite baked they endure a stronger heat than that which browns the Sunday sirloin. The furnaces wherein porcelain is finished are kept at the fiercest heat used in any industry. A chain of workmen, their heads and bodies swathed in fireproof garments, take the finished pieces from the fire one at a time and pass them to the cooling room. The man at the head of this chain—he who stands nearest the furnace—can work in only five minute shifts. In his interims of rest he lies on a mattress drinking glass after glass of ice water from the hands of a small boy. At luncheon all about the chain of men steaks grill.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Just Tolerable.

Concerning a certain time serving Washington clergyman of whom a visitor was one day expressing a harsh estimate President Lincoln said:

I think you are rather hard on Mr. ——. He reminds me of a man in Illinois who was arrested for passing a counterfeit bill. He admitted that he had taken it to a bank cashier to know if it was a good bill. "Well, what was the reply of the cashier?" asked his lawyer. "Why," evasively answered the prisoner, "he said it was a pretty tolerable, respectable sort of a bill."

Mr. Lincoln thought the clergyman "a pretty tolerable, respectable sort of a clergyman."

HOW TO TELL

If the Kidneys and Liver are Not Acting Well

Thousands die every year from aggravated kidney distress that could have been saved if they only knew.

Your back may ache, you think it's tiredness or physical weakness.

You grow irritable and nervous—it's put down to lack of sleep.

Joints ache, muscles get sore, —that's all put down to bad weather.

Then digestion gets poor, appetite fades away, color bleaches, spirits droop.

Can't you see it's all from your over-worked kidneys, which can't keep the body clear of poisons that are now surging through the whole system.

Cure your kidneys with Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"When I was so stooped and back weary, so lame and sore with kidney and bladder trouble, I cured myself quickly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills," writes C. C. Ferrier, a well known merchant in Plainsville. "Dr. Hamilton's Pills touched the spot at once, gave my back ease, lifted depression and weariness, made a new man of me. I can also say for a good spring medicine to clear and enrich the blood Dr. Hamilton's Pills have no equal."

The housewife whose aching back makes every little duty a burden, the working man who is tired all day and can't rest at night, whose back aches, and whose feet swell—these people have kidney trouble. Women whose kidneys are sick, suffer continually from blind and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, bearing down pains, sharp twinges when stooping, distressing urinary troubles, aching muscles, and joints lack of appetite, and loss of sleep—touch the cause. Cure the kidneys. Use Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills, which have cured thousands. 25c at all dealers.

Thunder Storm

The first thunder and lightning storm struck the city late last night. It was not a very severe one but the rain which accompanied it was heavy and no watering carts will be needed today.

A Painful Accident

Harie Francis, a twelve-year-old boy, whose home is at 402 Bolivar street, met with a painful accident yesterday. He was at the home of some relatives in the country, about eighteen miles from the city, where his "dog saw" was at work cutting wood. The boy got his foot caught between two logs and before the machine could be stopped the foot was badly bruised, so much so that it will have to be amputated. The boy was brought to his home in the city yesterday morning and will be laid up for some time.

Splendid Lecture

when introduced by the chairman. In opening he stated that one of the main lines of work of the Y.M.C.A., was the care of the boys and the development of boy life. He emphasized the value of home training, and urged upon all parents present to provide christian education, culture, example and in a sympathetic manner develope childlife into noble manhood. Throughout his address Mr. Drum gave much valuable advice to parents in the proper training of boys.

The speaker divided his subject into three parts, viz;—

Infancy, from 1 to 6 years.

Childhood, from 6 to 13 years.

Savage state, from 13 to 19 and 20 years.

The chief characteristic of the infant is the ability to fight and its tendency to immitation.

The childhood stage is the instincts of life, up action and absorption of of life.

The savage state is when the boy forms his habits and selects his associates. It is at this period that the Y.M.C.A. endeavors to step in and do its work. The boy is furnished with a good class of chums and associates. He is provided with clean sports, culture and spiritual advice. It was in this way that the Y.M.C.A. was meetings with success and it was for this reason it deserves the loyal support of all.

The chairman announced the thanks of the gathering to Mr. Drum for his earnest and valuable address and the audience was dismissed after singing the National Anthem.

Letter to The Editor

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—Would it be presuming too much to draw the attention of the aldermen, and especially the Board of Works, as I believe it is that department which is particularly interested, to the old willow trees on George street on the banks of the bay in Little Lake. These trees are not what one would call beautiful. They are hanging over the water and in summer obstruct the view of the lake which at this point is attractive. It would be a decided improvement to remove them altogether or at least trim them up so that the lake could be seen.

Yours truly,

CITIZEN.

Brown's Thrilling Story

miles from shore. I could just see land, and then only occasionally, when I was on top of a wave.

THE FIRST THOUGHT.

"My first thought was to try and get back, but to go against the wind was impossible. I thought it better to pull for the Canadian shore for to try to pull for the American side meant to use up all my strength and then not get there. I didn't know how far it was across exactly, but I had heard that it was 40 miles.

"The waves were mountains high, but I didn't seem to feel afraid. I decided I would do my best. That was all I could do, but I felt I would get through some way.

"There were no provisions in the boat at all. I had nothing for a guide but the wind, and I pulled with it all the remainder of the day. I did not stop to rest but pulled steadily. I had to in order to keep head on to the waves.

HAD TO BAIL CONSTANTLY.

"I had to bail continually, because the breakers would leap over the side of the boat. Then, too, the water was leaking in through a crack in the side. My only chance to bail was when the breakers separated and left the surface of the lake comparatively smooth. Never in my life did I have to work harder. All through that dreary time I kept praying, for I felt I needed it.

"Night came on. The dark never seemed so dense. It made me almost hopeless of ever getting back to safety. My boat was drifting, drifting over the waste of waters, with nothing in sight but the everlasting waters and waves. I lay down on the pans to make sure they would not drift away if a breaker came in, but my sleep was fitful. Constantly I had to get up and start bailing again for the waves were coming in on me. When dawn broke the wind went down slightly, and so I felt somewhat rested. I went to the oars again. But it was an aimless route I followed, and soon I was called to the bailing again.

SUN CAME OUT.

The sun came out gradually, and as I stood up and looked toward the horizon there was nothing but the same old stretch of greyish water. Two hours later my eyes caught a slight blue haze up in the north. I thought it was smoke. Getting weaker and weaker from hunger and cold every minute, there seemed no promise of rescue. But I looked again toward the haze. It was land.

"With a cry of joy I went again to the oars. The sight of land gave me new strength. But the wind was coming higher and higher, and the waves mounted up."

A WEARY WAIT.

"Talk about shooting the shoots! I have had enough shooting the shoot for this season. The waves were like mountains. So big that there was nothing to compare them to. When I would start to go down them, it would seem as though I was going to strike bottom. It looked like half a mile. Then it would all close in and lift me up again.

"The blue haze in the north did not seem to get any closer until about twelve o'clock, when suddenly the land seemed to jump right up in front of me. I was only about a mile and a half away from shore, but I thought I would never have strength to pull it. A few rods from shore the breakers caught me, and the boat was sunk to the bottom but the waves shoved it in. When I got out I could not stand but fell to the ground, just like a wet rag. I lay there fifteen minutes, hanging on to the string of the boat so that it would not get away."

Brown, although very weak, managed to pull the boat up clear of the water. Then he started for Mr. Morgan's house, which is only a few rods away, to find out where he was. He thought he was west of Toronto. It was a great surprise to him to hear he was so near home.

RESTED A WHILE.

He rested a while at the Morgan.' As he wanted to allay the anxiety of his mother he decided to walk to the Grafton station, 3 1-2 miles away. There he found there was no train for five hours, so he started to walk to Cobourg. It took him four hours to walk the seven miles.

Brown was completely exhausted when he reached Cobourg, but took the 10 o'clock train to Port Hope.

WEDDING BELLS

DUNSFORD—PETERS.

A pretty home wedding was celebrated Wednesday evening, April 7th, at the residence of Mr. George Peters, Queen street, it being the marriage of his only daughter, Miss Lillian, to Mr. Fred E. Dunsford, Hall's Glen, Ont. Rev. Geo. A. MacLennan, B.A., the bride's pastor, officiated. After the ceremony the company sat down to a recherche dejeuner. The floral decorations were of carnations and similar.

The bride wore a beautiful cream princess gown. Her travelling suit was of taupe vicuna cloth. The presents were many, useful and costly, indicative of the high esteem in which the bride is held by a large circle of friends. Mrs. Dunsford is highly esteemed by the members of the Presbyterian church, having been an active member of the Knox Society, the Young Ladies' Club, and the choir of the Sabbath school, and her removal to her new home will leave behind her pleasant memories of her former associations. The young couple are spending a few days with friends in Peterborough and Orillia.—Norwood Register.

A Woman's Sympathy

Are you discouraged? Is your doctor's bill a heavy financial load? Is your pain a heavy physical burden? I know what these mean to women, because I have been discouraged, too; but learned how to cure myself. I want to relieve your burdens. Why not end the pain and stop the doctor's bill? I can do this for you and will if you will accept me.

All you need do is to write for a free box of the remedy which has been placed in my hands to be given away. Perhaps this one box will cure you—it has done so for others. If not I shall be happy and you will be cured for it (the cost of a postage stamp). Your letters held confidentially. Write to-day for my free treatment. MRS. F. B CURRAN, Windsor, Ont.

Twenty Guests Missing

San Francisco, April 16. —Three hundred guests of the St. George Hotel, in Howard street, between Eighth and Ninth streets, were thrown in a panic by a fire which completely destroyed the building, a three-storey frame structure, shortly after three o'clock this morning. While it is not known that any lives were lost, it is reported by the clerk that at least twenty of the guests still cannot be accounted for.

Six men were severely burned, one probably fatally, and many received minor injuries by leaping from the upper storeys or by being trampled in the rush to escape. The seriously injured were hurried to the Central Emergency Hospital for treatment, and the others, few of whom saved their clothing, were housed in near-by lodgings.

Corporal Fontana and Policeman Kruger discovered the fire, and dragged many of the guests from their beds. There were scenes of narrow escapes. The building burned rapidly, and within an hour was a ruin.

Young Men Should be a Pillar in a Home

Rev. J. S. Webb, pastor of Murray street Baptist church, gave a very plain talk to the young men of his congregation on Sunday night, and it might be well for all young men to consider what he said. The sermon was on the Brother in the Home, it being one of a series of sermons he has been giving for several weeks. He took two texts, viz.:—"I have written unto you young man because you are strong," and "He first findeth his own brother."

The reverend gentleman said that because the brother in the home was strong he had a great many difficulties to contend with. He also has great opportunities and great responsibilities. The home now-a-days is not made the social center it ought to. There is nothing that will so impress the young men of the rising generation as our impressing them with the fact that they ought to be a pillar in some home, either their father's or their own, preferably their own. One of the chief aims of the young man should be to establish himself in a home.

The fashionable club which attracts so many young fellows should never take the place of the home and it ought not to be allowed to. Instead of preparing young men for life's battle the club too frequently ruins them.

Wherever real nobility in young men is apparent, it ought to call forth enthusiasm on the part of christian people. But there was a wonderful lack of that enthusiasm displayed in Peterborough recently when Dr. Grenfell, the hero of Labrador, was allowed to leave the city with $80 to help on his great work for Christ in the frozen coast country, while a wrestling bout would gathering in five times that amount.

"An Honest Man," was Subject of Good Address

In spite of the disagreeable weather all day Sunday, the Opera House contained a large audience in the afternoon to hear Mr. C. R. Drum, secretary of the religious department of the Y.M.C.A., give his address on "An Honest Man." The ground floor of the opera house was filled to its capacity while the gallery was half filled. While the people were gathering several well known hymns were sung in which all joined heartily.

The chair was occupied by Mr. V. Eastwood who fulfilled his duties very acceptably. In opening he expressed his pleasure at seeing so many present and in welcoming a man of Mr. Drum's ability.

On the platform with the chairman and the speaker were Mr. J. H. Shook, president of the association; Mr. Thorton, Mr. Bennard, and Mr. John Miller. The latter assisted in the music on the cornet while Mr. Schneider presided at the piano.

Mr. Drum is a very forceful and practical speaker. His address was plain and to the point, while it was full of valuable information, help and advice. He is a man who knows how to appeal to men and to make a lasting impression upon them. The first part of his address was taken up with a reference to a man leading a clean life. Every man, and especially christian men should state his position on all divine questions so as to be of assistance to those around him. Everyone has a great influence although often unconsciously.

The next feature was what we owe to God and two of those things were worship and love.

Mr. Drum spoke for about an hour and throughout he held the close attention of his audience. The result of the meeting will be that many of those present will endeavor to live more closely to the ideal life.

118 Entries Received from Toronto for Camera Club's Photo Exhibition

Judging by the manner in which the entries are coming in, the first exhibition of the Peterborough Camera Club which will be held from April 20th to April 30, promises to be a most gratifying success. The officers of the club are wearing a smile of large proportions, and why shouldn't they! for yesterday's mail brought them no less than 118 entries from Toronto, some remarkable specimens of photographic art being included in the number.

Word has been received also that a collection will be sent from Toledo, valued from $200 to $300 and comprising some of the finest specimens of photography ever seen in Peterborough. They are at present being shown in Montreal, and will be sent on here. The Montreal club will also send a collection to Peterborough, while Ottawa is expected to follow suit. The Eastman Kodak Company, the Ward & Wellington Company, the Plate and Film Co., of England, and the Anseo Company of Binghampton, N.Y., will also send pictures.

The exhibition will be held in the old All Saints' Rectory, at the corner of King and Reid, and will be decidedly well worth seeing.

Following are some of the entries already in:—

New York—F. C. Crandall, 6; D. A. Coulson, 6; H. J. Carter, 4; A. S. Bowers, 6; H. J. Carter, 4; A. S. Bowers, 6; C. G. Begg, 1; Fredk. Baird, 12; R. D. Armour, 4; J. H. Ames, 10; M. O. Hammond, 3; Ernest Hoek, 15; J. P. Hodgins, 6; W. Holbrook, 11; Newton Mastavish, 3; W. H. Mims, 10; Alfred Robinson, 14; Edward Y. Sperr, 4; P. L. Take, 2; E. Uatey, 6.

Toronto—C. G. Griner, 6.

Campbellford—W. Peeling, 6.

Jamestown, N.Y.—John M. Cushman, 3.

Peterborough Camera Club—R. S. Rose, D. E. Eason, Dr. J. A. Morgan, Mrs. A. McCarthy, Mr. J. A. De Lisle, J. B. Brownlee, R. Pigard, E. Mitchell, N. A. Howard Moore.

Power from Niagara will Soon Light London Sts. and Operate Machinery

Gigantic Enterprise, on Point of Consummation, is Due to the Aggressiveness of Adam Beck

FIVE YEARS OF HARD FIGHTING

London, Ont., April 17.— Almost one-half of Ontario as far as area goes, and more than one of its population, look to one man, and that man a Londoner, for cheaper power. After five years of fighting the Hon. Adam Beck is almost ready to operate machinery from Toronto to Windsor and as far north as Goderich on Lake Huron, by means of power generated by the mighty cataract of Niagara. The surveyors have completed their work, the engineers have finally decided upon the class of equipment to be used, the different municipalities have passed bylaws providing for the issuing of debentures necessary to cover the cost of the share of each transmission line, and that the cost of a distributing station and plant for each, and it is expected that within a few months, Niagara will be lighting the city of London and operating its machinery.

The man behind the guns, behind the entire scheme, is a modest German-Canadian, but built with what has been termed "bull-headedness," start him off on anything and the only way to stop him is to derail him. Born in fairly comfortable circumstances, he saw his father establish the little village of Baden, near Berlin, Ontario. When fifteen years of age, the father lost his money, and Adam with his other brothers was left penniless.

A banker who had taken a liking to him bought out a small sawing business for him in Baden and Adam began to make cigar boxes with a $300 plant. He did well and soon paid off what he owed. Later he removed to London and continued his business. Now he is worth well onto half a million dollars, lives in a mansion,

Tenders Advice to Ontario Apple Growers

Ottawa, April 17.—Before the Agricultural Committee of the Commons yesterday, A. McNeill, Dominion fruit commissioner, gave a talk on the apple trade of the Dominion. He advocated particularly the more general adoption of cold storage facilities and better selection of varieties for the purpose of improving the keeping quality of the apples intended for the export trade.

Mr. McNeill urged that apple growers in southern and western Ontario should go in for earlier varieties than are generally grown now and the establishment of cold storage warehouses, especially in the Niagara district.

An Ideal Cough Medicine

"As an ideal cough medicine I regard Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in a class by itself," says Dr. R. A. Wiltshire, of Gwynneville, Ind. "I take great pleasure in testifying to the results of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. In fact, I know of no other preparation that meets so fully the expectations of the most exacting in cases of croup and coughs of children. As it contains no opium, chloroform or morphine it certainly makes a most safe, pleasant and efficacious remedy for the ills it is intended."

Interest in the Kinrade Case Has Been Revived by Arrest Made for the Shooting of Constable Smith

Hamilton, April 17.—The arrest of Jack Neville, a well known character in this city, charged with the shooting of Constable Smith, the officer who was so badly wounded while investigating some suspicious noises in the Kapple house in Ray street several days after the Kinrade murder, has furnished one of the biggest surprises in police circles in time. It has been the opinion all along that Smith's assailant would never be discovered, and it was known that the detective department after the first day or two discontinued work on the case.

Neville's arrest was quietly accomplished and the chief of police and the detective department did not know that such progress had been made or that the two policemen, Brannan and Tuck were working on the case, until the arrest was made, the two constables conducting all their investigations while they were off regular duty.

IS NOT DISCONCERTED.

Neville' friends claim that they will have no trouble clearing him of the charge, while he laughs at the police, claiming that he will be able to furnish a complete alibi. However, according to one of the officers who conducted the investigations, the police say they will be able to prove

Are Burning and Massacreing the Christians in Asiatic Turkey

Alexandretta, Asiatic Turkey, April 17.—The Christians on the Paine coast have been attacked by Mussulmans.

Two Christian vilayets have been burned over and the Lazarist Mission is in grave danger.

NEWS IS ALARMING.

Constantinople, April 17. —The news received here this morning from Asia Minor is distinctly alarming.

There is great excitement among the Mussulmans at Beirut and Erzeroum and massacres are feared.

300 WOUNDED AT CONSTANTINOPLE.

Constantinople, April 17. —The casualties from the deluge of stray bullets during the mutiny of Tuesday and Wednesday were much heavier than was at first reported. Most of the wounded were removed by friends, but, in addition to the score of men killed, it appears that upwards of 300 persons were more or less seriously shot.

HUNDREDS WERE KILLED.

Constantinople, April 17.—No confirmation yet has been received here of the reported killing of two American missionaries in Adana. The latest intelligence sets forth that several hundred Armenians and Moslems were killed in Adana in the fighting, and that the Armenian quarter of the town was finally overwhelmed and destroyed by flames.

The British vice-consul at Mersina, Major Daughby-Wylie, was wounded in the arm while endeavoring to quell hostilities at Adana.

Tore the Union Jack Into Shreds at a Riotuous Meeting

Sydney, N.S.W., April 17.—Public meetings of protest are being held throughout New Zealand condemning the government's offer to build two new Dreadnoughts for Great Britain as unconstitutional.

Extraordinary scenes took place at Christ church, where a meeting of government's action, degenerated into pandemonium. The speakers, including both Roman Catholic and Anglican bishops, were howled down the rioters rushed the police and seized the Union Jack, which they tore into shreds, and trod under foot. Many free fights that ensued were terminated only when the lights were all extinguished.

AUSTRALIA'S PROPOSALS.

London, April 17.—The Commonwealth Government have made the following proposals on naval defence to the Imperial Government.

To continue the present arrangement until 1913, and employ destroyers for Australian defence.

Borrow officers from England.

Send Australians here for training outside Australian waters.

To put the force in charge of a British officer of the station visited.

In wartime to hand over the fleet unreservedly to the admiralty.

To maintain a naval base for British ships.

Not to maintain submarines.

Hon. Mr. Watt, the Victorian treasurer, suggests inviting Admiral Beresford to Australia to give advice before any definite scheme is undertaken.

Troops Rushed in Autos to Repel an "Invasion" in South of England

London, April 17.—The experiment of rushing a thousand men, with arms and equipments, from London to Hastings by motor car, was recently carried out with a degree of success which the most sanguine enthusiast could hardly have predicted.

There was not, from first to last, any mishap which in the least disorganised the arrangements. There were no bad accidents to cars or men or spectators, and the program was carried out to within a very few minutes of the schedule time.

The experiment was the result of an offer by the Automobile Association to place the necessary cars at the disposal of the military authorities, free of cost, and with competent drivers, if the War Office would undertake the scheme.

There was no difficulty about the cars, for some 600 or 800 were offered by the association's members, and eventually it was decided to test the scheme with a battalion composed of companies of the First and Second Coldstream Guards, the Second and Third Grenadier Guards, and the Second Coldstream Guards, with ammunition reserves, water carts, machine guns, stores, R.A.M.C. orderlies, and in fact, everything the force would require for its special object.

The force mustered in three columns, one at Wellington Barracks, another at Blackfriars Bridge, and the third at Chelsea, whence they were taken by the cars to the Crystal Palace grounds. There the details were marshalled into one long column, consisting of 286 cars and motor omnibuses, which was never less than seven miles long.

The supposition was that an invading force was threatening Hastings, and had blown up the railway so that only the roads were available for the transport of troops.

In front, as far as the eye could see, the cars followed one another, going along often at thirty miles an hour or more, swaying around corners, flashing past the houses, and across the levels with heavy speed. One knew that behind one would be before the great column was along the road to Hastings, and one needed no further stimulus than the sight of the headlong rush to imagine a whole army corps, thus carrying from London to the defence of the coast.

There were hardly any hitches of any description, and none that was of any importance. That punctures and such little accidents of the road would certainly occur had naturally been foreseen and provided for. Consequently there were no real delays in the assault.

Sveanberg Won Marathon---Simpson Quit at 16th Mile with a Bad Knee

(Special to The Times.)

Long Island City, N.Y., April 18. —In the matched race, the full Marathon distance of 26 miles 385 yards, run today at the Celtic Park, Long Island City, John B. Sveanberg of Oswego, scored a hollow victory, covering the distance in 2 hours, 41 mins. and 44 2-5 seconds. His opponent, Fred Simpson, the Ojibway Indian, quit after the 16th mile. He was suffering from a stiff right knee as the result of a cold contracted while racing Fred Appleby in Toronto a 25-mile match race some ten days ago. St. Yves' time in the Marathon Derby at the Polo grounds in New York two weeks ago, was 2h 54 4-5 seconds faster. St. Yves' race was run over a rain-sodden field, while Sveanberg had a good cinder path today, so that the Frenchman's performance was by far the better.

Plans a Trip of Over Six Thousand Miles on Snow Shoes

Harry V. Radford, scientific traveler, has completed his plans to tramp through 6,000 miles of wilderness on snow shoes, says the New York Press. That distance, he says, is more than Stanley travelled in Africa and more than any other explorer ever travelled.

Radford was about to start on a journey to the Arctic regions. He said he will eat nothing but raw meat and fish, and told how he intended to make the trip from Edmonton, Canada, by a new route to the Arctic Ocean. He said that the experience will be a novel one for him, as his travels, though extensive, never have been through such wild country.

"My trip will be doubly difficult," he said the other day, "because it will be made entirely on snow shoes and without the companionship of a living being, except four or five Indians and the sled dogs.

"We will live almost entirely on such game as I may shoot. There may also be some fish food, if I have opportunities for angling. We will take with us emergency rations of chocolate and malted milk, but these will be used only at intervals.

"From Edmonton to Great Slave Lake is a distance of 1,200 miles, all of which must be covered on snow shoes. We will sleep in our furs right in the snow, without anything over our heads. This will be new to me as I never before have penetrated far into snow-bound countries.

"Should we reach Great Slave Lake safely, we will try to continue across the barren lands to the Arctic Ocean, during which we will go to the mouth of the Yukon River. Then we'll attempt to enter Alaska, and, if successful, will cross Bering Straits into Asia, where I hope to hunt big game for a time.

"The journey will be over ground part of which never has been covered by a white man. New trails may be opened, and the way should be paved for the entrance of apartments into a territory abounding in moose, wood bison, musk oxen and other American big game. At the mouths of the Arctic rivers trout weighing from ten to twenty pounds are to be found. I hope to do much angling, and believe the sport can be introduced among the natives, who heretofore have caught fish with nets only. The American Bison Society has requested me to make a report on the wood bison."

Special Series of Sermons at St. Luke's

The old faith and the new psychology was the subject upon which Rev. Dr. Langfeldt has begun a series of special Sunday night sermons. In spite of the bad weather there was a large congregation present, as it is well known that the reverend doctor's special sermons are particularly instructive and interesting. Last night he introduced the subject and will continue his talks for the next five or six weeks.

Douro Protest Case was Dismissed

His Honor Judge Weller has decided that the charges against Reeve Frank Maher in connection with the last municipal elections in Douro are not sustainable and the has dismissed the same. Mr. Dennis Meloney who laid the charges of bribery and corruption against Reeve Maher, was the other candidate for the township in the elections.

It is not necessary to report the particulars of the hearing of the charges as the particulars have been published very fully in the local press. General interest was excited in the county over the case and particularly in Douro. It is some weeks ago since Judge Weller reserved judgment and he has been too ill since to state his finding until Saturday.

Mr. E. A. Peak appeared on behalf of Reeve Maher, and Mr. R. F. McWilliams was counsel for Mr. Meloney.

Steamer Monarch Came Into Port

The navigation season has opened. The steamer Monarch was the first big boat to come into port and she landed near the Street Railway wharf on Saturday morning about ten o'clock. The water in the river was too high to permit a landing at the wharf so the wharf was submerged. About 35 passengers from Harwood and other Rice Lake points came in and did their shopping in the city and returned in the afternoon. In the meantime the Monarch put on a big cargo [illegible] lake points [illegible] freight for [illegible]. The boat in charge of Capt. Sharp is in fine shape this year and she will be as popular as ever. In order to handle all the freight that is waiting the Monarch will be up again today, and from now on the regular Saturday trips will be made.

IF YOU HAVE

Catarrh

Remember the Best Catarrh Medicine that Money can Buy is Catarrhozone; it cures quickly and permanently when all others fail.

The remedy doesn't exist that will cure Catarrh as quickly as Catarrhozone. It relieves the most stubborn cases in a short time, and drives the disease so thoroughly from the system that it never returns.

Druggists boldly recommend Catarrhozone in preference to other remedies because they know it is the best, and every progressive doctor prescribes it.

Catarrhozone is a rational, commonsense treatment that finds favor with everybody. It cures, by the inhalation of medicated air, which comes into contact with the mucous surface of all the breathing organs. It goes at the source of the trouble, kills the germs and drives every vestige of catarrh right out of the system.

It doesn't matter how deep-seated or chronic your case may be, Catarrhozone can cure it. Even though a thousand other remedies have failed, don't give up hope till you have used Catarrhozone. It has cured other cases probably worse than yours, and will cure yours if it gets a chance.

Mr. Dutcher Law, a prominent citizen of Petty Cross, N. S., says: "I experimented with hundreds of Catarrh remedies and found the majority to be worthless, dismal failures. Catarrhozone was the first to give lasting relief; it cured me and I am with pleasure testifying to its merits as a cure for Catarrh of the nose and throat.

(Signed.) DUTCHER LAW.

You are sure to derive the most pleasant results from Catarrhozone. It has been tested many times and never found wanting. Every druggist in Canada sells it. Complete two months' treatment, guaranteed to cure, costs $1, or a trial size 25c. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

WILL DUTCH HOLD HOLLAND?

That "the Dutch have taken Holland" goes without saying. But the question is whether or not they can continue to hold it. That they may not be able to do so seems improbable at first blush. But many circumstances point in that direction. For one thing, there is no heir-apparent. Queen Wilhelmina is the last of her line, and after her, should there be no heir, there will be a dispute with reference to the succession.

In this dispute the Emperor of Germany may take a prominent part. He may indeed claim the throne as a descendant of one of the former rulers of the Netherlands. If William were to make this claim a very difficult situation would present itself. The Dutch would not be strong enough to resist the emperor, and it is a question as to what Europe would do. That Germany would like to annex Holland is not at all to be doubted. A glance at the map makes the position of the Germans on this matter very clear. Holland stands between Germany and the North Sea. Much of the business of Germany has to pass through this little country, and the seaports of Holland are the principal seaports of the empire. If Germany were to annex Holland she would get a position on the coast that she has long desired, and would be able to figure more prominently than in the past as a maritime power. How could the aspirations of the Germans be more happily realized than through a claim on the part of the Emperor to the throne of the coveted country! The making of such a claim would lead to a disturbance in Europe. Britain we may be sure, would be most too ready to recognize it, and France would certainly view it with misgivings.

It is this situation that causes the people of Holland to hope that an heir to the throne may come. Should there be no heir, trouble will assuredly be experienced. But let there be an heir, be it a prince or a princess, and the Netherlands can look forward to a prolonged period of peace. There will be rejoicing throughout Holland, and a feeling of satisfaction all over Europe. Thus through a little baby the independence of the Dutch is preserved.

Bad Season for Colds

Colds and grip were quite prevalent last winter and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in great demand and performed some remarkable cures. Mrs. Mary J. Robinson of Cameron, W. Va., says: "Last winter I was taken with one of the severest colds I ever had in my life. I could not speak above a whisper and was very hoarse. I was afraid it was going to be pneumonia. I took one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in three days was quite better and could talk. I did not take but the one bottle and it cured me. I never tell everybody about Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the good it did me."

THE KETTLEDRUM.

It is an Instrument That is Pretty Generally in Demand.

The kettledrum, which goes to the improved that it has a pitch; in fact, it contains the large range of four notes. It is, as its name shows, a copper kettle or basin, covered over with skin which can be tightened or loosened by screws placed around the edge. Drums of this shape were used by the Romans, and were earlier by the Greeks and Moors, but they were not known in western Europe before the crusades.

Although it may appear so, the kettledrum is not at all an easy instrument to manage, for in order to get each of the four notes the player has to turn all the screws and adjust the parchment anew. For this reason kettledrums are often used in pairs, one tuned to the keynote, the other to the fourth below. In this way the drummer has always the two chief notes in the scale to work upon, and if the composer has not exacted much from him he will have quite an easy time. But when a change of key is approaching it is quite exciting to watch the drummer screwing and unscrewing the the drum and lightly tapping to hear if the pitch is true, and if we recollect that he often has to tune his drum while the whole orchestra is lifting up its voice we realize that he must be no mean musician; that he must possess an exquisitely sensitive and well trained ear and a steady hand and nerve as well.—Jessie K. MacDonald in St. Nicholas.

MODERN ROYALTY.

Hopelessly Handicapped by the Progress of Mankind.

What is a modern king for if not to set a pattern of the brave, courteous, urbane gentleman and make a comely figurehead upon state occasions? If he fails there of, what earthly use is he? He cannot govern. He dare not attempt to rule. He is so outclassed in professional training by his own people that he would never be tolerated as an active commander-in-chief in time of war. He is hopelessly below the requirements of the age if he frowns of leadership in art or learning, literature or science. He cannot make a brave showing of the virtues and graces of more primitive times when he gets a chance he fails utterly.

The truth is that modern royalty is handicapped hopelessly by the progress of mankind. The age is far too complex to enable a king to play the part he is cast for in the great drama of the world's work and struggles. He would be more than human if he could live up to the demands of his birth and the traditions of his vocation. Kings were formerly tragedies when they were evil and great benefactors when they were both good and wise. Now they are perilously near the border line of comedy, which slides easily down into farce.

Sneezing.

Sneezing has an extensive folklore in many countries. Sometimes the act is considered ominous of good and sometimes of evil. Among the Jews it has always been regarded as an appropriate moment, such as the conclusion of a bargain, an appointment, and a prayer will be offered by many parts of the country that the regular habit of sneezing, particularly after meals, is conducive to longevity and a precaution against disease. The old English custom of saying "God bless you!" when a person sneezed, so as to avoid evil consequences, has its counterpart in many far distant parts of the globe. The Cuiy Indians in Brazil found the sneeze saluted with "God preserve you!" while in Fiji it was customary to retort, "May you live!" In superstitious Suffolk there is a sneezing tariff—once a wish, twice a kiss, thrice a letter and four times a disappointment.—London Sphere.

The Water Clock.

The earliest application of the clepsydra principle to produce motion was by Taking Hung, A. D. 136, who made an "orrery" representing the apparent motion of the heavenly bodies around the earth, which was kept going by dropping water. In the sixth century of the Christian era an instrument was in use in China which indicated the course of time by the weight of water as it gradually came from the beak of a bird and was received in a vessel on a balance, every pound representing a one-hundredth part of the day of twenty-four hours. About this time sand-glasses began to be employed in clepsydras instead of water.

Victim of Circumstances.

"That Englishman is a funny chap," remarked the hat salesman in the big hotel; "he hasn't been out of his room today."

"No; he has victim of circumstances," replied the coffee salesman.

"Victim of circumstances?"

"Yes; he got his shoes outside his door last night, according to the English custom, and somebody threw them at a cat down the areaway."

Rebuke.

A chill, dark, autumnal morning. A breakfast table with an overcrowded tribe of clamorous children. A worried mother and an irritable father muttering something about "no decent elbow room." A small child uplifts solemn eyes from his plate and says, "Hadn't one of us better die?"—London Academy.

Knew His Dad.

Teacher—Several of your examples in arithmetic are wrong, Johnny. Why didn't you ask your father to help you? Johnny—'Cause I wasn't looking for trouble, that's why.—Michigan.

The old fashioned way of doing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription— Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then these organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to diagnose and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and real Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This observant nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all the painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds, it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

Stories of the Earl of Durham.

The Earl of Durham, the new Knight of the Garter, is noted for his gift of humor, and some time ago (so M.A.P. tells us) he made an amusing speech in which he said that he was not greatly impressed by his high title. "If I go to a railway station," he remarked, "and want to take a cab, and one man offers to take me for 10s., and another says, 'My lord, I'll take you for 7s. 6d.,' I always accept the title and the 7s. 6d."

As a boy, Lord Durham was very fond of practical joking, and on one occasion—so the story goes—he was the means of frightening his mother. When the earl was quite a lad he and his twin brother were taken to the seaside, and one day permission was given to the boys to paddle. No sooner was he beyond the reach of his mother's arm than the future earl waded out into the waves until the water reached to his shoulders.

"Now, mother," he cried, "if you want me ever to come out you must come and fetch me."

The countess was much frightened until a brawn workman arrived on the scene.

"Want that there boy, mum?" he asked, taking in the situation, and having received an affirmative answer, he waded into the sea and brought the indignant little gentleman safely to the shore.

A BOOM IN SEVENS.

Athletic Brothers Are to Play Football Match in England.

If, as seems likely, we are about to see a "boom" in athletic contests between sets of seven brothers, due to the sensation that is practically certain to be created by the forthcoming football match between the seven brothers Williams, of Haverfordwest, and the seven brothers Randall, of Llanelly, it will merely be a revival of an old custom dear to our forefathers.

Seven has always been regarded as a lucky number, and in the old days, when people were more superstitious than they are now, near relatives who could work together in sets of seven always tried to do so, believing that they thereby secured some mysterious advantage.

There were, for example, the seven boxers of Beeston, all brothers, and all chimney-sweeps by trade, whom the redoubtable Jem Mace met and defeated one after another, as set forth in full in his memoirs.

Then there were the seven Lees, gypsies, who used to go about the country with a boxing-cloth giving exhibitions. According to their own story, there was only three years difference between the ages of the youngest and the oldest of the seven, the explanation being that the batch of brothers included three sets of twins.

Their success was such that they soon had plenty of imitators, including the famous Lancashire Wrestling Septette, who for years took on all-comers. These were undoubtedly the sons of one mother, for they used to exhibit their birth certificates outside their booth.

At one of their matches they were opposed by a septette of Irish wrestlers, each of whom was said to be the seventh son of a seventh son, a combination which is supposed to be enormously lucky, and is certainly extremely rare. However, in this case skill triumphed over luck, for the Irishmen were easily beaten by the lads from Lancashire.

Dublin's Shame.

The strong remarks of the Recorder of Dublin in regard to the terrible slums which darken the Irish capital have again drawn attention to what is undoubtedly a shocking state of affairs. Sir Charles Cameron, medical officer of health for the city, said he considered that the main cause of the extreme poverty was the lack of employment owing to the absence of large industries. "Thirty-seven out of every hundred families live in one room," he said, "and I think their case is worse than that of the very poor in any centre in England. The proportion of the people of Dublin who are very badly off in regard to good clothes and fire is very large indeed. Here is a typical case which has been brought to my notice. It is that of a poor young woman five or six and twenty in an advanced state of consumption. She has four children, including a baby in arms who is also consumptive, and her husband only earns eleven shilling a week as a messenger. All they live on is bread and tea. There are considerably over 1,000 regular beggars in Dublin. Most of the very poor live in tenement houses. Much of the property is old and decayed. It often gets so dilapidated as to be unfit for habitation. We have closed about 2,000 such houses in the last twenty-five years. Some of the rooms are let as low as 1s. to 2s. a week, but the rents vary from 1s. to 5s. It is strange how the bachelors you find among the very poor. They marry no matter how poor they are and thus the ranks of the poverty-stricken are swelled."

A Youthful Robber.

Brought before the Preston (Eng.), magistrates recently as not being under proper guardianship, a diminutive boy named Francis Glass, eleven years of age, was remanded for a week, after a remarkable account had been given of his alleged proficiency in thiefs of a particular order. The chief constable informed the court that Glass was the leader of a gang of boy thieves who went about robbing letter and pillar-boxes in different parts of the town. On the previous Sunday alone the prisoner obtained in this manner cheques, postal orders, etc., to the value of £400, and he had given the postal authorities a great amount of trouble. On another occasion he obtained over £60. Detective Woodcock stated that the boy had a remarkably small hand and a thin arm, which he could thrust through apertures in the boxes and so abstract the contents. The prisoner hid the plunder in a cellar underneath his school and in crevices in different parts of the town. Although so young, he was absolutely beyond control, and frequented the company of thieves.

Mr. Austen Chamberlain.

Mr. Austen Chamberlain tells an excellent story against himself. When he left his Alma Mater he traveled on the Continent for some months, and then returned to Birmingham with the intention of devoting himself seriously to politics. He had been at home only a few days when he met his old nurse, who inquired what vocation he thought of pursuing. "Oh," he said, in reply, "I'm going in for politics!" "For politics!" was the exclamation of the old lady. "Oh, Mr. Austen, I should have thought two in the family, your father and Mr. Richard, enough to have had in politics! Why don't you go in for something useful?"

Saved Their Taxes.

A curious fact has come to light in connection with the late famine in India. Even in the districts which were most affected it is now possible to collect the suspended land revenue and takkavi, and district officers have noticed that many of the rupees paid in on these accounts have obviously been buried. It seems quite evident that the famine, severe as it was, did not exhaust the resources of the people and that at least a portion of the takavi advances were promptly buried against the day when the Sircar should demand their payment.

Read the pain formula on the box of Pink Pain Tablets. That's all your Doctor if there is a better one. Pain means congestion, blood pressure somewhere. Dr. Sheep's Pink Pain Tablets absorb head pains, womanly pains, pain anywhere. Try one, and you'll be for life. Sold by all dealers.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

PEARLS IN AUSTRALIA

FISHING FOR GEMS IS A GROWING INDUSTRY.

Shells Rather Than Pearls Are the Source of the Big Fortunes Amassed by Men Who Gather the Jewels Off the Coast of Queensland—Malays and Japanese Do Most of the Diving.

Australasian pearl fishers make their fortune more by the shells they gather than the pearls they find. The Australian pearl is not to be compared with the Oriental; it is too pale and lacks the beautiful sheen, as a rule, of the latter. The Australian pearl-shell, on the other hand, is most valuable, while the Oriental shell is worthless, or practically so. Australian shells are large and thick, while Oriental shells are small and thin.

Thursday Island is the great centre of the pearling industry in Australia, but this extends pretty well all round the coast of Queensland, and Dampier Land, on the desolate northwest coast of the continent, is also famous for its trade in this respect. Of course, it is because of the mother-of-pearl lining that the shells are valuable. This iridescent lustre is due to the minute undulations of alternate layers of carbonate of lime and membrane. The rough outer coat of the shell is scraped away, and the mother-of-pearl is then ready to be cut into knife-handles, mirror frames, etc.

All round York Peninsula—that finger-like projection in the north of Queensland—and upon the numerous islands without the Great Barrier Reef, pearling stations abound. On the edge of the tropical jungle the little settlement is built, the station house, long and low, with a broad verandah, occupying some knoll or half-way up the slope of a hill, and looking down upon the store sheds and boat sheds and the Kanakas' hut and kitchen.

Pearl shells are worth anything around $1,000 a ton at Thursday Island, at Broome, in Dampier Land, or at any Australian port, and if sent direct to other countries they are worth as much as $1,450 a ton. From 400 to as many thousand shells go to the ton, according to size. The best Australian shells are the black and gold-lipped, and many tons of these are annually exported. Of course, what pearls are found are so much extra value, needless to say; and stones are sometimes found worth $10,000 and more. Pearls worth $1,000 or $1,500 are not uncommon.

For the greater part, the pearling is carried on by pearling companies that run fleets of boats, but there are many private individuals engaged in the industry. A fair amount of capital is required to start in it—$5,000 or so. With that a man may buy a small schooner, lugger or yawl, stock it, and hire a Malay or Japanese diver, and a small crew of Kanakas.

Much of the diving is still done by Malay or Kanaka "boys" in the primitive garb of Nature, jumping in [illegible] from the side of a small boat, and then swimming to the bottom of the sea, remaining under for a minute or a minute and a half.

An expert diver of the latter class demands as much as $750 advance money and $160 on each ton of shell he brings up. There is not much danger from sharks if there are many divers working together, and so the unrobed Malays, who generally work in gangs enjoy greater immunity than the solitary, india-rubbered and helmeted diver. White men do not dive; they superintend matters in the yawl or on the schooner perhaps opening the shells. Great watchfulness has to be exercised over the Malays and Kanakas, for a pearl is very easily secreted in the loin-cloth, [illegible] ears; and, moreover, the "b[illegible]" are apt to take it into their heads to murder the white manager and share the precious spoil.

Many white men who trust themselves alone in a boat with a Malay or Kanaka crew are never heard of more — they disappear mysteriously, or are reported as having fallen overboard. The skipper and the mate—if there is one—of a pearling lugger or yawl has to be an expert revolver shot, and may well be said to carry his life continually in his hands. He has to sleep on a hair-trigger, so to speak—to be ever ready for mutiny or treachery in some shape or another from one or more of his crew. It does not do to indulge in a brown study—to loll over the taffrail dreaming of home. A push or a blow from a Malay "kris" may end all further dreaming.

Pearling is only possible at certain seasons. When the weather turns cold and the trade winds become blustering, the fleets return to the stations. The shells are then sorted, washed, weighed, and packed in cases. They are chiefly sold by public auction.

A pearl-oyster is not an oyster at all really, but a species of mussel, and in the majority of cases a pearl is literally "the gorgeous tomb of a tape-worm." The nucleus of a pearl was formerly supposed to be a grain of sand or some other extraneous matter that had worked inside the shell, but it is now found to be, as a rule, one of these parasites. Annoyed by the tape-worm, the oyster or mussel squirts its sauce or juice over it, and smothers it, thus forming the pearl.

Like the mussel, the pearl-oyster attaches itself to stones and rocks by mean of fine but strong fibrous cords or "byssus," and not like the oyster, by a secretion of shell-matter. Only in the adult oyster are pearls found of any size. After the fourth year it is calculated the yield of pearls, both in quality and quantity greatly increases. Pearls are often found embedded in the shell, working through to the outer surface, for the oyster seems to be able to change his coat, or else it wears away.

The rarest and most valuable of all Australian pearls is a black pearl, and the most famous pearl found in these waters is the Southern Cross—it was in three portions, and minus the lost one.

TOMMY ATKINS' TROUSERS.

Facts About the British Army Tailor's Bill.

It will astonish most people to be told that the British Government, in addition to being a maker of laws, is the greatest tailor in the world. The Army Clothing Factory at Pimlico is the biggest tailor's shop in England. Last year Tommy Atkins' tailor's bill amounted to £355,376. During the Boer war the clothing of the army cost nearly £5,000,000.

Trousers are the most costly item in the soldier's wardrobe, and for their nether garments last year the nation had to pay no less a sum than £73,276. And this recalls the fact that it is less than ninety years since the British army first put on its trousers—that the British infantry soldier, that is to say, first substituted trousers for the old-fashioned knee breeches.

From April 1st the British soldier will be clothed on an entirely different system to what has prevailed for so many years, and the innovation will probably be a great deal more satisfactory to the rank and file. Every man will receive his free outfit on enlistment as heretofore, but will be required to provide his personal clothing and necessaries out of an allowance credited to him quarterly in advance. Instead of his present kit allowance of twopence a day after six months' service, he will receive at the end of his first year a lump sum equivalent to the accumulated twopences, in addition to the separate clothing allowances.

The maintenance of kit and clothing will be a matter between the soldier and his commanding officer. It is intended that the present arbitrary periods of wear allotted to each garment shall be abolished; under the old system a pair of trousers might be serviceable to-day and "time-expired" to-morrow.

Even in the piping times of peace Tommy Atkins' tailor's bill would make a millionaire poor in a year. Roughly speaking, it costs £1,000,000 every year to clothe the British army. The headgear of the troops, embracing everything from a simple cap to a bearskin helmet, exhausts nearly £50,000, and boots, shoes, and leggings, which are purchased ready-made, cost nearly £250,000. The cost of a soldier's uniform varies from just over £10 10s. to less than £3, according to the regiment in which he may be serving. For instance, the annual tailor's bill for the rank and file in the Life Guards is just over £7, while in the Infantry of the Line it is under £3.

At the Army Clothing Department at Pimlico many hundreds of workers, chiefly women and girls, are employed in turning out soldiers' suits. Apart from the mere making of the clothes the most important part of the work is the inspection of the raw material brought in to be worked up, and of the finished articles which are delivered at the factory to be distributed. Not a yard of cloth is accepted on trust. Every piece is subjected to several tests to prove its quality. There are machines on which small pieces are broken to ascertain the strength of the material; and other apparatus for testing the permanence of the color.

Dancer's Revenge.

One afternoon recently Jeannie Smith, a ballet dancer, entered a garage in Milton street, Glasgow, and approaching her sweetheart, Edward McEwan, a chauffeur, dashed a quantity of vitrol into his face. McEwan rushed to a hose-pipe and turned water on to his eyes to alleviate the agony. Meanwhile the girl threw the vitrol bottle against a wall and made off. Before she had gone many yards she produced a second bottle, containing carbolic acid, and, drinking the contents, she fell in the street in great agony. Other chauffeurs had gone to the assistance of McEwan, who was placed in a taxicab to be taken to the infirmary. Outside the garage the cab was stopped, and the young woman was also put into the vehicle. Both were detained in the infirmary and were reported in a critical condition, the man being terribly burned.

Miss Smith, who is 27 years of age and strikingly handsome, has been engaged as a ballet dancer in a local pantomime. She declares that McEwan, who is 26, had jilted her.

Marries a Porter.

Following the example of other notabilities, Miss Dorothy Hopton, a ward in Chancery, who recently contracted a sensationally romantic marriage with Tom Jones, a Shropshire railway porter, has decided to go on the stage. According to the Liverpool Post, Mrs. Jones has accepted an engagement at an Oswestry music hall. The lady, it is stated, has a pleasing voice, and at her nightly turn at the Public Hall she will sing two songs. Mrs. Jones came from a well-known Shropshire family, and was heiress to a large fortune. She married to prevent her mother sending her to a Brussels convent. Mrs. Hopton has [illegible] all communication with her daughter and left the district, and pending the settlement of her affairs, Mrs. Jones has taken the opportunity of aiding her husband to get their living.

Bottle Tells of Tragedy.

A bottle was recently picked up on the Berwickshire coast near St. Abbs, containing the following message: "Captain or any one who receives this message shall receive the remains of the Dundee whaler Snowdrop; collided with iceberg, no hope. Nov. 14, 1908; sinking fast." For some time fears have been entertained regarding the safety of this vessel, of which nothing had been seen since she was sighted in the Arctic region last June.

Crockett's Profits.

Forty pounds a year was all Mr. S. R. Crockett received in his early days for editing a paper, most of which he wrote himself; while for his first great success, "The Stickit Minister," he only received 7s. 6d. per 1,000 words, when the story appeared in a Glasgow weekly paper.

Appetite Gone---Nerves Badly Run Down

A Strong Moral Well Exemplified in Mrs. Wilson's Case.

Like thousands of other people at this season of the year Mrs. E. P. Wilson was tired and worn out—winter surely tired her health and vigor. But now she is robust and well, eats well, sleeps well, feels invigorated and braced. "For some years," writes Mrs. Wilson of Waimore, P.O., "I suffered from systematic weakness, biliousness and depressing headache. I could take little nourishment and grew thin and pale. If I ate a hearty meal the result was dreadful. Pains started at my chest, and spread all through my body going across my stomach, back and right side. I was discouraged till a friend insisted on me taking Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They made a new woman of me, and over the past eight months my health has been perfected. For a good cleansing, rejuvenating medicine I urge every one to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

There is extraordinary and magic power in Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they bring vigor, tone, health and spirits—are compounded from the most wonderful and healing juices and essence in vegetable life—are safe for young and old and guaranteed to kindle renewed activity and strength of every system that is weak, sickly or run down from kidney, liver, stomach or bladder trouble. Stiff Neck

Stiff neck is caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the neck. It is usually confined to one side, or to the back of the neck and one side. While it is often quite painful, quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of rheumatism in ten requires internal treatment. When there is no fever and no swelling as in muscular and chronic rheumatism, Chamberlain's Liniment will accomplish more than any internal treatment.

19th Regiment

St. Catharines, April 17.—The officers of the 19th Regiment have received an invitation to spend Victoria Day in Peterborough, but no decision has been arrived at in connection with the matter. The regiment has in contemplation a trip to Buffalo on Dominion Day and cannot very well have two outings in the same season.

New Church Tower

Work has been resumed by Contractors Langford & Sheehy on the new Catholic church at the corner of Aylmer and Ramsome streets. The tower is being constructed and the beautiful cut stone being placed in position will add greatly to the appearance of the edifice. The contractors deserve credit for the splendid manner in which the new church is being forwarded towards completion.

Interest Kinrade Case

that Neville was in the vicinity of the crime on the night in question, that a jack knife found in the Kappele house the same night has been since claimed by him and that Constable Smith is prepared to state on the witness stand that he recognized Neville on the night of the shooting. Neville, the police say, had made open threats against Smith.

The employment of a steel pigeon enabled the authorities to prove that the knife found in Neville's. A young fellow was engaged to hang around the pool room where Neville is employed, and he was continually bringing the knife in question into play in one way or another, with the result that Neville as soon as he noticed it, claimed it as his and finally offered to buy it.

REVIVES KINRADE CASE.

The arrest in the Smith affair has brought about a belief among many citizens that the Kinrade murder case will yet be solved. Of the two, the Smith shooting affray was regarded as the more mysterious and now that it is on a fair way to a settlement, many doubters are ready to believe the police officers in their claims that the Kinrade case will be fully exposed. There is a growing feeling that there will be "something doing" in this sensational affair before another week is passed. It has leaked out the Provincial detective department has had the aid of a couple of Pinkertons who have been in Hamilton for a couple of weeks. These men have unearthed many new and interesting points in the case and have at least discovered a motive for the crime.

and won as his wife the beautiful Lillian Ottaway, daughter of Mrs. E. D. Crerar of Hamilton. His father though well up in years, accumulated a fortune of $100,000.

Adam Beck first ran for parliamentary honors on the Conservative ticket in 1898, but was defeated by the late Col. Leys. He then ran for mayor and won. He cleaned up the civic government of London in several branches, and four years later won his way into parliament. Nominally a Conservative, he appears to be nevertheless a socialist at heart.

When Whitney was elected premier in 1905, he asked Beck to go into his cabinet. Adam accepted and at once began a campaign for cheaper power, controlled by the people. Right or wrong, he forced the government to go with him and was able to convince the municipalities that it was a scheme upon which several millions of dollars could be profitably spent.

Now he is about to "make a spoon or spoil a horn," but those who know him best say that he will "make the spoon." He never misses fire, and next to the premier he appears to be the most popular man in Ontario today.

He is one of the best known horse lovers on the continent; has a stable of fine jumpers, and has owned such good jumpers as Hurricane and Moonarch, sold to former Secretary Olney of Washington. He is a judge of thoroughbreds at the New York and London, England, horse shows, and is a member of the London, Ont. A Ship Made Without Iron

Sindbad the sailor, it will be remembered while pursuing one of his eventful voyages, met with shipwreck, owing to the circumstances that his vessel approached too near to a certain mountain of lodestone, much dreaded by mariners, which, exerting an irresistible magnetic power, pulled every nail and bolt out of the ship, causing her to fall to pieces.

Against the possibility of a misadventure of this kind, while sailing the seas, the modern ship, at all events, may be said to be adequately insured. She has been built, and is now being outfitted in Brooklyn by the Carnegie Institution—a brigantine-rigged yacht, measuring 155 feet, 6 inches in length over all, with a beam of 33 feet, and a mean draft of 12 feet, 7 inches. With all her stores and equipment on board, she will have a displacement of 568 tons.

The Carnegie as she has been named is a beautiful little vessel, and is provided with every luxury that can ordinarily be found on a millionaire's yacht. But the really remarkable point about her is that she has been constructed in all her parts almost without the use of iron or steel. Even her planks and beams are held together with wooden treenails and bolts and spikes of copper and bronze. Her engine and other machinery are of bronze and brass and the very propeller is of manganese bronze. — From "Ship Made Without Iron" in Technical World Magazine for May.

Bad Season for Colds

Colds and grip were quite prevalent last winter and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in great demand and performed some remarkable cures. Mrs. Mary J. Robinson of Cameron, W. Va., says; "Last winter I was taken with one of the awfullest colds I ever had in my life. I could not speak above a whisper and was very hoarse. I was afraid it was going to be pneumonia. I took one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in three days was note better and could talk. I did not take but the one bottle and it cured me. I now tell everybody about Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the good it did me."

Milk Wagon Collided With Local Lady

On Saturday morning one of the milk vendors, who drives a wagon with a canvas top while he stands on the rear step, knocked a woman down on George street and gave her a severe shaking up. The milkman was coming down George street at a good clip and turned the corner to go east on Simcoe street. The woman was coming up George and was crossing Simcoe street at the time when the wheel on the wagon struck and knocked her down. Fortunately she was not seriously injured although she has a few bruises as a slight remembrance of the collision.

A number of citizens who saw the accident were very indignant and expressed surprise that such rigs are permitted on the city streets, as it is impossible for the driver to see where he is going and has to trust entirely to the wisdom of the horse.

On Saturday 19 cents will buy any 25 cent piece of chinaware or glass ware. Be sure and have a look whether you buy or not. Times Bookstore.

Lease of Water Powers

Province of Quebec.

Notice is hereby given that the lease of the two groups of water-powers below mentioned, will be offered at public auction in the sales' room of the department of Lands and Forests, in this city, on Tuesday, the 11th May next, at 10.30 o'clock in the forenoon.

The lease will be for seventy-five years on the terms below stipulated and on such other conditions as will be made known to the public on the day of the auction.

1. The "Kai-Kai-Ke" group (River des Quinze).

Description; —The water-powers erected by the Kai-Kai-Ke rapid and the other rapids and falls situated above it on farm Lake des Quinze, in the county of Pontiac, at about 12 miles from the Indian Village of North Temiscamingue to which the steamboats connecting with the C.P.R. trains at Temiscamingue ascend; also four hundred acres of land in the vicinity of the said rapid and of the Kai-Kai-Ke portage, from the head of the said rapid to a line drawn across the river des Quinze, at nine hundred feet above the entry of the channel called "Bryson Creek," together with all the lands that may be flooded in consequence of the construction of the dams intended to submerge the rapids above that of Kai-Kai-Ke and to Lake des Quinze exclusively, without such dams causing any portion whatever of the waters of River des Quinze to overflow into some other streams.

Total head, 90 feet; stipulated power at low water, 32,000 horse-power, without warranty of exact measurement.

The lessee shall be obliged to expend a sum of $250,000 on the development of the said water-powers within the three years following the passing of the lease, in default whereof the lease shall be cancelled and the payments made confiscated.

2. "Island Rapids," group (River des Quinze).

Description; — The water-powers formed by the rapids known under the name of "Big Pipe Stone," "Little Pipe Stone" and "Islands Rapids," in the same county, at about eight miles from North Temiscamingue, to which the steamboats connecting with the C.P.R. trains of Temiscamingue ascend, including:—1. The land and the water-powers of the River des Quinze, properly so called from a line drawn across that river at nine hundred feet above the entry or head of "Bryson Creek," to the prolongation across the said river of the division line of ranges 7 and 8 of the township of Guigues; 2. The land and he water powers of "Bryson Creek," channel or arm of the said river; 3. The large island between the river des Quinze, properly so called and he said "Bryson Creek," as well as all the islands and fore shores and all the islets and rocks in the said river and said "Bryson Creek," between the two lines above described; 4. A strip of land of 10 chains (660 feet) in width or depth (measured in a due north and south directions) along northern bank of the river des Quinze and of "Bryson Creek" and extending between the two lines above described; 5. Lastly, a strip of land also of 10 chains in width or depth, along the southern bank of the river des Quinze, between the two said lines drawn transversely to the river.

All those lands, bed of the river des Quinze, bed of Bryson Creek, islands, etc., covering a superficies of about 3000 acres.

The difference of level in the river des Quinze between the two lines above described is 95 feet in round numbers representing at low water, an aggregate power of 32,000 horse-power, the whole without warranty of exact measurement.

The lessee shall be obliged to expend $300,000 on the development and working of these hydraulic powers within a delay of three years from the date of the passing of the lease under pain of resiliation of the lease and the confiscation of any payment made in the said delay.

The government binds itself to not sell for ten years from this any lands on the banks of the river des Quinze on a width or depth of at least fifteen chains (990 feet) beyond the lands above designated, from the foot of the rapids called "Island Rapids" to Lake des Quinze exclusively, so that the lessee may, at all points of the bank have free access to the river and that he may choose within that area the lands necessary for the full working of the said water-powers, which lands, whose superficies—including that of the lands mentioned in the above descriptions—shall not exceed 2000 acres for the "Island Rapids" group, and 2000 acres for the "Kai-Kai-Ke" group, shall also form part of the property leased.

The upset price shall be fixed on the day of the auction and each person desirous of becoming a bidder, must deposit at the Department of Lands and Forests before the sale, an accepted cheque for $10,000 which will be returned to him after the sale, unless he be the person to whom the property will be adjudged; to this person the said sum of $10,000 will be refunded when he shall have given proof of complete compliance with the conditions prescribed as to the development of the said water-powers, which compliance must be

BID FAREWELL TO OLD ARMOURIES

First March Out of the Season was the Last to Leave the Drill Shed---The Band Played Auld Lang Syne

REGIMENT MARCHED INTO THEIR NEW QUARTERS

The old armories or drill sheds which have done duty for the 57th Regiment since 1864, is now a thing of the past and already the work of destruction has begun. In a few days a vacant space will mark the spot where once stood a historic landmark. No more will the red coats of Peterborough gather on the block pavement and no longer will the heavy rafters witness the weekly drill and army manoeuvers. The last ceremony was performed last night when the officers and men bid a formal farewell to the old home while the band played "God Save the King," and "Auld Lang Syne."

The officers' mess that particular place where the commanders of the regiment hang forth in all their glory, will go with the rest of the building. The rooms which, if able to speak, would recite many pages of reminiscence and could tell legions of stories of great deeds done and would have been done, will no longer contain the leading lights of the regiment. No more jolly luncheons will be partaken of there neither will there be any more orders issued or speeches made from the bionaze.

When the 57th Regiment, headed by the bands, marched out last night for the first time this season they did so for the last time. Nevertheless the boys had a feeling of regret mingled with those feelings of joy and pride of the first march into the new armories. There are very few, probably not more than half a dozen officers or ex-officers now living in the city who took part in the opening of the old armories in 1864. One of these was Lt.-Col. Miller who was then a private and who made the farewell address last night.

Just at eight o'clock the different companies fell in and were put through a preliminary drill by their captains. Then under orders from Major Clegg, officer commanding, the regiment fell in and headed by the two bands marched out of the hall across Central Park to George street, down George to Charlotte, and around to Water, thence up Water to Murray and back to the drill shed. Here the soldiers were lined up and Major Clegg introduced Lt.-Col. Miller, who commanded the regiment until two years ago.

Col. Miller addressed the officers and men for a few minutes. He briefly told of the opening of these armories some 45 years ago, and said that the soldiers then were just as proud of that building as the regiment is today of the handsome brick armories just completed. The colonel spoke of the march out when the boys started for the Northwest to take part in the rebellion. He said that he had always been proud of being a soldier and he was always proud of the 57th Regiment as had every commanding officer since the time it was organized. He reminded the men of the honor and privilege it was to wear the King's livery, and urged them all to stand by their officers and to do their duty to themselves, their officers their King and their country. In closing the colonel took the opportunity to thank the officers and men of the regiment for the loyal support accorded him while he was the commanding officer. He also expressed his gratitude to Lt.-Col. Stevenson for granting him permission to turnout with the boys every time they marched out. It would be be paid a sorry day for him when he could not put on his uniform and parade with the rest of the boys.

Following Col. Miller's remarks the band played God Save the King, and Auld Lang Syne. Then the regiment fell in again and headed by the band marched over to the new armories.

Upon arrival at the new quarters Major Clegg addressed a few remarks to the soldiers. He reminded them of the opportunities the new armories afforded, but also stated that a building could not make a regiment. The officers and men would have to be loyal and do their duty.

Following Major Clegg, Rev. Canon Davidson, chaplain, was called upon. He expressed his great pleasure to meet the officers and men in their armories and urged upon them to do their duty to the great King while serving their earthly king.

The band then rendered in excellent style the Maple Leaf and Rule Britania. Then the officers were instructed to take their companies to their respective quarters. This was done and the arms left there while the men proceeded to the old armories and carried over the old equipment. This was the last of the old armories, and in a day or two the big frame structure will be no more.

Miss Shaw-Hillier will Give Lecture

Miss C. F. Shaw-Hellier, the popular English lecturer, who has recently arrived in Canada, will give one of her instructive health talks for ladies, in the Crystal, George street, Tuesday, April 20th, at 3 p.m. Also in the parlors, 467 Water street, Thursday, April 22nd, at 3 p.m.

This is the first occasion on which Miss Shaw-Hellier's services have been secured since her arrival, and it is anticipated that the attraction will draw a crowded audience, therefore those wishing to secure good seats, should be in the hall a few minutes before 3 p.m. Admission free.

British Warships are Sent to Constantinople---Atrocious Massacres are Reported---Thousands Put to Death

Malta, April 19.—The battleships Swiftsure and Triumph have sailed from here, presumably to Turkish waters.

London, April 19.—"The Macedonian troops intend to enter Constantinople today and enforce their demand for the abdication of the Sultan. The new ministry is tottering. It is believed that adequate steps have been taken to guarantee public order." The foregoing statement was received in London today in a code message from Constantinople, sent by the local agent of a banking firm.

Constantinople, April 19.—It is expected in Constantinople this morning that the main body of the troops loyal to the Young Turks that have concentrated outside of Constantinople will begin soon to march across country on Yildiz Kiosk, with the object of forcing the abdication of the Sultan.

The troops loyal to the Young Turks continued their advance on Constantinople last night, and it is believed that they will soon occupy Makrikeny, a town ten miles from the capital.

The American vice-consul in Mersina reports that the disorders in Adana are quieting down.

The two American missionaries, D. M. Rogers and Mr Maver, were killed on Thursday afternoon while attempting to extinguish a fire in the house of an aged Turkish woman. They were shot dead.

The missions in Adana and Tarsus are now receiving adequate protection.

Disturbances have occurred also in Marash, a city of about 50,000 people. It is reported that twenty persons were killed or wounded there.

Constantinople, April 19.—The whole Turkish Empire is in a ferment. Riot, massacre, and incendiarism are reported from all quarters. The horrors of civil war may break out with awful ferocity at any moment. Foreign intervention is feared by the Porte, and is a dread.

Three French warships and a British cruiser are already speeding towards Mersina, where Moslems are threatening to overpower the troops and consulates. A British warship is rushing to Alexandretta, and a French cruiser is on the way to that place, where a Mohammedan horde is also threatening bloodshed. Two British warships have arrived at Besika Bay, near the Dardanelles, to be ready for trouble at Constantinople or elsewhere. A Russian squadron is held in readiness in the Black Sea, 10 miles from Bosphorus.

A thousand persons are reported to have been killed at Adana and nine or ten hundred at Tarsus and Alexandrette. The bloodshed continues. A number of cities have been burned and 3,000 people are homeless.

Great Excitement and Alarm Prevails in Niagara Floods Threaten Town

Niagara-on-the-Lake, 2.30 p.m.—The greatest excitement and alarm prevails here this afternoon, owing to a threatened flooding of the town.

The immense ice flue, the head of which has been grounded opposite the town, started to move down towards Lake Ontario early this afternoon. Very slowly and steadily it travelled, grinding and tearing the shores on its way, until it again came to a standstill, a mile and a half below the point where it first grounded.

Behind this immense ice dam the imprisoned waters are rising at the rate of a foot every five minutes. Business at Niagara-on-the-Lake is practically at a standstill, as nearly the whole town has turned out in a body, and the banks of the river is lined with people anxiously watching the rising waters.

It seems almost inevitable that the whole place will be flooded.

Added to this danger, it is thought that the river will bring down other huge blocks of ice, and grave fears are entertained that great damage to property will yet be done before the bergs reach the open waters of Lake Ontario.

Lakes that Supply Otonabee are full of Water in Conservation

A few months ago the water in Jack's Lake was scarcely six inches in depth, today a nine-foot measure would be required to touch bottom, where not very long ago it was not much more than ankle deep. In Stony Lake the water has risen five feet. Last fall and at the beginning of winter it gradually went down until the paper mentioned that its shallowness was a record. It will be remembered that one old resident stated that the water was the lowest he had seen in 34 years.

Mr. J. H. McClellan, in speaking of the present condition of the water system, over which he is superintendent, stated that all the lakes from which the Otonabee gathers its supply are full of water. The condition had never been better from the city's standpoint. It has been optimistically estimated that there has been sufficient water conserved to keep the Otonabee at its normal level or even its present level for one year without any further rain supply. The ice is pretty well out of the lakes and no danger is expected from its action.

All the stop logs north of Peterborough are in place but at the locks here the logs are out in order to maintain as low a level as possible in the Little Lake. It has been learned that the government meteorologist in this city than the rain fall during Sunday night was 1 1-4 in. and during the two days was exactly two inches. The gradual swelling of the river in its course through the city has been spoken of recently on the streets, it being the annual spring freshet. An immense volume of water has been poured into the Otonabee and its intermediate tributary sources, and the snow fall has been much heavier than was reported. The city is now well supplied with water for the summer, in fact it is stated to have been seldom better.

Chief Howard

Peterborough Fire Department.

Donation to Fire Dep't.

Chief Howard has received the following letter which speaks for itself:

You will find enclosed five dollars Kindly apply to Firemen's Benefit Fund. I wish to thank you and your men for the promptness with which you responded to the call of fire at my house on Sunday, March 28th, and also for the painstaking and businesslike manner in which the fire was extinguished.

Yours truly,
A. J. McCLELLAN.

Regular Meeting Loyal True Blue Lodge

Loyal True Blue Lodge Watch Tower No. 277, will hold their next regular meeting tomorrow (Wednesday) evening, and several candidates are expected to appear for initiation. Reduced fees for new candidates have been granted this local branch, and several more no doubt will take advantage of the decreased cost of initiation.

The last report of the Grand Lodge held at Belleville, show substantial increases in lodges and membership in the different provinces and Newfoundland.

A long felt want, that of sickness and accident benefits in societies of this sort has not been overlooked. The Loyal True Blue Association is to the front in this respect, and the treasury is in a healthy condition. It is expected Scarch Light Lodge will visit this lodge on Wednesday evening.

Ferry Was Drifting Towards the Falls Passengers in Panic

Buffalo, April 19.—The ferryboat Niagara, running between Buffalo and Fort Erie, Ont., was caught in the ice this morning and was carried down the Niagara River to the International Bridge, where its top deck and pilot house were carried off when it came into contact with the bridge. There were but few passengers on the ferry, and while there was a panic on the boat, no person was injured. The tug International finally got a line on the Niagara and towed her to the Canadian side of the river just below the bridge, where she is now tied up. The passengers were landed.

All Saints' Church will be Built

The Building Committee in connection with All Saints' church, met last night in the Peterborough Fuel and Carriage Company's office, and went over the plans for the new church. The committee also passed a resolution authorizing Mr. Edgar to go ahead at once with the construction. The church will be started as soon as possible and completed without further delay. Mr. Edgar will call for tenders at once.

The El Ray Sisters Made a Big Hit

The El Ray sisters made a decided hit with the roller skaters at the Auditorium rink last night. It was their first appearance in the city and they fulfilled all expectations. The girls are very pretty and graceful, their costumes are beautiful, and they do many difficult as well as spectacular stunts on skates. Their spinning is marvelous, while their fancy dancing and the new barn dance are very pleasing. The El Ray sisters will be here every night this week and Saturday afternoon and each night there will be a change of costume.

Hotel Barns and Sheds Burned--Heavy Damages

(Special to The Times.)

Norwood, April 19.—Norwood had a close shave from being burned out tonight. The town has practically no fire protection, and when it was discovered about 11.30 o'clock that the big barn at the rear of the King Hotel, was a mass of flames, things looked bad for the business portion of the village. Fortunately there was very little wind and what there was came from the north-east and away from the hotel.

The fire was discovered about 11.30, but it had then made such headway that there was no hope of saving it. Mr. King stated to your correspondent that he was in the barn ten minutes before the fire broke out and at that time he did not know of any fire. The barn being a frame one and containing a quantity of hay and straw, and other inflamable material, the blaze, once started made very rapid progress, and soon the whole building was one mass of fire. An alarm was sounded and the fire brigade and villagers turned out and worked manfully, but with the meager fire fighting appliances they could do nothing. All the village possesses is a hand pump and 150 feet of 2-inch hose.

The barns and all its contents, consisting of fodder, rigs, etc., four horses, one cow, two pigs and two valuable hounds which belonged to a Toronto gentleman, were destroyed, together with the long shed on the west side and the barn of Mr. Coleman Elliott to the north. The east row of sheds were saved by an axe brigade which cut a hole in them and thus separated them from the other buildings. The fire burned fiercely until about 12.15, when it had practically burned itself out. The damage will amount to several thousands of dollars.

Steamer Beaver

Messrs. Calcutt and Laumeux left yesterday morning for Lakefield where they will get the steamer Beaver in shape for the opening of the season. The Beaver has a big contract ahead of it in bringing down the 3000 cords of wood for the Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Co.

Canada Feels the Trade Revival--- Ontario Industries are Flourishing

Mount Forest, April 19.—The two large factories of Mount Forest, the carriage factory and Weir Wardrobe factory, are experiencing a boom just at present, both industries working their hands overtime, and not shutting down for Good Friday.

Murphy's woollen mill, Ernest Bros.' foundry and thresher works, the Imperial casket factory and Leslie Bros.' sash and door factory are also running steadily and shipping their products to outside points as well as supplying local trade. Minor industries as well show signs of activity, and on the whole we can report a revival of trade in the manufacturing line.

BUSINESS IN BARRIE.

Barrie, April 19.—Industrial work in Barrie shows signs of a healthy revival. The two principal industries are the Barrie Tanning Company and the Barrie Carriage Company. The former concern, while not over busy, is a great deal more active than at this time last year, the volume of business being perhaps 50 per cent. greater, though not yet up to the usual standard. A more confident tone exists now that the general depression that has continued for the past two years is lifting, and the outlook favors a further revival of trade. The carriage works also report a considerable increase in business over last year. This company has to work overtime lately so as to be able to meet the rush of orders, and the prospects for the season are excellent.

GALT FACTORIES BUSY.

Galt, April 19.—Prospects for a busy season here are excellent. All the factories are running full time and some overtime. Two new factories are to commence operations shortly, and will take up all idle men. The building trade outlook is good. Several contracts for residences are already let, and many more will follow, as there is a good demand for dwellings of the better class.

Monarch Got a Load of Peas

The steamer Monarch made her second trip up from Rice Lake yesterday and took on a cargo of seed peas from Houdreys for Rice Lake points. The Monarch will likely be up again tomorrow with a load of bags. The season has opened up with a rush and it bids fair for a good year.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription— Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow, said by all dealers.

Skiff Capsized and Three Young People Went to the Bottom

NAMES OF DEAD.

R. Robbins, aged 23 years.
Mrs. R. Robbins, aged 17 years.
John M. Taylor, aged 18 years. All of Gananoque.

Gananoque, April 19.—The mother of J. M. Taylor, who was one of the three victims of a drowning accident on Saturday, had a premonition of his death. She has been twice widowed, has a grown-up family, and has for some time been employed as a domestic. Latterly she has been uneasy concerning "the children" at home, being particularly concerned about Johnnie, the youngest, and could not get over the feeling that he was going to be drowned. This made such an impression upon her that she decided to give up her position and live at home. She was not aware that her boy was on the river until Saturday evening, and as soon as she heard of it she at once said that he was drowned.

SANK WHEN HELP WAS NEAR.

The first notification of a tragedy was received here late Saturday afternoon, when word came from Clayton, N.Y., that a skiff had been found opposite the summer home of May Irwin, three miles from Clayton. Description revealed that it was a skiff that had left Gananoque at 1.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Robbins and Taylor. A man named Polson, working on Club Island, had heard a call for help and saw an upturned skiff with two people clinging to it. He started to the rescue in a skiff, and when he looked again only the youth Taylor, was to be seen. When the rescuer was only a few feet away, Taylor released his hold and sank, not coming again to the surface.

Trial of Capt. P. Hains Commenced in Flushing

Flushing, N.Y., April 19.—Insanity both at the time of the killing of Wm. E. Annis and since, was expected to be the chief point in the defense in the trial beginning today of Captain Peter C. Hains, jr., charged with the murder of Wm. E. Annis, on the float of the Bayside Yacht Club, on August 15 last.

Counsel for the defense announced that they will attempt to prove that Capt. Hains' mind was unbalanced by the stories of the friendship of Mrs. Hains for Annis.

Whether or not Mrs. Claudia L. Hains, wife of the defendant, would be called as a witness for the prosecution was not certain, and much depended on the decision on that point. Fifty witnesses were summoned for the defense.

Counsel for the defense said today that if the strain were not too great Capt. Hains would probably testify. His brother, T. Jenkins who was acquitted of a similar charge, was expected also to be a witness.

THE REOPENING OF INQUEST AWAITED WITH INTEREST

Toronto, April 19.—The developments at the adjourned Kinrade inquest at Hamilton on Thursday evening are awaited with much interest.

The course the family, represented by Mr. George Lynch-Staunton, K. C., will take has much speculation associated with it.

It is reported that in the long interval of the adjournment the Kinrade family has not been idle in endeavoring to obtain information that would be of value in the inquiry.

In connection therewith there is the interesting rumor that Mr. Clair Montrose Wright went to Virginia a few days ago in search of information that might have a bearing on the tragedy.

A correspondent at Richmond, however, was unable to locate any Clair Montrose Wright at Richmond, his nearest approach to it being "M. W. Clare," registered from Washington, D.C.

An inquisitive one might naturally ask the question, Is M. W. Clare Clare Montrose Wright?

It is believed that the Kinrade family is just as anxious as the Crown to have Miss Elliott, for some time a companion of Miss Florence Kinrade, give evidence, and it may be that efforts are in progress by the family to ascertain the where abouts of that woman.

NOT FROM TORONTO.

Toronto, April 19.—The News has wired to a correspondent down in Virginia, and has received the following reply;

Mr. M. W. Clare, who is registered at the Lexington Hotel here as "M. W. Clare, Washington, D.C., was last evening interviewed by the News correspondent, Mr. Clare is a man of some thirty years of age, stands about six feet in height, is well built, weighs about one hundred and sixty pounds, and has a very heavy crop of dark hair.

When asked regarding the Kinrade case, he said he had read something about the latter, but that he knew really but little about it other than what he had read.

"Mr. Clare have you lived in Toronto?"

"I have not lived in Toronto; I am from Washington," was the reply.

"Well, will you tell me in what business you are engaged?"

"Oh, I think that is immaterial."

"How long will you be in the city?"

"I may be here for a day or two, and I may leave tomorrow morning."

"Mr. Clare, have you a personal acquaintance with anyone by the name of Kinrade?" was asked.

"No, I do not recall that I have ever known such a person," was his deliberate reply.

MRS MARTHA FITZGERALD.

Mrs. Martha Fitzgerald passed away very suddenly last night at her home on Brock street. The deceased was 74 years of age, and had lived here for some time, coming to this city from Lakefield. Fuller particulars will appear in tomorrow's issue.

Bad Dream's

Indicate Improper Diet, Usually Due to Coffee

One of the common symptoms of coffee poisoning is the bad dreams that spoil what should be restful sleep. A man who found the reason writes:

"Formerly I was a slave to coffee. I was like a morphine fiend, could not sleep at night, would roll and toss in my bed and when I did get to sleep was disturbed by dreams and hobgoblins, would wake up with headaches and feel bad a day, so nervous I could not attend to business. My writing looked like bird tracks. I had indigestion, heartburn and palpitation of the heart, constipation, irregularity of the kidneys, etc.

"Indeed, I began to feel I had all the troubles that human flesh could suffer, but when a friend advised me to leave off coffee I felt as if he had insulted me. I could not hear the idea, it had such a hold on me and I refused to believe it the cause.

"I finally consented to try Postum and with the going of coffee and the coming of Postum all my troubles have gone and health has returned.

"I eat and sleep well now, nerves steadied down and I write a fair hand (as you can see), can attend to business again and rejoice that I am free from the monster Coffee."

Ten days' trial of Postum in place of coffee will bring sound, restful, refreshing sleep.

"There's a Reason."

Deaf
For Thirteen Years

Geo. Warner, publisher of The Masonic Register, Toronto, was almost totally deaf in both ears for a number of years. He experimented with a thousand different remedies, and only got relief by using Catarrhozone, and it cured.

Mr. Warner says:—"For the past thirteen years my hearing has been badly affected. The streets were as quiet to me as if I lived in the city of the dead. I could neither hear the noise of street cars or sound of horses' feet on the pavement. Before I had used Catarrhozone' Inhaler three days I was able to notice a great change in my condition, which gradually improved until now I can hear a whisper across the room. I cannot tell you how much I appreciate Catarrhozone or the wonderful results I have derived from using it. Catarrhozone has my strongest endorsement and I am quite willing that you should use it."

Mr. Warner's unsolicited testimonial furnishes abundant proof that deafness can be cured, even in old age, if Catarrhozone is used. This remedy is scientific in its application and meets with the endorsement of prominent ministers and doctors all over Canada. Our best equipped health institutions always keep it on hand, and cases are recorded where it has been used with great success in the Government deaf and dumb institutions where other means proved futile.

If your hearing is poor, if you have head noises, or ringing in the ears, be sure and use Catarrhozone. It is a regular miracle worker and is sure to help you. Complete outfit costs $1; trial size 25 cents. Sold by all druggists and N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

ONE HOPEFUL SIGN

Winston Churchill says that the British Government would not attempt to build ships against the United States, and would not take the navy of the United States into consideration in framing the British naval estimates. "Because we do not believe that there is any reasonably probable—nay, humanly conceivable—combination against the peace and freedom of the British people which would include the American navy."

It is necessary to look into the future in order to appreciate the importance of this declaration. Germany looms up large today, but in a contest in ship-building, Germany has no such resources to draw upon as the United States, and would be bankrupted by an expenditure which would be only a somewhat severe tax upon her rival.

One need not impute perfection to American institutions in order to recognize that, outside of the British Empire, the hope of freedom for the world lies in the United States, and that these two agreat powers are natural allies. Some have been bold enough to dream of a reunion. This dream is hardly likely to be realized, but political union is not essential to practical union, nor to co-operation in maintaining peace.

Rheumatic poisons are quickly and surely driven out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy—liquid or tablet form. Dr. Shoop's booklet on Rheumatism plainly and interestingly tells just how this is done. Tell some sufferer of this book, or better still, write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. for the book and free test samples. Send no money. Just join with Dr. Shoop and give some sufferer a pleasant surprise.

A Dubious Tribute.

The young theological student who had been supplying the Bumbly parish for two Sundays looked wistfully at Mrs. Kingman, his hostess for the time being. "Did you like the sermon this morning, if I may ask?" he inquired.

"You done real well with the material you selected," said Mrs. Kingman, with much cordiality. "All I said to Zeke on the way home, I've heard a dozen or more ministers preached on that text, and that young man's the first one that ever made me realize how difficult it was to explain."

Her One Desire.

The president of "finished sport" in an aristocratic family took a somewhat generous view in keeping the wife of his second son, which was from time to time a burden to him. On one occasion "the daughter of the house," visiting the old lady's cottage, asked the cultivation of industrious habits enjoyed. "Ah, yes, miss, I have all I'll" said the aged woman. "My husband, your poor pa's dead, and your mother, she's and your brother William's dead, your sister Carry's, and if I only had yours I think I could die happy."—London Standard.

Among those who have returned from the meeting of the teachers in Toronto are Misses A. Mowat, B. Lees, S. H. Brown, and Miss E. Pinkerton, representing the County Teachers' Association.

GOT HIM CHEAP.

The Way a Famous Surgeon Was Once Cleverly Tricked.

Sir Morel Mackenzie once received a cable from Antwerp asking him his charges for a certain operation. He replied £500 and was told to come at once. When he stepped upon the dock he was met by three men in mourning, who informed him sadly that he had come too late, the patient had died.

"But," said the spokesman of the party, "we shall pay you your full fee." And they did. "And now," said the man, "since you are here, what do you say to visiting the city hospital and giving a clinic for the benefit of our local surgeons? It is not often they have an opportunity of benefiting by such science as yours."

Sir Morel said he would gladly comply. He went to the hospital and performed many operations, among which were two of a similar nature to that for which he had been called for. When he had finished all thanked him profusely. On the steamer going home he met a friend, who had a business house in Antwerp.

"Pretty scurvy trick they played on you, Sir Morel."

"What do you mean?" asked the surgeon.

"Told you the patient died before you arrived, didn't they?"

"Yes."

"Liars. You operated on him and a friend with the same trouble at the clinic. Got two operations for one price."

HE WAS EXCITED.

And Yet He Was Making Only a Very Reasonable Request.

It was a dramatic scene, pregnant with the most tragic possibilities. Thus thought a witness to the meeting of three Italians near the big express depot at Fifteenth and Market streets. A man and woman who were delivering a trunk into the hands of a clerk were suddenly confronted by another man, who was highly excited. He approached the woman. In voluble Italian he raved and swore and pleaded, while she shrilled equally excited answers. The other man stood back against the wall, his arms folded defiantly, his head sunk on his chest. It certainly looked as if daggers were to be drawn. The interested bystander asked of some listeners who understood the rapidly sputtered dialect what the trouble was all about.

"Why," was the volunteered translation, "this woman has run away from her husband with this man," pointing to the guilty individual.

"Oh, and he is begging her to return?" was the next query.

"Not on your life," was the expressive reply. "She has packed up all her husband's clothes in her trunk, as well as her own, and he is begging her to give back at least his Sunday suit."

Baked Men.

Workers in porcelain factories are literally baked, but by some miracle of use and wont they remain sufficiently unbaked to live. At least if they are not quite baked they endure a stronger heat than that which browns the Sunday chicken. The furnaces wherein porcelain is finished are kept at the fiercest heat used in any industry. A chain of workmen, their heads and bodies swathed in draperies garments, take the finished pieces from the fire one at a time and pass them to the cooling room. The man at the head of this chain—he who stands nearest the furnace—can work in only five minute shifts. In his interims of rest he lies on a mattress drinking glass after glass of ice water from the hands of a small boy. At lunchtime all about the chain of men steaks grill.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Just Tolerable.

Concerning a certain time serving Washington clergyman of whom a visitor was one day expressing a harsh estimate President Lincoln said:

"I think you are rather hard on Mr. —. He reminds me of a man in Illinois who was arrested for passing a counterfeit bill. He admitted that he had taken it to a bank — — — — if it was a good bill. Well, what was the reply of the cashier?" asked his lawyer. "Why," evidently aggrieved the prisoner, "he said it was a pretty tolerable, respectable sort of a bill."

Mr. Lincoln thought the clergyman "a pretty tolerable, respectable sort of a clergyman."

At Close Range.

"Who is that neglected looking little boy with dirt over his face?"

"He is the child of the nearest astronomer who lives over the way."

"Oh, is he? Come here, sonny. Run home and tell your father he doesn't need his telescope if he wants to see spots on the sun."

His Trouble.

Friend—Don't worry because your sweetheart has turned you down since you lost your money. There are as good fish in the sea as ever were caught. Jilted One—Yes, but I've lost my bait.

Ripe Old Age.

Little Willie—Say, pa, what is a ripe old age? Pa—It's the age, my son, at which a man is willing to admit that he's not the only dried apple in the pantry.

The Doctor's Orders.

Mrs. O'Harrigan—They have yo start this empty flask under th' baby? Mrs. Casey—Th' doctor's orderers. He told me Ol'd have to keep th' baby on a bottle!

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two considerations must be mentioned. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.
Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane supervisory remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly constitutional acting. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, making the vessels of all nerves, all tissues, all blood stronger.

The "Night Cure", on the same implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes pain and inflame at mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, upon nervous exhaustion, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about restored strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well Dr. Shoop's Night Cure.

A Fine Old Veteran.

Gen. James Nowell Young is one of three survivors of the first Afghan war, fought nearly seventy years ago. Born on Feb. 4, 1824, the gallant veteran entered the army in 1842, and when scarcely eighteen was present with the 26th Bengal Native Infantry in many of the most important actions of that memorable campaign. With Sir George Pollock he took part in the capture of the Khyber Pass and the Jugdulluck Pass, the engagement in the Tezeen Valley, and the taking of the Huft Kohtal, an almost impregnable position on hills 7,500 feet above the sea, from which the enemy was driven from crag to crag.

Long-Lived Baronets.

Sir Charles William Strickland, whose ninetieth birthday was celebrated in the hunting field, is senior representative of a Yorkshire family whose record is probably without parallel. The present Sir William's father was a baronet for forty years, his grandfather twenty-six years, and his great-grandfather seventy-three years. For longevity the Strickland baronets are equally remarkable. Sir George (the fifth) was seventy-nine when he died, Sir William (sixth) eighty-one, Sir George (seventh) ninety-two, and the present Sir Charles (eighth) was born in 1819.

BURNS & SKIN INJURIES

Zam-Buk is used by eminent doctors in serious cases, is applied to the gravest cases of eczema and blood-poisoning, and is widely used in the Army and Navy. BUT, Zam-Buk is just as useful for cuts, burns, and bruises, sustained by the housewife in the kitchen, as for the serious wounds sustained by the soldier!

Children, too, like Zam-Buk, because it stops the smarting of a cut, or burn, or scratch, so quickly.

Zam-Buk combines the "Doctor" and the "Insurance Co." Applied to a cut, a barbed-wire scratch, or a wound filled with dirt or dye, it kills all the poison and disease germs, and "insures" you against all danger from blood-poisoning. At the same time, it stimulates the cells to rapid action, and heals the injury in quick time.

Zam-Buk cures eczema, scalp-sores, ringworm, eruptions, festering sores, blood-poisoning, open wounds, boils, abscesses, varicose ulcers, and all diseases of the skin and tissue.

All Druggists and Stores sell at 50c. box, three for $1.25, or post-free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price.

FIGHTING FOR A PEERAGE.

Famous Claim to Earldom of Berkeley Caused a Sensation.

The claim to the Berkeley barony, which has excited so much interest recently, has many points in common with the sensational claim to the Earldom of Berkeley, which set every tongue in England wagging a century and more ago.

That the fifth Earl of Berkeley had taken to wife the pretty daughter of William Cole, a Gloucester butcher, who became the mother of seven stalwart sons, was beyond all dispute; but whether the marriage took place before the birth of the eldest son, or ten years later, was a very different matter, and round this point the battle waged fiercely. Of this earlier alleged marriage the only evidence was an entry on a slip of paper attached to a page of the Berkeley marriage register. The clergyman in whose handwriting the entry was said to be was dead; so, too, was one of the witnesses, while the signature of the second witness was in an assumed name.

A marriage thus supported failed to satisfy the House of Lords, who held that it was not proven, and the earldom was awarded, not to the eldest son of the union, but to the fifth son, who was born after the later and properly-authenticated wedding; and who, to his honor be is said, refused to assume a title which he declared belonged to his eldest brother.

But all claims to peerages are not supported by even such slight evidence as a doubtful marriage-entry. When a Mr. Cooke cast covetous eyes on the Stafford barony in 1883 he did not trouble himself about such a small matter as making his claim good. Possession, he knew, was "nine points of the law," and, acting on this maxim, he installed himself in Stafford Castle during the owner's absence, and refused to budge until he was turned out "neck and crop." Such a summary proceeding, however, did not disconcert him in the least. He made a neighboring inn his headquarters, served notices on the tenants bidding them pay their rents to him as their lord, and started a carriage which flaunted the Stafford arms in the face of the world, and when at last he found himself in the clutches of the law, charged with fraud and impersonation, he had the effrontery to claim his "privilege of peerage!"

A less resolute man was the Birmingham tradesman who, some years ago, sought to wear a coronet as Earl of Stirling. He succeeded in raising £25,000 to prosecute his claim, giving as security bonds for £250,000 on the property which was seen to be his, and appeared to have the earldom within his clutch when, as ill-luck would have it, he was arrested on a charge of forgery. The claimant, however, seems to have been rather the dupe than the villain of the play, for he was acquitted.

A Begging Letter.

The following petition has recently been printed in an Indian paper:

Honored Master,—Hoping heard of your almighty mercy and loving kindness to us worms, I tell you my circumstances. By the grace of God and your lordship I have seven childrens, all babes and sucklings. Besides this abominable litter I have many male and female relations. What have I done that I should be blessed with such earned trials. As your lordship is our father and mother, I would request that you will take this worm and wife and relations both male and female and provide for us from your country at a remunerative of Rs. 20 a month. I cannot read or write, and have only a suckle qualifications and male relations and feminine. But by the grace of God and your lordship I look forwards to years of prosperity and happiness. All the Chaout of Dee rings of your praises your function and mercy, therefore call us that we may fatten on your love and gentleness, call quickly your faithful worm and beast.—Huma Lal.

"(Despicable brute and unwilling father of babes.)"

Suffocated in Church.

An extraordinary incident occurred at a Wesleyan Chapel in the village of Peak Dale, near Buxton, England, recently. The service had been in progress slightly over half an hour, and the preacher had just finished his address to the children, when a boy dropped insensible, and almost immediately afterwards two more children dropped to the floor. Adult members of the congregation rushed for water, and the place was soon in a state of commotion and strange excitement. In all about ten children and a young lady named Hadfield were prostrated, and considerable difficulty was experienced in bringing her and several of the children back to consciousness. Many other members of the congregation were seized with sickness, and were taken home. The cause of the sickness seems to have been the fumes from the furnace of the heating apparatus and the absence of ventilation.

England's Cleverest K.C.'s.

What must they be earning? is the question many people are asking about Mr. Rufus Isaacs and Sir Edward Carson, who occupy the premier positions amongst Great Britain's K.C.'s. In every important case one of these distinguished advocates is retained on one side and the other against him. Solicitors look nowhere else, in the complexities of contracts. And, curiously enough, both passed years in another sphere before joining the English Bar. Sir Edward first practised at the Irish Bar, and Mr. Isaacs commenced his career as a stockbroker.

ANTIQUES IN A HURRY

EXPERT TELLS HOW THEY ARE MADE TO ORDER.

Connoisseurs in Art Matters Who Go to Europe to Pick Up Paintings, Drawings, Autographs and Books Are Freely Counterfeited by Clever Swindlers and Sold For Big Prices to American Collectors.

Credulity and the desire to attain the unattainable account for the immense trade in spurious "antiques." Millionaires who are consumed with both these qualities are more to blame than forgers who minister to them, says Miss Helen Zimmern, who gives some interesting instances of deceived and gold-laced plutocrats in an article in The National Review, London.

The trade is not confined to American; this writer refers to recent volumes on the subject, such as Mr. Robert Munro's "fat volume" on "prehistoric fabrications," and a work by Mr. Paul Budel, who "has collected instances of every species of fraud in his book, 'La Tromperie'." A magdalen hardly imagines "that he can run a railroad, a railroad magnate that he can direct an orchestra, a brewer that he can conduct a legal case, a lawyer that he can manage a vineyard," Miss Zimmern observes. "In what art is concerned all are connoisseurs, every man is ready to pass a verdict."

"I would rather trust my own judgment about pictures than that of any expert," the author says she "heard a man say who, till he made his pile, had never lifted his head from his account-book, and whose acquaintance with art was limited to chromographs and colored advertisements of his Western wilds." The author "feels almost inclined to say" that "such a person deserves to be taken in."

The trade is "as old as the Pyramids, literally, not metaphorically," declares Miss Zimmern, and goes on to prove it.

The writer, who lives in Italy, tells us of one of the "ablest makers of Renaissance pictures" in whom lived "a Renaissance soul." "By atavism his fingers turned out pictures a la Lippi, Botticelli, Mantegna," which he sold for trifling sums to interested amateurs, little dreaming to what uses they would be put. Many of his pictures now hang as genuine in public galleries, even in Italy; and America, we are told, is "full of such pictures." In turning to a later epoch it is probably not necessary to tell that "America is crowded with Corots, Courbets, Troyons, Rousseaus, Diaz, and others of the epoch," since the Barbizon school seems particularly to have lent itself to counterfeiting."

The writer casts a glance over some other fields: "Drawings, professedly by Dutch and Italian old masters, are so common that the nicest discrimination is required. In the late eighteenth century there existed in Bologna a school of counterfeiters that turned out masterpieces on these lines, prepared with a view to the English Lord Johns doing the Grand Tour, designs that to this day fill many a portfolio in English houses or have passed into foreign hands under the auctioneer's hammer. A superior knowledge of paper grains and watermarks makes detection easier nowadays; still the prices paid are at times high enough to encourage the counterfeiter to make papers like that used in the artist's day, and further diligent search among old account-books and diaries often reveal blank pages of the date required. An extra dip of coffee, a burning of the edges to give a worn look, is all that is required, and a skilful operator then draws upon it, in the style required, silver-point or a red or black-chalk design, often one that might be a first sketch of some famous picture by the master whose dead soul he is thus wronging. The whole is then generally expensively and exquisitely mounted on cardboard in the manner beloved of collectors and goes forth on its errand of deception.

"Autograph-hunters should above all beware how they acquire signatures or letters. Of course every one does not fall in so easily as M. Michel Chasles, the celebrated geometer, whose case, brought into court, remains famous. He bought a collection of some 27,000 autographs, including letters from Jesus Christ, Cleopatra, Alexander the Great, Lazarus, Mary Magdalene, Pilate, Judas, Alcibiades, for which he paid a goodly sum. The court let the counterfeiters down gently with a small fine and two years' imprisonment, it being pleaded by his lawyer that upon M. Chasles' gullibility the greater burden of blame must rest.

"As for black-letter books, Elzevirs, Aldines, etc., they are faked by the ton. A fac-simile paper is made, the text photographed upon blocks and stereotyped, and the large red-and-black letter inserted after. Some editions princeps of the classics are distinguished by certain head and tail pieces of great charm. Their presence or absence used to date and authenticate a book. But this was in pre-scientific days. The missing pieces are now slid on to more recent and less costly editions."

Long-Lived Fish.

Fishes, especially the large species, live a very long time. According to Rocca, cods live fifty years. Carp have been known to exist at least 150 years, while dolphins, sturgeons and sharks live more than a century and attain huge size. A pike caught at Kaiserslautern, Germany, in 1497 was nineteen feet long and weighed 350 pounds. It bore in its gills a copper ring with an inscription stating that [illegible] by order of the Emperor Frederick II. —that is, 231 years before.

ALFRED COONEY.

A WONDERFUL OLD MAN.

General Booth of the Salvation Army as an Octogenarian.

At eighty years of age William Booth, commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, is one of the most picturesque and admirable figures on the world's stage to-day. He was born in Nottingham, England, April 10, 1829, and the fact that the whole world is interested in his becoming an octogenarian is evidence in itself of the great influence he has exerted on his day and generation. Although he is a doctor of canon law of the great Oxford university, he is not an ecclesiastic of a conventional type. His Oxford degree came to him when, after years of doubt and indifference and even sometimes of persecution on the part of the religious world, he had convinced practically the entire public of the value to humanity of the work of the organization he heads.

The founder of the Salvation Army entered the ministry of the Methodist New Congregation Church in 1852, but in 1862 resigned from it in order to work as an evangelist. He became greatly interested in aiding the destitute population of London, and his efforts in that field led to the organization of the Salvation Army in 1878.

General Booth's authority and influence as command-in-chief of the Salvation Army are unique in the religious field. Not even the head of the Roman Catholic Church exercises a sway so autocratic, unlimited and undisputed. The general issues mandates with an authority quite equal to anything which the Czar of all the Russias might give forth. Whatever he says in the Army goes without question or argument of any kind. He is inexorable in these ukases, as has been found out by members of his own family who expected that the general would make some allowances for their relationship.

Rappings in Coffin?

A painful impression has been created in North Staffordshire, England, by a sensational affair which occurred recently at Leigh. The funeral took place in the parish churchyard of Mr. James Blood, aged sixty-five. When the mourners had left the churchyard the sexton and one or two men who were helping him to fill in the grave were astounded when their task was half finished to hear a muffled rapping from below, apparently emanating from the coffin. As they listened in consternation the rapping was repeated five or six times. Crying, "Why, the man's alive," Edward Allcock, the sexton, flung down his spade and ran as fast as he could for a doctor, while the others present began to throw out the soil with feverish haste. A medical man quickly arrived, accompanied by the deceased man's two sons, and no time was lost in raising the coffin from the grave and carrying it back into the church, where the undertaker unscrewed the lid, and the doctor made an examination. The man was dead, and there was no evidence that the body had moved. The coffin was, accordingly screwed up again, and once more borne to the grave for reinterment, a large crowd of villagers being present. An astounding thing now occurred, for as the grave was being filled in a second time a distinct tapping was again heard. As the doctor was satisfied that death had really taken place the coffin was not raised again, and the grave was filled up.

Near to Nature.

"Country Life" mentions an interesting example of one of those men who have become nomads and returned to the habits and mode of life of almost primitive man. The old gentleman in question is an ex-soldier, and has lived in the Berkshire woods for over twenty years; he is well known in the villages round about, and can very often be seen doing odd jobs in the gardens, for which he gets some food and a little money. He always takes his perambulator, which he calls his motor, with him, full of clothing, umbrellas, etc. He washes his clothes in the woods, also has a bath, and mends all his things there. During a recent heavy snowstorm he woke up one morning and found he was covered with snow several inches deep; but he says he has never had a single day's illness in his life, and has nothing to worry him. When he goes to sleep he ties his perambulator to his leg or arm, covers himself over with clothes, and puts his large umbrella up.

Big Oil Finds.

The most important development in the small business of oil production in Australia is recorded at Roma, North Queensland, even though the assistant state geologist reported that he had been unable to find any indications of oil in that district. The drill of an oil company struck a large volume of gas, which immediately ignited. The flame from the hole burned furiously for a week, shooting 80 feet into the air with a roar and dazzling glare which caused the residents of Roma to consider evacuating the town. The day after the fire started oil began to exude in small quantities, and in a day or two the flow was considerable.

Got What They Wanted.

A curious strike recently occurred at Jajganj (India) jute mill. At the outset the men struck because a European assistant had wounded a boy with an air-gun. They demanded the dismissal of the European as a condition of resuming work. This was done, but within a week they wished the assistant to be reinstated. The management refused their demands, and a number of men went on strike again.

Nelson Document Sold.

"An officer desires to return thanks to Almighty God for his perfect recovery from a severe wound, and also for the many mercies bestowed upon him, Dec. 8, 1797. For next Sunday." The paper with these words, said to be the first written by Nelson with his left hand, sold at Sotheby's London auction rooms recently for £700, part of the Victory's sails and a piece of the canopy of Nelson's funeral barge being included in the lot.

HOW TO TELL

If the Kidneys and Liver are Not Acting Well

Thousands die every year from aggravated kidney distress that could have been saved if they only knew.

Your back may ache, you think it's tiredness or physical weakness.

You grow irritable and nervous—it's put down to loss of sleep.

Joints ache, muscles get sore, —that's all put down to bad weather.

Then digestion gets poor, appetite fades away, sallow bleaches, spirits droop.

Can't you see it's all from your over-worked kidneys, which can't keep the body clear of poisons that are now surging through the whole system.

Cure your kidneys with Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"When I was so stooped and back weary, so lame and sore with kidney and bladder trouble, I cured myself quickly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills," writes C. C. Farrier, a well known merchant in Plainsville. "Dr. Hamilton's Pills touched the spot at once, gave my back ease, lifted depression and weariness, made a new man of me. I can also say for a good spring medicine to clear and enrich the blood Dr. Hamilton's Pills have no equal."

The housewife whose aching back makes every little duty a burden, the working man who is tired all day and can't rest at night, whose back aches, and whose feet swell—these people have kidney trouble. Women whose kidneys are sick, suffer continually from blind and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, bearing down pains, sharp twinges when stooping, distressing urinary troubles, aching muscles, and joints lack of appetite, and loss of sleep, teach the same. Cure the kidneys. Use Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills, which have cured thousands. 25c at all dealers.

Plans and specifications may be seen, and full information obtained at the office of Mr. Hugh D. Leaman, Chief Engineer, Ottawa, Ont., and Mr. G. H. Tomlin, District Engineer, Winnipeg, Man.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied by the Commissioners, which may be had on application to the Chief Engineer at Ottawa, or the District Engineer at Winnipeg.

Each tender must be signed and sealed by all the parties to the tender, and witnessed, and be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank of the Dominion of Canada, payable to the order of the Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway, for a sum equal to ten per cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender.

The cheque deposited by the party whose tender is accepted will be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General of Canada, as security for the due and faithful performance of the contract according to its terms.

Cheques deposited by parties whose tenders are rejected will be returned within ten days after the signing of the contract.

The right is reserved to reject any or all tenders.

By order,
P. B. RYAN,
Secretary.

The Commissioners of the Transcontinental Railway.

OBITUARY

OLIVE IRENE JONES.

The death took place yesterday afternoon at about 1.30 o'clock, of Olive Irene Jones, the seventh seventh months' old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Jones, 207 Simcoe street. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2.30 to the Little Lake cemetery.

MERVYN DEYELL.

The news of the death of Mervyn Deyell, which occurred in Winnipeg on Saturday evening, came as a great shock to his many relatives and friends here. The deceased was the son of Mr. Robt. Deyell of Otonabee. The late Mr. Deyell left here about two years ago, going West and taking up farming near Frobisher. He spent the past winter with his parents in Otonabee, returning to the West about five weeks ago. He passed away in the Winnipeg Hospital, his death resulting from an attack of peritonitis.

He was a young man, highly esteemed by all who knew him, and his upright character and genial disposition won for him many friends. His parents, three brothers and five sisters, are left to mourn his loss. The brothers are Messrs. Rollie, at home, and Harry and Ward of Frobisher. The sisters are Misses Edie, Ethel and Mildred, at home, and Mrs. Fred Deyell, of Frobisher, and Mrs. James Chambers of Peterborough.

The remains will be brought to Peterborough for interment. It is expected that the funeral will take place on Wednesday at 2.30 o'clock from the residence of Mrs. James Chambers, 175 Aylmer street, to the Little Lake cemetery.

ice. A well known local man drove to Burleigh on Sunday, where he got a skiff and rowed across the lake to his cottage near Jupiter. He reports that everything in his locality came through the winter in good shape. The ice in Chemong Lake is still solid but it is expected that it will break up and pass out in a few days.

Blackwell and Belcher Plans are Accepted for New Public Library

A busy session of the Property Committee was held yesterday afternoon when it was decided to accept the plans of Belcher & Blackwell for the new public library, and specifications will be prepared at once. The committee also took up several other matters.

Those present were; Ald. Bradburn, chairman; Aldermen Morgan, Duncan, Hicks and McIntyre.

A letter was read from the city solicitor, regarding the authority of the council to contribute money for the purpose of a public library.

Mr. Hall wrote that the council may contribute money for providing a site for library board, or upon a petition being received from the Mechanics Institute, the council may appoint a board of management, which board will have full control of the management of the public library. The library, according to the act, must be a free library. Under these conditions the council may pass a by-law, without the assent of the ratepayers, for the purchase of a site, and to raise money to build a free public library, and may also grant from year to year a sum sufficient to maintain it, providing that sum does not exceed one-half mill.

PUBLIC LIBRARY PLANS.

The next question taken up was that of the plans for the new public library. The majority of the committee favored those of Messrs. Blackwell & Belcher, and the following resolution was passed;—

Moved by Ald. Hicks and McIntyre, that this committee recommend that Messrs. Belcher & Blackwell be asked to furnish detailed plans and specifications for a public library building and that their plan for the building be accepted, subject to the details being satisfactory to this committee and subject to the provisions that the building can be erected complete at a cost not exceeding $25,000.—Carried.

REFUSE GROUNDS.

The committee considered the matter of a refuse grounds for the city. The person who now handles that work is yearly increasing his price, and it is thought he asks too much for this year. An offer was received from Mr. Stevens to sell four acres of land for $400. The committee drove down and inspected this property. There is a strong feeling in favor of purchasing it, as if it was used for only two years the city would save its price. The matter was left however, in the hands of the chairman.

An offer was received from Mr. Anthony Taylor to pay $373 for the city lot on Aylmer street, between Lake and Romaine streets.

On motion the offer was accepted.

NEW ROOF.

A letter was read from Messrs. Maitland & Moore offering to put a five ply felt and gravel roof on the city building on the north side of Simcoe street for $147 or a four ply felt and gravel roof for $125, or to repair cost and gravel it for $56.

On motion it was decided to accept the offer to put a new four ply felt and gravel roof at the price quoted. They to give a ten-year guarantee.—Carried.

A letter was received from John Meharry, asking permission to erect a boat house at the foot of Sherbrooke street. The matter was laid over.

10 Persons for One Bed--Turnips for Food

Woodstock, April 20—Elizabeth Davis, a middle-aged woman, decidedly unattractive, was brought to the county jail last night from Richmond, and charged with bigamy. She appeared in police court this morning and was remanded.

It is claimed that Mrs. Davis was married over twenty years ago to Charles Davis, now living near Tilsonburg. Eleven years ago, it is said, she deserted Davis and married Fred Rogers, and lived with him several years. Last February she launched on her third matrimonial venture, and went through the form of marriage with Martin Cronkwright, knowing that her original and second husband were both living.

When County Constable Dobson went out to arrest the woman she was found with Cronkwright and eight young children living in the poorest of quarters. They had one bedroom, in which the ten people sleep, a small kitchen, and a pantry. There was absolutely nothing in the house in the way of provisions save a dozen or so turnips, and, according to the children, the family have been living on turnips for some time.

The Rev. Dr. Geggie's Lecture was a Decided Treat to a Large Crowd

A decided treat was afforded a large audience in St. Paul's Sunday school room last night, when Rev. Dr. Geggie of Toronto, lectured on "The Rose, Shamrock and Thistle." The room was crowded and everyone present was delighted with what they heard.

It was not an ordinary lecture, at appropriate points during the address, Mr. Haseldine of Toronto, who possesses a beautiful tenor voice, gave vocal numbers that fitted in nicely with the speaker's remarks and added greatly to the enjoyment of the audience. Mr. Haseldine sang two English, two Irish, and two Scotch songs, and at the close of the lecture rendered "The Better Land," in a most pleasing manner. The English songs were, "Good Company" and "The Death of Nelson," the Irish numbers were "The Dear Little Shamrock," and "Killarney," while the Scotch songs were "Scotland Yet," and "Mary."

Dr. Geggie was introduced to the audience by Sheriff Hall in a few appropriate remarks. Dr. Geggie is a lecturer of great ability, he has the attention of his auditors all the time. Passing from the grave to the gay, he brings smiles where tears had almost lingered. He told of the characteristics of the English, Irish and Scotchish national life and illustrated many points by anecdotes that kept the audience in laughter. A lot of good advice and interesting information was conveyed in the eloquent address which was given in a pleasing brogue that would at once distinguish the speaker as coming from north of the Tweed.

The lecture was under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's church, and the committee in charge deserve much credit for bringing Dr. Geggie and Mr. Haseldine to Peterborough.

The accompaniments for Mr. Haseldine's songs were played by Mr. Crane.

Rheumatism

Fully nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp or chronic rheumatism, neither of which require any internal treatment. All that is needed to afford relief is the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment and massaging the affected parts at each application. There is nothing disagreeable or unpleasant about this liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. Price 25 cents, large size 50 cents.

Lewiston and Youngstown Send Appeal for Help

Niagara-on-the-Lake, April 20. — About twelve o'clock the ice broke about two miles up the river at a point nearly opposite Jackson's boat house and moved for a short distance down the stream. As yet no effect has appeared in the mass resting against the Niagara Navigation Company's wharf, but if the force comes in the right direction it will drive the ice pack through the wharf and offices as a hammer would drive a nail.

AN ICE-BREAKER ORDERED.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, April 20. — Mr. B. F. Folger, general manager of the Niagara Navigation Company, accompanied by Captain McGiffin, of the steamer Cayuga, arrived in town about noon today. After viewing the ice overshadowing the dock, he instructed the local manager, Mr. James Atkins, to wire immediately to Cobourg for an ice-crusher. By breaking up the ice at the threatened end of the dock, they hope to steer the jam on to the lake and save the pier and station.

In addition to the Niagara Navigation Company's buildings, the M.C.R. station, the lighthouse, the fog signal station, the electric light and water power station, the Canadian Canning Company, the American Hotel, warehouse of George W. Miles, the Lakeview Hotel, and sixteen houses, are in danger of being flooded if the water continues to rise.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., April 20. — That the situation along the lower Niagara is considered extremely dangerous, owing to the great ice jam, is indicated by a telegram sent to the U.S. Fire Department.

Rancher Had Terrible Record--Killed 13 Men --Miller was Lynched

Guthrie, Okla., April 20.—Governor Haskell declares that those implicated in the lynching of four men at Ada yesterday will be punished to the full extent of the law if identified. An official investigation, it was announced, will be made.

Adjutant-General Canton says that to his personal knowledge, J. B. Miller, one of the men lynched, had killed thirteen men in Texas, and that he had always escaped punishment.

Bobbitt had been in fear of assassination for years, and one of the provisions of his will sets aside one thousand dollars to prosecute his assassin should he meet death at their hands.

HANGED IN A BARN.

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 20.—Four men—Jesse West, Joe Allen, E. E. Brown and J. B. Miller —were taken from jail at Ada yesterday and hanged in a barn across the street from the jail. Their bodies were discovered just after daylight. The guard at the jail was overpowered and the hanging was done so quietly that nothing was known of it until after daylight.

These men were being held in connection with the death of A. A. Bobbitt, who was murdered on the 17th of last February. Bobbit was formerly a United States marshal, and it is known incurred the hatred of Miller and others. Allen and Brown are said to have been prominent cattlemen of Canadian, Texas, and were wealthy.

At the preliminary hearings on Saturday, a nephew of Miller, held as a witness, it is understood, turned State's evidence and told how Miller had committed the crime, shooting Bobbit from ambush as the latter was riding in a wagon. Miller fled and went to Texas, where only two weeks ago he was arrested.

DISREGARDED THE OFFICERS.

The four men were held in the Pontotoc county jail. The mob formed about two o'clock in the morning and went to the jail south of Ada. At the jail the mob was met by officers who endeavored to prevented the lynching. The mob assaulted a deputy sheriff and then, failing to find the keys, broke open the jail, led the men to a barn back of the jail, and hung them to the rafters.

County Attorney Robert Wimbish stopped the crowd and appealed to them. He said; "Men of Ada, you are disgracing this community in the eyes of the world. Think this matter over calmly and let the law take its course. I appeal to you as an officer of the law, to return to your homes."

The mob without a word proceeded on its way. The attorney attempted again to talk to them.

"There is no time for speeches," said the leader, and the march continued.

After breaking into the jail and knocking Guard McCarthy senseless, the mob led the four men to a barn, a few hundred feet away, and stood them in a straight line.

"Tell us what you devils know about Bobbitt's murder," shouted the leader.

CATTLE MAN'S DEFIANCE.

West answered for the four, saying; "We don't know who you men are, and we don't care. For myself I know if I had a six-shooter, a few of you would bite the dust, but that's talk as long as my shooting iron is in Texas. You boys appear to have a job to do, Why don't you do it? We won't tell anything, and you——"

"The ropes!" the leader broke in, and the four prisoners were carried to a beam and strung up in a row.

Just before the rope was placed about his neck, Miller calmly removed a diamond from his shirt front, and requested that it be sent to his wife in Fort Worth. From his necktie he drew out a diamond scarf pin with the request that it be given to Guard McCarthy for his kindness to him.

As soon as the men were dead the mob disappeared. At daylight the bodies of the lynched men were cut down.

THE JURY'S VERDICT.

A coroner's jury returned the following verdict;

"We find that Jim Miller, B. B. Burrell, Joe Allen and Jesse West met their death by being hung by a rope, and that the death of each was caused by strangulation, produced by the ropes placed about their necks by parties whose names to the jury are unknown."

Ada is a town of 4,000 inhabitants, and is the county seat of Pontotoc County.

Seeding Over in Parts of Alberta

Winnipeg, April 20 — Telegraphic reports received from many important points throughout the three Prairie Provinces indicate that seeding is now well under way throughout the West, and while it is much further advanced in some districts than others, will be general before the end of the week, provided the fine weather continues. In some parts of Alberta seeding operations are just about completed, while in other sections of the country they have been delayed by the cool weather of last week. A feature of many of the reports is that they state that, owing to the fine weather last fall, the farmers got a great deal of plowing done. This means that when they get on the land the work will proceed with great rapidity. will proceed with great rapidity.

Intermediate City Ball League was Organized

A good meeting of the Intermediate City Baseball League, was held last night in the Y.M.C.A. parlors when five teams were represented as follows;—West Ends, Lakeviews, T.A.S., East City, and Lillies. A lot of discussion of a general nature was indulged in, and the prospects for the season are very bright. All Midland League players are barred from the Intermediate City League.

The following officers were elected;—

President—Jas. Laing.
Vice-Pres.—J. Tatterson.
Sec.-Treas.—J. D. Clark.

The Executive Committee is composed of the officers.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, April 27th.

Must be Good in the City's Parks

The Nicholls Oval and Jackson Park will be well looked after this year. Mr. Jas. Rose will be in charge of Jackson Park and Mr. Wm. Kitney will look after the Nicholls Oval. Both of these gentlemen will wear uniforms and will be sworn in as special constables and be given full power to act in cases which come before them in the discharge of their duty. Mr. Rose will occupy the house that has been built at Jackson Park, and Mr. Kitney will reside in the one situated near the Oval, which has been recently renovated. Much annoyance and damage is caused by those who go on the Oval in the spring before the ground is properly dry, and any who try it this year will get into trouble.

The appointment of these gentlemen as constables will have much to do with stopping a lot of rowdyism which takes place at these parks, much to the annoyance of those who wish to enjoy an afternoon or evening's outing.

Uniforms for the two park custodians have been ordered

The West Peterboro' Election Protest

Today a motion will be made before the Elections Court in Osgoode Hall in the City of Toronto, by counsel for the petitioner, Mr. J. H. Burnham, for an order to examine for discovery Mr. J. R. Stratton the respondent, and for a decree setting the date of trial if deemed advisable while parliament is sitting and for an order extending the time beyond May 21st, being the date at which the six months' within which the statute requires that the protest shall be tried expires, in case the day and time of trial should extend beyond that date.

Over 5,000 Persons Lost Their Lives in Massacres in Vilayet of Adana

Young Turks Seize All the Forts Surrounding Constantinople from the Sea of Marmora to the Black Sea

Berlin, April 20.—A despatch to the Lokal Anzeiger, from Constantinople, says that it is rumored Mohammed-Rashad Effendi, the heir apparent to the throne, has been acclaimed sultan at Salonika. The Lokal Anzeiger's Salonika correspondent says that it is intended to establish the provisional seat of government at that place.

Constantinople, April 20.—All the forts surrounding Constantinople from the Sea of Marmora to the Black Sea are now occupied by the constitutional troops, and the soldiers supporting the Young Turks are advancing upon the capital. No definite information as to when they will enter Constantinople can be obtained.

Constantinople, April 20.—No less than 5,000 persons lost their lives in the massacres that have been going on in the Vilayet of Adana for the last eight days, as the result of the outbreak of Moslem fanaticism. Of this total 2,000 were killed in the city of Adana, and more than 2,000 were Moslems. This information was received in Constantinople this morning through consular channels.

If the Country Knew the Condition of the Navy there Would be a Panic

London, April 20—"If the country knew the real truth regarding the present condition of the navy there would be a panic," is a striking sentence in a letter from Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, read at a meeting of the Navy League held at Bournemouth last night. To this Lord Charles added: "I wish you every luck in trying to arouse the people to the grave danger arising from our unpreparedness for war."

Deputy Registrar Dugit Committed Suicide

Woodstock, April 20.—While temporarily insane Peter J. E. Dugit, deputy registrar for Oxford county, committed suicide in his office this morning by stabbing himself through the heart with a surgeon's knife about six inches long.

It is believed that he went to the registry office with the intention of taking his life, about 8.30. He hung up his overcoat, his under coat, and vest, and then, apparently while standing, stabbed himself through the heart and fell forward on his face dead.

He had been subject to what is termed periodic insanity, at times the mania taking a melancholy, and at others a very cheerful turn, and there is no doubt that he was mentally unbalanced when the deed was done. He was found dead about ten o'clock by one of the registry clerks.

Mr. Dugit had been deputy registrar for upwards of twenty-five years. He was a well-known citizen and highly respected, and his tragic death has cast a gloom over the community. He was a prominent member of St. Paul's Anglican church.

Mr. Dugit was 51 years of age, and leaves his wife and five sons and daughters, Louis of Molsons Bank, Toronto; Miss Rosalie, teacher in Sarnia High school, and Dora, Harry and Arthur, at home. He was born in Liverpool, and had been in Canada thirty years. Temporary aberration of intelligence was the cause.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription— Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

Deputations Heard by Committee of Whole

A short session of the Committee of the Whole Council was held last night, when several deputations were heard. It was the intention to take up another matter of business of great importance to the city, but owing to the absence of interested parties the publication of the same is withheld for a few days.

Mr. Andy Webb was present and addressed the committee in reference to the ditch in front of his place on Sherbrooke street. During the past few years there have been changes made in the drain and now there is no necessity for the drain. He asked that the council have the drain filled in. There is a stretch of about 300 feet and will require about 250 yards of earth. He asked that the street scrapings be drawn there and make a good job of it. It would be a great improvement to all the property along there.

Ald. Bradburn moved that the matter be referred to the city engineer to report on it to the mayor and chairman of the Board of Works, and that they have authority to act. Ald. Butler seconded the motion and it carried.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Messrs. Harry Neal and Frank Wise on behalf of the Horticultural Society, asked the council to assist them in fixing up the upper part of Victoria Park, by giving them street scrapings. It is the intention to start right away to level up and terrace the hill. The society propose to close up only one half of the hill this year and fix it up and then next year fix up the other half. They propose to put the waterworks all through the upper part of the park, and also to put in a sewer from the fountain.

Ald. Butler moved that the society be given some of the road scrapings, say 100 loads. This was seconded by Ald. Morrow and carried.

THE GUN CLUB.

Representatives of the Gun Club were present and asked the committee if the Gun Club had permission to shoot at the Athletic grounds on Thursday afternoon.

The city solicitor stated that the council would be liable for any accident which occurred by the discharge of fire arms. The only thing that could be done was to amend the by-laws.

On motion the Gun Club will not be allowed to shoot there.

The Best Plaster

A piece of flannel with tapes attached for holding it in position, slightly dampened with Chamberlain's Liniment and bound on over the seat of pain is superior to any plaster.

Mr. Andrew Hogg of North Monaghan and Mr. Wm. Matchett of Otonabee were in Ottawa yesterday.

Did Not Locate Col. Warburton and Miss Elliott

Hamilton, April 20.—The Kinrade murder inquest this week will not furnish the sensation hinted at by some people, as the prominent man who it was thought might introduce the most remarkable features yet produced will not be called. Two Pinkerton detectives employed by the attorney general interviewed this man for three hours. At the end they concluded that he knew nothing whatever.

The Pinkerton officers admit that although they ran down every possible clue and covered a big area of territory they had been unable to find any trace of Col. Warburton or his wife, Marion Elliott.

The inquest will begin on Thursday night at eight o'clock, and, according to present arrangements, will adjourn about two o'clock until Monday night.

Catarrhozone

The only cure for Catarrh Endorsed by the Medical Profession.

Physicians boldly state that every requirement of a perfect cure for Catarrh disease is fulfilled in Catarrhozone, and on this account it is prescribed by almost every intelligent doctor.

It is the most powerful antiseptic known. When the lungs are filled with its germ-killing vapor the microbes which cause and maintain the unhealthy condition of the mucous membrane die immediately. Disease germs cannot exist where Catarrhozone is used.

Although very penetrating, Catarrhozone is a soothing and healing treatment. It quickly heals the raw spots and allays irritation and congestion of the mucous membrane.

When using Catarrhozone you don't have to wait all day for relief; it comes with every breath taken through the inhaler. Head and throat are cleared and cleansed almost at once. Droppings in the throat, headache, coughing, and sneezing, and all other disagreeable symptoms of catarrh are banished by a few days use of this superior remedy.

Catarrhal diseases of every description yield without much difficulty to Catarrhozone. When used for Bronchitis, Lung Trouble and Colds, it affords not only instant relief, but cures in a very short time.

Croup, Whooping Cough and Winter Flu simply won't live any time if Catarrhozone is inhaled four times daily, and as a safeguard for Pneumonia and Consumption it has no equal.

Better get a Catarrhozone inhaler; use it sometimes a day, and you won't have a cough or cold in the head or catarrh. These afflictions can be prevented by Catarrhozone as well as cured. Complete outfit, full two months' treatment, costs $1. Small size, 25 cents. Sold by all druggists and N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

GET ON THE RIGHT SIDE

When wheat moves upward, there are anxious inquiries as to whether flour and bread will follow wheat in its flight. Only an expert can follow the temporary fluctuations, but it is plain that all the general tendency of the cost of all foods on this continent is upward. Ringsters, monopolists, grabbers, protective tariffs may hasten the pressure, but beneath all these lies the grand cause, that land is limited, and that population is rapidly increasing. It has been frequently said that the United States will soon cease to export wheat, because the home consumption is overtaking the production. The urban population of the United States is increasing much faster than the population living upon farms.

Canada is in a much earlier stage of development, has a population not one-twelfth as large as that of the United States, and a much larger area of unoccupied land. The difference is shown by the growing American demand for Canadian wheat, and by the demand of American farmers for farms in the Canadian West. But the tendency in Canada is the same—upward. The export markets keep our prices high as the home market keeps up prices in the United States.

Therefore, the man who wants to benefit and not to suffer by the upward tendency, should get into the business of raising food for himself and others. In this way, he will be not only benefitting himself but improve the character of our civilization by checking the growth of great cities. Cities serve a useful purpose when kept within bounds, but hosts of ill-fed and ill-sheltered people are a menace to civilization. Body and soul are stunted by smart food, smart sunshine, smart space for play and foul air. The fibre of manhood and womanhood is weakened, and the strength of the nation is impaired.

Harm is done to a good cause by exaggerated statements of fortunes to be made by growing mushrooms and mushrooms, squabs and broilers. Experience and hard work are necessary to make a living in the country, though the life is not so strenuous as in the city. But there are rational and moderate ways of preventing the undue growth of cities. Many a farmer's boy can be shown that in order to gratify his laudable ambition, it is not necessary to throw away his experience and rush into town. Farm life can be made more attractive by such methods as are indicated by the Roosevelt commission. "Back to the land," is a good motto. "Stick to the land" is perhaps even better. Agricultural colleges do good, not only by increasing the profits of farming, but by exhibiting farming in its true light, as one of the noblest of callings, capable of employing the mental faculties fully as well as practising law or selling shoes.

"Back to the land" is a watchword to be used with moderation. The city-bred man may only meet with disappointment if he tries to run a farm. But the mechanic who moves a little distance out of the city, and does out his wages by growing part of the food for his family, and perhaps a little surplus for sale, is helping himself and family to achieve health and independence. For those who are ready for a bolder leap, the taking up of a homestead in the West offers good prospects. The main thing is to get into the business of producing food. Then the reports of rising prices for wheat, milk, and meat will bring hope instead of anxiety.

SIR MARTIN IN ENGLAND

Hon. Joseph Martin had scarcely landed in England when he was announced as the Liberal candidate for Stratford-on-Avon, a riding in which his party is supposed to be strong enough to spin handily. It looks, in fact, as if Mr. Martin had been presented with a safe seat. No doubt the English Liberals see considerable value in him, as ex-premier of a Province of Canada, entering British politics as a supporter of free trade and an opponent of the tariff reformers. He has, moreover, a value of his own as a turbulent campaigner, whose wounds are in his front.

It is quite a stroke of policy on the part of the English Liberals to produce Mr. Martin on the fighting line. Almost on the day that his candidature was announced Mr. Balfour made a speech, in which he referred to New Zealand's proposed gift of a battleship. He urged the giving of a tariff preference in return. "You are going," he said to the people of England, "to accept from New Zealand a gift which in a year will amount to more per head of the population of New Zealand than our whole taxation in a year amounts to per head of the inhabitants of the British islands, and you are going to refuse to New Zealand that which Australia, the Cape, Canada, the whole constellation of minor States, have asked steadily, persistently, patiently, year after You cannot manage an Empire on these lines."

It is at this point that Mr. Asquith's party puts forward the ex-premier of British Columbia, who tells the British people he is there to support free trade, and resist the introduction of protection; that he is opposed to the granting of a preference to the colonies; that he wants to see the land free to the people's use, and the House of Lords abolished.

The British elector must be somewhat perplexed by the conflicting statements made to him as to what his duty is, and what the colonies want.

Twenty Guests Missing

San Francisco, April 16.—Three hundred guests of the St. George Hotel, in Howard street, between Eighth and Ninth streets, were thrown in a panic by a fire which completely destroyed the building, a three-storey frame structure, shortly after three o'clock this morning. While it is not known that any lives were lost, it is reported by the clerk that at least twenty of the guests still cannot be accounted for.

Six men were severely burned, one probably fatally, and many received minor injuries by leaping from the upper storeys or by being trampled in the rush for escape. The seriously injured were hurried to the Central Emergency Hospital for treatment, and the others, few of whom saved their clothing, were housed in near-by lodgings.

Corporal Fontana and Policeman Kruger discovered the fire, and dragged many of the guests from their beds. Those were scenes of narrow escapes. The building burned rapidly, and within an hour was a ruin.

The Tallest Bishop.

Dr. Talbot, the Bishop of Southwark, who recently celebrated his sixty-fifth birthday, is still in full vigor, despite an Alpine accident by which he was long crippled. Dr. Talbot is said to be the tallest occupant of the English Episcopal Bench, being well over six feet in height. He is also perhaps the most democratic of High Churchmen. He is always accessible to householders of his flock, and patronizes the penny bus far more frequently than he does the more expensive cab. Many good stories are told of Dr. Talbot. Once he played in a Worcestershire cricket match, and a local curate bowled him a wide. "That's outside my parish," shouted the bishop. The next ball caught him full in the episcopal apron. The reverend bowler apologized, but added, slyly, "That, at any rate, was well in the diocese, my lord!"

Aborigines of Australia.

There are now 75,000 of the aboriginal population in Australia. Of this number there are about 20,000 in the colony of Queensland. Queensland has an elaborate system for looking after the welfare of the blacks by means of "protectors" stationed all over the colony to see that the natives are fed and clothed and shielded from ill-treatment of white people. Many of the natives are over six feet in height. Like most savages, they are polygamists, but they pay and expect fidelity. The natives under civilization learn readily the habit of economy and saving. They have made good progress in both reading and writing, but missionary reports state that teaching them arithmetic is hopeless.

An Historic Custom.

The forthcoming marriage of Lord Douro, son and heir of the Duke of Wellington, to Miss Coats, reminds one of the fact that at Apsley House, where the bride-elect will one day reign as Duchess of Wellington, the old custom is still kept up of presenting a flag to the sovereign on each anniversary of the battle of Waterloo. These flags are subsequently given to the regiment of Guards quartered at Windsor.

The Winter Port Coal Mines

In Queens county, New Brunswick, have been in operation on a profitable basis for about five years.

The opportunity to enlarge the business, increase the output and make very largely increased profits, comes with the opening of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway passing the coal fields.

The mines are situated at the best distributing centre in the Province of New Brunswick. It is estimated that on a very moderate output, which can be obtained as quickly as arrangements can be made to take care of the men on the ground, that the business should pay

PROFITS FROM 15 TO 50 PER CENT. ON CAPITAL INVESTED

The management of the business is in the hands of people whom have had experience with the local conditions and understand the mining of the coal cheaply and the selling of it at the most profitable rates. A Fine Old Veteran.

Gen. James Nowell Young is one of three survivors of the first Afghan war, tought nearly seventy years ago. Born on Feb. 4, 1821, the gallant veteran entered the Army in 1839, and when scarcely eighteen years, present with the 35th Bengal Native Infantry in many of the most important operations of that memorable campaign. With Sir George Pollock he took part in the capture of the Khyber Pass and the Jugdullack Pass, the engagement in the Tezeen Valley, and the taking of the Huft Kohtal, an almost impregnable position on hills 7,500 feet above the sea, from which the enemy was driven from crag to crag.

Long-Lived Baronets.

Sir Charles William Strickland, whose ninetieth birthday was celebrated in the hunting field, is senior representative of a Yorkshire family whose record is probably without parallel. The present Sir William's father was a baronet for forty years, his grandfather twenty-six years, and his great-grandfather seventy-three years. For longevity the Strickland baronets are equally remarkable. Sir George (the fifth) was seventy-nine when he died, Sir William (sixth) eighty-one, Sir George (seventh) ninety-two, and the present Sir Charles (eighth) was born in 1839.

DOING TRICKS.

Where the Conjurer Learns the Subtle Art of His Trade.

Where does the conjurer learn his work, and who invents his tricks for him?

The first question is easy; the second difficult. The conjurer learns from books and from papers produced specially for conjurers. There are three conjurers' papers published in America, and three in England, and it is generally understood that English conjurers are always hungry for the American papers and the American conjurers for the English. As to the books on conjuring, they are produced by the score, but the majority of them are never heard of by anyone but conjurers.

But the conjurer who always performs old tricks, just as they are described in books, will never acquire a very great reputation from his rivals. It is generally conceded, however, that there are certain tricks—some card tricks and a few others—which will never become old-fashioned; but with some of these exceptions the Christmas conjurer's program must be new each year, and, if possible, his own.

A conjurer who sits down to think out a new trick has several courses open to him. He can take an old trick, and improve it in such a way that it is comparatively a new trick; or he may try and invent a trick to be performed with articles that have never been used in a trick before; or he may employ articles that are the stock-in-trade of every conjurer, and use them in a different way. It is often more difficult to improve an old trick than to think of a new one.

The finest tricks of all are those in which new objects are used, and in which the secrets are new also. The number of such tricks is comparatively small, and in most cases the inventor receives no thanks and no recompense for his trouble. He satisfies his conjurer's conscience when he produces new tricks, but he knows that conjurers cannot deceive conjurers, and that in all probability his ideas will be copied.

Many of the oldest tricks are still very popular. The oldest book on conjuring in existence, published in 1584, contains descriptions of some of the tricks performed this season; but, naturally, the methods of modern conjurers are far more ingenious than those of their ancestors.

Would Abolish Ugly Trousers.

"It has long been admitted by artists that trousers are excessively ugly," says a New Yorker who heads a movement against the wearing of this distinctively male garment. "Many attempts have been made to introduce other garments to take their place, but the conservatism of the male sex has opposed all changes so far as city wear is concerned. Trousers stand condemned on many grounds. From a health point of view they are bad, because they harbor the dirt, and in wet weather are worse than trailing skirts. From an artistic point of view trousers have been compared with elephants' legs, and to get this result we have sacrificed the shapely beauty of the lower limbs, which was such an attraction to the fair sex in the Elizabethan age. Men do not wear trousers when they golf, ride, shoot, fish, or take any exercise in the field. From a utilitarian standpoint, therefore, trousers have to be abandoned. This was proved in the case of soldiers in the Boer war. Men who wore kilts or knickerbockers and puttees were able to march long distances with a minimum of fatigue. They could not have accomplished what they did had their lower limbs been encased in trousers. Trousers were introduced by the French after the revolution, with a view to sweeping away all privileges and demonstrating the equality of man. It would have been far better if they had made knee breeches universal as a distinguishing garment."

Basutos In Review.

Lord Selborne recently held a review of 20,000 Basuto horsemen at Masera, Basutoland, South Africa. The scene was striking in the extreme. Addressing a pitso subsequently Lord Selborne said that Basutoland ultimately could not remain outside the Union. The Basutos would not feel the change of administration, the principal object of which would be to secure the country for the Basutos, maintain the National Coundrink curse. His excellency said that oil, and take precautions against the drink curse. His excellency said that he was confident that the Union Government would realise its responsibilities toward whites and blacks, and would rule the natives wisely and sympathetically. He believed that wars between whites and blacks were things of the past. Letsie, the paramount chief, will confer with the chiefs and people on the subject of entering the Union.

An Impossible Combination.

They were talking of the strange sights to be seen in a great city, and one man paid his tribute to New York. "I don't believe one of you could think of any combination of circumstances that hasn't at some time occurred on the streets there," he said.

"I reckon I know of one that's never occurred there," said Hiram Fowle.

"What's that?" asked the other.

"I guess," said Hiram slowly, "that you've never seen nor ever will see a brass band going in one direction an' the hull of the folks going the other."

An Irreconcilable.

From Johannesburg comes a report of an extraordinary speech made by Dr. Krause at a meeting at Newtown, which he began with the statement that he was "born a Republican" and was "a Republican at heart still." He ended by declaring that the native vote of the Cape was an inheritance from the British Government and Exeter Hall, with which the constitution gives South Africa power to deal. He added: "And when once we can diddle the British Government to give us that power—by jove, we will use it!"

WANTED THEM SAVED.

Lincoln Stuck to His Selection of a Hospital Chaplain.

The nomination of a Mr. Shrigley of Philadelphia, a Universalist, for the position of chaplain for the hospital was not met with favor on all sides, and a delegation of protestants went to Washington to see President Lincoln on the subject. The following interview was the result:

"We have called, Mr. President, to confer with you regarding the appointment of Mr. Shrigley of Philadelphia as hospital chaplain."

"Oh, yes," replied the president. "I have sent his name to the senate, and he will no doubt be confirmed at an early date."

One of the young men replied, "We have not come to ask for the appointment, but to solicit you to withdraw the nomination."

"Ah," said Lincoln, "that alters the case. But on what grounds do you wish the nomination withdrawn?"

The answer was, "Mr. Shrigley is not sound in his theological opinions."

The president inquired, "On what questions is the gentleman unsound?"

"He does not believe in endless punishment. Not only so, sir, but he believes that even the rebels themselves will be finally saved," was the reply.

"Is that so?" inquired the president.

The members of the committee responded, "Yes, sir."

"Well, gentlemen, if that is so and there is any way under heaven whereby the rebels can be saved, then, for God's sake and their sakes, let the man be appointed."

Mr. Shrigley was appointed and served until the end of the war.

THE GREAT BOMBARDMENT.

A Constant Rain of Missiles Upon the World's Atmosphere.

The regions of space beyond our planet are filled with flying fragments. Some meet the earth in its onward rush; others, having attained inconceivable velocity, overtake and crash into the whirling sphere with loud detonation and ominous glare, finding destruction in its molecular armor or perhaps ricochetting from it again into the unknown. Some come singly, vagrant fragments from the infinity of space; others fall in showers, like golden rain, all constituting a bombardment appalling in its magnitude.

It has been estimated that every twenty-four hours the earth or its atmosphere is struck by 400,000,000 missiles of iron or stone, ranging from an ounce up to tons in weight. Every month there rush upon the flying globe at least 12,000,000,000 iron and stone fragments, which, with lurid accompaniment, crash into the circumambient atmosphere.

Owing to the resistance offered by the air few of these solid shots strike the earth. They move out of space with a possible velocity of thirty or forty miles per second and, like moths, plunge into the revolving globe, lured to their destruction by its fatal attraction. The moment they enter our atmosphere they ignite, and the air is piled up and compressed ahead of them with inconceivable force, the resultant friction producing an immediate rise in temperature, and the shooting star, the meteor of popular parlance, is the result.

A Subtle Hint.

A representative in congress, who is the father of several bright girls, tells a story whereof one daughter is the main figure.

"For a long time," says the representative, "I had the bad habit of hanging about the lower door when the girls had men callers. One evening I had settled in an easy chair in the reception room just off the drawing room when one of my girls, who was talking to a bright chap from our own state, called out:

"'Dad!'

"'What is it, daughter?'

"'It's 9 o'clock, the hour when Tom and I usually go into committee.'"

When an Ostrich Kicks.

"The only safe place in the neighborhood of a kicking ostrich is just behind it," said a zoo keeper. "An ostrich can kick a mule to death, but its kicks are delivered at an angle of 45 degrees. Within these 45 degrees, right abaft the 'pope's nose' of the bird, there is absolute safety. On the ostrich farms of California, when the herds are being driven, you will always see the ostrich boys holding on to the tails of bad kickers. The kickers tear along, and their scaly legs shoot out like piston rods, but the boys in the shelter of the pope's nose are safe."

Condemnation.

"What do you think of members of European aristocracy as sons-in-law?" asked the old time friend.

"Well," answered Mr. Cameron, "the way their relatives boss them around indicates that they ought to make easy husbands."

The Idiotic Affair.

Irate Parent—Am I to understand there is some idiotic affair between you and that impecunious young son, Lord Bilaria? Fair Daughter (very sweetly)—Only you, papa!

For Good.

It never seems to occur to persons who are getting married that they ought to take each other for good as well as for better or worse.

FORTUNES FOR AUTHORS.

Some of the Fancy Prices Received For Literary Work.

Dr. Sven Hedin is said to have asked for $60,000 as the price of his next book, a really quite modest demand compared with the prices accredited to such favorites in fiction as Miss Corelli and Mr. Hall Caine, says T. P.'s Weekly. The heirs of the late Edward Noyes Westcott received no less than $25,000 as the extraordinary reward for his writing of "David Harum." But history as well as fiction has proved not a little profitable.

A portion of Macaulay's "History," for example, was crowned with a check for $150,000. The great Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" was remunerated by $60,000, a sum which compensated more than one novel of Sir Walter Scott. But a correspondent of The Westminster reminds us that for his posthumous "Memoirs" Chateaubriand received not only $60,000 in cash, but an annuity of $2,400 for himself and his wife as well. The author of "Rene" lived on for twelve years, so that he received for the book rights of his posthumous work $72,000. In addition to this the serial rights brought in $15,000, making a grand total of $94,000 received in his lifetime. In inequality of rewards, however, is often quite as striking as the amounts. Tennyson's works were reaping royalties of $25,000 a year, while Browning received less than $1,000. Messrs. Smith, Elder & Co. would print seven hundred and fifty copies of a new poem by Browning, and would sell only half of these during the first year. The shilling selection from the poems did much to bring a public to this great poet.

When Ruskin had gone through his father's large fortune Mr. Smith offered him the sum of $10,000 for his copyrights. The offer was refused, and Ruskin, through the medium of Mr. George Allen, became his own publisher, and was soon in receipt of more than $25,000 a year from the sale of new editions of his works. The poverty of literary men is too often a mechanical cry like the stereotyped line, "He died in poverty and left his family in distress," whilst William Jordan of The Literary Gazette was so fond of introducing into his numerous biographies.

"Trilby" and "Sherlock Holmes" are also among the landmarks of this age of authorship which is so literally golden.

The "'Omely" Bishop.

Since he became Dean of Manchester — in 1906 — Bishop Welldon has been winning that same measure of popularity amongst the kindly, hard-headed people of Cottonopolis as he did amongst the exuberant Harrow boys whom he governed for "thirteen of the happiest years of my life." To a certain extent his popularity is to be found in his unconventional ways. For instance, he thinks that there is nothing like a ride in a tramcar to get into touch with people, and illustrates the truth of this statement by the following anecdote. He happened to be traveling in one of the Manchester tramcars one day, and fell into conversation with a gentleman. The latter evidently enjoyed the exchange of conversation, for at the close of it, as he reached the door to disembark, this particular stranger turned round to the dean and in loud tones exclaimed, much to the enjoyment of the other occupants, "Sir, I think you're 'omely." "That's what I am," adds the dean, "I'm 'omely."

Barony Extinct.

By the death, just announced, of the 20th Baron Howth without issue, the title becomes extinct. The late lord had obtained the ripe age of 88 years, and had never married. He was not at all fond of society, and lived a very secluded life, with the exception of a few years in the sixties, when he was State Steward to the Earls of Carlisle and Kimberley respectively during their vice-royalty of Ireland. Facing the hall-door of Howth Castle is a most peculiar-looking old tree, which would certainly have fallen to pieces many years ago but for the aid of many props and iron hoops, which gave it the appearance of being in a cage. The story goes that it has been prophesied that when this tree went the family would become extinct. There is no question about it that the tree is practically gone, and has been so for many years. For the last twenty years the late lord had been a great invalid, and spent all of his time either at Pau or Bournemouth.

To Settle Feud.

According to advices from Auckland (N.Z.), Colonel W. E. Gudgeon, resident Commissioner at Rarotonga, is proceeding to the disturbed Cook Islands on board the cruiser Cambrian, with full powers to deal with the difficulties that have arisen in Manahiki and Rakahanga, which are stated to be due to local jealousy. The natives of Rakahanga hauled down the British flag on July 1 last, and after ejecting the inland council appointed their own Government, judges and police. The ringleaders of the movement was a dismissed teacher of the London Missionary Society.

Wanted No Saxon.

A strange incident occurred at Gorey, Wexford, Ireland, recently, on the arrival of the Lord Abbot of the Order of St. Benedict, in connection with the removal of Father Sweetman, the local superintendent, and the installation of Father Coughlin, an Irishman, in his place. Hundreds of excited people met the train, and to the abbot's consternation declared that they would have no Englishmen, and that there would be trouble if he was brought. Eventually the abbot consented to stay the removal for the present, and the crowd departed cheering.

Says This Medicine Has Mystic Powers

It's in the spring that health gives out—that folks begin to feel draggy, weary, restless,—lose to eat, look pale, feel discouraged.

If you've reached this state read what J. W. Jervell, well known in Morristown, has to say about the medicine that cured him. "Last winter I caught a heavy cold that settled in my back. My kidneys and liver were affected and my health failed. By spring I was in bad shape—couldn't sleep like I used to—felt tired in the morning—ate very little—was terribly depressed, late and anxious looking. Twinges of rheumatism, frequent neuralgia attacks over the temples, made matters worse. The doctor prescribed three times, but didn't help. Then I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills—They possess mystic powers surely, for I gained and improved day by day and now am in perfect health again. I will praise and use Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I die."

The ingredients in Dr. Hamilton's Pills are pure and wholesome—come right from the storehouse of Nature to the form of vegetable juices and extracts,—consequently this gentle invigorating laxative tonic and blood purifier is safe for old and young alike. We assure you of enormous benefit from Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which revitalize delicate glands, search out the seat of hidden disease, flood the body with vigor and health that has caused thousands of broken-down, despairing men and women to join in a mighty song of praise for the beneficient aid that comes from this king of all tonics. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills today. 25c. at all dealers.

The Normal school reopened yesterday with an attendance of 125 students. There were 152 on the roll before Easter, but about 25 have gone to Guelph to take the agricultural course at the Ontario Agricultural College.

Seized a Net in Meade's Creek

One of the local fishery guardians secured the first net of the season Sunday night while making a trip of inspection along the river. He decided to investigate Meade's creek, just below the Grand Trunk bridge, above the locks, and in doing so came across a net that had been placed there by some one anxious to bag a few muscalonge or bass. The inspector of of course annexed the net.

Lame Back

This is one of the most common forms of muscular rheumatism. It attacks the muscles in the small of the back. It often comes on suddenly and is so severe that the body can be moved only with great pain. Keep as quiet as possible, as every movement of the body aggravates the disease. Massage the affected parts with Chamberlain's Liniment three times a day until the pain, soreness and stiffness have entirely disappeared. It is prompt and effectual.

WEDDING BELLS

McMARTIN—LEARY.

At St. Peter's cathedral yesterday morning Rev. Father McColl united in marriage Miss Mary Leahy, laughter of Mr. Wm. Leahy, of Peterborough, to Mr. Michael McMartin of Peterborough, son of Mr. Patrick McMartin of Otonabee. The bride was attended by Miss Winnie O'Brien of Peterborough, and the groomsman was Mr. Wm. Faux of Hastings.

Mr. and Mrs. McMartin, who leave the best wishes of a host of friends, will reside in Peterborough.

Too Many Private Telephone Lines

South Monaghan farmers are complaining that there are too many separately owned telephone lines in that township.

There are two or three lines controlled by different parties and as a result the telephone business there is in a somewhat complicated condition. When you get on any other line but the one you are a subscriber to, you have to pay the rate of toll for outsiders, and sometimes it comes high. A gentleman who resides in South Monaghan near Hale's bridge, stated that it costs him twenty cents to telephone to his neighbor who lives about a stone throw away. The neighbor is on a different telephone line, hence the charge. Conditions similar to the incident related exist in several parts of the township. It is felt that something should be done towards the consolidation of the telephone lines.

Mr. Hamill will be greatly missed in more than one circle in the city and he takes with them their best wishes for his success in the West.

Vicar's Curious Bequests.

Some bequests of an unusual nature were made by the late Rev. Arthur G. Girdlestone, vicar of All Saints', Brixton Hill, London, Eng., who left estate of the gross value of over $70,000. He bequeathed $50 each to the organist, verger, blower, and pew-opener of All Saints', $25 to each of the fairly regular scholars and teachers of the Sunday-school Bible classes, one year's wages to each of his servants, including his gardener, and a sum not exceeding $750 for distribution among his church workers at the discretion of the executors.

Long Distance Walker.

A farmer, whose death is reported near Tideswell, England, at the age of 83, in early life regularly walked to Chester—a distance of 60 miles—in order to catch a train for Bangor. He often drove his pigs all the way from Anglesey to Wrexham, a distance of 185 miles.

Turn Over Time

When Nature Hints About the Food

When there's no relish to any food and all that one eats doesn't seem to do any good then is the time to make a turn over in the diet, for that's Nature's way of dropping a hint that the food isn't the kind required.

"For a number of years I followed railroad work, much of it being office work of a trying nature.

Meal times were our busiest part of the day. Eating too much and too quickly of food such as is commonly served in hotels and restaurants, together with the sedentary habits were not long in giving me dyspepsia and stomach trouble which reduced my weight from 205 to 160 pounds.

"There was little relish in any food and none of it seemed to do me any good. It seemed the more I ate the thinner I got and was always hungry before another meal, no matter how much I had eaten.

"Then I commenced a fair trial of Grape-Nuts and was surprised how a small saucer of it would carry me along, strong and with satisfied appetite, until the next meal, with no sensations of hunger, weakness or distress as before.

"I have been following this diet now for several months and my improvement has been so great that all the others in my family have taken up the use of Grape-Nuts, with complete satisfaction and much improvement in health and brain power.

"American people undoubtedly eat hurriedly, have lots of worry, thus hindering digestion and therefore need a food that is predigested and concentrated for nourishment."

"There's a Reason."

Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

KILL FOR THE SPORT OF IT.

Few Animals Who Do Not Slaughter For Simple Pleasure.

There are some species of our carnivorous animals which often kill for sport and there are few kinds of which some individuals at some time or other do not kill for the simple pleasure of killing, writes a nature student in Forest and Stream.

When I was a boy and there were wolves in Maine I have known four or five wolves to kill over 40 sheep in a single night in a town near here.

My father once saw 13 fully grown sheep which two wildcats had killed in one night on Mount Desert Island. I know of several cases where wildcats have entered barns and outbuildings and killed numbers of hens or ducks. Raccoons often kill hens which they cannot carry off. I have of many cases of foxes killing many hens or turkeys which they could not eat. I once saw the skin of a mink which a loup-cervier had killed. The person who had it said that there was a light snow, so he could see every motion. The loup-cervier had apparently met the mink by accident on the ice. He had bitten it through the back, dropped it and walked on.

I once saw a loup-cervier trapped which had killed several lambs. Red squirrels will kill more young birds than they can eat. I have known an otter to pile up a large lot of suckers which he must have caught just for sport. House cats often kill birds which they do not eat; they also often bring in moles, frogs and snakes which they kill for the fun of killing. I have no doubt that sable and fisher would kill poultry just as mink and raccoon do if they had the same opportunity.

Some birds also kill for sport. All ornithologists know of shrikes hanging up birds and mice which they do not need. I have several times seen sheldrakes kill scores of small fish just for fun. They bit them, dropped them and passed along. I have seen eight or ten sheldrakes doing this at a time. Goshawks kill for sport. I have known a goshawk in one morning to kill five ruffed grouse and leave them after tearing them in pieces.

It seems as if many animals and birds take as much pleasure in killing things for mere sport as many of our sportsmen and fishermen do.

A Helpful Allusion.

There were times when Rev. Mr. Pomfret felt that he failed to reach the hearts of his parishioners. Sometimes he even failed to reach their ears. Therefore he was much cheered by something he saw in the Elton pew one Sunday morning.

"I—I couldn't help wondering, Mr. Elton," he said diffidently when he met his parishioner the next afternoon, "what it was in my sermon that—er—particularly caught your attention yesterday morning. I happened to be looking your way, and I saw your face light up, and you slapped your hand against your knee as if something pleased you."

"It did," said Mr. Elton cordially. "I felt very grateful to you. When you spoke of Simeon it came over me in a flash that it was at Simeon Davis' I left my umbrella the last time I went to town. It's been lost for six weeks."

Dean Ramsay tells of an old lady of Edinburgh who ordered her maid to call upon the doctor every morning and report the latest particulars as to her mistress' health, always carefully adding her compliments. At last one day the girl arrived with "Miss S.'s compliments, and she died last night at eight o'clock."

Japan's Good Roads.

Japan is peculiarly well off in respect of good highways. The Tokaido, which runs from Kioto to Tokyo, is over 300 miles in length, and, as the writer can testify, is admirably constructed. There is also the Nakasendo, which is even longer and passes through some of the finest scenery in the world. The reason of Japan's excellence in the matter of roads is that in the old days—not so very long ago—the daimios, or territorial nobles, had to journey to Tokyo once a year in order to pay their respects to the sovereign. They traveled by road, with great retinues, and if the highways were not in perfect condition feudal justice was meted out to the delinquents.—London Chronicle.

Quite In Character.

The late William Terriss, who for many years was invariably the hero in the dramas produced at the Adelphi theatre, London, seems to have been in nice accord with the characters he played. One day, writes Ellen Terry in her book, "The Story of My Life," he came into the theatre soaked.

"Is it raining, Terriss?" asked some one, who noticed that he was wet.

"Looks like it, doesn't it?" said Terriss carelessly.

Later it came out that he had jumped off a penny steamboat into the Thames and saved a little girl's life.

And All From Tips.

The man who has the coat and hat stand in one of New York's big restaurants pays $3,000 a year for the privilege. In addition he pays $10 a week to his boys who take the overcoats and hats, keeps them in uniforms, so many suits a year, and makes a great deal of money for himself. How much the public pays in tips can be imagined when this system prevails not only in this restaurant, but in many of the big cafes and hotels of the city. The tip at these places is rarely less than a quarter and sometimes is as much as a dollar.

All Done by Lightning.

Lightning struck the steeple of the little village church of Gassin, near Toulin, France, the other day. The electric fluid, it is stated, followed the iron cable which is used to ring the church bell and set the bell ringing. Then it tore the door off a cupboard containing a number of candlesticks and lit the candles as though by enchantment. It completed its antics by ripping up the floor of the sacristy, but, so it is said, previously spilled up the carpet with perfect symmetry.

The Royal Theatre Changes Hands

It is currently rumored on the street, and The Times learned from good authority that the Royal Theater has changed hands, and that the deal was completed last night. Since Mr. Pappas opened it some months ago it has enjoyed a liberal patronage and a number of local men were given employment. The new firm are the Dominion Film Exchange, Mr. Applegath of Toronto, and Mr. Pappas of this city.

OBITUARY

REV. FATHER COLLINS

Lindsay, April 19.—Rev. Father T. F. Collins, the beloved parish priest of Bracebridge, and son of Mr. T. Collins, Lindsay, passed away to his eternal rest this morning. In this death his lordship Bishop O'Connor is again called upon to mourn the loss of a zealous priest who practically died in the performance of his priestly duties.

The late Rev. Timothy Francis Collins was born in the township of Cavan, Durham County, in 1855, and was therefore at the time of his death, fifty-four years of age. He came to Lindsay with his parents when he was two years of age and pursued his early studies at the Separate school, afterwards attending St. Michael's College, Toronto. On finishing his theological course at the Grand Seminary, Montreal, he was afterwards ordained to the priesthood at Peterborough by his lordship Bishop O'Connor, on the 9th day of June, 1891. He was attached to St. Peter's cathedral in that city until 1895, when he was appointed to the parish at Wooler, Northumberland county.

In 1897 his Lordship Bishop O'Connor appointed Rev. Father Collins to the extensive parish of Bracebridge, which includes the whole Muskoka district, with missions at Gravenhurst, Bayaville, Whiteside, Morrius Hay Bay, and other points. The deceased's work in the parish stands as a monument to his zeal and self-sacrificing labors on behalf of his church. He attended his scattered flock in all kinds of weather and the long drives and bad roads never once interfered with the performance of his priestly duties. He gave up the good fight like a true missionary, and died in the hope of reward from his Master, whom he so faithfully served as long as his physical strength endured.

MRS. MARTHA FITZGERALD.

The death occurred Monday evening, about 9.30 p.m., of Martha Fitzgerald, relict of the late Joseph Fitzgerald. The deceased who was 73 years of age had been enjoying good health up ton few hours before her death, which resulted from an attack of neuralgia of the heart.

The late Mrs. Fitzgerald was born in Smith and had lived the greater part of her life in Lakefield, having only resided in this city about two years and was the last surviving member of a family of twelve, her father being the late John Nelson. She was a Presbyterian in religion and attended St. Andrew's church, having joined the old kirk here when sixteen years of age. Three sons and two daughters are left to mourn her loss. Messrs. Hugh of Iowa; Wesley, of British Columbia; Samuel, Albert, of St. Paul, Minn., are the sons, and Mrs. S. Powlson, of Fenelon Falls, and Mrs. Alex. Richardson of this city are the daughters.

The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon at 1.30, from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Alex. Richardson, 376 Brock street, and interment will take place in the Lakefield cemetery.

Cosgrave's Beer

Words of praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Cosgrave's" refers you.

It is safe to say that no product, of any kind, enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

Its self-evident honesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body, and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

Big Five Mile Sealed Race Billed for May 24

At a recent meeting of the executive of the Y.M.C.A. Track and Field Club, it was decided to hold a sealed handicap five-mile race on the morning of May 24th, finishing at the Y.M.C.A. building. Good prizes will be offered and no doubt there will be a large field of entries as the competition will be open to everyone. It was decided that there should be five prizes, in all probability medals for the first, second and third men, a time prize and a novice prize. Generous handicaps will be given to the novice runners and as handicaps will not be known to the competitors until after the race the contest will be all the more interesting on that account.

The course will not be announced until two days before the race so that the competitors will not have an opportunity of training over it, but the finish will be made at the Y.M.C.A., and the start will be made at 9.30 o'clock.

An entrance fee of 25c will be charged to Y.M.C.A. members while non-members will be admitted for 50c. It will be the first race of the spring and will no doubt attract considerable attention. A number of the "Y" gallopers are already in training for the event, and the Victoria Harriers, the new club of distance men, will have several representatives in line.

A cinder track will be laid at Riverside Park this season and the Y.M.C.A. club will do all their training and hold their games there in future. The track will be put into the best shape possible and will be finished shortly after May 24th. The games for the Bowden and Eastwood trophies will take place there as soon as the track is ready.

Hamilton Went Wild with Excitement Over Finding of a Revolver Close to the Kinrade Home

Hoax Played on Excitable People—Was an Old-Fashioned Weapon, but Had Never Been Fired—Eva Fay Predicted One Would be Found There—Detectives Punctured the Sensation and Declare it a "Plant"

Hamilton, April 21. — Hamilton was wild with excitement early this morning when newsboys rushed through the streets with extras with startling headlines that a revolver, believed to be the one used by the murderer of Ethel Kinrade, had been found.

The public have followed the case carefully. They realize that the revolver is the missing link, which the Crown authorities have bent every effort to discover to establish their theory. To trace the revolver back to Ethel Kinrade's slayer, once it was found, the detectives did not look upon as a difficult task. So when the news flashed around this morning that the police had the revolver, Hamilton received a genuine thrill. People took it for granted that it was only a matter of hours until an arrest would be made.

CALL IT A "PLANT."

Detectives punctured the sensation within five minutes of the time the report was made to police headquarters. They declare the revolver was a "plant." Eva Fay, thaumaturgist, who is appearing at Bennett's Theater this week created a sensation in the packed theater last night when she answered a question concerning the whereabouts of the revolver. Calling out the name of the man who had written the question, she said;

"You are asking about a revolver. You want to know if it is hidden in a fruit jar. I seem to see that revolver under a walk on the west side of Herkimer street between Bay and Caroline street. I do not know whether the revolver is the one used in the celebrated case you are talking about, but I am sure you will find a revolver hidden where I say."

The emphatic way in which the mysterious lady gave the information impressed the audience, and the silence was so intense one could hear a pin fall. The detectives last night scoffed at the idea of a revolver being found there. They had been over the ground day after day.

"Why, there is a cement walk there," said Detective Bleakley.

That was the last heard of the incident, until D. M. Brown, grocer, corner of Herkimer and Caroline Sts., reported that a revolver had been found near the Kinrade house.

AN OLD-FASHIONED ONE.

Detective Ayers was detailed to make an investigation. The story Mr. Brown told him was as follows;

Shortly after eight o'clock, William Robson, a bricklayer, was walking down Herkimer street, when his attention was attracted by a bright object under a board walk in front of Mrs. Abbott, 111 Herkimer street, three doors west of the Kinrade home. He looked closer, and saw it was a revolver. He hurried back to the grocery store, and reported his find. Neither Robson nor Brown would touch the weapon, but the latter immediately notified the police. Detective Ayers went to the spot, and picked an old-fashioned 32 calibre six-shooter out of the mud. The revolver contained no shells. It was perfectly clean, and had no marks of rust on it.

WAS NEVER FIRED OFF.

An examination at the police office showed that it had never been fired off. The police did not hesitate to declare the thing a "fake." The police are trying this morning to find where the revolver was purchased. By this means they hope to discover who 'planted' it.

Will Report on the Church Site

The Building Committee of Murray street Baptist church met last night and adjourned for one week. At that meeting the final report upon the site for the new church will be made. From then on it is expected that things will go on merrily.

Penitent Woman Broke Down when She Heard Husband had been Killed

Kingston, April 21.—Death, under very sad circumstances, came to James Currie, about 35 years of age, until a short time ago employed as waiter at the Frontenac Club. He was run down and killed by a train at the New York Central Railroad near Hudson, N.Y.

On Good Friday he and another Kingston man complained to the police that their wives had eloped with a couple of men. After this Currie took the affair very much to heart, sold out his household effects, and left town, leaving his young son in care of friends. It was on Friday he went, and no word was heard from him until news came of his death.

Yesterday Mrs. Currie returned to the city with the other woman, to find her home broken up and her husband gone. In the afternoon, while endeavoring to get trace of him, she received a telegram telling her of his death. She immediately broke down upon receipt of the news.

Deceased was a member of the Marine Firemen's Union, and it was through his card, which he carried, that he was identified. The remains will be brought here for burial.

The women returned to the city during Monday night and registered at a downtown hostelry. The women do not admit that any men were concerned in their going away. The woman who went with Mrs. Currie is likely reconciled to her husband, as he was quite willing to take her back. They could not be seen today, lady room

Many Nationalities in the Canadian Northwest

There was a good attendance at the Murray street Baptist church prayer meeting last night. This was of special interest inasmuch as it was devoted entirely to missionary matters, and was in charge of the laymen. The music was furnished by a male quartette and a male trio and was much appreciated.

The feature of the evening was the report of the delegates from the church to the Laymen's Missionary Movement convention held in Toronto recently. Addresses were made by Dr. Scott and Mr. P. Downham. They could only give very brief reports but they told a very interesting story, and gave the people a lot of information in a very interesting way.

ing he read the following which was given by Mr. D. B. Harkness of Winnipeg, who clipped it out of a paper. It will give an idea of the composition of the western metropolis.

Mr. Harkness in speaking of the vastness of the home mission field, stated the case of a Galician who quarreled with a Chinaman over work done by a Hungarian carpenter. A Russian tailor tried to make peace. A Servian waiter took the Chinaman's side, and a Bohemian cook took the side of the Galician. A Swedish doctor dressed the Chinaman's wounds, while an Irish policeman arrested the Galician and he was tried by a Scotch magistrate and convicted upon the evidence of an Italian organ grinder. He was locked up by a German turnkey and attended in jail by a Polish priest.

St. Andrew's Laymen Organized for the Missionary Campaign

Supper was Served by the Ladies at 6.30—Several Short Addresses were Delivered—Committee Appointed.

The men of St. Andrew's church will be found among the most liberal givers towards the Laymen's Missionary movement. The men gathered round the banquet tables last night in the Sunday school hall, and after supper organized for the big campaign. A committee was appointed to canvas every member of the congregation with a view to have them pledged to use the duplex envelopes which provides for a weekly offering to the regular funds of the church and to the missionary funds.

The supper was undertaken by the Ladies' Aid Society and places were prepared for about 150 men but the very disagreeable weather prevented many attending. There were however about 80 present, and they thoroughly enjoyed it. The supper was all that could be desired and the ladies deserve credit.

After the menu had been partaken of Mr. Andrew MacFarlane took the chair and in opening stated that the real object of the gathering was not to have a supper but to have a consultation as to our duty towards the Laymen's Missionary Movement. The western part of this country is filling up rapidly and there is great need for ministers out there. The eastern part of the country must do its duty. If we are to do our duty it will require a contribution of at least $5 per member per year. At this meeting addresses will be given by gentlemen who attended the conference in Toronto. Then it will be for the laymen of St. Andrew's to decide what they consider in their duty towards the movement which is destined to give the gospel to all people within a generation.

Mr. Mortimer Johnston rendered a splendid vocal solo.

Mr. R. M. Glover addressed a few remarks to the men in reference to the Young Men's Club. He said that there should be more of these gatherings so that the members could become better acquainted. He spoke of the benefits of sports and amusements to the young men and how important it was for the church to take hold of athletics. St. Andrew's hockey team had done all that was expected of them. They are champions of the Church League, and in the future may be champions if not in sport, in their daily lives.

MR. WM. LANGFORD.

Mr. Langford congratulated the ladies upon the splendid supper they had provided. In speaking to the subject under discussion the speaker stated that this was one of the largest questions the men of the country were ever called upon to face. Then three gatherings which are being held all over the country shows the extent to which the men of the country have been aroused. The laymen are today more anxious to and more active in carrying out the Lord's command to go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel." The motto of the Laymen's Missionary Movement is to take the Gospel to all the world in this generation. Canada must take care of 40,000,000 of people to do its share in this great work, while the Presbyterian Church alone must look after 14,000,000.

The speaker then took up the conference in Toronto. He said there were some 2,000 delegates while the ministers were in the great minority. The convention was addressed by some of the leading men of the world; men who had travelled and knew the condition in the foreign countries. All these men stated that the missionaries were living clean, pure lives, and were doing their utmost to spread the Gospels in India during the past six months there was an average of 36 conversions per day. In many other countries the same awakening is taking place.

JOHN HILL.

Mr. John Hill was the next to address the gathering. He had been at the laymen's conference in Massey Hall and stated that it was a meeting that he would remember to his dying day.

Mr. James Brown gave a vocal solo.

MR. MATHESON.

Mr. Matheson, another delegate to the conference in Toronto spoke of the impression he had received at the conference. The main thing in connection with this subject is how is the object to be accomplished. If England does its share, Canada and the world should do its share. In this country there has been great progress made, and all the churches are united. One of the speakers spoke of the first missionaries which came to Canada and settled in Nova Scotia. He suggested that a missionary committee be appointed to handle the work in the congregation, so

Tom Longboat Has Broken Away from Patrick Powers

"Tim O'Rourke, Toronto,

"Get Tom Longboat ready for Derby here May 8. P. T. Powers."

"P. T. Powers, New York;

"I am arranging my own affairs, Mr. Powers. Don't worry.

"Tom Longboat."

Things have come to an open break between Tom Longboat and P. T. Powers.

The first telegram arrived at noon today from Mr. Powers, and Tom Longboat's answer to it is that which appears below.

"I am handling my own affairs now," said Tom today. "Powers hasn't written to me since the other Derby race, and I got nothing out of it. It looked as if he were turning me out to pasture for the summer. That didn't suit me, so I am going ahead with my own affairs. I will race Alfred Shrubb as I have agreed, no matter what Powers says. Just as soon as my heel gets well and I get in shape. He has got his nerve with him, to ask me to get into shape for a Derby in two weeks. I won't run in New York May 8. The Shrubb races will come off in Toronto, and around May 24 if I can get ready."

"I had nothing to do with slinging Longboat and Shrubb up," said Tim O'Rourke. "I merely witnessed the agreement and hold the money."

No Unwritten Law Plea for Defence in the Capt. Hains Case at Flushing

Flushing, N.Y., April 21.—A proposition for the elimination of expert medical testimony from the trial of Captain Peter C. Hains, jr., was made today to the prosecution by counsel for Captain Hains, who is on trial here before Supreme Court Justice Garretson for the killing of Wm. E. Annis. What the outcome of the proposal will be is not known, as District Attorney Dewitt, to whom the proposition was advanced by John F. McIntyre, of counsel for Captain Hains, took the matter under advisement without giving any indication of his ideas in the matter.

Mr. Dewitt has already retained Drs. George V. Foster and Austin C. Flint of New York, and Dr. A. C. Coombs of Corona, L.I., as medical experts for the prosecution.

NEED MORE TALESMEN.

The third day of the trial began with only a few of the talesmen on the regular panel of 48 and the special panel of 150 which had been called when the trial opened remaining to be examined. It was thought probably that the list would be exhausted before the day was over, with the indications, judging from the percentage of jurors obtained on preceding days of the trial, that not more than one or two jurors would be added to the five men already occupying seats in the jury box.

ONLY FIVE TALESMEN SO FAR.

But five men were in the jury box when the court which is to try Captain Peter C. Hains for the murder of Wm. Annis adjourned. One hundred and five talesmen in all had been examined. The fifth juror was Otto J. Nicholas of Wyckoff Heights, L.I., aged 67. Counsel for the defence intimated that Captain Hains would not be called on to testify in his own behalf.

NO UNWRITTEN LAW PLEA.

One interesting feature is the statement of John F. McIntyre, senior counsel for the defendant, that the unwritten law will not be part of the defense, which will depend entirely upon the insanity plea. The announcement came about when District Attorney Frederick G. Dewitt put this question to a talesman;

"If you are shown that, prior to the homicide, the defendant was informed and knew that his wife had improper relations with William E. Annis, would it prevent you from finding a verdict against the defendant if the evidence adduced proved him to be guilty?"

Mr. McIntyre leaped to his feet with a hasty protest and objection.

"Your honor," said he, "there is no necessity for that question. There will be no unwritten law defense. We shall rely entirely upon our plea of insanity.

ASLEEP IN COURT.

Captain Hains was taken from the jail in Long Island City to Flushing in a trolley car, handcuffed to Deputy Sheriff Frank De Bragga. He sat beside his brother, Major John P. Hains. The prisoner had been groomed for his trial. His beard, black and silky, had been trimmed, detracting materially from the wild appearance that has characterized his appearance in court during the last few months when motions were to be argued. He gave little or no heed to what occurred about him, and late in the afternoon fell sound asleep. His brother, Major Hains, who sat beside him throughout the day, roused him, but could not induce him to take any interest in the proceedings.

General Peter C. Hains sat near his son all day. When evening came and he was called upon to say good night to Captain Hains he broke down.

Awful Condition of Children who Lived in a Single Room

Woodstock, April 21.—High County Constable Ben Hobson brought to the House of Refuge last night seven of the eight children found in the horrible quarters occupied by Elisabeth Davis, arrested at Richwood on Monday afternoon, charged with bigamy, and Martin Cronkwright, with whom she was living, and to whom she had been but married, charged with vagrancy.

The eighth child, the oldest, was left at Paris, where he is working. The children were in terrible shape and inconceivably dirty. Their hair was infested with vermin, and Mrs Murray, matron of the refuge, took a pair of horse clippers and removed the hair of all. Their bodies were literally black with dirt, and apparently they had not been washed for months. Their clothing was in rags and very filthy.

The children range in age from three years to fifteen years, and with the exception of one who has lost an eye, by an accident, appear to be intelligent and sound physically, though they are dwarfed mentally and physically by their absolute lack of training.

The children did not know the taste of milk, and still not like it at first. They are in charge of the Children's Aid Society, and will be placed in homes.

The family of ten had one bedroom, ten feet square, and littered up with rubbish at that. People of this neighborhood knew of their condition, but were disinclined towards taking any action.

It is said that when the woman married Cronkwright in Paris last February, having two other husbands alive, the couple borrowed money for the license and proffered the minister ten cents, the extent of their wealth, as his fee. He declined it. The man says he married the woman to get some one to look after his children, and she brought her five by former husbands and they went into partnership.

The El Rey Sisters at the Roller Rink

The El Rey sisters have won for themselves a warm spot in the hearts of all admirers of graceful and clever roller skaters. These young girls have now appeared in public three times in Peterborough, and each time they make a higher hit. Last night, the weather being very bad, the crowd was not as large as usual, but the performance of these two very pretty girls was even better than any given yet. They received warm applause from the audience. The El Rey sisters will be here until Saturday evening. They will also give a matinee Saturday afternoon.

Peter Hamilton Co. Ready for Busy Season

The Peter Hamilton Agricultural Works, which have been supplying farm machinery and implements to the farmers of this county, district and Dominion for more than sixty years, are better prepared this year than ever before to meet every demand in their line with the very latest and best in all that is advanced and modern, all that is substantial, proved and improved.

The handsome catalogue of these popular "Makers of Farming Implements," now issued for their sixty-first year presents a splendidly illustrated description of the large and varied lines of agricultural machinery and implements, manufactured for the seeding and harvesting season of 1909.

About Sixty Italians Left for Burketon

About sixty Italians left yesterday morning for Burketon, where they will commence the work of repairing and rebuilding the C.P.R. They were in charge of Mr. Spicer, foreman of the western section here. It is understood that Mr. W. Vass will act in his place during his absence. The company is doing extensive work on the line through Peterborough. Men have been at work on the wires making changes there. The switch for the second siding into Matthews Co. has been laid. Other work is being done at present and the yard is apparently in first-class shape. The work in the Burketon district will consist of the laying of new ties, rails and general repairs to the road.

The old fashioned way of doing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error This is why his prescription— Dr Shoop's Restorative—a directed entirely to the cause of these ailments the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

COLD IN THE HEAD

What's the Sense in Sneezing and Stuffing, Dosing with Purgatives, or Bothering with Atomizers?

CATARRHOZONE.

A Convenient Inhaler Treatment is the Proper Remedy to Cure Quickly and Pleasantly.

Some people long ago abandoned the idea of "working off" a cold by means of inhalers and purgatives for the simple reason that the cure is as bad as the disease itself.

To cure a cold in about ten minutes time use Catarrhozone. It is aromatic, delightful to inhale, clean and very simple to use.

Catarrhozone is a vegetable antiseptic and perfectly safe as directions. Both children and infants can use it. The vapor is inhaled at the mouth, and after passing through the respiratory organs is inhaled slowly through the nostrils.

Catarrhozone never disappoints. It stops sneezing, coughing, dreaming at the eye, by a few inhalations. Inflammation, congestion and all irritation disappear under the influence of Catarrhozone more quickly than can be told.

C. B. Collings, of Clarence Street, London, says:—"I had a continuous cold in the head for years, and never used anything with such quick results as I derived from five minutes' use of Catarrhozone. I am delighted to find a remedy that cures colds in a few minutes. Catarrhozone cures every time."

To carry a Catarrhozone Inhaler in the pocket means you won't have colds, catarrh or any lung or throat trouble. It keeps these diseases away and is guaranteed to protect you against all the ills of winter. Complete outfit, with Hard Rubber Pocket Inhaler costs $1.00. Small size, 25 cents. Druggists or N. C. A MAN OF THEIR OWN

The prompt way in which Hon. Joseph Martin picked up a nomination for the British Parliament on landing in England has excited some surprise in Canada. The Ottawa Journal, for instance, comments upon it as an evidence of a largeness of mind on the part of British electors that Canadian electors do not possess. Here such a thing could not happen, says the Journal, for, while a party leader may, in time of need, find a constituency placed at his disposal, most ridings insist upon sending to Ottawa men who live in the ridings and are known to everybody.

The English way may best suit English conditions, but it does not follow that it should be adopted in Canada. The preference of voters in this country for local men as against "capable outsiders" is one that should not be too readily censured. Some ridings have learned by experience that outsiders are not always capable, nor their own leading citizens in any way inferior to the men well recommended from headquarters who have been offered them. In a country like this, where parliament is open to any man who can get enough votes to elect him, and where there is no governing class—or would not be were it to reveal itself—there seems no good reason why the average constituency should not send one of its own citizens to represent it at Ottawa, unless under those exceptional circumstances where a valuable public man can be continued in public life by receiving nomination in a riding where he has no local footing.

The preference of a voter for a local man, the desire of the electors to be represented by one of themselves, is grounded in self-respect, and is in keeping with the best principles of representative self-government. Nobody should be able to represent the Peace River country as well as a Peace River man, and in some degree this should hold good of any riding.

No doubt this preference for local candidates is responsible for the absence from parliament of many men who possess abilities that are needed there, for it cannot be supposed that those best suited for public life are scattered over the Dominion, one or two in each riding.

But at least the local man knows the people he represents, he is one of them, and his people's interests are, or should be, his interests. Where he too often goes wrong is in offering himself, smothering his identity, and leaving unspoken the real opinions of himself and the people from among whom he comes. When he does this he brings reproach on the "local man" idea, and on the whole scheme of representative government, and might as well receive honor of a capable outsider, or even a figure in wax-works.

THE PRICE OF WHEAT

Speculators may push the price of wheat up or down, but they do not affect the great continuous movements affecting the price. Patton and his co-operators have got hold of five million dollars that ought to be in the pockets either of the farmers or the consumers, but the big movements go on, independent of the operators.

If it is seen that high prices are likely to continue for some time, the result will be an increase in the acreage of wheat grown in the Canadian West. Canada will be benefited by the new settlement, the settlers will make money, and at the same time the upward tendency will be checked, for the benefit of the consumers. The general tendency is likely to be upward, but the immense area of land available for settlement in Canada will keep the tendency within bounds.

The Canadian Western farmer ought to be in a happy position. The home market is increasing, and the hard northern wheat is in demand in the United States. Three transcontinental railways are eager to transport this wheat eastward, and if competition does not compel them to make good terms for the farmer, a large part of the Saskatchewan and Alberta grain may find an outlet westward, by way of the magnificent harbors of British Columbia.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE

The recent meeting of the Woman's Anti-Suffrage League in London was very ably conducted, and a clever use of this fact was made by the London Daily News, it quoted a politician who said that the ability shown by the ladies of the League almost converted him to those very views which the League was organized to oppose.

The News also makes a point which is interesting from the point of view not only of woman suffrage, but of democratic government. It declares in effect that Mrs. Humphrey Ward and her sisters who oppose woman suffrage have already all the political power they need, without votes. Many of them, as members of the English upper classes and relatives of prominent politicians, are past masters of the game of politics. "Their real objection is to sharing the power which from their position is already theirs with their poorer sisters."

In this view there is a great deal of truth. A clever and influential woman might accomplish a great deal more by dropping a word into the ear of a minister, a member of parliament, or an editor, than by dropping a ballot into a box. There are clever men who adopt similar tactics, and who are continually inspiring, or trying to inspire, governments and legislatures in a way that has no savor of dictation, and seems like the spontaneous expression of that opion which all public men like to get.

A man who enjoys this kind of influence would perhaps care, very little whether the means of men who have no private entrances to the minds of rulers, have votes or not. In this respect the Daily News seems to have scored a point.

ANIMALS' WEAPONS.

Toothless Ant Eaters Have Claws Capable of Killing a Man.

Not long ago a British scientist and animal lover contributed to the world the result of his studies of animal life. Not the least interesting of his observations was "How Animals Defend Themselves."

"The larger animals in general," he says, "are provided with weapons more or less effective. The carnivorous have sharp teeth, with which they rend their prey, and the toothless and others have enormous claws, capable of killing a man.

"Many reptiles use their tails to strike down their game, while a large number of animals are supplied with pungent odors or secretions that are equally potent as a defence. In certain groups we find enormous horns and tusks that are intended entirely for purposes of protection. In some cases they are upon the top of the head, as in oxen or cows. Again, as in the elephant or some rodents, they are highly developed teeth.

"Our common horned animals depend upon their head weapons for defence. They are of two distinct kinds and subject to a marvelous variation in the different families.

"One group, represented by the common ox, is called the hollow horned ruminants, because the weapons are hollow and persistent—that is, they are never shed except in one instance—the prong-horned antelope.

"Another great group, represented by the deer, have solid bones that are cast at certain times and grow again very rapidly.

"When a stag loses its horns it returns to the dense woods, away from the herd, and remains secluded until it is armed again. The growth of the new horn is very rapid.

"In the rhinoceros we find a curious arrangement, the horns in some being easily moved, seemingly only held by the skin. They form terrible weapons, however, though totally different in their construction from the ivory tusks of the elephant, with which they are often mistaked, being formed of bony fibrillar matter. Some species have a single horn, while others have two."

Cough Caution

Never, positively never tighten your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold only—you should loosen, not tighten, the irritated tissues of your lungs. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strength how against the habit finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says: Put it on the label. If poisons are in your Cough Mixture, or Cough Cure. Very good! If Heroin for children's coughs and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's label—and none in the medicine, else it means by law he on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Quite the cheapest, too, particularly with your children. —At $10 Per Share—

There are no bonds or mortgages of any kind against the property and business. The Stock is all Common Stock and each shareholder becomes an actual owner of the property and business, and has an equal chance at the profits according to the number of shares held.

The Winter Port Coal Mines

In Queens county, New Brunswick, have been in operation on a profitable basis for about five years.

The opportunity to enlarge the business, increase the output and make very largely increased profits, comes with the opening of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway passing the coal fields.

The mines are situated at the best distributing centre in the Province of New Brunswick. It is estimated that on a very moderate output, which can be obtained as quickly as arrangements can be made to take care of the men on the ground, that the business should pay

PROFITS FROM 15 TO 50 PER CENT. ON CAPITAL INVESTED

The management of the business is in the hands of people whom have had experience with the local conditions and understand the mining of the coal cheaply and the selling of it at the most profitable rates.
